BRAUFONET - BRAZIL UFO NETWORK

contrary to what pop

contrary to what Bob is worried about we're gonna have some fun here JC was just here like 1990 was second yesterday yeah I thought maybe we would start with a couple of questions sort of it

let you get to know Bob a little bit so they played one of the great Super Bowls of all time last month which of the teams did you like who really we're gonna do sports kind of what I thought I don't even know who plays that's right

tomorrow tomorrow's the Oscar broadcast who would you think is the best picture doctor I have no idea because you don't watch a lot of right yeah Breaking Bad or Sopranos which of those series did you like best yeah yeah when you're just not on my channel because you live what I'm trying to convey is you live in Bob world right right what do you do tell them tell them what you do now I know I live in a scientific bubble that's just about it I mean you know it's uh my my work is my life whether I am working or having fun it's pretty much the same thing so it's I don't I pretty much do the same thing where you live and what you do your business I unfortunately live in Michigan yeah I would really like to be back there but yeah the business is United nuclear scientific we sell and build lots of scientific equipment and supplies supply it to schools universities the government you know everybody we also do contract work we do R&D work design construct prototype gadgets weird things for different companies if they have a problem or something they're trying to solve they'll come to me and just say make this work and you know so we do but the bulk of it is really just selling scientific equipment and supplies and you know trying to bring that back back when I was a kid you know used to be able to go into a hobby store and buy chemicals and have a chemistry set now if you see any glassware in somebody's house you just think they're cooking up meth or something like that so you know we try to change the tide and bring back cans on stuff and you know the current generation that's one of the stories told about you right that you had a meth lab oh yeah that's true

yeah I forgot about that do you have any government contracts we do government contracts you see where that could go

people haha he's working for the government they're paying him off he did his job spread this information now he's working for the government

you're not welcome to go no I don't work for the government but you know if there's contracts I bid on it

you know every faction of the government doesn't know what the other ones doing it's it's a complete mess I want to give them an idea you know the question is raised you're not a scientist what you've kind of scientists for you and I I haven't been to your house in Michigan but the last time I visited you it was in New Mexico and there was something built in the house that building right behind your home it was as I recall a 30-foot particle accelerator yeah

you built yeah yeah what did you do with it what do you what do you do with your home particle accelerator that's 30 people well at the time you know are working on an efficient way of storing hydrogen for you know automotive use so it can be used as a fuel and some of the most efficient hydrides materials that absorb hydrogen like a water like water like a sponge absorbs water were restricted because they are used in thermonuclear hydrogen bombs and so you couldn't purchase these materials but there was kind of a loophole in the law where you could make them so I had to make a particle accelerator to make the material to use and run tests on so that's what that was all about you moved to Michigan in part because you thought that you were gonna have some help from state government with the system right the hydrogen system yeah kind of I mean a lot of things changed I mean we moved to partly because of you know family reasons out there and just to get a change from the Southwest which I regret and you know yeah there was a lot of but the times there were a lot of unemployed auto workers and we thought you know we can hire those but you know a lot of things happen the recession happened and also at the same at the same time but around 2008 or something the Chinese who at the time we're making a lot of the rare earth elements because they did it cheaply and the u.s. mines had shut down years beforehand decided why not you know we pretty much control the market on it we're gonna go ahead and crank up the price you know ten or a hundred times what it was and it really made what we were doing impossible to do profitably so you know you use your business as science-related you sell sighted equipment you build things like a particle accelerator and jet car engines and things of that sort but I think if you heard me talking earlier you'd have to agree with a lot of people that you don't fit the mold as a typical scientist I mean you're not a member of any science organizations are you no no you're right papers you submit papers now I mean that not typically not even not in the normal sense I mean you know the when I first went to Los Alamos what was really annoying to me was the boy that the typical pompous self-righteous scientist you know and they would come into town and you know interact with the ordinary people and you know use terminology that was over their head just to get him to say well what do you mean by that and they just would puff up and you know it boosts their ego and it really annoyed me so you know when I worked there I relabeled some you know important equipment whirligig or something along those lines and it you know it really pissed him off and you know it was really just but to make a long story short you know I was the new guy coming from the west and to the you know hardcore a scientific field and it you know really I was able to run circles around these guys because they followed a set path and did a set amount of things there their support teams were were very limited and weren't engaged in him because they had no idea what was going on they never took the time to you know bring these guys in but

I don't know I just looked at a looked at things from a different point of view and I simplified things so explaining technical matters on a simple level and I do that a lot and people say well boy you don't talk like a scientist yeah I'm trying to make everyone understand you know but and and it works you know if you if you talk on a simple basic level everyone is gonna understand what you're talking about it's easy to talk over everybody's head but all that does is make you look like an idiot

you know when I first met Bob I remember going to his house and there was a skull and crossbones flag flying over his house at the time he had this giant jet car parked in the in this in the driveway

he had these videos that he shared with me that we used in Mother's reports were it's a lot of machine guns he a lot of really interests it'd be kinds of interest that you don't associate with scientists I mean you heard my comparison to Edward Snowden I hope I didn't make you uncomfortable but I mean he's sort of the same vein there was a guy who had no academic credentials he didn't make it through high school he took online hacking classes he worked as a security guard the next time they hear from him he's working he becomes a computer expert for CIA and NSA and sort of fits the mold he doesn't fit the mold in the same sense that you don't know but he fits the new mold you know he doesn't fit the old wall just as what were we're used to seeing but I don't need a degree no no they're looking for tell

I think they'll only learned a long time ago that they were missing a lot of creative people and people that would think outside the box and if you really want to move forward that's where it is especially with computers oh yeah no no no doubt yeah and that's scary let's get to Flying Saucer you got hired through e GG to work for the US Navy yes first day out we're out at the facility

well the first day the first day was going to you know what area 51 proper and signing all the agreements and doing all that stuff signed agreements

what kind of greatness did you say it was really paperwork and going over you know exactly what I was going to be doing and it was a lot of security stuff I mean they questioning you know my family where we had moved it was you know boring nothing they had an area they'd been around talking to everybody you knew yeah clearly and because I already had previous security clearance you know I made it a little earlier as opposed to somebody starting from scratch which typically takes like 13 months from what I understand to do a top-secret or civilian Q clearance did you have the clearance that you needed to work there when you started working there no no no I just had a convenient starting point where you know they didn't have to go back to the day I was born and you to verify that they go okay well you had clearance here and we can go from there so you get on the plane in Las Vegas Jan plane yeah right fly up there they put you on the bus with the blacked-out windows oh yeah when we're going to ask for right yes so the you don't think you landed room like that did 51 and then sign some papers yeah if you want to make it a short version yeah right you had told me the story that they started showing me these briefing books that sort of laid out the general story was that it at grow them or was that that was it as for that was no that material would never get north of sport grew lake who say I never heard any of the stuff

there is no flying saucers stuff at 51 no that's like 51 is it's a there's lots of people working there it'd be hard there's when I worked at s4 again I have no idea how it is today but you know back in my day at s4 there were 22 people that had clearance and knowledge of the et material et crafts that was it we were given the list we knew the names on the list that was it I still know that the names on that list today and those are that some of the things that I never say anything to you about because well exactly there has to be some stuff I keep to myself because you know how many times people said yeah hey I worked out there with Bob and so on and so forth really who are you what you do when you're there and it's only the stuff I said I'm waiting for the guy that says hey yeah I worked out with you and here's some of the other people on the list or we did this or a zip so it's if I don't keep that stuff there's nothing I have to verify if some other guy comes up to me you see it all the time

I made med you get emails all the time or you read stories or you hear claims on if you watched television you'd hear it that is about people who claim they've been out there and obviously they're making it up well I mean the most recent was this Bushman I think it was like yeah like at the CIA guy or something like that was it his anima sky you see was dying or he died yeah and a lot of people asked me hey do you know and he was apparently very supportive of me and but I never heard of him and what am I going to say I've never heard of the guy and I've never seen him back to day one here you're at groom you take a bus to s4 to Papoose

yeah there's a old Bluebird school bus but navy blue how did you know it was called s4 did you read that on something that is what they said that's what they call it yeah did you ever see it written down yeah and and it's an S and a four or s - four SFO you are or no it's a Newman numerical 4004 yeah okay and so you get to s4 and you see what describe what you saw well the first time I went we went around it's kind of hard to describe there's a little mountain or rise whatever that that ends and the first time I have to admit I didn't notice it that we just drove around and I thought it was just a flat part of the mountain at the very end is an entrance a flat wall with doors and that's where we parked we went in and that's the first time I went into the facility at all that's where I was taken to the medical facility that's where I was given the briefings initially and it was it wasn't till the second time that I was taken down there that we stopped in the middle because the site that I thought was flat was actually hangar doors that were you know really cleverly blended into the side of them to look like desert yeah yeah a great job when you're inside can you see all the hangar doors you can only see all

or whatever it is that from outside

what do you mean know anything if you were inside looking at in one hangar can you see all the way down see all of them see more they're separating yeah there's there's inside each hangar bay there's you know if there's the big door that goes to outside inside on the sides I guess I could use the whiteboard there's a what the hell okay

all right this is gonna be a tough one is that making anything so there's a the doors here where this is you know Papoose like the main doors here roll up however inside there are regular doors and on one occasion these doors were all open and when I came in to the came in through here on the first well I think was the first time they showed me well there's the craft in there these doors were yeah these doors were all open and you could see that there were different craft in each so those are the doors I'm talking about let's talk about the worldly gangs or whatever you want to call this so talk about the first time you saw them the first time I saw one of them was the second time I came in the end the last bay door was open

that was the sport model that was sitting in there we pulled up we stopped instead of going around and the front normal entrance we went in through you know the big bay door before who had seen these posters you described that were all the walls yeah yeah they're here posters describe but yeah they went through the trouble of actually making a picture of the sport model that was lifting obviously off with Papoose Lake because you can see the the background there and it just said they're here and it was it was like I'm a commercial poster I mean they looked like they were lithographed I mean they must have been printed on site they wouldn't have done that out there but somebody's idea of a joke yeah it was good to see that level of I don't know light heart into us out there first day you get a look at the sport model what do you thinking to yourself oh my god what are you thinking no it was the Flying Saucer did not alien Flying Saucer did not enter my mind it was it was exactly the opposite that well this explains all the UFO sightings that you know we have some field propulsion technology it has to be in this you know shape or form you know flying saucer type and this is what people have been seeing for a long time thinking that their alien craft and it made perfect sense to me it's like great I might really like to be part of this project advanced propulsion this is dynamite so I was excited to be part of it in fact when we went by it and I think I'd even mentioned to you it had a little American flag stuck on it and I dragged my hand across it and you know it felt like it cold so I just assumed it was metal and got yelled at immediately you know don't keep your hands at your side walk forward all right

thinking to yourself I am part of the coolest inside history because we've got flying saucers that we'd made and we're playing a joke on everybody no I wasn't really playing a joke it was that you know this is cool technology and by at anytime we feel like we can probably just take over the world America you know and that was attitude so at what point do you realize we didn't make it how did you learn that is that the briefing books well yeah the briefing books just did not make any sense we started into you know that that would actually either predated seeing that and I really don't know that the briefing books covered a little bit about a lot of topics and it dealt with you know analysis of it was all back in engineering material analysis of metal you know power systems and the way things were even even the way things were laid out within the craft and again it really had me confused I going is it was so far beyond what I was expecting is this it is this some kind of test or is this actual material so I just you know I thumb through everything and went okay and just went on it from there but it really didn't hit me until I went in I was introduced to my working partner was Barry castelia or whatever area pronounce his last name and the way they worked there was everything was very compartmentalized so everybody had a buddy to work with and that is the only person you can talk and converse with and bounce ideas off of you can't talk to anybody else in any other group

you can't you know even if we go sit and there's a bunch of other people around you can only talk to the guy you know your buddy they called him so anyway so he was when I'm buddy and when I the first day we went in there he was excited to show me everything and it seems like he had been alone for too long it was you know he was you know really excited that I was there and I was kind of picking up on his enthusiasm going well let's he said oh you weren't gonna just die when you see this and you know and you know one of the first things he did was you know fire up one of the reactor that had been taken out of the corral that story the reactor is a it's a small device is probably you know just roughly a foot square with a half a hemisphere on it or half a hemisphere I was right anyway so there's really nothing there the the top comes off and there's like a little Tower on it it doesn't

oh this is my erasers did you see those drawing in the back now all these guys can't have that's not clear screen

was anything about the this in the briefing books about how this work you did read about this there's very little about this essentially you know crew size comparison half a basketball on a plate that was probably no nothing I mean is just incredibly simple there was there was nothing there that could do anything for and it was too small to hold an a large power source so anyway the the top came off and he put the top on and then he said go ahead and and grab the sphere and as my hands approached it I couldn't touch it which was fantastic and if you ever played with magnets I'm sure everybody has you take two light poles of a magnet you can kind of feel that bounce it was exactly exactly like that but it was my hands

they weren't magnetic and he says you're feeling a artificially produced gravitational field and that really floored me and you know that but I began to run through in my mind how can this be a joke or faked or there's just there's no way and it that that's the first time that it was kind of a domino effect than what I had read in the briefings and going do these guys aren't kidding this is unbelievable let's go back to briefings for a second and it will come back and you can tell us a little bit more I'll have this operator in the briefing books you see the craft described and then you get into some more exotic stuff they could really you had to wonder are they messing with your head

aliens oh yeah there was it was a one-and-only briefing whatever you want to call it or an overview of it it would split the the entire program that were split into individual projects and you know each had an overview of each project and each group got an overview of all the other projects in case there was some connection to what they were doing but it was clear they didn't want everybody to know everything and although the military loves doing that it it really really screws up

move forward and and to compartmentalised UK it's insane but they's really enjoy that but anyway the only thing that dealt with any kind of you know biological it yeah it's just essentially what you'd call him there was just a few of OVA creature and I closest estimation I can give you is it great because it had a head with a large eyes but what they were focusing on was a tea cut in the chest and it was one large organ and the comments were about how it functioned as a liver a lungs a heart as if all organs had grown together or evolved together where it was just but I don't know when all purpose internal organs yeah I guess I don't really have a analogy for it but that was it and they were and the accompanying photographs were that was the that organ removed it was sectioned it was showing the different chambers or indications of it there were the weights of the different pieces that they removed so I again I don't know where the thing came from you know where that this was just a briefing of something else but it was you know there's nothing in the briefing book says this comes from X planet they're just and you're wondering yourself are they messing with us right are they messing with me are they fast right I mean I well it really didn't it really didn't hit me at the time

it seems they wanted me up to speed really fast to where there was skipping too many places to make me feel comfortable you know at the time I didn't realize that everybody got these and you know the people that dealt with biological connotations of everything we're getting mellowed metallurgy reports in it again it was just in case there was some connection you know you could kind of raise your hand and say wait you know this thing might relate to us in some way did Barry or anybody else tell you why they wanted to get you up to speed so fast where there's some urgency there or were they just tired of not making progress or what was it that was never really clear I know there was some accident prior to me being hired and you replace somebody yeah I replace somebody somebody was killed and it was playing with the reactor and you know they said well we're gonna be working on the reactor well you know but so yeah there was obviously a lot of caution being taking but I from what Barry said and what Dennis said who is my immediate supervisor was that you know they were trying to make leaps and bounds way too fast and you know I was certainly not planning on doing anything like that especially hearing the news well you say think of yourself I shouldn't be here

why had they got me yeah yeah yeah please there's a billion people they could have hired you know that I thought would have been you know a better choice for that but they were they really wanted somebody it seems like they were stuck and they wanted somebody coming from left field with just new ideas just get us out of the rut and just move something forward yeah what did they get the right guy the mayor I feel yeah I don't know if that's the way to let's go back to talk about the reactor so he showed you with this experiment in your hands you could feel it's a force field and how they faked that if they were faking it is amazing no I don't think you can you saw some other stuff the golf ball

yeah administration tell me that story tell us well I wasn't really supposed to be a demonstration but yeah well in some way it was and you know once I said that's that's unreal this is a gravitational field and you can see that you know it's extremely strong by it and it tapers off and you know it's following the inverse square law which is you know a gravity radiation the the inverse square law is essentially you know the amount of energy dissipates really quickly as distance increases so you know it that was immediately noticeable to me and he said well check this out and you know he had a golf ball and

I'm gonna winged it at the thing and it bounced off the field coming nowhere close to the the reactor and we have those ceilings suspended ceiling tiles in there mm-hmm

and it knocked it out of place and you know he flipped out and said you know you know Dennis is gonna be back in here to jump up on there we're trying to rearrange stuff and you know fix the thing and he's knocking the the reactor around and going out a man it's my first day you know don't screw everything up so and I'm taking the dust off the thing and but the second we finished you know Dennis walks inside and there's how things going she's great so it was something let's say it's day one you've read this interesting briefings you don't know quite what's going on you do see this technology it's damned amazing

what is your job what do they tell you you're supposed to do either the bottom job is not to figure out how this thing works or you know let us know what this met is just can we make another one of these so just let us know if you can can we duplicate I can only duplicate it like it doesn't have to be exact but find out how this thing works if we need to make something that's bigger or do it just but we want more of these things and just do it right now so that was it and the answer is can we I mean can't we no no no no no no we're just not not even in the same ballpark is it because of materials or we just don't know yeah that's it it's both look this is like dropping off an iphone and the wagon train days and say we're gonna need more of these

you know if you did you ask anybody hey where do we get these where did these come from

no I really thought there was so much other stuff that was flooding my brain that was just amazing and you know I was so excited to be there I didn't care where the thing came from it's you know it was beginning to trickle into my mind boy this is maybe what you know flying saucer crashed in South Africa or something we got it we're taking it apart this is great you eventually saw all of them or you saw glimpses well when I looked through the doors I could see far as you could tell they looked they didn't look like they'd been in a crash right well there's one one there's one and I mentioned this to along to you a long time ago and I I never added this one thing which I let now there was one like I said that had been shot with a projectile and I know for a fact it came out of the water that's all I know you know it's a fact because that's what you were told

yeah that one big projectile like a howitzer shell or something I know it was about it's hard to judge from distances you know like from here to the exit sign how big is that but I'm guessing it was what a maybe a nine inch diameter hole the sport model no dents no it's great now looked like it came right out of the showroom and it looked like the Billy Meyer beamship yeah from the pictures I've seen of the Billy Meyer one which you know to look fake to me but no there it is

I'm sure the Billy Meyer people are happy about that but I mean you you know there's a lot of people don't take that case seriously and it's either the most amazing coincidence coincidence on the face of the earth or something really did happen to that guy billy meier so the sport model you called it you had names for all of them

yeah what happens

well there's one that looked like the top hat and one wasn't obviously a jello mold and I you know but it was they're just silly names because we were talking about him and you know they're talking about bird six and I'm like what's that is that the jello looking thing you know so I gave him my names and they stuck with them

like that it allows Alamos so the support model you've got to know that one pretty well though you got this yeah it's the only one I say I hands-on I touched I walked in you know that I can say for all the other ones could have been holographic projections to fool me but this is the only one I know was really before we talked about the test

one other thing about the reactor and I want you to use this example to sort of explain how it worked you had told me a story about a candle and again a flame that was basically frozen

tell me that story and why it gives us an indication of how this thing operated what power had had well when we had you know after the golf ball incident there was the benches we had set up the reactor was not the only thing in the craft the reactor sits in the center on the level underneath there are well I should say the reactor surrounded by the reactor there are three gravity amplifiers as they were called directly under those there are emitters which are Oh probably like 55-gallon drums there are three of them they hang directly under the emitters and apparently the way the device works excuse me is the reactor supplies the base gravitational wave and power to the amplifiers which channel it down to the emitters which propel the craft so in addition to the reactor that was out of the craft one of the emitters was also on the bench now I don't know which craft this came out of it was not out of the sport model but they had the reactor operating and the emitter and Barry had taken a candle and put it about well I'd say about two feet from the end of the emitter and lit the candle and he fired up the reactor and he said go check out the candle and the flame was there but it wasn't moving it was like a picture of it it was just frozen

and now that makes you think of a lot of things oh boy if it's we know gravity and time are interrelated and you know one is essentially the other and fine if gravity if it stopped or slowed time down there how are photons still being emitted so we can see the light it should just go black you know there are a lot of things made absolutely no sense whatsoever what if the science we're familiar with but this is these were just things he was showing me as a demonstration that you know properties and what it's doing that are just so far beyond what we even know what's going on and this had nothing to do with the work I mean we're we're just supposed to make another one of these things somehow so you know so help us understand what this technology means how advanced it is you know it becomes obvious at some point it's somewhere else we didn't make it because we're taking it apart to figure out how it works like a machine that makes gravity is the most important thing that mankind could probably create look we have electrical magnets that make magnetic fields you know we can make electric fields we you know with the Van de Graaff generators and you know it god knows what else but you know to make a gravitational field it's like the the last piece of a missing pie because when you can art right now the only thing that makes gravity as far as we know is mass you just need a bunch of stuff and it's a property of mass that it just magically pulls in things you know we observe gravity we see what it does but we really don't know what it what it is we can throw some equations together and say well it works like this but we really don't know what's behind it but if you can make a machine that on demand makes gravity you know all the stuff we write science fiction about stops becoming science fiction that afternoon they force fields become a reality you can shift time I mean everything becomes possible it's it's it's the most important thing and here is an operating machine sitting in front of us that makes gravity and due to we really want to be able to make one of those things I mean you could make impenetrable fields you can do have propulsion that is mind-boggling as the crafts operate it would be the ultimate weapon

well no not just the ultimate weapon but it would really be the ultimate thing it would it would catapult mankind forward and what really sucks is the military is in control of this I should I neglected to mention this during my presentation but Cobb and I have talked about before guy named Ben rich who Jim Goodall knows and interviewed several times Ben rich was the head of the skunk works which was there they operated things at at Groom Lake and and had been there they developed the u2 and sr-71 and stealth if anybody would know about advanced technology it's him and Kelly Johnson so a lot of people have speculated whether been rich and those guys had incorporated alien technology into some of the advanced airframes that we've got and I even had a chance to ask him on the day that the stealth was unveiled out there at Nellis whether any alien stuff was in there he said no but other people have talked to him

Jan Larson who's here from MUFON heard a speech that Ben rich gave at UCLA and which he basically said we now have the technology to take e.t home we had the calculations slightly wrong but we can do anything you can imagine we can travel to the stars but he said the technology is locked up in black but black budgets and black programs and we'll never see the light of day what do you think about that that's really like the same thing you're saying yeah that sounds exactly like what I'm saying and I hope that's not the case but I mean how do you pry it out of there

it's it's really there should be a lot more people working on this

oh well that that's sort of what why you became disenchanted with it but we'll come back to that let's talk about sport model a little bit you got to see it fly you got to see a test yeah once

well once close up

we Barry and I were in the lab we were working Dennis came in and he said there's a test flight going on Bob why don't you come out here Barry you can tag along too and that's what we came in you know side door into the hangar the craft was already out onto the dry lakebed in front of where the lake bed proper but it was out in front of the door and probably about two minutes after I got there the craft just began to silently lift off the ground and there was a guy between where I was standing and the door that had a small desk and there was some sort of transmitter on it and he was just on a microphone talking apparently to somebody in the craft and at the time that again immediately set up a red flag in my mind going that's not supposed to work either there is a craft being powered and surrounded by an intense gravitational field

how are the radio waves getting into this thing this it just didn't make sense but again very few things did there and I didn't have much of an opportunity to connect all the dots but it lifted off the ground silently there was an obvious high voltage Corona discharge it was beginning to get a little late but you could see the purple blue glow but as soon as it lifted off you know it six 10 feet that dissipated and it just moved around and sat back down where it was but it wasn't it doesn't sound like much but it was incredibly impressive there wasn't there wasn't a sound other than a little hiss when it first took off but you know it's a big device

it moved around and and sat down and I mean I was just I was beaming it was so cool you didn't get it didn't fly off to Venus or anything and people know no no no this this is there this is their prized catch here I mean they no one is going out there and taking it out of the atmosphere and risking it I mean that was a big deal you know like the

it could I'm sure I don't know if they knew how to get it into that mode but you know like the test flight data that I saw they even were very careful on what days to take it above the mountain range where traffic was it low at its lowest in the surrounding area so they were very concerned about who could see what and you know how much they risk the thing moving around but it was it was quite a prized possession of theirs so you saw a reactor up close and you saw the craft inside not only the test but you got in it

yeah later on later on it was again you know we have to look at at everything we're trying to figure out how this device works from nothing so and it's technology you know we can barely grasp so you know obviously the placement orientation of the components and subcomponents might be critical to the operation of it so I was led him one time there were several other technicians in there doing their own thing I don't know what they were working on but we wanted to see where the reactor was how it you know how it was positioned you know where the amplifiers were and this is when you know I described to you there was a access to a lower level to where the emitters were which was a small hexagon shaped area that had a what I thought was a really creative collapsible doorway and I guess the only analogy is if you take a whole you know a six-pack of beer that comes in bottles and you take out the little divider there it's if you stand it up by itself it's really strong it'll hold a lot of weight but you can easily collapse it flat by the side this is essentially a metal version of that and it was in a hexagon shape with a little hole and you can walk on it but you can just put your finger in the hole and pop it and the whole thing snaps over to where you have a you know hole you can kind of stick your head upside down and which is what I did I just leaned in there and they wanted to me to see how the specifically how the arms that held

the emitter is connected to the bottoms of the amplifiers and those in themselves were fantastic technology described the interior what it looks like it's very very bland if I again was to give you an analogy I would say it was if you put all these components in there pretended everything was made out of wax heated up for a bit and let it cool off

there was never a sharp angle anywhere

anytime something sat somewhere perpendicular to it it had a radius of curvature to it everything had a smooth curve everywhere was all one color

was it all one piece it it looks like it was one giant injected molded thing but there was not there was not a seam there wasn't a rivet there wasn't a fastener it was just all there any buttons and no place to put in the key and no and there is no wiring you mentioned about I'll use the term furniture because you got a lot weak both got a lot of bleep furniture yeah

well that was because I was you this was I think the first interview on TV and I was well I was frightened for a couple of reasons first of all what's in supposed to be saying anything and the fact that it was on TV and I didn't know what kind of big mistake this was and so you asked me what was inside or describing I was trying to work think of the word seats and I couldn't in a million years get that out of my mind and all I could say is there's furniture in there and it I know it sounded ridiculous and everybody said well that guy can't be a scientist he doesn't even know the word Cena then hey you know it's just stress does that do you it was the size of it that was small yeah I was yeah well yeah that's that's that's quite a critical point everything was very small it looked like well maybe that's where the it popped into my mind because I was thinking of you know the children's you know furniture said or tea set you get four little kids that have you know the little molded chairs and little tiny but that's exactly what it looked like it looked like a little furniture set for her kids so I mean obviously it was uncomfortable too

around it when you first come in the side you have to hunched over the only place you can stand up comfortably is you know right by the reactor in the side so whatever built or used the thing was obviously smaller than than my statue

I'll come back to the term the kid so somebody did the test somebody was in it they must have figured out a little bit of how it operates yeah obviously and in the sport model the ones that I went in they removed one of the amplifiers which was really shocking to me done it now the reactor and emitter all those were in that one so these must that must have come from another craft which made me at least partially to believe that these all may have the same power systems in him which you know really makes you think that so the one you had in the lab that you were working with yeah

when component had to come from somewhere that was in the in the sport mom yeah but wasn't the smart models so at you know you can extrapolate and say yeah it's kind of like a Chevy they all have the same kind engine and they're different but I don't know it's all conjecture let's talk about the fuel so big it's an interesting part of the story and a bone of contention for a lot of folks element 115 how did you know it was 115 describe its properties describe its property what does it do but what's so miraculous well I let me put it this way the we weren't given the task to say you know analyze the fuel find out what it is and you know would they just again the thing was and there was a lot of push to it was to what is that and do we have any and you know that's that's it and these guys really do talk and think like that it's just you know what did you guys do today we just looked at this the other day but you know I mean we you if you remove the top of the reactor there's a little tower in there with a cap and there's a triangular piece of fuel in there what we called the fuel because if you put that in everything starts to work we analyzed what was there now somehow again we didn't have access to all the information but somehow Los Alamos had something to do with either keeping or storing the fuel now it's we did all kinds of tests on it not just us we had a scent all that equipment isn't there we don't have you know all kinds of interesting Specter gases but we had it tested and we just wanted to see where this was on the Periodic Chart

what kind of Peaks we get off of it and you know maybe it's just you know I unique fuel maybe

it's just some you know a blend of a nuclear material but when it became obvious that this isn't even on our usable periodic chart you know that's that's essentially where we stopped you know and said we weren't going to analyze the material and see if we could make it we just wanted to know if it was something that we could possibly use and it wasn't you told me that we couldn't make it

why couldn't we make it well it's just like any heavy element or super-heavy element more specifically you know the only naturally-occurring heavy elements uranium I mean as soon as you get anything heavier than that you know a larger number of protons you have to make artificially and that's that's a difficult job because you either like to make plutonium which our country loves you know you have to take you know other materials put them in a reactor let it run for a couple years and then you can in the case of plutonium you can chemically separate out you know the small quantity of that now even heavier elements you have more difficulty obtaining you know extremely heavy ones like 110 you I mean you have to make that on an atom by atom basis and an accelerator where you're you know slamming accelerating single atoms or beams of other atoms you know near the speed of light smacking them together and it doesn't make a usable quantity I mean you may get the interaction you want and it flies off and hits a detector you know in a fraction of the speed of light you go that was 115 and you know that's when they say we you know we synthesized one but that's what it is it's not like a cup pops out and we've we've got something you know it's it's just a you know a particle comes flying out when goes well at these angles at this magnetic moment at that speed it will be 115 and if you get a peak at that you know boom it comes off it's a little display on a thing and right we made 115 but you know it actually make usable quantities forget it would take you know the entire resource all the resources of a country forever you know to get a gram so how much was up there

well they say there was 500 pounds of the material now was that recovered in a craft was that separate that they certainly didn't synthesize it but you know where it came from

I I have no idea but but again Los Alamos had something to do with it because they they renamed it LA-1000 I know there are shipments back and forth there but I think it had to be from what I understand it had to if you assume a cylinder of this material it has to be machined into a cone and that cone sliced well it has to be stacked first like a bunch of quarters stacked on top of one another then machined into a cone and then sliced to be usable in the reactor now all of that had to do with the metallurgical guys and we weren't even allowed to know why but I knew that was necessary for whatever it's worth reactor doesn't work without 115 did you ever do an experiment to try some other kind of fuel no no I mean we I mean quite honestly we really didn't know what was going on there I mean we had a basic idea of at least we thought again we just had a report to what was going on so it's not like you can ever say you know we really don't know we've been working on those two weeks you better come up with something so it's a you know like we think it's a

it's an accelerator and you know we we've identified that that's you know 114 115 116 it's an element and you have to explain this stuff to guys that absolutely have minimal scientific background and just try that when you're dealing with stuff that's not even you know from the earth so how does it work I mean how does it work what you learned you you get a piece of it a triangle it's in and how does it really you just put the I I wish I had that model that to my car show me is it really okay

you you you just put the the fuel in there you there's a there's a little cap that sits on top and then as soon as you put it yet nothing happens but as soon as you put the lid on it turns on there's no on switch yeah it's just it's like it attains resonance or something it just is on which makes you wonder how does it work on the craft because no one's taken the lid off because in the craft it sits on the ground and there's a conduit that sits over it and goes to the top of the craft so but it's not clear how anything works in the craft and it generates gravity oh yeah yeah it generates its own graph artificial gravitational field and that lifts the craft off the ground

we've had conversations in private about how this accounts for some UFO cases I mean it in effect achieves invisibility in the sense you could be Sanrio it yeah absolutely yeah because light it will bend it around there in it I'm sorry I didn't leave that I've dealt that pretty important observation when the craft was up I mean you could walk underneath and look straight up and you can't see the craft until you step to the side and it becomes visible again it's quite it's quite amazing you know so it bent well it bends it bends like just like you know you can see on a hot roadway in the summertime how how heat would affect that coming off of you know but here your memorial situation and the way the shape of the gravitational field the artificial field around the craft if you look at that and then we're able to stand at different vantage points you can just look around it now this isn't something new we know this from you know looking at faraway stars if they call it gravitational lensing where a star might be over here but because we're looking around another star it bends light and you know but here again here is an artificial source a machine that does this and that's everything but yeah like I said all the science fiction things become reality this your invisibility cloak

there's your you know impenetrable force field

here's your field propulsion system and you know here's your even beginning to tamper with you know potential time travel it occurs to you hey this could work not only in space but underwater maybe that's why the Navy's interested running the program

I mean that it's odd admit that it's a U.S. Navy running the program out there you know that never occurred to me oh no I know I swear to this I never even thought about that thing operating under water I wonder how that would I guess I I don't know I know I mean yeah I don't understand why I wouldn't but they'd be interesting to see what the water does you had said I remember that I could barely get my pointy little head around it when we were first talking about this but that if somebody had one of these and were out in space and wanted to come to earth in essence they're not propelling themselves toward earth it works differently right yeah yeah in fact the two modes that Kraft operated on are they labeled Delta and Omicron configuration Delta meaning using all three amplifiers and Omicron obviously meaning just one and the way the craft work is rid of my reactor here now I'm gonna draw really bad Flying Saucer

so normally the you would have the three amplifiers hanging or the three emitters hanging down in Omicron mode a single one with slings swing sideways and you would have the other two sitting like that now what happens is the two that are facing straight down essentially act like a pedestal where they just keep the craft steady the one swung out to the side creates a gravitational distortion off the edge and these in Omicron configuration these things really fly unstable there they do not look like in any sort of high-tech technology it to give you an example if you put a bowling ball in the middle of your bed and two feet away you take your fist and you push it down the bowling ball rolls towards it that's exactly how the craft operates it focuses the a single emitter and creates a gravity distortion essentially a divot and space-time and the craft rolls forward you know in the distortion so that's basically how the thing moves around so and this is opposed to our conventional propulsion whether you're using you know a jet a rocket a propeller

we always take something and accelerate it out the back using the action-reaction principle and you know push forward and these guys are doing it exactly opposite they're creating a distortion in front and tucking towards it

when element 115 of course when you're talking about this stuff it did not exist we're still years away from it but you said you had told me in that first interview look we believe that there was an island of stability somewhere 115 116 somewhere in there and

and you know maybe someday we'll be able to make it it didn't exist then but they've made it since tiny little piece as you said when that news happens out people say some people said aha

bob was right others people say aha

Bob was wrong because this isn't 1:15 at all it doesn't behave anything like what you said there's not 500 pounds of it that's for sure

so there's not 500 pounds I mean like they had up there no no obviously not and well lucky I mean you're talking about physical quantities and also you know atom quantities from fabricating it but yeah I mean the island of stability isn't something that we came up with I mean that's been theorized it's probably the 50 said it you know it just looks like in the you know physical makeup or just the geometric stacking I guess of protons and neutrons it's certain combinations they're stable and other combinations they're not well it you know it looked like further up in the periodic chart why if we haven't ever had anything with 115 protons or something in that range it looks like that might become stable and you know that was actually in our minds when we're trying to identify as a boy this thing is off the charts you know is it are we looking at the island of stability and I'm beginning to get lost here well I was going with this the 114 that was synthesized oh yeah

again you know I think they what did they whack together calcium and I don't know bismuth or something like that but they did it they did a unique collision and accelerators and they made yeah a few atoms of it and they went this as you know 115 and it decayed now obviously this is a stable material but a different isotope yeah it's like I said there's you know we have hydrogen that's you know one on the Periodic Chart just like 115 is 115 as one proton 115 115 protons

well there's hydrogen which is protium which we're all familiar with the hydrogen gas it's flammable it's stable it doesn't you know decay but there is you know two other isotopes of hydrogen there's still hydrogen still element one and you know when we call deuterium as two protons it's it's also stable but it's different it's heavier and there's another one called tritium which is radioactive and it decays about half-life about 12 and a half years again they're different isotopes they have different numbers of neutrons they have same amount of protons so it's the same thing no doubt 115 has the God knows how many isotopes we know at least one is stable there's probably you know several that are unstable and you know again they if they keep playing around with it and I don't see why they wouldn't I'm sure they're gonna find a stable isotope and well idea of anti-gravity propulsion I we've heard it from scientists odd guy does Lazar does know what he's talking about that's impossible violates this it violates that you've heard that you would dealt with it I mean yeah I'm was one of the guys that say it's violates this notice that before yeah yeah you would have said things about UFO people this can't be I mean you were pretty dismissive right which is the way I shouldn't be you know and I give a lot of people you know crap about that too because you know look if you're gonna if you cannot work in a scientific field you're gonna be a scientist and you know in any capacity the most important thing is to keep an open mind because you know look back in time they said you know 30 miles an hour is the fastest a human body can possibly take and that was written as a scientific fact I mean that's what aliens disbelieve then and they all agreed on it and you know how many other things we you know they said this is the way it is you cannot do that you know you have to keep an open mind it's like flying saucers I used to laugh at John Lear and have a good time of it I still do but that's a different story

you know but I have to give him credit you know he was talking about delay of flying saucers up at the area 51 really John you know I would be an adult now but you know there's a lot and as far as the technology yeah it violates a lot of what we know which concerns me because some of the things we know our laws and the reason we call them laws and not theories is because they've been verified time and time again you know with experimental proof and you know that's supposed to be cast in stone so you don't want to see anything that violates a law to see any aliens up there I know several the people who submitted questions wanted to ask about aliens I mean the only you did see you know this came from yeah that now the diagram you want to call that seeing an alien the only other time and I know it's because this one incident I told that one time I was being led in and dragged my hand across the craft we went in that door there's a corridor to the right and you immediately turned to go to the labs well as you turn to the right there's a door and it has a small you know window on it that has the little wires running through it I peeked in there as we turn the corner and that's when I saw I told you this before there were two guys there and a little tiny thing that they were looking down at you know and and I just walked by told to keep my eyes forward and you know I think I told gene that and a couple other people as well you probably saw it well not the gene said that but you know what you probably saw an alien or whatever I don't think that was the case I think even to this day I think they they had a little doll or something because they were trying to find out you know whatever size creature would fit in the craft and you know they were recognized to term the kids did you ever hear the term the kids yeah

and that's referring to the creatures that ran the craft so they called them the kids wherever these yeah craft came from but you never got an answer how we got them no that was just incidental talking that you know so had nothing to do with me you you know you've heard all the stuff over the years they of those who don't believe your story they believe you're either making it up or it's disinformation that you're working for them out there that spread in the story not now so you're making it up

no sorry make it up no really no I'm sorry that's way too much for me to handle

no really I don't and I know I look a lot of people are into you know UFO stuff and I just kind of exploded on to the scene and said hey I don't follow UFOs I don't follow reports I don't know who's researching what I don't know the names of people involved and but on the other hand you know I know people make their living doing this sort of thing and you know I just pop in one day and say hey this happened to me I did this and this and this but you know I'm out I'm not part of this I can understand how that can interfere with their you know income stream or their belief system or whatever and they need to attack me but like I'm sorry this what I said happened absolutely happen period that's it you know I've been speaking about you for a long time a couple times a year I'll go explain the story from my perspective and and defend you because it deserves to be defended and I believe the story as it's been told but you know you go out there and you hear all kinds of crazy theories about what you're doing and who you work for and everything and and there are those who have a lot of trouble with it I can understand that look if the tables were reversed I honestly could not say I would believe my story look there's not enough I can't provide enough information and so in some cases won't to you know to back up my story and you know if the tables were reversed I I have to take that other side and go look unless you can you know provide more proof it's I just can't say that you know I'm behind it and I have to agree with that so why did things go south for you seems like the scientists dream to work on a program like this why in the world would you walk away from that or tell anybody else about it

do you were you picked because they figured you would tell somebody about it

no I mean that that doesn't make any sense well I mean well what happened was I mean it was kind of more of a personal nature between my wife and I at that time now it's not like I had a nine-to-five job and they said you know come out at these hours it was it was really a sketchy setup that they would call me the place that EG&G by the airport what what was that I was on Sunset Road

yeah I think it was called something I can't remember anyway they would call me and say you know it's now 8:45 by 9:15 we expect you to be you know at the building and and board the craft and you know the airplane or about the guys yeah so it would be at a moment's notice like that well and I was so really thrilled to be part of this project I was keeping with the whole program like I couldn't talk to my wife you know it's look I'm working at at the test site there it's on I said some secret nuclear stuff you know and that's it but again I get calls in the middle of the night she can't hear who they are and I said I gotta go it's work you have to go to work at eight o'clock at night you may not be back you know until the middle of the night in the morning I said yeah that's just the way it goes and that happens you know time and time again and you know if the phone picks up and you know my wife picks it up they hang up you know and you know until so then they call back I pick up the phone

yeah it's Bob here and okay two hours I'll be there well after a while that seems like something else in fact maybe not after a while but pretty quick and you know I mean it's something I could laugh at now but it it was not funny then and you know I kept with the program never said anything to her and you know she thought I was having an affair and yeah you know as time went on going back and forth she she really didn't have a job or anything to do so I started since I was making money from here now I got her flying lessons down at McCarran Airport and to give her something you know to do and anyway she started having an affair with a flight instructor so you know I had no knowledge of this but you know part of the requirements of the project and the security requirements really were to have my phone monitored now I'm going back and forth to work and now they are listening to this affair progress on the phone that I know nothing about and you know one of the things one of the main things is that you be you know mentally and vision is stable and they're really concerned about that so it reached a point one day where they didn't call and they were kind of in a quandary at that point go

and they you know what are we gonna do with Lazarre we got to see it either this you know affair fizzles out or they break up or whatever so you know I just stopped coming and I stopped getting the calls I called Dennis I don't get returned calls and you know days are going by and you know now Tracy's going back and forth and flying and doing stuff she's busy all the time because you know she's got a boyfriend and you know I beginning to get now beginning to get really concerned I mean these guys are so over the top of security and you know we want to know everybody that knows this material we want to know where they are 24 hours a day so on and so forth so they're not even calling me what's going on and so I started getting concerned and it reached a point where I don't know where the breaking point was but I I think it I'm pretty sure was Jean Hough the first you know a guy that you know I talked to and and said you know kind of spilled my guts hey look this is what I've been doing out there and you know told Tracy to and hey let's go see him yeah well I had also had mine or skip went over lots of stuff but I had there were you know charts of the test flight days and which days that they were going to go over the mountain and do that what they call high performance tests so those days statistically on that Highway they went by the lowest number of travelers was on a Wednesday night so Wednesday night I think 8 o'clock was like the test night so it's I I knew how long they were gonna be in there I know all that stuff just from memory so I told these guys that this is gonna be an unbelievable story but this is what I've been doing you know I can go out there and show you guys but I'm starting to get concerned that they don't like me anymore for some reason and I'm just gonna like disappear so I just want somebody else to see what I had done in case I'm just gone one day and at least you guys have a story so we go out there take everybody and you know the story we Wow ditz

yeah eight o'clock did everything happens like I said and you know it lands and then you know now it finally hits Tracy oh my god he wasn't having an affair and so you know she breaks off the affair reason you know and it is just a giant mess it's embarrassing

yeah but I mean it is the human side of the story that yeah but the other human side as I alluded to it in my talk is that there's stuff that happened to you in that period after after they caught you the third time they went out they got caught and so they want to talk to you and that they're very upset

Denis in particular the guy Kelly yeah so they want to talk to you and then a whole series of really bad things start happening share with us a little bit about what that period was like was it's hard to it's hard to convey it and that it was really going on but it was real

yeah I was the well I guess it started when we got caught you know and we got caught that time I can't quite remember which time that happened but you know we had we had gone out again with the test flight data at two times and been there on Wednesday night and gene huff and we had an ever-increasing amount of people that we began to trust to go out there and which was getting really ridiculous I think we've brought a motor home out there parked out on the road because nothing now you know once you start getting away with something you get a little cocky and thinking of why they can't see us so we're out there and you know gene and I kind of joke around sometimes and say stupid stuff you know pretending that someone's out there listening so we're sitting out there on the dirt road that that's flight time is coming up we're sitting leaning on the front of the car and you know I it's Jean or says something to the effect as well I hope they out there they don't realize that we've got those other 150 you know team members out back with you know automatic weapons and everything and we're getting ready to storm the base and I said they can't possibly know about guys you know and so right after we said that not now it's pitch black it's you can't see your hand in front of your face not 50 feet in front of us who saw a little green thing fall on the ground and rolled to us and everybody in there what and as it turned out there were a whole bunch of guys standing there in the dark watching us through night vision scopes and after I said that a guy dropped one and it rolled over to us so they they turn on you know turn on the lights okay everybody come with us and you know that I told the story about the break in the car I mean they I remember going to your house after a break-in yeah you had to shout you're ready to shoot somebody and then the break-in at the car at the gym that stuff really happened it was really going on oh yeah that was with Mario the guy it was a truck driver now he was going to and we were just working out at a local gym near us and I was it this is it probably a highest paranoia stage and I had a you know and Uzi and the the front and you know Mario and I got to the place and I said okay it's loaded here we're safe to go outside and we open the car doors we closed them and we may even make a joke about it we locked the doors we try and open them okay okay the cars secure we go in there and you know joking you think we'll be safe for half an hour and yeah I think we can do it and we you know we come walking out there's all the doors drunks open the is laying out there and my wallet you know and we just looked at each other this is impossible you know but yeah that had happened Mario's tells that story probably every day you at some point you decided to talk to me you know we did that interview in silhouette I can't quite remember why what that how that happened there was just too much going on but yeah I know at some point and that was really again Lear was making a big deal he started naming off the people that he knew that suddenly disappeared and he said you know unless you talk to this guy George Knapp you know and if you go out on the air they all you know they'll be afraid to talk to you I said I'm not afraid to do anything you know it's but I called you anyway or he did and then it kind of hits the fan they're really mad at him and then that's when a lot of really bad stuff started happening and then we we decided to record an interview just for safekeeping in case something happened to him so it was a couple of hours on tape and I under the condition that I wouldn't use that until Bob said okay

it was eight months eight months until we got the okay and I worked on him every day to talk him into allowing me to use it and tell the story assuming he was still alive and on the day that we were to be ready to broadcast it it was part six of a nine part report Bob suddenly changes his mind and grabs the video tape because you were gonna say Who I was yeah yeah we're getting ready to identify him I'm worth 10 minutes from going on the air

he's we're wrestling over the tape he didn't as a UFO profiteer and messiah coming forward and making up stories he was a very reluctant witness I can tell you you're regretting I mean we heard a little bit of it at times you certainly regret it because it's you know my life yeah it has it but it's not good no I mean that's what's kind of entertaining to me people you know they come oh I made up some story about you're making all kinds of money on there where does where I want my cut but no I and you know to be honest I did have I did have the opportunity I mean new line Studios in Columbia

you know when they heard all this I mean they've president at Columbia Pictures came down and yeah you're here right yeah and yeah you say we're doing this and you know and they started giving me screenplays and I know you know you know they've - it was a James Bond movie they had me running over the tops of cars it's like look India tell the story how it happened or just or leave me out and just make up a UFO story but you you can't it has to be exactly what happened and so it was just constantly everything being turned down it's like you know what we're not doing it I had mentioned before about me going out and doing presentations about you and one of the things always said is that Bob doesn't show up at UFO events he's not cashing in on it there's nothing wrong with those who do if you can make some money at it more power to you because it fuels the research but you've never done that before that's not the case anymore why did you decide to come here okay well I really didn't you know I got here yeah I know I'm here but now I know a lot of people mentioned you know a 20 look there's this big you and I have never been to a UFO convention I mean I thought they were like Star Trek conventions people walking around with antennas and stuff but you know I didn't want to be have any part of that and you know what the people that arranged this in you and know this is a class thing just come down as 25 years once in your life just say something and I you know I well

everything I've said has already been said either on the internet and why would anyone even care to just hear it again so I finally just said okay fine

just to stop you from hassle

but it really didn't end there and that was just a moment of weakness and then about you know about a and one of the reasons why is because it was like two or three months away so I just yeah February I'm fine

wave whatever you want to do and then and then anyway a few weeks went by and it kind of hit me that one day that dates going to come around and I you know I was more than that maybe it was uh you know three or four weeks or something like that so anyway I I called them back here and I said not you know I'm really thinking about not doing that and I'm sorry and you know I told my wife and George and you know and I really didn't realize there were those many people that were interested and you know they said you can't back out you know we've been advertising there's gonna be a lot of people here and you know that's and I said you've got 15 or 50 speakers or something it's just one less that's gonna be here but seriously you don't recognize so you don't understand that people are so interested in seeing you and hearing from you doesn't register well not no but I appreciate that I do but um I mean in that you know they made that clear aside from the fact that they sue me if I didn't tell her and I said it's a nice way yeah so I I will go so I am here well the fact that you said that you would do it because I keep pestering you I take that no I know so I did you know I I did give him my word I do it and it's not like I'm you know it's too bad

well I'm no problem

you know when you look at you heard my presentation about how far this story has traveled how many industries and businesses it is launched the extra-terrestrial highway that's from you Vegas 51s baseball team and they feel boy people jumped capitalizing on it really really quickly

when you say area 51 mentioned in movies and some Tom Hanks movie or you know the Independence Day or something it's it's overwhelming yeah I guess it's it's hard for me to grasp you know it's almost it's I don't know how to describe it so this the experience here so far has been pretty good for you might you do it again or might you open up a little bit or open there's nothing else that's the whole stuff a it could be another okay let's carve you got a leg list of names that I hate you haven't Bea even me yet no I mean look I believe me I could really make it easy to verify a bunch of things and I do not want to do that at all it would prefer people don't buy the story because it makes my day-to-day life has nothing to do with UFOs and being the UFO guy is a big problem it's hard to get contracts and be you know taken seriously and I you know I don't want the last thing I want is you know a movie coming out or something like that it would be a catastrophe well be a great movie if they made it right

well I don't know you know it was amazing no you're so a couple years ago there's the story about this Russian spy that was killed by use of polonium and they called me or any network people want to do a story yet see who where can we get polonium and they find online oh here's a guy who sells it it's Bob Lazar yeah

yeah they are at the house that's the first day but do you get stopped I mean to you you know got people stop you on the rug I know you get emails and phone calls

well emails you know people asking you know questions that you know that really aren't up on you know the topic at all it said you know has anyone tried to you know duplicate one of these the crafts well you know that was the whole aim of the project there and but you know they're just hearing that there's a guy that might have worked on flying saucers and you know this is his email address but by the way I'm not on Facebook there's these guys that pretend to be me and I keep getting these emails a thanks for friended me on Facebook on what are you talking about well it's I think this is our time we're up I've been asking questions from the submitted by folks including in this and you know I think that people are just excited to hear it directly from you tell the story and again I certainly understand why people would have a hard time believing it but I do yeah it really is it really is it really happened yeah yeah exactly that way

I want to thank you thank you all for coming and hope you enjoyed the conversation with Bob and maybe I can pester him into doing this again sometime thank you very much

this week in our series of reports on UFOs we learned a number of things that not everybody who sees a UFO is crazy that our government has lied about UFO information that it's withheld UFO files and even spied on UFO witnesses we've also heard from scientists who say life elsewhere in the universe is virtually a certainty and we heard the majority of Americans believe that UFOs are real and come from space tonight in part five of his report George Knapp introduces us to a local man with an amazing and disturbing story George Gary and Mary Ruth though we've been working on the story for a long time and will tell you right up front that it's going to be hard to swallow at first this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there is a secret government within our government while that may be hard to believe coming from the UFO perspective we've certainly learned in Watergate and the iran-contra scandal that factions within our government can and do pursue pursue their own hidden agendas outside of the law outside the control of Congress or the Knology of the American people this is exactly the type of operation we'll hear about tonight it's a chilling scenario with worldwide implications that may have its roots right here area 51 that mysterious corner of the Nevada Test Site is no longer much of a secret the fact that secretive things go on here is a given even to the Soviets who make daily spy flights over the facility to take a peek at what's going on these photos never before shown in public are about as close as anyone will ever come to seeing what the place looks like again the dry bed of groom Lake corrugated metal buildings a three mile long runway and some highly sophisticated radar and detection equipment it's been known by many names over the years dreamland

the ranch the skunk works if ever there was a place to test a secret new technology this is it and that's exactly what's been done here for decades area 51 is where Francis Gary Powers and the other YouTube pilots were trained in the 50s and where the u2 itself was developed the sr-71 spy planes that spotted Soviet missiles in Cuba in the early 60s were also developed at 51 51 is where stealth technology was nurtured where star wars devices are still tested and were all manner of CIA monkey business has been plotted and refined it's the perfect place for secret things but of course that's no secret

51 is ringed by the forbidden vastness of the Nevada Test Site by the looming groom mountains and by sparsely populated desert expanses the few people who do live out here have no love lost for the military but they're conservative patriotic and they mind their own business ever see stuff you can't explain sure

Rochester care to elaborate

no on any given night at the Rachel Bar and Grill you might find three or four people who work at area 51 there amid the flowing Budweiser's and cowboy hats you might find them but they aren't going to talk to you not about the things they've seen over the mountains a steady trickle of curiosity seekers flows through here

strangers drawn by strange stories of lights in the night sky their questions also go unanswered

no one who's worked at dream land has ever publicly acknowledged what so many people have suspected for years that alien technology is being tested in the Nevada desert

the speculation first surfaced in documents obtained by UFO researchers documents about something called Project Aquarius the documents allegedly prepared for an organization called mj-12 state that a program to fly recovered alien spacecraft was established in 1972 and is continuing in Nevada the National Security Agency has confirmed it does have a project Aquarius but denies it has anything to do with flying saucers NSA will not say what project Aquarius is speculation was heightened in 1984 when the Air Force seized nearly 90,000 acres around groom Lake the action was by most accounts illegal during congressional hearings about the land grab Congressman John Seiberling grilled the military about the legal authority used in the action and was told the authority was at a much much higher level than the airforce Seiberling asked what authority is higher than the laws of the United States the Air Force official said he could respond but only in a closed briefing in 1987 when the Air Force sought to renew its stranglehold on the groom range new czar

once again mentioned the talk about alien spacecraft and subsequent articles in national magazines quoted unnamed sources about things of alien origin flying in Nevada things that would make filmmaker George Lucas drool

despite the speculation no one who knew area 51 from the inside ever talked publicly about the saucer stories well there's several actually nine flying saucers flying discs that are out there of extraterrestrial origin the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan Jono Netanyahu Mogens you and I keep it under actually nine flying saucers flying test despite numerous inquiries and feelers Denis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar a young scientist with eclectic interests

the choice of Dennis was an inside joke he says that's the name of his superior at Groom Lake it wasn't a joke to Dennis he called right after he said you have any idea what we're gonna do to you now and I said well no she hung up the phone

Lazare story is by any standards fantastic

he says he's telling it in order to protect himself he says he was hired to work at an area called s4 which is a few miles south of groom Lake and s4 he says are flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities right this this came from somewhere else I mean in the bizarre as that is to believe but I mean it's there I saw it I know what the current state of the art is and in physics and it's it can't be done checking out lazare's credentials proved to be a difficult task he says he earned degrees in physics and electronics but the schools we contacted say they've never heard of him

he also said he worked as a physicist at Los Alamos National Lab where he experimented with one of the world's largest particle beam accelerators a half mile long behemoth capable of generating 700 million volts those Alamos officials told us they had no records of a Robert Lazar ever working there they were either mistaken or were lying a 1982 phone book from the lab lists Lazar right there among the other scientists and technicians

a 1982 clipping from the Los Alamos newspaper profiled Lazar and his interest in jet cars - mentioned his employment at the lab as a physicist we called Los Alamos again an exasperated official told us he still had no records on Lazar EG&G which is where Lazar says he was interviewed for the job at s4 also has no records it's as if someone has made him disappear while they're trying to make me a non-person they explained you called where well the schools that I went to the hospital that was born it passed job and essentially nothing comes up with my name in it he smiles but out of futility knowing the whole thing must sound ridiculous according to Lazar his employer was the United States Navy he says he and other government employees would gather near EG&G flight a groom lake and then a very few people would get into a bus with blacked-out or no windows and drive to s4 will you get off the bus what do you see very interesting building it's got a slope of probably about 30 degrees the which are hangar doors and it has textured paint on it but it's it looks like sand it's made to look like the side of the mountain and it's and whether it's to disguise it from satellite photographs or what he says he was never told exactly what he'd be working on but figured it had something to do with advanced propulsion on his first day he was told to read a series of briefings and immediately realized how advanced the propulsion was the power source is an antimatter reactor they run gravity amplifiers there's actually two parts to the drive mechanism it's just it's a bizarre technology there's no physical hookup between any of the systems in there they use gravity as a wave using wave guides almost like microwaves it took a while Lazar says before he actually saw one of the flying disks however there were hints everywhere right they had a poster and it looked like a commercial poster almost like it was lithographed and you could buy it at a Kmart or something but they were all over the place and it had the the disc that I coined the term of the sport model was lifted off the ground about three feet at areas four on the dry lake there and

and that those are just all over the place later he got to see the real thing when I was let in that was the first time I saw the sport model in the hanger sitting down and I was told they could have walked me in the front door but they purposely wanted to walk me by it I stole not to say anything and just keep my eyes forward and and walk past the desk into the office area and I did and as we went by it I just kind of stuck my hands on it just to run it alongside the thing and you know I that was about the smallest time after that I got to see it actually lift off the ground and operate but you you also in between that you saw more than one yeah

the hangars are all connected together and there are large bay doors between each one and there were nine total that I saw each one being different like the head the assortment pack security at s4 was oppressive Lazar says and his superiors used fear and intimidation almost as a brainwashing tool did everything but physically hurt me what a gun gearhead yeah and and said what what actually put a gun to you well they did they did that even in this in the original security briefings they had guards there with m16s a guy is slamming their finger into my chest screaming in my ear some people appointing weapons at me like I said it's not a it's not a good place to work that fear factor would surface later those are agreed to undergo a polygraph exam as part of this report pellagra for Ron slay asked about the technology Lazar had seen did you knowingly lie when you said you had actually seen anti-gravity propulsion in operation the results of this exam were inconclusive Lazar appeared to be truthful on one test deceitful on a second slay recommended that a second examiner be brought in polygraph her and Terry tavern Eddie runs a corporate security operation and is a former Los Angeles police officer he put Lazar through four tests and concluded there was no attempt to deceive and I left there thinking that

I feel we do have some credibility to what the subject had to say and that's when I went to some of my colleagues tavern Eddie sent the test results to a third pellagra fer who agreed the results appeared truthful the charts were then sent to a fourth examiner who did not agree suggesting Lazar might be relating information he'd learned from someone else

the polygraphers conferred and decided they would not issue a final statement on truthfulness until more specific testing can be conducted and that's where it stands tavern Eddie believes that difficulty in determining lazarré's truthfulness stems from the fear that was drilled into him I think we're talking about a subject here that is so far-reaching and it is so emotional and when you're dealing with emotions this is polygraph because we're dealing when polygraph you're looking at fear the fear of getting caught telling a lie because something bad will happen to you if you do well I am telling the truth I've tried to prove that what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about contact physical physical contact and proof of from another another system and other planet and other intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period and it's real and it's real and it's there and I had an extremely small part in it but I'm convinced at what I saw is absolute proof of that there is there is no way we could have created those systems there's no way we could have made the disc the power supply's anything to go with them

well czar says he has no intention of going on in a UFO lecture circuit he's not looking to do any additional interviews in fact he wasn't too crazy about doing this one he did it after certain unfavorable things started happening in his life and he did it because he feels that whoever is running the show but s4 is perpetrating a fraud on the American people and on the scientific community we intend to have much more about this story about the operation up there on Monday and beyond this is by no means at the end of this series of reports in fact on Monday including in our story their support testimony from other people who say they have knowledge of the flying discs at the test site and information from people who

Nola's are very well and insist his story is true if indeed they have these flying saucers George it seems like be really hard to keep it so secret

well yeah what's it would seem that way except for as Lazar asked his superiors up there they say it's the easiest secret in the world to keep it's leaked out many times before and nobody believes it but what's the Navy saying about all of this well of course the Navy is supposed to have been his his employer and we have put some fairly pointed questions and questions to them of course number one it may not be the Navy at all information is so compartmentalized up there no one is exactly sure who is in charge we have put the questions to several Navy departments the answers thus far have been unsatisfactory we've applied for more information through the Freedom of Information Act and that information will be revealed on Monday as well you believe your story don't you yeah I do yeah I've got to know him pretty well over the last couple of months and I believe he's telling the truth fascinating stuff thanks George

former government scientist has alleged that the US military is flying recovered UFOs at a secret base in the Nevada desert the allegations about the secret facility near the groom mountains first surfaced on Eyewitness News

last Friday scientist Bob Lazar says there are at least nine of the flying saucers being tested and that they were not built on earth George Knapp has more in the continuation of our series on UFOs yeah it's well it's obvious it came from somewhere else

other than Earth scientist Bob Lazar is convinced that the technology he saw being tested at a secret base in the Nevada desert is of alien origin and for Lazar the proof is at least partially in the furniture one of the nine flying discs he says he saw at the base which was designated s for looks exactly like this UFO photographed in Europe Lazar called it the sport model I gave everything simple name so there's a top hat one and you know I the jello mold and the sport model then I operated you know without any hitches at all I mean it looked new if I can if I know what a new flying saucer looks like one of them looked like it was hit with some sort of projectile it had a large hole in the bottom and a large hole in the top with the metal bent out like some sort of you know large caliber four or five inch projectile had gone through it even before he saw the sport model operate Lazar says he suspected that the ship came from somewhere else the realization slapped him in the face the first time he glimpsed the inside of the disc I got to look inside and it had really small chairs and I think that was the first confirmation I had that was just a shocking thing because it every time before that I was able to label it well this is just a little advanced that a group of scientists had formed and you know they're keeping it secret and yeah we could have built a big disk like that that's no problem and you know we could have adapted these to make it fly but why does it have little furniture inside essentially little seats and no nits and things began to click together just all too fast a few of the disks had been completely dismantled to find out how they work Lazar says but others were fully operational a Japanese TV network created this animated version of lazarre's story after his first interview with us aired in May Lazar says the dramatization is similar to a test flight he witnessed the bottom of it glowed blue and began to hiss like any like high voltage does on a runaround sphere it's my impression that the reason that they're round and have no sharp edges is to contain the high voltage like if you've seen on high voltage systems the insulators things around or else you get a Corona discharge in either case it began to hiss it's an high voltage and it lifted off the ground and quietly and except with that little hiss in the background then that stopped as soon as it reached about 20-30 feet

Lazare says the tests of the sport model was a short one that it made only a few moves before setting back down he didn't see who was actually flying the craft but was very impressed nonetheless well there's no action reaction system to it there's no liken a jet engine exhaust gas being thrown out no propeller no noise it's just for all intents and purposes magic to lazarre's knowledge the flying discs are not being used for say any flights to Jupiter

he says excessive caution and intense secrecy contributed to the plodding pace of the program and were a main source of his disenchantment it's just unfair outright not to not to put it in the hands of the overall scientific community there are people that are much more capable of dealing with this information and by this time would have gotten a lot further along than this select group little people yeah

select small group of people working out in the middle of the desert they don't even have the facilities really to completely analyzed what they're dealing with well he was being quiet and if he kept me abreast of anything he kept me abreast of the security checks they'd randomly dropped by his house they threatened his wife they threatened his wife's life they had done all that so we really didn't converse I mean he really wasn't hearing to the program gene Huff is a Las Vegas real estate appraiser a regular guy who just happens to have a friend in the Flying Saucer business he learned about lazarre's s4 experiences only after a long period was

Cara's anxious for people to know that he didn't just run right out and spill the secrets of the universe and that some things are properly kept confidential I did not believe that this should be a security matter some of it sure but just the concept that there's definite proof and we even have articles from another world another system you just can't not tell everyone a lot of people don't believe that but I do

when he reached what felt like his bursting point he took huff and a few others to the edge of the Groom Mountains to see the flights for themselves a total of five witnesses on two consecutive weeks managed to dodge security patrols long enough to see the strange glowing object lift above the mountains

it came up above the same mountain it moved around it did a step move it actually went up in the air like this and hovered then dropped way down then it just floated around and cruised around and then it started coming up to mountain range this home video tape was recorded during one of the trips to the Groom mountains

I are you there now

right right now admittedly the tape proves very little by itself because with the distance and darkness there are no reference points other than the alleged flying disc but Lazarre's information about the time and location of the test flights proved correct not once but twice that according to our off-camera interviews with each of the other witnesses Jeanne Hough describes his second sighting through the telescope we had seen it was an elliptically shaped light you know that's that's about because you can only get so close even with a telescope to a secure facility anyway it came by up by us very rapidly it glowed and glowed brighter like a Sun and and we almost got the feeling it was going to explode it glowed so bright and we backed up behind the car then it went down it glowed back up a little bit and very softly glided back over back where the mountains where it came up hovered for a while and then just sat down just like you see in the movies Bob Lazar isn't the only person to claim inside knowledge of the flying discs at the test site

he's just the only person to say so publicly we have communicated with several people who say they know of the saucer program a technician in a highly sensitive position told us it is quote common knowledge among those with high security clearances that recovered alien discs are stored at the Nevada Test Site a Las Vegas professional who once served in the military and was stationed at the test site says he saw a flying disc land outside the boundaries of area 51 that it was quickly surrounded by security personnel and that he was taken away and debrief for several hours a man who once worked at Groom Lake as a technician at our request wrote this letter explaining how he inadvertently walked into the wrong hangar and saw what appeared to be a large metallic disc under a tarp it was being examined by men in lab coats and an airman who worked at Nellis at a radar installation says he and his fellow servicemen watched over a period of five nights unusual objects flying over the groom mountains

he says the radar images indicate the object zoomed into range at speeds of seven thousand miles per hour and then would stop on a dime and that nothing we have is capable of doing that the airman says that when word of his sighting got out he was ordered to turn off his radar sensors for that area and told to keep quiet about the matter

it did not happen none of this means that the military is actually flying alien spacecraft in the Nevada desert it could all perhaps be explained to some other secret program Lazar insists that's not the case we put the matter to the US Navy which according to Lazar is running the saucer show for different naval offices were contacted all denied having any information in their files the Naval Research Lab said it conducted a thorough search but found Zipp Naval Intelligence said much the same thing adding it is not required to create a file where one doesn't exist a side note we also requested files on a UFO sighting over tremens in Utah in 1952 the Navy spent more than a thousand hours studying film of that sighting a fact that's been noted in several publications but for purposes of our request the Navy couldn't find

those files either the group that runs this project whether it really is the Navy or they just say that they apparently these people have executive power they don't report to anyone tomorrow more troubling allegations about the military potential of alien technology George Knapp Eyewitness News 8

we're thrilled to be here my wife Anna say hi Anna hello um I don't know if you heard this story but our our uh our luggage has become a UFO we know we know our suitcases were objects we know they were flying at some point and we know their uh their their whereabouts are unknown at this time so we went out and got got some clothes I promise I we did take showers and we did brush our teeth so we're not dangerous anymore um I I know the a couple of things about Denmark didn't know a whole lot but I I knew a of things that the the most important uh people to know were the Berg family ybg and carlborg and and maybe their their cousin the tubber's um but actually the the one thing I did not know about Denmark previously that I have learned in the 24 hours we've been here is uh about the most powerful the most intimidating force in the city of Copenhagen and that is uh I mean more fearsome than the CIA more fearsome uh than the Men in Black and that's the bicycle Mafia uh be afraid be very afraid you know cuz these guys they're they all seem perpetually angry and they will run you down and not look back I'm hoping we escape unscathed here I thought uh today we would have some fun and uh and I would share with you sort of my journey uh along uh chasing this UFO mystery Bob Lazar Area 51 in particular some of the stories and Adventures that adventures in saucer land I guess you could call it how I got sucked into this topic and why I become hooked on it permanently and some of the interesting people and and uh Adventures we've had along the way and share with you my perspective not only as a as a man who's interested in this topic but also as a reporter as a journalist because I find myself increasingly at odds with the other people in my profession I I think the segue from what we heard from Robbie uh is seamless in that uh a lot of what we know about uh Area 51 and UFOs comes from Hollywood instead of from journalists people who are in my profession the people who should be telling this story are news people around the world us and here but they aren't they aren't doing it and uh why they aren't doing it is something that we'll explore today U so let's get right to it the the story that we're here to review today is sort of traveled all over the world many times and I know in some ways that it sounds Preposterous on its face uh the idea that some slightly off-kilter nerdish guy in glasses could be hired into a classified program even though his educational credentials are practically non-existent his work history is sketchy at best he's been discredited and dismissed by people he worked with

and for there is no way that this guy should ever be allowed access to Top Secret materials or to classified files no way let alone that he would be able to blow the whistle on some some of the deepest darkest secrets of all time and yet if we press number one I think you will recognize this guy's face Snowden you thought I was talking about Bob Lazar right we know that Edward Snowden really did work for the CIA in the NSA even though he had no college degrees even though he dropped out of high school he dropped out of the military he was working as a security guard right before he was hired by the CIA and then later the NSA private contractors for the SAA he was able to access the most sensitive information in the US government which he subsequently and promptly leaked it's run number two uh I am here to talk about another slightly nerdish whistleblower a guy named Bob Lazar is it fair to compare Bob Lazar and Edward Snowden I think it is and I'll take you through this Twisted Tail step by step and you can tell me if this comparison is valid or not both of these guys worked on classified projects for spooky agencies both presumably were not qualified to be in their positions and so a lot of people have doubts about them as a result their personal lives were spotty their educational credentials were questionable both were very bright guys whose lack of former credentials was not an impediment to getting work in places that seemingly should be off limits to them uh I think Bob Lazar's Story the one you're about to hear demonstrate that those three letter agencies that we talk about in UFO Gatherings like this will hire anyone if it means means there's a better chance of getting the job done uh it's the same reason that the CIA came to my hometown Las Vegas to hire Mafia guys to help kill Fidel Castro because those are the guys who could get the job done that really happened it's why deals were cut with the CIA and the DEA and various drug cartels over the years or why we had on the government payroll the US government payroll these scumbag dictators like Manuel Nora or Saddam Hussein it's why journalists and entertainers have been recruited over the decades I mean these agencies do what they need to do to get the job done they will make a deal with the devil if that's what it takes and I think that relates directly to the story of Bob Lazar that we're going to hear it's now 25 years since I got sucked into this world of Area 51 and flying saucers and Bob Lazar uh November next month will Mark the 25th anniversary of when we went public with Bob's identity and I'll tell you some stories as we go along but right up until the minute when I revealed his name and showed his face for the first time Bob was grabbing the videotape I mean 10 minutes before he went on the air um trying to grab that tape because he had changed his mind he is the most as you will hear he's if he's the UFO Messiah he's the most reluctant Messiah you're ever going to hear about um I had no idea of course when I started this thing that 25 years later the story would still be going that people would still be asking questions about it that it would travel all over the world many times over you know I was pretty sure at the time it was going to change Bob's life there was no question about that um and I guessed it would probably cause at least some kind of fleeting interest in the time in the base itself in Area 51 the one that with no name the one with many names but I had no idea that this was going to change my life so dramatically as well and it has I mean I'm here I'm speaking to an audience in in Copenhagen about Area 51 uh and it's a long way from home it's just an amazing little journey uh since the theme of this Gathering is sort of about UFOs and the media I thought I would uh explore with you how this story has spread uh how it became sort of a a Transcendent meme uh the way in which this story has spread I think by itself that mechanism would be of interest to those three-letter agencies intelligence agencies in how this thing goes around the planet and also to sociologist you know certainly to academics who study media information Theory it has been uh kind of astonishing at least from my end and I've had a pretty good seat uh I started as a journalist in Las Vegas um back in 1991 excuse me 81 and I work mostly in television but I've also done print and as was mentioned in the introduction I do some radio here and there and over the years I think I probably covered just about every kind of news story you could imagine in Las Vegas what you would expect a Las Vegas reporter to cover organized crime political corruption sex scandals celebrity uh goofballs environmental catastrophes drought the Foreclosure crisis drug dealers Gun Runners murders bikers fires stickups pot dealers crack pedlers scams ripoff scumbags Bon heads and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid I me I covered it all along the way and some of those stories I broken have been pretty good uh some of them not so good and in my hometown at least I'm considered a pretty good repor or at least I was all that kind of changed in 1989 when I became the UFO guy I'm sure this is true for most of you who are here in this room because in your family in your circles you're the UFO guy or gal right uh if there's a UFO sighting in in Norway or something and it makes it into the paper people in your family crazy Uncle Bob or something comes and asks you about what you think about the UFO story we're all the UFO people so you're going to be able to relate to some of the things I'm going to tell you about here um I am the area 51 guy I'm the UFO guy in my community it's as if it's tattooed on my butt I'm sure it'll be mentioned when I die that's going to be right there in the obituary uh in describing what I did in my life is that I was the UFO guy in Area 51 I mean not a day goes by when I don't get emails from uh Ecuador or Iceland or somewhere in between uh about a UFO sighting or a flying saucer event everywhere I go in Las Vegas and my wife can tell you about this we get stopped and people want to talk about UFOs we're sitting and having dinner people will come up and slide into the booth and they want to tell me their story and um you know that that's okay to some extent and I understand it and they want to ask the same question uh what do I really think about UFOs well the reality is they don't want my opinion about UFOs they want to tell me their UFO story because they everybody's got one so it's at restaurants I'm in a grocery store uh in a bar standing in a urinal in a men's room um people wanted tell me about the UFO stories that's a real thing hey do you really believe that stuff um and I'm okay with that but for some reason it drives my colleagues in journalism crazy uh it just drives them nuts they don't know how to handle it the general public seems deeply interested in this subject and every time we do a UFO story or some kind of series on television the ratings Spike they go up it indicates the public is hungry for Reliable information on this topic and yet other journalists who presumably should be uh you know servicing the needs and the interests of the of the public don't want to touch it and it's just really strange I mean it's a great subject potentially the biggest story in the history of the planet and even if it weren't true even if this was some kind of a mass hallucination long term it would still be a huge story plus from my perspective as a journalist it's a hell of a lot of fun to chase this around I get to come to Copenhagen for example I mean uh but to my colleagues the folks in this room all of us myself included are UFO Buffs UFO Believers UFO crazies I mean it's subtle terms like that that they use in their stories UFO Buffs and Believers it's to tools that are used by journalists to sort of put UFO folks in their place uh you know those who don't believe the subject matter is legitimate they're called uh Skeptics or scientists but though the rest of us are Buffs and Believers I never thought of myself as a buff or believer I'm not the UFO reporter I'm a journalist I'm a reporter who happens to be interested in UFOs and there there's a a distinct difference there

I think it's a legitimate news story and as I said this has driven my colleagues in journalism really crazy um 1989 as I said is the year that I officially went nuts uh because that's when we broke the story about Bob Lazar and Area 51 and and uh when I had broken those other stories I mentioned you know I'm just a reporter when I talk about UFOs in Area 51 I'm crazy I'm a fruit cake at least in the eyes of my colleagues I can't tell you how many times I have been pillared by radio disc jockeys in the morning when they run out of belch barf and fart jokes or something they'll take a shot at me uh my friends at Nevada's largest newspaper the review journal have had a lot of fun at my expense over the years um that one of the first they've done a series of editorial cartoons that I have on my wall at home by the way one of them showed me with a butterfly net uh chasing a flying saucer that was the first one there was one that had uh it was called the marshmallow head Chronicles and it was two extraterrestrial Hitmen had come to Earth and they had their ray guns here they were coming to kill me because I'd spilled these UFO Secrets but they're standing looking at a at two G gasoline pumps and the one guy says the other of course they are earthmen but which one is George knap um I think they're making fun of maybe my Stout figure or something like that I had done a series of reports about alleged alien abductions and you know the medical procedures that come along with that that the abductees talk about and the uh the review journal had a column they called it the headline was they were kidnapped by extraterrestrials and they they talked about the medical procedures and they dubbed me a grand Mulla in the Church of cosmic proctology which U I thought that was funny uh the newspaper critic he was writing a story about how people were rushing at home at night to see my stories about UFOs the second series that we ever did he said that they were rushing home not because they care about flying saucers but because they wanted to be there quote when George finally goes bull Goose Looney and does the big crack up on the screen his eyes Going Buggy and rolling free in their socket sockets will he Crash and Burn before our very eyes that was in our newspaper funny stuff I figure it comes with a territory I'm a I'm a public figure I'm not thin skinned about it I'm okay with it because I know the Public's okay with it I don't write stories for them to be read by other journalists I write them for the public to read and this is a subject that the public is interested in the part that bothers me and since we are talking about UFOs and media the part that bothers me is that reporters and columnists other journalists are so willing to write this story off to dismiss it to make fun of it to poke fun at you and me and anybody else who's interested in it without doing any of the work they do the Wise Cracks because it's easy and they don't do the work H they've certainly never spent hundreds of hours sitting out there the dark and the dust of the desert around Area 51 waiting for something to happen trying to dodge these security patrols and coyotes and dust devils things of that sort trying to keep from getting arrested or busted by the helicopter are out there they haven't read the books they haven't read the documents they had haven't interviewed the witnesses none of the stuff that you would do in any other kind of story that's your job is to do that kind of stuff before you make a judgment about a particular topic or The credibility of a witness or something like that and I'm sure many of you feel the same way I don't know what the coverage is like here in Denmark Pia was telling me you don't get a whole lot of serious media coverage but maybe that can change they see all of us in this room as nuts and and while I think that is terribly unfair and inaccurate in a general sense the fact is and you know it as well as I do that this subject does attract a lot of people whose elevator doesn't go all the way to the top floor you know um for the past couple of weeks I've been getting emails from this lady in California who uh wants me to contact the former director of the CIA Admiral James Woy she wants him to stop harassing her via electronic mind control uh she's Woolsey she says has been forcing her to have sex with a large contingent of Asian men who she doesn't know so she's been banging these Asian guys and she's blaming the CIA guy and wants me to see if I can get him to stop it I'm not sure I can help her out when I first got started in this uh it's did the first series on the UFO stuff in Area 51 I get contacted by this lady she's calling me up every day got to talk to me got to see me in person can't discuss this uh on the phone she had to see me I fine I finally relented she shows up at the station she's wearing the skimpiest possible halter top and holding this kid who it turns out of course is an alien hybrid baby and within the first five minutes I met this lady I knew details about her sex life that I didn't want to hear because she said it was while she was engaged in a certain sex act their boyfriend out on their front porch that she looked up and saw her first flying saucer and she told me this allow and I'm not making up one word of this uh she told me this elaborate story about how they had beamed her up on the ship she'd been up there a couple of times and the first time she was up there uh she was in a lineup with other Earth women and they looked looked her over and they told her you know in our they had her them in bathing suits like a Miss America Pageant or something and they told her in their alien opinion that she didn't needed to get breast implants and again I'm not making this up and that was the one part of the story I could really believe because there was ample physical evidence staring me in the face right there um I get these letters from this 75-year-old woman in Northern California she says she has these sexual romps with aliens every time her husband leaves for town they live on a ranch every time he leaves the aliens come and have their way with her and uh she even drew me an anatomically correct picture of what alien genitalia you look like you want to you want to open up that on a on an empty stomach in the morning it's not something that I I have been pestered by a millionaire transsexual abductee by a guy who says he's the twin brother of Jesus Christ who says aliens are coming and they're really mad uh I had a guy fly from Australia one time used he said he used the last money he had in his bank account to fly to see me and to see if I would go to Area 51 and use my contacts out there to tell the aliens to stop abducting him now that's a sad that's a sad story it's funny but it's sad at the same time cuz that guy really thought he was being abducted and he thought I could possibly help him talk to some aliens out of Area 51 uh I had this guy who contacted me and I don't know how I got sucked into going to his house but he convinced me that he had worked for the military he had some UFO information he says I communicate with the aliens on a regular basis and he showed me the device and it was it we went out into his backyard and it was a a bird bath with an old Record Rack on top and a headlight from a car that was just sitting there like it was not connected anything that this guy said that was his device for uh communicating with aliens I get U letters from alleged aliens that tell me they're watching me I get them sending me poems and songs I've had assorted death threats over the years from people who say that they say that they're the government and they're going to get me they say I'm the government uh they think I'm an agent I mean been around the block on this I went on The Montel Williams TV talk show one time it just somebody just sent us a copy of it and there was a people on there it wasn't just abductees they were abductees who've been aliens in a previous lifetime and I'm supposed to follow that um you know so it it let's roll some video the next one the area 51 video it kind of comes with the territory so um for major media you know that's all they see is people like that they never get beyond the obvious they never start to look at uh area 1 the legitimacy you can turn the video down I mean the audio down the legitimacy of whether there's a real story there or not um so I I think it's really their loss because they're missing the boat this is a story that got out anyway Area 51 as mentioned it's known all over the world now it's created an oxymoron of sorts of the highest order the world's best known secret base how can you be so well-known and Secret at the same time it's kind of odd it's a place that is famous for being Secret uh and for decades for decades the government has pretended it wasn't there it's their own fault Area 51 you know this uh most classified military technology in America's Arsenal has been tested out there it's a place where constitutional protections legal protections do not apply it's a place where environmental laws in our country are Exempted it's where you can be shot just for walking into the place Area 51 also known as the Box the ranch the water toown strip and Dreamland it's the base that began in 1955 uh it's the place where the U2 that's the the camo dudes that sit up on the on the on the uh Hill if you try to walk up to Area 51 they're the ones that come and grab you uh and they have cameras all over the security is really oppressive uh they if you get too close they'll fly helicopters Jets all kinds of things at you they have um they have motion detectors 12 15 mil away from the base out on public land that will let them know if your car drives down that road they know you're coming so they can get ready they have all kinds of sophisticated technology uh to to tell them when somebody is trying to get in I've bet all kinds of people offer to hey let's sneak in there and I tell that's a really bad idea well look let's get a whole bunch of winnebagos and we'll go driving across the border and they can't stop all of us yes yes they can and uh so i' I've tried to talk them out of that stuff um you know Area 51 even without Bob Lazar is a pretty interesting place the U2 the SR71 stealth technology all manner of CIA monkey business has been taking place out there over the years it's a fascinating place but the history of Area 51 and the history of my my own personal history all changed a day and it was 1987 two years before Bob Lazar a guy named John Lear walked into the TV station and told me a story and Lear had a certain amount of credibility at KS his father of course had invented the Lear jet John had run for the State Senate he was an ex CIA employee who had flown basically every aircraft in the world and he had helped us break a really big story my boss was a guy named Ned day who was a a muck raking crusading journalist in in Nevada he's dead now but at the time he had broken this story it was a huge story about the existence of the stealth fighter John leer would go out the area 51 look around take photos like these and he knew that something like a stealth fighter was flying around out there so he and his buddy Jim Goodall told Ned day Ned day breaks the story it goes National goes International about the existence of the strange technology out there Ned gets pulled in by the FBI they hauled him in and put a bright light it was like right out of a movie scene how dare you endanger National Security don't you know that puts everyone in the country at risk and the Russians are going to find out all this stuff he was really worried that he was going to go to prison for a while and of course his ultimate answer to them was look you may have thought you had a secret out there with this technology but if I as a reporter can find it out then certainly the Russians can find it out so I did you a favor anyway John leer gave us that information about stealth technology so he had credibility with us he walked into the station with a big stack of UFO documents and dropped them on Ned's desk and Ned said look I'm not interested in this I can't do this story if it was true that there's UFOs or flying saucers at Area 51 I'd already know about it so it can't be true uh so he gave John the brush off I was eavesdropping as good reporters tend to do and I said hey let me take a look at that stuff so I started reading his pile of UFO documents it included the mj12 papers and some other things citing reports from oh these are some of the spy planes that have been tested out at Area 51 this video had been classified for a long time but they finally released it decades later um anyway so I started reading John's stuff and um I thought well that's kind of interesting and at the time I produced a show called on the record it's a little public Affairs program it airs at 6:00 in the morning and nobody watches it normally it'd be a show that you'd have somebody that's the a12 which was also developed out there and that's footage from Area 51 um anyway so we have John leer uh on on the record the show that I did that nobody normally watches and the phone starts rigging off the hook and so I had him on a second time and I got an even bigger response from the public and I thought hey this is kind of interesting maybe I'm going to have to look into this UFO topic so I started reading it everything I could get my hand hands on and I figured this is how cocky I was at the time uh I figured well what the heck you know what this topic needs is a good reporter give me six months I'll have this baby all figured out you know I'll have this mystery solved and here it is 27 years later and I still have no idea what's going on um so that's how I sort of got sucked into it John Lear give me this information I read it I find it interesting the third time I had John on this program he slipped a hint that he knew guy who' just been hired at Area 51 don't want to say too much about it but if this goes public if he goes public with the information it's going to blow the lid off this story I thought well I'm going to keep that in mind well the guy that he knew turned out to be Bob Lazar I'll skip some of the steps about how we we ended up meeting let's play a little clip of the Lazar the 25th this sort of give us a recap of the story I don't know sometimes I really do regret regret it and almost I almost feel like apologizing to him saying that you know I'm sorry I let things out can I have my job back 25 years after he was forever transformed into Bob the UFO guy Bob Lazar says he regrets ever talking about flying saucers or a secret base in the Nevada desert or any of the things that made his name known all over the world there isn't a day I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to him look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me a quarter century ago not many people outside of Nevada had ever heard of Area 51 the mysterious base 100 miles north of Las Vegas a place the government said didn't exist it was the location of choice for all manner of black projects spy planes that were kept secret from the public and that's my driveway that's Bob that's Jean Huff and Bob's wife Tracy and Chris and uh we're just waiting there for uh 5:00 to roll around former CIA pilot John leer remembers the day that area 51 became a household name hi John this is home video he shot as a k News truck prepared to broadcast a live interview from lear's home Lazar was understandably nervous yeah he was nervous because he was putting it all out on the line there and uh here he was going to you know reveal all this secret that he' signed you know that he was going to uh never tell anybody it's uh not only a crime against the American people in the interview lazzar's face was hidden and he used a pseudonym Dennis which was the first name of his boss out in the desert well there's several uh actually nine uh flying saucers flying Lazar claimed he worked intermittently at a location called S4 south of Groom Lake the main facility of Area 51 he said the hangers had been built into the site of a mountain disguised as desert and inside were a set of nine flying saucers months later he revealed his identity to the world and said the technology he'd worked on was from somewhere else that it was being taken apart to figure out how it worked okay so he says he told us man I remember that day so clearly in May of 1989 we put him on the air I had not interviewed him before uh we had somebody cancel an interview a live interview for our five o'clock news when I was anchoring there we said well may that saucer guy would do it so we put him on and the phone went crazy people could not believe that my bosses go rushing in is this guy for real and my news director and I Bob Bob stoal said gosh if this story is true if we can verify at least some of it it's going to be gigantic so we started a project I spent the next eight months working on trying to verify Lazar's background and any other details that we could come up with about Area 51 we had heard rumors about something that looked like flying saucers being tested out there for a long time yet no one had ever come forward until Bob um so he said there's nine flying saucers into the built into the hanger in the side of the mountain the facility know as S4 he said that he saw one of these things that was in Flight he called it the sport model and it looked like you saw the the artwork there it's looked like what uh Billy Meyers beam ships like the the sport model that he called it uh he said that antimatter reactor would create its own gravitational field uh that gravity was in fact the key to Interstellar travel it allowed one of these spaceships that generates its own gravitational field it could Bend space and time which is what a lot of people jacqu Val and others have said it looks like how these flying saers get around the fuel Lazar said was something called Element 115 a super heavy element that did not exist at the time but does now I mean it's Preposterous stuff it's outrageous it's ridiculous who in the world could believe such a story coming from a guy with a sketchy background like Bob it turns out quite a few people believed it because the story exploded like a bomb I mean it launched thousands of product lines made Untold numbers of media appearances possible the meme was on the loose let's play this next one in the cud Area 51 you could have just handed me a piece of a UFO from Area 51 there have never been any spacecraft there's no area 51 there's no recovered spaceship oh excuse me Mr President that's not entirely accurate it would probably take an Indiana Jones sized Warehouse to stash all the pop culture references to Area 51 the oo secret facility the place that did not officially exist for decades is the rockar of military bases literally there's a rock band named Area 51 and another named Element 115 which is supposedly the fuel for flying buying saucers there's an Area 51 video game an Area 51 Bar what better way to unwind after a long day than a glass of Groom Lake Red Wine from the AE in maybe spend a few minutes staring at the paintings you picked up at the area 51 art show while perhaps listening to the Bob Lazar music videoar the story that Bob Lazar told 25 years ago has gone around the world many times over when you get yourself in position and in the quart Century since then the world has beaten a path to area 51's door every major news organization in the world has written Stories the Bas has inspired documentaries and TV dramas dozens of books have been written fiction and non-fiction hundreds of news articles many of them critical of Lazar and skeptical about his background his tale launched a thousand product lines every trinket you can imagine along with assorted businesses a AAA base team and the world's only extraterrestrial Highway running right past the entrance to groom Lake President Obama recently made a point of publicly acknowledging Area 51 what's really going on at Area 51 and former President Bill Clinton told Jimmy Kimmel he' looked into those stories about space aliens so first I had people go look at the records on Area 51 to make sure there was no alien down there even the Kardashians have made a track out into the desert that's a security guard who look look how that that uh you know that story moved throughout the internet so quickly and not just the internet but but news in itself like was in the first 48 hours after the broadcast it was in Japan back in Las Vegas for a visit Lazar recalls why he came forward in the first place he had traveled to the S4 base only a handful of times but began to get scared I began to get worried in that why they've given me all this classified information they're not calling me anymore they won't take my phone calls and the meantime apparently they're deciding what to do with me look how bright it's getting look at it now for a variety of personal reasons Lazar couldn't keep the story to himself he shared his tale with John Lear and Jean Huff they and a few others made TRS out to the outskirts of S4 because Lazar said he'd learned when the test flights of the saucer would take place three weeks in a row a glowing object appeared over the mountain look how bright it's getting look at it now and just a few minutes ago we saw one of the government uh extraterrestrial UFOs the time when Bob said there would be a test there was a strange light jumping around in the sky above the location where he said it would be at the time and date he said it would be you know here the craft took off when I said it was taking off from past the the mountain range which was Papoose Lake S4 south of Area 51 you know in a restricted area so it's not like anyone was out there with a model plane or anything and uh you know flew around it incredible man maneuvers that impressed everybody to the point where we got scared and got behind a a car fearing the thing was going to explode but um really how do you explain this it's bright right now I can't tell you how many times I wish gosh shouldn't I have copyrighted a piece of that or something the wife reminds me quite a few times with the thousands of products and books and TV shows and and things of that sort the references to Area 51 that have gone everywhere uh Robbie mentioned about the movies and the the idea of reality and and that is so true I can remember being there was a special screening of the movie Independence Day and I had already been reporting on Area 51 for 10 years you know pounding away at these stories in UFO circles that had gone everywhere but it was still sort of filtering out to the general public and we had the special screening of the movie and there's that scene where the secretary defense says Ah Mr President yeah there really is an Area 51 and people in the audience are going see I told you it was real I was like I I've been reporting on this for for years now and now it took a movie to tell you it's real that there really is a place called AR 51 uh by the way as a side note I told P I was bringing some stuff along it it's in the bags it in the baggage wherever that is but some some uh uh Trinkets and souvenir from Mara 51 I got an Al little alien Christmas ornament with an alien on it a couple of hats from the area 51 Museum which is the Atomic Testing Museum it's got a room full of stuff about half of it from my house the area 51 baseball team we got a hat from that an Area 51 cookbook anyway I'm deot uh donating it to your organization if you want to bid on it maybe it'll make some money or something like that um you know I was thrilled with some of the stuff that uh President Clinton spoke publicly about Area 51 President Obama spoke about it uh while he he did that by the way if you'll recall while he was honoring Shirley mlan which seemed kind of somehow fitting uh but I was a little bit worried when I saw the Kardashians heading to Area 51 in the TV business there's a phrase known as Jumping the Shark when a show has gone too far uh to be credible anymore uh that's what we call it Jumping the Shark and I don't know if the Kardashians may have jumped the shark from the first stop but when they started going to Area 51 I thought this has gone too far um you saw at the end of that video clip this original footage of a saucer test flight that Lazar and Jean Huff and John le and others had witnessed not once not twice but three weeks in a row Lazar knew when these test FL would take place he knew where they would take place there had been no news stories about it no coverage uh

in anywhere officially and to this day the story is there is nothing at Papo's Lake there's never been a facility there even though satellite photos show a road that goes down there and uh there's no base there's no facility there's nothing but a dry lake bed at Papoose so how did Bob know how did he know this stuff it's one of the points we're going to come back to play this next little clip of this this a little bit better look at that saucer that's a a freeze frame a there's some enhancement that was done that's that's the object it was flying above Papoose's Lake and I don't know it looks like a flying saucer to me uh over the years dozens of people have captured their own images of things flying around out there there's a classic Sombrero shaped UFO that was flying around out there weird lights now some of these things like everything else they're misidentifications they're military planes secret aircraft secret platforms of one sort or another but a heck of a lot of them look like flying saucers and if we've been flying them out there since the 1950s which is how long people have been seeing seeing them if it's a classified project when do we get a look when do they declassify it when do they roll it out of the hanger last year I don't know if you read this story here if it got much P publicity but the CIA formally announced last year that Area 51 exists whoopy fre and do you know Area 51 exists we know that it exists we've got satellite photos we know people who worked out there the the world has no yeah can stop it um the world has known about it for a long time so CIA goes public with this announcement I'm wondering what are they up to well they they wanted to use it as an explanation to brush away all reports of UFOs don't worry I think what the words were remember all those UFOs you were seeing in the 50s and 60s that was us ha haa I I don't even and you know at the same time they acknowledge that the base uh was real they did something else sneaky they said the real reason that these rumors about flying saucers at Area 51 had been started is because people outside the base were seeing weird things flying around and they mistook them for UFOs well you know and they they're implying that these are U2s and SR71 and stealth technology uh it's similar to the earlier CIA release that was done a couple of years ago to explain away all UFO sightings that's all us they said it's the agency it's our secret planes and they they made a campaign about it on Twitter well bullshit it's bullshit uh I don't even know where to start with that uh the U the U2 is a great big gangly plane that has big long Wings it doesn't look like a flying saucer it doesn't hover silently it doesn't fly up and down like this it doesn't land in people's corn fields or backyards it was designed to not be seen at all uh same for the SR71 the A12 the stealth technology those are not flying saucers it suggests that people are seeing those planes and and that's the cause of the stories in Area 51 is ridiculous um more importantly the stories about flying saucers in Nevada didn't start because there were people outside the base seeing things flying around they started because people inside the base started leaking the information and one of those people was Bob Lazar uh I'm not going to try to convince you beyond any doubt that Lazar is telling the truth for most people you know that horse is left the barn you've already made up your mind about it chances are if you're here to hear some of this you probably give him at least some credibility um you know that that Legend is Galloping around down the road and and around the world and most people have made up their minds as I said I I will give you two thoughts on this though one is that my belief it's a moot point anyway as Robbie Graham was saying because this Area 51 story is now permanently etched into the public Consciousness whether anybody likes it or not uh it's taken on a life of its Zone independent of Bob Lazar uh Lazar by the way did not work at Area 51 although a lot of people say that he was at S4 and and we've already made that distinction uh earlier this year there was a tour they now take tours out to Area 51 regular tours if you as a tourist you want to go to Las Vegas and take a drive out there they'll put you in a vehicle take you right up to the edge of Area 51 you can take a couple of snapshots and you go back home uh earlier this year I aired a story about a tour group they had their driver who was relatively new to the job and they're talking they're yaking at him as he's driving up to the gate yeah yeah yeah blah blah blah he blows right through this sign the warning sign it says stop or you will be shot uh he goes right through it and they're driving along and they're wondering Hey where's that base you know where's the camo dude shouldn't we be stopping here and all of a sudden bam he's right on on their butt uh pulled him over pulled out guns uh threatened to arrest him they wrote him up big citations the guy can never is never allowed to go back uh so other drivers will have to go there but it was a big mess and I helped negotiate the find down these people um didn't have to dig into their pockets too bad but as the video from that camera showed this driver is telling his own reality about you uh Area 51 oh yeah the mother ship is often out there hovering over the base and there's secret underground facilities where the aliens um they mix up Vats of uh human and alien parts and create these hybrid RS I mean total nonsense totally made up but there's the guy who's official tour guide for Area 51 making this stuff up um and it sort of goes to the point that it's taken on a life of its own and we couldn't stop it if we wanted to the second thing I wanted to convey is uh how we pursued this story as journalists um I did not go into this as a lark it wasn't a joke I approached it as a story and I knew there were great risks involved in this uh because of our credibility our credibility the whole station was on the line if we screwed this up and promoted this guy as uh as some UFO Messiah and it blew up in our face we might not ever recover the station's credibility was on the line and I know it looks preposterous from the get-go and that many of our competitors wished it was Preposterous but that's not how it's turned out uh my friend and colleague Stan fredman has been outspoken about Area 51 and Bob Lazar he thinks it's possible he buys the idea there could be flying saucers out there but he doesn't buy Lazar and he's been way out in front I have to give Stan credit for doing some of the leg work unlike a lot of Bob's critics Stan has gone to area uh to MIT and Caltech and looked for Bob Lazar's educational credentials and he found them lacking and I applaud him for that but because that part of Bob's story is weak Stan has written the whole thing off which is what a lot of people have done I don't know how to remind I've tried to remind Stan of about this in person and I've said it in public a few times but uh the important thing is with Lazar is that the information about his educational background was in the very first story that we aired the very first report that identified him we said we could not verify his background and I'll I will confide to you this I don't believe he ever went to those schools I don't believe Bob Lazar could get a degree from Caltech or Mi for a very simple reason at American universities when you get a degree an undergraduate degree you have to take all kinds of core courses in subjects that you may not be interested in uh literature I cannot possibly imagine an Anna youo Bob I can't imagine Bob Lazar sitting through a class in in American lit or reading poetry or something like that he'd never stand for it there is no way in hell that he sat through that stuff to get a degree so what do we do what do we do with that do we throw out the story uh would Bob here's how I rationalize it is Bob would not be the first person to lie about his educational credentials in order to get a good job as his friend of a long time I've given him the opportunity Bob look come come clean on this let me know about uh if it's a lie come clean on it get it behind you and he's never given me that that satisfaction of saying yeah it's a

lie he maintains the story I don't know what the true story is whether they could make his records disappear I have found people who said he was at Caltech who said that they remember him being on the campus but that's not enough to make the point as far as I'm concerned it doesn't matter I don't care whether Bob Lazar went to Caltech the LIE the fact that he would lie about it is problematic but I don't think it's a reason to toss out the entire story because people do lie about their background in order to get a great uh a great job the thing with Bob is uh he is an interesting guy I know a lot of people think that he's a fraud that he never worked out there uh for me the key was always did he work at Los Alamos National Lab because it seemed to me that if he had worked at Los Alamos in a scientific capability on classified projects then it's conceivable that he wouldn't get hired to work at someplace else in the Nevada desert so we went to Los Alamos I went there a couple of times I started writing letters to them to see if Bob had ever worked there and they said no we have no records of them whatsoever and then I found a headline in the Los Alamos newspaper that says there's Bob Lazar as a physicist what about that nope we don't have him he never worked here then I found a phone book from the lab that lists his name and number there he is uh well we still can't find the records on him so I wrote to a company uh a Kirk Meer it's a head hunter company it hires people uh for the lab and fills positions in scientific and technical jobs they had hired Bob I called him up I said yeah did you hire him do you have records yeah we've got the records on them we hired him we got him the job at Los Alamos great can I get a copy of those no problem that was uh that went on for two and a half years where they first said that they would give me the records then they said then they delayed it then they stopped taking my calls all together and then they said quit bothering us someone got to them I mean they had them and then they didn't have them um but I became convinced for other reasons that Bob was there I talked to people he worked with who said he was there and he worked in classified positions unclassified stuff I went to Los Alamos and Bob Lazar took us in it was on a Sunday and we had a camera rolling on it he took us into the gate waves at the guy at the front they let him on in let us in and then he took us into Los Alamos and it was like a rabbit in his own burrow taking us through these buildings uh obscure places waving to people along the way gave us a little Tour all of it recorded on video how did he know you know it's the same thing thing with the uh the Flying Saucer test you don't believe that that Bob uh worked at S4 or Area 51 how did he know about the test there had been no newspaper stories about it he knew when and where it would take place and the video captured it I interviewed all the people that went with him on those trips and they all verify the story just as he told it how did he know here's some other stuff that he knew uh there was an agency called OFI Bob thought it was the FBI I said who did your background check you know when you were getting your security clearance I think it was the FBI it was a guy named Mike Thigpen I call the FBI up they said we don't have any Mike Mike then we don't do background tests come to find out what it was is there was an agency called the OFI office of federal investigation I had never heard about it before but sure enough turns out that's the agency that does background checks for people who work at the Nevada test site and although Area 51 is not part of the Nevada Test Site officially it's attached to it and they do that work and sure enough they have an agent named Mike Thigpen how did he know how did Bob know that a guy named Mike Thigpen worked for an agency uh that I had never even heard of before those facts were confirmed um it's it's weird stuff uh that happened during those that time period it's hard to convey to an audience sitting in a room

like this but it was a strange time to live through break-ins at Bob's house they would break into his house leave all the doors and windows open and write stuff on his Blackboard or move things around there was a time when he and a friend he was getting really nervous because strange things were happening in his life they go to a gym to work out and Bob was starting carrying a gun uh somebody had taken a shot at him he had this gun in the glove box locks the car goes into the gym comes back out an hour and a half later the cars to the door are open the windows are rolled down the glove box is open the gun is laying there on the seat it's like somebody wanted him to know he was under surveillance I would he would call me in the middle of the night and I'd go over to his house rushing over there and he's peeking out the window and I know this will make him sound paranoid peeking out the window holding an Uzi um cuz he thought people were messing with him they were messing with him I mean he they threatened to kill him they threatened to make him disappear they were following us around wherever everywhere we went into bars to work uh I had a series of of phone calls at the station this has really ticks me off people who called up offering to give me additional information about Area 51 and I'll get into some of those specifics in a minute six people who had called to offer me additional information uh and said yeah agreed to be interviewed were visited one right after another there was a guy who was a tax preparer his name was Roy Byam he did tax returns for offices officers at Nellis Air Force Base and they got to know them pretty well and they were on an out of town trip uh when they were sitting around drinking some beers and these guys told them about Area 51 flying saucers S4 the whole story As Told by Bob he agrees to tell me that story on the phone the very next day he gets visited these two guys who said they're from the secret service they said we hear you've been issuing threats against the life of the president and we can tell you that if you're talking to the wrong people and saying the wrong things you can go to prison well he saw that as a threat because of him talking to me there was a lady who works in the Clark County Court System she had been a stenographer a company called holes and Nara it's a defense contractor she sat in on meetings at which she took dictation Air Force guys CIA and her boss these contractors when they talked about Oswell and the Roswell wreckage and some of that material go into Area 51 she said after the meeting they would not only take all her notes they would take the ribbon out of the typewriter so that nobody Could reconstruct what she had written and so she was she told this story to a cop a police officer who I know and he offered to make an introduction so I called this lady up I said let's get together I'll hide your identity don't worry I won't get you in trouble she agreed to tell me this story very next day she gets a knock on the door and these two guys show up they said we're from homes and narvi you do know that you're still under a security uh clearance you're still under security restrictions you can't talk to anybody she goes what are you talking about they go we know that you and your daughter your daughter lives in La you live in Las Vegas and the two of you travel back and forth a lot you know there's a lot of desert out there something bad could happen if you were to say the wrong thing they were threatening her daughter's life she was scared to death I tried to get a hold of her 10 years and then 20 years after that that our first conversation she still wouldn't talk to me she was scared I had a guy who was an electrical engineer who had worked at KV and he before working there he had been at Area 51 and he said he walked into a a big hanger and there under a tarp was something that looked like a flying saucer well he was living in Seattle at the time that he told me this story and so I I I contacted him I said look we're working on a series about UFOs would you give me an interview would you do this on camera I'll black out your face he goes yeah sure next morning I mean the very next day there's two guys sitting in a car uh clean military haircuts talking into a radio sitting out in front of his house and they followed him to work and when he got out of work they're sitting there and talking on the radio and they followed him home he was scared he knew they were trying to intimidate him and he wouldn't talk to me what that told me six people in a row boom boom boom same thing is that they were listening to my phone and that really tick me off that they would monitor back there before we had the NSA listening to everybody's phones uh that they were listening to my phone and it really ticked me off but it was real I had so many people uh if this story was just about Bob Lazar we would never have done it but I had more than two dozen people who had worked at Area 51 50s 60s 7s and 80s who told me bits and pieces of the same story I had the guy who was a golf pro at Nellis Air Force Base who knew all these uh all these uh high ranking officers who told me the same story about Roswell wreckage going to Area 51 and saucers being tested and uh he told me that story he's another one who got a visit um there was a guy who his name is Glenn pace and back in the days of above ground nuclear testing in Nevada the most nuked place in the world he was it was his job as a spotter he was one of the only people in Nevada testate that was allowed to use binoculars so he'd be out there when they would be planning these Atomic tests he'd be in a building sometimes for days at time waiting for the test to take place and he had these binoculars he was at a place called Area 15 which looks right over into Area 51 and he said they used to watch these what look like flying saucers over papo's dry lake all the time his boss was a a German physicist one of the Nazi scientists who came over under Operation Paperclip named Otto Krauss who told him about alien technology being tested out there uh I had a guy named Howard Cannon he was a United States senator from Nevada he was a man who practically built Area 51 because he would get all the secret Appropriations the money that went into building it he was like the father of Nellis Air Force Base he's a retired Brigadier General uh from the Air Force a r a decorated war hero he was very good friends with The Men Who Built Area 51 um the guys from the Skunk Works Lockheed when Howard Cannon lost his last election they gave him as a going away president the ability to fly in the SR71 there's only 30 people in the world that or 40 people in the world have ever been in one and he got to fly in it that's how close he was to these guys Howard son Allan is a friend of ours had had these conversations with his dad about UFOs Howard had never the senator had never spoken about it publicly but he finally agreed through his son to tell me the story about Area 51 and I went over and interviewed him the last interview before he died and he came this close to spilling it all his best friend in the Senate was Barry Goldwater I don't know if you remember that name but Goldwater had run for president Goldwater had tried to get into Wright Patterson the stories about the blue room and he'd been told no you can't get in and you can't ask about it never ask again well Howard Cannon had the same experience he told me that story before he died he went right up to the edge of saying there's flying saucers at Area 51 and then he said this what would be the point of telling that they would deny it they'd call it a lie you're never going to get to see that technology they're never going to let it out so what would be the point Howard Cannon is a man that I believe one other source I'll tell you about it and then we'll move on it's a guy whose name I can't give you but there was a book by a lady named Annie Jacobson uh about Area 51 and it's a tremendous book about the history of all those those secret planes Annie Jacobson at the end of her book though has a Capper where she says um she talked to this old guy who said that there were flying saucers out there but they're not alien flying saucers they'd been built built by the Nazis captured by the Russians and what crashed at Roswell was a one of these Russian Nazi technology that the the aliens were not aliens they were uh refugees from a concentration camp who just looked like aliens it's a ridiculous story but I knew immediately that the source of it was a guy that I had stalked I stalked him literally for three years because I knew he was in a position to know he had worked at Area 51 in a management capacity and finally I got him to open up he invited me to his house he said you want to talk about uh atomic bombs and testing and he's going through his scrapbooks and I'm looking at these pictures of bombs and everything and he goes he stops closes the book he goes that's not what you're here to talk about is it I said no not really so I know what you're here for and then he started telling me a story about saucers aliens this is a guy who he's not Bob Lazar he his credentials are not uh questionable he was in the position to know and he laid the story out for me somewhere along the line though he changed it and by the time Annie Jacobson uh got a hold of him it was not aliens which by the way he told me that the alien looked like Ross perau who was a a billionaire businessman a little skinny guy with great big ears um anyway along the way there are some very real people who had told me bits and pieces of the story it's not just Bob let's play one of them this guy named Jim Goodall uh wrote books about stealth technology he was a friend of John Lee did you ever get any information about a facility at Papoose like the one you described I have a u a friend of mine he's he's a retired uh senior master sergeant he was early on in the F-117 program and they had full they their badge area restricted area badge he can go anywhere in the Nevada Test Site up to an including Area 51 so they had a Humvee and they drove around the the uh the was it groom range yeah groom range and they're on Papoose Lake there's there is there isn't anybody around and all of a sudden they're surrounded by guys in Black uh uniforms wanting to with their hands on their weapons want to know who they were what are you doing here and my buddy said we're just we have some we have some downtime we're just exploring the area he said you turn around and you leave and don't come back they just kind of popped up out of nowhere he doesn't know where they came from he didn't see any Vehicles all of a sudden they were there and he left it was three or four guys with them they left what do you make of that that there might be something at papoo or was or well according to Bob that's where that's where the the nine hangares are in the you know camouflage in the side of the mountain uh I'll give you one other thing about S4 and papos there was a guy named Jerry Freeman he's an archaeologist you wouldn't think an archaeologist has anything to do with flying saucers Jerry Freeman was studying the path of the 49ers that was the there was an Gold Rush of 1849 when thousands of people fled West to try to strike at Rich and a lot of them uncovered wagons and settlers and they they had a certain path that they followed and Jerry Freeman was trying to reconstruct the path that the 49ers had taken and he thought that they had gone right straight across the Nevada test site and in fact had been at Papoose lake so what he did was very bold of him he infiltrated the test site from going west to east and walked all the way across it dodged security patrols he would walk uh in the nighttime and then hide during the day and he made it all the way across let's show the Freeman stuff he made it all the way across the test site uh to Papoose Lake these are pictures that he had set up with an automatic camera that's Papoose behind him that's the place where Bob Lazard said he worked so Freeman again walking at night and and um hiding in the day gets all the way to Papoose he finds the evidence he's looking for the 49ers had carved some something into the Rocks there but as he's sitting out there at night um right at Papoose uh it's a sad story by the way he died a doorway opens up he said he's sitting there and a doorway of light opens up in the middle of the sky and things come out people come out objects come out and then it closed up again now he's not a flying saucer guy uh he walked all the way across the across the test site not realizing that that land is still contaminated with all kinds of U nuclear fallout and he died to cancer two years after uh his his journey but anyway gave a little piece that sort of goes along with what Jim godall just said about people coming out of nowhere remember Papoose Lake where Lazar said there's this facility built in the side of the mountain uh does you know there is nothing there officially uh the last piece of information is the some some um a UFO guy named James wildermuth I never knew of the guy before he's an European guy here and uh he sent me these images that he found on Google Earth um normally this would have been cleaned up but somehow he found it you tell me what it looks like anyway he uh he used Google Earth to take a good hard look at this and he found some lines on the side of Papoose that look like exactly what Lazar had been describing he puts the he put the pins in there but you can see the thin outline of these lines nine of them nine containers um a friend of mine was an investigator for Congress and he had he had the highest security clearances he thought that something was really going on at Area 51 I gave him a briefing and he made them let him in they flew him in a blinding snowstorm to S4 in Papoose but they took him to the other side of facility he got out and looked around his name was Dick damato he worked for a senator who oversaw the budget and looked around out there and he said this was 5 years after Bob Lazar story came forward and um he said there was nothing there but he didn't look in this side and it sure looked like hanger doors to me or at least some lines that indicated that something could be there that's good uh I want to give you a couple of pieces of of what Lazar says now because his his views on things have changed quite a bit as you might imagine so many crazy stories have been told about Bob over the years that he's running a meth lab that he's got a string of hookers down in South America that he's dead once a year somebody comes up with a story that Bob is dead it's no wonder that he's tried to leave all this stuff behind him and wants nothing more to do with it uh it took me a long time to coax him into doing this interview earlier this year to recognize the 25th anniversary I'm hoping to talk him into going on Coast to Coast maybe in November uh but I wanted to uh sort of share with you a couple of the pieces the stuff that he is comfortable talking about and that is the the technology uh the science involved as I mentioned at the beginning he uh claims that these craft operate on an anti-gravity sort of mechanism let's play that clip where he talks in detail about that alone is something amazing look that can change everything we know today just having a machine to produce artificial gravity because look look at what that does we know gravity space and time are all tied together there are your Shields like on Star Trek that you know deflect micrometeorites there is your protection from radiation without heavy shielding there is something that with an intense enough Focused Field you can actually Bend space and there is something that can actually alter the flow at time I mean that's the missing piece of pie didn't they actually freeze a a candle flame yeah now that's when it was connected to the gravity amplifiers where they could focus it and uh that was they froze a candle yeah they had a they had a candle lit uh to set it up for you um again there's a large in the craft itself there are three long pipes um I'd say uh well I don't know about what's that 3 4T in diameter maybe 5T long um anyway they dangle the three of them at the bottom of the craft these produce gravitational

waves and they can focus them to a point or spit them apart those are what you call the wave guides yeah okay yeah they're part of the uh power source control mechanism and the uh wave well the wave guide is what I actually call the Interlink between them but that that's the gravitational engine um they had one of those devices out along with the subsystem that connects it so they can produce the power from the reactor it runs the gravity amplifier and they can focus and change the gravity beam that comes out of it they took a they were speaking of Barry took a candle put it close to the mouth of it lit it a normal flickering candle flame and then activated the reactor the gravity wave came out as expected and the candle flame remained luminous and stopped moving and which physics yeah because look if it's going to freeze it the photons should stop being emitted if it's going to you know change the characteristics look how can the combustion continue to take place without the convection inside the flame because actually reason a flame is elongated is not not really because of heat it's because of gravity because gravity pulls down and you know convection moves flames upward it's like in in a zero gravity environment flame is a ball obviously there's nothing to pull things around but anyway if uh look if you negate the gravity around it why is it still pointy how can it still be making light and why doesn't it move well I mean he from what Barry said it's not just gravity but it's also time locked you distorted the frame of time yeah they essentially froze a piece of time there and I you know what do you say I mean you're it's empirical evidence you're looking at it it's not it's not a see it it doesn't make sense that you could see it and uh look it the stuff I saw there was the most unbelievable literally because it it defied what what we knew as physics and uh at least I thought it did and maybe what we knew was is a little incorrect and just needed viewing from a different angle um we do know now that research into anti-gravity is at the top of the list of what American uh tech companies are doing and the defense department folks are doing and anti-gravity propulsion is something they want very badly Bob said that the key to it was this element 115 he had a piece of it I saw it um in fact he had a little experiment they did with what's called a cloud chamber where where they had it looked to me like light they had a piece of this 115 in this chamber they put some smoke in it and it seemed and then had a beam of light through it and the light bent um Bob at one point when he thought he was going to die had this piece of 115 in a uh it was in a lead casing in a disc shaped casing and he had it in front of a particle accelerator in his house and he had the accelerator on and all he had to do was flip a button if this stuff was real as he described it flipping that button would hit it with I don't know it's pH protons electrons whatever it was that would make it explode an Annihilation that would have left a great big hole in Las Vegas and he had that piece I saw the experiment what happened to it uh that's that's a story for another time it's it's in a spot now where nobody could get to it but uh it's still there one of these days maybe after Bob's gone I'll go dig it up um as at the the time that he told us the story about Element 115 Element 115 did not exist it does exist now it's been synthesized they've made it in a lab it only lasts for micro seconds but it is real they've confirmed it it's now on the element chart and in this piece Bob talks about uh 115 they finally did uh synthesize Element 115 that had the properties that I that I stated um not um but it wasn't stable yeah it wasn't stable uh now each element has isotopes for instance you know let's talk about hydrogen we're all familiar with hydrogen uh hydrogen has three isotopes they're all hydrogen there's hydrogen prodium was be the technical name duum and tritium well tridium is a radioactive hydrogen uh dyum is another stable isotope of hydrogen and regular prodium ordinary hydrogen is the hydrogen we all know they're all hydrogen they have different amounts of neutrons in them um they all have one proton which makes them hydrogen now this is true for all elements you can have the amount of protons in them determines what element it is so Element 115 has 115 protons in it it's Element 115 now depending on the number of neutrons it has it will still be Element 115 but it can be any number of isotopes of it we've synthesized 15 we made one isotope we have a radioactive one now they just need to continue on working with it I mean they made just a few atoms but uh we'll see what other isotopes they come up with one of them or more is going to be stable and it will have the exact properties that I said or could we make it or does it have to be natural as you speculated about that well it's natural it'd be difficult to find it to get some usable material I do not think you couldn't make that synthetically it's just it takes too much time I mean to make you know an ounce of it or even a gram would take a tremendous amount of time because not all the interactions are successful I mean you can bang particles together all day long and one may get stuck and then you've got an atom and how do you contain you know this single atom so how do we get 500 pounds of it where that come from well it had to either be synthesized by the extraterrestrials at bottom in the first place or you know maybe there was a location where they came from where look if this was a naturally occurring material we know that all the material in the universe essentially all the atoms of all elements came from hydrogen I mean all you really need is it is just atoms of hydrogen to make anything once they start collecting together large quantities of them gravity just begins to push them together under their own weight so it's sort of like a orack test is aha they made 115 he was right it really does exist somebody doesn't want to believe it says 115 doesn't behave anything like Bob Lazar said it's sitting around in a pile of 500 PBS or something right I mean sort of like that what is the right you have to I mean you just have to start accumulating whether you believe it or not and I personally again I prefer you don't believe it um you know just begin accumulating the facts that you can you know you can verify and um and really be careful where you get the facts from because if you see documents obtained by someone that you know they say are official I've seen the most ridiculous things on the internet um you know here's a report from some government agency going yeah everything Bob Lazar said is fabricated and we've verified it with the main office in Philadelphia and I mean you know just nonsense stuff um you know verify it yourself and if you start adding up all the facts look the people that were with me at the time you know have an obvious Advantage because they knew me before all this stuff happened they knew at the time I didn't even believe in flying saucers or life from other planets I mean to me those were just crazy people that bought into these stories coming to the end here um you know I guess you you'd say can you really keep a secret like that wouldn't it leak out well it has leaked out you know it's whether or not you pay attention to it or not that that matters one of the guys if there's anybody who would know about this being true it's a guy named Ben Rich who was the head of Skunk Works which was the Lockheed company that built all the blackest projects the SR71 the U2 stealth all of that Ben Rich who headed up Skunk Works for such a long time if anyone in the civilian sector would know it would be him so I asked them about it on the day that they unveiled the stealth fighter at Nellis Air Force Base they had it sitting on a Tarmac and they invited the media to come in and I was the one of the guys that was there that day and so Ben Rich was available for interviews and I went up and asked him um Mr Rich great to meet you I asked him a couple of questions and then led up to this when you know a lot of people say there's alien technology and stuff you developed and he stops for a second looks at me and he kind of laughs nope just good old American know but before he died Ben rich said this in a public uh comment because the reason I'm asking is friends of his had ask him about UFOs and he said it was real but he said this to an engineering audience he said we already have the means to travel Among the Stars but these Technologies are locked up in Black projects and would take an act of God to ever get them out to benefit Humanity anything you can imagine we already know how to do it we have the technology to take ET home it won't take someone's lifetime to do it we have that capability now to travel to the Stars he died few months after that but he was trying to tell the world something this stuff is real um that what Bob has said Is Real uh I'll end with one last little piece of Bob because you know people wonder what goes on in his life there's all those rumors I told you about before and I put him the the question to him in a couple of different ways about whether he would do it again and he goes back and forth basically I think he would say no but here's what he told me back in May but that drives him crazy I mean you need to answer this now I need an answer how much how many times do you get that in a in a week still after all this I get there isn't a day I I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to him look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me I'm trying to do serious research I'm you know I've got contract with governments and other companies for R&D work and aside from you know other scientific interests and I want this divorced look if I went and did everything I can to prove my story and reached a Tipping Point for where people like Stanton fredman and you know people along those lines um said you know what this is beginning to look factual do you know how that would annihilate me that would destroy my business it would make it impossible for me to operate and you know I'd have a continuous flow of questions annoying people I'm sure offers to do things that I am not the least bit interested in there's got to be part of somewhere in there even though it would be counterproductive there's got to be part of that wishes God damn it I I know what happened it's true no look I know what happened is true there's no doubt period there's there's no delusion and there are some things I can say that that will bolster the case and I'm not going to um it's going to stay that way I do regret at this point bringing anything forward look at the time I'm in my early 20s you know what this is a crime against the American people this is just BS and everybody deserves to know what's going on you know and 25 years goes by you get a little older and your priorities change and you know what they told me is this is a security matter and and really what's the public going to do about this you know how reactionary they are it's there's a bunch of different reasons this is being kept quiet nothing that they bother telling me but the bottom line is they're right the bulk of the people are complete morons and I'm sorry maybe they are right and this really should just be just be information that's handled out on a on a need to know basis to some people where it would benefit them you know I I know you don't like to hear it but there's a lot of people after you're in this field for a long time you kind of come to the same conclusion maybe maybe it doesn't really need to be out um I believe in the people's right to know that's my job and so I pursue it in that that vein but you have to wonder whether it's really a good idea or not you know the the pursuit of this story has led me taken me all over the world chasing different kind of UFO stuff uh My Views have changed so much from from those days about just thinking of nuts and bolts flying saucers is there a government cover up I mean this is really as uh earlier speakers were suggesting it's uh it's much bigger mystery than than that whether or not flying saucers are coming from other planets or not jacqu valet uh my hero in the UFO field I had interviewed him back in these days when he came to investigate Lazar and asked me some questions and we become much closer friends but he said I'm going to be so disappointed if it turns out that the answer to the UFO mystery is that aliens are coming from another planet and flying saucers to visit us because He suggests that the the way these uh craft behave the technology they have it suggests that the ultimate answer is so much bigger so much more wondrous uh than something as simple as that uh these things that we see in the sky are just a small part of something much bigger you know the universe is far more mysterious than maybe we can imagine or can imagine than the glimpse that we get of these craft are I think part of some much larger learning curve uh the this is about reality itself the nature of the world around us and I get the feeling that we can understand it only a tiny sliver and that its true nature is being withheld from us and maybe is beyond the ability of our small tiny brains to understand but you know we have to try I I think that it is the duty of scientists and journalists to investigate the Unexplained not not to explain the uninvestigated um and thank you very much

when he reached what felt like his bursting point he took Huff and a few others to the edge of the groom mountains to see the flights for themselves a total of five witnesses on two consecutive weeks managed to dodge security patrols long enough to see the strange glowing object lifts above the mountains

it came up above the same mountain it moved around it did a step move it actually went up in the air like this and hovered then drops way down then it just floated around and cruised around and then it started coming up to mountain range this home video tape was recorded during one of the trips to the groom mountain look at it now

alright that's right enough for me to get the time bear all that right here

I pay that now

it is bright right now admittedly the tape proves very little by itself because with the distance and darkness there are no reference points other than the alleged flying disc but lazarre's information about the time and location of the test flights proved correct not once but twice that according to our off-camera interviews with each of the other witnesses

yo i'm matt and i'm joel and we're fringe craft today we're going to be watching a video on bob lazar again and this is bob lazar explaining how a ufo that he observed was found in an archaeological dig of some sort and this was on the joe rogan experience and uh i think it's a he doesn't know for sure that it was dug up but he was told or something like that this should be uh i don't know i find it's pretty interesting and it goes along with the lore that's in our popular sci-fi movies so yeah and if you watched our previous video um about trump and ufos we talk at the very end about uh project stargate how put off project stargate and the show stargate and then the show stargate the stargate itself that creates wormholes to other planets was found in an archaeological find in egypt in like the 20s so it's a very interesting concept that's found its way into uh fiction and or non-fiction whatever you want to call stargate and so it's a very interesting concept nonetheless so let's get into it but before we do that we just want to ask you to like and subscribe and leave a comment and we'll get back to your comment with some kind of response so and we do read them all so thanks for leaving them guys yeah definitely all right with that said let's get into the video the joe rogan experience now i'm not in believe it or not i'm not into ufos i don't follow stories or you know even after your experiences no i'm fascinated with the technology and i it really it irks me like every night i go to sleep that you know i don't that it was my own doing essentially that that prevented me from continuing on in the in the project i mean it's the that to be on that cutting edge of technology is so alluring to me right but you know by the same token i don't really care that there's aliens or where they come from i mean the prize is the technology and that's what i'm fascinated by but so i don't listen to ufo stories and that sort of thing but george knapp is um i mean he's the guy that has the context and tries to thread everything together and what he recently told me is he found i don't know is either documentation or people that he spoke to it's at this the existence of this project the project that i was on it's something that they seem to take out every eight or ten years so that's a very specific memo and this is actually this is the first time i'll be very clear with people about it it's a big topic of conversation right now it's called the wilson memo you can look it up admiral wilson met with a scientist who's actually was featured in one of my films everybody has been debating whether or not this document of a conversation with a within sitting admiral at the time is a real document it's an actual conversation that happened and this documentary everybody wants to know the world is going crazy right now in the ufo world i'll tell you straight up right now i'm in the position to know and it is a real document that it is real so the conversation you read in that that conversation was had i can't attest to everything you're not being very clear sure please no problem so there was a document that is circulating right now that is really big it's going around everywhere people are asking what is this document it's called the wilson memo is what how you can find it online the or the wilson leak there it is jimmy's got it the wilson memorandum use of human volunteers no no no no no no no no that's not okay yeah so uh admiral wilson meets with this scientist and they have this discussion oddly enough at special projects at eg g and if i remember the document is from 2001 i'm telling everybody right now it's real and we'll see my history is pretty good with like saying if something's real or not right so here we go the document comes out they meet at eg g special projects in 1989 they stumble into a problem this happens they put the technology away and then they bring it back out and see if material science has caught up and if they can make any progress so this document kind of talks about this process the big thing i get from it and a lot of it's vindicating to bob and one of the things that's vindicating besides the eg thing is that private industry so this guy's an admiral and he says i found out about your sap your special access program i need to know about it and he's going to a private part of industry and he is denied access and he says you know i should be running this program and they were able to deny him access so i think the takeaway here is check it out i'm telling you that that is an actual correct that is a leak now everything said in that document i'm i don't know what are you talking about what what is said in that document specifically it's it's a between a scientist and an admiral that are sitting and they're having a meeting and they're talking about the the search for the the ufo subject the search to get special access program access to all of these different things like reverse engineering programs so in this document they talk about it uh i believe that this document that the person that went was employed by robert bigelow you know one of the guys has a couple of orbiting satellites and all that stuff who's the guy owns skinwalker ranch no he's not he was the guy that owns skinwalker so something interesting here is when we look at the video that we covered meta materials the to the stars academy meta materials video it sounds very similar in concept to what he's saying um that basically they're waiting for industry to catch up to the manufacturing processes or even the understanding of what certain materials are um and i think that's that ties in really well with the meta materials concept but uh also i just wanted to say for you know if you haven't seen the first bob lazar video that we did bob lazar worked at area s4 uh which is like a secret installation he was the area 51 leaker basically yeah essentially and um he uh worked i believe for eg g or in some capacity i don't know eg is connected which is one of the reasons why jeremy corbil here who's a documentary filmmaker who made the documentary on bob lazar is bringing up why the connection between this person talking to this admiral this admiral uh and this person from engg is such a big deal it's like vindicating for bob lazar because you know that's the same company basically that was oh yes basically confirming that the program exists in some capacity and that they are reverse engineering materials and that they're connected to this subject in some way and the other thing i want to point out is they denied that admiral special access to a special access program that's exactly what i'm talking about rogue ufo organizations and it's private industry yeah so and that's one of the you know that's i guess the way that they're able to cover it because but yeah within the way the black budget just works about it and like think about it if you're a senator and you're basically you know deciding who gets paychecks you might be interested in making buddies with someone who can uh make special secret advanced weapons yeah exactly and you know i that's something that most countries would harbor uh that kind of activity because you know it is a net benefit for them normally probably for their military especially you know for the us or something but that's all i had to say about this so all right let's go on to the all right okay yeah he used to own it there's a new owner and i i interview him for my other film but there's a new owner and you'll be hearing a lot more about that soon but uh like it'll just there's there's stuff that you'll be hearing about skinwalker ranching because there's a new owner anyway the whole point of this you know insertion here is just that that document kind of validates a lot of this idea bob just said that they make a little progress then they can't go anywhere they tuck it away and then they bring it back out you know 10 years later and start working on it what is the limiting factor i think bob should speak on this but it's the material science yeah it's really where physics is so i i can i can see them doing that i mean i didn't have any uh information on that but i think what you know george uncovered is probably accurate that uh you know we try and do what we can and once we reach a roadblock on we really can't figure it out it's just friggin wait put the thing away wait for science to catch up and you know a decade later let's take the project out again and see all right now where can we go but there's got to be someone who remains informed right oh yeah you've got your scientists like you and barry you got your people that you compartmentalize you've got these people working yeah there has to be some people right that know everything you've got security and then someone's going to be in the outside saying hey we need people to guard this building don't let anybody in for ten years i think i think a lot of that is private industry and i think that's how they keep it yeah i think that's how they literally because the government is just so leaky i think that's kind of what they're doing that's what the document kind of proves you just articulated that that um it is in control private industry what private industry some aerospace company something i don't know yeah they wouldn't they would the guy with the admiral wouldn't name it in the car right in the conversation right so they still have these things supposedly i would guess i mean i don't have any information have you ever asked anyone that has any inkling of any idea of where they got them or how they got them no but um something must have been said to me um from barry and but i i it was just too long ago and i i can't quite remember what was said but it it just left a seat in my mind i think at least one of them was part of an archaeological dig that's like a big as he does this you can see the volcano exploding too but yeah perfect cosmic coincidence yeah um i mean you know that's such a powerful like it's if you're a fan of fiction and alien movies and stuff the movie predator and aliens and predator prometheus like you you can see basically the narrative that he's bringing up stargate like all these movies they there's like ancient civilizations were influenced by um you know extraterrestrials or whatever these things are who knows we should do an ancient like atlantis video or something yeah that's not going to be together you know some people on a religious spectrum say that these aren't uh entities from outer space they're interdimensional demonic beings like beings that are some form of deity that are lesser than you know god lesser than yahweh that's the idea of a demon so that these things like they have some kind of powers but they aren't like all powerful which is like you know that does seem like what aliens are they have advanced technology and other kind of maybe psychic abilities we don't ufos originated from like aliens or ancient humans we don't we don't know anything yeah i mean there's we just know that well we don't even know that they even exist but there's i mean these would have to be some these are world-class actors if none of this is true you know i don't believe bob lazar when he says he's not interested in the aliens like how could if you saw what they created like how could you not be interested in this civilization that created it i mean to some degree i think part of its sour grapes like could you imagine being in a situation do you really want to like it's like the stock you sold and then it goes up to a million like you don't want to look at that it just hurts yeah he didn't like like my thought is he doesn't want to speculate on it because it's just like he he you he doesn't know anything about that but he does know like what he saw like at least he doesn't wanna yeah i don't know i mean i i like bob lazar i feel bad for his situation because well he's a gift to us i'm sure he like really feels like he's missing out and screwed up like that's all i can say yeah he's he's a very influential member of the ufo community it's clear he made somebody angry with the amount of like government attention that he got there like raiding his labs and stuff or raiding his uh business that sells well that was just scripted it's part of the it's part of selling the ufo lord of the public yes yes i mean that you know that actually could be it so who knows there's what level of paranoia are we on yeah are we william cooper when at the end of his career when he's like actually i was wrong about aliens i was fooled what they were trying to do is create an a fake alien invasion in the new world order who's actually a break off civilization deep state within our uh society already is going to use aliens as a means to invade and dissolve any kind of borders and create a one-world government that's basically where william cooper the famous conspiracy theorist went by the end of his career but at the beginning he believed in aliens wait oh what do you say oh the deep state doesn't exist the new world order doesn't exist some kind of something exists and they're doing something yeah i think everyone just acts randomly yeah everything's a coincidence nothing is connected just keep going okay we're gonna move on so it's old something one at least one of them is old i don't know if it was the one i worked on but i remember something to do with an archaeological dig whoa so that's uh that means it's not just old it's ancient that'd be a great steven spielberg movie yeah right as all of it would yeah that tricked me out when he said that for the first time yeah that's a freak out right there just a couple of dudes with some brushes looking for a tyrannosaurus rex bone they hit metal and when did they find it you know that they have nine of them well and how could we have not heard about that what about the guys with the brushes how could you uncover something like that and what joe's newspaper at home does i mean they said it on that first day oh you mean the roswell yeah yeah when you told me yeah yeah i have a cover what is this here james this is the document but i had to do some digging to find it yes it's just kind of yeah so this is where they meet at eg and this is admiral wilson and there's a lot more coming out now i want to be clear george didn't put this out he didn't leak this out to anybody this is i can tell you how i recorded this this conversation so this was an employee of at the time robert bigelow and this is in 2002 right do you remember when he had that government contract called ossap the world all knows about now and he had nids that studied the ranch so that 22 million everybody is saying it was for atip advanced aerospace threat identification program the 22 million dollars was for awsap that was pushed through through congress three congressmen right an astronaut it was pushed through and that's what that 22 million dollars by the way they spend more money on viagra every year than they do studying ufos if it was just this program which i think is funny they probably make a lot more money they probably do ufos well you never know how it seeds into population but anyway this program uh this is what was the mother program so it it got the 22 million and really it was to study skinwalker ranch oddly enough that 22 million all was inspired by the phenomenon they were seeing at skinwalker ranch because the scientists they're seeing vehicles come through like a space in the sky yeah we went there i went through it yeah we interviewed a bunch of people that seemed full of shit but a couple that didn't but it's very very interesting totally any there's but if you look i spent a lot of time in the area i'm not talking about those stories i'm saying there were scientists hired by the government right through bigelow to study the ranch because they thought it was important and you know whatever whatever the point is that 22 million was to study that then we have a tip which is like an auxiliary kind of program of military settings like commander framers and that sort of thing this document is just one of those things that has now come forward that through the bigelow studies it was government-funded and then it was personally funded and then government funded i just want to say it's really obvious to me that jeremy corble i think that's how you say his name really loves this like it is something he is super passionate about he can almost when watching like this whole interview or any of the segments he's almost too excited to get the information out in a in a cohesive manner it's literally just like all the information is just out there yeah he sees how it's all connected i guess or he's starting to get there and he can't explain it yeah coherently like red panda koala i mean he i feel like he's on the same tier of research as a guy we've watched videos from sometimes like it's very i mean he sees how it's all connected yeah and you know like i said this guy is the guy who made the documentary on bob lazar that i think you can still find on netflix you should look it up if you haven't seen it it's um like it's called yeah it's i think it's yeah it's longer than an hour that's actually why he did this interview with joe rogan is to like kind of prep people or have even more because they i don't think they could cover every portion of the story um in like uh maybe 90 minute documentary so all right let's keep going all right um it's just one of those things that kind of shakes you because you got this military guy who can't get access because of the private industry that's holding these non-terrestrial materials that they can't study it so that's the claim right now give it some time let people dig more into this it's fascinating man i guess that was the end that was pretty quick yeah but um that's you know it's a really enjoyable subject and like taking it in in like bit by bit is also you know i think it's like it might be a lot to take the whole story in in a two-hour sitting but you know just a little bit by little bit you know you can get some of the main big points like big drops and discoveries from bob lazar and like the fact that uh supposedly one of the aircraft or you know spacecraft or whatever was found in some kind of archaeological dig is powerful and it changes the way maybe you look at history maybe the way you look at you know what civilization is reality itself even yeah and i think ufos are kind of like a mind-shattering thing well it definitely changes the way our reality operates if you can get from here to another planet in another solar system like that or within a reasonable time frame reasonable being like less than your lifetime because you know yeah it's not even that it's also how it disrupts like the perceived power structure on earth yeah is immense like it explains why you know some decisions might be made that were are otherwise inexplicable it's you know someone with in the metaphor is not just to ufos right it's to all types of hidden technology and i mean hidden technology is real advanced yeah and bob lazar is one reason well not advanced hidden hidden advanced and hidden yeah the power comes from the fact that it's hidden and covert yeah covert covert means that's how jfk says it right anyway i don't know remember to like and subscribe guys thanks for watching yeah i hope you enjoyed uh i've been matt and i'm joel and we're french craft later

but to search for proof of extraterrestrial intelligence has produced disappointing results the best so-called evidence has only been a few photographs and film clips since 1985 more than 15 million Americans have reportedly witnessed unidentified flying objects but despite the seemingly overwhelming evidence mainstream science has chosen to ignore the subject but now for the first time in history one of the greatest mysteries of this century is unraveling a former government scientist has come forward to discuss the military's classified work on extraterrestrial spacecraft

the end of World War two in the invention of the atomic bomb signaled a new era of international mistrust since the earliest days of the Cold War which coincides with the Roswell incident and the start of the modern UFO era the military has been especially secretive about its advances and achievements while always searching for the perfect weapon for super sophisticated tool of espionage

high-tech surveillance equipment around the world and even in space has allowed global intelligence to see and be aware of many things that the comments of a cannot even begin to imagine the military recruits many talented civilians when special expertise is required and propulsion systems expert Bob Lazar claims he was one of them in this exclusive interview he gives his detailed account of his employment with the Department of Naval Intelligence at the top-secret facility known as s4 where according to Bob he was hired to work on recover alien spacecraft this now not so secret military base at Groom Lake Nevada is known as area 51 or dreamland as insiders like to call born in 1959 in Coral Gables Florida

bob has lived much of his life in Las Vegas Nevada

with degrees in physics and electronics from MIT and Caltech

he has dabbled in everything from chemistry to fireworks in an effort to understand the finer points of propulsion he has even assembled a jet car with a twenty-two thousand horsepower engine salvaged from the Navy f3d skyknight that is capable of land speeds of over 350 miles per hour

they took a serious turn for Bob in 1982 arriving early for a lecture at Los Alamos National Laboratory New Mexico given by dr. Edward Teller one of the inventors of the atomic bomb bob was able to meet and talk to the famous physicist coincidentally dr. teller was reading the local paper the monitor with a featured front-page article on Bob and the two struck up a conversation later Bob sent dr. teller his resume for consideration and soon after bob was hired by the Los Alamos National Laboratory this Los Alamos based directory lists Bob as an employee by 1989 bob was brought into the top-secret program at s4 known as project Galileo in the following interview Bob reveals many details of this amazing experience

did you witness any disk technology at area 51 now there was no absolutely no ET craft ET Technology anything like that at area 51 this is why s4 was made specifically to separate it their people at area 51 do not have the clearance how long were you employed at s4 and when were you hired when was I hired it as for I guess early 89 and I was proudly there only about six months or so on a very infrequent basis

how are you transported to and from work at the time that I was working there at McCarran International Airport in Las Vegas there was special projects EG&G building when I was told to go to work I drove there parked my car there and got in a plane at the airport flew to Groom Lake right D planed and waited for a bus and the bus drove me down to s4 the s4 facility is an area just off the Papoose Lake bed dry like that and it consists of nine hangers the hangers have sloped doors on them with a sand texture coating around the opposite end of the hangers there's the standard entrance where you're dropped off at go through a security check and inside there's a small complex there is some office space there are several laboratories the hangars themselves of course and a few other places I didn't have free rein to go wherever I wanted to everywhere I went to I was essentially escorted so that was really all about that I saw inside the facility what was the basic layout were there underground levels

I don't think there were any underground levels to it though there there could have been and I don't think it was you know an extensive underground facility it just looked like an installation that was but up against a mountain and you know I didn't see any evidence of any stairs going down elevators or but like I said I don't know there could have been and I just might not have been permitted in those areas it's difficult to to really surmise how long it had been operational everything did look fairly new by that I mean I don't think this installation was there in the early 70s nothing was worn things look fairly freshly painted so you know as a ballpark guess I would say it would it would really surprise me if the installation was older than five seven ten years something like that his bird Anita skilled in the project

what exactly happened there

allegedly obviously I didn't see this and I don't know what to be fact but this is what I was told that I was hired to replace one of a couple people that were killed while working on one of the

reactors from one of the crafts apparently they for whatever reason cut open an operating reactor and the device exploded killing both of them the scientists that were killed there allegedly the detonation from the explosion was fairly large it would have rivaled a small tactical nuke so it was done at the Nevada Test Site and it was to be passed off as an unannounced nuclear nuclear test did you have any direct contact or communication with aliens no not at all tell us about the briefing files under what conditions did you gain access to them I was put into the briefing room with a hundred and twenty one or twenty two briefings and really was just told to sit and read through I think they were there just to mainly educate me on what was going on they were in a complete in in depth explanation on everything else but just essentially a brief synopsis on some of the other projects that were going on there supposedly the information now this isn't something that I determine is something I was told that the crafts originated from a planet that orbited the Zeta Reticuli star systems that are particularly one and Zeta Reticuli to or to two stars of a binary star system the craft allegedly came from there one or two autopsy photographs I saw dealt with just a small photograph a bus shot essentially just head shoulders and chest of an alien with a chest was cut open in t fashion and one single organ was removed the organ itself and the other picture was cut in vivisection essentially the showing the different chambers in there this was totally unrelated to anything I was doing but from that photograph it looked like what you see in UFO lore as the typical gray so how tall it was from what I could see I I couldn't tell cuz I only saw the portion of the photograph but if everything else you see is correct I would imagine it was three and a half or four feet tall but there again you know all I had to see was a photograph and you know I didn't have much to go on what was the incident in 1979 that brought the alien exchange program of information to a halt again this is a story that was relayed to me and allegedly what happened in '79 there was some sort of information exchange going on where there were actual live aliens at the facility and at one particular point there was an area where some security personnel went to enter and apparently because not the sidearms with the bullets and the sidearms from what I understand if they would have entered the area the bullets would have detonated and supposedly one of the creatures tried to stop the security personnel from entering the area and a fight ensued and the bottom line from the altercation was that the security personnel I don't remember how many were involved but we're all killed and they died of head wounds and that's all that all that I heard of that story what was your job description at s4 my official job description was a senior staff physicist I don't know if I actually had that position when I was there because I was there so infrequently

I wasn't supervising anyone so I that was the official position I was hired under but whether or not I actually acted in that capacity I don't know what was the size of the staff working on project Galileo well there are 22 people employed there totally and that was specifically for the Galileo project no for the entire project

there were 22 people with majestic clearance

I had majestic clearance majestic clearance was designated as clearance 38 levels above Q clearance and Q clearance is the civilian top secret clearance when did you see your first disc the first disc I saw I believe it was the second or I think it was the third time I was up there normally the bus pulled around to the opposite end of the facility which was the main entrance and that's where we went in on this particular occasion had pulled up to one of the hangar doors which were normally closed and the last one was open we came out and I saw the disc in the hangar upon seeing it it struck me that well this explains all the UFO sightings not thinking that it was an extraterrestrial craft that this must have been some advanced form of fighter that we've been working on for years and you know people have just caught it being tested so on and so forth and it never even occurred to me even though I was looking at an extraterrestrial vehicle that you know this wasn't man-made when did you realise the craft was not of earthly origin well

it probably really hit me when I got inside the craft and looked around and began to understand how the craft was operated and finally grasped the whole project as a whole as what we were doing the fact that we weren't building this thing we were trying to find out how it was made we were back engineering it

well back-engineering is taking a finished product and finding out how the device or product was produced and essentially determining whether or not you can duplicate it now scientists aside what was your emotional response what were you thinking were the implications to the world or man in general from these revelations I really didn't think about implications of that sort

as far as emotionally people have asserted that boy that must have been the most exciting time in your life and that's not the way it was when I first got to look inside the craft all I can say it's an ominous feeling you walk in there and it's it feels as if you shouldn't be there I know that sounds kind of corny but it's real ominous feeling it's not an exciting feeling it brings up a whole lot of questions in your mind but where did this come from and you know that they won't give you the answers to the whole story but it's a that's the only way I can describe it let's go lift it produces a gravity wave which is similar to the gravity wave that the earth produces however the craft phase shifts the wave

in other words it it turns the wave not really in an opposite polarity but something to that effect

where it will work against the natural gravity wave of the earth and it produces a lift and in that effect is there any internal protection for the crew does the craft generate a gravitational field inside the craft itself well the craft generates its own gravitational field being inside that field essentially

it doesn't shield you but essentially you're in and this is a terrible way to say it almost in a different realm because you're now influenced only that by that gravitational field for instance people wonder how a craft like this can make a turn at such high speed a 90 degree turn when they would imagine people slamming up against the wall or something to that effect well that really wouldn't happen a nursery would have no effect you're in a distortion and don't forget that gravity distorts time and space so really nothing is going to influence you while you're in there describe the gravity amplifiers for us and some of their different operating configurations there are three amplifiers the craft can operate on a single one can lift off the ground the way in which gets propelled are two different ways there's what they call Omicron configuration where the craft is using one generator or a delta configuration where choose utilizing all three Delta configuration would be for space travel essentially the craft will tilt up on its side as opposed to a science fiction movie where you see a flying saucer moving around the craft will tilt up on its side focus the three gravity generators to a single point and move through space that way moving around the source of gravity is a problem to a disk because it's interference essentially so what they do is they work with that interference to their benefit they'll use one gravity generator to lift the craft off the ground and as opposed what we're used to for instance a plane once it's in the air we envision thrust or some force coming out the back of it to push it forward the crafts work completely opposite of that what they do is once they're hovering in the air they'll swing the gravity or two remaining gravity generators up in front of them and create a distortion essentially a downhill and the craft rolls downhill

that's why they look goofy when they fly around at low speed because they're essentially and anytime you run over you know the gravity field around the earth is not completely constant and stable depending on the minerals and density the earth underneath it that gravity will vary somewhat and you will get odd movements of the craft so it's low speed mode is is kind of unstable for the most part I only witnessed one test flight up close officially that I was in just inside the hangar the test was going off probably you know

just as the Sun was going down and it was a low performance test I believe there were some pilots or test pilots in the craft the craft must have been retrofitted to fit them because the seating arrangements were really not accommodating they were in radio communication with the craft which is kind of surprising to me because the gravity waves that the craft was producing should have distorted the radio waves also so apparently there's something there that I don't understand the craft lifted off the ground

virtually noiseless other than a small Corona discharge on the bottom of the craft indicating the presence of high voltage that dissipated at about 30 feet and it stood there completely

silently and

moved over to the left to the right and sat back down the entire test however that was an extremely impressive test maybe to someone that really knows little about science or anything that that wouldn't be a whole lot but you have to realize this craft was about 52 feet in diameter I don't know exactly how much it weighed but it weighed a lot and this was quite quite a scientific feat to lift something completely silently under control and you know perform a maneuver like that the craft itself was I assume it was metal

it was cold to the touch that's why I say it was metal but it was a brushed aluminum actually just an unfinished stainless steel not shiny finished - it had no seams it was it as if it was injection molded from one giant die I was completely amazed I I can't really reflect on how it made me feel but it that was exciting how would you define gravity could you describe in layman's terms its basic principles for us gravity is something difficult to explain because it's something that we essentially don't understand it's just something that we can observe not much is really known about gravity there are many theories about it but they are just mainly theories those theories of gravitons which allege that there

these are these subatomic particles that act like an attractive force like gravity that exchange between two pieces of matter there's also a theory that gravity is a form of wave an electromagnetic wave

but basically gravity is a force it's it's it's the attraction it was the inherent property of matter to have gravity a mutual attraction for each other and that's it's basically all that we really know modern science current science right now identifies one gravity it's one force in nature apparently to research at s4 or information gained from one of the crafts they were researching there it it appears that there are two different forms of gravity one form works on an atomic scale on subatomic particles holding pieces of matter holding atoms themselves together another works on a larger scale the scale we're most familiar with holding planets in orbit holding ourselves to the ground things of that sort because it produces a gravitational field I wouldn't say the craft is invisible during the day however if you're under the craft because of the way the gravity is being used gravity bends time and space and it bends like if you are looking underneath the craft or from certain vantage points you will actually see what's above the craft it's a it's really a trick of the way light bends under the influence of gravity for instance we can see stars that are behind the Sun that are blocked from our view by the Sun the reason we can see them is because the Sun is a tremendous gravitational field and it's bending the light around it where we can see the star space time and gravity are all essentially interrelated they all act on one another

other two if you as an example if you have a massive body say a planet or something it's making a lot of gravity producing a lot of gravitational waves if you will it distorts space it bends space to it it also slows down time these things are in theories we know them to be true we cannot artificially create this because we can't create gravity but this is how they're all interrelated with traveling at the speed of light there are several problems traveling at the speed of light just a couple of them are the fact that as your speed increases so does your mass proportionally in other words the more energy you put in to go faster begins to slow you down by the fact that it's converted into mass you have other problems like just traveling at such an extreme velocity navigational problems the fact that you might run into little tiny micro meteorites at speeds like this they would undoubtedly destroy your craft there's just a whole host of problems that you're gonna run into just attempting to do something like that aside from the fact the amount of energy required to accelerate to the speed of light is horrendous could you briefly describe project Looking Glass and project sidekick for us

project sidekick was another project going on with Galileo Galileo was the project that I was involved in psychic dealt with any of the weapon potential the craft whether or not the craft had a weapon in it or could it be used as a weapon but it had something that it was some sort of particle beam configuration where the gravity generator can be used as a lens to focus and focus a weapon of some sort similar to the SDI device we were working on in the the 80s but with a potential of a focusing device using the gravity generator and project Looking Glass project looking glass dealt with the distortion the fact that there is a time distortion essentially looking back in time and by that I do not mean looking back years ago to see the wagon train days they're looking for distortions that are milliseconds and time and what what that was used for I I don't know but that was just observing the time that at the time distortion time dilation phenomenon the craft and operation

what is element 115 is it found here on earth or is it strictly an extraterrestrial material 115 is strictly an extraterrestrial material it probably occurs naturally in some other places maybe other star systems can some people not familiar with science or chemistry say well that's ridiculous all the elements occur on earth you know but that's not true and there are elements on the periodic chart that aren't found on earth

I believe the heavy ion research lab in Darmstadt Germany has reached element 112 recently so 115 isn't isn't that far away and when they synthesize it it's not like they're making a couple ounces of it they're talking about one or two atoms of it to make any usable quantity of a heavy element like that is virtually impossible element 115 is in the top of the reactor and the base of the reactor apparently is a small something similar to a cyclotron it's a particle accelerator a particle is accelerated to high speed

then deflected up a small tube and it's aimed at the 115 this transmutes the 115 similar to the way we we do that in a normal particle accelerator this causes a reaction a radiation emission that we really haven't seen before it produces antimatter this antimatter is guided down a tuned tube and reacts with a gas when matter and antimatter react they convert to a hundred percent energy this energy is converted heat energy is converted to electrical power in the reactor itself this is done through a thermoelectric converting and this electrical power is used to power other subsystems on the craft though there is no wiring you know as we would know it also that's almost a byproduct of the reactor the reactor also sets up a gravitational wave from the 115 being bombarded this gravitational wave was present at the top of the reactor and it is essentially guided in the same way microwaves are guided through tuned tubes and this goes to their amplifying cavities and through the projectors that are in the bottom of the craft with the gravity generators running is their thermal radiation danger to the crew there is no thermal radiation while the reactors running the thermionic generator is a hundred percent efficient which is in violation of the first law of thermodynamics but in fact it works element 115 is stable and for those familiar with chemistry we know that elements with higher atomic numbers have shorter and shorter half-lives however when you reach a certain point they call it the island of stability there is a place and we've theorized this for a long time

somewhere around 114 to 116

there should be an area in there where the nucleus of the atom is G at least

Abell with protons and neutrons where it no longer decays it's not radioactive 115 is in fact this element in fact it does occur again somewhere around element 247 of course

we're nowhere near synthesizing that we can only you know predict things like that but that's that's where 115 is did they

the aliens give us element 115 in large quantities whether or not it was given to us I can't answer that question however I was told that we have 500 pounds by one of my co-workers how was obtained and you know where exactly it came from I don't know whether it came in one of the crafts or you know with separate cargo somewhere you know anyone can speculate but I was I was told that was the figure you were able to get away with a sample of element 115 how much did you get away with no comment the several nighttime test flights unofficially while off the base what did you see the test flights I saw off the base actually the the best test flight was witnessed by my friends why it brought out there at the exact moment the craft was hopping around to doing some really impressive maneuvers I had turned around and I think was looking for the video camera or something to that effect but I missed some of the most impressive maneuvers

but the craft was similar to what was done before that I had seen close up other than the fact that it went above the mountain range moved a much greater distance in a much higher rate of speed

how are you able to find out about the test flight schedules the test flight schedules were told to me specifically because I was probably going to have to be present during those times and at that time the test flights were taking place on Wednesday nights and from what they said that was because that was statistically the least amount of traffic in the area and that's all that they were concerned about does the propulsion system release any sort of discharge or exhaust there was a high voltage discharge on the bottom of the craft but as far as there being an exhaust there was none why did they appear as glowing balls of light in the night sky well that's kind of the same reason why a neon light or a fluorescent light lights up what you're dealing with with as a high energy source in essentially a gas atmosphere oxygen nitrogen and when you apply enough energy to a gas molecule

Cleer emit photons they emit light and I don't think it's anything it's really a byproduct to how the craft operation it's emitting that much energy the gas surrounding the craft emits light the same reason why lightning invisible we have a huge electrical discharge and the gas emits light in the form of lightning ball if you were gonna see one of these crafts at night operating it would appear really is a glowing ball for just a bright light in the sky from a distance even close up you'd see a glowing halo around it this is typically what you'd see in your normal UFO sighting if you've heard them a lot however keep in mind that lights in the sky are caused by much more common things and flying saucers tell us a little more about the aurora you witnessed taking off out of area 51 it was a large craft and the one glimpse I got of it was from the rear and it had two huge square exhaust with vanes in them and it was just yeah it sounds more like a rocket than a jet I don't know

I even think he did mention that it was liquid methane powered but there again you know working on the dis technology I really could care less what was rolling around at area 51 but it did catch my eye as a result of going public have there been any attempts made on your life one day when I was getting on Interstate 15

driving down Charleston Boulevard a car came up alongside of me and I thought he was just trying to race me to get on the freeway this was after I had left the project

there was a white boxy looking car exactly what make and model I don't know but I accelerated to get on the freeway to go fast and there was a gunshot and the back of the car was hit and I skidded off into the median and I stopped and I was frightened and I just stood there because I thought the guy was gonna be alongside of me and just shoot me I had nothing to do I was essentially paralyzed with with fear and I waited there and then nothing else happened yeah do I know it was a government agent trying to kill me no could it have been a drive-by shooting maybe

you know so

wasn't it I mean it was an attempt on my life but by who specifically I don't know though I was threatened before I had left they threatened my wife's life in my life so I can only put two and two together and say that they were kind of pissed at me in an earlier interview you had mentioned that they had put a gun to your head tell us about that how that was after we were caught out when I had the test flight scheduled and I brought some friends out to show him the disc test we got caught out there and the following day I was debriefed down at Indian Springs Air Force Base and

I was in the room with the security guards that caught us my supervisor and some other people and some other security personnel yeah they were essentially grilling me about security and you know how could I possibly bring people out there and I guess I wasn't as responsive as they would like and they got in my face and when I pulled a side arm out

have you maintained any contacts with your colleagues out at s4 now I never heard from anyone other than for a very brief time after I left Denis who is my supervisor did try and make contact with me at the the meeting place was the Union Plaza Hotel and I took a friend of mine Jean Huff down there and another friend a former colleague and scientist from Los Alamos and we did we saw him but I also did recognize some security personnel walking around there from s forth whether or not it was a setup or what was going on or we was trying to talk to me we never found out and we left it just was a real strange situation I never heard from him since as we enter the 21st century how has your experience changed your beliefs well if you want a word the question how are my opinions changed I would say considerably before I was at s4 I was more or less one of the one of the guys that thought you know all these government conspiracy and UFO buffs and things like that were complete lunatics

I even remember before I was involved there a friend showed me a little newspaper clipping it said John Lear was giving a lecture who was touting that aliens from another world came to earth and there's 70 different species and I remember laughing on the phone that this guy had lost his mind and I was also under the impression that you know what are the government's all for the people and they you know you know they're out here to protect us and all that it you know after the experiences I had there everything is completely turned around you know the government is doing everything but looking out for us I mean the only thing they're looking out is for themselves you know obviously the et crafts do exist something had to build them so there must be aliens and since there are on the crafter there there must be some sort of factory and an entire civilization somewhere and if in fact that is true and it apparently is then there must be others

actual crafts and technology from another world and that's probably the most important

it kind of moved from science fiction into reality I really just I guess opened my eye

let's grab her or not we can duplicate it if we can understand what a device is or how something operates or what its physical makeup is that's great

but if we can't duplicate it

it's useless to us so there's really two phases to the project going on there it's understanding what we're looking at and then once we understand it is can we duplicate it with earthly

materials and earthly technology and you know unless we've got a handle on both of them all that technology is it useless to us and if it turns out we can't do that all we have is one single prized possession that we have to take care of and that's it after all that's been said and done would you do this over again what would you do differently I would probably have played along for a longer time I would like to have known a little bit more about the technology and probably kept quiet if I could have and possibly never have said anything yeah

I almost wish I had done that you know it's uh it's really only caused headaches and problems but I believe if I was given the opportunity again to go back in time and redo it I think I pretty much would have just shut up and gone along with the program I would have much preferred that instead of the Navy or whoever it was that hand-picked a few renegade scientists here and there that they turn it over to some more qualified people obviously I was not the most qualified person on a propulsion or field propulsor or anything of that sort I was just some guy I mean they could have picked I could have named 10 or 12 other guys that were more qualified than me

but you know if they turned it over to the scientific community and not just a couple guys here in the United States I mean you need a large group of people in a large lab to research what's going on there not a little quiet installation it's the it's the security itself that prevents them from getting anywhere I mean it they never do work hand in hand you can't have a military mind science itself must communicate you have to have a free exchange of ideas that's how things progress and when you clamp down on a security system like that where you work in isolated groups and ideas cannot be exchanged you don't get anywhere and that's that's the problem they have what does the future hold for Bob Lazar well I'm not really involved in any of that stuff anymore that's kind of put behind me I have my own businesses that I work at some computer graphics some consultation other technical jobs radiation detectors and a few other things like that so really I just go about my life and that's you know something had happened that was fantastic and and it's over but it's kind of hard to shake it loose but eventually I will and that'll be that

I think all the surveillance and everything stopped I don't think anyone's bothering to monitor me I've said everything that I know it's been all over the place so it's kind of a done deal as far as whether or not there are any craft out there I believe they were out and gone in probably the late 89 early 90 and the only thing people see now out there flares or planes coming in to land but that's about it did you have an interest in flying saucers or science fiction in general as a child I was never interested in flying saucers as a child science fiction you know I watched Star Trek I guess with everyone else back then but for the most part yeah I didn't even believe in flying saucers up until I was employed at s4

I couldn't help but one point in my discussions with privately with general secretary Gorbachev when you stop to think that we're all God's children wherever we may live in the world I couldn't help but say to him just think how easy his task and mine might be and these meetings that we held if suddenly there was a threat to this world from some other species from another planet outside in the universe we'd forget all the little local differences that we have between our countries and we would find out once and for all that we really are all

human beings here on this earth together well

I don't suppose we can wait for some alien race to come down and threaten us but I think that between us we can bring about that realization

thank you all god bless you

on Larry King now UFO whistleblower Bob Lazar joined by filmmaker Jeremy Korbel there's a lot of weird stories and correct information and strange comments that's been passed around the internet for decades and it just kind of reached a point where it was time to set something straight there were 25 27 forensic agents with a truck there for paperwork I don't know we don't really care

we just know now that our conversations are not private element 115 is a unique element when it's exposed to radiation it produces its own gravitational field and it's certainly nothing that occurs here or naturally and it can be weaponized and that's kind of the issue here Plus so you're a believer well there's no question it's as real as your coffee cup it's to me

so all next on Larry King now

welcome to Larry King now today we welcome Bob Lazar and filmmaker Jeremy Korbel bob is known for his 1989 account of what he says was his time at a secret military base near area 51

it's where he says he reverse engineered alien spacecraft area 51 quickly became synonymous with UFOs in a subject of extreme curiosity for many Lazar has remained silent for 30 years until now he recounts his story to Jerry Covell in a new film called Bob Lazar area 51 and flying saucers it's currently available for digital download and on demand so Jeremy all these years later why'd you do this film my mentor and journalism is a man named George Knapp and actually George Knapp broke the story with Bob in 1989 and he's been great to me and helped me open the story back up and Bob was willing after 30 years to let me make the first documentary film ever on his story why did you agree to do it Bob well there's a lot of weird stories incorrect information and strange comments that's been passed around the internet for decades and it just kind of reached a point where it was time to set something straight so this film sets are you happy with the film

yeah it wasn't a smooth road though that's great because look this brought back up to Bob there whether you believe his story or not which I don't think he cares anymore it brought back up all these feelings and emotions it wasn't a good time for him the UFO subject has not been good to Bob you watch my film you see what he's gone through

why is he laughed at I think I don't know if he cares he's laughed up but I think that people just get it wrong so they've been propagating a mythology about an important story what what happened to you well in 1989 I was hired by actually it was EG&G where I got the job and it was a department a naval intelligence that actually employed me and our job was to back engineer an alien spacecraft that was housed at area 51

for which is just south of area 51 on in that job my specific task was to analyze the propulsion and power system now the information there was compartmentalized so we're there other groups dealing with the metallurgy of the craft oh the craft gotten yeah that I don't know I mean my own gut feeling was it was more of an archeological type find but I really have no information on how they originate it there and what are you learn from your knowledge

well I the scope of the project was to see if we can duplicate the technology with available materials and the bottom line of the whole project was we couldn't we couldn't even duplicate you know some of the most basic systems in the craft nothing was there was no wiring connecting anything what I assumed to be metal wasn't even metal it appeared to be more of an advanced ceramic so we were able to find out how some things operated but as far as duplicating anything back then so did that make you an extreme believer yeah because I was quite a step skeptic before so this was really the only thing having my hands on the equipment that could have possibly made me a believer when they told you here's what we have what did you think well they didn't say it exactly like that when I first came in there and saw the craft I thought well this explains all the UFO sightings this is just an advanced fighter we're working on with an exotic propulsion system and they've been testing it and this is what people have been seeing for decades and you know he slowly let me into the project as far as what's gonna be going on I said well we have to find out how this worked so you guys didn't build this no and that it kind of went on from there

do you believe Bob all the time yeah a hundred percent why would he live well that's the whole thing people don't understand you know you have to get part of my movie is showing who Bob is for you to get an understanding because if you don't know who Bob is you dehumanize him and by dehumanizing him you can dismiss the message but the moment you get to meet Bob and get to know him it's really hard not to completely understand that he is telling you exactly the way it went down no matter if you can accept it or not

years ago you did in 1994 you did a show out of Rachel Nevada outside of area 51 and the reason you were there at Rachel is because of Bob story in 1989 that's what made area 51

this household name that spread everywhere so thank you for doing that show it was powerful most people on that show they only knew about it because Bob had said it so we've come full circle so now we're at a place where thank you for doing that and now we're at a place where we can kind of go deep now we can go deeper and what is the government say UFOs if I were to talk to a government agency actually I think it's kind of changed now I mean back then it was we stopped investigating UFOs back in the 60s with Project Blue Book if I am I recall and they denied everything but they're being recent developments that I don't really follow UFOs at all but Jerry don't know I'm actually believe it or not I'm not interested in the topic I don't follow UFO stories I was just privileged to be part of the technology research that I'm fascinated in but no I'll see if there's stuff I even have a hard time believing most of the UFO stories did you take pictures of this craft no that I couldn't get away with are there pictures of this car well they were I did have after I left the project I did still know some of the test flight times so there were several occasions that I did tell friends about it secretly and we drove out to the desert and at night and film some of the test flights so it was far away yes

did it fly oh yeah if you don't know how it worked how were you able to fly how are you able to fly it well you know my analogy to that is you can get up a motorcycle and drop it off in Victoria Times with the keys in it

now given time

they'll play around with it

push buttons eventually turn the key and over time they'll be proficient at driving it and using it but once it runs out of fuel it's gonna stop working and when it comes right down to it that can't even fabricate a plastic fender on the thing so that's exactly where to be clear he didn't fly one he never said if you know he walked into one the one he was working on that's when he said it was an ominous feeling he stepped in and the way he described it to me in the film is nothing was made for us this seats were too small do we see the craft in the film oh you do actually there's a from one of the test flights it's horrible video over black but this is little dot of white light you know in 1989 so but you do see something flying in the sky was there a pilot on the flight yeah there was oh I only know that because I was in the hangar when the craft was flying and I heard communication back and forth it look like a flying like a round but oh yeah it absolutely did where do we return Bob and Jeremy discussed the FBI raid on Bob's home during the filming of the documentary what were they looking for you don't want to miss this we'll be right back on this edition of Larry King now the film is Bob Lazar area 51 and flying saucers the guests are Bob Lazar and the director of the film Jeremy Korb what is the government watching you Bob

I didn't think they were after 30 years but you know due to recent events I would probably change what happened

Jeremy and I had a private conversation out in a remote area of my property cell phones in our pockets but turned off all filmed and filming it and Jeremy was down there to film some of this documentary

he left the following morning and simultaneously there was an FBI raid at my place great for what well they said they were looking for some receipts from an individual that might have bought some toxic material from a company but they came with more people than you could really think would even fit in our building

I mean agency after agency you know computer experts pulling information off the computers and what do you think they were there for well what do you think Jeremy they they they were able to repeat back verbatim a portion of the conversation that we thought was private and that shocked us because we were joking that nobody even cared 30 years later what he says but apparently it's not as it appears there were 25 27 forensic agents with a truck there for paperwork

I don't know we don't really care

we just know now that our conversations are not private

what FBI what about this is a crawlin they're looking for some of the fuel from the craft that might have been stolen element 115 was always something Bob said fueled the craft a stable version and to be direct which Bob is being direct right now they were looking to see if he had any of that taken out of Los Alamos where they machined it which he did say back in 1989 or so that he did get some out to do tests on and in fact in my film you do see something which is a tape that had been lost for thirty years but I found it between some Golden Girls episodes a bug you know why the FBI of course it does it's actually ii understand the Air Force or a Space Lab well it wasn't just the FBI there were other organizations there too Moulton organizations came in what do you think our government is testing what do you think they're looking for well there I they're looking for high technology they're looking for as advanced technology as they can possibly have and look anybody that controls technology this advanced will control the world it's a very very powerful weapon and I think that's the bottom line

what's element 115 element 115 is a super-heavy element it's something that we've only just recently synthesized we only made four atoms of it but the craft uses larger quantities of a 223 gram little triangles of it but it's a unique element when it's exposed to radiation it produces its own gravitational field its own anti gravitational field and it's what's used to lift and propel the craft and create distortions around it it's a it's an amazing material and it's certainly nothing that occurs here or naturally and it can be weaponized and that's kind of the issue here if this story is all true that can be weaponized absolutely was well any personnel found on the object when it got here

I don't know personally you know I like to differentiate between the things that I was able to verify and had hands-on experience and things that it was just about you know allowed to read about and I did read briefings that they did have an autopsy of a creature now whether or not it was in the craft but the way the information was split up there were different groups we all had one or two page briefings on what the other groups were doing in case they connected to us but there was no communication between the groups so they can keep things separate the people investigating this were very serious right oh very much so did they tell you not to say anything oh they made that very clear why did you go public that's a long involved story part of it is that you he was afraid for his life why it had to do with my relationship at the time and the security clearance one of the things was was you had to have not only no connection to foreign governments and a standard top secret clearance but as you probably know with all high security clearances you have to have a stable home life - well there were things going on at home they had my phone line monitored and I was a candidate for an unstable family life they called it did they travel they will use nuts

no not nuts they in fact wanted me back in the project very badly but they didn't know if I was going to be too stressed out to keep things quiet and I started getting concerned when we started getting followed every place I went to that's the only time that I finally started telling a couple friends hey if I disappear this is what I was doing and when I took him out to the site to show next what the Pentagon is saying today about UFOs and the possibility of life on other planets

the fact that Bob Lazar jeremy Carvel people have not been able to verify some things about Bob Lazar specifically your education you say they you hold a degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the California Institute investigations say they can't find records of that how do you respond all that I did go to those universities I did also work at los alamos and other research facilities that said I never have worked there and there was been a concerted effort to essentially erase my background which is exactly what jeromy's film covers something puzzling about all of this Jeremy's why does the government hide this what what so we all believe most people believe in extraterrestrials right most people so what are you what are they afraid of we're living in a different world now since December of 2017 with commander David flavor the tick-tack UFO case which I broke before the New York Times I reported on that twice that case opened the door so we now know the government did not stop studying UFOs in 1969 there's a program called a tip that program is now acknowledged so what are they afraid of I think they're afraid of weaponization I think that's the issue here and also you're right we're not we're not alone in the universe

but are they visiting here and that's the question that they've been unwilling well I always said

it's why don't they just release information that these events occurred and they can keep the technology secret that I've never understood so I'm with you on that

why are they afraid of you what are you gonna tell us just what I did the existence of the project alright

why why are they so afraid of that I don't you have to ask them that why do you think Joe what are they afraid of you know I we I don't really know I think that it's a big concept Larry it's a big concept that we're not alone and that we're being visited and in 1989 that's explosive to this day we're in a different world I do believe that what has come out by the Pentagon the videos by commander flavor that they admitted there are unknown aerial object of advanced technology that are in it fly with impunity in our airspace

it is now admitted by our government people don't know that they now need to know that we're in a different world I'm very optimistic

what's an area 51 area 51 is a large test facility it's not where this occurs this occurs slightly south of it but area 51 tests it man

we went there but you could only go to a certain spot a minute ago

yeah they test advanced Erik conventional advanced aircraft and they even have some foreign aircraft there that they analyze and so there's an it's a much larger facility there are thousands of people that work there but there's you know Ali how do they get there they flown in these people this place he was flown in on the Janet flights right and he'd stopped at area 51 but he didn't work at air 51 they then put him on a bus and took him

south of groom lake to Papoose Lake at site asks for words George Knapp confirmed in 1989 that that base that location asks for existed no all these people working on all these things sworn to secrecy

absolutely absolutely

yeah they can't even tell their wives or their husbands what they're doing this sounds bizarre but it's true this is a normal run-of-the-mill top-secret stuff that's not even the alien stuff who would they work when they get a paycheck who does it come from that varies I mean when I worked at Los Alamos that paycheck came from University of California I worked at s4 my paycheck came from the Department of Naval Intelligence you would think it would be the Air Force or something like that so it's it's very difficult to very convoluted situation they tell you why you couldn't speak out no no they just say this is highly classified information and that's it but you know every one of the thousands of people involved in any secret facility whether it be Tonopah test range the Nellis range area 51 all goes through the exact same thing why do you think these people who can build these superior things have them come here

they have come here and no I know but they landed in billings month

why don't they come to New York right so they do go they do come to New York there's actually there's a mass phenomenon that has been going on since the beginning of recorded human history where these things engage human beings on multitudes of levels from lights in the skies which is the most famous part to Close Encounters so my argument is they have made themselves clearly available you know they haven't come on your show yet Larry but let's get that to happen

1/2 of Americans believe in UFOs right that's what I and that's based on what I mean not for me it was 1989 and Bob Lazar telling his story that's what weaponized my curiosity about it have you ever seen one I have never seen something that I can definitively say as a flying saucer I have seen incredible light shows in the sky has the government ever looked at this whoever had congressional committees I've heard about them trying to form one but I don't know if that actually felt like I said I don't really follow Jimmy Carter said he saw one oh yeah so he was president could me of that something happened then a lot of presidents such as even the Clintons have tried officially to get this information out to the public and have been shut down now I just want to clarify Bob is not a UFO guy he doesn't follow UFO news you ask about congressional hearings I held with a friend the Citizen hearing on disclosure we had five congressmen one senator and 40 witnesses from around the world testify at the National Press Club about this and guess what that made a big splash and guess what's happening now since December of 2017 and the tick-tack UFO case with commander David flavor they are now from what I understand looking to do more hearings may be closed may be open but there is a ball in motion for this and that's what's kind of exciting

oh boy you saw the vehicle Bob yeah you went in you looked at it you inspected it what do you believe I believe that's that as I said that's incredibly advanced technology I don't understand how any of it was fabricated like I told Jeremy and others it's it was completely unnatural looking there are no sharp corners anywhere everything is one single color as if that craft was fabricated out of wax and allowed to melt a bit everything has a slight radius of curvature

it's very unusual the way that device operates is is mind-boggling so you're a believer well there's no question it's as real as your coffee cup is to me when we come back Bob and Jeremy will answer your social media questions bob lazar area 51 in flying saucers is available to stream now stay right there

I guess our Bob Lazar

Jeremy Carvel can't wait to see this documentary we have some social media questions

working animal on Twitter has there been any fallout for you Bob and your business as a result of the FBI raid no not yet I'm kind of bracing for some fallout from the movie what is your business

I own United nuclear scientific yeah I scientific equipment and supply company and we do some prototyping work sell all varieties of scientific equipment you make money from this oh yeah yeah you told me doing the break did you took a picture of one of the beans no no I didn't didn't take a picture of one that was in a that was in a briefing from a group that separate group it looked like actually it looks like you're your typical thin body

it's just a very remember the picture was just of the chest area so it's a very small body thin head and I guess gaunt is the only way I could describe it Ken Sobers on Twitter Bob if a spacecraft distorted space-time in order to travel massive distances assuming they don't make any obviously large number of tiny jumps would you expect such distortion to cause detectable gravity waves actually yes I actually I I would depending on the direction the craft is traveling yeah I would imagine we would be able to detect some gravity waves from a black rose for eight seven seven eight on Twitter what is your theory of the reasons why aliens come to earth and

we've I know maybe it's like you know they love our music or they know it's tourism alien tourism I don't know

Bob read something really strange and disturbing in the briefings that we have no place to put it that they refer to human beings as containers which is the weirdest thing you could ever hear this is something was read in the briefings he has no other information about it but I don't know why are they visiting here maybe it's our charming personality she's always bugged me about this and I've talked about this forever

why don't they land in Washington this is a guess

go to the capital on the Capitol steps and communicate well you're assuming they're on the same level with us when have you ever stopped on the side of the road and pulled over and decided to try and communicate with a bunch of cattle on the side of the road you know I I think they're just on a completely different level you never take the time to stop and try and talk to an anthill I just think they're just in a completely different level and it's there's more something to observe and maybe have some use but I don't think there are any they're looking at us right yeah yeah they certainly are and they have been for a long time

Black Rose asks what is the purpose of scientific people keeping their knowledge hidden about aliens what's why what is the purpose that scientific people would keep it hidden I don't know why they keep the information about the aliens hidden I you know in the previously they said well it would cause panic and upset people but I don't believe that holds true anymore and I can see why they keep the technology secret that's you know obviously military but I really don't know why they don't come clean and tell us what's going on

given that stability seems important for such a heavy element was there were a lot of effort put in to deduce which isotopes were present well we wait that's kind of an how did we determine what the element was I mean we ran all kinds of tests on it and everything from atomic absorption x-ray x-ray fluorescence and you know every kind of test you could possibly imagine and bombarded it with radiation to see what effects it would have they call that neutron activation and we tried to come up with other isotopes and you know accidentally did ourselves but it was a stable element and something we had never seen before

Pawel is slit kebab on Twitter what he do you think blowing a whistle on what was going on saved your life well I think it helped out I hope it did I hope this wasn't why would they want to kill you well I was at well once I took friends out to the site to view some of the tests we got caught at one time and it was it kind of all went downhill from there immediately after that is when I went public with it and just thought that was an insurance problem he didn't want to go public he's a reluctant UFO Messiah George not pulled him and said this is gonna help you to protect yourself and I think he achieved that Patti Jackson on Facebook asked two questions she was at the premiere in December okay how big would a spacecrafts from area 51 that the reverse engineering was done on I think he was about 52 feet in diameter and approximately how many beings could these spacecraft hold three boy someday we'll have all the answers I hope so

Thank You Larry thank you thank you Bob big thanks to my guests Bob Lazar and Jeremy Korbelt for joining me on this fascinating discussion into a subject that still captivates many you can learn more about it in the documentary Bob Lazar area 51 and flying sources currently on demand and streaming as long as you can find me on Twitter at Kings things I'll see you next time

wow not everyone who's researched Bob Lazar believes his claims Stanton Friedman is one of the most respected authors in the UFO field today he's a former nuclear physicist with top secret clearance and has many friends and contacts in the Black Project world I've looked at considerable depth into Bob Lazarus claims both about himself and about propulsion system those are fairly elaborate claims I've talked to the schools that he claims to have received degrees from I've checked on his High School record I talked to Los Alamos Library he was supposedly a scientist and so forth I have come up totally empty now when a guy lies like that you get very wary and you know it has all the trimmings his story of a Walter Mitty story somebody in his imagination was you know stronger brighter faster than anybody else I don't doubt that he did some work at Los Alamos and other places he's clever he drives a jet-powered car fixes radiation detectors so he may have performed some service but I can find no reason to think that he worked out there on a flying saucer I mean I had to wonder whether this guy was making this stuff up but then I see the phone book and I see the newspaper article and I talk to people who work with Bob at the lab and who said in fact that he did work on classified projects yet no one can find any records of his background the people that I worked with colleagues the people I went to school with obviously knew I was there and people lost Alamos I was friends with and people that worked under me and alongside him he knew I was there and you know cooperate was going on but you know officially it's very difficult to get information for the people in charge to further prove his claims Lazar agreed to take a polygraph test which he passed the thing that is interesting about polygraph is that if you're embellishing or if you don't completely believe what you're saying it is very very easy to detect all it really will tell you is that the individual believes with a hundred percent conviction that what he's reporting is exactly as he recalls and as he believes it to be and that clearly was the case with Bob Lazar now could his perception have been a bit Askew yes that's possible but he clearly wasn't lying I think Bob is even open to the possibility that perhaps he had been used in some sort of misinformation or disinformation campaign I mean look at him he has a pirate flag floating on his house he races jet cars he likes uh fast women he likes guns um he he's technically capable so in that sense he may be perfect for this kind of a program technically capable scientifically knowledgeable and yet completely discreditable at a moment notice if you want to do test public reaction to a story about Area 51 and then suddenly discredited afterwards Bob may have been the most

qualified person in the country foreign says that on one occasion he was escorted into the flying disc that he saw in the hangar to analyze its propulsion system it was obviously made to be piloted by something smaller than the average human being very cramped in there what were the size of these seats that were in there the seats were very small I'd say about one-third to one-fourth the size of a normal human seed a lot of people a lot of people say boy it must have been exciting to go in there and I always say it wasn't it was a very ominous feeling it um I know it sounds silly but it it's so unearthly in there you have spoken to someone who's actually seen a UFO under a tarpaulin at error 51 I have I've spoken to several people who've seen UFOs or disc shaped craft out there there was a there was a woman who was a secretary for a major defense contractor at the Nevada Test Site who worked on nuclear programs who told me that she had sat in on on conversations between military and civilian contractors at which the Roswell case had been discussed at which it had been discussed taking some Roswell me one uh the level of secrecy during those meetings was great afterward they'd take the the ribbons out of the typewriter she was typing on she was ready to tell me about this and I had this conversation with her on the phone the next day after this conversation takes place she's visited by two men who say that they work for the company she used to work for reminding her that she is still under a security oath told her we know that you do a lot of traveling back and forth a lot of long drives between Las Vegas and La we'd hate for something to happen to you or your family no interview I mean it happened again and again and again same scenario Lazar says that in addition to being shown inside the disk he actually saw it take off from the lake bed I was brought into the hangar for one of the short duration tests and the craft was already outside on the lake bed and that was uh pretty much of a marvelous sight it's a huge thing it I it's like seeing a house lift off the ground you can't imagine the energy involved to do that because of the extremely high energy output and the fact that the outside of the craft does is used as a conductor that does ionize the air and the crafts do as a byproduct of this glow at night and much like a fluorescent tube will light up so you know bright strange jumping lights in the sky that does explain that would you categorically say there is no way that that humans could have built the craft that you saw absolutely I will categorically deny that well I don't know how exactly should I put that I guess I can just say it straight out there is there is no way that any government on this Earth could produce that craft period And I defy anyone to argue that point one of the big questions that's hung over this whole story is whether Lazar saw a man-made flying disc and not an alien spacecraft a lot of these crafts which are being developed in secrecy in in the United States are tested at night and one can imagine that seen through kind of half-closed eyes something like an f417 stealth fighter or a B2 bomber side on or front-on would look remarkably like say a flying saucer or a UFO UC and F-117 or you see tacit blue or you see a B2 particularly if you see it from some fairly unusual angle you're going to have a very hard time relating that to Conventional aircraft some of these things can look very strange indeed so you know and unusual but decidedly terrestrial aircraft can certainly present the appearance of a disc from many angles foreign I think for anyone who's who's been out into the western United States and seen the kind of place it is and let their imaginations run right a bit it is possible to imagine in its in these vast test areas Technologies which are highly exotic highly uh revolutionary and would change the way we feel about science today however to say that that is alien science derived from Beyond this world I think is something which is just it is unbelievable it's too much to uh to absorb do you think that some of the trees certainly lies out there in the middle of the Nevada desert at Groom Lake I would expect that some of the truth may very well lie out in the desert near Groom Lake it's the right place for some of it to be it's isolated it's under control it's high security I don't think we've yet scratched the surface on what's happening out there with regard the flying saucers foreign the craft that they were secretly testing out in the desert at night used an exotic anti-gravity propulsion system the reactor itself was an incredibly Advanced system this is uh was an antimatter reactor this is something we could only dream of having something they could put out huge amounts of power that Rivals several nuclear power plants running at capacity what happens is a great gravity Distortion is created and you're essentially bending space toward the craft the craft becomes part of that space and then when the reactor is or when the gravity amplifiers are shut down the craft is essentially where it was focused it's a very difficult thing to grasp it happens virtually instantaneously because of the fact that gravity distorts time and if you're bending space and time along with it when you wind back up in that place you're there between the ticks of a clock foreign looking at the nighttime video films out in the Test Site Area we've seen video of craft that were luminous that would move across the sky as if it was uh skipping a stone across water or sort of a sewing machine effect what we see across the screen or a series of Lights of dashes of light as the object moves from point A to point B therefore we are seeing what you might call a shadow effect of the propulsion mechanism at work but Bazaar is not the only person who's come forward and claimed to have worked out at the base on flying discs former U.S Marines test pilot Bill ooh house worked out at Groom Lake and other Top Secret locations for more than 40 years working for the Pentagon and civilian contractors on a variety of Highly classified projects including he says a flying disc recovered from a crash in Kingman Arizona in May 1953 he said that he mean cleared to do this interview and to discuss certain information but asked us not to show his face what we're actually working on out there one of the things I worked on was applying this emulator it was designed in New Mexico by a separate staff that built it in parallel with the actual craft that they were had intended to fly the purpose of the simulator was a trained pilots to uh to fly this strange strange looking craft the simulator was a 10 meter Round Disc the skin was made of Boron composite material not unlike that you see on a F-117 how did you know how to build a simulator they're essentially there weren't any plans the plans were generated as we constructed it and it was there was a process there that took quite a while for for us to even understand the concept way back in the 50s who house says that Lazar did work at area 51. I think Bob is saying exactly what he knows and you are looking at the exact location of S4 in this video I will show you how I determined that 10 hanger doors were built into the base of this mountain right here the outline of many of the hangers are plain to see with the naked eye like this area on the right look at this Ridge through here and these vertical lines laar had this picture made this illustration of S4 wanted to show how it Blended in with the side of the mountain look for straight parallel vertical lines across the front straight parallel vertical lines if we go over here look straight parallel vertical lines listen to Bob Lazar described the exact location of S4 from Area 51 I was bust to an even more highly secure facility located about 15 mil south of Area 51 called S4 S4 is situated at the base of the Papo mountains by the papoose dry lake bed Lazar said S4 was 15 miles south of Area 51 here's Area 51 North to the top South to the bottom here's a legend in Miles almost 7even miles from here to here so 15 miles south of Area 51 if you drove around this mountain would put S4 somewhere around here according to Lazar he said it was nine hangers were built into the base of the papoose mountains which is right here by the dry lake bed Papoose dry lake bed which is right here so that should put S4 right around here according to Lazar now I search this mountain and those hangers are right through here but the secret to seeing those hangers is to view it from this direction over here Get Low to the ground and view it from this direction but first let's listen to Bob Lazar describe what we should be looking for the S4 installation is built into the mountain and the nine hanger doors are angled at about 60° these doors are covered with a sand textured coating to blend in with the side of the mountain and the desert floor so this is what we're looking for a row of straight parallel vertical lines across the base of the mountain okay now that we know what to look for let's see if we can find these hangers the hangers are right through here but let's go to this area in here to view it want to get fairly low to the ground look toward the Northeast Mountain should come into view here there it is straight ahead so what we're looking for are straight parallel vertical lines this is the mountain we're talking about I'll let you look first see if you can find them right through this area straight parallel vertical lines straight parallel vertical lines actually you start to see some lines through here as well straight here let's take a look from some different angles straight parallel vertical lines straight parallel vertical lines these hangers on the right are the easiest to see in fact if it wasn't for those hangers being so plain to see I would have never found this location because it these hangers stretch around to the side like this you start to see some other straight lines

over here but we'll get into that later for now I'd like for you just concentrate on this area on the far right these hangers on the far right every documentary I saw on Bob Lazar always had the hangers in a straight line so when I found these I thought they would probably go across like this but I really searched this area and there there's just no landmarks anything that can justify any hangers on this side when I looked over here we have these straight lines you start to see some other lines through here it looks a little bit better through there see these straight lines as I was trying to figure out the outline of the hangers there was this line right through here that always seemed to interfere with the lines of the hangers these all go in a certain direction all parallel but this one runs at a different angle and it's so prominent and I really had a hard time with this Ridge right there then I realized if you follow this Ridge all the way through here it's actually the crease of the mountain going through here just take a look underneath the line You'll see that there's a crease that runs right through there so when you see this line through here that's not at the correct angle it's not part of the hangers so try to ignore that of course there is the other side here these on the right are easier to see but we're going to I'm going to show you that there are landmarks or things that we can see on all these lines so what I'd like to do now is justify all these different lines all these different hanger doors listen to Bob Lazar describe how well the hangers blend in the side of the mountain it's extremely well camouflaged years later Lazar will have a graphic artist create detailed renderings based on his own drawings of what he claims he saw at S4 there are hanger doors that are sand texture and standing back maybe 3 or 400 feet you really can't see them at all it pretty much just looks like a continuation of the mountain so don't expect it to be easy to see the hangers they were designed to be hidden going to have to look real close let's start with the three hangers on the right side these hangers are easier to see usually the higher an elevation you go I'm talking about these straight lines right there right there right there right there see the higher you go the this one on the right gets even more pronounced right through there it's more distinctive the higher up you go so I'm going to justify these four lines on the right side here's that that line that goes sideways through the mountain the crease right through there but I believe we can say for sure that here are four straight lines so I'm going to justify that the next group of lines that I want to justify are these four right here with the TX this one on the left side is probably the best of them all so we can justify that you see a pretty good line right there as well as here you'll notice there's a little bit of a white bump about halfway down most of these hangers right there and there you want to try to take a look at them from different angles but again I see a line here I realize it is supposed to be difficult to see it's supposed to be hidden so don't expect it to be obvious if you look at this enough from different angles you'll see that there is definitely a line growing through all these so I am going to go ahead and justify those this dark line right through here as you recall is that crease going through the mountain so let's take a look at what we have so far we have a row of straight parallel vertical lines it's good to just try to check it out from all different angles but I believe I can justify each one of those I looked at other parts of this mountain through here on the back side nowhere else can you find straight lines let alone vertical straight parallel lines like we see over here when it gets down to the remaining line and Hangers I can't say that I for sure see a line through here I've looked at it many angles I want to say that I can but I can't really say that I'm going go ahead and put tax on it but not put the orange line and then over here we get down to Lazar said there were nine hangers I think there's 10 for there to be nine because these are really good lines right here and right here

for it to be nine hangers we'd have to have one in the middle and these hangers would just be too large compared to the other ones I think the best bet is that there's two more hangers there I'm not positive that I see lines there so I'm not going to go ahead and put any but here's the shape you get and just take a look at this you look from above just look out perfectly look how perfectly these hangers follow the Contour of the mountain and I can justify all those lines that you see right there and again look how perfectly it follows the Contour of the mountain in November of 2014 I posted two videos on YouTube titled Lazar was right part one and part two in those videos I use this Thumbtack placement for the outline at The Hanger doors since then I have re-evaluated I now think the correct placement for the thumb tax is right here this was my old placement and this is the new placement in my video Lazar was right part one I use this image of S4 Google Earth offers a feature called elevation exaggeration where you can lengthen by a factor of three the elevation of the mountain it also lengthens these lines I believe it makes them easier to see I'm also using a filter called negative just to reverse the values again in attempt to try to see these lines better it's all about seeing the lines I'm sure there's professional software and people that can take a look at these images and enhance these lines better than I can but just take a look look at these lines right here how straight right through here right there couple dark areas right in line with that there's that crease in the mountain going through there Darkness there's dark line dark line dark line remember right after I post this video I noticed I put this Thumbtack in the wrong place it should be right about there you can see where the line goes but take a look at Lazar was right part one and part two I do several things similar to this to try to enhance the lines and make them easier to see go to my Spaceman Channel on YouTube and check out my other S4 videos take a look at these straight lines thanks for watching

so Jeremy you talked about bob lazar during your talk and your feelings about his case but i guess now that we had that Q&A last night if you could kind of reiterate your feelings and also because you've been involved with a lot of interviews with him lately and and seemingly have become a friend of his but also maybe what you thought of the Q&A well in what you just said my feelings have nothing to do with the Bob Lazar case I looked at it and have been looking at it not through a standpoint of feeling Bob is a friend and that has nothing to do with why I believe Bob Lazar and has nothing to do with feelings or emotion has to do with spending years and years and years investigating his case and being able to see it from every angle from the inside there's so much misconception about his case I think it was great that he came up on stage I mean you have no idea

my mentor George Knapp he's the guy that really helped me with all of my investigation all of my work not just on the Lazar case he had to literally drag Bob he was so terrified of you guys and I honestly was it was unbelievable I asked him to sign a few posters I have a short film out about Bob that were released two nights ago and he was like he wouldn't sign the post or he was like are you sure people want my they don't want to clean one they want my autograph on it but Bob people like your story they like who you are you know you have to do it so it's like kick and and scream and can't believe it's miracles do happen George and app got him to come and talk to you guys and you know what I got to tell you because he you he he will you have no way of knowing he loved you guys he thought it was so cool that you wanted to hear what he had to say you gave him a good experience and I can tell you the you know hundred thousand reasons why you should look at his story with a rational non emotional mind and make the decision for yourself about him and I'm happy to go into those points but again all I can say is I believe Baba I'm happy to tell you why great I think we'll get into some of those points later on and and discuss some of those hopefully Bob Lazar will watch this and I I'm curious myself to find out from the audience if you could clap I'm kind of putting you on that the on the hot seat

right now and maybe your opinion will change towards the end but if we could just you know from clapping or from supporting with the yell or whatever how many of you believe Bob Lazar

well like Bob shared last night he was very hesitant I thought that would be the case and that's what I told him and I think we have confirmation hearing with the QA I just want to say thank you for doing that because I I don't know what you're thinking and just there it's so cool that you believe him like me but I hope that your belief is rooted in your personal investigation into the case as much as you can because a belief is something that you will lose immediately if someone throws garbage at you if you haven't earned it if you haven't spent the time to look at the details unemotionally and with an empirical I so I hope that's why you're clapping but lock Bob's gonna love it

he's gonna love it

so it's kind of a funny that that should happen right before we get to I think what many people would bill is Bob's number one skeptic he cooked tomorrow I just wanted to echo what Jeremy said you got to investigate you got to check the facts you got to go after the evidence and I know most people believed him but you didn't ask him what it is they believed so we'll talk about that what I don't fully hope that he has said great that's gonna be a lot of fun Stanton you you did a mirage man thing here on the audience you said you know what are they applauding for am I wrong and I would like to hear the applause if yes or no do you believe in Bob what you mean is you believe he back engineered alien spacecraft is that right okay

I just want to make sure that Stanton knew and I knew what you were applauding for and no he no offense but I don't want anything twisted okay can I go ahead and mister can i untwist do what you got it okay I was first introduced to the idea of Bob Lazar twenty-five years ago at the mutant conference where Bill Moore gave a terrible paper we won't go into that I met George Knapp heard about Bob Lazar and everybody was asking me about him because he was being promoted as a nuclear physicist with the master's degree in physics from MIT and a master in electronics from Caltech now those are pretty darn good credentials if they're real but I wasn't going to endorse him until I checked on him I looked at my directory of the American Physical Society and most physicists belong he wasn't there so I started a probe and where I have a problem is every time I checked he found I found he wasn't telling the truth now this is about Bob this isn't about what he was doing because he really wasn't saying a lot about what he was doing and there are two separate questions

I talked to five people at MIT nobody ever heard of it including the physics department in the place that has a master's thesis the legal counsel said there's no way for the government to wipe out anybody's records which was the argument black anybody couldn't find anything the legal counsel is sure MIT has been doing classified work since 1940 I mean it's not something new for them

Caltech never heard of him I asked George Knapp or George Knapp gave me Bob's high school it's in New York State Long Island and so I called them had a call back when gal dug out his records and I said I'm getting different information you know about what is what his background really is so briefly that conversation was well let's see I have his file he graduated in August not with his class that usually means you failed the course you know okay

he took a lot of science courses didn't they

she says chemistry what else

chemistry okay

was he valedictorian of his class doesn't mean you fail the course it maybe you just took you didn't take a class and do the required credits that's again a thing that doesn't quite make sense

wait I feel you let me finish

yeah he didn't have any other science courses then I asked was he valedictorian

no she laughed and I have to give you the background why I asked that question I was valedictorian my high school class in Linden New Jersey 1951 a long time ago and I was accepted at MIT except I couldn't afford to go tuition was 950 bucks

what is it twenty-seven thousand nine so I resented the kind of implication that this guy had graduated from one of the top schools in the country and MIT qualifies was he in the top ten in his class no top fifty no now she's laughing

top 100 no he was like 265 out of 366 which is the bottom third can we cut to the chase here

well he's dating when is that the notion that he went to MIT doesn't stand up nobody could find him in a yearbook

none of five people there when I talked to including the Registrar at any connection with him and he was in the bottom third of his class and MIT admissions office says you gotta be in the top 20% if they'll Bend if it's more than 15 you know he so you know as he was lying about having gone to MIT I'd called Caltech they never heard of it he was asked in Rachel Nevada home of the infamous little alien to name some of his professors he said let's see bill doctor will remember made from Caltech physics I looked in my directory there's bill duck sir

I called him he never taught at Caltech only at Pierce

College which is a long way intellectually if not geologically from Caltech he checked Billa

Bob had taken a course under him at the very same time when he was supposedly at MIT 2500 miles away and if you go to MIT you don't go to pierce junior college so we've got some dissimulation is that a good word on it

mm-hmm love to say something about that it can Jeremy speak to that now or do you earth man you know you got to give me a second okay so they basically let's just get to the crux of it the crux of it is none of this is really the point I mean really the point is how did he know that go ahead and clap that's a good one Bob that's the you know this is really the point okay the point is this you know how did Bob know that on Wednesday over pathless dry lake that there'd be I didn't say he wasn't there I know so we're talking about things that aren't important so but let's get to the chase here let's get to the chase no wait I think Stanton is about to say something that Lois I think that the deal didn't well I checked on his working at Los Alamos I saw the phone directory it says case lives M after his name and that means he worked for a subcontractor not for the land so George Knapp is lying when George Knapp said that he went in with Bob Lazar and he had the run of the place he took him into the particle accelerator that every employee knew him that he's interviewed a number of people that have worked there with him and that he worked on special projects George Knapp is lying I'm saying Bob is lying about having degrees from MIT and Cal hey keep your eye on if a person lies why should you believe what he says about Tony things you've never lied to get a check okay so I'm just saying

I'm just saying Sam would you answer that question please okay so let's just let's just cut to the chase here so we don't waste time with everybody going through what's been said for 25 years diluting the issue do I keep I can't swear do I care about if Bob Lazar went to MIT or Caltech well a little bit do I care if you worked at Los Alamos yes I do because if Bob Lazar worked at Los Alamos that's kind of rational for me that he's a scientist oh he could be a janitor got you a janitor that has access to the maison facility and everybody there works with him and knows the maison facility isn't classified my good man right

that's okay great everybody who works there has a clear route so your point is Bob's not a real scientist is that what you're saying

my point is Bob lied

deliberately and without a doubt about his credentials okay well I'm not sure about that that he lied deliberately and without a doubt but you're sure by accident and you've been waited by this Jeremy Jeremy so when it comes to the education okay you talked about how you just said setting that Bob Lazar lied and so you can't believe anything he said it makes me very wary of what he said he also lied

I believe about saying that they had six five hundred pounds of element 115 so so it can't be proven that he's a scientist although it doesn't mean that he didn't work at area 51 I just have a follow-up question but the question is related to Richard Doty Richard Doty was the first one to mention mj-12 in a document that he says his host did you ever hear me cite Richard Doty as an authority for anything you've admitted he's a liar if he's a liar and you can't believe what he says then why can we believe mj-12 is really because mine if you read my book about mj-12 and my articles I don't depend on Richard Doty at a wall do you do I consider him a disinformation without William

I mean you know he lied to the UFO community you wrote a book with him right what book did I write well did you or not I mean I don't know you're friends with no he work with more but I mean what I'm getting at is that just like what Jeremy feels even though perhaps some things could not be substantiated or even if someone lies about one thing just like you've told me before you don't throw the baby out with the bathwater of course not

I didn't say bob was never at area 51

I didn't say he'd again say it again that was so gratifying thank you

the look I tried my darkness with George and so forth and one point that you made that the George didn't go into was that conversation with the high school George at one time thought of you worked at los alamos you had to be a scientist because George didn't stop at that one phone call like you calling his high school records they're not even allowed to give that information out George kept going kept going for 25 years he didn't stop when he got satisfied with one answer oh he didn't go to the school that he said he went to they admitted that in the first report George didn't stop I didn't stop I have footage of bhavas are inside Los Alamos I mean you can see it you know I hope Bob and George let it come out it's just it's ridiculous to me this is the point we're missing the point the point is flood the top page he worked on back-engineering a flying saucer call him what true Bob that's right and he knew exactly where over Papoose Lake on three separate Wednesday nights the exact time and location why does that prove he's a scientist or knows how they work first of all what proves he's a scientist is United nuclear just got a contract with the Naval Academy to basically take the hold on let me tell you this this is great this is this morning he said at breakfast he's he has a new contractor he just finished it they have these hovercrafts that go on the beach the problem is sand is getting up in these huge ball bearings so they're spending so much money cleaning these so just like a month ago what Bob Lazar is doing is creating neodymium magnets to clean out the sand from these huge ball bearings on hovercrafts with an A

that's not he's not a scientist oh my gosh she's more of a scientist than any of us because he's doing it daily weekly look the smartest guy ever worked for had a bachelor's degree 40 patents and an honorary PhD no college degree at all and he ran Oak Ridges fusion work for many years guess what I call him a scientist yes sir do you call Bob Lazar scientists maybe oh come on man the guy runs the United nuclear age again United no clear wait a minute now I worked with the real United though clear back in the sixties every agency he's doing things that would blow your mind

just I've never a conversation with it have you ever been on the phone with Bob Lazar and had to get in depth hold on because that's the point we got to talk about then

hey you have had an in-depth on the phone conversation with Lazar

I wish all that in depth

okay so how is less in depth was it like how many minutes I have no idea

several minutes I tried to meet what did you ask him any scientific questions that he couldn't answer I talked to somebody who interviewed him had a physicist with him and he couldn't answer any of the physicists question you have a recording of that because I need proof Stanton you need proof but you don't care whether he nodded degrees oh it's not I don't care I don't care about the degrees I care about the bigger topic I need proof of this conversation where he can't answer basic physics questions that you've said for 25 years

let me tell you he will blow your mind if you sit down with him scientist or not which I've sat down with him with both he will answer questions and blow your mind so this little story you've been telling I can't buy it got to call you out man you have not had an in-depth conversation with Bob Lazar directly how can you make an opinion on a guy without talking to him that's all I got to say I did talk to her like a minute cuz because one minute he's very hard to get ahold of and would you be willing to sit down with him soon I tried to then I would I would hold

- yes I'm here

by Jeanne Huff who I think was here yeah he was yeah that's him I got asked by him what would it take this is 20-some years ago

to convince me that bob was telling the truth

it was a friendly conversation it wasn't an antagonistic one this is just me by the way I'm not like I'm not don't have a heart attack can I am gene ask what it would take

I told him well a copy of his diplomas you know stuff like that and resume a list of his papers a number of such items and okay he gave me an address

I sent him copies of my diplomas yeah I mean I don't know anybody's got a degree from MIT you can't provide it but she never had an in-depth conversation with his lawyer in fact have you ever had a conversation with his are on the phone yes okay and but literally it was just to ask for his resume I mean there's no I didn't ask him for his resume you know with the agrees you never got to ask him any scientific questions personally so you're basing on this other per let him answer have you been able to ask him

scientific going to verify have you attempted to do that well I best George about making contact with them I asked you two years ago sitting right over there if I could get Bob Lazar

and you to talk and have a scientific conversation would you do it you kind of went like this to me yeah like you weren't interested so well are you and you like to talk to them I would like to have talked to him yesterday sure

well great what we'll do is arrange that we call it right and Stan can tell us all about it next year but you know why didn't happen yesterday bob was in and out and of course like Jeremy said he was extremely nervous he didn't know what to how this would go he so he came in and he was out he wasn't interested at that time but that doesn't mean that in the future it can't happen so we will see what we can arrange especially if he'd be willing to do so however of course he he might be not be as interested to talk to you as can you feel hard him Bob Bob lives in Bob world he does his scientific projects he's doing incredible projects right now and his company said you know United nuclear that's what they do he really does not have a huge interest in being involved but honestly he might want to nip this in the bud yeah that'd be great

did he pass the polygraph test

yes I'm presuming he did what is it we have to say about that I'm satisfied that there is indeed an area 51 and that it has I'll call it spacecraft for one of a better term no better place in the country to put it and it was built into highly classified work before there were spy satellites I might add where you thought you could hide but you can't now as easily so what it was it doing out there I don't know I his explanations yesterday we're very crude having worked in industry for 14 years about what he was doing and we've got a gravity amplifier that's a great term but he sure didn't tell us any details I mean there's a dome and you can feel things when you when you go close to the dome that doesn't

I don't know how much what he did was science and what he did there

well every as he written a paper about what he did when he was out there what what is it you want me to say about him he was an interesting guy to watch you just to stop saying the same thing that has nothing to do with the reality of the story the story is George Knapp has done has followed this story for 25 years yes you compared to the 25 minutes man that you've done and and George Knapp is telling us George Knapp is telling us not only does he believe Bob but he's verified right and left almost every detail possible so let's get away from this little he lied about his education I don't even care what I care about is did he or did he not back engineer alien spacecraft that our government are holding now I don't know the answer to that but I do believe him

but I wasn't there but I do believe him and there's reasons did he figure out how they were and and the whole idea right here the whole idea that he was doing nothing scientific and he just explained a dome why don't you try that conversation with him in depth about the science of it he has explained it in high detail and probably you have already I don't know if you haven't read it but there's been a lot of information out there and you know honestly it takes like curiosity and persistence on a story to make a breakthrough and that's what George Knapp has done for 25 years that's what I've done for five years and I'm more than satisfied satisfy yourselves

a couple things to be fair to Stanton of course he's he's more than he can have his own opinion and I think that IQ beyond that and I it's impossible to say that Stanton has not done a significant amount of research certainly not as much as 25 years compared to it would be a ratio of 25 minutes man George Knapp has dedicated his career to this hmm

and we're gonna arrange the meeting still but again to be fair to Stanton and to put you on the spot again clap your hands if you doubt Lazar story there's a few hours later he wishes that you do because he does not want everybody banging on his door so that's just fine but hey those doubters out there thank you you are real investigators then if you do something with that doubt do something with it we can believe Bob Lazar story without having to believe that he was working on

extraterrestrial spacecraft at area 51 because he may but he may he does appear to really believe the story that he tells which may not be the story that we think it is although he thinks it is so he may have been lied to is that what you're saying he may have been he may have been deceived himself you may have been led to believe there are extraterrestrial but it could have been this high-tech technologist it's so hard to understand how for so many years this guy could be like the professional best liar even to his wife and his friends and his family and people like his grandchildren and Wow

he can't even remember how to tie his shoelaces sometimes he's like a mad scientist dude and he is such a good liar

so I appreciate what you're saying

I wish we disagreed on more but the problem is is that what he except the physics of what he experienced out there so you can agree that thought is mine but you you can't fake the physics of what he experienced out there no of course I agree but thank you it's cool having the report did you want to comment on the physics being a physicist well I haven't heard what he's used words like they have a gravity wave amplifier that that's a simple description for this okay

does that tell us the physics of what's going on it was gobbledygook when I listened to his description it you know 500 pounds of element 115 he used to say now backed off from that a bit you can't have 500 pounds the half life is too short frankly so it sounds like there's a science fiction element in here you notice I used the word science I didn't just say friction in other words to say that he back-engineered he was working there to do something figure out how they work rocket ships for science fiction until we invented them

I've been told directly by a high military naval engineer that element 115 has great promise

so has great has great promise for propulsion for fuel so I just you know is where they're gonna get it okay I I would love to have a three-hour debate with you even not as a scientist about the science of it I feel like I can pair it some of it back but you need to have this conversation with the man himself to work we're working on work on that see how you

Mariano's for you all right let's get to the next question thank you Mexico II actually I think it's really highly unlikely that you can wash someone away with all of their stuff that that's a difficult thing for me to buy but the idea that Bob Lazar had the ability and the technical knowledge to work on special projects such as this propulsion absolutely 100% resounding yes this is a guy who made jet cars was in treated more scientific stuff than I've seen like most anybody do the guy had incredible jet cars he was on the front page of the Los Alamos newspaper you know with his jet car the guy has scientific knowledge it's proven through his company

everything he's been doing for the last 25 years the dude was a scientist I don't know it is a scientist but you sound like you doubt that he had those degrees as well no III that is not my issue again I'm keeping my eye on the prize now sure in the conspiracy world can you erase somebody I think that's why he was kind of fearing as is his thing

my thing is I know he worked at Los Alamos I have talked with people but he claimed he was had two degrees they are erased and you're saying that's not possible

no I'm not saying it's not possible I don't know is what I'm saying about erasing somebody's history I'm not good at even doing anything I asked the legal counsel at MIT and they said you can okay that's great so whatever the situation with that that I think the key point here is that Bob Lazar worked at Los Alamos has scientific ability and then from there you can just deduce the rest but I you know I don't know all right and Stan did you want to answer that question you believe it's possible then to erase his school records not according to legal counsel at MIT and I don't know who else to ask there are loads of good sightings we have to expect that any advanced civilization or plural civilizations uses technology about which we know nothing

we're not the smartest guys on the block we haven't had technology very long it's one of the things I argue with the setting people about you think aliens are stuck at our level of radio communication and we've only had long-distance radio since 1901 I mean I think they're beyond that so it's not a question of what you see is impossible therefore it isn't but what you see is interesting how do we do it wouldn't that be nice if we could do that and there's a whole book that Kathleen Martin and I have done about science was wrong with all kinds of outstanding professionals saying something was impossible that turned out to happen not very long thereafter because they didn't know they did weren't ready to admit that there was stuff they didn't know eat man's ego gets in the way here so the fact that you see something that's incredible is a good place to start with gee how could they do that how could I do that how could i duplicate that and Bob is curious it's okay we'll let him work on it my final comment is is very simple I know Bob Lazar Bob Lazar is the most kick-ass amazing crazy out there scientists that I have ever met and I've chilled with nano technicians and nuclear physicists and a bunch of people and I got to tell you Bob Lazar is doing some of the most interesting work he was painting some sort of radioactive isotope onto ants without killing the ants so that they can be tracked the other day who gets contracts like that well scientists do and I mean creative people do

I am so yeah a very creative scientist actually so I'm just want to say Bob Lazar is the most badass scientist you have ever heard of for those of you that doubt his story good weaponize that find out for yourself

start digging because we want to get more from Bob Mann he doesn't want to give much we want to get more from him so do it that's my final statement

Jeremy Corbell

Jeremy Fogel everybody thanks for having me back again today wow I just got out of editing a movie come here to join you guys and had to whip together this presentation current and modern because so much of this footage I've never been able to show anybody this is the case of bob lazar who in this audience is unfamiliar with the claims of bob lazar don't be shy raise your hands I need to know cool

that's gonna change okay

so this case is really close to my heart because it is the reason most likely that I got interested in UFOs at all this was before I started looking into the subject it was before I even knew anything about the subject probably like most of you I heard Bob lazarre's claims and that's what inspired me to try to find out is he telling the truth

the central question about Bob Lazar and his story if he's telling the truth it's huge

it's game-changing but there's that nagging question do you believe Bob Lazar so I'm not gonna try to convince you one way or the other I'm gonna just show you my journey in trying to get closer to that truth for those of you that I've never met I'm an investigative filmmaker self-proclaimed okay I make films that I investigate things I think anybody with an iPhone these days can be an investigative filmmaker eventually have to put the the film out the movies out and I've been luckily been able to do that recently just kind of started after all these years I can put this footage out there will probably be a lot of questions

after the presentation about Bob Lazar so I will leave some room for that for those either want to talk about that because it's a complex case but I have to take you all the way back to 1989 in order to start this story so again my curiosity was weaponized when I heard Bob's claims he was on the radio with my mentor and journalism George Knapp and I heard them talking about the propulsion system that Bob said he back engineered at a sub base of area 51 called s4 nobody had ever heard about s4 it was not a subject of conversation nobody even knew about the area that he was that he was claiming this was going on totally new information but the part that stuck with me was the way he described propulsion that was my interest typically if you want to make something move forward you have to have something pushing back it's really simple but the way he described this propulsion system was completely counterintuitive his claim was that these non terrestrial craft these flying saucers that he saw and had a chance to try to work on one of the propulsion systems worked by generating gravity waves and if you can generate a gravity wave and you can distort or amplify a gravity wave you can distort space-time space-time and gravity they're they they all operate together so if you affect one you affect the others basic physics the way that he described it the best way I can imagine it is the way exactly how he described it put a bowling ball on a mattress and push your fist down on the mattress and the bowling ball will roll towards your fist right so it's a completely different type of propulsion it's like as if you're falling into where you're wanting to go you're not pushing anything out so that was just crazy that was a wild concept to me

his claims went everywhere what Bob Lazar claimed whether you believe his claims or not something that is undeniable is the effect that his words had on the world no words are weapons they're used as weapons propaganda that's how things work his words were weapons they sliced through the imagination of the American public and then the international public this was in Omni magazine

you might recognize when the most iconic pictures of Bob Lazar with his geeky coke bottle glasses and he said that he worked on alien propulsion for the United States military but in 30 years now he has rarely made himself available he doesn't talk about it wants to get on with his life and getting to know Bob there's a lot of really good reasons for that but most people that's the image in their mind that they have a bob lazarus however it's a new day Bob is again talking and he's talking to me and he's allowing me to finally put his story in documentary film form after 30 years this is a guy that has never profited off of his UFO celebrity he never sought it he doesn't like the attention but he simply is telling a story and it's up to you whether or not you believe him he just wants to make sure at least you know his story and then it's up to you and there's more to that but we have to go back all the way to how this started so I'm taking you way back the world's best-known secret base I love that the reason you know about area 51 is because of Bob Lazar it's because of Bob Lazar George Knapp and a man named John Lear you probably would have found out about it anyway

our government has now finally acknowledged area 51

but really the reason that it's in your mind

anybody's mind why it's become a meme and their shot glasses and hot sauces is because it became this household name for secrecy for UFOs and that is directly because of the reporting of George Knapp on what John Lear was saying and what Bob Lazar was saying so that's kind of crazy so I'm gonna take you all the way back to the first time that Bob Lazar was ever mentioned publicly and they didn't even say his name they referenced a guy so you're gonna see in this video

George Knapp on a little tiny show that he had that nobody watched it was at a terrible time before he was this big-time investigative news reporter right and John Lear is his guest John Lear is the Godfather of conspiracy I've known John for a long time and he came out and started telling George all this wild stuff and the ratings went through the roof people wanted to know is what John's saying true so this is the first time Bob bazaar's name was it was not said where he was referenced so check it out it's kind of rare footage

oh and welcome once again to on the record if you joined us last week heard some startling revelations about UFOs and the government cover-up about UFOs from noted UFO researcher John Lear

alright you rogue you recently decided to take it upon yourself to try to get to the bottom of this major cover-up what do you say as a cover-up he went up to groom Lake which you say is like a center of this UFO activity what happened is I was approached by government theoretical physicists employed by the government who works on the saucers up at groom like he has seen the aliens he is tired of the cover-up he knows what a ripoff it is of how much how many billions of dollars were wasting on trying to develop develop technology that's already been developed and he told me when and where to stand and we drove up there we were actually there on three occasions I mean the fact that that the military doesn't want you around the top secret base doesn't mean there's flying saucers there I know it doesn't except we had just seen one the theoretical physicist that was with us that told us where to stand and you know what time to work the next day he was told instead of driving to work to drive to a certain place he was debriefed with a gun in his ear and asked why you know he told this and told us that and well he's worked in what capacity with him up there theoretical physicist but I mean what did he do around the saucers or whatever all I can tell you is that when you find out the truth a month from now a year from now two years from now you'll look back and you'll say my god that son of a gun was right or maybe thirty years from now he must have said yeah it's so great you know you see George Knapp talk in there and you know he had never covered a UFO story he was covering mob stories because he knew some of the mob guys and he was you could see in his face I mean I love seeing it the first time he engages this topic with John Lear you know he's skeptical real skeptical yeah and he should be if it was wild then it's wild now what's what's being claimed but but John had credibility with the news station John Lear had credibility because he brought forward some photographs

at lake level you will never see photos like this again it was from 1977 where the security was a chain link and I told you that story yesterday how he snuck out the roll of film it's pretty funny it's a bar story so John had credibility because he brought these photos forward and they actually identified a stealth fighter and a MIG fighter Russian MIG that was being I guess you'd say back engineered as well so he had really brought the news station some interesting information and John came to George's mentor in journalism a man named Ned day and he said here's all the UFO stuff there is a secret program area 51 and they're reverse engineering alien spacecraft in Ned days like nope I would have heard about it no chance that's true John and then and then there's George Knapp kind of knew at the station his Hey look at those documents boy did he not know that would completely alter his public identity for the rest of his life you know so what I like about this photo

you got area 51 up there and you had that little strip of tan to the right and that is Papoose Lake that is not a place that was known or is known as having anything happen there's no runway there really there should be nothing happening there especially at that time but that's where Bob said he worked he did not work at area 51

he worked at what he claims it was called s4 a sub base of area 51 about 15 is 17 miles south on that little tan strip they're called Papoose Lake so that's the first thing to know is that he's claiming to not have worked at area 51

he's claiming to have worked near 51 on the same complex but I want to still focus on John here because I spend a lot of time with John I did film about seven years of his life I am sure that film will come out to date I put out a 20 minute short film first episode on John

the whole series would be called immaculate deception when it gets made it's all filmed when it gets cut and put out but I'll just show you a little trailer for that because John really is what he was my gateway drug to ufology yeah you listen to John talk for a little while and you start questioning everything about the universe so I'll show you the little trailer because I make films so I figure they speak for me sometimes

oh and welcome to a special edition of on the record in the more than five years since we've been hosting these programs no guest has inspired such a widespread and enduring audience response as has John Lear son of the famed aviation pioneer and a world-class pilot in his own right as many of you may know though Lear the son is best known for his research into UFOs

a phenomenon described by some as worldwide hoax described by others as the most important issue of our times

does it just happen it's written the exact I have talked to his people and I know the truth

birth is like Allison wonderful things get cures here

you certainly couldn't figure in your wildest dreams that would be the most important thing when you can't see the objective right so John Lear is intimately connected to the bob lazar story and the reason he's intimately connected the bob lazar story is because I've talked with a lot of people that knew Bob Lazar before he became public about before he even worked allegedly in the program and man he would say things like I feel bad for John you know it comes from a prominent family the Learjet family and he believes in UFOs he like felt bad for him so that was like Bob's standpoint on UFOs way before he ever found himself in the situation that he says he did so staying back here in 1989 Bob comes forward he says I worked on reverse engineering a propulsion system he they did not succeed in reverse engineering it he said it was an impossible task it was like you know dropping a iPhone out into the Stone Age and saying make one yeah he said it was absolutely impossible and there was such control and there was such compartmentalization in these programs

he didn't even really know what he was supposed to be working on until he went a few times and in fact this is what he says he says when I when I saw the craft for the first time he said I started kind of chuckling inside because I thought that's what all those UFO nuts we're seeing in the skies and thinking they were extraterrestrial they were ours you know so that was his thought when he first saw the craft that's how kind of skeptical or analytical Bob was he wouldn't take anything on face value still doesn't you know one of the most kind of interesting minds that I that I've met so he did a lot to try to prove to you his story he did probably more than you realize to try to prove to you his story he says I've tried to prove my story

I can't under the scientific method I can't prove to you beyond a shadow of a doubt that what I'm saying is true

so you're obligated not to believe me and nowadays he goes and if you don't believe me pass it on because it's caused you you only see it from it from a personal perspective you can only really see it from personal perspective how it has negatively influenced his life what he's been through because of telling this story which supposedly in a lot of people's mind isn't real yet there have been some real-world consequences let me just get an idea from everybody's you know I really actually like to know how we're divided in this group you know who absolutely believes Bob Lazar the absolutes who's there

all right all right who maybe maybe not 50% where's the 50% of undecideds okay and then how do people absolute lying cockamamie bullshit where are you come on it's okay

oh come on

you're hiding don't worry I'll get you after right okay so that's that's about average we all want to believe Bob Lazar how can you not we you know how cool would that be so we all want to believe him it doesn't mean it's true but it also doesn't mean that it's false so we're kind of stuck with that a lot of you here believe him you raised your hand majority of people maybe because you want to believe him we don't have all the evidence so you're inclined to believe him as you could tell from the news reports the George did George dug deep and that time period was so bizarre for the people that lived it they were followed by people

George had six other witnesses that were coming off of the base to corroborate Bob Lazar's story or parts of Bob Lazar's story all six of them declined to ever talk with

again after they've paid a visit and told that they would be harmed and we're talking about George Knapp he let's talk about people that do talk to them and the stories of these people that couldn't tell their story to him afterwards it's pretty incredible but other people have come forward and things have come to light over the last thirty years and let's look at those things and let's see if they provide proof or if they take away from Bob's story so Bob Lazar began to talk in 1989 and just to give you another little clip so you can judge for yourself

if what you think he was saying back then could be true or not true

here's another little clip I had sent resumes to several national labs around the country I got a response from a couple of them they said we might have something in the near future

you would be very interested in you know you say you work on little project I said yeah I have a particle accelerator in my master bedroom and things of that sort and some time went by and they called me back in they said there was a senior staff physicist that was leaving this organization and they basically interviewed me for that job

I don't know many people with particle accelerators and their master bedrooms and I know a lot of nerds I'll tell you that you know and I always found that really interesting I know for a fact the Bob Lazar is highly intelligent so he's got that going for him and that's nice I can tell for sure that he's smart but I too was skeptical I was probably like most of you that raised your hand I was like yes I believe because it makes sense but that's about all that we had until you really speak with someone you can easily just dismiss them if you're just talking about a name you don't know them you don't know their family you don't know what they've been through you can't even imagine to imagine none of us can so we're all stuck with that because Bob really doesn't make himself available to get to know him so I was skeptical and I don't know

I talked with George and George obviously encouraged me to talk with Bob like yeah who wouldn't want to talk with Bob of course I want to talk to him so George made a point you gotta talk with Bob and you got to tell this story and you got to do it yourself to really get to the bottom of it he's like but you got to be the luckiest guy on the planet for that to happen and he kind of explains that to me here you have to cover the story of Bob Lazar and the only way to do that is to talk to Bob

I don't know if it'll talk to you or not but you need to try well it was it's all gonna be circumstance for you is the moment that you approach him the mood that he's in what else is going on in his life at the time you might hit the jackpot and get him in exactly the right time and the the universe is aligned and he's willing to talk about it but you'd have to be awfully lucky because in general Bob doesn't like to talk about I think he's very happy in his life he's happy to have left the UFO stuff behind he misses his friends he misses John Leary Mrs. Jean Huff maybe even me some extent but he doesn't miss the UFO topic and he doesn't miss talking about it because ultimately it's disturbing

these are disturbing issues they go to the heart of who we are as people as human beings the nature of reality itself is this a computer simulation are we all the product of an alien video game or some multi-dimensional movie drive-in movie theater production or something big questions disturbing answers and Bob has never been

and talking about never so that was about as encouraging as he can get you're never gonna get him you have to be the luckiest guy on the planet he doesn't like to talk about it because it's disturbing it messed up his life it's disturbing to everybody good luck right I'm pretty damn lucky and the first time that I actually met Bob like any of you really interested I was like okay I want to ask him these questions directly I don't want to look him in the eye and I want to see how he responds I happen to have a camera you know and he happened to let me turn it on and it had been a long time since he let somebody turn the camera on right so I thought oh man this is amazing let me see what he has to say so I'll show you a little clip of that first time I didn't know Bob at that time I didn't know him he was not a friend of mine he's just I accidentally got to be in the same place as him and had the camera and got to ask him questions and I wanted to give the public just a glimpse so I put this out it's in a free 20 minute documentary just a few minutes of Bob so you can kind of be updated this was a few years ago but he talked about it in a different way and that's what I found so interesting it wasn't the Bob Lazar that I saw in all those videos from 25 years ago it was five years ago and I film this it was a different Bob you know it's like something had changed and you'll see the way he talks about it so I'm gonna show you that little clip just so you get a update up until five years ago

you know look you can nitpick anything you know to the point where you find inconsistencies and then you can add those inconsistencies up and say you know what this can't be true

but the thing is you can do that with factual events and this was a factual event where I mean where the project is now where the parts are now you know this is all 20 years ago so I know there are alien craft here from another planet

I know I saw other ones but I was inside one I know who was now made on earth I know it was may blue the materials that we can fabricate we cannot duplicate and we've never been able to I know it uses a power source that's so advanced that we could only dream of something along those lines and the energy density on it is phenomenal

it's nothing that I would ever expect to see I know that you know this is done in the highest levels of security and you know that they use all kinds of methods to keep it quiet from disinformation I mean some exotic ways of just hiding things like I said the installation itself was buried in the side of a mountain and you know I also know that there's lots of nonsense information that has gone around and whether it was started by the Navy or military or whoever's at the absolute bottom you know of the project and I truly suspect that be the case because look disinformation is the most powerful you know way to distort facts you just throw a bunch of useless stuff out there and you know they just take the real facts along with the nonsense and bundle it together and say well this is just impossible and you know there your security is maintained but I also know that at some point they've examined or had bodies of alien creatures somewhere so I know that stuff for a fact and that's the bottom line pretty cool to hear him talk about it 25 years after he said the first time just so I get an idea who hasn't seen that footage of mine anybody hasn't seen it okay so you did you're seeing it for the first time today I'm glad I mean isn't that cool aren't you stoked on that it's like man you know it's like Elvis meets Bigfoot you can never find a Murray's dad you know there's always a rumor he's dead and all of a sudden I got him on camera I have proof positives are exists and not only that but he's not backing down

he's doubling down he hasn't changed his story he's telling you now the same thing he was telling you then I find that really interesting and it's different when you can see someone has aged and they're a little bit more confident they're not like a geeky 20 year old kid now there's the geeky adult but they've changed and so that little bit of footage was the first step the first taste I got of fuck this I'm gonna find out the truth I'm gonna do my best because this story's too big it's too important and look I've already got them once on camera maybe down the line five years later I might be able to do some more filming with them right and really I'm doing this to bring it to you because you're seeing it just like I'm seeing it you now have three more minutes in which to judge Bob Lazar by right and that's all I was trying to do was get more data into the streams so we can make a more educated opinion on if his story is true or not the crux of his story is about a place called s4 site for this is a place that nobody had ever heard of there is not one mention in the public realm not even private circles I had no one around that time had ever even heard about it yet things were different back then when George Knapp called Nellis Air Force Base and they admitted that they had an s4 if not multiple task force wouldn't tell him what they did there now they just completely deny it right we thought but George got confirmation there was an ask for so Bob somehow knew things he somehow that on Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. over this tiny little lake bed that's not even part of area 51 that there would be a test flight of something that looks identical to a flying saucer and he took people out there on a variety of occasions and they filmed it right how did he know that that's probably a real guarded secret wouldn't you think you know the existence of a secret little sub base of area 51 you figured out everybody would know that so I'm already kind of intrigued that he knew things that really he shouldn't know if he didn't work out there

s4 is kind of the key and I'll show you little clips about that you've brought s4 into the forefront it's been confirmed to you directly from the base maybe 25 or 5 years ago yeah

s4 has been confirmed to me directly twice one from an employee of EG&G security was daunting and then somebody else who's confirmed to me s4 that that's exactly how it looks the story though is that there was a facility like that at Papoose there is a facility like that a Papoose flying disks not this UFO term that's created to make it ambiguous flying disks saucers that were piloted by nonhumans they were not ours and this was confirmed by both of my sources that this technology is not ours Bob Lazar story was confirmed to me by those two same sources one saying that when he was working in secret capacity at White Sands in 1989 that it was common knowledge at the base about Bob's story and I said well what was the believability with the general believability and he said everybody knew that what was going on out there were with these types of projects and they all believed Bob sword no were they following it as its unfolding 1989 that was the impression that I got was that it was big news if you ever see it if it's soundless noiseless it's hovering anti-gravity or appearing to be the way it is not ours as I said not ours like America

says not ours like humans so 28 it's about 25 years after Bob's story and I started digging into it and started pulling up and calling up a bunch of the people who have advised my work in nanotechnology and an aerospace stuff and in investigations in general the highest-ranking military individual I've ever met has been someone that has advised my work for a while was in position to know and I've had multiple confirmations that Bob Lazar is telling the truth and that asks for as he described it existed exactly like he described it and for the purpose that he described it so I've got all these independent personal confirmations that there's a grain of truth to bob lazarus story that was driving me crazy so I sat down with George and went through with him showed him he knows who some of you know the people that advised my work are he's satisfied with it I'm satisfied with it so we're getting you know direct testimony from people not for public consumption not for me to go on radio doesn't talk about it not to put him in movies but just to inform my work people that care about me and my work too so it really started to intrigue me because now all of a sudden it's not just one person saying this thing but 25 years later I'm getting independent personal confirmation of the facilities Bob said he worked on that wasn't happening 25 years ago so that was pretty cool

everybody's focused on area 51 we know the great things that were achieved at area 51 it's a shell game

it's a sleight of hand

we're talking about s4 right and we're talking about the acknowledgement of a secret base called s4 that has special projects there extra-terrestrial projects well I got confirmation from Nellis Air Force Base I called their public information offices back in 1989 we're working on this do you have a place called s4 on the Nellis range and they said yes can you tell me where it is no do you have more than one yes

can you tell me what goes on there no it's classified so we know and s4 exists we know classified work goes on there we know that they're not going to tell us any more about it

no one had

at about a place called s4 and public before Bob Lazar

there's no printed records of it it didn't appear in the newspaper story he's the one that told it how did he know how did he know that those test flights were gonna take place three weeks in a row there'd been no news stories not in in UFO circles about test flights of something that looks like a flying saucer over Papoose Lake that happened three weeks in a row they took people out there I've interviewed all the witnesses who were there and they've got it on videotape how did he know well maybe somebody told him the you how ridiculous that is maybe somebody told him but it's important that Bob didn't go to MIT how ridiculous is that

here's videotape of a flying saucer flying over a secret base the government has never acknowledged and the important point of this is Bob did go to MIT it's ridiculous how about the Maine you're sort of losing burying the headline the headline is flying saucers at a secret base there they are on video and we're quibbling about whether he has a degree or not George Knapp calls up Nellis Air Force Base

do you have an s4 and they say yes yeah we hadn't gone with our UFO stories they weren't on the only thing that had been on the air was John Lear on on the record and then this dentist interview the interview with Dennis so I wasn't quite the UFO guy than I am now and and actually the guy I talked to the public information officer at Nellis is somebody that I knew we called and he said does s4 exist

I could try I mean I could certainly ask them whether they'd still answer or not I don't know

you'll recall twenty-five years ago they would answer questions about UFOs

you know they they might keep you on the phone long enough to figure out if you're crazy or not but at least they talk to you about it they don't talk to you at all they don't have that conversation with you whether they'd answer that s4 question around I don't know

we could try we're calling Nellis Air Force Base of Public Affairs Office and that's who I called 25 years ago we'll see if they will confirm for us that they have an s4 out there or where I suspect we're gonna have trouble but we'll give it a try

hi my name is George Knapp I work with Channel 8 News and I had a question I'm not sure if you can answer it or who might be able to answer it I'm trying to try to figure out if there is if you can confirm that there is somewhere on the Nellis range a place called s4 and

designated s4 facility yes

great thanks thank you

hi Airmen my name is George Knapp with channel 8 I was calling to see if and I don't know if you can tell me this or not but whether you have something on the Nellis range called s4 a site or a facility or a location designate an s4 this number here yeah I'll just let you know that I've been told some years ago that there was there is a place called s4 they wouldn't tell me where it was but in fact you might have more than one like Eskimo meaning site for right I'd want to know what if it exists we had been told that there had been classified work going on out there one one version of the story is that there was a facility near Pappu's dry lake that was called s4 there's another version the story that you've got a place at Tonopah test range and I just didn't know if you can confirm one way or another anytime there's no deadline

I appreciated airman thank you very much yes so um you know it's just kind of interesting

he already confirmed it decades ago we're just wondering what the climate of the situation was now and I could like tell you this story but it's much more fun to show it to you I make films anyway right so I can talk about it by showing you how these things go there's a little bit of humor in it so we waited for a callback and we weren't very hopeful we didn't think they were gonna call us back back in the day

George knew the the public affairs guy this time we don't know who we're talking with the kid didn't even sound like he knew much of the base you know so we don't know what kind of information we're gonna get they called right back and left a message that's this is the next morning yesterday you called to get Nellis Air Force Base to confirm s4 as a physical location the one by the post Lake that is one we're interested in and they and you've called before back before a lot of this was secret and you got direct confirmation yes that facility exists we can't tell you anything more about it so we get a guy on there yesterday and he's like I have to go ask people that would know and you get a voicemail back the same day right this yesterday and let's hear what the voicemail is from Nellis Air Force Base I'm calling to get you this formation you requested earlier today I spoke with the range headquarters and they let me know that none of their maps and possession

have a location that depicts s4 or sites or as a designation so that's what I can tell you right now

so if you have any further questions be sure to let me know when you get a chance have a good day

so a couple things one is that 25 years ago they did confirm not only they have won and and more than one s4 they wouldn't tell me where it was they wouldn't tell me what goes on there but they said it is a real place and I've got that from other people who worked out there not just Lazar secondly it was the parsing of languages what I thought was interesting we talked to the people at the range and they don't find it on any map well it's not gonna be on any map

it wouldn't be on any map even if it was even if existed and so just saying that it it's not on any map

is not the same as saying it doesn't exist it's a very specific kind of truth it's a new day and age dealing with public information officers and not only for the airforce but every federal agency is that they are where you go for information and you never get to speak unless you get their permission you never get to speak beyond that it's like fishing as a journalist you want to see where the level of secrecy is and ys4 is important is because s4 is linked to all of these special projects that we've been looking into dealing with the extra-terrestrial presence yeah being able to confirm that there really was an s4 which is where Bob Lazar said he worked goes a long way toward establishing that his story was true because it had never appeared in any newspaper it wasn't at any map that's what he claims so when nihlus told me yeah we've got an s4 but we're not gonna tell you where it is that was a really big deal I you know I don't necessarily think they're lying to me maybe they this guy doesn't know maybe they don't call it us for anymore maybe after all that stuff with Lazar came out they changed the name who knows but I just thought it was really interesting that the parsing of the language to say we don't see it on a map

yes that's just a fun little look into one of the ways that we can go about getting nothing from our government of how these facilities but you know it's kind of fun and you do learn a lot along the way it is interesting the way questions are answered or sometimes very telling and the guy was kind of chuckling actually when he had you know said we don't have any you know maps with that designation on it he knew it was a BS answer to get around having to answer so basically there's a lot of controversy but what is the proof when it comes to lazarre's claims after all this time you know what stands the test of time I'm not going to go over every finite detail on what people think is or is not true about the Lazar story there are you know a few interesting things this was just a copy of it but one of the things I went through is this box of archives and photographs and you know Bob would just I could pull any box out of just garage and he did not you know have anything to hide he's just like go for it look through it all you know but this was like a pay stub he got people say well why is it for so little and it's because he's just getting started with a job and they pay so little at the beginning it's not that much money even this has been hyper analyzed and people trying to see is it real because the name of the department is different than what's they know that's an older department so there's all these tiny little things that people like to go through and try to see does it add up but none of it adds up to is Bob telling the truth or not like his schooling Bob is always claimed that he went to MIT and that he went to you know he got a you know degree from MIT and there's no way to prove that the Bob's not offer him proof we can't find proof okay so let's let's just say he lied let's just pretend he lie i don't by the way that's not my position i'm just saying let's just say he lied let's say he was home-schooled and just had no education okay well does that change the fact that he worked in scientific capacity at Los Alamos no that's established fact

and I'll tell you why it's established back now

I actually made sure it was established back but the point is we can go back to when he was a baby it's like is that gonna change is this true about this story about what he's telling us now and so that that's kind of what I'm interested in I really don't care if he was homeschooled by gnomes

I like care if he worked at los alamos how did Bob walk George Knapp through one of the most secret and lockdown facilities in America at los alamos going into the maze on facility with cameras how did that happen it's it's like people try to belittle the story because they're afraid of the implications maybe let's stick to what we know Bob tried creating recreating what the badge looked like so that other people could recognize it maybe and then people say oh you've made a fake badge yeah I made a replica so you would you're welcome

so you would know what it looked like I mean just all these crazy stories I see tape up there on the right by his neck yeah he made a badge replica so you could see what it looks like

he also did diagrams and drawings of you know these are like on napkins he's like famous for napkins I have like a stack of napkins from Bob okay so this is like one of the first drawings he did back in the day of where the the saucer out of the nine that he claimed he saw the one that he dubbed the sports model that's where it was and he you know he kind of drew it out so people could see what it looked like from what he's telling these are drawings I don't know if people have really seen some of these but he saw a bunch of different shaped UFOs but from a distance so he saw there were nine but some of them like held that one the jello mold the one below that the top hat he called that one the light bulb he doesn't even remember it now he's like oh yeah that was weird that one was weird shaped but they were all kind of like down this corridor you know he only got to see the one little known parts of his story very elaborate one time you know in that section where he goes I was inside one he's talking about a UFO because I was inside of one and I said well Bob

and he goes now it felt all - he goes it was so weird first of all everything is gunmetal gray there's not any other color everything is rounded there's no corner or edge it was like an injection mold because what it felt hominis because I stepped in and the seats weren't for grown men they weren't for normal grown men human size right they were small and he says that was the moment when I realized this is weird we ain't in Kansas no more toto you know something's weird here it's kind of dawned on him and I think kind of the light display that came up with the alien writing probably sunk that right in at one point they were operating on a little piece on the ground and this display came up where side of the craft that he was inside to look at a very specific part of the propulsion system there was this rounded window partner I just went transparent but not like even glass you know it's just clear she doesn't know if it was there or not there but on that was very strange writing you know to us we don't know what kind of writing it was but he tried to kind of show what it looked like it kind of looked like amoebas you know he didn't know in like eyes but it was like that's kind of a replica of what he saw have you guys seen that before so there's all these details to a story that are just not well known because we get the bullet points okay another thing that he avoids talking about cuz it's so bizarre but he read all of these briefing documents that was one of the times he went out there was they just had him read through all these documents and he wasn't sure if it was like a test or a joke he doesn't really know what's going on but he flipped through pages and saw photographs and he tried to draw one thing that he saw on the left which was an autopsy page of a being and he doesn't like to talk about it he actually drew this though from memory and I loved it because that's all I know you'll have to make up the rest because he said that's what everybody does

they just insert bullshit you know you like that's what I know that's what it looked like that you know to the best of my ability so he read all these documents he goes I don't know if they were true it's like you reading a piece of paper do you know that's true he goes I didn't have my hands on that so I don't know that's true but there were tons of things that he read in these documents bizarre things back - how the hell did Bob know okay this drawing on the right that was done by Bob right after one of his visits to the base when he happened to see on the bus a strange airplane they said worked on like a methane fuel and he said it sounded like it was tearing open the sky turns out we now know he drew the back of the Aurora which is still a very secret plane that was being tested out at area 51 at the time he was out there how did Bob know how did he know it worked on methane propulsion how did he draw the back of it correctly if he was never there again it's really annoying isn't it because all these things are kicking in the ass like oh I wanna believe you but I want to know the truth I'm starting to believe you so then I found someone willing to speak with me after 25 years from Los Alamos after all these years everybody's making jokes that bob was the janitor at Los Alamos he never worked there okay he's in the phone book I've talked to a bunch of individuals that were that knew him from working with him there but I couldn't go public with it finally I found a brave individual who was willing to talk to me on the record about working with Bob Lazar at Los Alamos in scientific capacity being in briefings classified briefings which by the way the janitors are not invited to the highly technical classified briefings with Bob Lazar and his name was dr. Robert Crandall I have all of his documents all of his paperwork from all the contracts that he did during that time period at multitude of bases including Los Alamos during that time dr. Craig was telling the truth I can prove it what was your impression of what bob was doing at Los Alamos in the 80s I didn't know what he was

- anymore than he knew what I was up to but you did know that he was a physicist yes and that was very clear to you that he was a physicist at Los Alamos and not again like the janitor

so he worked there and he went on record with me and says of course remember bob bob was the jet car guy he was a rock star he looks like Mick Jagger how can you not remember Bob I remember Bob Bob was cool as shit and yeah yeah he worked at Los Alamos big deal and my big deal - boo it's a big deal man and he goes why and I'm like because he's got a bigger story and everybody says a good link - that is did he work at Los Alamos because if he worked at Los Alamos there is a possible reason he could have been picked up to work on a highly classified project through EG&G to go to the test site and work on this non-terrestrial stuff and Dr. Bergen was like okay whatever so I got him on record the guy's a really funny guy really smart and um next thing you know I published it next - shoulda warned him he starts getting inundated by calls by Stan Freeman just inundated you know I mean God you know I love Stan Stan and I like him we totally disagree because Stan's wrong so yeah so he attacked Dr. Crangle on the phone trying to belittle what Dr. Crangle said he goes Jeremy what did you do I this guy keeps calling me all I did was tell you a little thing and he won't leave me alone I'm like yeah he's looking to try to discredit you because he's invested in it not being true about Bob Lazar I said just tell him what you told me tell him the truth so anyway you know anyway you get around it here's a physicist work to Los Alamos inside the capacity was in security briefings with Bob Lazar make of that what you will now for my most exciting part of this story this is the thing that really gets me has everybody heard of element 115 okay so you've heard about that because of Bob Lazar there's no other reason you would have heard about that back in 1989 very obscure an element that we theorized you know we might be able to you know create a few atoms of one day

element 115 is a huge part of Bob's story because it's a very specific part he said that we had he was told 500 pounds of element 115 in fact if you remember his story that was the fuel source for the gravity wave amplifier and this sounded like total science fiction and everybody said oh it's very unscientific what Bob saying all he said was that there was an element that was yet to be fabricated by humans that is super heavy and has this potentiality to create as a fuel source for these saucers and it runs off of that well it's a minoes

we can't fabricate at that time we couldn't for at all but to this day and actually we will never be able to and there's reasons why we cannot fabricate stabilized element 115 in any significant quantity now the argument that people make about element 115 is that okay you're right okay

we fabricated some we have a few atoms of it sure but it's completely unstable just milliseconds and it's gone well Bob always said well he recently said he goes yeah that's true he goes but there is an isotope or I stopped a combination that will stabilize it just because we haven't found it it doesn't mean it doesn't exist so I called up some physicists at UCLA at Berkeley a couple in Russia and I started asking him there they're specialists and isotopes and they're specialists and elements one of them was very familiar with 115 across the board none of them wanted to talk about UFOs that was made very clear to me this is not about UFOs is it couple notes about element 115 okay cool

totally unwilling to talk about this on the record but consensus they all said yeah we absolutely cannot rule out a stabilized form of element 115 there's probably an isotopic combination because it is theorized that as you move into that realm it becomes stabilized for a long duration of period we can't rule that out so it is not pseudoscience to say that's a pasta ability and I'm like oh that's interesting cuz I know some like physicists who are like that's pseudoscience

you know what Lazar is saying well apparently that's not the common thought it's not so I don't know why people like scream that all the time

so it is within possibility that that is true now a sensitive part of the story is that a Lazar described this very specific way in which this element 115 was machined at Los Alamos freeze in the saucers the guys machining the 115 at Los Alamos didn't know what it was it would be shipped to them something called la 1000 that's what they would ship back and forth and that was the 115 Bob alleged that at one point he got some element 115 out of the lab out of Los Alamos yeah can you imagine now that's problematic

why did Bob claim that whether it's true or not we'll get to that why did he claim that well if his story is true he was in serious danger that is precisely why he went on the news with George Knapp in fact I wish I could have seen this I wish I could have filmed this the last second when George is about to reveal Bob's identity to the public on the news Bob and George start wrestling over the tape they're in the news station about to go live to air and he's like doesn't want George to air this tape he is scared shitless what's gonna happen when people recognize his face and George is like dude you're already out we tried to protect you by putting you kind of out there under your boss's name not a smart choice

Bob Dennis that caused some problems but so if his story's true he's being threatened what is the one thing that could prove his weather a few things could prove his story I actually believe Bob could prove his story I don't think he wants to I think he wants you to know the story but he doesn't want you to know for sure he's telling the truth that might problems for him but let's just say it's true the one thing that would save his ass

his trump card would be having element 115 stashed somewhere right making sure somebody knows where it is dude that's proof positive so if we're deciding to believe his story right now wow that that's a twist right there and he and he did claim it not saying anything out of line but you notice he hasn't talked about it twenty something year probably twenty five years hasn't even mentioned it cuz it was a sensitive topic you might have heard that he was once raided in New Mexico by a multi-agency raid they were looking for something and that is a story he doesn't like to bring up because it traumatized his life can you imagine so you're at home right you have your wife and your animals all this stuff and your house is just fucking raided and they're looking for something which you don't have okay

okay so I'm gonna show you this this is not element 115 okay this is just aerogel just say that first okay but this is a piece of aerogel before anybody knew what aerogel was that they used to package around the LA 1000 which is element 115 this is actually a piece from the 115 which may or may not have come out of the lab it's turned yellow over time right but this is a piece from that packaging material which is so funny because nobody knew what aerogel was back then in 1989 so they thought it was extraterrestrial they're like oh man it comes with a 115 it must be alien you know they had no idea

turns out you guys ever seen that aerogel it's like lightest smoke it's amazing it's like insulation or something it's light as smoke and it's just this little clear it doesn't even feel like you're holding it it's really strange anyway so this was part of the actual packaging from the LA 1000 and you know look this is Bob story in a nutshell he's the element 115 the flying saucers the government secrecy coming forward because he was scared for his life and annoyed at all of the secrecy and it's really kind of sad actually what what happened like how he kind of why he decided to do it I don't know he would do it again

I don't know he'd come out again you know I think he would have loved to continue working on this projects if he worked on him right I think he would have loved to continue it I got to bring back to one thing that that George has said to me and I showed you the other day which is it's the duty of journalists and scientists to investigate the unexplained did not explain the uninvestigated what does that simply mean it's just we need to look at the things we don't know not try to explain them as if we know them and so I've got a couple more clips for you that I think you'll find interesting the idea that bob was a disinformation agent or part of a program to mislead the public is wrong he's not and I can say that or knowing the guy for a quarter of a century the story he told then is the story he tells now he didn't add to it he's not making it more elaborate he's not remembering new parts of it it's the same story it's consistent all the way through

so that's you know impactful when somebody kind of tells the same story over 30 years there's some merit to that you know it's not changing one thing we know for sure is real is the impact that Lazar has had on ufology and the world and I love the way George says it and just think of the things that in the 25 years since Bob came forward with the story

there are those who it drives them crazy that he gets attention that he is obviously is he a phony he didn't go to MIT he made this stuff up I'm sorry but they lost Bob one you look at how far that story has traveled when you've got President Clinton on on Jimmy Kimmel talking about area 51 that aliens and then a week or so later President Obama says hey by the way at an event for Shirley MacLaine he mentions area 51 and I'm the first president to say it in public you know look at what has happened since Bob came forward the government has acknowledged there is a place called area 51 for a long time they they denied it they pretended that it would that the base that everyone could see didn't exist we know that there is a place called s4 they confirmed it to me Nellis Air Force Base told me that there was one we know that there is something called element 115 they've synthesized that it's not exactly as Bob described it but as he says there are different isotopes you can make different kinds of different versions of it and eventually we might be able to make one that's more stable scientists who the scientists who made it talked to Bob they called him the ones that synthesized it the first time were in contact with Bob asking him questions about 115 the area 51 meme has gone everywhere it's in the da vinci code it's in national treasure it's an independence day it's in the x-files the books the TV shows it is part of our culture all over the world our baseball team is named the 51s and we've got the extra-terrestrial highway on a table on the other side of this room is 50 or 60 products that are being sold product lines different kinds of trinkets and and collectibles from area 51

that's from Bob that's from bob lazar that's why this story caught on that's why it went worldwide it is now part of our shared collective experience and knowledge and it's not going away so it must drive his detractors crazy who those people who think he's phony because they lost and Bob one Aldous Huxley said facts do not cease to exist merely because they're ignored okay so you're pretty thoroughly up-to-date now and the bob was our story you know we could go into finite detail about any of the specific claims or what arguments people have for or against I'm pretty well versed in it at this point I pretty much know and have interviewed and talked with everybody involved from the beginning but also having covered new stuff and so that's what my film will be showing you it's coming out December hell or high water like that's my deadline so it's kind it's coming out December so this story has really just begun and I'm gonna take you in the movie through some areas of Bob's life which nobody has ever really been able to see I've been able to verify some things that have been big question marks for 30 years

Bob's life was not traditional I mean he was kind of an outlaw

he was he's a weirdo man and then he had this like jet car right just blowing fire he still builds jet bikes by the way he built me a flamethrower so they've really remotely in the desert so it's totally safe try like that besides maybe blowing myself up but he still likes to to do and make these incredible things so he had a multitude of jet cars still has this jet bike he takes around still draws on napkins and you know still looks like the same guy it's kind of an interesting photo right that's from one of our filming's different glasses same dude I have yeah okay I'll play it I have just like one minute clip and one minute clip of just audio so you can hear maybe why Bob is deciding to allow me to bring his story forward again I think it's important because you understand why it's happening so you can just listen to this one the biggest roadblock to understanding is the ability to dismiss someone because you don't see them as human as a person so what pisses you off

I mean disinformation and lies and attacks that have no basis in reality I mean you can disagree with me and say hey I don't believe that that's fine

I haven't presented you with enough information I I understand that I probably be in your position but don't fabricate stuff there's some important information that needs to be released and everybody needs to understand the truth to it and not distorted versions of it you really need to pay attention to what I'm saying because I have better things to do than come up with this I'm not interested in doing this I don't like being in the public eye I don't have money for doing this and quite frankly I could make up a better lie

but I have no motivation to lie this hasn't this hasn't helped me out it's something that it's information that I'm releasing and that's it

it's not an ordinary life that's one thing I would like I don't like living in a James Bond movie

I like watching James Bond movies yeah I mean one of the most striking things about Bob as a person is he does not waste his time on bullshit you know it's like he could make up a better lie would he know I I asked my wife one time I said what do you think of Bob you know cuz she thinks I'm crazy you know what do you think of all this you know she's like yeah he just doesn't seem somebody that would like waste his time with stuff like that I'm like yeah for 30 years wouldn't waste his time now when was 30 seconds of his life so that was you know that's the kind of impression you get from him I've one more piece of audio and you can kind of see why he's probably letting this happened now people who try to minimize who you are people have been trying to trivialize who you are people have been trying to twist your story based on absolutely absurd things that's gotta wear on people to a point you gotta set certain things straight it's time to pull things out by the roots just to get things reset and get people familiar with the story and who I am and this is what's true the divergence has increased just over time I'm trying to tell you exactly the way things were I mean when I was exposed to you think there's something more secret than that that the flying saucers are a government for some of this stuff just sounds crazy to me and I understand I'm biased because I'm behind my eyes and see everything but this is this is crazy shit yes I think it gets kind of annoying you know getting trolled and you know by people and you know oh you're such a liar why are you holding all this information because well do what back I've told you everything so I think that people inserting fantasy and fiction and their own opinions altering and distorting his story is precisely why he's letting this happen now you're gonna hear a story again and then I'll have some updates as I was able to uncover some pretty interesting stuff so to kind of conclude this part on Bob

because you're really going to see it in my film I I do have an exciting announcement which is nobody has seen this yet this is a little maybe two minute trailer with some new footage we get to hear from Bob very very recently and of course I've done tons of filming but you got to wait for my film but I can show you this little piece there using a can Film Festival to get the movie out to market which is pretty neat

so first time ever just a little clip to again update how much information you have on bob lazar exciting

nothing good comes from europeo forehead this is a reluctant UFO Messiah he changed his

this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there is a secret government within our government well there's several actually nine flying saucers flying this that are out there of extraterrestrial origin

the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan despite numerous inquiries and feelers Dennis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar he says he was hired to work at an area called S4 which is a few miles south of Groom Lake and S4 he says our flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities I did not believe that this should be a security matter

some of it sure but just the concept that there's definite group we even have articles from another world another system you just can't not tell everyone

it was like a Twilight Zone episode just kept getting stranger the fact that that was happening at all was the weirdest part

look it's been 30 years and all of a sudden you raised it to this level you know this is a powerful technology fearsome technology and you just don't want everyone to have they will become obvious how to make constructive as well as destructive devices from it it's my only guess as to why they have never released information it's kind of difficult once you release the technology to be analyzed and give it to everyone they can just run with it you really can't keep the weapon potential hidden you really can't look with ET technology you can literally rule the world well I am telling the truth

I've tried to prove that what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about

contact physical physical contact and proof from another another system another planet and other intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period and it's real and it's real and it's there

so excited for this film to come out I'm so excited to actually make the film I still have so much to do you have to edit the whole thing but this is the story that I've always wanted to tell you know since I first started looking into the idea of UFOs I want to know like you is Bob telling the truth because if he is if any of that is true

it is game-changing and I got to tell you through my movie process we're closer to the truth than ever before but you're gonna have to decide for yourself because somebody telling you something it's not as good but there'll be a lot coming out and I'm so excited to be able to bring that to you because like just as a fan of this I would love to see the movie myself so all of my work for those of you that haven't met never seen my work before you can spend weeks at extraordinary beliefs calm but there are tons of videos and clips and everything from my films investigations and reports I hope you enjoy it you know I make it so that everybody can just watch it for free that's the point you know the films are what I do now for a living which is great hopefully that works out but everything is on that website for you to just go to enjoy and experience again I'm not trying to tell you to believe or not believe or I'm just trying to provide you a little bit more information hopefully those two clips of footage one I know nobody's seen before give you a little bit more insight and the movie will provide even more than that because it is a very important story

messaging me Instagram Twitter hashtag bob lazar if you do that right now in the audience I'm gonna ask a few questions from Twitter take a second to interview George on something you know for 20 almost 30 years now you know George Minh standing up and saying hey yeah I believe Bob story but he's never really told everybody some of the things why so thirty years ago and to this day you believe Bob story can you just tell me a couple reasons

what you did at the beginning for about to earn your trust

first of all did you notice I had brown hair back then I think the fact that it's turned white is a lot to do with Bob Lazar might be my wife on I have something to do with that too you know

our hope for the film the what Jeremy set out to do was sort of to let the world know a little bit about Bob because once you get to know him the the improbable premise becomes more probable I was never able to do that in our stories we were always arguing about what school he went to and what he did at Los Alamos and what has happened since then and all the kinky little crap that ufologist said that debunkers want to want to deal with and I never got to really tell about Bob other than his crazy interesting interest is jet car and blowing stuff up but but it's what won me over I think back then is just getting to know what kind of a guy he was and that you know what ufology but I think most of the people are here who are familiar with that field you know what it's like for the phonies the people who cope up with these crazy stories they always have to keep adding to it to keep themselves in the limelight you know so one day they saw flying saucers the next day they got to say they were abducted

the next day they had sex with female aliens the next day they got a wife on Mars the next day they're trying time traveling to Mars and they always have to keep adding stuff up Bob wasn't like that he told the same story to Jeremy in this film that he told me 29 years ago and I think that that had a lot to do with him having credibility for me just stuck with the stuff he he knew or had personal experience with and it impressed me that he didn't necessarily believe in himself I mean he was skeptical about the things that he read the reports it couldn't quite figure out why he was allowed to see this stuff he we have entertained the idea that maybe they had an idea in mind that he might make him that it was a false flag or running up the flagpole and see how the public reaction and pull the rug out from under it maybe he doesn't fool that self as Jeremy pointed out the people who know who are closest to him know that he's not and the story has been really consistent and then the other part that's really hard to explain not only didn't dominate the conversation here up to it double your company had a hard time conveying with all the weird stuff that happened to must be devolved but also to others of us have this circle at those days while we were trying to work on verifying the story and building the case you know Amano really was strange and unpleasant things happen you've heard this story that he told about this tire being shot out as a warning but there were all kinds of other really weird things break into this house whether they'd just move things around break things on the board break-ins to his car just gamesmanship to let them know that they were around and then for me as I'm interviewing people who had experiences out there

two dozen different people who had worked at area 51 were linked over the years people who agreed my phone to give me information

one after another were visited by agents who told them to keep their mouth shut shut up

six people

regor oh you know today we take it for granted that our phones are tapped that it all goes into some gigantic database in Utah a monitor by the NSA back then you know I took umbrage at it when I realized that somebody was listening to my home but it happened again and again people who offered to give me information that would buttress the story that it was told by Bob were visited by agents who told them to shut up or else one of those ladies worked for the North County Court system and they had these two guys came to her she'd been a secretary and over at a stenographer in these meetings with a defense contractor at which they discover discussed crashed saucers and they came to her and said look you're still under your security oath we know that you travel back and forth to Los Angeles to see your daughter and that she comes here it's a big desert out there it'd be a shame if something bad happened and she was scared to death then 10 years later I went back to her thinking maybe she'll talk to me now she won't she wouldn't so those things were real the things that happened to Bob were real they have things that happen to all that circle were real somebody was really messing with them threatening him and it's because his story was true and I know if he figured out the the mystery of what was in the beginning of Jeremy's filled with the phones that was a raid that happened that wasn't thirty years ago that was a year ago anyway I didn't I didn't have I wanted to show that for the first time George yeah I wanted to show you guys that you know for the first time that that was real that did happen I experienced it and that was shocking because I didn't set out in the movie that something like that was gonna happen so I kind of started to understand a little bit you can think whatever you want that happened so really Bob George and I are sitting here and the thing is you've never needed a defender you've never needed somebody to talk for you and people have said that and the thing is you've never needed it you just didn't think it was worth your while but you have a receptive audience here of people that whether they believe you're not there they're willing to hear your story and I think this is a different era and a new time and I feel that now

so I'm gonna shut the fuck up and that Bob talked a little bit but I do have some specific questions but from all this experience and meat dragging into this world premiere and do you have anything you want to say before I start asking me questions no just go for the questions one for my buddy Dan in a clip from and this is my fault as a filmmaker I didn't clarify you can't clarify everything Dan in a clip from modern day he says he never saw an alien but in the clip of 1989 he references seeing cadavers that was both the clips were in my movie can he explain yeah that that was in the briefings there was we were given two or three page briefings of all the other projects going on and everything was compartmentalized so we had you know we dealt with power and propulsion and there was another group that dealt with metallurgy there was another group that dealt with any biological entities that in any way we just had little briefings between the groups so we kind of knew if there were any connections and that was part of the biological entity great thing so they had a dissection drawing of a creature that wasn't crying was actual photograph and it was the only thing that show it was there was a single organ in his body as if the heart lungs liver everything had grown together to a single organ and they had cut that apart and we're looking at the different chambers inside and that's pretty much literally that all I got to see from that but that was kind of fascinating in itself and I mean that's that's why the people just kind of granting your saying it and pull everybody slip up on words you said drawing first drew me a picture of the you know the alien our thing or is it so that's another thing I noticed you to get on the air

even with George you confess for so long bob is so like worried that you're gonna when he's talking he says the wrong words just listen for what he says you know just try to pick apart the words I think that's so important I feel like it's a new kind of day but Georgia I know you also kind of hate having the camera on you you love that scene I did where you're in your house and there's a war so you be good

I never do that again

I have forever bandaging a filmmaker with you guys science experiments anyway

do you believe undercover agents are in the room at this very moment yes what would you like to say to them I

so is it truth also George that one of the people tasked with following you during that time period actually admitted and proved to you that they were the ones following you that is true there were these week that one of the places we used to hang out was a watering hole called the smoker this is my Colonia

it's my gland we would meet there with to sort of strategize and figure out where to go next

there were a couple of other people in that small group and when the guy who was one of the ones who had followed us around he met me there this is years later and told me that it had been his job to follow us there and he got to like the bar so years later he was going so I got there coming in Fast and Furious you guys on all forms of my phone right here

Erica you wanted to know a question for Bob how close to duplicating the alien propulsion system did you achieve

we didn't that's that's just about it

I mean we we couldn't even duplicate the material that I mean even the casing material we didn't really even understand what was going on it's one of those things where we couldn't see what's happening and be proficient at using it but there wasn't a single thing we could duplicate at all at least at the time when I was there I have no idea where they are at this point okay what breakthrough I can't really understand it's my eyes

what breakthroughs did you come to with any of the research that you did there

did you experience any break-up when I expand the question did you have any breakthroughs when you were working at us for an alien spacecraft Bob did you have breakthroughs well anytime you you were able to decipher something it was a breakthrough I mean when we determined the fuel was a super-heavy element that was a breakthrough when we finally figured out how the reactor and the amplifier work together that was a breakthrough when we finally figured out how to shut the reactor off that was a breakthrough but I mean every single thing was amazing to us it's like you know having a couple little children playing with advanced materials it's it's just all you know it's pretty much all luck I guess you know I'm gonna put this down for a second

some of the things I know that you probably want to know because it was news to me and talking with George all these years and talking with Bob as well Bob would say things and it would kind of hit me like I didn't know that if I've been researching this and I don't know it I'm sure you don't you said something to me recently you said look I don't know for sure 100% that the physics I described and how it was

is the way it worked it was like magic

I was dealing you to the best of my ability to what I think we got to so you do writers but people people don't know that's basically what I want you to explain to them like you explained to me is you kind of give it your best shot of what you think it worked but do you know no there's no way to verify it a hundred percent you know in the situation we were in

we just really were able to observe and then come up with it pretty much educated guess as far as what's going on but that's the best we could do at that time our friend Mark says how fast is the super-heavy element decay like you know how fast does element 115 I guess decay

well the 115 we have the isotope we had the isotopes that power at the craft does not decay that's a stable element the element 115 that we synthesized recently whether it was a few years ago that does decay very quickly and any element can have a whole host of isotopes and those isotopes can have various half-lives or be stable so the isotope of the 115 that was used in the craft is stable and does not decay funny little story you know when gravity was admitted that it was a wave for sure I call Bob Bob Bob vindication man they said gravity is away if he goes yeah

well you know I have a 50/50 chance if you think about it Jeremy I'm like okay okay and then additionally you know the Bob you know they think they fabricated some atoms of element 115 and it's so good it's so hard to impress Bob Lazar about UFOs it drives me freaking crazy I just had to say that I don't know man

I just hope that you guys through the movie that you get a chance a little bit to to get to know Bob and he's not happy being up here like he's doing me a favor and it's not because he doesn't want to answer your questions he's tried he tried a Twitter account for like a few months I don't know it's just you're kind of done or I don't know you talk to yourself that you're uncomfortable admitted yeah no no I have social anxiety so this is like this is horrific to me

was a shitty filmmaker

where are you duck

I don't know it's a different car guys

Bravo guys the shotgun guy yeah the crazy ease of the wildlife but I don't know I guess about everything that you did whether people decide to believe your story or not leaders for a lot of time that's because they either don't have the information or they do but whatever a message to you can't see anything here but I mean you know

I came here to see you and I gave you travel from other countries from around the world

every country it's unbelievable to me the messages I'm getting thank you for supporting my work thank you for sharing George who's holding the mic on trying there 25 years against all odds and Bob's up or anything Bob if you want to tell this audience right now just what's what's important I'm sure whether they do or not what do you want to take away when they leave this auditorium now I understand it's an incredible story and I myself would have a really tough time believing it as I said in the film but the events that were portrayed occurred just like they were shown and you know quite frankly I prefer people don't believe it because then I don't get asked questions and don't get bothered at all but you know for those of you that can see through that all I want to tell you is that that's really the way things happened and that's pretty much it this fort Otto okay I'm gonna take one yell euler question like that no more

no no mornings you're really zero more such about to beat up you're important nobody any other but you're about to be kicked out by me personally no more how loud question I think it's really interesting I had a guy he's an aviation writer and he is very sophisticated

you know website about all this and he said one of the things is killing me is I don't know how those are came up with the support model cuz it is from an aviation standpoint it is showing the perfect the system we describe it's genius and I was looking over like well maybe he didn't make it up

okay so tell us about the sport bottle before we jump off stage

just tell us a little bit about what was most impressive to you about the sport model about the science of it about what you got to see inside of it what did it feel like to walk inside a flying saucer it was really more ominous than interesting at the time and everything is exactly one color it's all a dark pewter gray there is no sharp angle anywhere everything has a radius of curvature to it as if somebody built this thing out of wax and then let it melt a little bit and then let it cool off it's a very unusual I mean it feels unusual just to be in there but even the most simple things inside are and part of the cover completely alien the little doors that snap open are made of little hexagons I mean it's hard to go through everything that pops into my mind right now but it's difficult really to say but there's nothing that it's it's like going into a room where nothing looks familiar at all not even the room itself so it's uh was really something I'll never forget

small furniture dude well yeah and then said that's a good point to he but even that's unfamiliar why would you have something you know a seat that's half its normal size so it was really it's a shocking thing well I just want to say you know thanks for including me guys because this has been a ride I mean earning George's trust and him telling me you're never gonna get Bob on yeah but go ahead a good luck kid

you know that was awesome thanks for the encouragement

but thanks Bob

just so you know it's very clear Bob did not ask me to make a movie he's getting zero from this movie he actually gave to a science charity the last time we did a screening the things you think are just fucking wrong and go ahead and and and you know take that angle if you want or you hear the story and you can with your rational mind with your skeptical mind but with at least a part of your mind open you hear the story you can hear it I'm not gonna ask you guys the journalist at some point you gotta take a stand right I don't know what's the ethics of journals I gotta take a stand your friend David de Barros here yeah he had called it

he calls himself a hopeful skeptic okay he hopes that this is true he wants to believe like the poster from the x-files but he still uses his mind skepticism is a healthy thing in this kind of a field yes you're not to just buy it you're skeptical of your own story in in some ways and some of the things that you understandably so it should be you know but it doesn't mean having a clothes fine there's going to be a storm of information that comes out over the next probably six months what you saw is a glimpse it's just a glimpse into Bob's life it's a glimpse into the work that George Knapp has tirelessly done for 30 years into this story slowly I'm going to be releasing clips and little pieces and just you know let's get the information out there you saw the bulk of it but the conversation has started now if you liked the movie if you thought it was good to help people that is the whole thing let people know because that's how you spread the movie that's we spread the information thank you that that's what I got to say what final words final words well we live in interesting times I mean back when this started in 1989 Bob was kind of an outlier you know he was telling a story that a lot of the world wasn't ready to hear in the last 12 months things have changed dramatically you know that New York Times story in December of last year the tts a Lou Elizondo coming forward the those videos released by the Pentagon suddenly people in my line of work are doing UFO stories and they're taking it seriously and they're don't start off with funny jokes and put down sand and maybe the the pages turn maybe we are really arcing a new era that an era when Bob story can be viewed in a much more positive way without all the nitpicky bullshit

yeah well I mean I don't have a lot to say other than I know a lot of people came from great distances to be here and I really do appreciate that I appreciate all the support that I've gotten and really thank you thanks for coming out here

they actually talked about patina and there's a house got raided after that conversation that kind of blew me away

the 159 115 have questions

historians extraordinary especially if it's true it all started in the desert just north of Las Vegas a local scientist who's worked at Groom Lake said to be where top-secret weapon systems have been tested over the years he has asked that his identity be shielded exactly what's going on up there what's going on up there could be the most important event in history physical contact and proof from another another system another planet and other intelligence what would happen to you if the government learned that you were giving us this information you just wanted to stay alive maybe this has been kept from us for a good reason sir how do we know you are who you say you are my name's Bob Lazar I'm known for working at a classified base and reverse engineered alien spacecraft area 51 on the bat and we ever been made whole

before not believe I have no motivation to life the science and the technology can change us the boys look to the skies for answers

instead of looking at our shop

so those things were real the things that happened to Bob were real that had things that happen to all of us in that circle were real somebody was really messing with them threatening him and it's because his story was true and I don't know he figured out the mystery of what was in the beginning of geremy's filled with the bones that was a raid that happened that wasn't 30 years ago that was a year ago anyway I didn't know I wanted to show that for the first time yeah I wanted to show you guys that you know for the first time that that was real that did happen I experienced it and that was shocking because I didn't set out in the movie that something like that was going to happen so I kind of started to understand a little bit you think whatever you want

that happened so really Bob George and I are sitting here and the thing is you've never needed a defender you've never needed somebody to talk for you and people have said that and the thing is you've never needed it you just didn't think was worth your while but we have a receptive audience here people did whether they believed and Bob talked a little bit but I do have some specific questions but from all this experience of meat dragging into this world premiere do you have anything you want to say before I start asking any questions

no just go for the questions all right one for my buddy Dan in a clip from and this is my fault as a filmmaker I didn't clarify you can't clarify everything Dan in a clip from modern day he says he never saw an alien but in the clip from 1989 he references seeing cadavers that was both clips were in my movie can he explain yeah that that was in the great things there was we were given two or three page briefings of all the other projects going on and everything was compartmentalized so we had you know we dealt with power and propulsion and there was another group that dealt with metallurgy it was another with any biological entities in any way we just had little briefings between the groups so we kind of knew if there were any connections and that was part of the biological entity briefing so they had a dissection

drawing of a creature of noblesse withdrawing was actual photograph and it was the only thing that show it was there was a single organ in his body as if the heart lungs liver everything had grown together into a single organ and they had cut that apart and we're looking at the different chambers inside and that's pretty much literally that all I got to see from that but that was kind of fascinating in itself and I mean that's that's why I think people just kind of take that for granted you're saying and Oh everybody just slip up on words so you said drawing first

Bob drew me a picture of the you know the alien cadaver thing or it froze it so that's another thing I noticed you know get on the air even with George you've been friends for so long bob is so like worried that you're gonna when he's talking if he says the wrong words just listen for what he says you know don't try to pick apart the words I think that's so important I feel like it's a new kind of day but but Georgia I know you also kind of hate having the camera on you you love that scene I did where you're in your house and there's awards behind you be painted ethnic but I never do that again

oh yeah I am forever banned as being a filmmaker with you guys okay look let's let's say I get another question from the audience unless you have something you want to pull okay so by the way like the movie

I mean they're so random I don't even know where to start

there you know one of my friends actually asked me just bob lazar smell like science experiments anyway

do you believe undercover agents are in the room at this very moment and if so what would you like to say to them I so is it truth also George that one of the people tasked with following you during that time period actually admitted and proved to you that they were the ones following you that is true there were these week that one of the places we used to hang out was a watering hole called the smoke this is Michael alien this is my gland we would meet there with to sort of strategize and figure out where to go next and there were a couple of other people in that small group and when the guy who was one of the ones who had followed us around he met me there this is years later and told me that it had been his job to follow us there and he got to like the bar so years later he was still going out so I got there coming in Fast and Furious you guys on all forms of my phone but I you know I see one right here

Erica you wanted to know a question for Bob how close to duplicating the alien propulsion system did you achieve

I mean we we couldn't even duplicate the material that I mean even the casing material we didn't really even understand what was going

it's one of those things where we can see what's happening and be proficient at using it but there wasn't a single thing we could duplicate at all at least at the time when I was there I have no idea where they are at this point okay what grapefruit I can't really understand it's my eyes

what breakthroughs didn't you come to with any of the research that you did there were there any break did you experience any break to expand the question did you have any breakthroughs me working at us for an alien spacecraft Bob did you have breakthroughs well anytime you you were able to decipher something it was a breakthrough I mean when we determine the fuel was a super-heavy element that was a breakthrough when we finally figured out how the reactor and the amplifier worked together that was a breakthrough when we finally figured out how to shut the reactor off that was a breakthrough but I mean it every single thing was amazing to us it's like you know having a couple little children playing with advanced materials it's it's just all you know it's pretty much all luck I guess you know I'm gonna put this down for a second some of the things I know that you probably want to know

because it was news to me and talking with George all these years and talking with Bob as well Bob would say things and and it would kind of hit me like I didn't know that if I've been researching this and I don't know it I'm sure you don't you said something to me recently you said look I don't know for sure 100% that the physics I described and how it was is the way it worked it was like magic I was on you to the best of my ability to what I think we got to so you know grandma

but people people don't know that's basically what I want you to explain to them like you explained to me is you're kind of giving your best shot of what you how you think it worked no there's no way to verify it a hundred percent you know in the situation we were in

well the 115 we have the isotope we had the isotope that powered the craft does not decay that's a stable element the element 115 that we synthesized recently whether it was a few years ago that does decay very quickly and any element can have a whole host of isotopes Andals isotopes can have various half-lives or be stable so the isotope of the 115 that's used in the craft is stable and does not decay funny little story you know what gravity was admitted that it was a wave for sure I call Bob Bob Bob vindication that they said gravity is a way that he does well you know I had a 50-50 chance if you think

okay and then additionally you know they fabricated some atoms 15 and it's so good it's so hard to impress Bob Lazar about UFOs it drives me freaking crazy I just have to say that I just hope that you guys through the movie that you get a chance a little bit to to get to know Bob and he's not happy being up here like he's doing me a favor and it's not because he doesn't want to answer your questions he's tried he tried a Twitter account for like a few months I don't know it's just you kind of done or I don't know you talk to yourself you're uncomfortable admitted yeah no no I have social anxiety so this is like this is horrific

elaborate ok so I make films all alone in a room and fluted rows this amazing company they did the trailer he's a friend of George's way back in the day save my ass

I can't apparently cut a trailer what shit you are the god of the tree the John long let's get back to Bob so I don't know it's a different day maybe I'm in again you know Bob's never been one he's not a shrinking violet

you know Bob cannot defend himself he's a jet car guy the broth look guys this is the shotgun guy you know he's the crazy is lived a wild life but I don't know I guess Bob out of everything that you did whether people decide to believe your story or not leave your store a lot of times

that's because they either don't have the information or they do but whatever whether they message to you can't see anything here but I mean you know eight hundred and some people down here eight hundred people they came here to see you and I know you traveled from other countries from around the world every country it's unbelievable to me the messages I'm getting thank you for supporting my work thank you for supporting George who is holding the microphone trying for 25 years against all odds and Bob himself but is there anything Bob that you want to tell this audience right now just what's what's important about your store whether they believe you or not what do you want them to take away when they leave this auditorium

now I understand it's an incredible story and I myself would have a really tough time believing it as I said in the film but the events that were portrayed occurred just like they were shown and you know quite frankly I prefer people don't believe it because and I don't get asked questions and don't get bothered for those of you they can see through that and all I want to tell you is that that's really the way things happened and that's pretty much sport model okay I'm gonna take one young Euler question like that no more

no you look you're about to be kicked out by me personally and no more out loud question but the sports model okay I think it's really interesting I had a guy he's an aviation writer and he has a very sophisticated you know website about all this and he said one of the things that's killing me is I don't know how Lazar came up with the sport model because it is from an aviation standpoint it is showing perfect the system we described it's genius and I have photos in the light well maybe he didn't make it up

so tell us a bit about the sport model before we jump off stage here just tell us a little bit about what was most impressive to you about the sport model about the science of it what you got to see inside of it what did it feel like to walk inside a flying saucer it was really more ominous than interesting at the time and everything is exactly one color it's all a

our computer gray there is no sharp angle anywhere everything has a radius of curvature to it as if somebody built this thing out of wax and then let it melt a little bit and let it cool off it's a very unusual I mean it feels at usual just to be in there but even the most simple things inside are and part of the Palmer completely alien the little doors that snap open are made of little hexagons I mean it's hard to go through everything that pops into my mind right now but it's difficult really to say but if there's nothing that is it it's like going into a room where nothing looks familiar at all not even the room itself so it was really something I'll never forget

a small furniture well yeah and that's that that's a good point too but even that's unfamiliar why would you have something that you know is steep that's half its normal size so it was really it's a shocking thing I just want to say you know thanks for including me guys because this has been a ride

I mean earning George's trust and him telling me you're never gonna get Bob whenever go ahead and good luck kid

you know that was awesome thanks for the encouragement

thanks Bob

just so you know it's very clear Bob did not ask me to make a movie he's getting a zero from this movie he actually gave to a science charity the last time we did a screening um the things you think are just fucking wrong and go ahead and you know take that angle if you want or you can hear the story and you can with your rational mind with your skeptical mind but with at least a part of your mind hoping to get the story you can hear it I'm not you guys even as a journalist at some point you gotta take this stance right I don't know what's the ethics of Charlie I gotta stand your friend Dave tomorrow was here he had called it he calls himself a hopeful skeptic he said he hopes that this is true he wants to believe like the poster from the x-files but he still uses his mind

skepticism is a healthy thing in this kind of a field you have to justify it you're skeptical of your own story in in some ways and some of the things that used to understandably so but it doesn't mean having a closed mind it means asking good hard questions but being willing to hear the answer if one more person yells I'm going to personally kick you out of the theater is that it's not allowed

okay yeah we have a very nice night don't make me get you Jitsu aren't you

okay so well I think I'm gonna wrap up here with just a couple little things but look I don't know for for you guys in the audience there will be now a storm of information oh yeah by the way all might reduce the students are right here so don't even think about okay anyway there's gonna be a storm of information that comes out over the next probably six months what you saw is a glimpse it's just a glimpse into Bob's life it's a glimpse into the work that George Knapp has at least lead on for 30 years into the story slowly I'm going to be releasing clips and little pieces and just you know let's get the information out there you saw the bulk of it but the conversation has started now

all right here we go Bob Lazar is the ex-government scientist who in 1989 came forward with the fact that he had been part of a team of scientists who back engineered extraterrestrial discs flying saucers another words at a base known as S4 some 15 Mi south of the infamous Area 51 at Groom Lake Bob story is the main reason behind the state of Nevada changing the name of Nevada State Highway 375 the highway to Area 51 or S4 to its new name the Extraterrestrial Highway indeed Bob currently runs a company that manufactures and repairs Alpha radiation detectors he also creates CGI computer generated graphics and simulations for Technical and legal demonstration videos for which he uses his Mainframe supercomputer which by the way is the second fastest computer in the state of Nevada second only to the one at Nellis Air Force Base Bob also has a small photo processing lab in his home in his spare time Bob does pyot technical and Rocket research and throws desert blast his annual fireworks Blowout at the Nevada desert and if memory serves he also fools around with alternative fuels for cars he comes this morning with Jean Huff Bob's longtime friend and business partner who is the writer and co-producer of the Lazar tape Jean is a real estate appraiser and screenwriter his screenplay S4 the Bob Lazar story has recently been optioned and was chosen over three other screenplays on the Lazar story written by writers Jim cresen I guess that's right croon or cresen who wrote the morning after with Jeff Bridges and Jane Fonda Roy Carlson who wrote China Moon with Ed Harris and meline stow and David uh Rob I guess it would be Rob Rob who wrote casualties of war with Shawn pen and Michael J fox and co-wrote the firm with Tom Cruz and Jean Hackman so this is quite a coup obviously for an entrylevel screenwriter but then again Jean has had the inside track uh good morning mob are you there I'm here and uh Jean are you there yes sir uh welcome to you both thank you Bob is it really true uh it had to have been four oh maybe five years ago that I interviewed you uh in concert with John Lear you know I honestly don't remember that um my friends tell me I have about the worst memory that can be had but uh from what I recall years ago I remember John le apparently booking me on your show and never telling me about it oh yeah I remember that but I don't and then I really don't remember ever doing the show no there was a time maybe even a couple of years before that when we had you on for a short while or I think he called in uh that was it that was it he called in when Le was on the show that's what it was yes yes well I don't even remember that but I'll take everyone's word for it all right well in fact we now have such a gigantic audience out there that hardly anybody knows who you are uh Bob except for of course you know you ethologist and so forth who would be very familiar with your story so the great majority of the audience 99% have no idea who Bob Lazar is now I guess that means we have to begin at the beginning uh with regard to how you well first first of all Bob you're a physicist correct mhm or was at the time was at the time yeah um how did you become involved with or begin to get involved with whatever it is out there at Area 51 or is specifically S4 well let me try and give you the reader digest version um some years ago I was working at Los Alamos National Labs uh in New Mexico um one particular day I was going down to the lecture hall to hear Edward Teller speak who as most people know is the father of the hydrogen bomb yes I got down there a little early because I wanted to get in uh assuming there was going to be a crowd of people and actually to my surprise there's hardly anyone there um coincidentally that day the local newspaper in town the monitor had printed a front page article on me and right outside the lecture hall was Dr Teller reading the front page of the paper so I thought it was a perfect opportunity to introduce myself and just say hi absolutely um it was just a casual meeting and um the only reason I bring it up is years later I had moved out of Los Alamos after I quit working for the lab I opened up my own business that did some contract work for the lab and um also started a a 1-hour Photoshop for my wife uh that she ran there uh we later moved out of Los Alamos to Las Vegas and uh again some time later I decided you know I had missed working in the scientific community so I decided to get back in and send out resumés uh I sent them out really all over the place to uh the places where i' essent like to live uh live more um I really don't remember where else but one of the other rums I sent was to Dr teller's uh attention and I had referenced our meeting back then uh a short time later I got a call from him and he did remember me to my surprise and said we might have uh a position you're interested in I said great um I went down and was interviewed at that time there were a couple uh eg&g buildings by McCaron airport uh out here I recall Las Vegas um I really don't know what's there now someone tells me there's still one building but there used to be two before they expanded the airport one was special projects and I don't know what the other one was but in either case uh I was told to go down there for an interview the interview was uh relatively short and I really don't remember specifically what the job in entailed but they told me I was basically overqualified and would become bored with it in a short time uh I said fine but they said we might have something else in the future for you I said fine okay and um basically went back home figuring they had blown you off right um I really don't remember what the job was but it didn't really even sound too exciting to me so I it really didn't you really didn't ring my bell at that point you recall anything about it technician level or something that would have been morning I really don't you know remember this uh when I when I go through most of this stuff people are amazed you know boy how come you can't remember these facts you know this is a you know fantastic point in your life and yeah but you know it's also a decade old now and it's hard to remember specifics here and there however um as it turned out they did call back and had another position um the position was stated to be something that was involving uh a field propulsion system which to me in my mind sounded something along the lines of uh some electromagnetic propulsion uh something that might be used in space maybe uh I don't know an ion drive system using mercury vapor or something like that you you've always you've always been fascinated by a propulsion system anything anything with you know exerts tremendous amount of energy from you know explosives to uh you know high energy weapons anything along those lines propulsion and uh they um and coincidentally the article that Dr Teller was reading was about a car that I had converted to run on a jet engine now you see I remember that and then you converted another one I believe to run on hydrogen didn't you yeah actually I'm really surprised that you remember that I don't remember I so that is one of the number one things I get asked about I know have a good memory but for some that um but in either case I I um after a more or less lengthy interview I um uh accepted the job and of course I had to go back a second time can you remember any of the details of this rather lengthy interview I mean was a lot of it security or security oriented well there was certainly a lot of security or security oriented questions and so forth later on however keep in mind that I had just come from Los Alamos just a few a couple years before that's true where I had Q clearance civilian you know top secret clearance uh so yeah they really didn't have to go and dig deep back into my past to see if I was you know of Russian descent or anything along those lines so um uh basically the the job just seemed like a uh you know typical research and development job I was anxious to get started on it and uh things went on they all they told me is that it was in a remote area out in the desert and um that I would initially I would fly out there maybe once possibly twice a week uh just to kind of get caught up on stuff and they had to um uh reinstate my clearance which would take you know perhaps a couple weeks um maybe a month at the latest sure and um so in the meantime I was given busy essentially busy work to do or at least that's how it rang in my mind and this is typical too at Los Alamos you know if uh you're initially hired there before your clearance goes through sometimes you know obtaining c clearance can take up to 13 months so they don't just have you sit at home you'll you know before you go to work through the lab sit around and work on alarm systems or something like that doesn't you know uh usually below your potential but uh nothing to keep you busy that Ring's true I was in the Air Force they did that to us all the time yeah it's pretty it's pretty common so I thought well that's you know very typical um I had no idea what this would actually entail until I got into it and obviously they looking through their eyes I guess it it made sense that they couldn't they couldn't of course divulge what this job had would actually entail before they had uh you know gone through all the security uh and whatnot but um you know that's essentially how the job came about all right one thing that I would think you would remember is your impressions of Mr Teller I do as far as what well what kind of guy was he you know just simple questions what kind of guy was he he was um he seems to have two faces you know which is strange and in talking to him uh one on-one he's a very polite pleasant intelligent man um however virtually any interview you'll see of this guy he comes across as the most pompous mean person you have ever run into in your life pompas and mean um I don't know how else to describe him but um he was not nearly as short uh not physically speaking but I mean uh you know if you see him in interviews you'll see him answer questions specifically to the point short and onto the next question and not be very talkative not offer any information you know other than what you're immediately talking about and in person he was certainly not that way so it you know the exact opposite very pleasant and willing to talk about anything talk about any nuclear weapons or anything oh well that's what I was going to ask about last night I interviewed Professor mukaku uh never heard of him a very um preeminent physicist uh back at New York University and he too has worked with uh Professor teller and I asked Professor Kaku why he had not participated in the

hydrogen bomb uh development and he said he simply chose not to he wanted to go into a different direction with physics and um had quite a bit to say about uh Edward Teller and apparently he was consumed during the Cold War years with National Security you know with the being concerned about National Security and uh this is uh Dr tell you're talking yes uhhuh and developing bombs and in fact even today um the programs go on I guess with the Third generation of U hydrogen bombs sort of designer bombs Professor Kaku said anyway that's why I asked you about Edward Teller listen uh everybody hold tight we're at the bottom of the hour and we'll be right back uh Bob Lazar and Jean Huff are my guests and the story that you're about to hear unfold will curl your hair I'm artbell this is Coast to Coast a.m. now back to Bob Lazar and Jean Huff gentlemen you're back on the air again all right Bob uh so you you got the job you landed the job and they had to doing busy work and then well not busy work hadn't started oh um that's what I thought was going to happen uh instead um where did we leave off um well actually with busy work they were kind of well that's you know he had anticipated busy work but now you had to go to work the first day yeah essentially I I guess essentially it was to get caught up uh with what was going on and really to my surprise the security was a little more than oppressive um you know generally you're just assigned a badge and shown the general procedures and and things of that sort um this was a little different are you still talking about the facility near Las Vegas or are you talking about being flown up there now no this is when finally I was flown um I go to uh McCarron airport right by the eg&g building and I'd be flown to Groom Lake um as I landed there the first time right across from where the plane parked um there's a a security office or was a security office um and that's I I believe I spent quite a while there but uh you know reviewing you know how secure things are so on and so forth but um you know this is not where I worked where I did work was about for my estimates about 10 or 15 miles south of there we were taken there in a uh converted School Bus you know those big Bluebird uh jobs that was painted kind of a dark navy blue there's a lot of people Bob who don't even believe that Area 51 exists by the way much less S4 I live out here in prump uh I think I mean I can tell you people don't believe Area 51 exists well there are a lot of people don't but I can tell you Bob when when you drive up by the VFW here in prump at about 4:30 or 5: in the morning there's a whole bunch of buses out there and they've got signs right on the side of the buses I I saw it about a month ago and it just says Area 51 oh really yeah yeah well they're not not bothering anymore to keep that secret I guess now from the kingdom of nigh more Coast to Coast amm with with Art Bell here again is Art anyway uh so then they take you uh in some from from Groom Lake the main facility and incidentally Bob up on my website I've got a picture a pretty good one the best one I've ever seen of the Groom Lake facility and it shows what appeared to be three uh large hangers with the one in the center perhaps being largest is that your recollection three large hangers yeah three big hangers uh there are a lot of other attendant buildings but three rather large hangers I don't recall there being three you know obviously large hangers on the on the approaching from Las Vegas you know that that stood out that much above everything else okay uh I recall a huge satellite dish but for the most part most of the time I was going there at night and certainly didn't have run of place all I did was get to go in one time I got to go to the cafeteria um but other than that it was merely a stop uh toward S4 yeah toward S4 but um you know I don't Rec recall there being three large uh hangers really that stood out more than anything else did you ever see anything unusual at all at Groom Lake the thing I did see that was unusual ual was um some sort of advanced rocket or Jet Plane um people have called it Aurora I don't I don't I don't know if it was Aurora or or if even or if it even exists but um John Andrews uh from the tester Corporation and a few other Aviation Buffs kind of interviewed me more or less about that it was uh something along the lines of an X15 shaped type of craft now we were driving away from this as it was taxing but it was a uh a horrendously loud uh tearing sound that the engines made um and I think my original description was was that it made it sound like the air was tearing and that's the the best description I could give to it now I certainly have heard uh about the new generation is of uh scramjet engines that have supersonic airow inside that burn liquid methane and so on and so forth whether that was these I don't know but I did get a look up the exhaust as we returning and it was uh they were a rectangular exhaust with some sort of veins inside um that's all the information I can give and what it was I don't know but that was the strangest thing I ever saw do you recall the general shape of the aircraft was it close to what we would call lifting body no it well even though the X15 was a lifting body it was not a lifting body like you'd see on an F16 or something where there'd be a you know a lot more a lot more Wing incorporated into the body it was more along the lines of a long slender body maybe the cross between an f104 and an X15 for those people that are familiar with those planes very short stubby wings um you know which translates to me you know you know high speed of rotation uh High Flight speed and sure things like that but uh again I didn't get a very good look at it and uh I don't know what it could have been anything a scientific research vehicle or anything I'm certainly not claiming that was Aurora uh but sometime later some of those people were down in Rachel and they heard and recorded a sound that they interpreted as the sky tearing and played it back to me and it was in fact The Identical sound so a couple years later it was still operational whatever that thing was but that was the only unusual thing I ever saw there all right so you landed and they generally then uh you would I guess get off of the tarmac there and get right on a bus yeah well straight across from where the plane parked head in straight across from there in kind of a large parking area was the security building um and that's where we picked up the bus and went South uh the first time we I did go in and it was an extensive uh little get together with a sec security people there and signed all kinds of strange forums that uh were there a lot of people on the bus no not going down to S4 generally the person that accompanied me all the time was Dennis Mariani who was my supervisor at that time okay and and so then they had you sign all kinds of forums what kind of forums well everything from signing virtually signing away my constitutional rights so should anything go wrong as far as me uh spilling my guts spilling your guts y uh they would um you know essentially be judge jury and executioner um as far as the authorization uh to attain the clearance there that was an order that was signed by President Reagan which I saw on the desk um I'm trying to remember some of the other paperwork beforehand I gave permission to have my phone lines monitored um boy and can you remember any of the wording I mean s you said you signed something that would allow them if you blab to be judge jury and well I had sign something like that yeah I mean that that may be a slight exaggeration of how the wording was but um certainly I signed uh I'm trying to remember what it was like a 1010 agreement uh if you've heard that before I don't remember the exact title of the document but uh you know it says if you viol at um you know National Security Secrets you're you know it's 10 years in jails and a $10,000 fine does that sound familiar to you you that before I've signed something like that before but this was certainly far above and beyond that which was kind of shocking actually um but at the time you know you

pretty much just blow it off and say all this means is that I'm going to be involved in something you know extremely interesting and uh you know it's it's great so what you know I'm not I have no intention of violating any rules or uh you know causing any problems so there no sweat no I understand I mean by that time you're you're being you probably tantalized thinking this oh really I was you know it's uh pumped up going to be real fun exactly all right so you sign all the forums uh including one to jeta tap your phone huh right they did Uh I that was again before I went down there that was down at eg& and I gave him permission to do that um but that was only for a limited amount of time I don't recall how long that was for and me that's kind of a silly thing to do in the first place because if you're going to monitor my phone why tell me it kind of defeats the purpose maybe because otherwise they have to go through some sort of legal procedure and get some sort of Court uh something or another so maybe but you would think in the interest of National Security they could circumvent all that but uh well they probably do actually who knows when they need to I had actually doubted that they um were actually doing that uh you know once in a while everyone here little clicks and pops and buzzes on their phone and um you know I I really didn't think that was it my view is a good top is one you never hear well this is my point exactly sometime later I guess we'll get into that but uh when things turned sour um actually before they did they had come to my house 30 minutes after I got off the phone with Jean one day and we were joking around on the phone they came to my front door 30 minutes later with a transcript of our conversation and outlined were were the questionable phrases that I had spoken now this is amazing to me considering the closest FBI building down here is on Charleston and or or Charon to Maryland Parkway but I mean that's you know that that that's an amazing feat it almost makes me think they had a little mobile setup somewhere um well it is you're you're a computer guy and I've heard maybe you could confirm this for me that the NSC has the ability to have supercomputers which virtually are monitoring perhaps even millions of conversations looking not at the entire conversation but listening for key key words well that's how they caught uh that drug king pin down in uh where was it Panama or Mexico that's right and scanned every single phone line and uh just picked out certain words and grabbed them so I encourage my audience to constantly in the middle of a conversation just simply say kilo kilo art actually we say assassination president like that oh jeez all right well anyway so uh so onward to uh uh to area S4 uh I I guess is it a paved Road or a bumpy little ride that's a quite a bumpy little ride it's a uh a dirt road down there follows along the base of the mountain and um coming up to the facility it's right off of uh Papoose dry lake bit MH and there's a small mountain range on the side and built right into the side of the mountain is the installation itself the S4 installation and it's composed of hanger doors around one side and then I guess I believe on the east no on the south facing side there's a um is the main entrance into the facility were the windows on the bus uh darkened or could you see out as you were no you could the only place you could see out was the front on the bus most of the times I had gone down there was the driver a security guard and Dennis Mariani the security guard almost always stood uh right up front uh not sitting down but holding that bar you know which is right by the door on those buses sure uh in I don't know if it was in an effort to block my view out there or just to intimidate me and stare at me but uh that's how he rode the entire trip down there so it was always difficult to see exactly where uh we were and and what was in between right well there's really nothing in between it pretty much uh desert Dennis marani uh who who was he he was my supervisor what his exact position was was was pretty much unclear to me uh he's a stocky guy smokes a a cigar kind of very military looking short blond hair um it's about the best I could describe him maybe you know late 30s early 40s um not gregarious more like yes um so I I really don't know what his exact function was in the world he didn't wear a military uniform though did he Bob close right civilian but you can kind of tell military guys yeah just by the way they look and and the way they comport themselves and so forth and so on but you know again that's this is my guesstimation of what sure what this guy was about um was he your constant Shadow was he with you all the time for the most part for the most part until I learned how uh things operated there uh my I guess I shouldn't jump ahead that far yet um well I might as well for the most part you know for science to progress anywhere if you're doing any sort of research whatsoever um one of the things that is that is vital is free discussion open and free discussion amongst the people that are working on the project okay right well obviously you know it's how ideas are bounced off other people and that was the only way things can progress wasn't that one of the main uh contentious points during the development of the atomic bomb in the Manhattan Project everything was compartmentalized and oh the military just loves to do that and the scientists just hate it because they want to bounce ideas off each other exactly so you're saying really in 1989 that was still going on well you know probably well I don't know how would I know how bad it was during the atomic age but um you it it was very oppressive so much so that uh our job was very compartmentalized every aspect was split into groups of people groups of people are quite literally two people you work on the buddy system in other words the only person I can talk to the only person I can discuss anything with the only person I can relate to is the one person who I work with any other aspect of the project any other questions are simply not to be asked so immediately you're interfering with your progress in that if whatever you're doing interacts with anything else anywhere uh you know you've run into a black wall you don't even really know if you're the first person to come down and be assigned this task do you exactly there there told that I wasn't oh really yeah but um yeah you really have no idea what's going on and I'm sure if you found that you well part A connects to Part B which we're not allowed to see you know and you know I'm sure there would be some way to gain some of that information but uh Bob not only were you not the first person assigned that task but this might be an interesting point to tell them why you were told you were hired no that's true I was uh actually one of the questions I've always had is why did they hire me H certainly for this project um I would not be the most intelligent uh the most resourceful person that they could possibly hire out of all the people at Los Alamos or anywhere else in the world for that matter so I've always wondered exactly why they would have picked me um and so why then did they I I still don't know I've always wondered this I've ran a lot of things through my mind um you know different possible scenarios and they really none of them make any sense uh was it because Edward Teller just thought I was a nice guy and essentially Juiced me into the position it that makes yeah it sounds that way yeah but you know in a project like this why would something like that happen where every person counts you're talking at a project where there only actually 22 active people working on it um yeah but when teller speaks the military listens yeah that's true but I mean I didn't know him well enough um as far as my scientific background it was actually fairly limited uh the most I mean I was working at Los Alamos on the uh working with the accelerator at that point so it really wasn't a propulsion based uh job anything to do with uh you know what I was about to have my hands on maybe they assumed

you did have the right background maybe they didn't really know what they had on their hands well one of the I tell you we're we're coming up on a break and we'll pick up in this point when we get back everybody relax it'll be a good one um Bob Lazar and Jean Huff are my guests belt in it's going to be a good one all right back now to Bob Lazar and Jean Huff and the story continues here we are at area S4 south of Groom Lake and I guess by now you're in great anticipation Bob wondering what you're going to be doing I was actually I was just about to make a point before we broke and I can't remember it well that's why you have Jean Huff Jean Jean doesn't remember either doesn't remember either I think my shortterm memory he was talking right before we broke about it he had no idea why they chose him of all the people in the world but that's well actually Jean you had said why don't you tell him Bob why they chose you and M said I have no idea and we were talking about the work he did at Los Alamos right yeah he was uh I was implying something else and in other words I I was telling him uh reminding him of why there were vacancies why they needed to hire someone why someone wasn't in his Slaughter and we were talking about the fact that uh he was not the first one necessarily uh and that makes sense in other words uh if they had something they didn't understand I can imagine they would bring in a an array of people of different disciplines to take a look see well might that might have been the case but you know I to this day I can't figure out why you know if um certainly you look at my record and the way I approached things and the work I had done before was a little more Renegade and maybe that's what they were doing uh was looking for someone that would approach the project from a different Road and uh are you able to talk about what you did at Los elmus I I did several things um initially I was um working on the polarized proton Target uh on the accelerator the accelerator there at Los Alamos is a linear accelerator it stretches about uh if I remember about a half mile and it's one of the more unique setups in that instead of running a single experiment on the output of the accelerator uh the beam is split into different areas and all these different areas uh are I don't know really if they're leased or rented to other countries or other scientists uh but several other people and other groups from all over the world essentially can conduct experiments simultaneously uh at different times they'll uh fire different particles down the target uh for different lengths of time and you know everyone can run their own experiments and you know see what's going on there was also some Star Wars uh development done there um okay I'm I'm sitting here listening trying to imagine any application for what you were about to do and you don't at S4 yeah there there is there's none there was no there was no direct connection at all this is you know one of the things that uh has perplexed me forever um but how could there be but maybe this was the point that I was going to make in fact it is it just popped back in my mind what was strange uh about the interviews I had had was you know certainly there was some technical questions here and there um they essentially knew my background already but what they were most concerned was what was what I had done in my spare time which I found to be very unusual now you're what had you done in your spare time you had worked with propulsion systems in your spare time right I mean they were essentially concerned with more of my you know for lack of a better word playtime than they were with what I was or what I had currently done all right well let's take this back to Edward Teller when you had a conversation with Edward Teller did you talk about your playtime did you talk about well I was talking about at that time the static Ramjet engine that uh that was in fact that was in the front of the paper so we were talking about uh in fact at that time I had filed patents on it um of how the device operated uh

without the name for fuel pumps and things of that sort because of the type of fuel it used um what is a static Ramjet engine it was an offshoot of a pressure jet engine which is uh which was invented by Eugene blarf uh who was also coincidentally the inventor of the rocket ejection seat uh seat that's used on all fighter aircraft indeed um he developed that I believe in the 50s and uh in the 70s I had run into him and uh really as a kid back then started working in my spare time as I went to uh Pierce College at that time um working to improve on the design uh I came off with an offshoot of the design uh which was a little more complicated but produced a lot more thrust uh the basic design of the engine is it has no moving Parts at all um one property of propane is that it sticks to Hot Metal this eliminates all the needs for flame holders and things of that sort inside the engine which makes it more complicated um I'm trying to think of a couple other points about it but there were it was a pretty different design as far as jet engines go and uh with the changes I made it was essentially a different type of engine and uh after I had gone past the development of it on a test stand I built a slightly larger one and installed it in the back of a car and it was a convenient mobile test setup as oppos well and additionally it was something kind of interesting to play around with in the desert sure uh which is where the whole article came from in the newspaper but um all right well then I think you've answered your own question but some playing around with jet engines really doesn't qualify uh qualify him or her to work on something of extraterrestrial Origins no but but then again uh who does have qualifications to go work on something well there's there's a point there's a point so I I can understand and if here's how I would uh based on what you said I'll bet here's what happened uh the article in the paper the conversation with uh Edward Teller and probably his suggestion which probably amounts to more of an order that uh you'd be a good uh good person uh kind of a rebel to go take a look at the stuff they had at area S4 uh that's that would be my best guess that's a pretty good guess uh what what do you think Jean I agree I think that uh Edward teller's word carried all of the weight in the world and and and I also agree with you that uh uh who would have a background who would be qualified to work on uh you know a gravity propulsion system and an antimatter reactor and the things Bob later ran into and Bob's a comprehensive Problem Solver has a background in physics and electronics and propulsion and uh and I can understand why they'd hire him well yeah if you're going to go if if you really have extraterrestrial craft and you're trying to figure out what makes them go then you're going to go find somebody who works out of the box in other words uh is a bit of a rebel and and kind of works out of the normal box and experiments and Tinkers and is interested in propulsion that's the kind of person you're going to go for because there's nobody out there with specific qualifications for that job yeah obviously in addition to the probably other considerations of of a psychological profile and you know yeah that they were also very concerned with your psychological profile yeah they were concerned with uh how I handle stress in fact I remember one of the uh one of the questions was you know have you ever thrown Tools around in the lab or anything to that effect and I thought these were very strange questions for what uh you know what we were talking about but uh well in either case I you know I got the job and and and wound up there but uh H haven't you you ever thrown tools no actually I haven't I have I've kicked radios too one all the way across the room put my foot through it anyway uh so so then uh you seem qualified most every way as much as one could be qualified for that so here you come to S4 and uh were you immediately led into this area where these craft were no absolutely not in fact the first day there I went in and uh I think my first stop was to go to the medal medical office there I believe there was a nurse in there um I'm pretty sure that was my first stop and I had to go through a series of what I was told were allergen tests allergen test yeah they took my arm and drew a little graph on it and pricked each little area uh in my arm with different little needles no kidding and in fact I was not permitted back to work and I think for 2 weeks until there was a reaction or if there was to be a reaction with any of the substances they put on my skin and they said you know we're working with some extremely exotic materials here uh that we're not all that familiar with and we want to know if there's going to be any problem with it and I said well that's again odd but acceptable and uh I was also given an injection there too which was a uh oh yeah which was a wide spectrum what did they call it antibiotic no it wasn't a wide spectrum antibiotic it was a wide spectrum something or other it's always good to know what they're shooting you with yeah I thought now I mean there have been so many I'm sure which we'll get into later uh you know so many ridiculous stories offshoots of uh what actually had happened happen to me um you know people said oh well they injected you with Thorazine or so on or this was the memory drug that wiped out your memory so you could only remember back and forth and you know so on and so forth but uh I'm pretty sure that wasn't the case this was uh they were mainly concerned that about the uh oh you know here you're dealing with actual extraterrestrial materials and uh if we're going to be crawling around on them taking things apart and having contact with them you know they imagine they want to make sure that the people working on it are fairly safe well that in one hand weighed against the fact that you know don't forget the United States government fed Fallout to people from time to time you bet and uh you know did other strange things to them but uh you know when you originally when you originally told your story Bob years ago that wasn't known Hazel Hazel L was not around yet and and everybody regarded your story as absolutely incredible beyond belief uh but then when Hazel stepped out and said the following occurred everybody went in into kind of a stupor and said my God we did that so your story isn't so out of a lot has actually changed in the past 10 years if you remember you know 10 years ago too the predominant theory about how gravity propagates uh in any physics text textbook you know related to gravitons and now the predominant theory is gravitational waves which is exactly how some of uh and and some scientists and physicists at that time you know pointed out one of the many reasons they say the the reason the story can't be true was that this was absolutely ridiculous so and so forth and now it's spoken of uh as a matter of fact this is how gravity propagates through space and it's just interesting to see how things slowly over the span of a decade quietly change you know and uh that's one thing I do keep an eye on yes but um and I take it your arm didn't break out inappropriately so you passed no I think I think it did develop a small eruption somewhere but it was nothing uh nothing to be concerned about or so I was told um so we just proceeded from there as you know there is a group of people suing the government over illnesses they have suffered uh from work they did at Area 51 and that is proceeding quietly in court it's not going to be so quiet when it goes to trial but that's underway now so indeed there are some pretty exotic materials up there actually you just reminded me of something when was that jeene when uh uh was it right after that where I collapsed from the kidney oh you remember that you had was that there or after I had left the project no you were still in the project that was right after that right after they did these tests and gave him a shot you know it's kind of surprising I forget that like a strange substance and uh all I remember is that you were at a Toyota dealer or something like that and he was in he was in U such pain as kidneys hurt so bad he thought he was going to die and uh to that point Bob had uh never had any health problems or never had any sedatives or painkillers and the doctor gave Bob a shot of Demerol and I called him and he was floating on Cloud9 it wasn't even coherent and I came to his house to see what what was wrong and then he was literally literally high from uh from a painkiller they gave him just so he could stand the the pain in his kidneys so whatever went through his system certainly stuck there yeah so there was an adverse reaction to something do you think that was well of course you have no way of knowing whether it was the U allergy test they put you through or the shot they gave you or wasn't it you know an amazing coincidence that you know uh but he PRI something yeah I mean it is you know well I take it you went to the doctor I did yeah what' he say I don't remember I think he said uh he gave me a shot uh of painkiller uh Demerol I believe it was and uh he took a urine sample a blood test and um he asked if I had any previous problems any strange and you know obviously I said no no no certainly didn't mention anything about getting an ejection a strange place in the middle of the desert right um didn't they do x-rays or a CAT scan or something and find a Catan they did yeah they did a just an x-ray to see if there was any blockage uh but there was nothing a day later or I think the even the next morning everything was fine uh the x-rays came back negative and I believe the blood work came back negative too as did the sample so I in fact I think his conclusion was that perhaps I had passed a small stone and you know wound up in my bladder and then it would probably hurt coming out again but um you know that never occurred and you know whether or not that scenario is correct uh you know again it just speculation but uh I don't know that uh you just stirred that up in my memory I don't you know I don't think i' that's right that's how little bits and pieces come back um how's your health now by the way and and since then okay oh fine no problem all right um so anyway uh you pass all their little tests pass all that the next thing to happen was that I was um led into a room with uh quite a number of little briefing packages um briefing papers or these range from two pages to about five pages uh little folders with different aspects of the project um that I was working on this was uh I believe the part of the first day and the second day that I was working there um so they just s you down at a table and had you begin to read about yeah what these were just basic overviews of what each group was doing just essentially to give you knowledge of what the other facets of the project were about a general overall knowled no specifics whatsoever but if in uh for instance there's a group of Metallurgy and so on and so forth all right um also contain some of the names of the projects oh it did yeah all right uh that's a good place to break so relax we'll be back shortly the story you're hearing is a remarkable one and we're beginning to hear new details because Bob's remembering new details Bob Lazar and Jean Huff are my guests the subject Area 51 more specifically area S4 where as you will hear shortly extra terrestrial craft were back engineered yes that's what Bob did I'm artbell and this is Coast to Coast a.m. way back to Bob Lazar and Jee Huff gentlemen you're back on the air again all right um so here we are uh you're in a little room with a bunch of briefing papers giving you more or less an outline but not specifics of what of the work being done on actually at that point did they did they State what it was that was being worked on well at this point yeah this is the first time I really knew exactly what I would be doing and this is where it was stated that the the project excuse me the project was essentially that of back engineering an extraterrestrial craft that must be quite a line to read well it was and it was also hard to believe certainly going into the project I was basically a nuts and bolts guy and certainly didn't believe in UFOs

and thought everyone was crazy uh that even considered the topic I certainly believe that there was life elsewhere certainly life can exist on other planets other galaxies other other solar systems but uh I just found it very hard to believe that there was any intelligent life visiting Earth and uh you had never had any Close Encounter of the Third Kind no no and I thought people were basically crackpots that thought whacked out but also art he was into science and technology and he certainly wasn't well read I mean he had never heard of the you know Betty and Barney Hill case or he didn't know anything about uh uh uh the Roswell crash or anything along those lines I mean he wasn't interested he didn't pursue it and and if you all remember uh really a decade ago I mean some of that information was available but certainly wasn't prevalent to the point that it is today with websites and movies and television shows Oh indeed as a matter of fact before we proceed Bob I'd be very very interested to hear your reaction action I have interviewed now twice uh very rare interviews by the way uh hours long interviews with um Colonel Philip corso and I'm kind of interested to get your reaction to Colonel Corso's uh Revelations about the back engineering and insertion into American industry he did of artifacts from the Roswell crash uh were you surprised to hear about that this is the the first time hearing about this is that right what is inserted into all right Philip uh Philip J Corso Colonel um I re believe it or not I really am completely uninterested in the topic UFOs and and never follow it at all all right well this in the dark as follows from the kingdom of NY this is Coast to Coast AM with Art Bell on the CBC radio network this is a man who um was given the job he's now 82 years of age by the way he was given the job of uh he was actually handed a filing cabinet uh by a general and he was given a job of figuring out what some of these things were and introducing them into American industry specifically Bell labs and some others at the time and these were artifacts from Roswell and he is very very credible he wrote a book called The Day After Roswell What specifically uh what devices um devices that led to and I'm going to it's going to be hard night vision scopes for example um fiber optics for example the transistor for example a lot of uh leaps that by the way particularly the transistor uh there's not much of a paper trail for uh if you if you look back at the development in Babs of the transistor there's not a big paper trail yes it arrived but there's not a big paper trail about how it arrived well well I'm so skeptical of something like that the the reason being well let me tell you certainly you've seen pictures of the first transistor we know it was developed at Bell Labs we know there were a couple guys working on it um but you know what the first transistor was it was essentially just I mean it was more along lines of a diode just a right a p a PN and a p Junction it's on a big slab of silicon it really couldn't do anything certainly if we had had been given that advanced technology at that time um wouldn't it have been something a little more down the road uh a lot of it was a lot of it they had no idea and uh well is he saying that uh he worked with some of these guys or hinted to them or or was this all a big conspiracy and everyone was no he was he was just a middleman and his assignment was to take something that looked interesting and take it to American industry and try and determine the function and whether it could be duplicated or not it's a long story and I don't want to bur you with it but alob he's he's highly qualified I mean this guy is I'm not immediately debunking him but I you know it's is my natural reaction to jump on that he was an officer in the military and held some very losty positions right oh absolutely well I'd actually be interested to to look at that I actually gave him UFO magazine so he could read about it but he doesn't read about UFOs so I understand it really is true people don't believe this about you uh Bob they think you are the guru of uh

euphology and oh Bo have you got the wrong guy yeah and it just isn't true no please you see I remember the interview I did with you before I remember it very well anyway uh so uh here you are reading about all of this and you get sort of an over view of it all and probably by what are you thinking by then I mean is your mouth hanging open extraterrestrial is it it is to some extent and another part of me is beginning to wonder whether or not this is true at all or if this is some some sort of uh psychological test uh you know everything else was so way out essentially uh maybe this is you know another game that we're playing maybe they're just trying to uh determine what reactions of people in science would be to extraterrestrial craft or the fact of extraterrestrial presence of any kind at all right and and certainly all these thoughts had gone through my mind um from there um the days have kind of Blended together in my mind I don't it's hard to separate what happened on each day after that but um I believe that the next time I went there uh was the time that I was actually let in through one of the hanger doors now normally we drove alongside of the installation and came in the main entrance mhm um this one time we drove up and one of the hanger doors was open in the hanger doors as plain as day or in the hanger door uh as plain as day was the craft that I had later labeled the sport Model A Very Sleek looking uh very stereotypical Flying Saucer um my immediate reaction was this is the new generation fighter that we're working on uh for whatever reason it's saucer shaped but uh immediately in my mind I said this explains all the UFO sightings through throughout history has just been the development of this thing here it is right here it is this makes you know perfect sense I've got a model 5T away from me here a tester model which I believe the tester Corporation built based on your description right it looked exactly like that is that what we're talking about the sport model you you call the sport model yeah very Sleek sporty looking um yeah that's it exactly I'll be damned all right um so you drove by this thing we actually stopped in front in front I was led out of the bus uh the security guard first then Dennis and myself Dennis walked on ahead of me and um the security guard told me to keep my eyes forward and just follow Dennis into the back and at the back of the hanger there was a door that led into to a hallway in the office areas um I walked right by the craft uh the door was off the craft or hatch whatever you want to call it right alongside of it was an American flag adhered to it a little sticker not really CL flag now all that did was cemented in my mind thinking well this is you obviously this is it um I slid my hand along the side of the Craft um which the guard didn't appreciate and I was told again keep my hands at my side what did it feel like walk forward it I I say it felt like metal and the reason I say that is because it was cool to the touch um so yes could been an advanced ceramic or something absolutely but to me it felt and it appeared like metal um we continued in and this is where I first met um the person that I'd be working with Barry castio or Castile however you pronounce that um and this is when I first saw the initial components of the craft uh that had been taken out so they had begun to gut this thing then not this particular one there was more than one there how many there were actually nine craft not all like this but from what they told me from what I saw there were nine craft and don't ask me where they came from or how we got them or anything I have no idea but um the craft were in different uh really different states some were completely dismantled uh some looked as if they would be operational you know that they hadn't been touched at all um but apparently from what I understand all the crafts had the exact same reactor and propulsion system system in them did any of the craft look look as though they had been in a collision or crash uh no the only one that had damage to it looked intentional it was a um craft that had a a it's kind of hard to describe but the area around the craft the lip if you will was very Broad and flat and thin and it looked as if it had been stood up and a projectile fired through it uh the hole from the distance that I saw it looked around 4 in but it could have been at any side it just it looked uh as if the metal was bent outward and uh now that could have been dropped from the sky someone could have fired a a projectile through it uh who knows again well alone is very interesting in other words we're not dealing with Superman's cape here holes could be blown through it right of course on the other hand it's an extremely unscientific test you take something as prized as that you don't stand it up and fire a cannon at the thing or a Howitzer um you certainly you know take a small quantity off and you know do your analysis of that that piece but for whatever reason that was the only one that looked like it sustained any damage um some of the other craft were um dismantled to some point but certainly not wrecked uh the only craft that I was permitted to work on to touch to have anything to do with was the craft that I term the sport model that's the one that you have a model of there well as you turn around as you walk in on all of this though Bob you no I did not see this all at one time this is I saw this one craft now the hanger doors are all the hangers are all next to each other and only at one time uh you know way down the road were all the bay doors open at one time and I got a glance to see in what was the other in the other hanger doors but for the most part all I at this point all I knew was that there was this one craft and now in my mind I convinced that this is just a uh US manufactured extremely secret you know fighter reconnaissance craft who knows what but and the the little American flag did that for you oh without without question that was it it's a done deal um so that's what do you say you look at and say turn around to your uh companion we'll call him and say wow or my God or where did these come from nothing all I just had a smile on my face if I remember walked into the back door and then uh you know the introductions began the only other person I really interfaced with was um Renee uh I don't remember his last name um but and I actually can't remember what in the world Renee did but for the most part Barry and I worked closely together um now this is also the first time that um my supervisor left me alone uh with Barry and um you know this is where the learning process essentially began this is where my view of everything changed did they tell you at that point what your specific job was in other words there it is and it's sort of like okay what am I supposed to do well that that's what this you know that that's where we begin now this is exactly uh what this meeting with Barry uh entails is the description of precisely what I'm supposed to be working on what my function in life is now at this place uh and this is where I find out that we are essentially well number one that the briefings I was reading are correct in other words they are extraterrestrial right these craft are not extraterrestrial the the uh scope the aim of our project is now to back engineer these craft or this one particular craft uh with the intention of duplicating it or duplicating the sub the subsystems within it uh using Earthly materials so that's that was the project uh now this hit me quite hard at that time and needless to say now this night I didn't get any sleep it was fairly exciting before that but um and certainly Barry just telling me this wasn't enough this is when we also had some demonstrations on what we had found out um or what information had be had been gleaned so far from the technology that we've seen um you know it was all very fantastic and uh I mean it was absolutely mindboggling well I know you don't follow all this but I have to ask had have you seen Independence Day oh absolutely yeah oh okay good at least you've done that uh you remember when they brought everybody into uh Area 51 and they opened the big door and you want to see well they invited me to the

uh premiere of that oh they did yeah in fact they made me stand up for some reason they made you yeah and they introduced me um I see but um in fact someone called I don't remember the people involved there but when they were talking about the movie The Making of the movie so on and so forth the uh lab technician there um I don't remember his name in the movie but who wore the white lab coat they called The Bob Lazar guy yeah Dean delevin was the writer I don't remember the other people that were there but uh I thought that was pretty funny but as they said they had taken uh the for the movie they had taken much of the UFO lore stories and everything that had been circulating around for years and you know threw together the script in a short time and you know produced it so that wasn't uh course it looked nothing like that by the way but um you know the idea was the same same right same idea uh all right well we're at an interesting juncture here and the real fun is about to begin uh were you told that you were going to be working on one specific area of back engineering or were you going only really only Power and propulsion system and everything else is essentially off limits meaning you couldn't even touch it no I couldn't touch it however I did get uh I did get to go on the craft uh one time and this was for the express purpose of only seeing the placement of the reactor and how the the gravity amplif fires worked uh how the emitters moved freely underneath on the the primary level and uh just how all the subcomponents you know fit together all right um that's a good place to hold it we're at the top of the hour take a good U few moments to relax and we'll be right back to my guests Bob Lazar and Jean Huff and gentlemen I have a surprise for you uh Bob you were in effect recruited I think by Edward Teller mhm I have a friend who's listening to the show this morning as we speak uh believe it or not all the way down in Perth Australia his name is Stan Dale and he was also recruited by Edward Teller and he's got a question or two for you I'm going to see if we can bring him up um uh all the way from Perth Australia there's a slight delay in the phone line transmission uh Stan are you there uh yeah art okay very good um Bob Lazar is on line and I know you followed the Lazar story and you might briefly just very briefly recap yours and ask a question uh all right very briefly um I was working um in the computer business in Dallas in 19 oh I think it was 7071 and um I among other things I was also uh doing some investigation for the FBI uh at the corporation where I was working as an undercover um kind of plant MH um during this time at this company where I was working was a a large um uh Corporation it was called delex Optical at the time had 100 subc corporations and a lot of them operated in Nevada and um during the time I was there I was approached by one of the senior Executives of this company to go meet with the Dr James R Maxfield at the radiation research Clinic over a couple miles from where we had the office in Dallas and I I didn't go for about a month and then um I met this same executive at a um morning coffee um in the executive tea room and uh he said to me I hadn't been to see his friend Maxfield and the reason he' asked me to go is because I had talked to him about some work that I've been doing in my time off my private time at home in my own laboratory working with two things one was a thermionic electrical converter and the other was a rather the novel method I thought of propelling a flying aircraft which was circular-shaped and you know flying SAU you would call them today mhm anyway um in the course of having told this guy just over coffee Well he kind of got reasonably interested in it and told me I ought to go talk to friend of his and didn't do it so 30 days passed then he says to me look you haven't been to see Jim Maxville yet please go this afternoon I booked you an appointment at 3 so I go over this place and it's not like a place that sees people very often it was um it was open the door was kind of a jar but there was no cars in front of it and daylight and um I walked in the lights were off down the hallway and I walked down the hallway and it was kind of dark and this suddenly this nurse um well I guess a receptionist type lady appears out of nowhere from the S and say yes can I help you I said oh gee I didn't know anybody was here look I I think I've got the right building I'm looking for this Dr James R Maxville and um she said oh yes Dr Maxville is here he'll be out in just a second he's down the lab and so sure enough within a minute or so this big tall dude comes out in a white you know medical coat smoking a cigar and wearing cowboy boots and says ah yes yes I've been expecting you come on into my office and at this time time is when I first got introduced to uh this clandestine organization in the United States that was headed by Dr Edward Teller and who Maxville worked with with with teller and this organization um had been working since the mid-50s on something like 50 some OD projects all related directly to um Flying Saucer technology if you wish to put it down to that level um I was just the the latecomer on the scene they showed me about their BAS down at the South Pole and the ice cap how you had to access it by submarine or something similar and um they explained to me they knew what I was doing they even knew what I was thinking virtually because they asked me about my physics and I said well look thinking I was talking to some of the greatest physicists in the world which which I was um I didn't have my degree in that area and uh you know I said well look guys um sir you know I um been working on a way to to unify gravitational electromagnetic and magnetic effects uh and he said oh look spare me all that he said you're working on anti-gravity and let's get to the to the me matter how are you doing it and that's when they started or when he started telling me um that I need to finish my research with them down in Australia instead of America and that's why I'm here today is because those guys packed me up and sent me down here we parted ways um in 1972 or three I think it was I was only with him for about a year and U I got rather um disenchanted with all the techn ology they were holding back from the people I still was young enough to think uh that we could um that we could U Save the World by giving technology to you know countries that needed food and grain and water and stuff shipped back and forth rather rapidly but uh anyway because of that we parted ways in a in a real huff and um I kind of hid in the bush for a while because they they really kind of thought' be better if I was buried and then after coming out of that I wrote the book The caus Conspiracy to kind of be insurance and told a lot of what I had gone through in there and left the rest for I'll tell the rest if you get short with me so uh now that's my side Bob that's a did you story did you ever run into Jim Maxville at all on your side of it no I haven't actually now you I've got a thousand questions now but one of the uh a prominent one on my mind here is what what function what was teller's function well he seemed to be in charge or overseer of all the projects at the highest level that's all that I was told see this is something I've always wondered about the project down down where I worked and uh you know no one really ever spoke of him but I got just a gut feeling that he was silently in charge of everything and uh it's well what you're saying is also very interesting because a lot of what uh you're talking about seems to mimic some of the things we were working on uh in fact Bob when if I remember right when teller called you when you originally got the call from him to U contact the gentleman at eg&g teller said that he was no longer active but worked in a cheap consultant capacity that's right uhuh something happened after I left because in fact I'll tell you I I had minders appointed down here who really run this country and and run the prime ministers my minders operate out of a group called The Melbourne club and they're you know the old of British Raj you know

cigars and Port white-haired guys anyway they brought me into their Halls of power and I had lunch a few times with the King Pins there and my my mentor was uh Sir John Williams and um uh Henry Somerset Sir Henry Somerset anyway we were sitting there one day at lunch and they were talking amongst themselves about someone moving in on them or they were like like an undeclared war status and that they were losing and they never mentioned aliens or that kind of stuff so so don't jump the gun but I you know I heard them say well yeah Henry it looks like um we're going to lose this you know they're they're just moving in and and I waited and nothing else was said and I said well excuse me gentlemen I said by they you know thinking I'd be clever I said do you mean the European economic Community because we've been talking you know large corporate money deals in the in the country and they both look at me like I'd you know done a rude at the table or something and said oh maybe we'll do some fishing up the farm this weekend and yes John and you know immediately I knew that I asked a question that I should have known the answer to already and didn't anyway they they indicated at that point that they were being taken over well I got away from the organization and wrote a book and all that years passed and about 7even years ago I have a friend in in Scottsdale Arizona named Conrad Murphy and Conrad goes to a lot of places he's a he races boats and cars and he's he's you know fairly active fellow in business anyway Conor is invited to give the morning devotional at some big business breakfast like for the you know Arizona 500 Club or something like that and and so he rang me he says look guess who I'm going to give the the you know the breakfast benediction right next to who's sitting right next to me next week is is you know Edward Teller and I said wow I said can you get to Dr Teller and say you know take a message do I want to talk to him he said not a problem so I waited and waited and the week passed and so conr brang me back and he says wow he says well I sat next to him and he said you know it was all kind of you know normal conversation give the benediction eat a bit and he says after he had a couple bites I said to him look um what do you know about um uh this fellow named Stan Deo you know down in Australia working on anti-gravity and you know flying saucers and he said teller looked at him very blankly and said don't know the fellow he says oh that's odd and he reaches in his coat and pulls out a copy of my book with my photo on it and turns it up in front of Ed teller he said the blood drained out of his face and he looked away and a general over on the side who was in uniform came over and took teller and said Dr teller's got another meeting and took him away so I wondered at that point whether the teller was in charge of anything anymore you see what I'm saying H I do that's very interesting I've never been able to get back to the team it's uh you know I think they did lose whatever whatever was trying to take him over did and so anyway uh after all of that Stan uh had to sort of lay low for a while and he just sort of ended up staying in Australia well art uh I had to give up my US citizenship to keep from being extradited the time that they were trying to to get to the bottom of this okay I'd love to be back in this were they trying to prosecute you for for anything I mean what was well I wasn't sure a lot story sorry sorry say again see that's a delay we have oh I sorry my fault uh no just go on it's what what what was the reason what were you uh were they trying to prosecute you for uh there were a number of things Bob one of them was that oh there were a number of things geez can I just put the dog on she wants to say something here just a second I don't know um the as I said to you I was doing some undercover work for the FBI and and they deny of course that there were 700 of us doing it's a it's a clear dog from from Australia believe me it's coming through very clearly these are the most popular dogs on the planet

they've seen a bird out here and they're trying to eat it all right well the question the question is uh Stan were they trying to prosecute you or were there threats on your life how serious was it both both um when when I went underground they they had really determined they were going to put me underground permanently in in Melbourne well as a result I ran and for a little over a year I I traveled in the Australian bush with you know let the hair grow out and wore the sunglasses and Tra with the hippies and whatever just disappeared uh finally I got hungry and had to come back in and U when I did I came in under an assume name and worked for a while and uh but eventually they caught up with me because I applied for work in in companies and had to show my passport uh when I what was the uh can I interrupt you for a second what what was the threat that you presented to them were they afraid of the information that you had or okay so that that was their main concern that you were running around with information that you you could possibly divulge to someone else and well first of all I would be able to identify them I mean I could identify you know like by name the people were ahead of it in in the the um um aeronautic Research Center at Fisherman's bin in Melbourne and uh in the Australian Club who of course control the prime ministers of this country and there was a number of things that I I was privy to that would be rather embarrassing but in their defense let me say this now that I've had time to think about it if I'd have been in their position and H they were holding the secrets they were and were under the pressures they were I would probably have ordered my execution as well um it um it's bigger than one person's life it's it's a really I'm sure you would appreciate this Bob what we're talking about is a cover up of incredible proportions were you able to continue your research or did they have all the requisite Hardware of course they did I I did do some I I did play around a bit what I could do but um you I couldn't I didn't have access to high temperature coating I couldn't put my barium tyen or anything else on on the U the capacity of surfaces uh but your little that video you did with the little ship that had the thermionic converter on it m u i don't know why you had to have an element whatever it was 115 because uh we were quite aware that you could convert um thermal energy at around 37 um um ghz on on the on the sampling frequency you could you could take random Heat and converted into flowing electric energy well that's just a thermionic generator I mean yeah that's it that's it yeah but all that does that yeah that's just uh that's just providing electrical power that's correct that's correct as I say we didn't need 115 to do that though well yeah no one does I mean that's how uh yeah I mean space uh space thermionic generators just use uh you know plutonium to warm uh essentially a you know a thermocouple using the you know cabback effect or whatever to uh produce you know electrical energy however the the basis of The Craft that I worked on the electrical energy was merely a byproduct that was not how the entire craft operated that's where the 115 came in now the the other thing I noticed here you're using gravity wave a and gravity wave B Focus uh Fields MH um in the stuff we were working on it it um the field we would generate was in a a toroidal field that would curl that's exactly how this was generated it was essentially in a toret uh around the craft ah okay um in fact there's I just have some um some of the animators uh gave me some fantastic Graphics that uh I haven't really been able to post anywhere but I did want to put them up on the web somewhere because there are a lot of people that are interested in the actual propagation of the gravity field and I was just about to uh give those to the guys that uh handle our web page and uh you'd be uh it might be worth having a look at that what's the uh website uh it's look uh yeah just go to my site and you'll be able to jump right over Stan we're out of time in this half hour but what from what I've heard I think that you two should be communicating I know well I never have been able to reach Bob he kind of did like I did went to ground I think yeah well what I'll do is I'll provide Bob with your number in Perth okay if with your permission is that all right fine excellent all right email might work well too right yes it does work well and we can make those arrangements as well so well that would be fine yeah I'd like to uh talk to them all right Stan um uh thank you very much and uh we'll put you two in contact all right good night all right good night from uh America and um we'll be right back with Bob Lazar and Jean Huff this is Coast to Coast a.m. uh Jean and Bob you're both back on the air it's kind of interesting when you listen to people like Stan and you listen to people like Bob as far as we've gone with the story it's all laid out in such a calm matter OFA way that I think a lot of the public has a tendency to lose sight of the implications of what they're hearing but you've told the story so many times Bob that I guess it comes out that way sort of in in a matter matter OFA way huh yeah it pretty much does um all right let us return to your story now you're in you've had a chance to get in the craft and what are you doing what are you working on what are you seeing well if I remember this I have just uh met with Barry and we're now going over things um let's see well this is as I said when I first realized exactly what was going on what the implications were and um precisely what I'd be doing um in the room this is a lab off the main hallway and um in the room is uh one of the reactors from one of the crafts and one of the amplifiers um from one of the crafts also how big are these um the reactor I would imagine is about oh 2 feet somewhere but 18 in 2 feet somewhere in that general area not really big then no not not not large at all odd looking thing uh has a bottom plate and then uh half of a sphere on top of it um the amplifier itself um is about getting about 2 feet in diameter probably 4 feet long cylindrical shaped uh with something that would look like plates on the outside of it black and color um you know these are very unusual and essentially hollow uh very very unusual looking devices um this isn't actually the amplifier that I always catch myself calling it that it's the emitter it's the device uh that is moved on a pivot and it's where the gravity wave actually is emanates from uh quite similar to a horn on a microwave system um you know as it turns out gravity waves behave a lot more like microwaves um at least the gravity waves that are being produced by this system do uh so you have wave guides and things of that sort that you'd see in a microwave system um those are the main components of the craft that were in the lab at that time what does that suggest uh or tell us about the nature of gravity well actually you have to look and see what we really know about gravity and you know we really as it turns out don't know anything about gravity um as people have said we can certainly measure its forces or measure its effect on things um but really to um to this date there is no and a lot of people don't know this uh that there is there's truly no conclusive evidence at the present time that gravitational waves have ever been detected in a laboratory now there have been several gravitational wave detectors uh built and um you can assume that they're detecting gravitational waves but they can also be detecting uh many other uh energies of or or or fluxes of energies from from who knows where so it's uh it's something we can hardly measure something we certainly know the existence of but um we know very very little about it it's essentially a big hole a black hole if you will in physics as we know it actually the physicists that I've talked to are not altogether uh certain uh whether it's a push or a pull and U the one I think I'm pretty sure it's it's a pull but um in physics today it physics itself is so fluid yet so many people either TR physicists or armchair physicists or you know scientists whoever you run into uh really stand their ground

on on theories and yet you know most people tend to forget that these are just theories you know they are not you know these are not facts this is a topic we know very very little about and as I said uh some time ago we um or The prominent theory was that there are gravitons uh alleged subatomic particles that uh actually you know accounted for the force of gravity however uh people that do bring that up really don't know much about that theory either because there was never uh an actual particle called a graviton the whole concept behind a graviton was that um because um I'm trying to think how to put this in layman's terms uh they basically wanted to to quantify gravity um maybe I shouldn't get into this yet all right you're looking at this thing when you see it do you know what it is what are we talking about well the uh the I've already lost okay we're looking at the the amplifier that's right that's right okay well we'll save this technical discussion for later then um no basically I I have no idea what I'm looking at okay um you I had to be led through everything the first demonstration uh that was presented to me was the actual operation of the reactor now this in itself is nothing short of a miracle we're dealing with something extremely small maybe 2T Square maybe 6 in high uh just on outside dimensions uh and the power output of something like this is equivalent to a little nuclear power plant I mean it's very impr impressive um also the fact that it's not producing any waste heat which is a violation of one of the laws of thermodynamics you bet Bob not to interrupt too much but didn't you say that that reactor put out as much power as Hoover Dam I really I remember I recorded all the uh data I had about it but off the top of my head now I don't remember they the reactor late people like me in the audience so they can imagine the type of power we're talking about huge amount of power coming out of essentially a very small small place when what what did the demonstration actually entail I mean well first was was um was certainly not the electrical output of it but it was um showing me the gravitational field around the device now the only reason I started going off on a tangent about gravity is because I I guess my whole point was that we don't have a machine there is nothing in existence that can make Gravity I've seen a lot of people uh just lay people uh telling me stories about how they watch a film on NASA and how the astronauts are training and they're in a little chamber and they're floating around and you know in a weightless environment they don't realize it's an airplane doing a crash dive that there there is no machine that makes gravity I mean at all nobody has that on Earth on earth right and uh here was a device that in operation was doing this uh to do that Barry told me uh well he started the reactor when it was operating after a short time he told me to uh put my hand or attempt to touch the sphere on the top of the reactor and as my hand got close to it you can feel a force exactly like putting two like poles of a magnet together W kind of that soft push yeah soft push but uh you know and what what you're experiencing now is more of an anti-gravity field which is something you know something entirely different oh no that's extremely interesting Bob because as you may have seen they've done experiments now in Sweden uh with Incredible magnetic fields generated in a fairly conventional Manner and they have actually levitated frogs and plants and all kinds of strange little things they've levitated with is this documented oh absolutely I haven't heard anything about with a magnetic field oh absolutely yes well certainly frogs are not magnetic I wonder what is this just a raw magnetic field an electromagnetic field raw and gigantic and they had a little chamber big super conducting uh set up yep and they they're levitating a frog you got it and the Frog written up anywhere oh absolutely huh I wonder how this uh managed to pass me by I'm glad to be delivering so much news to you tonight but but obviously where can what do you have any uh is it on your website not to run off on a on another tangent here but uh is there a name of any of the people or anything you can reference me to where I could look uh I'm sorry this second I can't it it was finished scientists it was carried on NBC ABC CBS all the networks had it they had the photographs boy that's a tremendous Discovery there um well it is it just when you mentioned to me the tremendous gravitational field and the effect on your biological hand it immediately flashed to that experiment in Finland so there you are anyway so you P one more question have they levitated anything non-conductive something with no water in it like just a uh well I don't know what a well they they levitated plastic or something like that no I don't think so uh I think that it was plants nuts uh frog spiders it was all biological material yes that's yes but but you said yourself you felt you felt the gravity with your hand now that's the biological effect right anyway I don't want to stunt your story I just couldn't resist telling you that no I'm glad you brought it up that's that's actually very very interesting to me um as time went on we uh tossed a little golf ball at it too uh and it never did hit the sphere it merely ricocheted off the field which again was an impressive display indeed um a golf ball uh is not in any way conductive it has no uh moisture it has no well or minimal amount very so minimal aside from the fluid sure Center golf balls oh that's right they are fluid centers aren't they but um uh in either case this was a uh quite a uh impressive demonstration uh just in the fact that this is producing a you know uh gravitational omnidirectional gravitational field around the unit um it was later connected up to the emitter and the amplifier um and where the gravitational beam out of the emitter can be focused uh this again was extremely impressive um the gravitational wave or waves coming out of the emitter were focused into a small point and produced a little black dot in the air hovering in the air really um now this is not to say it was a black hole but um what it was showing me was that it could bend light now the only thing that can bend light is gravity you know it's uh that's right the only a lot of people say well light can be bent on and so forth usually that's defract it or or refracted but uh where you can only bend light is with gravitational waves so to me again this is another impressive demonstration uh but it really was a kind of a black hole well in in the sense that it was absorbing at least in that well black hole You Know by definition itself would be the source of the gravit Distortion as opposed to you know this focusing on it and you know you're also you know a black hole quantum singularity and blah blah blah sure but but the theory is the same isn't it in other words you saw the Blackness because of the intense focus of uh right where light could Escape yeah yeah essentially true um still extremely impressive demonstration to me oh yes um so basically those were the well there were we did get to essentially fool around with it a little more but uh he was updating me with um basically what had been learned in uh the time that they had the craft there uh he wasn't really specific on how long the craft was there uh he was very elusive on many of the questions uh that I how many did you yeah that that's something I want to touch on you must have had a million questions by then I did I did and uh they he would answer them uh peripherally he wouldn't uh really get down to the meat of the question but at that point uh Barry had a higher security C than you did didn't he uh yeah that's probably true um that may have been the the reason yeah who knows if he was told to do that or that was his own decision or or what but um again he was just basically filling me in with what they knew and uh what my job was going to be and and uh this was it this was uh finding out how this subsystem of The Craft operated operated in the craft operated outside of the craft could this eventually be duplicated uh using another power source could this power source be duplicated itself without using exotic materials and uh so on and so forth uh sometime later uh I got uh my only view inside the craft which again was uh extremely exciting yeah no kidding now can you describe what you saw in that craft yeah I was led in uh Again by um what's his name not Barry um Dennis and um we walked up a small rollway stairway that led into the craft it was very cramped getting in the doorway uh the hatch was removed I really didn't pay attention uh to see how it was fashioned to it or if there were hinges or anything a lot of people have asked me that but it was uh you know you don't spend time looking at how a door was connected somewhere when there's a flying saucer in front of you uh in either case I went inside initially you must uh bend over to get in there is very little headroom so whoever originally flew in this was small right whatever flew in it was Tiny and if you notice art uh if you're looking at the the model of the sport model there out near the equator of the disc I mean it literally comes to a point and it graduates as you go towards the center so obviously there very low near the edge and for the benefit of the audience with uh internet access I've got a photograph of the sport model on my live studio cam right now oh okay go ahead Bob I'm sorry I didn't mean to interrupt um as you walk into the Craft um first of all it's I should address a few questions that people constantly ask me one of them is certainly well how did you feel going into the crafts wasn't it the most exciting thing in your life and I know I've said this a thousand times before to uh to many other people but um it was not the feeling at that time time was not of excitement it was a very ominous feeling ominous very much so it was more a feeling like um it's actually I can't I really can't describe it it's difficult to put into words but it was a very ominous feeling more like are you sure we should be here uh but um of course after the fact you know it was certainly exciting but it was a very very odd feeling because and it was no pun intended it was a very un-Earthly setting inside all right that's a perfect place to hook them and hang them up until we come back from the news so everybody relax we'll be right back all right um Bob Lazar and Jean Hoer my guests I'm Art Bell this is Coast to Coast a.m. here again is Art so what about being inside that craft what do people generally ask and how do you respond well first of all is the overall description inside um entering the craft is um like I said certainly uncomfortable for an adult human being um it's um you realize that you're not in a place that was designed for humans exactly um and it certainly uh is different from anything that you're familiar with uh and what I mean to say about that is um everything is basically one color um normally any area you're surrounded in as always uh different textures different colors uh so on and so forth um the inside of the craft is essentially all a dull uh poor aluminum color very metallic looking there are no sharp right angles anywhere and the description I've given before is it basically the craft looks like it was just injection molded essentially like the model was um there are no seams anywhere um everything inside the craft looks like um it was fashioned out of wax heated for a short time and then cooled to where everything basically melted into what was next to it what it was sitting on um that that's about the best description I can give as to how the inside looked seamless seamless and and very unusual uh again no right angles anywhere the um structure of the craft the skin uh from the outside was smooth inside uh this is very difficult to describe uh but if you can picture yourself inside uh a disc disc of a flying saucer shape and you're inside looking at the uh the wall surrounding you uh there was an additional structure kind of a secondary wall uh was kind of repetitive archways um that looks like it was either for structural integrity or as we later found out uh something to do with the wave guide and the gravity amplifiers themselves but uh if you have the box

there you're looking at you notice what I'm saying is kind of difficult there's a little booklet that came in there it has a nice cutaway view of the craft but it's um it's very difficult to describe uh without drawing a picture or seeing something visual well the lucky people on the internet can see what I'm I'm holding up uh the others are going to have to uh make do with your word pictures or uh go out and get a copy of the tester model or how else might people see uh is there something on your uh well again it would be your website so it's just people with computers so we've got to formulate word pictures for people without yeah I'm not really good at that but um that's basically what there are three levels to the craft when you enter you enter into the main level and that's basically what you see as far as what's on the main level um well first of all the dimension of The Craft was about 52 ft in diameter about 16 ft High uh that's just the overall measurement now back on the inside of the craft what you'll see in the center of the Craft um is the reactor itself um extending from the reactor up through the top of the craft is the wave guide uh it kind of looks like a little chimney more or less uh surrounding the reactor in the center of the craft are three seats these seats all face One Direction also near these three seats are the three gravity amplifiers themselves they look like consoles uh just solid rectangular objects there's uh when I say consoles I don't mean there's any buttons lights or anything of that sort and in fact there were no buttons light switches or wiring in the entire craft really really um that's also quite uh an impressive feed um no levers no buttons no lights no switches however I did not get to go in one part of the craft so I really can't say what was there um but I do have a good idea as to what it was now this was all on the center level immediately underneath there's a small Breakaway part of the floor um as you walk in to the craft over to the left uh it's a collapsible hexagonal very unique doorway um people have asked me have you ever seen anything uh in any of these crafts any of the technology that could be used today something simple uh and that's certainly one of them as aside from the you know high-tech gravitational propulsion system so on so for something very very simple to understand and easy and anyone that's taken a um sixpack of beer or bottles or anything like that you notice that if you push on the sides of the you take all the bottles out you push on the sides of the uh the box it all collapses flat yes and um the floor itself was hexagonal in shape and made of little square hexagons like that of thin metal with a little Notch cut out so basically to operate it you just stuck your hand in the Notch and pushed and the entire thing collapsed flat and left a hole open however since you're when it's uh I'm getting tangled with my words here trying to because there's so many other things going through my mind um when it's extended and it's the uh opening is closed off it's uh it's a very strong structure because you're standing on the top of hexagons the metal is relatively thick even though it's it's am I you kind of have a an idea of what I'm trying to present here I Absol do of course I understand how it drives the strength yes uh so yes it's very easy to collapse one way but uh that's one simple thing I thought would find uses somewhere somehow something that could be made right now in fact I've fashion one as thin metal I have absolutely no use for it but um it's just one of those strange things I've never seen anything like it and it's uh certainly something that could be I don't know uh used in uh some sort of architecture somewhere now the craft you were in had all of its the um generator the amplifier right this was all on the uh the first level everything was intact absolutely all right well let me take that back one of the amplifiers was removed all right on this Craft um when you do collapse this little port hole uh you can fit your body through at least the upper part of it and look underneath uh this is the lower level of The Craft This is where the emitters the what I sometimes call the gravity amplifiers hang down uh these are three um of the cylindrical shaped black objects uh 2T in diameter 4T long that actually emit gravitational waves from them like a microwave horn right they are positioned directly underneath the larger rectangular uh gravity amplifiers on the first level and are in fact connected to them the actual physical connection between the emitters and the sub flooring above it again is something very interesting it's a short piece of pipe I'd say oh maybe uh 12 in longer maybe slightly well 12 in long maybe a little longer than that but um this mounting um Flexes in any direction but it's a solid piece of pipe it's something very very unusual and we see the same thing being used on the wave guide to the reactor uh from what we could well from what we could see by applying an electric charge to different parts of this um of the structure it would bend uh quite easily really yeah it's uh again something very difficult to describe uh without drawing it exactly how this operated but it's uh it was not made of um A tes in a telescopic form where you'd see something something like a uh car antenna where it would collapse down on uh each section would collapse down onto one another it was a solid piece if you can imagine just a solid piece of pipe and applying an electric charge to it and having the pipe Bend but remain rigid after it had done so anyway this compromised the uh or composed the uh focusing system for these three amplifiers they um receive signals from other parts of the craft uh the amp iers would focus in on a certain point and you know this is basically how the amplifiers were aimed very um and the craft had again it's kind of a lengthy explanation but there were two different modes the craft we found would operate in uh one is called Omron and one is called Delta the Omicron configuration was the standard operating mode of The Craft and it's where it used one single amplifier uh to maintain its elevation in the sky one of the other amplifiers was rotated 90° and essentially pointed straight out ahead of the craft so with one amplifier working it essentially produced an anti-gravitational pillar to stand on with the amplifier that was rotated 90° uh instead of what we would normally think along Ong the lines of propulsion where a jet would essentially exhaust material hot gases out the back right uh where we would normally think along the lines of a propulsive of a propulsive force what the craft did was essentially create a distortion in front of it a distortion now a gravitational Distortion is is that like sort of creating a well in effect exactly it would create a a little Distortion a divot in time space if you want to call it that um a well is a good a good analogy too to where the craft would actually this is kind of the low performance mode if you want to give it a name but where the craft would actually continuously slide downhill yes a very awkward strange mode of propulsion I mean we have nothing that would even really relate to something like that but it's kind of backwards if you see what I'm saying I do uh the other motor propulsion and you before we go to that you would imagine this mode of propulsion to be used in in what configuration uh in other words in an atmosphere for example in an atmosphere uh just maneuvering around small objects source of gravity probably near a planet or Moon would you say I would imagine so yeah I don't think it would be used in space there would be some by definition of this motor requires some force uh some large amount of gravity to be acting on the craft so you would have to be near some sort of gravitational body I would imagine as it was hovering around the ground this is what would it all right makes sense and then there was another mode the other mode is the Delta configuration and this is how it normally travels through space and makes large jumps the uh craft flies with the belly facing the direction you want to go not as you would normally see the craft in a science fiction movie ah the gravity amplifiers are all brought up to power and they're focused on a single point this point now becomes uh an area of intense gravitational Distortion uh many many times more than what we were talking about before and this is where the the true warp drive comes into effect this is where you actually Bend you begin to distort space and time and instead of The Craft actually flying you're basically distorting the fabric of space around the craft and and move without actually traveling you're not um you're not moving in a you're you're if I'm visualizing this correctly it's kind of like the other mode except far more intense and you're you're constantly moving toward this warp or with this warp I don't know which way to think you actually become part of the other space it's a pretty wild concept but something that really isn't unknown to us as I've stated before you know to most people this sounds like wild science fiction however we know most of these things are possible we know for example as I stated in uh in that tape that um we can see stars that are behind the sun and the reason for that is the intense gravitational field of the sun bends not just light but it bends space around the Sun and we can see some things behind it we know that um not just we know space gravity and time are all interrelated we know this for a fact we know that um around areas of intense gravitational fields time essentially slows down I mean it's certainly been theorized that if one was to orbit a black hole an area of tremendous Gra gravitational uh Distortion of gravity well for instance um that time would virtually stop right so with all these things interacting this is how you can travel a great distance with essentially no time elapsing uh first of all you're bending space toward you by doing that you're actually slowing time not to say that this is a time machine it's just a a byproduct whenever you whenever you produce a gravitational field whenever you're around an intense gravitational field time slows it's just Bob did you discern all of this yourself after long examin oh no this was okay they gave you this then right mhm all right and so God you've got um so then you're in the craft then your job I guess is to go back to the uh the the gravity amplifier and the rest of it they they've already got disassembled and try and back engineer the thing or try to make it work with materials that we have here on Earth is that correct basically so well basically is is to start at the very beginning and look at the reactor and try and and try and see how from from ground level the device operates and this is where apparently I came in to the project all right uh and that is where we must pause back now to Bob Lazar and Jean Huff uh Jean basically the silent one right now sort of helping out as he can uh let let's see Bob we in the interest of time cuz you know we we could spend 10 hours with this uh perhaps not before you fell asleep but well we did make some coffee here I was I detected I started rambling and not saying anything so hopefully this will help we are about 3 hours past my B back I see I appreciate it the nation appreciates it uh this really is an incredible story now briefly you went to work obviously trying to back engineer this right how far did you get what did you learn well not very and uh I need to digress for a moment here and this is where I learned uh one of the reasons why I was hired initially our work started on the reactor uh we figured that's the center point of everything and this is where we should really concentrate our efforts and apparently that's what the people before did too uh apparently uh there was an attempt to analyze the operation of one of these reactors and I got to read uh the notes that um the gentleman before me had left uh there was a fatality or actually three fatalities if I remember um when they attempted to do this for some reason they attempted to get into the reactor while it was in operation on under load and it was never very clear in their notes as to why anyone decided to do that um however again in the interest of time I'll cut this short but um they did attempt to do that the reactor

did explode and uh the gentlemen were killed I was to replace one of these people great so this is did anybody at any point suggest that you go in oh no no I think this is something I think they reached a point of frustration couldn't get anywhere and uh you know went on from there again this didn't sound very sensible to me but uh this was a story that was related to me and uh just something I thought I'd pass along all right uh go right ahead um we then found um well again we had identified uh an element an element a super heavy element one that doesn't uh naturally occur on Earth and certainly one that we haven't synthesized uh this element was identified as 115 now normally uh the higher level elements the ones that we have uh you know produced an accelerators decay in a fairly short time um in this case what we were seeing was a stable element one that was not undergoing any radioactive decay uh which is very unusual however again this is something that uh science and chemists have uh already theorized that there should be an island essentially an island of stability uh for elements around the 114 115 116 area however we certainly haven't been able to uh produce anything that that high up on the Periodic Chart but apparently you know this is what we were observing how much of this element 115 was available 200 well there were 223 grams in the craft in the reactor 223 grams I heard a story I think it may have been from John leer that and this jumps us way ahead but that you somehow got some of element 115 out of that area is that true uh we're I really don't want to comment on that all right I didn't think so John didn't want to say much about it either uh but that was that was a rumor we'll we'll we'll let it stand as a rumor um all right so Element 115 uh something that we don't have yet I think we have progressed a little bit up the scale uh but we're certainly not 115 where are we now what is our I believe the uh the last isolated was 112 112 and most of the more recent uh more recent work has been done in darot Germany all right um in fact I believe there's um their plan to produce element 16 16 uh is coming up next I think they plan on I don't I don't really I think it was californium and uh no calcium or something do you remember that Jean uh yes uh I think they were going to fuse uh curium with calcium and and they were going to end up U with element 116 which they then thought would Decay it in Chain of unknown nuclides and see where the island of stability actually settled but they are they are very close to uh attempting to uh you know Pierce that island of stability and and seeing what's going to happen however producing one or two atoms of it really isn't going to let them determine uh you know how the substance is going to react but at least they're there they're almost to the point now where they can begin to look at some of these exotic substances right there there are a lot of people waiting to to see if they can perform any experiments or find this uh you know gravity a that Bob alludes to but really when you read and I'm certainly a lay person when you read on these for instance the website for the the uh lab for heavy ion res research in darm Germany you can see that they actually detect these atoms when they make them and and getting an atom or 2 uh it doesn't put them anywhere near having a quantity of it that you could hold in your hand and actually a study for any macro scale type effect you bet uh Bob how long long were you then at S4 doing your work it was from uh December of 88 to April of 89 December of 88 to April of 89 okay uh what went wrong when did the whole thing begin to go to a sour and why boy that there's a long story um okay the reader D this this Story Reader digest version yeah reader digest version of this which is typically longer than the entire story itself um you want me to tell it if you got a shorter version than I do well go ahead all right how about this at what stage of work were you when it began to go bad well very actually very early um well go ahead Jean give it a try well you know Bob had been on an all on call basis and right when he got to the point where he's told you about up to this point uh they stopped calling him into work and and um this was very frustrating he he wasn't a fun guy to be around and what had happened is when he uh as he told you before he had to sign documents allowing them to monitor his phone and facts and computer and anything that came into his house over a phone line and to make a long sad story short Bob's wife was having an affair and they found out and um when they gave him his security clearance they deemed him to be financially stable emotionally stable and just generally stable and uh so now they knew that he was going to be having some emotional problems and they stopped calling him ultimately they heard his wife um admit that she had had an affair to her mother over the phone and that and she and she ultimately told Bob and they called him in and yanked his security C saying that he would they deemed him to be a sure candidate for emotional instability and uh that he could reapply again in six to nine months so they never heard any of this before you've never heard this no yeah that's the reason that he lost his clearance it had nothing to do with him all right well you had signed all these papers Bob what motivated you to go public I mean that that's weird in itself I mean why did you go public surely you had to worry about your life you to worry about your career and I I don't know whether it's everybody knows but you were virtually the modern term is erased your educational records uh were erased uh a lot of the work you did in New Mexico was erased save for one little mistake I think your name was uh uh in and still is recorded in a phone book isn't it right for the most part uh yeah for the most part everything was they what was it they missed a where was that a phone book where that was uh well it was an old phone book in Los Alamos Los however I certainly they they couldn't erase the uh as I mentioned at the beginning of our conversation the the newspaper article at that time clearly clearly stated on the front page of the local Los Alamos newspaper that I was a physicist working Los Alamos lab yes um so you know they're they certainly couldn't go back and make that disappear but um they made a lot disappear didn't they yeah they how however art you know they they did lie to begin with as you know George knap uh for your listeners is a uh at that point in time was a a a news anchor for the CDs affiliate here in Las Vegas Channel 8 yes and uh he had extensive correspondence with Los Alamos as well as Kirk Meyer which was one of the subcontractors that Bob worked for and uh they all denied uh Kirk Meyer did say he was issued a z number which was a number uh required to be an employee and to get a paycheck um but uh none of them had said that they retained records that far back and at this point in time it was only you know five or six years earlier it wasn't you know 10 years like it is now and um that they didn't retain any records at all and George gave them numerous chances are he said are you sure you have no record of Bob ozar he has Kirk Meer you sure you have no record of bobar they denied denied denied and then uh that's when Bob came up with the Los Alamos phone book with his name and uh station number in there and then also he had a copy of the Los Alamos newspaper from 1982 and how did they react to that well well there we're also talking about two people when I was initially hired on I was hired on uh via a head hunter essentially for Los Alamos sure and I worked um like I said the uh initial time you work for anyone uh in a secure job you have that uh time before your clearance goes through and that's when I worked for Kirk Meer uh and then later became hired on directly uh at Los Alamos however both people uh you know either quote unquote lost their records uh or just flatly denied uh the existence uh of me even working there well what put pushed you to go public what pushed me to go public essentially Was Fear um fear of what fear of death fear of

prosecution fear of well just fear in general I I I imagine you can add them all together and that was essentially what I was feeling at the time uh you know at that time I had nothing other than what I had said to anybody for the most part if I suddenly disappeared off the face of the Earth uh nobody would have noticed well not only would nobody would have noticed I certainly have friends and family that would me but no one would have known exactly what happened and people disappear all the time right well es especially in Las Vegas so I at least wanted to get what was going on out in the open and uh I believe it worked very well it was essentially a push back uh against all the force that was leaning on me uh where if I I thought if I just went on in a subdued Fashion on television and maybe just said a little bit um and just kind of gave a little shove back they would lay off and uh you it was perhaps it was a big gamble but it worked exactly the way I wanted it to also art uh at at this point when he was trying to show those around him what was going on is when he took uh people like me and his wife and uh John Lear out to the uh BLM land outside of Area 51 and we actually saw one of the discs tested in the sky now Bob did this after he after he told us the story after he was in trouble and in fear for his life he told those around him the story and obviously we were a little apprehensive when a friend said you know we thought he was just working in in you know some project for the government none of us really cared what he was doing and uh you know so he wanted to prove that that uh not that we thought he was lying but it's still an outrageous story to tell your wife and friends and say oh by the way I'm working on flying saucers sure and John has told me the story of the trip up to Area 51 and there is video to support your claim as well right right plenty of video now they didn't let you go though because in 1990 and a lot of people used this Bob to try to discredit you uh you had to plead guilty to a pandering charge related to the apparent operation of an illegal brothel in Las Vegas mhm now uh a pandering charge that's very serious that actually I got to pick the charge oh you got to pick it yeah I got to pick the charge from three of them uh now my understanding uh is a little vague but I think all you did was some computer work isn't that well what I literally did we have again we have to you know backtrack to years ago after I left Los Alamos and opened up um opened up uh 1H hour photo business for my wife uh in Los Alamos we had decided uh to move and um we began because of our contract with Los alus began to uh unmas quite a bit of money we were looking for a business to buy into uh one of the things we invested in was one of the legal broel uh in Northern Nevada a very in Northern Nevada no kidding right well this was years ago yeah people need to know uh here in my county of NY we have legal brothel and uh near Reno they have legal brothel as well right which is up where this was okay and uh I it was just another business business just an investment opportunity um and uh you know we had uh made money off of it and and later got rid of it however uh you know in amazing coincidence uh after all this had not after all this had happened after I left the lab and uh we decided to move to Nevada uh which is essentially what brought me to Las Vegas here I had businesses in Southern California in Northern Nevada and in New Mexico and I needed a central Hub and that's the only reason I moved out to Las Vegas sure um we uh so essentially you you knew the brel business at that point well yeah to some extent and uh even though we were out of it after um after I had left as for and uh began to look for uh some other source of income I ran into one of the old uh managers of the place up north right and she said she had a place running down here that wasn't running illegally but she'd wondered if I could install a computer system like we had up there to make her business run smoother and I said there's no problem it'll take me a while to write the program and I can set the computers up for you and so so on and so forth they also wanted a security camera outside to make sure a guy wasn't coming to the door with a gun or a knife so I essentially installed all that stuff and and left and that was uh you know that was the end of it however uh only it wasn't the end of it no it wasn't the end of it then uh certainly it was pretty um it it's actually hard what happened after that is as you well know living here in southern Nevada that um when George na did his special UFOs the best evidence in November of '89 it George won uh uh won an Emmy for it and it was one of the highest rated shows in the history of Souther Nevada so when it came for sweets week the next spring George thought it would be a great idea to have Bob Lazar on so the you know Bob had a giant following and uh say what do Bob Lazar went up been up to so Bob goes on television not knowing that installing all of this equipment for for a broel was illegal and on television George says what have you been up to Bob and Bob says oh I installed some security systems and computers and things for a local broel and then the English to say the police were listening that day apparently so all right gentlemen hold on we've only got one more hour to go and it sounds like the coffee is working this is coast to coast back to Bob Lazar and Jean Huff Bob here's a really good question for you I guess we ought to finish up so you anyway you got arrested uh after uh tele after being on television with George knap well not really arrested they said just come down and talk to us but um uh yeah essentially that that was the impetus of everything was talking on the uh TV all right there there's a big long drawn story behind it which we probably don't have time to go into essentially The Madam of the Bro wasn't informant for the FBI DEA yep and um anyway she got off she was a prostitute who ran the whole brothel and she got off with a misdemeanor from an old early 1900s Nevada Nevada statute called keeping a disorderly house and they had to nail somebody and Bob just went down and turned himself in and they gave him a probation and that was it so I see well a lot of people even the judge thought it was very strange that the FBI uh was at the trial and um I think he made some very unusual comment too knowing that that there was some other influence yeah he he the judge said on camera in court that uh he didn't understand why the Madam of this brothel got off with a misdemeanor and considering that Bob Lazar was certainly not a Pander in the classic sense of the term and had no prior criminal record why in the world he would have pled guilty uh uh to pandering yet it was some bad legal advice and uh well we can all turn our imaginations loose on that one it's not real and actually the uh the PE they gave him probation and the people of the probation department used to fight to try and get to come do the checks on Bob so they could speak to Bob Lazar the UFO all right I want to run you through a few fast questions I've got a million foxes one is a good one how could some of the UFOs or parts be disassembled if they in essence had no seams they were they were absolutely torn out of the craft uh when I had corrected myself and said that one of the gravity amplifiers was removed from the sport model itself um it wasn't removed uh surgically like you would imagine it looked like it was almost cut off with an oxy acetylene torch though there were no burn marks on the uh on the deck but um it was absolutely ripped out now I never did see where the other amplifier to that uh craft went or you know heard any stories about it but uh maybe it was the one on the workbench all right ripped out is the answer all right good answer um by the way for your reference uh Bob the Frog was levitated in the high field magnetic laboratory in Amsterdam at 16 Tesla if Bob would like to take a look at the photographs and read about it I've got a a web address here the most complete account is given in quote of flying frogs and levetron by

MV Barry and AK gim European Journal of physics um a vers uh version 18 page 307 to 313 uh that's just for your uh reference okay I yeah I'm really interested in that um have you ever Bob subjected yourself to regressive hypnosis in hopes of calling details because obviously even in this program they're still coming back yeah I did in fact that was one of the first things we did and it was not uh you know again so many so many offbeat stories get started on this information sure uh you know people said I uh you know was either drugged or hypnotized there at work and couldn't remember anything or uh you know however the stories go but there are plenty of them and they're more than more than a fair share on the internet but um I initially went to a hypnotist here in town by the name of Lan kek uh specifically one that had heard nothing about flying saucers alien abductions or any of the uh other silly things associated with this um and went specifically to remember intimate details of what I was working with specifically layouts schematics so on and so forth so I could sit there and you know to the absolute best of my ability draw and record everything uh that I had seen and done and uh that did that did help out quite a bit it seemed to you know all right and for the record art uh you know Bob had a very good memory of all the the major things that happened he's talking about frequencies and thing you know Quantum behavior and things things that he wanted to get into relaxation and try and reread those reports and uh but you know it was nothing like he he didn't know he had worked on flying discs and suddenly remembered that under hypnosis that's not what happened at all all right well these are random questions Bob uh somebody asked if the uh anti-gravity field has to extend all the way to the ground in order for a saucer to fly or if it has to Simply surround the disc itself or the bottom of the disc no it really just has to surround the disc itself um in fact that that's how the uh I was talking to that other gentleman in Australia yes uh that is essentially what what we were talking about that the field produced around the craft is like a tet uh a big dut essentially uh however with the bottom extended is uh you the the pedestal the uh the the effect of the uh emitters pointing in that direction but the the field does completely surround the craft all right um here's another one please ask Bob if the principles that you've been to describing tonight have any relevance in what you've heard of stories uh with regard to the infamous Philadelphia Experiment you know the Philadelphia Experiment um a long time ago when I was at Los I had heard of The Philadelphia Experiment uh some time ago and when I was in Los Alam they have a classified Library there in the library um and I was able to find some general information on the Philadelphia Experiment and I you know in my personal opinion here that this is a story that has gotten so completely blown out of proportion um the certainly there were people injured and people killed in the Opera or this test uh the the aim of the project apparently now maybe I was reading false material but from what I understand the aim of the project was to make this this was the apparent first test of any stealth technology it was to make an entire ship invisible to radar Not optically Invisible right correct um and to do this they were essentially using huge microwave generators which is essentially what radar is and um I think the the accident that occurred uh was more along the line lines of radiation injuries and things along those lines not the more sensationalized o into another dimension continuum people coming up in the middle of the metal and all yeah I think there was a much more prosaic explanation uh for what happened and you know in my opinion and from the small amount of information that I was able uh to get my hands on because that had always fascinated me too as to what happened with that but I think that's you know all we're looking at is just a uh accident along those lines and the reason for the cover up I think is the same thing same reason for the cover ups we see around Area 51 is uh more of a legal reason because of the injuries involved just like the toxic waste problem you bet uh out there than uh than there being something unbelievably top secret alic won't like that I know but that's all right uh art I'm a computer tech my training includes understanding Electronics of course please ask Bob if he would give us some figures on the toid that he worked with perhaps voltages and current I like to tinger the toid toid yeah oh a toid is that shape well you were just yeah that's just the shape of the field he didn't you didn't even work with a toid did you no I mean what you know that yeah that's that's just the shape I don't I don't understand the question I guess all right uh I don't either so I give up uh have you been approached or have you agreed to be part of the C set program to get a congressional investigation going on all of this have you been approached by them uh no not that I know over remember all right um uh please ask Bob there is a gravity Theory out there that says that gravity is RF waves from one Hertz to past light basically energy doesn't get destroyed so it must all be out there billions of ways the Earth is an RF absorber so on one side you are pushed to the Earth by the pressure of these RF waves do you think the engine you were working with was simply a wideband RF amp then taking the signal 180° out of phase canceling any waves coming in thus making anti-gravity no I I don't think so I mean I I kind of see what he's leaning to uh he he's relating the gravitational waves to RF waves and and and in fact in some in some respects there are some similarities here and there but it isn't just pling uh RF okay a cavity resonator normally bounded by conducting surfaces in which electromagnetic energy may be stored or transmitted as oscillations whose frequency is determined by the size shape makeup of the cavity do these propulsion systems use this technology in scalar form wave guide okay continue wave guide form or modulated FM form against or with gravity uh in wave guide form with gravity essentially is gravity this is along the lines of what I was saying uh that this behaves very similar to a microwave system and uh you know we're seeing uh really uh a lot of similarities in the construction uh of the two the comparison between the reactor wave guides and emitters and um microwave system themselves all right what does Mr Lazar think of Dr Michael wolf has in the past supported Mr lazzaro's claims about S4 and the sports model um you remember just refresh me on uh he he's the gentleman from back East I think in Connecticut or somewhere like that who says um in fact I think I read that he said that um he was actually a medical doctor working out at S4 isn't that right art I vaguely recall that something like that and um and uh essentially concur with a lot of the things you have to say but yeah I I don't think Bob has ever spoken to him or talked to him or I I really don't I really don't remember his entire story so I can't I can't really he wrote a book but we didn't get it all right Le and Grand Junction Colorado asks Bob was being interviewed on a program several years ago where he described seeing a black and white photograph of an alien which had an autopsy performed on it he said at the time all you could see was one large organ in the chest cavity uh if you has seen the video Ellen autopsy please ask him if that's what he saw or how the two compare no that that isn't what I saw I don't believe that that video is is authentic I believe that's completely fabricated um the um in one of the briefings I had mentioned um there was there were two autopsy photographs of the apparent occupants of The Craft uh they were both um cut in one was cut in a t fashion it was a bus shot essentially from the middle of the chest upward um the um chest was cut in in a t fashion the uh skin was pulled back and apparently what was removed from the body was a single large organ and I said uh that it looks it most closely resembles a

liver now we're dealing with a black and white photographs so I don't know what color it would be but it has that almost semifluid appearance um there is uh the other portions of the other photograph had that organ cut uh itself and it appeared to have uh many other Chambers and just from the small amount of information they provided it um it seemed to have the function of several organs that we would be familiar with but essentially evolved or grown together however you want to look at it but um essentially just one large organ performing the functions of uh many organs that we're familiar with so all you saw to be clear were those photographs you never saw any sort of alien being alive or dead in person no not that uh oh no no no you know again this story always gets Ben out of shape too well Bob this is why I didn't mention Dr Michael Wolf Dr Michael wolf says well you tell the story about walking down the hall wolf says says he's one of the guys that was standing in that room that's what he said all okay I will I will tell this story um do I think I ever I alive alien no I am I even sure that those photographs were of an actual alien no how could I be um what we're referring to here art is at one time I was I believe I was walking away from the hanger portion uh of the installation and down this hallway that connected all the other rooms on a door to my left uh there are these nine or 10 in square uh windows on them that have the um wires running through them security Windows if you know what I'm talking about sure um as I was walking down there I glanced quickly into the room and what I saw in a quick glance was two uh two other gentlemen in white lab coats yes facing my way and then there was a smaller thing thing okay with its back towards the door looking to them uh and this was at a quick glance and walked by and immediately you know everyone has jumped on it saying well you there was a live Al there so on so forth now I find it much more plausible to believe that this was a dummy or something uh them trying to ascertain the size uh of whatever creature flew in these crafts perhaps they were going to sit it in the seat see where it's arm placements leg placements would be so on and so forth but I have you know there's certainly no reason for me to believe that that was a uh an actual alien living uh or that it wasn't well or that it wasn't however you would think that you know quite possibly Barry would have said something about that or I would have been notified uh you're passing the alien room well or something along those lines I don't think that would have been left out and uh you know quite frankly if there were living aliens uh there would we be doing a back engineering program like we were wouldn't we be receiving some instruction as to how these devices operated so it's uh unless they weren't the aliens that knew that anyway Bo I I just no I don't believe that was I believe they had a little dummy they because they were sitting there looking at it like they were trying to size it up as to is this thing the right size or so on and so anyway Dr Michael wolf alleges that he was one of the men in the white lab coats that's where he fits in that St all right we're going to break here at the bottom of the arrow we'll be right back back to Bob Lazar and jehof uh Bob I'm curious I'm told that you're not going to do many interviews or perhaps not any after this one what's going on well what happened is is um actually believe it or not there some trying to call yeah uh Jean actually knows more about this than I do well you know when they when they optioned by screenplay art they uh you know Bob's story has been owned by two separate movie studios who for whatever unknown Reas reason have not allowed the movie to make it to the screen well that was basically because of me because they kept turning down their screen play yeah you know Bob he gives them freedom in a straight jacket I mean he won't allow them to do all the outrageous things they need to do and so there was long bargaining this this studio wants to get the movie on the screen and um

they want Bob to give him give them his attention and they want him to be act actively involved as a as a technical consultant on uh the movie and uh and Bob never does any interviews anyway so it wasn't much of a demand this he never goes anywhere so he agreed to it to give them the the impact if they're going to spend tens of millions of dollars to get a realistic portrayal of his movie on the screen they'd like him to um wait and and I guess do the rounds when the movie comes out or well so it's a rare opportunity I want to thank you both all right uh some very fast technical questions if you don't know the answers Bob just say no are gravity waves a Broadband or narrow band phenomena well they're actually a narrow band phenomena but they're not just a simple electromagnetic wave it's a it it seems to be a complex emission and that's that's about all I can say in a short time about them all right uh what is their frequency or wavelength or is there a way of was there a way of measuring that well there was there's uh it's not really a set as I said frequency wavelength but there was an a I wish this person would stop trying no indeed there was a an apparent carrier wave and that was I I believe a extremely low frequency not to say that this is the gravitational wave but it was in the area of 7.46 or 7.2 do you remember what the exact number was Jean yeah 7.46 hers at a one micron bandwidth or something like that all right at almost 3:00 in the morning my my drops about 50 points maybe together we could get one answer out of is gravity radiation coherent yes it is can you draw a schematic or block diagram of the propulsion system the answer to that has to be yes you've done yes absolutely uh what level of power is produced during travel kilowatts megawatts gigawatts or measurements that we don't have to no it's gigawatts GW there a huge and that's the the way the craft runs the the reactor actually operates it at its full potential always uh the the way they if you want to use the term throttle the power is they just they change the phase of the amplifiers themselves but the um the reactor is always outputting its maximum all right uh so that answers my next one which was what is the duty cycle Peak average power and duration of output so it's always at full output right uh is there however however I I do have to say that um when the amp all three amplifiers are being used uh for the Delta mode of travel there is they they do not operate continuously in other words uh if the craft was sitting here locally in our our local system you can't make a a jump or you can't distort space from here to 30 light years out um this this has to be done in several consecutive jumps and there is apparently a recycle time uh you know on the system uh that and they're they're pulsed right yeah they're they're pulsed and uh again we're working against the 3:00 yes uh IQ drop here but I'm trying to remember uh we even calculated the recycle time on them because uh we wanted to find out what the actual travel time would be um and adding oh God I can't remember it's microsc or milliseconds but uh you know what what we'll do in the future is uh should we ever get the guys to update our web page is post some of this information more some more of the technical stuff for the people that are interested in it all right is there a relatively simple antenna detector that one might use with a receiver or Spectrum analyzer to capture gravity waves no absolutely not what em effects are produced near an operating saucer well dramatic ones uh anything you'd see around a uh you know any uh uh any sort of electromagnetic pulse but you see a uh a tremendous electromagnetic disturbance actually you have an optical disturbance too one that is quite fascinating um if you are directly under the craft uh you will only see the sky above it and and here again is what I was describing as the bending of light you know this is also a a potential fantastic camouflage uh should we be able to duplicate a system like this for military vehicles and what have you

because the the way the gravitational field is formed around the craft uh the light is bent around it too so looking up directly at the craft you this guy to actually see it you need to step back out of the field well you're not really in the field but uh yeah if you kind of see what I mean there there are certain from certain viewpoints uh the the craft is completely invisible all right do gravity waves inter modulate radio or waves in any way did they inter modulate radio light waves or any way how would you know I guess you wouldn't well I'm trying to to guess here how that might happen uh well I I imagine they would because you're what you're de what you're doing is you're distorting well is that true I I don't know for sure so I I guess I don't want to guess an answer here's one uh that I don't understand you might referring to the candle experiment does the flame continue to radiate heat as well as light when it's frozen why or why not this is something that still to this day makes absolutely no sense to me and and I saw it so this has aggravated me and probably will forever one of the experiments they showed me if you remember I mentioned the uh uh producing a localized Distortion producing a black dot yes um what the other uh experiment bar performed for me was putting a candle in that space and what he did was uh I really don't re recall if he uh pulsed the uh emitter at a lower power a higher power or it was probably at a lower Distortion but the candle flame continued to emit light but the flame stopped flickering as if it was frozen in in time oh that's weird no I didn't I believe me this is quite beyond weird were you close enough to feel heat no and I you know I don't think anyone was brave enough to stick their hands in that general area either who knows what it would be like but um uh the it the fact is if there was a localized gravity Distortion obviously there was and if there was a localized Distortion in time uh why is their light being emitted I mean it there's something here that doesn't make any sense at all and this has really driven me crazy uh and I can't so yeah is there heat emitted boy I would really love to know myself wouldn't it indicate that we don't know as much about photons as we thought we did well really we don't know you know it comes right down to it but obviously if we're seeing uh you know photons photons emitted in you our our normal Optical bandwidth uh there's nothing to tell me that they wouldn't be in the infrared bandwidth which is heat also so my guess is that there there would be heat but I would certainly love uh to have that demonstrated to me again and and uh really observe that you observed only one propulsion system correct one propulsion system in other words one type right well from what I from what I understood there was only one type all right do the saucers have a communication or did they seem to have any sort of communication system that you could perceive no again however this brings up another Point um when I did see one of the craft tests flown there at at one point I was permitted to be inside the hanger the craft was taken outside and um it was a very unimpressive test the uh the craft just lifted off the ground and moved around slightly however would have impressed me well as I said that's as unimpressive as a flying saucer test could be but uh I mean as far as it's zooming around and doing all kinds of exotic Maneuvers it it didn't do that in your opinion would humans survive in zooming around mode in these craft absolutely um but um my my point was was that um the person was apparently in communication with someone in the craft now from what I was able to see and I I believe I even asked the guy that he was communicating with him on a normal VHF transmitter around the 200 mahz bandwidth right and uh the gravitational Distortion around it in fact this even relates to another question someone else had asked um I would imagine and with the EMP effects of The Craft I I can't understand how they can receive that in the craft too so there's there's an awful lot of questions that I would really like to know the answers to and uh obviously people ask these questions too sure the 200 megahertz area would be military frequencies generally let's try a couple of questions from the audience uh so little time first time caller line you're on the air with Bob AR and Jean Huff hello hello hi where are you I am in I'm calling from Bellingham Washington yes sir and respect to you Mr Bell your program is excellent thank you I have a question for Mr Lazar ask and two times in my life seen huh before I fall asleep in any of this did you ever see any sort of strange blue light yeah so around the uh well strange blue light uh wasn't that strange when the craft began to lift off the ground uh because of the high voltage present on the the very bottom of the craft there was a a Corona discharge kind of a a brushlike fuzzy blue glow around the bottom which dissipated when the craft got up to about 30 ft or so but that was the only you know you know unique blue light color effect that you saw right E's for the Rockies you're on the air with Bob Lazar and Jee Huff where are you I'm in Oklahoma City all right sir and uh I was uh listening to the program and then uh he he was talking about that model yes and on that on that booklet said that uh when he was inside the craft and he powered it up one of the panels become you know invisible like some kind of weird writing on it all right transparent uh is that correct yeah well that was a I was going to touch on that when I had mentioned that all the seats were facing in One Direction uh between each Archway in the craft uh there's obviously the skin of The Craft uh that one Archway that the seats face uh is apparently unique uh now I say apparently because the other archways May in fact do this but I saw no evidence of that but um the one time when I went into the craft there was another team working in there and they energized um that portion that Archway in The Craft where the skin of The Craft became transparent now that's not the most amazing thing I mean we have liquid crystals that do that too it's true uh in fact I think the new Buick sunroofs do that however this is more metallic uh than crystalline so this was uh certainly another you know unique material that can be used as uh uh you know obviously a transparent translucent viewport or uh some sort of video or whatever their output as a display panel all right also Bob on the what this gentleman was referring to you said on the right side of the archway was a solid panel and and and some sort of unknown writing scrolled down that right right well I I related it to writing there it's it's just the closest thing I said it looked like was uh Korean Korean Korean right I mean I'm not very familiar with uh uh you know writing do you know what Korean writing looks like it's mostly lines and little well it's like Chinese it's a well no not really Chinese kind of looks Chinese um all right I'll take a look at Korean writing and that that's my closest analogy to it I'm not saying that it was represented it in any way I understand west of the Rockies you're on the air with Bob Lazar and Jean Huff hello yeah good morning this is Alexander in central California yes sir I was just curious whether you're able to identify the material the emitters were hanging off of um as far as Elemental sort of thing no we never got to that that was uh certainly further down the line but um it it uh was identical at least apparently to me uh to be what the wave guide was also made of that connected to the reactor and in fact removing the reactor um if you grab the wave guide and lift it up it just collapses on itself I mean there's no visible seams or anything it just gets smaller uh um but it it um you know there's really no way to describe it we weren't able to perform any tests on it other than just standing there and looking at it in amazement all right listen I want to give you guys have been so good I want to give you an opportunity to plug something or another uh you've got a tape I know uh Jean how do people get can you still get that tape or not yeah you can actually that the reason that tape is in existence was uh so I didn't have to do any interviews and uh I used to just give that out to people because I absolutely love doing interviews but we found people were selling it instead yeah um but are they can they can get to your website to our website and everything's on there and then in fact uh we never advertise it or anything we'll uh I'll cook up something we'll give a some sort of discount knock it down for artbell listeners if people are interested in buying it we'll I'll go and discount the U tape in the poster on that web page if they mention artfel all right but not everybody has a computer so okay well if if you're interested you could uh uh you could write to uh tr. Productions t r d o t Productions 2413 Southeastern Avenue Suite 225 Las Vegas Nevada 89104 and uh we'll have the girls send you a postcard and give you price and addresses and places to send money for a tap or poster if you'd like do do it again please it's not Southeastern it's South Eastern it's TR dot Productions t r i d o t Productions right 2413 S period Eastern Avenue South Eastern Avenue sweet 225 Las Vegas Nevada 89104 and they write and if they're interested we'll send them a postcard all right um when uh the screenplay that you are now developing that is going to tell this whole story Jean uh when will this be manifested into something that we can go out and watch at the movies well you know I don't think Stephen Spielberg could tell you that the the fact is the first movie deal literally the president of the studio came to meet Bob and said I'm gonna make this movie do you want to help or not yeah and and five years later that movie is still not on the screen so I would I would not be so bold as to give a date but these people do seem serious and if they could wave a magic wand they'd like to have it on the screen in the in the summer or fall of 1998 but I mean who knows well the atmosphere for it now a the way the genre has been going has got to be just right well they say that if a mediocre movie like uh Men In Black and and we all had hoped Men In Black would be great but it was kind of mediocre uh it did 230 million just here in the United States so I I would say that more than encouraging uhhuh Bob are you going to uh you going to act at all in the movie but actually I don't want them to make the movie you don't no really why not he's well you really haven't been he's afraid they'll make it outrageous and won't stick to the storyline see the problem he's probably right by the way they will you know well you have to when you sign a contract for a movie deal you have to sign you know you have to sign away every right I mean they could turn into anything they want and so Bob is has stayed kept it close to the vest and and restricts what they can portray they can't portray any live aliens and oh I don't know by the time it's over you'll have little guys going y y y y y y well not with my name on it steal will be fighting him with a machine gun probably well it sure has been a pleasure doing this and we sure did get a lot of good information out

This episode is brought to you by Skillshare.

Science fiction has taught us to be skeptical if aliens claim, 'we come in peace'.

But what if they actually meant it?

Quite a few tales in science fiction and theories among UFO watchers involve rather sinister aliens, or those that appear nice but are not as benevolent as they seem, but occasionally

we do get examples where those aliens really are nice and enlightened folks.

I suspect their relative rarity tends to come from them being a bit boring from a story writing perspective, no conflict or conspiracy, no fun.

I thought we would ask ourselves what a benevolent group of aliens would be like, what they probably would not be like, and what we might be like to other civilizations if we got to be nicer people and encountered some fledgling alien civilization ourselves.

We must start though by acknowledging the obvious, benevolent is a bit of a subjective term, to say the least.

As we discussed in “The Fermi Paradox: Zoo Hypothesis”, an alien race might think they were doing us a favor by keeping us tucked away from interference by others and ignorant of their existence.

Indeed as we noted there, a post-biological race might flat out kill us all for our own good, simply because they thought we'd be a lot safer if they came in, scanned our brains, turned us off in real life, and rebooted us in some nice safe simulated reality somewhere

That would be an example of where a civilization with high-minded intent literally committed genocide, from a certain point of view, and it's not the only one.

You might see some fledgling species as so innately dangerous to the wider galaxy that you felt obliged to wipe them out.

Though you might instead alter them so they were not a potential threat, like making them less aggressive, and depending on how they did that, and again, from a certain point of view, it might be effectively wiping out a civilization.

Many would view the wholesale alteration of a person, so they acted very differently, against their will or without their informed consent, to be a type of death and maybe a fate worse than death.

But much like brainwashing people versus raising children, the line can be rather murky.

However, this is a pretty common thread in science fiction with more enlightened aliens.

They either try to help us achieve enlightenment
or refuse to help us or have any dealings

with us until we evolve to be more enlightened.

Or grow to be more enlightened anyway.

Science fiction writers have a bad habit of using the word 'evolve' to describe non-natural developments, when an ancient and powerful race or entity showing up to change and improve your species would be more appropriately called Intelligent Design.

Personally I don't subscribe to the non-interference policy advocated in Star Trek and its Prime

Directive, with the motivation that it is for that civilizations own good, and we examined

the problems with that back in "Smug Aliens", but there's a lot to be said about non-interference

simply from the standpoint of not wanting to get dragged into someone else's problems.

Benevolent though is pretty much by definition someone who does get into other people's problems, in order to help, whereas not getting involved at all is more of a distant well-wisher.

These are the civilizations we're focusing on today, the ones that actively help.

This doesn't mean they help with everything or that they do it openly, nor does it mean they have no self-interest in doing so, just that their main goal in dealing with us is to help us and by action rather than inaction.

As we often say in regard to Aliens and the Fermi Paradox, it's the motivation that's key to figuring out how they would operate and how we might detect them.

So, if aliens are somehow helping us, we can assume they did not think the best course of action for dealing with modern humanity was to openly land and start teaching, since they clearly are not.

Though we might do that if we encountered some aliens when we get out there.

There is a caveat though, a given benevolent agency might not act openly not because they were worried about it messing with our civilization but for fear of action by another agency.

As an example, if you have some restrictive interstellar empire out there that doesn't tolerate interference in civilizations like our own, for whatever reason, other groups inside or outside that empire might covertly sneak in and help.

There's also the matter of why and how they're helping us.

A common theme in science fiction is aliens showing up to basically lecture us on our

Back in early sci-fi this was generally on how militaristic we were or how we'd nuke ourselves into the dust, these days it's often on environmental and ecological disasters, a good example of which is the original and more recent remake of "The Day the Earth Stood Still".

The former made a bit of sense, if folks are aggressive and destructive, and you are not,

showing up to talk to them about being nicer people fits as a way of engaging in your goal inside your own ethical constraints.

The alternative might be an enforced peace, which they might be fine with doing too, but it takes a lot of effort to enforce peace and can border on being a Police State, so even if they are ethically okay with that they would presumably try the diplomatic and instructive approach first.

Either way, this motivation, making us peaceful, makes some sense and again is common in sci-fi.

It also fits for waiting if you don't really want to actively intervene till forced, so you don't need to step in until the civilization has developed an ability to destroy itself or maybe others on other worlds, thus partially avoiding the usual first contact issue of

why now, and not a thousand years ago.

However, more modern versions, like the reboot of "The Day the Earth Stood Still", suggest they are motivated by wanting to save us from our environmentally destructive ways and that does not make sense in any format requiring force or lecture.

It is very unlikely that any civilization is actively trying to wreck their planet, and presumably your civilization has figured out various technologies and methods that permit ecologically sound industry and production, particularly as these are essentially prerequisites

to actually engaging in interstellar travel... see our Generation Ships series for discussion of that, but fundamentally you need a pretty impressive power supply to move spaceships around and that pretty much eliminates all the environmental concerns of power production and also issues like clean fresh water supplies, agricultural land and deforestation, mining and recycling and some others too.

Now you might need to encourage them to certain behaviors so they were continuing to pick ecologically sound options even while it was not always the most economical path, but that's a lot easier to do when you just eliminated a vast amount of their existing problems and gave them a massive economic boost while you were at it.

Sort of like meeting a primitive civilization and introducing them to antibiotics and vaccines.

You still encourage them to the habit of washing their hands and other hygienic preventative measures, but they'll be listening a lot more attentively when you just swept in and saved millions from the threat of this or that pandemic, even if you are being a bit condescending and smug about your explanations.

The basic notion is that you don't teach people how to behave better if the bad behavior stems from a problem you can simply eliminate, or at least massively limit, and folks are more receptive to your reasoning if you just gave them a hand.

If you've got the technology to fix a problem, or at least change the specifics and expiration date, you are best off giving them that technology, then you can give the lecture.

The exception being if the tech causes a new problem, like a better weapon, but while an assault rifle can kill people more effectively than a bow and arrow, either one gets the job done and which you're both using doesn't really matter if both parties are intentionally trying to kill each other and won't stop till the job is done.

A far smaller percentage of people die nowadays
in war than used to, even though we have better

The why is debatable, and there's probably not a single cause, but simply having better weapons doesn't mean more destruction, and that is something any species that is flying around interstellar space and talking about living peacefully is going to know and believe,

else they wouldn't exist.

So, a benevolent species aiming to change our attitude on something isn't likely to be averse to giving us technological aid,

at least for the reason of self-destruction.

That might not be universal though, it would apply to modern humans it would seem but maybe not prior human civilizations and maybe not to some species that was hyper-aggressive.

Now we can come up with some special exceptions,
but we have to keep two things in mind.

First, while they might be very averse to giving folks technology, it's pretty unlikely that would be a universal view among all civilizations,

or even all the members of such a civilization.

Second, they're going to know that, and know that technology is likely to seep out anyway, and that's likely to impact their decision-making process.

If you know other civilizations hand out technology,
or that members of your civilization will covertly give it out from good intent or sell

it or even just that it will get accidentally exchanged, what's the point of putting the effort into concealing it if its doomed to

When alternatively you can control its release to minimize negative impact.

Keep in mind, scientific and technological progress don't happen like portrayed in Hollywood, a lot of invention is just about it occurring to someone that a device should or could be made to do something, it's a lot easier to get there if you see a device doing its job and how that's handy, or reverse-engineered it from folks seeing it in action a lot and knowing some of the new principles involved.

I couldn't have invented a refrigerator nor could anyone living in a bronze age culture, but even having never made much of a study of it, ignoring the language gap, I could easily sit down with some bronze or copper smiths of that era and show them how to make one, especially an Einstein Refrigerator which has no moving parts and runs on fire.

I know what it does, I know that it works, I know the basic principle, that's all it takes with a little time and tinkering.

That sort of approach could lead to Cargo Cults, folks with no understanding of the principles who simply mimic what they see, but Cargo Cults appeared when a civilization was busy doing something near another civilization, not with them, like airdrops of supplies to remote islands in World War 2, that isn't likely to apply to interstellar visitors as you don't really bump into a planet and regardless it assumes the civilization is contacting the other civilization with help

in mind and actively involving themselves,

not some big war going on.

One could imagine two interstellar empires having a shooting war in a solar system with a primitive civilization observing it but that's a different situation and scenario

than today's topic.

Of course, speaking of religions and keeping in mind technology isn't the only way to help, there is a good chance you'd see a lot of folks worshipping aliens who came bearing gifts, and indeed that is a common notion in sci-fi too.

It's got two problems though.

First, if we're assuming they are benevolent
then they aren't likely to be propping themselves

up as false gods, with an exception we'll get to in a moment.

Second, such a civilization either has its own religion, or religions, or does not.

If not, they presumably aren't encouraging folks to worship them if their goal is to enlighten us, as they'd presumably view that as counterproductive.

If the former, that they are religious, then it's very unlikely they're trying to impersonate deities, instead they'd either be trying to convert us for what they considered our own good, and that would probably be their top priority, essentially a missionary civilization, or they would not if they thought that was wrong ethically.

However, they might be pragmatists, especially if they're a small group dealing with an early civilization and one they don't want to disrupt too much and pose as existing benevolent gods or simply as enlightened teachers who later were deified by history.

That's also a popular one in science fiction too, suggesting this or that historic scientist or teacher or religious figure was an alien, and not a bad one either from a strictly logical perspective.

If you're posing as a human, odds are good you'd be giving off a lot of telltales of abnormality in your behavior, the eccentric scientist is a pretty good cover story for that, and that applies to big thinkers in general.

It's not a terribly accurate stereotype incidentally but eccentric behavior is hardly uncommon in such folks and accurate or not,

it's not unexpected, which is what matters.

This one fits pretty good too, because they are probably going to want to do more than just give us technology.

I mean if I were going back in time to help farmers or smiths learn how to rotate crops or make cheap steel, I really doubt I'd be able to avoid making commentary on some things I thought they might find good, like abolishing slavery and instituting some human rights and due process, particularly as I wouldn't have any moral qualms about that.

That obviously gets into murky territory but as I said, once you get into the benevolent intervention game, that murk is unavoidable, you're just trying to be mindful of the pitfalls and abuses that can accompany such behavior.

A given civilization might be heavy handed with their intervention because they subscribe to the 'for your own good' school of thought in a major way.

That would depend a lot on the culture in question, both the folks giving the help and the ones getting it.

As an example, we have a notion called Uplifting, which is enhancing a species either technologically, physiologically, or neurologically, or two or all three, see that episode for discussion of the specifics but if I find a race of pretty intelligent critters, like dolphins, chimps, or elephants, I might give them a little genetic tweak to mind or body to make technological development easier.

I'm obviously not asking them since they'd have no clue what I meant, so it's not exactly

That is another way they might help us too, improving us, in their eyes at least, physically or mentally.

Now if they're showing up overtly and giving us technology, they might simply offer this as an option, mind or body alterations, but this path of help applies more to the covert approaches.

And it can be very minimalist.

As an example, if I encounter a fairly aggressive species I might need only do something very tiny, like tweak genes for their gland that produces their hormone for aggression to produce

1% less, or tweak the rate of growth of their equivalent of a pre-frontal cortex for making judgements to develop just a little faster or larger.

Not even something outside their current bell-curve distribution, just something like the equivalent of tweaking average height by 1 centimeter or IQ from 100 to 101.

Civilizations are statistical in a lot of ways, and that can show up a lot in your outliers.

If you find out half your murders and fights are involving the 1% that have the highest of some given hormone or trait, moving that little average and distribution over just a little bit could drop that number in the outlier down to a fraction of what it is.

If you find that 99% of your discoveries are coming from the folks occupying the top 1% of your IQ distribution, moving that over a couple points might massively increase how many were of the same intelligence as that 1% were.

Or they might give us just a few little tweaks so we lived a bit longer or had better immune

This is obviously morally grey too but would seem to occupy lighter shades of grey than, say, culling folks with a given trait or outright engaging in major physiological or neurological enhancement.

That might happen too, you might get some species that thought it was perfectly fine to show up and infect everyone with an engineered virus or nanobots that turned us into some sort of alien-human hybrid.

That alien hybrid notion is popular in sci-fi too and the genetic alteration approach is a lot more plausible than interbreeding I imagine.

The whole half-human, half-alien thing is pretty dubious from any sort of biological standpoint, especially when it's an alien and human getting married and having kids like Spock from Star Trek.

When it's just the classic sci-fi alien, who for limitations of makeup or CGI basically just has a few minor cosmetic changes of appearance and behavior from humans, it seem plausible, but you're way more likely to be encountering something that resembles you about as closely as a squid does and differs from you genetically by more than a tree does.

I can't really imagine us finding lots of folks who wanted to go marry and breed with a tentacular horror and I'd imagine they'd feel the same way about us.

Although if the internet has taught me anything, it's that someone, somewhere, probably would think that was fun and to each his, her, or its own I suppose.

It's also entirely probable some advanced alien species isn't exactly a species.

It might be some federation of many alien races or it might be that they've just diverged

a lot internally, as we discussed recently in the episode "Genetic Divergence and Civilization", given several thousand years and access to a lot of high-end genetic or cybernetic technologies,

they might easily have a widely varying number of limbs and eyeballs even from folks who were distant cousins or even not-so-distant ones.

There's also the psychological differences
too, both those hard-wired into us biologically and those that are cultural.

A lot of our ethics follow from logical reasoning
but often derive from paths influenced by arguably arbitrary cultural events that impacted us strongly.

For instance, we worry about the dangers of colonialism but that's from effective isolation of cultures leaving very large technology
gaps and cultural differences, some planet
that was a single big continent with easily navigated coasts and rivers, or more wanderlust prone inhabitants – which ought not be a strange trait for evolution to produce – might never have that particularly issue crop up and not come away with the same perspective
or the dangers we associate with that.

If your civilization was one where young folks routinely went on long journeys to find a new home or a mate and was expected to carry news and innovations along with them, you probably have a culture that is predisposed to just wander in and say hi and start airing their ideas and views rather casually, everybody is an anthropologist in their youth and none of their anthropologists ever developed a non-interference restriction.

That's a pretty minor difference, and so too, a civilization that developed on a world where a lot of plants had developed major narcotic properties, where one made folks more docile and suggestible, might have very early on gotten in the habit of dosing people with that whenever they misbehaved even as kids, their equivalent of spanking or telling a kid to go stand in the corner or hitting a troublemaker with community service for misdemeanors.

They are likely to have a very different view on brainwashing than we do and be surprised if anyone objected if they mass-brainwashed us all to be less troublesome in their eyes.

And again, 'benevolent' is pretty subjective.

If you encounter a society that is pretty Darwinian in some regards, they might think it a genuine kindness to regularly attack primitive civilizations with just enough force to damage them to toughen them up, and do it periodically.

Indeed, that's the implied reasoning of the aliens known as the Shadows in the Babylon

5 TV series from the 1990s.

We take that attitude to a degree too, that hardship and challenge bring growth and strength, and we would assume Darwinian concepts were known to almost every advanced civilization,

so some might take it a bit more extreme than us.

Same, if they're a lot more interconnected than us, not even going into hive minds or the assimilationist Borg of Star Trek, they might think wiring us all up so we could hear or feel each other's thoughts or moods was a great kindness.

We see something similar in Alastair Reynolds Revelation Space series in terms of the Conjoiners, a partial hive mind who, while later switching to voluntary membership, start off as grabbing people for involuntary membership.

It brings to mind the old saying, "With friends like these, who needs enemies?".

Personally I think it more likely than not that aliens we'd meet one day would be more prone to benevolence than exploitation or conquest or extermination, but we might find their gifts a bit less than desirable, and if we end up in their shoes instead, helping out some civilization we encounter, we might want to keep that in mind.

A theme for today was that while aliens are often thought to be reluctant to share their knowledge and skills, that doesn't really make sense, and certainly our own modern civilization doesn't tend to feel that way.

I'd tend to suspect a society based heavily around advancing knowledge and technology would tend to also be one that would lean toward wanting to share at least the basic and intermediate skills of any craft with everyone else.

Of course a willingness to share skills isn't the same as doing it well, and while a great blessing of modern times is that everything is out on the internet, it's often not collected and presented in an ideal form for folks to find and learn.

That's where Skillshare comes in.

Skillshare is an online learning community for creatives, where millions come together to take the next step in their creative journey, and Members get unlimited access to thousands of inspiring classes, with hands-on projects and feedback from a community of millions.

Skillshare offers thousands of classes to improve professional and creative skills, but also a lot of simply handy life skills, like Michael Phillips class on how to brew

an amazing cup of coffee.

I suspect I'm not alone in being a big fan of coffee and he does a great job not just explaining the method of brewing but a lot of background and knowledge involved.

If you're a lifelong learner interested in picking up some new skills, I'd recommend Skillshare.

Whether you're a beginner, a pro, a dabler,
or a master, Skillshare has thousands of classes

on a wide variety of topics from experts to help you learn.

So we were talking today about how a benevolent alien species might act if it came across

a younger species, and it stands to reason
if they found someone younger to help or visit,

someone older probably found them and acted likewise.

That can only go back so far though, until you get to that first civilization... and maybe that civilization is us?

Maybe we are the firstborn civilization in the Cosmos.

In two weeks we'll explore that notion in
"The Fermi Paradox: Firstborn"

Before then though, we'll be returning to Jupiter to look at the possibility of turning

it into a second Sun, a notion popularized
by Arthur C. Clarke in his 2001: Space Odyssey series as something done by an ancient benevolent alien civilization.

We'll look at why and how we might be able to do that or something equivalent next week in "Summer on Jupiter".

Richard Dolan Intelligent Disclosure

here on kgr a radio welcome to the Richard Dolan show where every week we fight the good fight greetings very excited to have my guest for this program

this is Aviation I'm going to say the word legend James or Jim Goodall he's a little more modest but I think that he qualifies this is a man who is one of the earliest investigators into what we now know as area 51 back in the 80s and early nineties even before there was Bob Lazar James Goodall as an aviation journalist was investigating some of the most advanced aircraft that was under design and production by the United States and it took him to that secret place known as area 51 and he learned a lot and he's never stopped you know it's a funny thing when I first started researching UFOs way way back in the 90s

James Goodall was already had been there and done that to use that phrase Jim it's a pleasure to have you on the program thanks so much for being here I'm delighted to be here and I've had a love of aviation since I was a little kid when I was about four and a half five years old my dad came into the bedroom we're living in San Jose and he said I don't know what's coming but you have to see it and we walked outside and coyote God's already gone to bed and over the coast mountains heading to Travis we're not one not two but 24 Convair b-36 and that sort of wow that's a huge huge Eric aircraft right they were enormous they called it a magnesium overcast 230 foot wingspan 10 engines and that's that's what really I have always been into machines planes trains and automobiles uh-huh and it's always been a passion of mine it will always be a passion of mine and because of that I've become an expert on a number of areas very 51 is one of them only because the airplanes that I'm so thoroughly taken by or the Blackbird the f-117 the u2 to a certain extent have written books on the b2 and some of the other stuff they have going on there that they want the government won't say area 51 the guys that lucky won't say are you sure when they referred to it as the test site uh-huh but it is in a place I John where and I were through the first two guys to go up to the top of white sides and a photograph area 51 and John and I are probably the primary reason well why white size and freedom Ridge or now off-limits yeah you know back in the late 80s

John Lear made his own name in in the fringe UFO circles for sure around the time that you were digging in as well and I wonder if you could tell folks just what you were up to in the 1980s and what got you over to the test site and and looking at some of things that really kind of intersected with the world of UFOs some of the advanced things that you learned about well I mean I've always had a passion for things that go bump in the night I have interviewed guys that my boss in the Air Guard Wayne Gatlin

Major General he chased one over Lake Superior and it out random this is back in the 50s I have because because of my passion for the black bird that its first home was area 51 mm-hmm on that yeah it's you know I knew it was the premier flight test facility for black programs so I started to go in there you know I think firstly I went up freedom Ridge was 87 not freedom which Whitesides was 87 okay I actually feel that I believe that I was in area 51 in 1964 I was a I was a an airman second class I don't use that term anymore it was I was in a three mm-hmm I was at Edwards for to support three programs for category one flight testing for ground-based telomere

okay not a pilot I'm just an aviation enthusiast who's very confident when it comes to airplanes so I I was installing equipment at Edwards for category testing for three programs he why c-141 Starlifter the xb-70 valkyrie and at the time a classified program which turned out to be the Lockheed skunkworks blackbird Wow

okay and on March 10th 1964 I saw my first Blackbird and I and that his effect lease I mean it was almost like seeing my you see in my first naked woman when I was 11 or 12 you know in real life someone it was really quite an experience more than think about how few people can say this today that they saw the sr-71 blackbird fastest officially still I think the fastest aircraft in aviation history I'm sure it's been surpassed

I would imagine but fastest aircraft back in 1964 that's amazing

and such an airy aircraft and you were seeing it back then because of what I was doing at Edwards I was here about two and a half weeks and they said we have to install some equipment somewhere else so we got on a Fairchild f27 you know high wing turboprop we flew for about 90 minutes got out next to a hangar there were buses in either side of the airplane we were told not to look around just go go into the door of the hangar mm-hmm

I mean that I'm still in the desert so I could I could have been anywhere in the desert southwest chances are wasn't I chances are I was in area 51 Wow

I am here for about five hours they brought in a box lunch finished that got back and when I got done the airplane was still sitting next to the hangar we went inside there's the windows inside windows were covered up and we took a hot flue for another nine minutes landed at

Edwards so I believe I was in area 51 sure that's a reasonable supposition I would say that seems reasonable indeed fascinating fascinating so by the time you were working as a journalist in the 80s you'd had a lot of experience with that part of the world with Edwards and with the Nevada Test Site area this is all I'm guessing it was almost second nature to you to investigate some of the things that we're going on there does that seem fair a fair statement it's my job as American taxpayer to know what my governments up to mm-hmm

and a good example that I just love that you said that a good example bill Sweetman and I wrote the very first book on the f-117 it came out in 87 the world hadn't seen it until 88 I had photographed it but it didn't the public didn't see the first one until 1990 and I was activated for Desert Shield and Desert Storm I'm at the Pentagon at the time I'm a tech sergeant I'm a nice he's six ok and I went to get my permanent Pentagon pass and he said well you have you're under investigation through something Dora

so I knew I knew who I had to go talk to so I called up a guy named Pete Ames he's deputy director of program security for special projects I said Pete said you're screwing with my security clearance I'm here at the Pentagon where are you located

I didn't know if he was at bowling or somewhere else right said I'm in 5d 156 now they don't use those number of systems anymore but he was on the fifth floor on the d-ring so I go up to d-ring though they her walk up the door

nothing near but but the 5d 156 no name no organization I press the buzzer on the cipher lock the door opens and there's a young lady behind the desk

I said I'm Jim Goodall I'm here to see Pete Ames and her job out him nobody hit the desk so I said what you'll be my 15 minutes so I'm sitting there I'm in uniform and I have a procession of people both in you in and out of uniform my Jim one see what Jim did all work second come here Jim when I was here

so your your reputation preceded you sir just yeah it's time same with John Dillinger and Al Capone - so he comes out and here's another agent and we we started having a discussion about primarily my block on my security clearance I had a top secret clearance for 27 years so he said he said when I saw it when I saw your when I saw your book on villain I did in the f-117 I wanted to put you on that to duty and charge you with espionage

I stood up pulled a copy of the book and I threw them the desk and his autograph two feet and I said Pete there's exhibit one charge me it's not the best interest of the program I said because you don't have the balls to do it and we were going around I mean we this this was a house this was a hostel he said I don't like the questions you're asking and looking right in the face I said Pete it is my job to challenge my government it is my job to question

my government and there isn't a person in this building's gonna stop me from challenging and asking questions of my government if it's not classified and I'm American citizen and a taxpayer and I asked a question I expect an honest answer

but it's classified you say no comment

I don't want to lie to prep and he said well so you have stuff in that in your in your book that's still classified above top secret I said Pete I sent you a copy of the draft before I send it to the publisher I said that to it to the head of the CIA I sent it to the head

secretary defense secretary of the Air Force and to Ben rich then was a friend of my mm-hmm

Ben sends me a name email I said Jim I would love I would love to do the forward but I can't because of security restrictions the program is still very very classified sure so this went on and on and he said these are my airplanes I said Pete you don't own a damn thing

these are own

by the American taxpayers this is your job is to maintain the article if it's if it's classified then it's your job to make sure it stays you know stays within reasonable boundaries still classifies but it's not your airplane it belongs to the American people we the people not you the government we're thinking we're the sole earner and he's getting really riled up and I finally after about 90 minutes that said Pete are we done well I think so and Pete was kind of a short guy and I now I'm in uniform I'm in his territory I'm behind a cipher lock door in a very classified environment I put my face right up to his face I said Pete you know what really pisses you off about me

he said what's that says I'm not afraid ago he turned he turned I mean he did turn the color red and then I heard from a friend of mine who were working a raspberry and a friend of mine to work there to Pentagon and I talked to him but three or four days later he knew I was where I was at he said so you know your friend Pete I said yeah

said they sent him home 15 minutes after you left because his blood pressure went through the roof and they couldn't get it down right upset him so much absolutely right and you know by the way I'm sure there's a lot of people who just listen to what you said and thought wow this is my new hero like I really like Americans need to be reminded of the fact that that government works for us we don't work for the government and you were doing this in the pre nine eleven days that's like a whole different universe in my opinion where people still were more likely I would say my opinion to have that attitude like yeah this is you belong to us and we are the taxpayers and we paid for this so that's actually just wonderful that you were able to say that and I feel stronger

I actually feel stronger today about that than I did back in 89 good I think I think all of us need to feel more strongly about it as years go by because it just seems like we live in the upside-down world as far as I can tell so let's let's quit what the what the words freedom and personal privacy and all that mean it's still in the back of my head before I forget I meant I'm at that age where you have those senior moments I'm pushing 75 I'm very proud of what I've accomplished in my heart and soul I'm either 15 or 35 but we need people like Michael Shred to go out in the desert to go challenge our government I mean I can I can still do it and I am still doing it occasionally I was I was I was out of the loop for about ten years and I had four years then when I retired I just I've just been writing but we need we need the young blood

we need people out there that um I don't mind going to sleep out on in a tent on a sleeping bag the hard part is trying to get up on my feet and so some of you out there who were approaching my age gonna understand that yeah I'm very I'm not a civil person but I'm I don't let my age slow me down but we need we need we need young blood and Michael by the way is just such an amazing fantastic researcher and he's dedicated he's conscientious and he's got a lot of energy and yeah we're really lucky to have him yeah yeah he actually got a job in Valley where I lived so he could be within ten minutes or five minutes of my house yeah he's alright it's like he knows he knows where the gold mines located it's right there in your house where you are information yeah

so can I ask you so well can we assume that they took the ding off your security clearance where you were you clear it after that or what well the thing is if when I when the flag went up on my clearance

my Wing Commander bye-bye

regulation was supposed to have been informed within 24 hours and it had been like a year and a half and my boss was boss Jon Drummond is one star he was he was pissed he should be because that's seriously against regulation probably the law yeah like a being a little thing to do and I had another event at the Pentagon when I was there they had to do it Bob Lazar okay

Aaron hear about it

I had Bob's w2 when he worked when he was paid by the Navy to work out at s4 I blocked off his his social security number but I had I had about 90 minutes I was waiting for something to happen so I had about 90 minutes and I decided I was I go to naval investigators services or naval intelligence service or whatever the name on the w2 was is not a normal Navy location but I found a place on the Pentagon and I walk in the office and there's a young lieutenant sitting behind the desk and I said can you shoot and I handed in Bob's w2 I said can you tell me what this location is he looks at it looks at me he gets up goes into the two stars office is in there for about a minute he comes out and said the Admiral will see you now nowhere no animal is gonna unannounced without a without a an appointment talked to a an Air Force puke an enlisted guy to boot I don't think right so you know you walk in to see an admiral

a good sharp salute and he said parade rest you didn't say that ease he said parade rest so I'm standing there and he's look at was ours w2 and so he said sergeant I don't know where you got this but if I ever see your face come through my threshold again you're gonna be the most sorry sumbitch Tech sergeant United States Air Force

do we understand said yes sir without each of Bob's w2

he says you're dismissed

I give him a salute I do about face and I walk out the door I said look there's just a pause right there so that you can explain because there's probably some people listening who may not fully appreciate the significance of this so Bob Lazar as everyone knows everyone in the world knows Bob Lazar now claimed that he had worked at a place called s4 in the general vicinity of area 51 and that he had been exposed to presumably alien extraterrestrial flying saucers and and part of the controversy about Lazar involved this w-2 form in which he was working there was Office of Naval Intelligence correct oh and I yeah right yes

now you've and you found this were you the first person to fuck that W to me Bob gave me a copy of his w2 god I see Bob's a friend of mine yeah okay I I met Bob before he went to work out in the desert so what was your interpretation then of the Admirals response it was just like this is real don't ever show me this again

he wasn't I mean it wasn't like he thought it was fake that didn't seem to be the case if it had been faked the lieutenant would not have wasted the two stars time sure when I gave him that thing and he looked at it and he said just a minute and he wasn't he went to see the two-star he's in there for about a minute and then I go in there and that to service irritated well when I walked in there I knew it this wasn't gonna be a fun minute or two and I think I was didn't you

I couldn't been in there more than 90 seconds so let's talk about Lazar I mean you know him well and you guys are friends so what's your what's your sense of what happened to Bob Lazar when he was at s4 I mean what I guess let me just say this what's your assessment of Bob Lazar story how would you describe what Bob Lazar did in your opinion Bob Lazar story has never changed even when it was financially to his benefit for him to exaggerate his story has been consistent yeah

when when now the thing that thing that's just really sticks now I I had just this had to be 88 timeframe mm-hmm

they announced the existence of the f-117 it was either just before the announcement or just after the announcement which November 22nd 88 or November 11th one to two they did they did the b2 and the B and the f-117 the same month when was the 22nd was a letter stealth fighter and stealth bomber for those who yeah

this photograph the f-117 and that was that was an experience in half John Lear and I were driving up us 95 near Scotty's junction and an f-117 flew right over us I mean he couldn't be more than a thousand feet and we almost drove the car off the road and so John I made it to Tonopah we drove down six he said I think I know where this place is at and we headed down the road to the Tonopah test range and I'm going along the fence line and 117 flew over with the t-38 and our shooting picked rent film a normal shot Kodachrome but this type of stop I check print film because I could turn it faster and out of 36 exposures

there was only three they weren't blurred I mean it was like seeing my first naked girl sometimes like the p36 like my camera I'm just I'm just I'm my whole body is vibrating right so we finally get Bette we finally get back to Lear's house in Vegas and all the photo mats and those of you who are old enough remembered photo mats they've been replaced by baristas now in the same little building in the parking lot so lineweight know they were all photo master clothes on you gotta wait til the next morning and John learson bunny mind coming over

you know you probably enjoy meeting them so we have we got into John's by 9:15 yeah

about 9:30 Bob Lazar shows up and Johnny reduced me my fame Bob we've been here a short while he's a nerd he's interviewing for a job out in the desert and I think you find you know what is the background interesting and I told I told Bob I said hey I have this film excuse me thank you

I can't I have to wait till tomorrow to get it you know get it processed he said why have a c41 processor at home surrender my house up in West Charleston sure so we jumped in this car

we're heading towards his house Hey

and he looks at me said yeah I really feel sorry for Lear I said what do you mean feel sorry for Lear I said some bitch believes in UFOs I said I'm a nuclear physicist if I can't touch it or prove it mathematically it doesn't exist and I mean he was dead serious about that Wow

I was going to say it's good seeing processed and all of the early video of him he comes across exactly that way

I mean that that really does seem totally consistent with how he has been for as long as anyone's known him and I mean when I when I went to his house a lot of neat stuff he had an incredible diploma on his wall and I and I didn't stare at it I just looked at insa pilots that's nice-looking diploma yeah I believe it was from MIT you boot now this is important because this is a whole big sticking point right statement four years said that's a fraud he never went to MIT are you saying you

saw an MIT diploma there yes Wow

also also big news because how many people have ever claimed we've seen that probably gene huff probably may have seen it unless his house it would been his house was broken into when he was gone all his personal papers everything he could used to prove who he was was gone

there wasn't anything monetarily taken and but his soul his social security number that he has his card in his Wang has never been issued according to United States government Wow Wow

I got it yes I didn't I didn't know the social security card part of that that's quite remarkable the social unit number does not has never been issued but is that you you remember seeing a diploma from MIT do you remember what the diploma was of I mean I realize this a long time ago buddy I had a PhD from MIT and they look the same I looked at pretty impressive and he had a supercomputer in his office he had a 19-inch nema cabinet and he had was nothing but computers from but five feet down to the floor and he was it's probably the equivalent of a iPhone 6

today he but I'm not that good seriously back in 88 I mean that's what 30 years ago yeah I mean maybe we could just say was advanced he's as smart as he comes first but when when when George Knapp went to Albuquerque to investigate Bob's background he said he'd worked at Sandia Labs working on developing nuclear nuclear weapons they were trying to get the cost per kill from 12 cents per body down to 10 and a half cents that's our government at work

ya know accountants right pretty much yeah

George George Knapp went to the public part of the Sandia library pulled out a directory that was that the time Bob said he worked there and it's opened up there is a Robert Lazar I'm the number phone number that that Bob had given George the people he said he worked in the same office looked up there and their name was in there but the sick with the correct number we've stored George Knapp asked Edward Teller

well I'm said that Edward Teller the person that hired him Edward Teller wouldn't comment well do you uh Jim hold that thought right there we're gonna take a very very quick break

I'm Richard Dolan here with James good ol Jim good ol aviation the legend who knows everything there is to know in my view about the 1980s and 90s area 51 and all the advanced tech and the bobble is our story we're gonna come right back after this don't go away welcome back I'm here with James Goodall and we are James's dish do James our Jim you got my Jim Jim Jim is dishing it out right now on Bob Lazar and you were just about to talk about Edward Teller and that whole can Edward Teller again for those who don't know their history very very important nuclear physicist involved in the hydrogen bomb project scientists consider the father of the hydrogen bomb and of course pretty much portrayed by Peter Sellers and dr. Strangelove today that was the inspiration and and it was always said that teller was the mentor of Bob Lazar to get him into his job with over down by s4 so you were just talking about teller when when George Knapp interviewed Edward Teller and asked him about Bob he had no comment and the thing if you're dealing with something that's classified

you can't comment one way of the other you just say no comment

which edward teller did if Bob Lazar was a fraud if Bob Lazar had never met Edward Teller Bob Lazar was not who he says he was Edward Teller would said that guys are fraud I've never met him

I don't know and

everybody that George talked to would not comment because to comment yes I worked with them or no I don't know him or anything with just no comment because you can neither confirm nor deny the existence of something that's classified

absolutely really good point yeah so I think so in terms of what Lazar said he did we hadn't really talked about your take on a ufos both terrestrial and warned on terrestrial I would really love to hear you just give your take on that as well as where you think we are in terms of some of the advanced tech that you have you've learned about a lot and there's a lot of questions out there as to how far it goes but just one more question about Bob Lazar so in terms of his claim that he was brought in to work on or study I guess we could say flying saucers engineering of the propulsion system on what is referred to as the sports model u.s. plane so do you believe that or you do not believe that I believe that okay that completely completely and there's his story I mean he I think he was offered a ward sum of money to say that he saw alien you know saw the greys or the aliens now he said he he saw referencing they called him the kids apparently the greys aren't very big but there were posters in the hallways and stuff like that it's just but he never he never saw an alien but he did you know say that he saw he was working on just a sports model but there was other bays and he could see the other craft in there and he figured there was about a line of them right not right also the inside of the one he was working on was obviously too small for a normal sized human being right right that just just step back a bit about s4 I have a but mine that was one of the early enlisted guys on the

a team program at area 51 he was there at the production and when the first airplanes first airplane was moved to area 51 he basically went along with it and he was here for four years his area 51 badge allowed him to be anywhere in the bat attest sight there was no restriction to work as the most restricted area was where he worked so they're driving around the

two other maintenance guys and he said now I didn't ask him about s4 I didn't ask my friend Roy about bob lazar he's telling me about his time at area 51 some stuff he did he said and it was a curiosity thing he said you know after I was there for a while a bunch of this you know drove around on a Humvee over just around the area and we're on this dry lakebed and said from out of nowhere appeared a handful of guys in black utilities sporting machine guns and said done what are you guys doing here

I want to see some identification so they showed up their line badge and he said and the and the security people whoever it was totally said you have no reason to be here you were here to leave now but there's no vehicles they don't know where in the hell he came from and this was this was the same location that Bob said s4 was located interesting very interesting so is that the closest that you've had to maybe a confirmation of corroboration that there is a place such as s4 because it's always been denied officially speaking but other people have said it exists

I didn't interview the guy but I saw a brief clip on him there was a a Mormon missionary was following the trail of the lost Mormon and it in it passed it passed through the south end of area 51 incomer Curie and it was lost somewhere probably in Death Valley or whatever okay

so he asked permission to cross over the south end of area 51 and go into the bed a test site and he was turned down but he was he was determined to find some stuff so he on the on the west side he he made it through the over the fence in mercury he did this at night you know where you know he knew basically where he was going and he he found an under cropping and that's where he put out you know he put out a sleeping bag and that's where he spent tonight didn't he didn't want if he if he was looking using the flashlight or whatever he didn't want anybody flying over to you know to see him right right he said in the middle of the night he was he had to get up too to go to the bathroom and there were he was looking towards Papoose range and path was like and where s4 is allegedly located and and you said he was like someone was opening a garage door he said a light is just started getting brighter and it's quite a distance away and he washed it it was some activity and then the thing closed he said the next morning you guys binoculars out to see you know what if he see better and there was nothing there and that's basically how he said no he didn't he didn't dig it in me deeper but this was a calm a comment from someone not involved in UFOs not involved in area 51 research not involved in anything related a VA ssin saying that there were lights at the southwest corner of the pathless range where Bob Lazar said s4 is located it's very consistent with how Lazar described it which was extremely camouflaged right like you were really not able to see this from the outside or from above yeah Ben rich was a friend of mine I don't know how I got on his friend list but Johnny Anderson testers and I were in the same category where pain in the ass

but Ben really liked what we did John Lear I mean John Andrews could write a letter to ban on a Monday and by Wednesday or Thursday he had a handwritten reply back from Ben that's that's how our the relationship was and before you go on it just again people should know Ben rich I think a lot of listeners know very well who Ben rich was but he was the second head of Lockheed skunkworks division succeeding Kelly Johnson and Ben of course oversaw the development of the that the f-117 stealth fighter and was very much a legend at Lockheed for many many years so whatever there was to know about aviation we can assume been rich probably knew it absolutely I mean it the most classified programs in the world

then about we had access to right he was he died too soon because he was gonna give me an interview no holds barred but when he has the letter ok I'm saying yeah you know both my letter taped Japan in his letter back saying yeah well as soon as I get this book done with Leo Janos there's the time at the skunkworks we can sit down and talk but he had to keep he died of esophageal cancer I called him my family I called him about ten days before he died he was at USC Medical Center and I was an economist he I was doing and we're talking about Johnny Andrews and Jon Tester had come out with the SR 75 mother airplane and the xr7 penetrator we're talking about that he said I'm I'm disappointed in John's Aurora the xr7 penetrator I said why is that he said well a Mach 12 liquid methane filled airplane would have to have an internal volume at least four times the size of John's model now I didn't say Mach twelve you know what about the Mach twelve airplane what about the cryogenic fuel with liquid methane and there'd have to be big and fat you know to carry the liquid methane and Ben also said you know there's not there's no there's no more there's no difference in air refueling at cryogenic

fuel as there is JP for said JP for the fumes will go down the cracks and crevices and something to light a light a match that's where the gas is the lighter you know lighter than air gasses at the top so what he's really doing is confirming the existence of the award

amantha sounds like something absolutely that's what he's doing

yeah and then as we're I have another save another piece that does sewer to so Dan said to Jim

we have thing though this is 1998-99 would then die he died in 95 I believe isn't that right 95 I thought name is 95 John Andrews died in in 1998 Ben said it was just before Christmas he said Jim

we have things out in the desert and he wasn't referring to area 51

he said we have things out in the desert that's 50 years beyond what you can comprehend not what he thinks he can build in 50 years but what you can comprehend and for me I can comprehend an awful lot of strange stuff and then he said if you see movies like Star Trek or Star Wars we've been there done that or decide it wasn't worth the effort I said Ben you want to expand upon that he said no this is his deathbed confession that's we have we have stuff on the desert depth reel and it would make George and another two other people independence

let's talk about this is this is years earlier right back in the 80s I think early eighties so please tell this story this is really important I think I won't give his name because he's still alive

he worked at area fifty you said 36 37 years with the skunk works he had 10 full years at area 51 and I was asking him I said his name first name was Bill I said Bill I said said do you believe in UFOs

he said Jim should we have things out in the desert

it would make George Lucas envious

the guy said basically the same thing but he referred to Steven Spielberg

this must be a thing like around where they work you know they've gotta be saying this amongst themselves right sounds like it yeah

ya know now there's there's a guy now he denies it now but when I also didn't you you say would you can you expand on that and he also said no am I getting that right both both the other guys said no I really wanted to know right and these are senior people at ADP which is also called the skunkworks advanced development programs their project but it's just another piece of the puzzle so what do you what do you think is the technology you must have thought about this are they working with with liquid fuels are they working with something beyond that I mean they're all something beyond Star Trek Star Wars so wait you just mentioned anti-gravity

yeah well that's that's basically what the propulsion system was on the sports model that Bob Lazar was working on the element 115 and even Einstein theorized that you could you could have a stable element above 104 or 105 on the periodic table and 115 happened to be feasible but it's not found it's not found in nature here it's and they got they have a devil of a time trying to get the right isotope I imagine

my mind just went blank

well okay so we're talking about the technology I mean are they dealing with some kind of anti-gravity anti-gravity technology out there do you have any reason to believe that based on what been said to me directly babe based on what Bob Lazar has told me to my face I was I was a volunteer at Kitt Peak National Observatory and if people not familiar with Kitt Peak get peak has the largest collection of optical telescopes in the world

there's 22 optical telescopes on Kitt Peak and two radio telescopes a 12 meter and a 25 meter the biggest mirror the biggest mirror they have up there is the four meter Mayall telescope and has to be used being used now to identify dark energy or dark matter mom but on the 2.1 meter telescope it was which was managed and controlled and used by Caltech for five years they did a in a small part of the Milky Way they were looking for exoplanets flame that said it exists outside of our outside of our solar system and using adaptive optics now they China UV laser up to 18,000 feet and it had to be a real specific diameter and I don't know how they measured it but the the mirror that goes into the camera recording the recording the images adjusts itself 1200 times a minute

only available

1200 times a second not a minute and you're and they're getting comparable resolution from a ground-based telescope that then that at the Hubble and over right over the yeah over the course of five years in a very very small part of our galaxy they identified over 8,000 exoplanets

even they've even have planets with a binary star system so this is where you worked as a volunteer for a number of years correct just and I left I left because I didn't like the new volunteer coordinator I don't I don't like anybody talking down to me

no there's that already sir

yeah yeah sure

that's an established part of your character well to put my Ti in basic training he said good all you have everything going for you put your mouse and let's just mention your nickname back when you were doing your journalism could you just tell the world what you were known as well

General John Bessie

chairman of the Joint Chiefs at the time told my boss we we call your sergeant good all Agent Orange that's what they research I was thinking of that son of a bitch from Minnesota oh really like there's some testers that's how John Rich would describe John Andrews I like Agent Orange oh that's a good one well I have that on some of my posts like Lucien comm its Agent Orange is my house yeah yeah so we were talking about you were at the observatory but then you left the observatory and you brought that up for a reason not sure what we were going for there just before I quit

we had a docent meeting with all the astronomers and the number one guy from the National Science Foundation we're talking about exoplanets and whatever he said based on what we have found here at Kitt Peak and collaboration with all the other observatories in the world we calculate that for every star in the universe now that's a number you can't cram into anybody's head for your star in the universe they figure there's one-and-a-half planets and based on that based on that calculation they figure there's an in the neighborhood of two billion and that's what

be billion earth-like planets orbiting a similar-sized star in an habitable zone with liquid water now the universe is 14 billion 14 half billion years old

were four billion years old so somebody out there has had a ten billion year head start

yeah if they've had a 1 million year head start on technology you got to assume they're way beyond us and to say talk about billions it's mind-boggling Jodie Foster's character on continent movie contact if were the only ones we don't waste a space

yeah be like gods a big geologist collecting pebbles out in the universe you know he's got a little more interesting than that so we've got about 10 minutes left in this segment of our interview and I just want a couple of questions that I would like to just toss out at you and what you had to say here so we've been kind of hinting at very advanced technology that's got to be within the the you know very very covertly held very advanced what's your thought on the the famous story from 1988 of the alien reproduction vehicle this is a story in which aviation executive named Brad Sorenson goes to an air show and has shown craft actually three crafts that he gets to see that are basically flying saucers mama bear papa bear baby bear they were nicknamed they're known as the flux liner and and described as an alien reproduction vehicle what are your thoughts on this well one the spider is this a problem for you or do you mind and no no I mean just just to quote again been rich and I'm honored to have been on his list of people he felt close to and he and with John Andrews wrote a letter to Ben rich

skinned him if he believed in UFOs both and the scissors two categories both man-made and extraterrestrial

I'm like my god I'm saying that's right John Andrews it says it's been rich right he says I'd like to know your thoughts on this Ben he said he sent a letter on a Monday and I think he had to reply on a Friday from Ben on his corporate letterhead and in his human longhand cursive both Kelly and I are firm believers in both categories we were four hours as unfunded opportunities he underlines the UDF and the oh yeah if if Ben believes in UFOs in both categories then I wait to be a fool not to well I'm on your team here I believe in them as well and I think that's a very important letter oh god that's a very important letter for our history that Ben rich made that statement as I recall Kelly Johnson's name was not listed in Ben's replied but there is a long history of Kelly Johnson's interests in UFOs did you ever know Kelly Johnson that I photographed that he begrudgingly signed for me at a it was an engineering conference was an engineering week at Honeywell military haven avionics division they called the Ridgeway group there in Northeast Minneapolis the one who developed the stabilization augmentation system to the Blackbird the autopilot all of all of the electronics in the control system for the for the engines

that's all Honeywell and their keynote speaker this is February of 81 the keynote speakers Kelly Johnson the director of engineering at Honeywell invited me as his guest I'm sitting way in the back and Kelly's up there talking and he said I said all of you aware of the programs that we were you know we worked on in the in the 50s and 60s and 70s and said the two premiere blend be and of course our man blackbirds the sr-71 the yf-12 and the a12 they said and I can't talk about the little airplane he was referring to the d-21 said but there's there's some there's some Jerkins in San Diego area that makes you know plastic model toys that's talking about coming up with a model of one and there's some guy that lives up here Midwest somewheres real pain in the ass - he's referring to me yeah so he's getting therefore talkin and he said this 1981-82 time frame night I could I have the exact date written somewhere but huh all I know it was February and it was cold in the st. Paul Minnesota was the prom center and Kelly said we have the technology right now to go Mach 4 Mach 6

Mach 8 Mach 12 Mach 16 speed costs money how fast you want to go Wow Wow

sir look there I'm not 12 be something that would be out of the ordinary yeah use ordinary kind of RAM scramjets or whatever they use at that speed and liquid fuel couldn't could it possibly be it'd have to be on some kind of different principle when they see you they have a combined cycle engine i Jonny Andrews and I were at the little alien this would be December 6th 1993 snow in the ground we're just we're going from the little alien to one of the trailers and I was getting I was getting something out of my car and both John and I heard this noise it is the loudest noise I've ever heard and I've heard a Saturn one engine fire it at Edwards in fact it almost killed me because I was out the buddy of mine breaking you know breaking the law where we were not supposed to be but it was the noise was so intense

now they had airplanes up in the air going in and out of burner to try to mask the noise and this is this is the pulse detonation and

who could be I could had both now I'd have one auditory nerve severed I got a head the other one severed I could still feel the impulse on my body I mean it was I mean it was just it was weird and what do you what did you hear then what was the source of this noise and they were they were apparently down testing the combined-cycle post detonation engine used on a rural and it's posted gnashing it it posted that nation the engine is it isn't anything that's all that exotic basically it's you take a regular engine and turn it into a v1 type of motor I mean it that was a that was a pulse motor but so so so in other words I think what you're suggesting is conventional although really really advanced but conventional types of technologies could in fact get you to mob twelve sound so what you're saying and by the way the Aurora which of course was never officially acknowledged but a lot of people believed it existed I think I read the bill Sweetman book years ago on the Aurora you probably were involved in that for all I remember but he certainly seemed to believe it existed and what if the aura exists what do you think its mission would have been was it the successor to the Blackbird or would it have some other mission as well we believe and even higher-ups have not said hey you're nuts I believe both Sweetman and I believe that Aurora was used for detecting and monitoring the movement of fissionable materials one of the big concerns when the Russian when the Soviet Union came apart what happened to some of the soot cake box suitcase bomb what happened to some of the weapons-grade plutonium or whatever that they lost track of sure

now as early as 1919 70s the Soviets said that they had the ability to look at a ship going through a choke point like the Straits of Hormuz or whatever and we're going into the Black Sea and they could take determine the amount of fissile material on that boat on that ship and if it was it was a certain type they could tell it was weapon grade or they could tell if it was used for the propulsion system by 1975 I was told we had the ability to do that in an airborne platform and there were a number of modified p3 Orion's that could fly over oak fly over a Russian or Soviet ship or ships and determine the amount of fissile material in each one of those ships that what I think happened with cooperation of the Saudis permission from the Russians to overfly their airspace Aurora was built and designed to monitor and track the movement official materials to make sure I mean it the altitudes that it had to be flying at I'm just amazed frankly that they would have the ability probably at some of the best detection systems in the world best cameras going I would have to think right there they're measuring ocean levels to the millimeter from 22,000 or 21,000 miles in space I mean so the technology's there they've had it as amazing just reach in your back pocket and pull out that little dent right here the technology just this is a supercomputer this is a Cray anyway x1 supercomputer in 19

yeah and this is only an iPhone 6s it's not even it's not even 10 so we've got about a minute to go before I'm going to end this segment by the way can I get you in for an additional interview after we're done with this one absolutely

okay well then I want to ask you one more question here so how last question how far advanced in your imagination and you when you're just thinking about this on your own do you think a secret tech world has gone like what are some of the things that you believe are actually happening right now in secrecy I believe we can go from one end of the universe to the other

that fast do you think that we are doing that do you think that some people are doing that based on what people have told me specifically been rich and if anybody should know I would have to say if they can do it in Star Trek if they can do it in Star Wars then said if you see in the movies we've been there done that or decided it wasn't worth the effort this conversation with you and I have every reason to think that everyone listening it feels the same way so if you stick around

I would honor I want to follow up with another segment of this but right now I gotta say goodbye to everyone who's been listening that's all we got for this episode of the Richard Dolan show I've had the as one of the most delightful guests and one of the most informative guests Jim Goodall aviation legend and certainly expert in area 51 expert and everything else and it's been it's been fabulous Jim thank you very very much for being on here do it again that's all we got here and remember why we learn and grow and search for the truth let's be good to each other later dropping bombs the middle of the desert all that atomic energy fused sand together that's what gives it's really nice of glassy green you know texture that people really look for in it so and it's rare you know it's running out it's definitely a you know there's not enough on the planet for it to be an infinite resource so can't even do any more tests so that's why it's so rare all of a sudden you're selling a whole bunch of treatment tight yeah and what why is that well apparently Twin Peaks came out with an episode last week or so where they make good it's a really cool shot of the bomb going up in 1945 White Sands New Mexico and all it is is a two-minute closeup of the bomb going off and then it goes deeply into like this atomic you know everything's going off exploding and all this no fusion and that's it that's all that happens in the episode it's the only mention of it really

and then I guess later in the episode you see a bug crawl out of what the aftermath of the bomb but there's no explicit mention of Trinitite or anything like that and we sales just went through the roof

like we hadn't so we sold more in the in one week than we had all year of this stuff so it was but yeah it was bizarre I thought for sure there would be an explicit mention like you said with the Trinitite ring or something but nothing so that was it really it's really nice because you get to hold that like a bomb exploded in my hand basically that's why I really like to Trinitite so and it looks pretty cool too pretty nice they have the genuine piece of American history a little in your hand so that's why I like it a lot and it's all like it's called Trinitite because it was from the first atomic test it was thought the trick with the Trinitite bomb Trinity test sites Trinity test site that's what it was yeah and that's why it's called turnit site

that's the only reason yeah I love my job

there's a lot of craftsmanship and with the stuff I do I really like working with my hands and it's a really unique job I don't think there's any other job where you get to do this kind of stuff every day I work for Bob Lazar what more can I ask for that was kind of a coffee drop moment when I realized that my boss was dead when I interviewed with him I thought it was just some guy and then I go back home and I kind of start putting two and two together when I you know research who am I working for and all that and I was like oh my god I'm working for Bob because this is a guy known about since I was 12 years old so my uncle showed me a conspiracy video you know it's the Bob tape with the interview with him as for and area 51 from the 80s or so and I remember that because that was like the only video had ever seen where I actually trusted the it was like the only conspiracy video where I actually trusted the guy and what he was saying so flash forward 10 years later and I'm actually interviewing with him and I'm like oh my god I get to work for this guy the bonuses is that he's actually a really cool boss I never ever asked for that I never would have expected that but he's a really cool boss he's a really cool guy so that's what makes this job so awesome

I find to be an endlessly fascinating person he's always working on something different something cool and then he and I are always matched on curiosity about science in general so that's the best part is that whenever he's coming up with something new he'll come up and be like hey Zack check this out a super Cola oh my god you're right it is just that kind of like curiosity about the natural world and Sciences what really motivates me to come into work basically Bob's chemist scientist have you heard that stuff before yeah oh yeah you hear that all the time or you know he's a liar he never worked for area 51 that's why they can believe whatever they want you know the love that I know is like one of the most honest people that I've ever met and I love his ethics as a businessman that's kind of something that I try to you know propagate as a person as well he's got really good principles the more you get to know him than where you realized he's telling the truth

yeah that's the bizarre part is that his story's true it's like the most unbelievable story in American history and then it kind of clicked to me is like he actually worked there it's like that was the most unbelievable part to me it's like this whole time I thought he's just some crackpot honestly I thought he's gonna be suggest some you know another guy that's propagating his UFO conspiracies like we never landed on the moon I think like the first week I worked here I heard him call somebody out on the phone because they asked him did we land on the moon he's like I personally know somebody who's been on them and that kind of set the tone for me like he's not one of those guys he doesn't want to associate with those guys he doesn't want to be just some conspiracy nut so that really kind of started turning the wheels of like you know maybe his story's true maybe he actually did work there and understanding him as a person as being like somebody that's pretty honest that only reinforces the idea that yeah he actually worked there and he doesn't care he doesn't care if you don't believe him he doesn't care if you think is a total crackpot he left all guy

and that to me is probably the biggest invocation because Liars will always try to go the one step forward to make sure you believe their story and he does not he doesn't care he doesn't want people to believe that actually Italy just wants to be left alone and run his shop

that's it so he doesn't even told me the full story and I'm not gonna press him for it

it would be almost really convenient ever if everyone does it didn't believe him I think that's kind of life that he wants he just wants to be known as Bob just most a little normal life so I guess if you know people then view him as the area51 guy would be a lot easier to do that in his life and that leads credence to you know me trusting him and trusting his story and all that is unbelievable as it may be

this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there's a secret government within our government while that may be hard to believe coming from the UFO perspective we've certainly learned in Watergate and the iran-contra scandal that factions within our government can and do pursue pursue their own hidden agendas outside of the law outside the control of Congress or the Knology of the American people this is exactly the type of operation we'll hear about tonight it's a chilling scenario with worldwide implications that may have its roots right here area 51 that mysterious corner of the Nevada Test Site is no longer much of a secret the fact that secretive things go on here is a given even to the Soviets who make daily spy flights over the facility to take a peek at what's going on these photos never before shown in public are about as close as anyone will ever come to seeing what the place looks like again the dry bed of groom Lake corrugated metal buildings a three mile long runway and some highly sophisticated radar and detection equipment it's been known by many names over the years dreamland the ranch the skunk works if ever there was a place to test a secret new technology this is it and that's exactly what's been done here for decades 51 is where stealth technology was nurtured where star wars devices are still tested and were all manner of CIA monkey business has been plotted and refined it's the perfect place for secret things but of course that's no secret 51 is ringed by the forbidden vastness of the Nevada Test Site by the looming groom mountains and by sparsely populated desert expanses speculation was heightened in 1984 when the Air Force seized nearly 90,000 acres around groom Lake the action was by most accounts illegal during congressional hearings about the land grab Congressman John Seiberling grilled the military about the legal authority used in the action and was told the authority was at a much much higher level than the Air Force Seiberling asked what authority is higher than the laws of the United States the Air Force official said he could respond but only in a closed briefing in 1987 when the air flow sought to renew its stranglehold on the groom range news articles once again mentioned the talk about alien spacecraft and subsequent articles in national magazines quoted unnamed sources about things of alien origin flying in Nevada things that would make filmmaker George Lucas drool despite the speculation no one who knew area 51 from the inside ever talked publicly about the saucer stories well there's several uh actually nine flying saucers

flying discs that are out there of extraterrestrial origin the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan actually nine flying saucers flying tests despite numerous inquiries and feelers dennis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar a young scientist with eclectic interests the choice of Dennis was an inside joke he says that's the name of his superior at Groom Lake it wasn't a joke to Dennis he called right after he said you have an idea what we're gonna do to you I said no he hung up the phone Lazare story is by any standards fantastic he says he's telling it in order to protect himself he says he was hired to work at an area called s4 which is a few miles south of groom lake at s4 he says are flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities right this this came from somewhere else I mean as bizarre as that is to believe but I mean it's there I saw it I know what the current state of the art is and in in physics and it's it can't be done checking out lazarre's credentials proved to be a difficult task he says he earned degrees in physics and electronics but the schools we contacted say they've never heard of him he also said he worked as a physicist at Los Alamos National Lab where he experimented with one of the world's largest particle beam accelerators a half mile long behemoth capable of generating 700 million volts Los Alamos officials told us they had no records of her Robert Lazar ever working there they were either mistaken or were lying a 1982 phone book from the lists Lazar right there among the other scientists and technicians a 1982 clipping from the Los Alamos newspaper profiled Lazar and his interest in jet cars - mentioned his employment at the lab as a physicist we called those Alamos again an exasperated official told us he still had no records on Lazar EG&G which is where Lazar says he was interviewed for the job at s4 also has no records it's as if someone has made him disappear or they're trying to make me a non-person explain you called where well the schools that I went to the hospital that was born it passed job and essentially nothing comes up with my name in it he smiles but out of futility knowing the whole thing must sound ridiculous I did not believe that this should be a security matter some of it sure but just the concept that there's definite proof and we even have articles from another world another system you just can't not tell everyone work now Eyewitness News eight are you Robert Scott the Tsar yes about whether you have lied about flying saucers or antimatter control do you intend to answer my questions truthfully yes did you knowingly lie when you said that you had actually seen anti-gravity propulsion in operation did you knowingly lie when you said you had seen an antimatter reactor did you knowingly lie when you said that you actually saw a 35-foot gravity powered flying this this is a hard part of the story for people understand it said they they they don't really get a sense of what it was like because really literally you had to be there for some of this I lived through it I know what it was like what bob was going through at that time they were breaking into his house and playing mind games you know they'd leave the doors open they'd leave drawers open nothing's taken and right things on his blackboard or erase things move things around he goes to the gym with us with his buddy and he's kind of scared so he's got an Uzi in his car he comes out an hour later after working out the doors to the car open the windows are down the glove box is open and the Uzi is laying there on the front seat it wasn't a burglary that was somebody messing with him that stuff really happened it's both frightening and infuriating do you on a deeper level trust Bob story now than before what you take away from it 25 years later after sitting down with Bob and hearing him tell this story with the same details he's not adding any stuff to it doesn't have to worry about remembering the truth because he remembers the same version the same story the same way same details and he's telling things that actually happened to him I tend to it it carries a lot of weight with me I had 25 years later still telling the same story reluctantly by the way this is a reluctant UFO Messiah the only reason he came out to talk to us again is cuz I bugged him about it relentlessly come on Bob when you coming out are we there yet kind of a and he finally relented and came out but he wasn't happy about it nothing good comes from the UFO field for him it does nothing but cause him trouble if he had to do it over again I suspect he wouldn't do it because he changed his life and there was a part of him as he said in our most recent conversation there's a part of them that would really like to still be working on that stuff I mean it was really amazing technology the most amazing technology he's ever seen I think I believe the story more than it did before the idea that bob was a disinformation agent or part of a program to mislead the public is wrong he's not and I can say that or knowing the guy for a quarter of a century the story he told then is the story he tells now he didn't add to it he's not making it more elaborate he's not remembering new parts of it it's the same story it's consistent all the way through okay go ahead you got involved with this program I had sent resumes to several national labs around the country I got a response to McCullough they said we might have something in the near future you would be very interested in you know you say you work on little projects I said yeah I have a particle accelerator in my master bedroom and and things of that sort and some time went by and they called me back in they said there was a senior staff physicist that was leaving this organization they basically interview okay you you're there on the first day what happens on the first day first day was mine I read close to the free 120 one of these things right now Lincoln read what did they say here's some reaction it produces a gravity field that's not completely understood one of the things that they were teaching it was the physics they can't call this together to create fields and power such as these discs required to do what they do to lift off the ground without a body of own propulsion system requires it's a tremendous of my energy how does that work I mean how does that feel become useful it's the most potent energy source that there can be just as a rough estimate a kilogram of antimatter is people on interview 247 10 Megaton hydrogen bombs it's an extremely potent energy sources direct conversion of matter to energy if you want to tell the full story of John Lear you have to cover the story of Bob Lazar and the only way to do that is I talked about I don't know if it'll talk to you or not but you need to try well it was it's all gonna be circumstance for you is the moment that you approach him the mood that he's in what else is going on in his life at the time you might hit the jackpot and get him in exactly the right time and the the universe is aligned and he's willing to talk about it but you'd have to be awfully lucky because in general Bob doesn't like to talk about I think he's very happy in his life he's happy to have left the UFO stuff behind he misses his friends he misses John Lear he misses Jeanne huff maybe even me some extent but he doesn't miss the UFO topic and he doesn't miss talking about it because ultimately it's disturbing these are disturbing issues they go to the heart of who we are as people as human beings the nature of reality itself is this a computer simulation are we all the product of an alien videogame or some multi-dimensional movie drive-in movie theater production or something big questions disturbing answers and bob has never been comfortable and talking about never you know look you can nitpick anything you know to the point where you find inconsistencies and then you can add those inconsistencies up and say you know what this can't be true but the thing is you can do that with factual events and this was the vacuole then where I mean where the project is now where the parts are now you know this is all twenty years ago so I know there are alien craft here from another planet I know I saw other ones but I was inside one I know was not made on earth I know it was made with materials that we cannot fabricate we cannot duplicate and we've never been able to I know it uses a power source that's so advanced that we could only dream of something along those lines and the energy density on it is phenomenal it's nothing that I would ever expect to see I know that you know this is done in the highest levels of security and you know that they use all kinds of methods to keep it quiet from disinformation I mean some exotic ways of just hiding things like I said the installation itself was buried in the side of a mountain and you know I also know that there's lots of nonsense information that has gone around and whether it was started by the Navy or military or whoever's at the absolute bottom you know of the project and I truly suspect that be the case because what disinformation is the most powerful you know way to distort facts you just throw a bunch of useless stuff out there and you know they just take the real facts along with the nonsense and bundle it together and say well this is just impossible and you know there your security is maintained but I also know that at some point they've examined or had bodies of alien creatures somewhere so I know that stuff for a fact and that's the bottom line well I am telling the truth I've tried to prove that what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about contact physical physical contact and proof from another another system another planet and other intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period and it's real and it's real and it's there Lazare says he has no intention of going on in a UFO lecture circuit he's not looking to do any additional interviews in fact he wasn't too crazy about doing this one he did it after certain unfavorable things started happening in his life and he did it because he feels that whoever is running the show up at s4 is perpetrating a fraud on the American people and on the scientific community you believe his story don't you yeah yeah I've got to know him pretty well over the last couple of months and I believe he's telling the truth you

imagine a place between shadow the substance the place where the world has just been not many pass through here they just tend to get burned up in fact it is the knowledge was corrosive yeah

an acid the mind can unwrap so you're gonna want to keep your wits about you you gotta feel great some patients they say the secret of the finder sometimes that's true

you better hope that's true

welcome to the world extraordinary beliefs

McMinnville yes yes

I haven't outlived my welcome here thank you again for having me

guys what an incredible really exciting weekend just as a fan and I'm very excited

Bogg Lazar is here we did it man we flipped the script thanks to Bob for deciding to tell you his story again we will have a live Q&A there are specific things we'll go over you haven't heard before we're gonna get very specific today but write really thoughtful questions you know not manifestos questions right

yes questions and then we'll do our best to answer them enjoy the film will be right up here on stage after and thank you guys

this story is extraordinary especially if it's true and it all started in the desert

just north of blood finish a local scientist who's worked at Groom Lake said to beware top-secret weapon systems have been tested over the years he has asked that his identity be shielded exactly what's going on up there what's going on up there could be the most important event in history physical contact and proof from another another system another planet and other intelligence what would happen to you if the government learned that you were giving us this information you just want to stay alive maybe this has been kept from us for a good reason sir how do we know you are who you say you are my name's Bob Lazar I'm known for working at a classified base and reverse engineered alien spacecraft

you are the bat can we ever be made whole before not believe I have no motivation to live the science and the technology can change us the boys look to the skies for answers

instead of mucking it ourselves

thank you Bob for letting me make the movie this story spans as you know 30 years so thanks for watching the movie let's jump directly into it it's been said by George many times that Bob Lazar is a reluctant UFO Messiah I want to hear

when you were gonna be put on the news and you were nervous about your well being how George Knapp had the tape and you said okay let's do it and the second he's putting in that tape there was a wrestling match you did not want your name and face out there so each of you I want to hear your side on stage before we start the agreement was that we could film all of this back in the 80s and that at any time if I change my mind

George guaranteed me we'll just pull it that's it

there's no problem so we did film all of it and things started to get tense and I began to get worried as time went on and it finally came to the day where it was going to be aired on the five o'clock news if I recall and you know kind of near the last minute but not the last minute you know I decided you know what let's not do it I'm not going to go public with this and George just said no we're doing it and so I tried to grab the tape from George and I think that that's about all I remember I don't know where it went after that well I wouldn't call it a wrestling match it was more of a tussle and I won

but just context of that is that 30 years ago this week this Wednesday marked 30 years since the dentist's interviewed the anonymous interview and it's the synchronicity of it with the anniversary for this festival and the 30th anniversary of that event that changed our lives and the life of area 51 itself is amazing it's almost like it's scripted but we did that interview with Bob as Dennis I had not met him it was a last-minute thing you know it was somebody had canceled I'd been hearing about Bob from John Lear for a long time

somebody had canceled for our 5 o'clock news and we said called Lear Hank and your flying saucer guy then Terry 51 guy can he do an interview I had no idea what was going on in Bob's life at the time that he'd ran into some trouble with his employers and was afraid for his life and was surprised when they said yes we put the 5 o'clock interview on this story comes spilling out all of our jaws were dropping the general manager comes running in is that real the news director calls me in is that for real the phone's ringing off the hook all hell's breaking loose we don't know if it was real but we decided to find out it so the next weekend we go to Lear's house to meet Lazar

my own news director and I Bob we're gonna put him through his paces gonna ask him bunch of questions I was background figure out if we believe his story and we left that meeting on holy crap

this sounds like it's true and if it is it's the biggest story we're ever gonna cover it was also the riskiest story we were ever gonna cover because our reputations were on the line individually as journalists we could be ridicule it can damage the reputation of the station so we're gonna take our time and check this out I had to talk Bob it took me another month to talk Bob into getting a safety interview going on camera not to be aired just to have it in case something happened to him because it was a lot of strange stuff going on at the time yeah their threats are being made to him we were all being followed around our phones were tapped it was a very tense time and it's hard to convey to people 30 years later how real it was what was real we lived through it what was going on so we had that first interview that was our safety interview and I promised I wouldn't air it that was just in case Bob bumped off or something and also as a measure of protection to let people know that we've already got the interview you don't need to kill him anymore we're still gonna tell this story and then we did another interview in November for this series and I remember Bob stole all that I work at walking out of the meeting with with Bob and saying gosh we could do a multi-part series this could be like five parts or something we end up doing two weeks each of the stories were you know typical news story even in those days hasn't been a half two minutes these stories were 12 13 14 minutes long and it was the biggest highest-rated thing that's ever been on television Las Vegas so more context we ended up doing a two-week series part 6 is where we're gonna reveal the identity of Bob

so we're five parts into it setting it up history of area 51 and ufology and all that stuff

we've already teased it over the weekend Monday's the day we're gonna release the identity of this mysterious Dennis character and the whole world was trying to figure out who he was and that was the day that Bob's in the station and trying to grab the tape I've changed my mind cuz it now sorry where to who are too late into it I mean literally we were editing right up to the last minute and I am taking the tape down to the Edit Bay and I'm gonna run out to this studio and we started hustling for the tape and rustle a little bit and I know it's too late we're too late into it and ran down the hallway stuck the tape in the machine and then I went out on set and history was made

there's a lot I want to cover today based on your question so let's rapid-fire go through them Bob do you feel that this movie accurately tells your story yeah it really does I mean I had a chance to kind of go through it and Jeremy assured me unlike George that it is at any point you know if there's something that I said was inaccurate I just said it had to be factually accurate it didn't matter if I like something or not it just as long as it was was true but yeah yeah there was it certainly told the story up to that part I mean there's a whole lot it didn't say but that's way too much to fit into her an hour and a half you know there's like two hours of bonus materials and I'm still releasing footage to clarify certain points but just to be very clear Bob gave me absolute access to his life was able to interview his mom you know his friends that all went through there's a lot of people that didn't go on camera couldn't go on camera on behalf of Bob because of whatever reasons they had so a lot of the information I gave you everything I could in the movie

the only restriction because as I'm looking this you know I'm looking I got to be honest you got to look for holes I'm looking at Bob I'm looking at a story and he gave me complete access his archives of tapes go ahead and take him documents cell phone who do you want to call he was helpful in every way he could for me to help clarify his story the only thing he said was do not twist it more it's got to be accurate that's it and so hopefully we achieved that and you got a taste of that there's a lot more coming through the bonus material okay this is interesting one because we have command a flavor in the audience from real excited to speak with soon grateful that you're here commander Bob do you have any thoughts on the recently revealed UFO videos and program detailed by the New York Times so meaning I can give all the tick-tocking he knows craft you have any thoughts about your experiences and and now the acknowledgement of a reverse engineering program the attempt to reverse engineer propulsion system as far as how they're looking at it but more importantly the gimbal and the tick-tock the movements of those do you have any thoughts on that yeah very much so I mean they they move they behave I mean they act exactly like a gravity propelled craft would it's to me it's a very vindicating thing and speaking to commander flavor and looking at the tape and you can see the way you know a crap move as he mentioned the way it moves like a ping-pong ball and a cup and bouncing around something that doesn't have inertia I me a propulsion like this is not possible with our technology and probably won't be for a very long time but yeah these crafts seem to operate exactly like the craft that I worked on so it was I find that really fascinating I'm I'm anxious to talk to him some more about exactly what he saw that people are making that connection now because look in 1989 George Knapp broke the story Bob government program attempting to reverse-engineer UFOs remember we had been told 1969 that all ended that has proven to be a lie by the Pentagon now by their own admission and thanks George for approving those videos were real through the right process so now through the lens of 30 years not only the reports of how these things move and the videos of how they move but we're living in an era where we now know the study of UFOs has been n is currently live and strong so we have to account for that when we look at what Bob has told you again Bob is just telling you his story take it or leave it

it's better for him if you leave it because his life and his wife is great and he doesn't need more interruption but he thought it was important enough to untwist the knots over the years that have been twisted so that's what you get hopefully in the movie ok ok this is interesting what some some of these little obscure questions that Bob didn't cover in the film what is the history of the alien human interactions according to the briefing documents that you were able to read when you were there

what is the history

of the kind of human-alien thing like what did they tell you about the they didn't tell me anything I have to make a very big distinction between the information and technology I had hands-on and could verify and you know analyze and briefings that I read that had to do with other facets of the project which I can't I can't say if they were real I don't know why they would be other information I read in the briefings was accurate so but there was some information from other groups everything was split into so many different groups that some dealt with metallurgy some dealt with you know the origin of the craft and information was so compartmentalized we couldn't talk to the other groups which is a really ridiculous way to have science move forward you have to have communication so there the way the military handles stuff it just doesn't work with research but they were so concerned about you know somebody getting more information than they need

they kept everything separate but in any case they alluded to the fact that there was there was some alien human interaction at some point but that they had been involved with us for a long time that's the allegation yeah went back it went back very far the craft had been here for like ten thousand years or something like that right you had mentioned before kind of new new information that you they were they gave you the impression that the craft that you worked on and the other ones were from some sort of archaeological that's the impression I had it was for more of an archeological archeological dig it wasn't like the aliens land and said here's one of our craft you know I think it's just something I don't know how he came across it but we did but they were they were very old I want to get into these specifics that for 30 years people have asked and Baba's explained to me but he just haven't explained to you so let's get into these little details you mentioned in the documentary that you have just mantled

what fasteners methods are used to hold it together screws clips whatever can you tell us about yeah this is something that fascinates me I mean back in back in the 80s there was no 3d printing so it was it was a complete mystery how this stuff was put together the craft itself there is not one single right angle anywhere and any part of it every single thing has a radius of curvature to it and I think in the 80s I said when talking with George it's as if somebody made a big model out of wax and then heated it just a little bit so it all melted and then let it cool and that's the way everything looked it had everything in a smooth interconnecting look to it there were no fasteners anywhere there were no seams anywhere and you know nowadays you think well if they had some gigantic 3d printer I guess you know using alien technology they could make it that way but I didn't even think of that back then it was just a mystery how it was but I mean was what was even more so of a mystery is that there's no wiring anywhere you know the components from you know a reactor that terminates tremendous amounts of power and the other sub components the amplifiers and the emitters there's nothing connecting up and when you remove them and move them away they still work it's it's unreal I mean it is absolute borderline magic so it's it's nothing that we're gonna you know duplicate me we're gonna add this to an f-16 or something it's it's gonna be a long time before we know what the hell's going on so George's said to me from the very beginning look if people don't want to believe Bob they're gonna find a thousand ways to discredit him because that's they don't want to believe you so go ahead however you're if you deny the evidence that we have then you're missing the picture and some of the greatest skeptics online you know tend to fixate on these little things in one question that's been like looming for 30 years and Bob and I talked about it for like a minute and people are asking well how did you turn the reactor off Bob if the reactor is on and you're putting your hands to it there's a gravitational field right and you can't put chance how did you turn it on or off and that seems to be one of the things like the people that want to just not believe just bring up it's not even in like a nice way just asking a question so publicly just how did you turn the reactor on or off Bob are they implying that it can't be turned off or yes the implication is with the gravity field as described

oh so we can't reach it okay that's that's not how you turn the reactor off you don't touch the reactor I mean there there are actually a lot of ways to do that but the way we most commonly turned it off is if you take one of the emitters and rotate it I don't know what the angle is I think it was like 80 degrees or something but if you rotate it at the reactor shuts down so they it's kind of a load sensing reactor and rotating the emitter to that angle at magical angle whatever it was that's like a null position the reactor shuts down and that's how we turn it on and off but I mean there's there's not an on/off switch everything is very fluid and operates when you really don't think it will yeah

so how has your life or business how has your life or business changed since the release of the movie

besides the raid Bob yeah the the raid was not a good okay let's think about the goods your life or business change since the release of the movie or has it not a lot you know it's a very specialized business we sell scientific equipment and you know radioactive isotopes and chemicals it's not like the average person goes I need some strontium 90 and you know they're not gonna so it really did snot an increase in business although you gave me some of the extra movie posters you had and we put them on the website so we sold some of the posters but I mean by Bob's having a sale on strontium 90 that's right it's a no really it hasn't affected it at all I mean that's not any big degree I should say the effect that that I have seen is now in light of what is known publicly around the world about UFOs and about the projects that people are now not with their pitchforks in the audience that they want to hear okay maybe he is telling us the truth would they want to hear what you have to say and I think that's the biggest change you know Bob is not profiteering off of my film he wants me to succeed as a filmmaker he just wanted me to tell his story accurately I just want to make that clear because you know the hardest thing that I see is that people try to vilify or try to attack the messenger to dismiss the message and that's what I've seen and I think it's ridiculous but here we go next one small stature aside why else do you think they might have been called the kids remember they called they never said aliens they said they always said the kids yeah yeah yeah so why do you think they call them the kids that's just conjecture I mean at the hey it says small stature aside but that's the only thing I would grab on to was just because there were little creatures obviously but I don't know I don't know do you think that you are part of some sort of covert operation unbeknownst to you at the time so you know how people say you were there they showed you it like a movie set they faked stuff you know do you think you were part of a court no okay so how do you know how do you know that what they showed you wasn't faked and I it's important for people to hear well first of all the stuff that I had hands-on experience with it is impossible to fake things like that you cannot fake a force field you cannot fake time slowing down I mean these things are not possible at all and probably won't be for hundreds of years using our technology so that you know there's there's no doubt about the technology I was involved in was way way beyond what humans are capable of at this point the way the craft was assembled like I said you know the huge amounts of power moving around out enter connections and I mean this is beyond what Tesla would have ever dreamed of again these things are not possible so yeah a movies that that's ridiculous

Bob has always made that distinction to me I was like how do you know the difference between you know the documents and he goes what I had hands-on is what I can tell you about you just said two things I want you to clarify forcefield and time just slowing down time or stopping times time dilation explain those the force field when we had the reactor fired up it was one of the things that Barry my coworker showed me and I think I mentioned that in the movie you put your he said put your try to put your hand on the sphere at the top and you couldn't it just pushed back it was like two like poles of a very large magnet and you know without having a metal hand it was it was an amazing feeling I mean I was I was really excited at that point I said oh my god it's a force field I mean this is this is awesome

jumping over to the other question the time dilation when we had the reactor and the amplifier and emitters set up in the test bench we did a couple experiments and one of them was how we could get a watch to run at different speeds in the gravitational field so we actually saw time dilation so it was really fascinating one of the things I had mentioned a long time ago to George he lit a candle and you can see the flame stopped flickering but it's still a mitad light which it kind of shouldn't have so I mean there are lots of indications that some of our physics wasn't complete in explaining what was going on so that's why some of the stuff is so important that it be released to the public but I just I don't know what's happened to this information or the technology since I left the project

you know Bob and I had discussed many times over the years

could this be disinformation of some sort were you shown something and they assumed that eventually you'd spill the beans and it serves as a diversion

or cover story for something else that's going on out there that they wanted to divert attention away from something else that was being tested a groom lake that was the first round of disinformation accusations sent our way what would be I know yeah what would be more classified than flying saucers that's the person but the other thing is if somebody did have an idea in mind that we're gonna put out this flying saucer story then we're not gonna crush him and crush his credibility and we'll distract attention from something else out there that was kind of a miserable failure because as a result of Bob's story every media organization of the world be two paths

area 51's door tens of thousands of people have gone out there with binoculars looking in the sky for whatever it is that's flying out there every 51 is a really legitimate national security sight the men and women who toil and obscurity out there have helped us win the Cold War they've protected our country they do great and important work and they don't I mean this is not a good thing to have so much attention focused on that facility it's still important they still do important work so if somebody came up with a plan let's put out a flying saucer story to divert attention away from the ex project man they they got sent to to Alaska or something and because that was a really bad idea and again bob has always made a distinction between the technology that he had hands-on and the stuff that he read because some of that is pretty wild stuff and it fed into narratives that were floating around in the UFO world at the time we'd met secret treaties with aliens and we've given them permission to abduct people and they've genetically engineered us he doesn't know if that's true and he doesn't know exactly why he was shown that information and we've discussed it a bunch of times you know it's possible that maybe that was an added little bonus that they put in there just to fly it up the flagpole and see what happens but big secrets can be kept big secrets are kept that was one of the arguments about us tackling this series back then is that nothing this big could be kept secret well I will ask commander Faber about that later today whether big secrets can be kept because they can be you know 1969 Project Blue Book ended we didn't know until December 2017 or at least the public didn't know that they had an ongoing state you

Oh study that it was going on that millions of dollars are being spent that a lot of people working on it and we've learned sense that there are other classified projects along the same line that we still don't know the names of when you don't know who's involved and what their focus is so secrets can and are kept so I want to keep with your questions to honor the fact that you wrote them I can't get through all of them but I do want to bring something up right now the raid the FBI raid there's recently released agency assist reports and I just want to tell you my experience I make this film people accused me of fabricating the raid to dramatize my movie I made it up I dealt with that for months

they said Bob's wife joy was this was the FBI agent that you saw the photo of the back of I mean just crazy stuff so there I am one day defending that I'm a documentary filmmaker I'm just I don't need to share it with you I'm trying to document and share with you what I'm experiencing and seeing so there I am defending that next day a friend of mine he was able hours before us to get a local agency assist report we were unable to get the FBI report Bob said there was a warrant you guys I saw it upside down but you know they didn't hand it to me and we're thinking well we can't find it so we get this agency assist report and then like the next day I'm defending something else people are saying oh now it's prosaic it's just prosaic why there was so much law enforcement multiple agency wasn't the first time Bob that people came to Bob's place of business I said we were surveilled we have our own reasons to understand that the report comes out I thought there you go it proves what I said in my documentary it proves the scope the scale the forensic truck the surveillance and I'm like oh now I can relax on Twitter not the case it is my belief and Bob's and George's that they were there for 1:15 and we have very specific reasons that I can't prove yet to you but we have specific reasons to believe that's the case I want to hear from Bob what was the experience I want to hear your personal experience it was swarmed with over 24 individuals who's from what I count but to came up to out a door to came up to you with something in their hand they were coming in anyway were they looking with hazmat teams no there's no hazmat okay so tell us tell us your experience though on this and I'll clarify later know when they first came in they gave me the cover story and yeah the place had 24 or so agents in there it was shoulder-to-shoulder you had to kind of move around there were so many people in there and which already struck me as being weird as if you guys are just looking for receipts

what are you why did you bring everyone here and some of the other underlings they brought with them just gave me some paperwork they said yeah we're looking for you know thallium metal and I said oh okay I'll get it gave him a little vial here of thallium metal and I said is this what you guys have to set an hour just you can put that away so I went okay these guys are starting to section off the building into cubic meters

ioanna holy cow

what are you doing they had everybody else working down below and then they took me upstairs we went up there then they had the guys jump on the computers and tried to suck everything off of those and that's when they played me here

you know our conversation which was we were talking about is where the 115 was hidden I want to get a little more specific about that the experience though they said hey Bob they showed it behind you to people and there and they have a upside down obvious warrant from FB on Doug you know we have a couple of people coming can we come in so you're allowing in two people and then all of a sudden there's about 20 for forensic collection agents truck multiple agencies the report the agency assist reports proves this it also says that there was a hazmat team you know and the whole suits hazmat and they cleared the place to make sure that didn't happen that didn't happen right so I talked with Zach about that too because in the film he just said has that because that was he just told me out there that's the word that came to his mind he goes but it wasn't like that from what my account that I've heard from you and Zack

they appeared disinterested with this basic idea of toxic materials the whole thing was they wanted to talk to you upstairs is that correct yeah that's that's correct they wanted to talk to me and the other guys all they wanted was a couple sheets of paper so they did say to you out the door we're looking for receipts and an order form from a client of yours that's what they told you in there well this is something that happened like two years ago right we had already been over all this so it was clearly just a cover story to come back in and have access to the property which is which is our opinion based upon our experiences but I just wanted you to hear from Bob the agency assist report very odd it's very detailed and not only that Bob's experience of what happened doesn't jive with what you're reading and that agency assist report in a lot of ways now that's a lot of that it's not is not true we are convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt that our conversation was taken in the woods at his property oh and the the day before but I just wanted you to hear from Bob his personal experience of that moment because every turn we make you know there's people that just they'll never believe and they look for anything to dismiss it or almost worse they just believe without thinking so well either way they're welcome to dismiss it and then they ask me less questions and that's fine okay

back to back to some details from the audience have you ever looked at s4 from a satellite image could you identify it great question about s4 like could you see it from a satellite image have you ever looked for it yeah a lot of times and I do like to make that distinction

it is not area 51 it is as for area 51 is to the north although a lot of people relate them together they say as far as part of the area 51 complex but that even that gets into some technicalities there's people say oh I know somebody that worked up at area 51 there's no flying saucers or anything like that up there and they're right there there isn't it's down at s4 there's only 22 people when I were there and as far as seeing it from the air yeah I've seen it many times there's a lot of people have sent me emails where they they think they see the hangar doors at the right angle and yeah you can see it on Google Earth it's it's not obvious but you can see the road that I drove to down from area 51 that's right flew into and took bus down and yeah I can point it right out to you in fact you your buddy John Farhat hired some time on a Russian satellite to take a photo of an exact time that used to take a photo of Papoose Lake the Americans wouldn't let him do it so he went to Russia and they did yeah

and he's and he's got the original negative and on that negative is a there and they posted it back in the day is is a circular metallic object hovering right over the mountain range of Pappus have you guys seen that poster they made it into a poster yeah it's it's great I mean

they hit it right on the nose it was awesome

right when Bob told them they should shoot that shot from a satellite from Russia George Knapp has said to me before a we've and this is something that a project I think we're gonna do together we've learned more about the US UFO programs from Russia than we have from the US and I think that's specifically because George took a trip during glass nose at Paris troika and came out with some documents from the UFO program in Russia which the world has yet to truly be able to see and I think we're gonna coming up soon next project George over my dead body

oh yes yeah we'll do that project sometime yeah it he's not exaggerating

I went went to Russia I had a unique opportunity in the early 90s when the you know they were trying to open up to the world they were experimenting with capitalism and democracy glasnost perestroika I read in New York Times that the KGB had opened up the Lee Harvey Oswald file and I thought this might be the time to go and see if we could get the UFO files so we did we worked on it

we had a Russian physicist who had been a national security adviser to the Russian parliament and to Boris Yeltsin and we

and him he had been in the United States a lecturing on nuclear disarmament at our National Laboratories had nothing to do when he went back so we hired company I was working for him and set him up and said go find people who were in a position to know about the Russian UFO studies who have never spoken to journalists Western or otherwise and let us know and it took him eight months and he set it up and I went in 93 to Russia and I met a guy named Colonel Boris a calab Ministry of Defense who had been in charge of this Russian program it was the largest UFO study probably in in history and for ten years the every unit in the vast Soviet military empire at the time that was ordered to every anomalous aircraft or ball of light or UFO or strange object in the sky when you get those reports from military personnel fully investigated get pictures get witness statements put it all together and send it to one central location and they did and we were able to acquire a lot of that information and interview Colonel Sokolov and basically he said they were doing the same thing we're trying to do he said we're we know that these crafts haven't capabilities beyond anything that we've got and we wanted to study this to figure it out so we could gain an advantage over the u.s. in terms of stealth capabilities we wanted to figure out the technology which as it turns out is the same thing we've been doing you know trying to figure it out to be continued

Bob back in 1989 when you were terrified and I just released a new video on my youtube talking about that time when you were scared

you took friends multiple groups three Wednesday's in a row you said guys things are really complicated for me it's one thing to tell you it's another thing to show you there's this little place called Papoose Lake it's not area 51 it's south there this obscure mountain range there's a test flight and I know when it happens and I'm gonna I'm gonna show you and you brought friends out there and you showed them those test flights as proof to your friends because you said to me it's one thing telling someone it's another thing showing someone right well working there I had to test flight schedule so that's when I took it

I mean the majority and my friends at that time we went out there and you know the craft came up you know over the mountain range at the time I indicated and you know clearly everybody was amazed we watched it you know do some amazing maneuvers since we got away with it you know we did it a couple more times you know and right up until we got caught so and George and I have talked with I think everybody now that was in those sightings and they don't agree on most things in life they do agree on one thing that Bob was right he took him out there and what he showed them they had never seen anything before like that or sense so they also filmed it and there there's a it's an old 80's camera not like our iPhones be even iPhones you pointed at dark you get a light however there's a gentleman in the audience that did some incredible analysis of Bob's original footage of the flying saucer coming up over Papoose Lake with the new software and analytics that he did it's it's pretty incredible and he had a question why does the shape of the craft in your video change from frame to frame so radically are we seeing localized gravity lensing yeah that's exactly what you're saying because remember there's three emitters in that craft each emitter is producing its own gravitational field out of it and gravity bends light so it's just like taking a prism or cut glass ball and rotating it and you'll see different facets of light so the same thing happens as the craft move around and you see through one gravitational field to the next the crafts going to look different so it looks like it's jumping around or flickering and and that's that's exactly what you see in the video you're probably familiar with the M drive which is that a propulsion device do you think this technology the emdrive I'm sorry okay

emdrive do you think this technology is close to breaking the barrier for space travel

no it's useful but I

I am not that impressed with it I'm sorry you know it's the hardest things that I was asked I said Bob Bob look after all this time you know they've proven element 115 was fabricated he looked at me as like yeah of course in his journal but not the stable version I talked about there's you know dozens if not hundreds of isotopes or whatever he said he was unimpressed with the fabrication you know even though they called him when they were doing the experiments at fabrication you know a particle accelerator he was unimpressed the next one I go Bob

they just came out gravity is a wave you're vindicated it's a wave it's not just a graviton like you said he goes well Jeremy you know you think about it

I had fifty fifty percent chance of being right so it's hard to impress Bob but he's a very skeptical dude so I think the most pressing question I saw on all of these cards Bob what is your favorite pastime that's actually tough to say I don't know that's that's a stumper there I can tell you it's making laser beams and shooting off rockets come on

yep I mean probably building weird things I guess would be a pastime blowing stuff up comes to mind

well I fire a technic so I've been yeah I've done pyrotechnics since I was 12 so probably probably that or any kind of technical thing I love building stuff so I hired to say I I really enjoyed the making of the film because the breaks of our film were usually blowing things up our building lasers or hearing Bob you know talk on the phone - you know physicist from universities or government labs that are asking him about you know the the atomic weight of you know certain isotopes however they're explaining it was above my head but just hearing you do your thing my goal in my film it was not to prove Bob story Bob said from the very beginning I I don't have everything to prove to you my story that's not why I'm telling you I'm telling you to save my own skin and I'm also telling you because he believes you have a right to know

he's always been like that however however the movie after 30 years it's really hard to ignore some of the evidence but most importantly what I hope you got from my film is what I got what I personally got getting to know Bob and George told me this from day one when he challenged me in 2012 to try to get you know the Bigfoot of ufology the Elvis born again on camera The Reluctant UFO Messiah on camera when George challenged me to just show you who Bob is to humanize him to show you his daily life

the big question we're all sitting here with is he's telling you a story is he worthy of your trust that no I that's the question that really is the question if we can't prove it definitively it's telling your story you have to decide is he worthy of your trust and and the world has changed now and I think I would love to hear from George we are living in a different world now we're living in a world where we're it is now admitted there are unknown craft of unknown origin flying in our airspace with impunity and an increased frequency in our own government is not only interested now but has been for a long time proven so George can you just touch upon Bob's story and that well it's a really exciting time and things are starting to move so fast I mean two weeks ago the US Navy comes out with an announcement just is astonishing to say we're gonna try to make it easier for our pilots to report UFOs these encounters are increasing there there are dangers to aviation there are legitimate concerns legitimate reasons why we need to start making it easier for pilots to talk about it that would be unthinkable months ago I think

commander flavor who we're gonna hear from later today probably had a big role in that happening in speaking to people in Washington and letting them know this is going on and the fact that these reports keep coming in that there are a lot of them that keep coming in now dramatic sort of encounters and and things that are undeniable and the fact that you know we've we've learned a lot about a tip and all SAP and you know things that that I had been allowed to know about but couldn't report for a long time

is spilling out there's so much more that's still to come there's there's so much more to still to come and I don't know how much of it and how soon but it's coming you know and and the fact that it it's synchronized with Bob story and coming full circle 30 years ago he comes forward and now Jeremy's film is out and and and all at the same time all these news events are happening where the doors are opening up a little bit I mean they're not wide open but they're opening up quite a bit and it's an exciting time I don't know if it's vindication I never felt like we needed to be vindicated but yeah it kind of feels that way so I want to hit a couple things too you know bob has always said to me like in private he goes look Jeremy I I'm explaining to you the best I understood in alien technology I'm explaining to you the best it was described to me and what I saw you know I don't have all the answers I'm sorry but I can tell you what I saw what I think and one of the things that was always really touchy and I just want to be straight you know did element 115 was the known fuel source for the extraterrestrial craft that you worked on at one time in 1989 you said that you got a piece of element 115 out of Los Alamos where as being machined under the codename la 1000 you say that in my movie you did have a piece of 115 at one time right

well what where are you going with this well I I'm just I'm just saying the the element 115 was the key it is the thing that generated that it's the fuel for the craft if you want to look at that way yeah and it has unique properties oh absolutely

can you explain the unique properties of element 115 so that everybody really grasps it the way I feel it we were in a hundred percent sure how it how it worked because you just can't cut open the reactor to find out what's going on but it looked like the 115 is bombarded with radiation and in Purdue and it produces a stronger gravitational field now the rest of the equipment in the craft the reactor it takes that that wave that gravitational wave that comes off of it

it routes it throughout the craft in a conduit just like microwaves and through the skin of the craft it takes that and funnels it down through the amplifiers and then to the emitters so it seems to behave a lot like microwaves do which propagate through tuned channels but it all came back to one little triangle of 115 that was the center of the whole craft and no I mean we don't know everything about it I'm not sure I could duplicate me a piece of 115 I'm I'm not sure I could do much with it I could probably make it explode but I don't think I I'm not sure I can make it propel anything but you know a lot of it was was guesswork - we were just trying to do our best educated guesses to come up with how this worked and you know our number one aim was to see if we could duplicate this technology with what we had at hand and you know clear across the board the answer was no all the time so we're talking about a stabilized form of element 115 so for example I learned this it's not well casing stabilized it means you take something I mean you're let me clarify so those I learned this from Bob and I can hopefully translate to you so for example there are 37 different

isotopes for gold one is stable it's what's on your ring right mr. radioactive and yeah decay so the versions that have been fabricated by slamming particles in a particle accelerator and getting maybe four atoms at about a million bucks apiece that last for two hundred twenty milliseconds we're talking about one or two different isotopic combinations where there could be many many more combinations in fact it's predicted by science that there's an island of stability right in that sweet spot for 115 so what you're talking about is stable physical element 115 220 something grams there was highly machined that were used in these craft is that correct that's correct look you know say you were trying to use gold as your as your example I mean say you were just trying to fabricate gold you know just from atoms I mean would you say there were 37 isotopes or something like that look you only have a 1 in 37 chance of making it so most likely you're gonna make unstable isotope after unstable isotope until you know one day you fall upon the combination that results in a stable isotope so yeah they just began playing with 115 and just the fact that they made you know four atoms of it on their first try and it was unstable you know that really doesn't tell any story you have you've got a long way to go before you figure out every combination and if one of them is stable

you'd said back then that you didn't think we'd ever be able to make it it would be too expensive take too much energy to make a stable version that you thought and it had to be natural wherever we acquired it it was a perform pretty snazzy supernova double star something like that well I stick by that when I say we can't produce it I mean a usable quantity for atoms is not not visible not useful it's nothing I mean to make to make a gram of it is still impossible even the version that they made so yeah that's the amount of energy and time it takes sitting there plugging neutrons in is a time consuming expensive task so you were told that there we had a stockpile of 500 pounds of element 115 however in your hand or you were able to work with about 200 28 grams highly machined in this triangular formation so you physically saw was it 2 2000 it was 23

it was 220 something I said because I was even I can't remember but yeah that's all I have but even that amount that couldn't have been made by any human technology oh hell no not even with an hour supernova do we think we could I mean it had to become as cargo from somewhere else is that correct well I mean you don't know there might be advanced ways of you know arranging atoms and fabricating you know elements on it on a gigantic scale that we haven't even conceived about so the only way I know of is you know the energies required and pressures and temperatures you know as some you know gigantic natural you know foundry like guy you know a neutron star or exploding supernova something along those lines but I don't know look at the technology that these guys have I mean they nothing said and since they can control gravity and they have force fields and things I mean they might have a machine that can crank this stuff out you know like we make plastic but my point is humans did humans can humans cannot no did not cannot no no not at all if humans can't fabricate this and you were told this story what's so interesting to me is you the first time you go to site four and by the way site for it's not toxic you're not going to die of cancer just being there people try to debunk bob story being you can't step foot on there too much radiation you're gonna die

I've talked to two employees of area 51 who have gone on Papoose for extended periods of time and they are not sick so that's another thing people try to debunk with actually one was stopped by civilian contractor EG&G

curity and he was a Navy guy and kind of pissed about it and they stopped him if so if there's no if there's no facility there I'm not sure why he got stopped but I got him on record and I will be able to release that later one of the things about your story that I find really interesting your account of it

Bob didn't believe this was extraterrestrial his friends that knew him before that I've spoke with said that Bob felt bad for people that believed in UFOs you know they got to be crazy yeah

so that's who he was before the first time and I want you to tell us this feeling the first time he saw the craft and the hanger he ran his hand along it was supposed to touch it and he thought wow everybody that saw five saucers it was us it was America that's what he thought but I thought that was the first time I saw it when they let me in through the hangar I thought oh I mean this is the new advanced fighter we're keeping secret and this explains all those crazy UFO sightings and you know it all made perfect sense to me until you know I got in contact with everything until you stepped inside walked inside tell us how you walked inside because people want to know that but that feeling you described of seeing everything the size of the seats the feeling you had can you explain that to everybody like you explained to me yeah there is a hatch on the side that extends below and above the centerline and when you go and you pretty much have to crawl in there they have a little stanchion to go up there but it was obvious I mean immediately when you go in there why did they make this thing so small what the hell is going on you couldn't stand up in the middle it was clearly made for something much smaller than a person you know it's aside from all the technology but just the physical aspects of it that the material you know was all the same everything was the same color the way it was assembled everything started looking stranger and stranger to me you know and then it became obvious once we started having discussions about what ours worked on that this is a reverse engineering project you know it took a while for this to hit me because I was I really didn't buy any of this you have Oh nonsense for a long time so Georgia I wanted to ask you know again through the lens of 30 years I know neither of you expected this to transform your lives and take over like this

how has reporting and taking that risk on Bob's story because you've vetted him you didn't just believe you vetted him hard how has it changed your life over 30 years

well it certainly affected the arc of my professional life I think I probably put a cap on what I could do because I would forever be the UFO guy and you know I've done a lot of UFO stories over the years starting with Bob but I've done thousands of other stories and and have got you know Matt and I have had some success in terms of recognition for those stories but it doesn't matter wherever I go on the UFO guy and I'm stopped and you know in restaurants and bars when I end up in a bar and at Men's in men's rooms and urinals as I told yesterday and and at foreign countries and airports and you know the UFO guy and it and grocery stores and people want to come up and hey do you really really believe that stuff and you know they don't they don't really care what I believe about UFOs they want to tell me their UFO story and it's just amazing to me that everybody's got one and you it everybody's got one

it's somebody in their family they've seen something or somebody else in their family or there's grandma has a story or something landed in the backyard or out in the farm it's amazing how far it reaches so it has changed changed me in a lot of ways in that I was not really that interested in it you know until started working on this and and then it it's captured my attention ever since it's I don't work on UFO stuff all the time but I think about it all the time so I would add just one other thing in that skepticism and this topic is important it's important for you to be skeptical and ask questions with skepticism in the sense of hey I want to know more I want to learn more I want to ask questions I want to be ant I have those questions answered that's fine you it you need it

here because there's so much crazy stuff in the awful world it's right to ask questions a bob and ask about his background and and figure out if there's logic to what he's saying but skepticism and debunking or two different things or so much garbage and junk there's so much backbiting and infighting and turf wars and debunking by UFO people presumably people are interested in getting to the bottom of this who because a story comes from somebody else they got to attack it and I it's just an amazing learning experience the last year or two since a tip off SAP TTS a all that stuff came out how vicious that the field can be it's debunking it's not skepticism so ask questions be skeptical but have an open mind and an open heart and be willing to learn stuff about it what we've learned from Bob is I think it's true if it wasn't true I wouldn't still be reporting about it thirty years later this mystery seems to be tantalizingly out of our reach we learn a little bit more and it moves a little bit away the goalpost seems to move a little bit maybe it's leading us somewhere maybe it's a learning curve I hope so but we don't know and but it's exciting time I'm so glad for Bob that some of these other events have happened to sort of like take the burden off of him as being this lone nut ball talking about flying-saucer programs or worse engineering because he hasn't deserved the the scorn and ridicule and you know all the stuff that's come with it over the years it's been it's been a bitch it's well I just want to end on one question for you but I just wanted to say you know thank you Bob thank you George for letting me go on this ride with you I know I hope that we were able to bring things forward in a way that were logical for people to be able to consume thank you for letting me be a part of it

you guys I know have been in this war together for 30 years just trying to get to the truth kind of last question what do you want the audience here in McMinnville from your story what what is it you want people in the world to know from watching it from what is it you you're telling them what do you want them to understand very simply

it's just like I said in the movie the events that I portrayed everything that I said happened exactly like I said it did that's that's all the government really does have or at least at that time had recovered alien craft and they were spending a lot of time and money trying to figure out how they work and see if they could duplicate it I have no idea where the project is now but back then that's what was going on and that's what I did

this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there is a secret government within our government exactly what's going on up there well there's several uh actually nine flying saucers flying discs that are out there of extraterrestrial origin

they're being test flown and basically just analyzed what was your function working on this you were doing well what was your job we were to reverse-engineer the power and propulsion system of this craft and see if we can be duplicated with available materials I just want to go over with you what it is that you saw to draw it out for people to make a sketch as you're seeing as if you're there at that moment kind of go back in the past it takes different views to show you different places

I'll draw you what the craft essentially looked like I haven't done this a really long time

it had the classic most of it the classic shape however that didn't come out that fat of this time so basically that's the shape of the craft something I termed the sport model underneath this floor there are three three large central devices hanging from the floor these are on mounts that allow them to completely swivel up to 180 degrees and in 360 degree rotation directly above each one it's a small rectangular object this is on the floor above and these are the gravity amplifiers themselves looking down from the top you'd have the center in the very center there is a small reactor surrounding this in three equally spaced areas are the amplifiers so this is looking at it sideways this is looking at it out from the top and under these amplifiers underneath the floor below are the gravity and emitters so it's the reactor here powering the gravity amplifiers gravity amplifiers output goes into the gravity emitters at the bottom and the resulting gravity beam or anti-gravity wave can be pretty much put anywhere you want to

it was another level up here now I had access and was permitted to view and look at the operation of this main level with the gravity amplifiers

and the level below the gravity of meters there is a level above which consisted of these two areas that I'm not all that familiar with I assume these to be some sort of navigational engine people call these large black rectangular areas on the top floor holes I believe they were some planar sensor array that just took in information from the surrounding area whether it be patterns of stars or what-have-you and there was their version of a computer or something to make determinations here that takes input from those sensors and then let the craft know how to orient itself and where it was in space so that's what I assumed to be up there I don't know for a fact yeah that was not part of my job and I was only led to believe that the center antenna is real an extension of the reactor in the center and that's a waveguide which allows the the emission of the gravity wave which forms kind of a heart shape over the whole the whole craft that's how it creates its distortion these gravity emitters can be swung all the way up to 180 degrees and this allows the craft to essentially stand on two of them and hover while this one swings up and creates a distortion in front of it allowing the craft so slide forward so that's how they're low power mode Omicron configuration operate the Delta configuration uses all three and like science fiction movies where you see flying saucers just flying along like that they actually fly belly-first the craft flies along leaves the atmosphere of the planet it turns its belly to the destination the three amplifiers focus in on the destination and that's how it proceeds

so that's basically the operation of it and overall how things were laid out inside the craft there were three seats in here and just around the the reactor there are no controls no buttons no anything everything has a nice smooth curve to it there are no right angles anywhere everything is exactly the same color and whether it's metal or some other advanced material

I don't know again that is part of the metallurgy division and all I can say is it felt cold like metal but its actual composition who knows it was ceramic or you know again some advanced alloy or something along those lines but the manufacturing technique is unknown and certainly was back then today 30 years later there are things like 3d printing and now that kind of begins to make sense because it looks like this craft was just built from the ground up like a 3d printer and that would be about the only way to produce some of the things we saw because there were no fasteners anywhere it was just all together not even a seam so I don't know how that was actually assembled as a good question but I bet it was something along those lines some gigantic printing mechanism or something we would consider a printing mechanism that actually put this together when you were allowed to go into the middle and look down into the bottom layer of this craft what did it feel like to step in like was it instantaneously obvious to you that we could not make this upon walking in the craft yeah it was really in part of the planet it was really unworldly everything again was alien it really was in that again nothing is always completely monochrome and things people built there's always seems there's always something other than a radius of curvature there's a sharp edge there's some kind of control everything

there were than even wires in this thing as we started to dismantle it but it was more of an ominous feeling because we really didn't know what we were getting into how dangerous it was and certainly didn't know how dangerous it was to remove anything or change it look I mean we have energy sources this day and age you can't just remove caps you know off of reactors and have a peek inside and see what's going on and we really didn't understand the energy source we had no idea what you know a housing might be holding back so it was fearsome technology as I've said before and you know so was it exciting going inside not exciting in that way it was exciting because we were afraid and really just looked around inside the reason for going in was to have a look there was a little access port here where you could push it open and stick the top half of your body and hang upside down and look and see the orientation and how the gravity emitter is hanging from the you know the floor above what was your first indication that it was not human there was not ours it was not made for us well certainly the size I mean this is only about a little over 50 feet in diameter

the only time you could ever stand up would be the middle so nobody would make something like this it was extremely uncomfortable move around and the seats were not for full-sized humans everything looked like it was child size and the accessport I couldn't dream of getting through so there was certainly something smaller operating this the opening port was like a hexagon the hexagon honeycomb with an edge cut out and if you grab the edge and just pushed a little bit the honeycombs would all collapse some sort of flexible metal and I'll snap open and I remember seeing or saying to myself that's that's something we could make today that the

really because it has a lot of strength standing on it but no strength the other way so you can pop it open use it as an access port snap it closed and it would support weight on it something very simple not that it really stood out I was standing in a ocean of alien technology but I think the reason it stood out was there's something I understand you know and nothing I think I pushed at anything else so I kind of grabbed on to that's like I see what you did guys here not anywhere else so the other a fascinating thing was it was essentially a pipe I mean if you want to just give you analogies these gravity emitters look like 55-gallon drums and a big oh I'd say 4 inch diameter pipe or maybe 10 inches long can maybe a little longer connected the top of the drum to the floor above to solid thick pipe somehow they were able to manipulate the structure of that pipe where it would just Bend as if it was made clay so they can apply some form of control to it and have a solid piece of pipe move like a tentacle so they can very fine movements and adjust and point these things where really were and then stop stimulating the stuff and they were locked in place like it was welded on there where the giant pipe how do you know that they could Bend these pipes that way we did we had one of these setups in the lab when you had made adjustments it would move yes that is putting out a gravity wave yeah oh absolutely yeah when we bench tested this oh yeah it worked you've got these seats no seat belts and then it goes belly facing where it's supposed to go how did the occupants you know not fall out of the seats what's that about well you're thinking about flying around a single source of gravity below you and then as you move around you'll flop but your cancelling out gravity from every anywhere else canceling out gravity inertia and all other effects and the only gravity there's going to be is the center is probably gonna be the reactor itself so you're always just pulled and held to the floor here that's always the ground so no matter how you're oriented this is always where you're pulling so you'd never even know that you're upside down you know in relation to the earth or other things it creates this field around you almost heart-shaped and then that kind of is that cocoon of what we'd call gravity and it holds you so you can just be inside of that field and then wherever you end up focusing that's where you're going to fall to right that's the propulsion okay now of course we never miss I never had information of us flying the craft at that performance level but it's assumed that's how it works from the information we we cleaned but you saw this crap oh I thought this craft and these work and you can certainly extrapolate if three of them together worked like this first one we know how it how it operated so there's you know extremely high confidence and the craft that you're drawing here is the one that you guys would take parts out of and work on yes is it also the one that you saw the test of yes so they were able to take parts out and put them back in no

they did not this flew on two amplifiers this was already removed I mean I should put a dotted line around here this was on the bench in our room when I went in there this was already out and it still worked I can't imagine how they made the decision to remove that I'm really glad I wasn't there at some point you were inside and it was activated and something happened to the inside of the wall I guess that isn't important for the other to explain that around the wall it was essentially a set of archways which were extruded from the wall all around and we later found these out to be just this is a big thing

we found these to be waveguides and this is how the gravity field was being manipulated it almost looked like was just a design element but it was and it became very obvious that nothing here was done for aesthetics everything had a functional purpose and you know even in our spacecraft everything has pretty much a functional purpose or no houseplants here anything

just till we get there

but these archways were extruded from the base wall and for the most part it seemed they were all the same but in fact they were not one of them and just putting this here so they looked like this all the way around one of them was different and the one time I was in there there were other people also working on their in their own particular group they activated this by some means and we could see from inside we could see right through that

I guess the modern day analogy would be a electrochromatic glass where it's normally opaque some energy is applied to it and becomes transparent and whatever the other group was doing this panel here underneath this archway became transparent and we can see the hangar outside they also did something else and we can see something the only thing I can relate it to is some sort of writing some kind of symbols like that I'm assuming that some sort of written language

I really don't know that's that's a guess on my part but there were symbols that were displayed here and then it went back to looking outside so somebody had a handle on how to control what was going on without any wires or switches so that was kind of good to see something somebody was making some progress somewhere again we weren't even permitted information about that and I was fortunate enough this to see it that was it possible these other archways did something to it could be I didn't see it but I know this one this particular one day this is an alien spacecraft right another entity had to make this right

reality simply isn't what it used to be things are not what they see everything around us is a mental construct the Creator breaking that down it's hard to do and once it's done

there ain't no comeback

this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there is a secret government within our government exactly what's going on up there well there's several uh actually nine flying saucers flying disks that are out there of extraterrestrial origin they're being test flown and basically just analyzed this is released by the Department of Defense that you authorized the release this is one of three videos this one one I want to show it to you they call it the gimbal why it's interesting is because here's a fighter pilot he's tracking this object you can see the shape of it and it does this move and what it does this move it doesn't change its velocity its speed anything so I want to see at the end of this video which is only thirty seconds

okay what'd you think of the movement and I know it's like an IR video it's not that great you know but just I will clean up look on the SI like I know in the winter Hudson point out Oh s Oh

oh is it it's rotated so that's something that people comment on is as it's going that's got this rotation and it's not you know if what we're seeing is correct and and it's rotating and it is actually shaped like that let's say it's kind of hard really to see the shape I mean it's really hard you know is that in fact the shape or is that if this is just a heat signature are we seeing bloom from it you know just the you know the infrared image I mean what is the actual visible item look like is it and there's a little protrusion on the top or in this case the bottom there you know is that just heat or is that the shape of the craft so we're not going to be able to answer that a lot of people have the exact questions that you're asking there is there any more of this is that this is this is the only video there is there is more but it's not declassified it's not allowed to be out in the public so the I happen to personally know these videos are longer okay but what's been released to the public is small snippets because remember the the whole methods and that sort of thing they don't wanna release too much any FLIR video is classified by nature because of what it could show to potential enemies right so there are much longer videos this is all we get and I'm not asking you to validate what you're seeing here no I couldn't yeah we'll have huge questions but why this is interesting and a lot of people ask me is the craft well it is interesting that it did rotate like that because the craft that I worked on that when it's when it's going to travel a long distance that is how it operates it flies along and it puts its belly to the target and then brings all the amplifiers to power and you know it shoots off in that direction did something like that I would say that's yeah we don't really similar yeah we don't know but that is kind of the point of me showing I wanted to talk to you about that so you often discuss your the craft you worked on how was like this I mean it would turn its belly towards where it wanted to go yeah if it's gonna fly fat

or long distances it doesn't fly as it would in a science fiction movies it flies with the belly the bottom forward and the occupants if there are occupants inside this craft when it flips and points its belly somewhere

can you explain kind of what what happens to its generating its own gravitational field so it it really is not just shielded by its own field but it they the Earth's field to where you would think they would tilt up and they would fall down inside that really has no bearing on it the craft is generating its own gravity they're standing straight up or whatever you know your glass of water is sitting there and it's not spilling I mean the bottom of the craft is always pulling all matter to it so the way it's designed is that if there's occupants in it as it were to move the occupants would not notice a single difference in the grab their gravity no nothing at all

so this craft can have any speed so so the tic-tac um commander Davis raver talks about watching this object that was like a tic-tac you know similar is 46 feet whatever and like it would balance he said like he said to me personally like a ping pong ball in a glass sometimes would slow down and we move in the wood it had no it didn't have to slow down he said as it went to from one point to another just bounce off you know it you know go one direction and come back so that's what you're talking about it what you call it a nurse sure what you said how you explain that well I mean you know that it might only look that way too it's really difficult if you're difficult to know for sure because if you are manipulating the space around the craft I mean time and space around there

it may just appear that way you know it may just be an artifact of the way the crafts operating it's not really bouncing back and forth like that but it's just appearing that way the way they're distorting the space and moving around but either way either way it's something it's a gret it's a gravity driven craft because you need if you're distorting yeah if you're coming to a dead stop you know from high speed or making ridiculous movements like that shaking back and forth yeah that's not

it's not conventional technology at all so when I told you about the way the commander flavor who is you know one of the top fighter pilots in America especially at that time and he described this crack moving the way it did you said that's gotta be if you move like that it's got to be a gravity propelled craft yeah you really can't move any other way like that and so like the craft you worked on that is the key

the gravity propulsion right okay so these videos that have come out in some ways we talked about this this is in very small ways vindicated some of your story the government has admitted they have a UFO program albeit a reactionary UFO program to military sightings right they back in 89 I think they said the only UFO researcher program they did was Project Blue Book which had to come to an end a long time ago on there was nothing going on so if they admitted there was a program so they're they're admitting that that was a lie and that there really was a program continuing which is a big step I'm surprised they did that and they also admitted that there are materials associated with UFOs but inside sources say that that there's actually a lot more than just a metal that was discharged from from a UFO that they may even have a craft inside sources meaning people like George Knapp who have their finger on the pulse of all this if they admit something beyond the fact that they just have alloys although that's a big deal you know that they had such tremendous deal it's a tremendous deal and they said that the alloy itself the Kona metamaterial that the design of the material is essential to the way the craft functions which kind of makes sense if it's not a surprise yeah right anyway so it's a new day it's quite interesting just thought I'd show you this and you know let's see

yeah I'd sure like to see the rest of it but I'm sure everybody would - everybody would - no yeah yeah and you know I'm hopeful that something's gonna happen but at least we get little bits and you know in little ways you you and George you know putting his neck out on the line because he believed you from day one we didn't just believe me he spent a lot of time and we traveled all over he went with you into Los Alamos to your work right he put you through two or three polygraph tests

yes no no George that pad you sit down with people who he knew worked at area 51 and landed

you know from McCarran on the jet flights landed there and they asked you questions and went put you through your paces he doesn't advertise it but the people he sat you with they said oh yeah you saved it right so that's another confirmation that George George didn't just believe he put you through your paces oh absolutely

yeah I was just it to go a long long time before people don't appreciate that they just get the egg result which is that people like George dodge feet but they didn't get to hear all the things he he did to poke at you see his Bob yeah it was years to get to that point literally so and you know and over that time you did develop a friendship with George oh yeah yeah how can we not going through something yeah we spend a lot of time together and and he found your your name the phone book at Los Alamos showing that even though they denied you were never there there you were in the phone book right as well as Joe the person that I worked with at Los Alamos George interviewed Joe and he was in the phone book

you know with me we worked in the same place so I actually the world has never seen you like in Los Alamos right but I actually have some home videotape of you where you're walking through Los Alamos with Joe van and Eddie you guys are just walking around laughing about how people say you never worked there and you're in Lausanne okay yeah I have that footage oh wow

and you also go to this one place and you find a piece of concrete in the ground and in that concrete you brush off some pine needles and you go oh my god and in that footage is your name with like 1981 there you were at Los Alamos and you had carve your name and said oh you know what that is that's where we put in back then they were called earth stations big satellite dish but you know now they're two feet they used to be seven feet across and larger and yeah I remember putting in that pad and putting in a big you know earth station satellite receiver there but yeah that was around 82 or 83 something like that no maybe yeah I don't really wait I don't remember it was 81 it doesn't matter but have you made a joke and you brushed off the pine needles New York oh yes you said I never worked there it was funny because you just like rediscovered it so you've never been like really deeply interested in like proving everybody wrong that you're right and and that's been admirable no no I don't care in fact like I always said I I prefer everybody don't believe it big doesn't know what he bothers me

he's crazy and that's it

yeah makes your life if everybody believed the story I would be hounded til the end of time so really I write well that is the deal if everybody did believe your story it we'd be looking at something totally different I mean that that might blow shit up reality simply isn't what it used to be things anomalies see everything around us is a mental construct the clearly breaking that down it's hard to do and once it's done there ain't no coming back

imagine a place between shadow substance the place where the world is just then not many pass through here they just tend to get burned up in fact it is the islands was corrosive an acid the mind can unwrap sure you're gonna want to keep your wits about you you gotta feel great impatience they say the seeker as a finder

sometimes that's true

you better hope that's true

area 51 the secret of spots on the planet is located on the northeast edge of the Nevada Test Site and is said to be where numerous top-secret weapon systems have been tested over the years according to some UFO researchers it's also where the government is test flying alien spacecraft

it sounds pretty far-out but some Las Vegas residents report having seen these flying saucers a local scientist who says he worked at Groom Lake and saw the saucers joins us in tonight's interview he has asked that his identity be shielded sir how do we know you are who you say you are and that you actually have knowledge about what's going on at Groom Lake well I guess there's no way you could really know there's really no way I can prove it without revealing my identity and getting myself into more trouble than I have already exactly what's going on up there well there's several actually nine flying saucers flying discs

that are out there of extraterrestrial origin and they're being test flown and basically just analyzed you say there's nine saucers how are those tests going as far as what as far as whether they're successful and and that sort of thing oh well some of them are a hundred percent intact and operate perfectly the other ones are being taken apart I was involved mania in propulsion and the power source where did we get these saucers how did they come into the hands of the government I haven't the slightest idea and you have to understand the information is very compartmentalized and I was only allowed information that pertained particularly to what I was involved in but I mean couldn't couldn't our government have made them as opposed to getting them some alien beans totally impossible the propulsion system isn't a gravity propulsion system the power source is an antimatter reactor this technology does not exist at all in fact one of the reasons that I'm going forward with this information it's not only a crime against the American people is a crime against the scientific community which I've been part of for some time or actively trying to duplicate these systems yet they are in existence now and basically in the hands of the government

anything could happen I don't know it's uh I haven't the slightest idea well you said you were referred to getting into trouble have you had some repercussions already

yeah I've been threatened with being charged with espionage I've had my life threatened by them my wife's life threatened by them and I I mean I don't know where else you can go from there well we want to thank you for joining us pretty interesting stuff you've got to say thank you thank you sir

well more news in just a moment

now first we go to Dan Rather in Beijing for a look ahead at the CBS Evening News CBS Evening News from China the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan despite numerous inquiries and feelers dennis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar he says he was hired to work at an area called s4 which is a few miles south of Groom Lake at s4 he says our flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities work nap

Eyewitness News eight

when somebody understands fission and fusion and the inner workings of nuclear reactions they can't not know how to make a bomb out of it and just make a nuclear reactor to make power

it was like a Twilight Zone episode

just kept getting stranger the fact that that was happening at all was the weirdest part

look it's been 30 years and all of a sudden you raised it to this level you know this is a powerful technology fearsome technology and you just don't want everyone to have they will become obvious how to make constructive as well as destructive devices from it it's my only guess as to why they have never released information it's kind of difficult once you release the technology to be analyzed and give it to everyone they can just run with it you really can't keep the weapon potential hidden you really can't look with et technology you can literally rule the world you're going to an investigative reporter and a news station and you are outing the most secret project rank higher than the h-bomb and you're essentially putting your face and voice on the news although you did a shadow interview first you put yourself out there that's because you were scared ya know no question a it's easy to joke about or laugh or remember just the good times now almost 30 years later but at the time yeah I was petrified

this was no joking around I mean it was hard to sleep ahead of people wait up at night and keep an eye out it was crazy it was crazy it absolutely destroyed my life I mean I weighed like a hundred and nineteen pounds for something then I was stressed out all the time it's safe to say your employees were pissed as fuck

obviously they were pissed what was the beer from at that time I was really afraid of the people that worked at us for I had no idea how far they would go how angry they were with me was made really clear so there are so many things that happened I mean people breaking into my house searching my car even when I went gym to workout and I mean I had friends with me that saw things like this happening and even they were afraid so I yeah I left in constant fear at the time this is a hard part of the story for people understand it said they they they don't really get a sense of what it was like because literally you had to be there for some of this I lived through it I know what it was like what Bob was going through at that time they were breaking into his house and playing mind games you know they'd leave the doors open they leave drawers open nothing's taken and write things on his black board or erase things move things around he goes to the gym with us with his buddy and he's kind of scared so he's got an Uzi in his car he comes out an hour later after working out the doors to the car opened the windows are down the glove box is open and the Uzi is laying there on the front seat wasn't a burglary that was somebody messing with him that stuff really happened I can remember getting calls from Bob and in the night of just that he had somebody in this house messing with him I go over to see him to calm him down and he's walking around with a Z peeking out the windows sounds paranoid but but as the old saying goes just because you're paranoid doesn't mean somebody isn't after you and in this case they were they were messing with him that was real it's both frightening and infuriating do you feel that you have been utilized in this mechanism of information release I think I'm doing something that somebody wants done I think I have been used in that regard I think somebody maybe not all of them but some of them wanted this stuff out they wanted to see how it would fly I think that's why Bob Lazar was hired out there I think on many levels it does not make sense that they would put him in that job but the fact is they did he was out there and he was working on this stuff for a short period of time I think they probably selected him because they knew he wouldn't keep his mouth shut and that story would come out and then I did my part of it and telling it to the

and that I would give up and I wouldn't continue it for another 25 years and still be plugging away at it but in the in the larger context I think I was probably doing something that they wanted done let's get this story out there see if people freaked out and then we can always pull it back we can discredit the guy I do think that there have been attempts to discredit me that that they've tried to make a run at me with false information if Bob worked at Los Alamos in any kind of sensitive or classified position then it becomes reasonable to say he could have worked out at s4 all the stuff about his educational credentials aside if he was there I don't really care whether he went to MIT or not and I think we established beyond any question that he was there I mean I interviewed people that he worked with who said he was there we had him in the phone book we had him in the in the newspaper I had confirmation from the company that that recruited him

Kirk Meier that said that yeah we hired him and they were gonna give me the records and then they said no I know that the lab lied to me I know that they they thwarted my attempts to prove that he was there but he was there and one of the reasons I know he was there is cuz he took us in we went there on a weekend my photographer and I Bryant Blackburn flew to Los Alamos and went to the lab and Bob took us in was like a a rabbit in his burrow I mean he was taking us through buildings obviously he knew his way around we were there he took us in I guess you know I guess there might be some other explanation for how he was able to have that access but I'd like to know what it is

this is a reluctant UFO Messiah the only reason he came out to talk to us again is cuz I bugged him about it relentlessly and he finally relented and came out but he wasn't happy about it nothing good comes from the UFO field for him it does nothing but cause him trouble if he had to do it over again I suspect he wouldn't do it because he changed his life and there was a part of him that would really like to still be working on that stuff I mean is really amazing technology the most amazing technology he's ever seen the descriptions of the golf ball experiment we throw a golf ball at this force field and it bounces off or the that this this demonstration where it freezes time it freezes a flame how the flame could still be burning without moving and without consuming this this candle how does that work

even if he has been led down a path and and me along with him that they have shown him glimpses of something for their own reasons running up a flagpole let's see how how the public reacts and then discredit him down the line he acknowledges that's possible and I and I've thought about it all the way along that were we were being played with but the idea that bob was a disinformation agent or part of a program to mislead the public is wrong he's not and I can say that for knowing the guy for a quarter of a century the story he told then is the story he tells now he didn't add to it he's not making it more elaborate he's not remembering new parts of it it's the same story it's consistent all the way through he's telling me something that really happened to him

vitrified everything it contacts like a like a green glass honey and goddamn psychedelic liquid drowning the emptiness with imagination imagination this desert is pocked and punctuated by a thousand gaping holes created in a thousand atomic blasts that define an era what are they building in the desert north of Las Vegas what are they hiding what are they hiding fuck are they hiding

I knew the date of a specific test we rented a car took my wife a few friends and drove out to this this place and turn the lights out and snuck into a little area and we all watched it what made you start showing your friends exactly where and when the test flights were gonna be why did you do that start showing people the flying saucer Oh at that time I was beginning to worry that I was gonna suddenly disappear or something like that so I finally broke down and told my close friends really what my job didn't tell what I was doing and I use a test flight schedule so I knew when to go out what time to go out and brought them there at that time and on schedule the craft came up you know that incredible maneuvers and flew around and then then landed so I wanted them to witness always so there'd be something backing up what I was saying

and certainly witnessing the craft actually being tested was you know what turned them on you the people that you worked with at s4 what turned that administration of people against you when did it become dangerous for you why did you become a mystery I think that the start of it was the fact that they were monitoring my phone calls and at that time my wife was having an affair because she thought I was having an affair

by disappearing at night going to this job and they were monitoring that now one of the requirements for clearance at this level is having a stable family life you can't have some you know tumultuous situation going on so they want you know just a a happy calm normal person I was beginning to move out of that category when they saw that this you know affair was taking place felt this is going to be a problem so let's not have him come into work anymore until this resolves it so and that's when I started bringing some friends out going they're not asking me to come up to work anymore and they're not just gonna let me go with all this knowledge that they gave me so that's when I decided to show the close group of friends what was going on just in case I did suddenly disappear or something your life has been under a microscope every word you said for 30 years recorder has been under a microscope and that's that's affected you yeah of course it it could affect anybody how is it affected you in the way I talk and how much I do I'd rather not you know in a public forum I'd rather just not say anything why do you think people are so obsessed with every word that you say about your experiences you know we're just looking for a way to to look for an inaccuracy and and to be able to discount the whole thing when we sit this one time and said it's slightly different this time you know obviously he's making it up

no that's just the first word that entered my mind

you know I don't put that much snot into it when I'm saying it like is as much as a lot of people hate it this stuff really happened I mean if it bothers you that's too bad

I think that's just hard for people to accept I mean so yeah it would be

look I fully understand I would feel the same way I'm not sure I would believe my story oh boy there's not enough evidence you know but I couldn't discount it either

you saw alien ships yeah you worked on a gravity wave amplification system trying to figure it out right a propulsion system and a power source that's completely unknown to mankind and there's no way human beings could evade it there is no way human beings could have made it under any circumstances in any country anywhere period and for 30 years you've you are telling us the truth you bet

this shit happened you got it

reality simply isn't what it used to be things are not what they see everything around us is a mental construct in reality

breaking that down it's hard to do and once it's done there ain't no coming back

but it's true it's true

you're telling me there's a different physics that was your job you were working on that the science was something we were trying to figure out but we knew how the devices would operate you know for instance the propulsion of the craft everything that we have whether it's a propeller plane or a jet or a rocket it throws something out the back either high-speed exhaust or a large volume of air it's an action reaction for us the action is you throw something out the back and it moves you forward so everything works this is the first time there's a craft that's it's a reactionless craft it's a field propulsion craft and what it does is it creates a distortion in space and time in front of it where space actually bends it's just technology that doesn't exist yet i mean you're talking about that there's science doesn't even know what gravity is much less how to produce it or control it and here is a device that's producing it and controlling it put a bowling ball in the middle of your bed and then a foot in front of it take your fist and push down on the mattress bowling ball will roll towards it and that's exactly how the craft works creates a distortion right in front of it and the craft falls forward there so there's a different physics that well the science that explains how the technology works i mean it's all encompassed as one thing alien technology and science what is the big picture what are the what is the takeaway of your story after you're gone you're not a rebel kid with a with the jet car at los alamos today today is a different bob lazar right right what have we learned what's what's the message of your story the big thing is the suppression of extremely advanced technology the suppression of unknown science that's it

a Jeremy crebbil

hello yeah no I know last time we had you on we were talking about skinwalker ranch and then we were hinting about how you were like eyeballs deep in the Edit for bob lazar area of 51 and flying saucers the reason I made this movie because I'm fascinated I want to know - this is what inspired me when I was a kid is this real is this true so my whole goal is to get people talking about it if you watch the movie you will come out of it

knowing more about Bob and his story especially if you've never heard about it before even if you have there's at least seven points of new information in the movie my name is Bob Lazar I'm known for working at a classified base known as s4 Outland Nevada desert near area 51 and there we reverse engineered alien spacecraft and it's changed my life

a lot you know it's probably changed every aspect of positive early

well for the most part negative I mean I it's really difficult to find positive aspects of that I mean I'm sure there are some here and there but most of them were we're negative so that's important that everybody watches the movie but why it's so important now that you hear Bob Lazar story is because in December of 2017 we heard our government had a UFO program that was called a tip advanced aerospace threat identification program however there was a mother program it was called awesome advanced aerospace weapon system application program that was a Defense Intelligence Agency program to study related phenomenon to UFOs

so why Bob story's so important now we have Lou Elizondo who's a head of this government program to study UFOs there's a UFO program not just

Project Blue Book like the new series that's out and all that stuff

it's an old program 96-98 ended there's a new program Bob Lazar says he worked in a government program to work on power and propulsion so not UFO identification for the military but another program I will tell you here now and I've said it before there are a multitude of UFO programs currently and from past that are actively studying different elements of the UFO phenomenon from biology to crash retrieval so I think in time what I'm saying now will be proven maybe there'll be these four programs I mentioned before that are named let's see yeah

but there are more than that

and I think over time we're gonna learn that historically the bob was our testimony is important and so you be the judge of it he's told you his story because he felt it's important for you to know that there is a science and a technology that is being held from you and that technology can change the world and we already know about it and it's non-terrestrial and I think that's what he wants you to know take it or leave it

Bob just wants to live his normal life ie he never wants to do this that I begged him to do it so I think he's I think he's done I think he's told you his story again I'll try to get him for some Q&A is when I when I show my movie or that kind of thing but he just wants to live his normal life but he felt it important to untwist

his story the way people have twisted it over 30 years I keep saying this and I mean it you know the his critics have had the mic from for more than 30 years and we took the mic back and that's the point telling you his side of the story you're telling me there's a different physics that was your job you were working on that the science was something we were trying to figure out but we knew how the devices would operate you know for instance the propulsion of the craft everything that we have whether it's a propeller plane or a jet or a rocket it throws something out the back either high speed exhaust or a large volume of air

it's an action reaction force the action is you throw something out the back and it moves you forward so everything works this is the first time there's a craft that's it's a reaction --less craft it's a field propulsion craft and what it does is it creates a distortion in space and time in front of it

where space actually bends and my analogy to that has always been put a bowling ball in the middle of your bed and then a foot in front of it take your fist and push down on the mattress the bowling ball will roll towards it and that's exactly how the craft works it creates a distortion right in front of it and the craft falls forward there so there's a different physics the weird well the science that explains how the technology works I mean it's all encompassed is one thing alien technology and science what is the big picture what are the what is the takeaway of your story after you're gone you're not a rebel kid with it with the jet car at Los Alamos today today's the different bob Lazar right right what have we learned what's what's the message of your story what a big thing is the suppression of extremely advanced technology and the suppression of unknown science that's it those two things to me is the only thing that's important about what was going on out there

yeah enough there's another civilization and like I've said before that's a crime

not to tell humanity about that but that's a separate thing meaning there is something different in science dramatically that we're not allowed to know right right that is a true statement yeah that's a true statement the fact that there is another intelligent technologically advanced civilization we have some of their objects that is really the pinnacle that there is another civilization in existence that's intelligent that we know about and we actually have artifacts from them that can operate so I mean that's that's a big big deal but in my mind that's there's a lot to deal with that however the science and the technology can change us dramatically you can change the way the entire world operates the economy everything so those stick out in my mind is being critically important when we have it know we have them do you don't have to believe it but we do when you see more I've seen it and you've touched it

I've dismantled it real a few gets calmed down a little bit I am sure knowing you you have another project right on the on the back end I do what I can tell you this time let's go

I know there's so much going on right now and there's so much more to tell I have so much more to give from the footage that I haven't released yet mm-hmm you're gonna find a lot like I really sent to my youtube channel stuff like that you're gonna find a lot of content and information coming out in the next year from me thank you so much Jeremy Korbel everybody for joining us

congratulations on the movie on we will see you guys next week and nothing good comes from geo field for him this is a reluctant UFO Messiah he changed his life this week we've heard the contention of UFO researchers that there's a secret government within our government well there's several actually nine flying saucers flying this that are out there of extraterrestrial origin the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan despite numerous inquiries and feelers dennis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar he says he was hired to work at an area called s4 which is a few miles south of groom lake at s4 he says our flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities I did not believe that this should be a security matter some of it sure but just the concept that there's definite group we even have articles from another world another system you just can't not tell everyone

just kept getting stranger the fact that it was happening at all

was the weirdest part

look it's been 30 years and all of a sudden you raised it to this level you know this is a powerful technology fears of technology and you just don't want everyone to have they will become obvious how to make constructive as well as destructive devices from it it's my only guess as to why they have never released information it's kind of difficult once you release the technology to be analyzed and give it to everyone they can just run with it you really can't keep the weapon potential hidden you really can't look with ET technology you can literally rule the world well I am telling the truth I've tried to prove that what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about contact physical physical contact and proof from another another system another planet and other intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period and it's real and it's real and it's there

holy shit what the fuck happened I mean I don't even know how to intro this like holy shit what the fuck happened over the holiday break when out of nowhere we get this UFO news that drops coming out of the Pentagon not like not like oh like PhD dr. people that don't really have real PhDs or they're kind of like not really in the field if they say they are we're not getting stuff from like you know I mean it's always great to have eyewitnesses and it's always nice if you can get a like a policeman or something to say that they were an eyewitness but this is above and beyond this is straight out of the Pentagon and and it hit hard over the break I feel like a ton of people we're talking about it and then it kind of disappeared for me at least I don't see it showing up anywhere anymore which is weird I see it a little bit but you're right it doesn't it didn't feel like it was then this wave across my newsfeed but some of the headlines if we were trading some texts with Fowler over the break some of the headlines it it's almost so overt I can't wrap my mind around it some of what's being said including the article he sent me last night we don't to get into that yet but you know the video and all of that yeah yeah it was hard to kind of keep up and I think I've also felt like it wasn't as covered as it should be yeah or maybe I just am NOT looking in the right places so that's why we wanted to get you to come join us to help us break all this down tell us how this connects with the stuff that you're doing and like how we should be looking at this yeah well I think holy shit is a great response I thought you just missed me and wanted me on the show but now I know we're going to talk about it a little bit yeah look what occurred over that holiday weekend has huge implications and most people are not really seeing what those connections are we people don't even have the right questions to ask at this time so let's go through the basics of what we know what happened so the New York Times in tandem with Politico put out an article and this article stated a few very important things the big headline that everybody picked up on is that there was a 22 million dollar budget directly as a black program black money directly to the Pentagon or with the Pentagon with the Department of Defense really fast and safe for those people that don't know and that might include me what is considered black money so anything that is not directly shown to Congress you know they might know there's a black project but when money is funneled in a way that is not going to be subject to public scrutiny that would be considered black money so it's actually just a budget Harry Reid really championed this twenty two million dollars which is a drop in the fucking bucket if you think about twenty two million dollars with our Department of Defense take the cheapest airplane that we have an old one a beaters broke down that's not even twenty two million bucks my friend who's in the military right now was furious about everybody making a big deal about twenty two million because he says do you know how much we spend on viagra in the military I mean it's you guys need viagra you guys I'm not in the military it's a hilarious sum of money you know - for anybody to be upset about we need more funding looking towards this and that will become very clear after we have this discussion today but let's talk about the things we did learn so we learned publicly now about a program called AAT IP advanced aerospace threat identification program essentially that's a very small program every intelligence agency in America studies the UFO phenomenon every intelligence agency has a program they've identified one as far as we know the American public our tax dollars ended in 1969 with the conclusion of Project Blue Book but now we know that in fact there was a program studying UFOs so for a lot of people that was like what in the hell what are they doing I can't believe it now next newsflash not only was there are funds that were allocated to studying the you know AAV anomalous aerial vehicles or they're calling it a 80 and almost aerial threats because that's how you get money is to show that there's a national security issue which there is from a lot of perspectives so the money was fun did we know about AAT IP but there were some hidden things in that article that were there in those articles that were very small and people have yet to really grasp or pick up on because that is so huge to begin with we also had footage come out and again the chain of command directly through the Department of Defense the Pentagon in particular and they they show these vehicles operating in ways that are completely inverse to what we know of modern-day physics and we have FLIR videos that show these objects I happen to be involved in understanding a case way prior to this and it's the case that was pushed forward and in front is called the tic-tac UFO case the pilot commander david flavor is the guy going on CNN BBC all the networks talking about his experience he's going currently he's been on is going on there was just a Boston Globe article he's been on CNN ABC I mean every network you can imagine picked up this story so you know bullet points you got this project that's there we know it was funded with a certain amount of money kind of championed by Harry Reid we know that this was a black project and it's admitted to we've got two out of three promised videos although there are most likely a lot more as what I'll say so - and they show these objects these vehicles one was they're calling the gimbal and it looks like this kind of object like a gimbal in it it's moving really uniquely and the other one is the tic-tac so now all of a sudden the public sees you know Department of Defense videos of these and they have something called near-misses when you have things in the air and you are flying you have to make sure that a number one you don't crash into something so this is a threat on just that level alone despite the advanced technology despite wondering if it's another nation despite all that that alone is big so you got the videos we've got the acknowledgment of the group we have a pilot who's come forward commander David forever and again I was working on that case for two years before it ever became public and I sat on that information if I had custody of any of those videos they were classified they never got out through my hand but that those two came out now the biggest thing I want to clarify to begin the get-go people put commander David flavor on the TV and they start playing the gimbal as they call it footage when he's talking that was not that's the one the video that you're seeing on all the articles right that's one of the two that's not a video from the series of incidents that happened in 2004 off the coast of California the Nimitz Carrier Strike Group whatever the you know that's the tic-tac event that footage is also out but they often confuse that so I want to clarify that to people already just accidental there's no news guys and no one cares to clarify that much you don't see on the monitor what's being shown anything but I want to clarify specifically something today so that is that commander David flavor was involved in the 2004 tic-tac experience and that footage is out that's the other one the little glob yeah I think that is what I have here in this one right that is the one that is the one so and interestingly enough when I was gonna go on Costa Co show to talk about this case prior to it ever coming out through New York Times or anything that video was leaked online that morning and sent to me I was like a gift because it didn't come from my hand that's really neat I could talk about it more openly then anyway so you've got these two videos now the gimbal one it's real important to understand it is not from the 2004 Nimitz events it is a completely separate series of events that has not been clarified by the Department of Defense or by anybody and I will just say because it's gonna come out soon I have a number of sources that that obviously I work with over these years that video the gimbal one is from a separate series of events and I'll say it's off the East Coast and it's actually only three years old it was early in 2015 and now yeah and that is something that has not been reported on I have known it for quite some time from various peoples I trust that information greatly and I think that will be clarified and people can look back at this and and see if I was right but at this point they're lumping in with it's yeah it is a confusion no not not a huge deal except the Devils in the details right all of this that that implies something very different that implies a frequency of these events maybe even an escalation that causes the Department of Defense to want to address this in a different way so there's a lot of things happening behind the scenes but those are the bullet points the bullet points again are this identification of AAT IP this group right also that you know the commander flavor coming forward these videos coming out they're not leaked they came out through declassification they are out yeah they're out they got they got put out by the government not because somebody was like I snuck this out somehow and now here's my sketchy ass file yet to clarify someone with within the government Lulu Elizondo he had the role of being in charge of AAT IP which is again advanced aerospace threat identification program so he was able to get some of these Declassified and then legally put them out so technically yes by our Department of Defense because of his position but then he went away from employment and went to private employment with to the stars which is Tom belongs group so he's out but these are Declassified there are two things I want to bring up however that people just did not it did not register because there's no platform to understand them until now every road every bit of this every dollar of this project of what was announced leads back of funny enough to skinwalker ranch which as you know I've been working on the definitive documentary film that hasn't been able to be put out about that so so we'll talk about that but I the important point here I think is that everything that's come out it's so much to digest we are talking about craft of unknown origin they operate in a way that seems to defy or I would say better operates off of a type of physics that we might be unfamiliar with now this is foreign technology but everybody involved the pilots everybody the way that it moved we do not have that type of technology as humans so that's the that's the big news we have some sort of information that's come out telling people hey there is something out there it is far beyond anything that we can do and it is with impunity flying through our airspace and in fact pilots have engaged these objects are tried to engage these objects with weapons mm-hmm that is now out one of the people I talked with his name is Robert Salas I think his story is really important right now back in I think it's 60s he was in command of 10 I believe Minuteman missiles they're so intercontinental ballistic missiles these are our nation's first defense and he came out at the Citizen hearing and said that he was in command of these missiles and he was operating in the silo and all were shut down in succession they're on an independent system that was done as a UFO comes in onto the base and he saw with their own eyes yes they had people above the silo reporting in to him as his missiles were going down now this is not an isolated event so you have a technology no matter where it's from that can show force leave our nation vulnerable by shutting down our most powerful weapons this happened during an eight-day period twice twice his was at Maelstrom Air Force Base there's like 15 silos you know hundreds of miles away or whatever the bunch of them a network happened twice he came forward thought that he had Declassified his sighting his experience there was another one we also know it happened in Russia around the same time so we're talking about advanced technology that is leaving nations vulnerable now at the same time Robert can I ask do you think that is a show of force by whoever is doing this or do you think that's more of a testing or a combination of both like can we do this okay let's test it here let's test it there it was my problem I do it it was no part they know exactly one part of the warheads were taken out it was not an issue for this technology but I want to clarify you know Robert Salas he does not believe it was it was a show of force for sure but he does not believe that was a threat you know he felt it was a message you know to be to be fucking careful so that's his opinion now of course people that want money within the government will focus on that and say that's a threat and I understand that it left our nation vulnerable to a degree however if you take Robert's Alice's point of view it was a message you're playing with fire doesn't matter now we have proof oh we've had it before but now the public can really engage Fox News is engaging it we have proof of advanced technology engaging human technology and this is now out and it's just the tip of the spear there is so much more that's coming out now the two things left out from the articles that people didn't really pick up on and I want to everybody start digging into this because these are key one they mention Skinwalker Ranch in one of the articles right the this is the ranch and I'm doing the film on I you know I think it was the political one it's in either the New York Times or Politico that because of Robert Bigelow and how the 22 million kind of was funded and then he picked up the contract and that's we're gonna talk about some of that so everybody understands that connection but they mentioned Skinwalker Ranch which is important and interesting and amazing people haven't picked up on that they also mentioned two other things that I find very important one is the store housing of alloys or materials associated with these you know craft these non terrestrial craft these UFOs a ApS or so UAP Xavi's 8iz whatever you want to call them it doesn't matter you know materials actual physical materials so at one point we do know that material associated with ufo's was housed in Frost Vegas that Bigelow Aerospace now this is in the news I'm not saying anything that it's not people just didn't pick up on it that's important if we have physical evidence because you know my last film how did they get their hands on this stuff well that's all yet to be told that stories all yet to be lined nothing about that is public but that key point is and people should pick up on that physical materials that will become really important how do you prove a material is not created by humans you know how is that done and people's to make sure that it's not from Earth sure and what do you test you can for that reason you can test isotopes isotopes tell you the origin of of an element so if you have zinc 64 just when I was working with a lot that one you can tell by the isotopic ratios if it's from the moon from the Andromeda galaxy or where it's from but really I think what you're gonna find and this is again what I find really important is it's the atomic layering of these things we don't have the ability to perfectly atomic layer graphene we can put in these XI atomic sheets of three to seven degree variants they make it the strongest substance of on earth I have a couple pieces of it it's a superconductor it's it's an amazing material if you take it I should have brought it with me man you push it into ice it feels like a hot knife through butter and then it goes boom super cold that's because of the atomic layering so one way we can tell it technologies beyond human capability is absolutely the ratios of the isotopes and how it was constructed but more importantly the atomic layering I hope that that's something that we're gonna you know learn more about is whatever was storehouse let's I wonder about the atomic layering I wonder about the way it was laid down and to what degree because we know our capabilities here on earth and what wouldn't be in here the last thing last thing in the article that I think is really important and it was a whisper and there's no way to follow up on it at this point but there will be soon I hope which is that they admitted I think this is the political article that there were scientific studies done on the biological effects of close encounters with mostly military and pilots so just unpack that for a second there is a study I'm sure it's very intensive done on the impacts biologically of sustained close encounter experience now the article just touched that there was something about this I hope more of that comes out it's quite fascinating kind of like Close Encounters of the Third Kind where they all have radiation burns and things like that yeah I mean the aspect is if you have prolonged exposure to a to a UFO are there biological impacts to that you know I like to say to the phenomenon I believe from what the evidence shows me that UFOs is a very small aspect of a much larger phenomenon skinwalker ranch and my work on that which we're gonna get into today is very exciting that proved that to me UFOs is a small part of a bigger phenomenon but yeah it's about the physiological and psychological effects of prolonged exposure to the phenomenon which includes UFOs so what's the tie-in then between this particular sighting or sightings I guess now that we know of the - and then the skinwalker ranch is it just that they're storing these alloys that they think are just you have UFO based I guess or just I don't know how to reference it what would be the proper term is that so you know you could you can say only my gosh sure whatever it so not from here so you have alloys or you have materials that are not from here right associated with the UFO experiences no the connection is so much deeper than that and this is the time I think to start making that connection so I have a film and I am going I'm on a rush job for it I've got two films in 2018 one will be the Bob Lazar story the most important UFO story in the history of UFOs this is a wild story but skinwalker ranch I die I just finally put that on the front I am jamming on this film and it's coming out because it's so current what's going on the connection between skinwalker ranch and the events you see here we start with something very basic that 22 million dollars that Harry Reid championed you know to get as a black budget program that you know is now kind of in the news and in the media the reason one of the articles pointed to the ranch all of that all of that was because of skinwalker ranch because of the phenomenon or the phenomena that are going on at that ranch that convinced

the DIA to partner with Bigelow Aerospace and do an intensive scientific study actually the largest scientific study of a paranormal hotspot in history so all of that was allocated because of the ranch now Bigelow he was already interested in this is Robert Bigelow he's got two orbiting space stations of his own he created an inflatable called beam that he attached to the International Space Station which is an inflatable habitat he intends on colonizing the Moon and Mars with his inflatables and this guy is like the most interesting man in the world and he's been interested in the UFO topic and then I think that that pulled him in to a much deeper understanding when he purchased skinwalker ranch this is all done in secret this being able to talk about this now is really exciting right he had a group he put together called MIDS the National Institute of Discovery Science and this was a group of PhD-level scientists that would on the ground with a rapid response team study the events at the ranch the events go across the spectrum to some of the most astounding unbelievable sounding things but UFOs are included I think that was the initial interest so you've got Knids studying this ranch we're fast-forwarding now twenty-something years later we now find out through these releases that the Defense Intelligence Agency which is the intelligence branch of the Department of Defense did they partnered with Robert Bigelow's needs created this other group called BEA a SS base which is Bigelow Aerospace advanced Space Studies and in fact that program base was a DIA and private industry scientific study to focus on the ranch and try to understand what this phenomenon is and how it impacts our national security again I'm not saying anything that you can't find now that was out I'm confused so Knids is a group he started after he bought the ranch to study kind of paranormal in general like a hot like umbrella study but then was Knids and the DIA working together specifically for skinwalker ranch yes it's just umbrella paranormal study it is what are they specifically studying at the ranch just the ranch itself and why this seems to be a hot spot well yeah let's go over what happened at the ranch and why it got the attention of our national defense you know but what is so big there that they have to choose that spot there are a multitude of hot spots you know around the world but why this one why was the the money funded the 22 million you know why did the DIA you a partner with Bigelow Aerospace to create this base entity so for example there is a book called hunt for the skinwalker by my mentor and journalism George Knapp and his co-author is Dr. Colum Kelleher Dr. Kelleher they wrote this book hunt for the skinwalker and they they outline the Knids study at the time they did it because the the activity was dwindling to a degree and I said well let's find out if there are more places like it turns out they found out there are but it came back the phenomenon was encouraged again or something so in that book they detailed these studies by Knids under Robert Bigelow with Colum Kelleher Dr. Kelleher being the head of that scientific endeavor and for years they studied at the ranch all of these activities that were going on and then at some point it caught the eye of our national defense and we now know we that money was spent to study it's to study the UFOs the UFOs and mutilations psychological disturbances I mean you name it that's what you're talking about the other stuff that the ranch is known for it's like because I knew of the appearances of for lack of a better phrase maybe the doppelgangers which is how it got its name in the first place because it's taken from the was at the Native American Navajo and the tribe have a you know the skinwalker the skinwalker is a very evil you know kind of entity in the lower and understanding of the the Yuta nation and you tribe as well as Navajo so yeah skinwalker that is a metaphor used in the book um because it needs to encompass all these types of activities let's nail them down so you you've got somebody on the ranch who's a very intelligent you know individual who deals with cattle you have mutilations of cattle violent you know mutilations violent mutilations and they and they were able to study this like all the blood being drained out certain parts organs taken out I mean the classic mutilation they have odd and strange orbs and lights that are constantly moving around at different times inducing or invoking fear in people like an artificial fear as some of the scientists would say it's like the object is there you're not supposed to you wouldn't fear a blue light but it imposed this incredible fear in fact some of those experiences seem to have followed people this is something I would just blew my mind but once if you've had an experience at the ranch or in the whole area because the ranch is just the most scientifically studied part of the UN to base and the entire basin it has so much activity I have been filming and working on this and talking with witnesses for a number of years but I'm picking up where my mentor George Knapp started he started this you know almost 20 years ago so policemen police chief locals that have lived there for thirty plus years ranchers it's hard to get people to talk with you you need to earn that trust but I think their book George's and dr. Kelleher's book earned the trust so we've had breakthroughs we we now have a great relationship with the Yuta nation and the tribal elders and the tribal police and the stories are now being told just now so the whole area is is historically 17 generations goes back these stories this area has always been a hot spot but the ranch that's the studied spot government and personal that spots been studied so what else happens on the ranch I mean huge cookie cutter hundreds of pounds of soil just lifted out of the ground they don't know why they're in circles you've got these creatures sightings of creatures I mean like creatures that don't exist anymore direwolves you know there that's the best description of these creatures and these are these are from skeptics these are from scientists and local people so everything from paranormal work you know things go missing or you know hole diggers of I don't know 30 pounds or something goes up in a tree couple hundred feet you know I had just gone missing just weird paranormal stuff like it's fucking with people all the way down to I mean again the there are there was some violent acts there were there were these dogs that were just completely obliterated by these beams of light so I have talked with witnesses who have seen this stuff I've been to the ranch a number of times they're there there is something going on there that got the attention of the United States military and our Department of Defense that is something that is something to think about so where do they think all of this like why skinwalker ranch why would it originate there why is it such a hot spot is a hot spot because of what Bigelow and now our government are working on and this is just the after-effects of it kind of like how everybody talks about what's the name of that Island the one that stranger things is very telling Montauk Montauk kind of thought process or is it that it's just always been here it's part of nature and they're just trying to tap into that power like where does it word what do people think this phenomenon has been here probably before recorded human history it appears I mean you can go back to record well I was just going on the site of like classifying different entities at skinwalker and one is the Cthulhu slug there was literally as you said Cthulhu I read that and when you said I was writing about are you serious and there's something I've never heard of before we don't have to get off on a tangent about water babies but water babies about that well so look you know here's here's the the big point the big point is this story has not been able to be told George Knapp was able to be part of those studies in that he was able to record he was going to make a documentary about this but kind of handshake agreement when you're allowed into something so secretive you say as a journalist you're not going to make a film on it you're not gonna tell us that you don't do it you stay within those lines so that you can keep reporting and be a trusted journalist but I was able to go through the Akashic record and archive have a piece of that on my website of these documents and videos and all of this stuff now that you know the day has changed the time has changed there's a new owner to the ranch and you know the whole game has changed so because of George's hard work all those years I'm able to make my own documentary now that the documentary he couldn't make at the time because of his agreements but I have that footage and I have those documents and I'm really excited because this is stuff no one has ever seen and and probably we thought never would see and in 2018 not long from now the definitive skinwalker ranch documentary film will pick up from where George started and and all of that stuff whatever I can get you know and it's going to be part of this film and you will learn a lot about skinwalker ranch and its ties to everything I'm telling you now you know everybody should pay attention be aware what you learned in those media reports it's big bigger than you think and I'm going to draw those connections in the film directly back to the and you're gonna learn a lot about it the activities on the ranch what happened up to current day so that's nice example so no I just this is so much I mean in a good way you know it's great why did it blow up right before the holidays was it that people we're hoping that people were going to be hanging out at the house and checking Twitter and so it would actually like pick up and spread like wildfire which it did or opposite were they hoping people were so busy with the holidays because it was kind of a combo of both of those that's where it took off like wildfire for like a day or two and then interest is gone because Trump said something and now everybody's refocused right oh yeah I mean the the interest is not gone it is there it's people it's brewing people are starting to learn how to relate to that there's more coming but Harry Reid himself in a rapport with George Knapp said that they were there was only on camera interview Harry Reid gave about this topic and he said we are looking to get congressional hearings so I think that's the the focus I don't know the timeline why it came out exactly at that time it's a culmination of a perfect storm that it came out at all so who knows when it came out but it there's more coming out it's gonna be fascinating just try to grasp the basics for everybody of what those articles that go reread them and pay attention to what I said it all leads back to skinwalker ranch interesting okay yeah well I saw the article I mean I reading it you can tell they're kind of dancing around it or I should say not dancing around it but like lightly touching upon the fact that they're basically saying aliens exist come to earth currently and in the past and that the government full heartedly believes in it but I never but I only read The Washington Times article that I think was the first one that dropped or maybe a follow-up but of one shortly thereafter and I didn't see the skinwalker ranch stuff which is why I wanted it was just a little blip in there but it you know that is such a huge part of it that has been not yet recognized or talked about so that's why I'm making this film and able to make this film it's gonna be very exciting but yeah just go back into it just be aware because a lot more is coming out and I'm very excited it's not a lot more us coming out to show a lot more unreleased documents from the Pentagon kind of stuff would you mean other people coming out with their own stories or both I mean hope hopefully both I'm pretty sure that both are gonna happen but you know the point is we have just had a little wake-up call and people can push it down to where they feel comfortable with it it's not acknowledgement of aliens or anything like that I mean you know show us yeah show us an alien it's not that what it is though is an acknowledgement of a very important interest that our government has in this phenomenon and that should be encouraging to everybody that's ever you know thought or wondered this is acknowledgement of craft that are far beyond the scope of humanity to be able to even understand how they work well that's a great question it whatever it is it's alien to us I don't I don't know if it's you know close or if it's far away I think you know are beings coming from the plan anyway or is it interdimensional or is it something even stranger and that's what's interesting that's the big question one other thing that was reported that not really touched upon there was resistance to even doing this study and that was because of a religious belief and that was deep within the intelligence communities you know there is a religious belief with this is dealing with the devil do not study this so that is a fad wait wait with in yes the government that is studying this those folks that happen to believe whatever they believe we're saying don't study this because it's dancing with the devil a small and when you take that job you don't really have the right right a small minority of contingency of people within our intelligence and defense community and this is something I'm not saying for the first time it's out there if you look for it that hairy we talked about it that they believed it to be you know satanic or something against their religion and tried to squash the project this is the most important stuff we can be studying because it's technologies they could read Ellucian eyes our world and it would become more inclusive maybe if we understood who is operating and from where and what is the intention of those operating these vehicles and they are vehicles wouldn't that be weird if it's like let's say a couple planets away and it is for lack of a better phrase aliens they're just like a fucking with their RV car right past my future us from the future yeah maybe that bums you out I kind of does yeah I don't know I don't know spacing really is if it was like alternate dimensions or like matrix style yeah then I'd be like yeah I know dancing necessarily machines I just mean matrix style is and we're living in a samurai Ellison and and I'm like sweet because then once that gets confirmed yeah it's just a matter of finding Unicode the only bummer would be if a ship landed and the hatch opened up and she's a bunch of orbs came out then the evidence actually indicates that it's not just beings from another planet traveling through the star system the evidence actually shows the opposite that it's much more complex than that why does all this stuff always happen in Nevada well in walkers Utah if you really want to make a splash like laying in the middle of LA or clearly they don't see like Mars it yeah do DC or don't invite this yeah clearly that's not the intention is to make a splash that way although if you look at the history of UFO sightings oddly enough Wednesday so the best day to see a UFO it's really absolutely ready look at all the reports Wednesday's are a semi-rural areas are also great and we can't you can't confuse you know government projects from these unknowns people try to do that call them bullshit right now because these unknowns have been here far before we even had the ability to fly metal in the sky so that's a crap answer now some of them can be unidentified the hours of course happens all the time this phenomenon is real and it's been happening a long time and we're now getting a little taste of starting to understand that I have a question that it means the kind of layman's question but how did I mean how are things declassified and then and then sent to like DeLong's organization like how does that what do the stars get their works that got hired by the long but how were they there's to share when they were when they originated with so so yeah it's classification that's a whole other thing there's there's year terms depending on the project if it's special access or not typically for something top-secret it's 25 years 10 years for something that's classified secret anyway all of that goes out the window when you're talking about these special projects but you bring up Tom and I just want to make sure because everybody has really mixed understanding tom has done something exceptional Tom put together a panel of really intelligent skilled individuals and brought them all together at a table to try to work towards a common goal you know separate from his business and what they're building that alone is heroic and I want to you know that I feel gratitude that he was able to do that whether you like him or not he has done something exceptional right so that group is a great you know group of minds that is attacking this and one of those individuals Lou Elizondo he actually was the one that got all this Declassified for us for the public so that's huge now this story is bigger than that there's so much bigger than any one individual but it's important to see the cornerstones that make some of this possible and I want to give Tom a thumbs up that you know we might not agree on all things but we can all agree that what he's done is really good awesome that's a great way to end this yes this is fascinating but we'll definitely have you back on if you get any time you want to come visit and look especially when you're ready with your documentary oh yes or wait sure yeah got it awesome all right well let me give we've got three minutes left so let me run through my outro here also before I start this up where can people find you just for the twitter is of it all Jeremy Korbel anywhere and the interwebs you know my website is extraordinary beliefs calm everything is on there okay perfect guys you can catch us live on Wednesdays from 4 to 5 p.m. PST here on Nerdist YouTube's project alpha comm also now geek and sundry's twitch over at twitch.tv slash geek and sundry you can catch the audio of this podcast tomorrow on thursdays roughly around the afternoon I'd say 12 to 1 ish you know on there it's a soft launch on iTunes and then if you missed the show the live show and you want to see the live show you can go ahead and check that out over at project alpha comm as VOD also that gives you a bunch of other shows that you can check out as well as what was it 5 or 15% off of everything in the store 10% off of everything in the store of which you can get one of these amazing bizarre States mugs or a pin or some other really cool stuff for socials you can follow us over on Instagram at bizarre States our Twitter is at bizarre underscore states and then Facebook is also where you can find our show notes and the bizarre States group which is there I've actually just added a bunch of people that were repenting it is it's very active we kind of let you guys please yourselves you can talk about whatever you want that is actually over at facebook.com slash bizarre States podcast we didn't do this in her stories today because I definitely wanted to get as much time as possible with the army but if you have a listener story feel free to send that to Bazaar States podcast at gmail.com and I will post pictures of Daisy Daisy over honoring up close photos so thank you guys for joining us thank you Jeremy absolutely guys make sure and stick around because we have more shows coming up next here on Twitter and don't twitch so much so buddy there's a lot of platforms a lot of Morman much I mean yes haunting it back ah so much do you want to give us n PR outro sure this is easy too yes this has been Jessica Jeremy Daisy and Bowser aren't we all living in a bizarre state until next time bye

earlier this year video footage was declassified by the us military showing unidentified objects flying alongside military aircraft there's a whole fleet of look on the sa oh my gosh that's the pilots talking as they're tracking the object moving at high speed the pentagon said they released them to clear up any misconceptions after they were linked years ago well now the investigative filmmaker jeremy corbell says despite claims from the pentagon that teams investigating unidentified flying objects had been disbanded those probes are actually still being carried out recent reports in the new york times are making the same claims they say the investigation has been renamed and moved to inside the united states office of naval intelligence it's believed officials continue to study encounters between military pilots and ufos jeremy corbell the documentary filmmaker and director of documentaries on netflix and hulu with me tonight jeremy good evening good evening thanks for having me on well it's nice to talk to you and you've been aware of these reports for for some time so this is no surprise to you jeremy correct uh my mentor in journalism george knapp we have been reporting on these truths for many years to you know global media picking up all this information now is really exciting and interesting and i'm glad the public is being informed what do these videos show what do they actually show jeremy spelled out to me right so these are what the military has described as unidentifieds unknowns anomalous aerial vehicles that outpace outperform and can shut down our most sophisticated weapons systems that's what these videos show these are ufos and if people don't understand that they just haven't been paying attention we're living in a different world now since december of 2017. it's a world where ufos are acknowledged that they're indeed real that it's worthy of scientific exploration and there obviously could be jeremy different countries developing technology far faster than our understanding of what's possible let me let me shut you down right there that is something that is said by numerous people that is actually one of the fears of the united states military as well as your military that there was some sort of technological leap frog by another nation a hostile nation however that is absolutely patently false and we know it these vehicles have been displaying themselves since the beginning of recorded human history or certainly since any developed technological nation or military our optic systems our ability to track these on radar actually to engage them like commander david fravor did on the west coast off

california that was reported in the new york times so these are not technologies that were built here on earth by humans i know that's a big statement to make but the new york times reported on this very recently and i quote off-world vehicles not made on earth our department of defense was briefed on this situation they're aware of it we now know there are two active ufo study programs within the united states military and your government as well so the idea that these are some other nation that has somehow leapfrogged technologically anything human beings have ever created in any arsenal on planet earth is patently false because the evidence suggests so much and and and that evidence it can you describe to me because we all understand what what what is within uh technology at the moment we understand how machines are propelled we understand spacecraft what do these videos show happening which is just completely outside the norm okay so to be clear to all of your listeners there are three acknowledged pentagon released videos of ufos these are advanced aerial spacecraft this has been acknowledged again by our government but also within the uk that there are studies being done on these technologies whoever can figure out and exploit derivative technologies that we are witnessing that are flying with impunity within our airspace over advanced facilities weapon systems whoever can figure this out first whatever nation can figure this out first they win it's an extraordinary technology it negates everything that we thought we knew about trans medium aircraft about space travel these are being seen they're being reported and in these videos you can see these extraordinary craft of unknown origin operated by somebody that we can't identify that again outpace outmaneuver and can shut down actively our weapon systems our most sensitive weapon systems and don't take my word for it this is something that's been revealed through major media this is something that the new york times broke this story twice and the most recent one is the most chilling it's an admission of briefings and again i quote of off-world vehicles not made on this earth so who do you think has built them who's flying them that's that's the trillion dollar question somebody somewhere has developed a gravitational propulsion system a field propulsion system it's not a reactionary propulsion system you push something out the back and you move forward that's how everything we know works that's how propulsion works except that it doesn't these craft demonstrate the ability to negate inertia they suspect our military actually knows how they operate it is through gravity wave amplification so it changes the whole dynamic of what we think about propulsion about humanity on earth that there are craft that are sophisticated they are advanced technologically so the trillion dollar question the question we should be asking right now is who is piloting these vehicles and what is their intent well how do you answer that what is their intent well i don't know i certainly have not been briefed on that your documentary on netflix it follows the stories fantastic stuff by the way jeremy and it follows the stories around a man called bob lazar who who was he for those people who haven't seen this on netflix yet so everybody around the world has heard about area 51 the reason everybody around the world has heard about area 51 is because in 1989 a man named bob azar came forward to a journalist named george knapp at that time babazar told a story he told his account of being employed by the united states military to attempt to reverse engineer extraterrestrial spacecraft that it was a secret project within area 51 a sub base of area 51 called site 4 and for 30 years people have been trying to dismiss his claims they've been trying to attack the messenger in order to diminish and put down what he said however over 30 years the only thing that has happened is that bob lazar each day is becoming vindicated so that's why you know about area 51 that's the story that bob lazar told all of us over 30 years ago in 1989 and that's why i made my movie the netflix movie babazar area 51 and flying fosters it was because i was curious is bob azar worthy of our trust and i can tell you now and i can tell you today that he is worthy of your trust that babazar is saying it exactly how it happened he worked on craft not of this earth a propulsion system and a fuel source it was far technologically beyond anything that humanity has ever made and to see now the new york times and the world media picking this up and i'm grateful that you are too for your audience people need to know this they need to make their own decisions you don't need to listen to me you need to look into yourself but people don't want to believe this do they they they they want to they want an understanding of what they can see what they touch they want to understand the world as they've known it throughout their whole life people don't want to believe in this surely you know i i disagree i think people too much want to believe in in the in the subject of ufos but it's not a matter of belief ufos has never been a matter of belief it's either true or it's not true i no longer have the luxury of disbelief because i have been paying attention i've been breaking these stories if anybody takes a rational mind and looks at the subject and looks at what has been reported on just as of recent with the new york times and other outlets you will see the ufo presence on planet earth is real there are craft of unknown origin flying with impunity through our airspace and disarming our greatest weaponry and arsenals this is a matter of national security and it is a matter of mystery it is one of the greatest unsolved mysteries on planet earth because the implications of what it means there are other civilizations that not only have advanced and developed but have also visited our planet that when people start to understand that accept that that is something that weaponizes the curiosity that is something that transforms an individual from looking up the heavens and saying maybe we're alone maybe they're out there in fact they're coming here what what do you think trump was talking about jeremy um when it was it was his son wasn't it was donald trump jr it was in a june interview that he said he knew something very interesting very interesting things about roswell is what he said yeah he he might i i don't know i'm not part of those presidential briefings i do not know that the senate intelligence committee is actively looking for transparency on all the active reverse engineering and ufo programs that span all through every branch of our military uh president donald trump also misspoke he didn't mean roswell he meant area 51 which is interesting that he misspoke but it happens you have a deep fascination in this since you're a little boy well i was 13 years old and i heard on the radio a man named bob lazar that we just talked about and my now mentor in journalism george knapp investigative reporter he was interviewing bob and that moment that switched for me i wanted to know the truth i wanted to know if bob lazar was telling it like it is i heard him describe a propulsion system a propulsion system that negates any problem of traveling via distance it was the idea of a gravity wave propulsion system and i gotta tell you every step of the way bob lazar has been vindicated it's fascinating it's another little piece to this big mystery and puzzle the question humanity asks itself since the inception of human beings on planet earth are we alone in the universe and are they visiting here well if they're visiting here they haven't revealed themselves to us too often have they if they wanted to reveal themselves they would reveal themselves however i would debate that i would say a lot has been revealed every single person that i speak with and i encourage your audience i encourage your audience to ask the person next to them ask their family their friends people that they respect have they ever seen anything unidentified have they had an encounter you would be surprised the social stigma is alive the social stigma about ufos why this should be a topic of great scientific vigor i challenge the scientific community i challenge people like neil degrasse tyson people that are at the forefront of science and technology to look at the evidence to analyze the evidence these are incredible times you have been told ufos are real spaceship craft of unknown origin highly advanced you've been told so physicists scientists i challenge the scientific community they should be salivating over the opportunity chris is in lockford wants to speak to you tonight jeremy hello chris hi uh hey stephen hi jeremy hi chris hi um how can you be 100 sure that not all these objects are not military or from hostile powers how can you be social because we know chris through yeah we we know throughout military develops the best tech throughout history right very intelligent question chris and thank you so much i'd like to make it clear i never see i never stated that i never stated that not for one second we can't be sure that what is seen in the skies is ours or theirs but we can separate the difference in the propulsion systems there is a mode of operation that all world governments the uk as well as the united states on the forefront but we are exploring trying to understand the methodologies with which these craft operate because they are so far advanced and i'll tell you this our material science is the only thing holding us back we understand to a great degree how these craft operate how these pilots have come forward heroically pilots we trust to defend our countries and they reported to us seeing craft that seemed to defy our known laws of physics and i quote with impossible speeds of instantaneous acceleration so i never once said that everything seen in the sky we can completely exclude other militaries i did not say that what i am saying as a civilian when you listen to our militaries talk about this it is a matter of national security ufos are real they're unknown origin so i don't know where they're from nobody knows precisely where they're from that i know but we cannot say that these are anything terrestrial by the propulsion systems full stop well of course you always have you always have the bent waters case back in the 80s where a ufo actually went to an american air base and was spotted back there and that was declassified and that allegedly was incredible nuclear bomb cuts it was shooting allegedly shooting the light rays at nuclear bunkers with nuclear weapons in them now if that's not okay 1982-83 if that's not a case of national security for the whole planet i don't know what is if they didn't know then what that object was what it was doing and reflecting a nuclear facility if that didn't bring up but i'm just worried that we're just going around in the same search let's say jeremy yeah let me let me respond to that i'm really glad you brought that up this is not theory this is not speculation we have the documents and the individuals that have come forward expressing this concern that there were nuclear locations and actually minutemen missiles here at maelstrom air force base and they were shut down they were shut down one at a time on independent systems at the same time in the public realm their documents how this happened in russia this has happened in most modernized nations that are new that have nuclear powers so this is from a military perspective something that is a great national and global concern however because these crafts represent a technology and most likely a civilization that is way far more technologically advanced than us nothing horrible has happened yet so i remain positive that whatever this visitation is that seems to have been going on since the beginning of recorded human history that it is not benevolent that it is something should be studied by the scientific communities so we look forward to watching more of your documentaries and thanks very much indeed for being so uh engaging tonight really appreciate it jeremy uh jeremy corbell documentary filmmaker director of documentaries on netflix and hulu the news comes next

the following is a conversation with avi loeb an astrophysicist astronomer and cosmologist at harvard he has authored over 800 papers and written eight books including his latest called extraterrestrial the first sign of intelligent life beyond earth it'll be released in a couple of weeks so go pre-order it now to show support for what i think is truly an important book in that it serves as a strong example of a scientist being both rigorous and open-minded about the question of intelligent alien civilizations in our universe quick mention of our sponsors zero fasting app for intermittent fasting element electrolyte drink sun basket meal delivery service and pessimist archive history podcast so the choice is a fasting app fasting fuel fast breaking delicious meals and a history podcast that has very little to do with fasting choose wisely my friends and if you wish click the sponsor links below to get a discount and to support this podcast as a side note let me say a bit more about why avi's work is so exciting to me and i think to a lot of people in 2017 a strange interstellar object now named amuamoa it's fun to say was detected traveling through our solar system based on the evidence we have it has strange characteristics which made it not like any asteroid or comet that we've seen before avi was one of the only world-class scientists who fearlessly suggested that we should be open-minded about whether it is naturally made or in fact is an artifact of an intelligent alien civilization in fact he suggested that the more likely explanation given the evidence is the latter hypothesis but we also talk about a lot of fascinating mysteries in our universe including black holes dark matter the big bang and close the speed of light space travel the theme throughout is that in scientific pursuits the weird things the anomalies the ideas that right now are considered taboo should not be ignored if we're to have a chance at finding the next big breakthrough the next big paradigm shift and also if we are to inspire the world with the power and beauty of science if you enjoy this thing subscribe on youtube review on apple podcast follow on spotify support on patreon or connect with me on twitter and lex friedman and now here's my conversation with avi loeb in the introduction to your new book extraterrestrial you write this book confronts one of the universe's most profound questions are we alone over time this question has been framed in different ways is life here on earth the only life in the universe are humans the only sentient intelligence in the

vastness of space and time a better more precise framing of this question would be this throughout the expanse of space and over the lifetime of the universe are there now or have ever been other sentient civilizations that like ours explored the stars and left evidence of their efforts so let me ask are we alone that's an excellent question uh for me the answer is sort of clear because i start from the principle of modesty you know if we believe that we are alone and special and unique that shows organs my daughters when they were infants they tended to think that they are special unique and then they went out to the street and realized that other kids are very much like them and and then they developed a sense of a better perspective about themselves and i think the only reason that we are still thinking that we are special is because we haven't searched well enough to find others that might even be better than us and you know i say that because i look at the newspaper every morning and i see that we do foolish things we are not necessarily the most intelligent ones and if you think about it if you open a recipe book you see that out of the same ingredients you can make very different cakes depending on how you put them together and how you heat them up and what is the chance that by taking the soup of chemicals that existed on earth and cooking it one way to get our life that you got the best cake possible i mean we are probably not the sharpest cookie in the jar and the my question is i mean it's pretty obvious to me that we're probably not alone because half of all the sun-like stars we know now as astronomers half of the sunlight stars from the kepler satellite data have a planet the size of the earth roughly at the same distance that the earth is from the sun and that means that they can have liquid water on their surface and the chemistry of life as we know it so if you roll the dice billions of times just within the milky way galaxy and then you have tens of billions of galaxies like it within the observable volume of the universe it would be extremely arrogant to think that we're special i would think that we're sort of middle of the road typical forms of life and that's why nobody pays attention to us you know if you go down the street on a sidewalk and you see an ant you don't pay attention or a special respect to that ant you just continue to walk and so i think that we are sort of average not very interesting not exciting so nobody cares about us we tend to think that we're special but that's a sign of immaturity and we're very early on in our development yes that's another thing that we have our technology only for 100 years and it's evolving exponentially right now on a three-year time scale so imagine what would happen in a hundred years in a thousand years in a million years or in a billion years now the sun is actually relatively late in the star formation history of the universe most of the sun-like stars formed earlier and some of them already died you know became white dwarfs and so if you imagine that a civilization like ours existed around a typical sun-like star by now if they survived they could be a billion years old and then imagine a billionaire technology it would look like magic to us it you know an approximation to god we wouldn't be able to understand it uh and so to in my view we should be humble and by the way we should probably just listen and not speak because there is a risk right if if you are inferior there is a risk if you speak too loudly uh something bad may happen to you you mentioned uh we should be humble also in the sense with the analogy to ants that uh they might be better than us so there's a kind of scale that we're talking about and in the in the question you mentioned the word sentient so sentience or maybe the more basic formulation of that is consciousness do you think um do you think that this thing within us humans in terms of the typical life form of consciousness is the essential element that permeates other if there's other alien civilizations out there that they have something like consciousness as well or is this i guess

i'm asking can you try to untangle the word sentient yeah so that's that's a good question uh i think what is most abundant depending on how long it survives so if you look at us as an example we are now we do have conscious and we do have technology but the technologies that we are developing are also means for our own destruction yes we can tell you know we can change the climate if we are not careful enough we can go into nuclear wars so we are developing means for our own destruction through self-inflicted wounds and it might well be that creatures like us are not long-lived that the crocodiles on other planets live for billions of years they don't destroy themselves they live naturally and so if you look around the most common thing would be dumb animals that live for long times you know not those that have conscious but in terms of changing the environment i think since i mean humans develop tools they've developed the ability to construct technologies that would lift us from this planet that we were born in and that's something animals without a conscious consciousness cannot really do and and so i you know in terms of uh looking for things that are new that that went beyond the circumstances they were born into i would think that even if they are short-lived these are the creatures that made the biggest difference to their environment and we can search for them you know even if they're short-lived and most of the civilizations are dead by now yeah even if that's the case that's sad to think about by the way well but if you look on earth that you know there's lots of cultures that exist throughout time and they're dead by now the mayan culture was very sophisticated died but we can find evidence for it and learn about it just by archaeology digging into the ground looking and so we can do the same thing in space look for dead civilizations and perhaps we can learn a lesson why they died and behave better so that we will not share the same fate so i think you know there is a lesson to be learned from the sky and by the way i should also say if we find a technology that we have not dreamed of that we can import to earth that may be a better strategy for making a fortune than going to silicon valley or going to wall street because you learn you make a jump start into something of the future so that's one way to do the leap is actually to find to literally discover versus come up with the idea in our own limited human capacity like a cognitive capacity it would look like it would feel like cheating in an exam where you look over the shoulder of a student next to you yeah but it's not good on an exam but it is good when you're coming up with technology that could change the the fabric of human civilization but there is uh you know in my neck of the woods of artificial intelligence there's a lot of trajectories one can imagine of creating very powerful beings uh the technology that's essentially you know you can call super intelligence that could achieve space exploration all those kinds of things without consciousness right without something that to us humans looks like consciousness and there you know there is a sad feeling i have that consciousness too in terms of us being humble is a thing we humans take too seriously that it's we think it's special just because we have it but it could be a thing that's actually holding us back in some kind of way may well be it will be uh i should say something about ai because i do think it offers a very important step into the future if you look at the old testament the bible there is this story about noah's ark that you might know about noah knew about a great flood that is about to endanger all life on earth so he decided to build an ark and the bible actually talks about specifically what the the size of this ark was what the dimensions were turns out it was quite similar to um that we will discuss in a few minutes but at any event he built this ark and he put animals on it so that they were saved from the great flood now you can think about doing the same on earth because there are risks for future catastrophes you know we could have the self-inflicted wounds that we were talking about like nuclear war changing the climate or there could be an asteroid impacting us just like the dinosaurs died you know they the dinosaurs didn't have science astronomy they couldn't have a warning system but there was this big stone big rock that approached there it must have been a beautiful sight yeah just when it was approaching got very big and then smashed them okay and killed them so um you could have a catastrophe like that or in a billion years the sun will basically boil off all the oceans on earth and currently all our eggs are in one basket but we can spread them it's sort of like the printing press if you think about it the revolution that gutenber brought is there were very few copies of the bible at the time and each of them was precious because it was handwritten but once the printing press produced multiple copies you know if something bad happened to one of the copies it wasn't a catastrophe you know it wasn't disaster because you had many more copies that and so if we have copies of life here on earth elsewhere then we avoid the risk of it being eliminated by a single point breakdown catastrophe so the question is can we build nox spaceship that will carry life as we know now you might think we have to put elephants and whales and birds on a big spaceship but that's not true because all you need to know is the dna making the genetic making of these animals put it on a computer system that has ai plus a 3d printer so that this cubesat which is rather small can go with this information to another planet and use the raw materials there to produce synthetic life and that would be a way of producing copies just like the gutenber printing press yeah and it doesn't have to be exact copies of the humans it could just contain some basic elements of life and then have enough life on board that it could uh reproduce the process of evolution on another place right so i mean that also makes you sad of course because it uh you confront the mortality of your own little precious consciousness and all your own memories and knowledge and all that stuff right but who cares i mean we don't know i care about mine right and you care about yours no no i actually don't you know if you look at the big if you're an astronomer one thing that you learn from the universe is to be modest because you are not so significant i mean think about it all these emperors and kings that conquered a piece of land on earth and were extremely proud you know you see these images of kings and emperors that you know usually are alpha males and they stand you know strong and um they're very proud of themselves but if you think about it there are 10^{20} planets like the earth in the observable volume of the universe and this view of conquering a piece of land and even conquering all of earth is just like an ant hugging a single grain of sand on the landscape of a huge beach that's not very impressive so you can't be arrogant if you see the big picture you have to be humble you know also we we are short-lived you know we within a hundred years that's it right so what does it teach you first to be humble modest you never have significant powers relative to the big scheme of things and second you should appreciate every day that you live yes and and learn about the world humble and still grateful yes exactly well let's uh talk about the probably the most interesting object i've heard about and also the most fun to pronounce can you tell me the story of this object and why it may be an important event in human history and is it possibly a piece of alien technology right so this is the first object that was spotted close to earth from outside the solar system and it was found in on october 19 2017 and at that time it was receding away from us and at first astronomers thought it must be a piece of rock you know just like all the asteroids and comets that we have seen from within the solar system and it just came from another star i should say that the actual discovery of this object was surprising to me because a decade earlier i wrote the first paper

together with ed turner and mauro martin that tried to predict whether the same telescope that was serving the sky pan stars from hawaii would find anything from interstellar space given what we know about the solar system so if you assume that other planetary systems have similar abundance of rocks and you just calculate how many should be ejected into interstellar space the conclusion is no it we shouldn't find anything with pan stars to me i apologize it's probably revealing my stupidity but it was surprising to me that so few interstellar objects from outside this whole system have ever been detected or not none has been you you do well maybe talk about it that there has been uh uh one or two rocks since then well since then there was one uh called the borisov it was discovered by an amateur russian astronomer yeah uh gennady borisov and that one looked like a comet yeah and just like a comet from within the solar system but this is a really important point sorry to interrupt it you showed that it's unlikely that a rock from another solar system would arrive to ours right and so the actual detection of this one was surprising by itself to me yes and but then so at first they thought maybe it's a comet or an asteroid but then it look it didn't look like anything we've seen before borisov did look like a comet so people asked me afterwards and said you know doesn't it convince you if borisov looks like a comet doesn't he convince you that um is also natural yeah and i said you know when i went on the first date with my wife uh she looked special to me yes and since then i met many women yes that didn't change my opinion of my life so you know that's not an argument anyway so why did why did the muah look weird let me explain so first of all astronomers monitored the amount of light sunlight that it reflects and it was tumbling spinning every eight hours and as it was spinning the brightness that we saw from that direction we couldn't resolve it because it's tiny it's about 100 meters a few hundred feet size of a football field and we cannot from earth with existing telescopes we cannot resolve it the only way to actually get a photograph of it is to send the camera close to it and that was not possible at the time that umua was discovered because it was already moving away from us faster than any rocket we can send it's sort of like a guest that appeared for dinner and then by the time we realized that it's weird the guest is already out the front door into the dark street yeah what we would like to find is an object like it approaching us because then you can send the camera irrespective of how fast it moves and if we were to find it in july 2017 that would have been possible because it was approaching us at that time actually i was visiting mount haleakala in maui hawaii with my family for vacation at that time in july 2017 but nobody knew uh at the observatory that the um is very close that's sad to think about that we had the opportunity at that time yes to send up a camera but don't worry i mean there will be more there will be more because you know i i operate by the copernican principle which says we don't live at a special place and we don't live at a special time and that means you know if we surveyed the sky for a few years and we had sensitivity to this region between us and the sun and we found this object with pan stars you know there should be many more that we will find in the future with surveys that might be even better yes uh and actually in a in three years time scale there would be uh the so-called lsst that's a survey of the vera rubin observatory that would be much more sensitive and could potentially find an umumua-like object every month okay so wow i'm just waiting for that and the main reason for me to alert everyone uh to the unusual properties of umumua is with the hope that next time around when we see something as unusual we would take a photograph or we would get as much evidence as possible because science is based on evidence not on prejudice and we will get back to that theme so anyway let me let me

point out some of the properties actually yeah the elongated nature all right other things so the light curve the amount of light sunlight that was reflected from it was changing over eight hours by a factor of ten meaning that the area of this object even though we can't resolve it the area on the sky that reflects sunlight was bigger by a factor of 10 in some phases as it was tumbling around than in other phases so even if you take a piece of paper that is razor thin you know it's there is a very small likelihood that it's exactly edge-on uh and getting a factor of 10 change in the area that you see on the sky is huge it's much more than any it means that the object has an unusual geometry it's at least a factor of a few more than any of the comets or asteroids that we have seen before you mentioned reflectivity so it's not just the geometry but the the properties of the surface of that thing well uh or no if you assume the reflectivity is the same okay then it's just geometry if you assume the reflectivity may change yes then it could be a combination of the area that you see and the reflectivity because different directions may reflect differently but the point is that it's very extreme yes and it actually the best fit to the light curve that we saw was of a flat object unlike all the cartoons that you have seen of a cigar shape a flat object at the 90 percent confidence gives a better model for the way that the light varied and it's like flat meaning like a pancake like a pancake exactly uh and then so that's the you know the very first unusual property but to me it was not unusual enough to think that it might be artificial it was not significant enough then um there was no commentary tale you know no dust no gas around this object and the spitzer space telescope really searched very deeply for carbon-based molecules there was nothing so it's definitely not a comet the way people expected it to be can you maybe briefly mention what uh properties a comet that you're referring to usually has right so a comet is a rock that has some water ice on the surface so you can think of it as an icy rock actually comets were discovered a long time ago but uh the first model uh that was developed for them was by fred the whipple who was at harvard and i think the legend goes that he got the idea from walking through harvard square and seeing uh during a winter day and seeing these icy rocks you know and so a comet is icy and this is uh it's just a rock it's just a wrap yeah so when you have ice on the surface when the rock gets close to the sun the sunlight warms it up and the the ice sublimates it evaporates because the one thing about ice water ice is it doesn't become liquid if you warm it up in vacuum you know without an external pressure it just goes straight into gas and that's what you see as the tail of a comet the only way to get liquid water is to have an atmosphere like on earth that has an external pressure only then you get liquid and that's why it's essential to have an atmosphere to a planet in order to have liquid water and the chemistry of life so if you look at mars mars lost its atmosphere and therefore no liquid water on the surface anymore i mean there may have been early and that's what the perseverance uh survey you know the perseverance mission we will try to find out whether it had liquid water whether there was life perhaps on it at the time but at some point it lost its atmosphere and then the liquid water was gone so the only reason that we can live on earth is because of the atmosphere but a comet is in vacuum pretty much and then when it gets warmed up on the surface the water becomes the water ice becomes gas and then you see this cometary tail behind it in addition to water there is that there are all kinds of carbon-based molecules of dust that comes off the surface and those are detectable yeah it's easy to detect it's very prominent you see these cometary tails that look very prominent because they reflect sunlight and you can see them in fact it's sometimes difficult to see the nucleus of the comet because it's surrounded and shrouded with and in this case there was no trace of anything that's fast now you might say okay it's not a comet so that's what the community said okay it's not a comet no problem it's still a rock you know it's not a comet but it's just a rock bare rock you know okay no problem then and that's the thing that convinced me to write about it and then in June 2018 you know significantly later there was a report that in fact the object exhibited an excess push in addition to the force of gravity so the sun acts on it by gravity but then there was an extra push on this object that was figured out from the orbit that you can trace and the question was what is this excess push so for comets you get the rocket effect when you evaporate gas you know just like a jet engine on an airplane you throw a jet engine is very simple you throw the gas back and it pushes the airplane forward that's all that's how it gets so in a case of a comet you throw gas in the direction of the sun because it and then you get a push okay so in the case of comets you can get a push but there was no commentary tale so then people said oh wait a second is it an asteroid no but it behaves like a comet but it doesn't look like a comet so what it well forget about it business as usual so that's what I mean by a non-gravitational acceleration so that's interesting so like the primary force acting on something like just a rock like an asteroid would be like you can predict the trajectory based on the based on gravity and also here there's detected movement that's not cannot be accounted purely by the gravity so if it was a comet you would need about a tenth of the mass of this comet the weight of this government to be evaporated in order to give it and there's no sign of that no sign ten percent of the mass evaporating it's huge think about it a hundred meter size object losing ten percent of its mass you can't miss that and uh so that's super weird it's super weird what is there a good explanation in your mind and possible explanations for this you know so I operated just like Sherlock Holmes in a way I said okay what are the possibilities and the only thing I could think so I ruled out everything else and I I said it must be the sunlight reflected off it okay so the sunlight reflects off the surface and gives it a push just like you get a push on a sail on a boat you know from the wind reflecting off it now in order for this to be effective it turns out the object needs to be extremely thin uh it turns out it needs to be less than a millimeter thick nature does not produce such things so but we produce it because it's called the technology of a light sail so we are for space exploration we are exploring this technology because it has the benefit of not needing to carry the fuel with the spacecraft so you don't have the fuel you just have a uh you just have a sail and it's being pushed either by sunlight or by a laser beam or whatever uh so perhaps this is the light sail so this is actually the same technology with the with the Starshot project yes so yeah that's fascinating okay people afterwards say okay you work on this project you imagine you know no that's a pretty good explanation right obviously my imagination is limited by what I know so I you know I would not deny that you know working on light sails expanded my ability to imagine this possibility yes but let me offer another interesting anecdote in September this year 2020 I mean yes uh 2020. yes um there was another object found and it was given the name 2020 so by the minor planet center you know this is an organization actually in Cambridge Massachusetts that gives names to objects astronomical objects found in the solar system and they gave it that name 2020 so because you know it looked like uh an object in the solar system and it moved in an orbit that is similar to the orbit of the earth but not the same exactly and therefore it was bound to the sun but it also exhibited a deviation from what you expect based on gravity so the astronomers that found it extrapolated back in time and found that in 1966 it intercepted the earth and then they realized they went to the history books and they realized oh there was a mission called gruner surveyor lunar lander surveyor 2 that had a rocket booster it was a failed mission but there was a rocket booster that was kicked into space and presumably this is the rocket booster that we are seeing now this rocket booster was sufficiently hollow and thin for us to recognize that it's pushed by sunlight so here is my point we can tell from the orbit of an object obviously this object didn't have any cometary tail it was artificially made we know that it was made by us and it did deviate from an orbit of a rock so just by seeing something that doesn't have cometary tail and deviates from an orbit shaped by gravity we can tell that it's artificial in the case of umuamua it couldn't have been sent by humans because it just passed near us for a few months we know exactly what we were doing in those at that time and also it was moving faster than any object that we can launch and so obviously it came from outside the solar system and the question is who produced it now i should say that you know when i walk on vacation on a beach i often see natural objects like seashells that are beautiful and i look at them and um and every now and then i stumble on a plastic bottle and that was artificially produced and my point is that maybe omua mua was a message in a bottle and we should see this is simply another window into searching for artifacts from other civilizations where do you think it could have come from and if it's so okay from a scientific perspective the narrow-minded view as we'll probably talk about throughout is you know you kind of want to stick to the things that uh to naturally originating objects like asteroids and comets okay that's the space of possible hypotheses and then if we expand beyond that you start to think okay these are artificially constructed like you just said it could be by humans it could be by uh by whatever that means by some kind of extraterrestrial alien civilizations if it's the alien civilization variety what is this object then that will look at that an excellent question and let me lay out i mean we don't have enough evidence to tell if we had a photograph perhaps we would have more information but the possib there is one other peculiar fact about umuamua uh well other than it was very shiny i that i didn't mention you know we didn't detect any heat from it and that implies that it's rather small and shiny uh but the other peculiar fact is that it was it came from a very special frame of reference so it's sort of like finding a car in a parking lot in a public parking lot that you know you can't really tell where it came from so there is this frame of reference where you average over the motions of all the stars in the neighborhood of the sun so you find the so-called local standard of rest of the galaxy and that's uh a frame of reference that is obtained by averaging the random motions of all the stars and the sun is moving relative to that frame at some speed but this object was at rest in that frame and only one in 500 stars is so much at rest in that frame and that's why i was saying it's like a parking lot it was parked there and we bumped into it so the relative speed between the solar system and this object is just because we are moving it was sitting still now you ask yourself why is it so unusual in that context you know why because if it was expelled from another planetary system most likely it will carry the speed of the host star that it came from because it was you know the most loosely bound objects are in the periphery of the planetary system and they move very slowly relative to the star and so they carry the when they are ripped apart from the planetary system most of the objects will have the residual motion of the star roughly relative to the local stuff but this one was at rest in the locals now one thing i can think of if there is a grid of uh road posts you know like for navigation system so that you can find your way in the local frame yeah then that would be one position these are like little sensors of that's fascinating to think about so there could be i mean not necessarily literally a grid but

just uh evenly in some definition of evenly spread out set of objects like these right that are just out there a lot of them another possibility is that these are relay stations you know that for communication you might think in order to communicate you need a huge beacon yeah a very powerful beacon but it's not true because even on earth you know we have these relay stations so you have a not so powerful beacon so it can be heard only out to a limited distance but then you relay the message yes and it could be one of those now after it collided with this the solar system of course it got a kick so it's just like a billiard ball you know we gave it a a kick by colliding with but most of them are not colliding with stars and so that's one possibility okay and there should be numer lots of them if that's the case um the other possibility is that it's a probe you know that was sent uh in the direction of the um habitable region around the sun to find out if there is life now it takes tens of thousands of years for such a probe to traverse the solar system from the outer edge of the oort cloud all the way to where we are and you know it's a long journey so when it started the journey from the edge of the solar system to get to us now you know we were rather primitive back then you know we we still didn't have any technology there was no reason to visit you know there was grass around and so forth but you know maybe it is a problem uh so you said ten thousand years as fast so it takes that long tens of thousands yes tens of thousands a year yeah yeah and uh the other thing i should say is you know it could be just a a an outer layer of something else like you know something that was ripped apart like a surface of an instrument that was and and you can have lots of these pieces you know if something breaks lots of these pieces spread out like space junk and you know that it could be just space junk from an extra from an alien civilization yes so it's i'm going to tell you about space junk let me yes what do you mean by space junk so um i think you know you might ask why aren't they looking for us one possibility is that we are not interesting like we were talking about another possibility you know if there are millions of or billions of years uh into their technological development they created their own their own habitat their own cocoon where they feel comfortable they have everything they need and it it's risky for them to establish communication with other so they have their own cocoon and they close off they don't care about anything else now in that case you might say oh so how can we find about them if they are closed off the answer is they still have to deposit trash right that's that is something from the law of thermodynamics there must be some production of trash and you know we can still find about them just like investigative journalists going through the trash cans of celebrities in hollywood you know you can learn about the private lives of those celebrities by looking at the front it's fascinating to think you know if if we are the ants in this picture if we if this thing is a water bottle or if it's like a smartphone like where where on the spectrum of possible objects of space because there's a lot of interesting trash like how interesting is this trash but imagine a caveman seeing a cellphone the caveman would think since the caveman played with rocks all of his life he would say it's a rock just like my fellow astronomers said yes right exactly that's brilliantly put actually as a scientist do you hope it's a water bottle or a smartphone because a smart i hope it's even more than a smartphone i hope that it's something that is really sophisticated and funny yeah see i'm the opposite i i feel like i hope it's a water bottle because at least we have a hope with our current set of skills to understand it yeah caveman has no way of understanding the smartphone it's like it will be like i feel like a caveman has more to learn from the plastic water bottle than they do from the smartphone but suppose we figure it out if we if we for example come close to it and and learn what it's made of and i guess the smartphone is full of like thousands of different technologies that we could probably pick at do you have a sense of where a hypothesis of where is the cocoon that it might have come from no because uh okay so first of all you know the solar system the outermost edge of the solar system is called the oort cloud it's a cloud of icy rocks um of different sizes that were left over from the formation of the solar system yes and it it's thought to be roughly a ball or a sphere and it's halfway the extent of it is roughly halfway to the nearest star okay so you can imagine each planetary system basically touching uh the oort clouds of those stars that are near us are touching each other space is full of these billiard balls that are very densely packed yes and what that means is any object that you see irrespective whether it came from the local standard so we said that this object is special because it came from a local standard of rest but even if it didn't you would never be able to trace where it came from because all these old clouds overlap so if you take some direction in the sky you will cross as many stars as you have in that direction like there is no way to tell which old cloud it came from so yes i i didn't realize how densely packed everything was uh yeah from the perspective of the work cloud and that's really interesting so yeah it could be it could be nearby it could be very far away yeah we have no clue you said cocoon that and you kind of uh uh paint uh i think in the book i've read a lot of your articles too on scientific american which are brilliant so i'm kind of mixing things up in my head a little bit but there's uh what does that cocoon look like what is the civilization that's able to harness the power of multiple suns for example um look like they give when you imagine possible civilizations that are a million years more advanced than us what do you think that actually like looks like i think it's very different than we can imagine uh by the way i should start from the point that even biological life you know just without technology getting into the game uh could look like something we have never seen before take for example the nearest star which is proxima centauri it's four and a quarter light years away so they will know about the results of the 2016 elections only next month in february 2021 yes it's very far away um but if you think about it um you know this this uh star is a is a dwarf star and it's much cooler than it's uh twice as cold as the sun okay and it emits mostly infrared radiation so if there are any creatures on the planet close to it that is habitable which is called proxima b there is a planet in the habitable zone in the zone just at the right distance where in principle liquid water can be on the surface if there are any animals there they have infrared eyes because our eyes was designed to be sensitive to where most of the sunlight is in the visible range but proxima centaurium is mostly infrared so you're not the nearest to see each other in the nearest star system these animals would be quite strange they would have eyes that are detectors of infrared very different from ours moreover this planet proxima b faces the star always with the same side so it has a permanent dayside and a permanent night side and obviously the creatures that would evolve on the permanent dayside which is much warmer would be quite different than those on the permanent night side between them there would be a permanent sunset strip and my daughters said that that's the best opportunity for high value real estate because you will see the sunset throughout your life right now the sun never sets on this on this trip so you know these worlds are out of our imagination just even the individual creatures this the sensor suite that they're operating with might be very different very different so i think when we see something like that we would be shocked not to speak about seeing technology now so i i don't even dare to imagine you know uh and i think you know obviously we can bury our head in the sand and say it's never aliens like many of my colleagues say and it's a self-fulfilling prophecy if you if you never look you will never find if you are not ready to find wonderful things you will never discover them and the other thing i would like to say is reality doesn't care whether you ignore it or not you can ignore reality but it's still there yes so we can all agree based on twitter that aliens don't exist that um was a rock we can all agree and you will get a lot of likes they will have a big crowd of supporters and everyone will be happy and give each other awards and honors and so forth but um might still be an alien artifact who cares what humans agree on yeah there is a reality out there and we have to be modest enough to recognize that we should make our statements based on evidence science is not about ourself it's not about glorifying our image it's not about getting honors prizes you know a lot of the scientific a lot of the academic activity is geared towards creating your echo chamber where you have students postdocs repeating your mantras so that your voice is heard loudly so that you can get more honors prizes recognition that's not the purpose of science the purpose is to figure out what nature is right and in the process of doing that it's a learning experience you make mistakes you know einstein made three mistakes at the end of his career he argued that in the 1930s he argued that black holes don't exist gravitational waves don't exist and quantum mechanics doesn't have spooky action at a distance and all three turned out to be wrong okay so the point is that if you work at the frontier of then you make mistakes it's inevitable because you can't tell what is true or not and avoiding making mistakes in order to preserve your image makes you extremely boring okay you will get a prize but you will be a boring scientist because you will keep repeating things we already know if you want to make progress if you want to innovate you have to take risks and you have to look at the evidence it's a dialogue with nature you don't know the the truth in advance you let nature tell you educate you and then you you realize that what you thought before is incorrect and a lot of my colleagues prefer to be in a state where they have a monologue you know if you look at these people that work on string theory yes uh they have a monologue they know what and in fact their monologue is centered on anti-deceit space which we don't live in now you know it's to me it's just like the olympics you know you you define a hundred meters and you say whoever runs this hundred meters is the best athlete the fastest you know and uh it's completely arbitrary you could have decided it would be 50 meters or 20 meters who cares you just measure the ability of people this way so you define antidecital space as a space where you do your mathematical gymnastics and then you find who can do it the best and you give jobs based on that you give prizes best but as we said before you know nature doesn't care about you know the prizes that you give to each other it cares you know it has its own reality and we should figure it out and it's not about us the scientific activity is about figuring out nature and sometimes we may be wrong our image will not be preserved but it's that's the fun you know kids explore the world out of curiosity and i always want to maintain my childhood curiosity and i don't care about the labels that i have in fact having tenure is exactly the opportunity to behave like a child because you can make mistakes yeah and i was asked by the harvard gazette you know the the new the pravda of harvard uh what what is the one thing that you would like to change about the world yes and i said i would like my colleagues to behave more like kids yeah that's the one thing i would like them to do because something bad happens to these kids when they become tenured professors they start to worry about their ego yeah and about themselves more than about the purpose of science which is you know curiosity driven figuring out from evidence evidence is the key so when an object shows anomalies like what's the problem discussing

you know whether it's artificial or not you know so there was i should tell you there was a mainstream paper in nature published saying it must be natural that's it it's unusual but it must be natural period and then at the same time that those main some other mainstream scientists tried to explain the properties yes and they came up with interpretations like it's a dust bunny you know the kind that you find in a household a collection of dust particles pushed by sunlight something we have never seen before or it's a hydrogen iceberg it actually evaporates like a comet but hydrogen is transparent you don't see it and that's why we don't see the commentary again we have never seen something like that in both cases the objects would not survive the long journey we discussed it in a paper that i wrote afterwards but my point is those that try to explain the unusual properties went into great length at discussing things that we have never seen before okay so even when you think about a natural origin you have to come up with scenarios that of things that were never seen before and by the way they look less plausible to me personally but my point is if we discuss things that were never seen before right why not discuss why not contemplate an artificial origin what's the problem why do people have this pushback you know i worked on on dark matter and we don't know what most of the matter in the universe is it's called dark metal it's just an acronym because we have no clue we simply don't know so it could be all kinds of particles and over the years people suggested weakly interacting massive particles axions all kinds of particles and experiments were made they cost hundreds of millions of dollars they put upper limits constraints that ruled out many of the possibilities that were proposed as natural initially the mainstream community regarded it as a mainstream activity to search the nature of the dark matter and they nobody complained that it's speculative to consider weakly interacting massive particles now i asked you why is it speculative to consider extraterrestrial technologies we have a proof that it exists here on earth yes we also know that the conditions of of of earth are reproduced in billions of systems throughout the milky way galaxy so what's more conservative than to say if you arrange for similar conditions you get the same outcome how can you imagine this to be specula it's not speculative at all and nevertheless it's regarded the periphery and at the same time you have physicists theoretical physics working on extra dimensions super symmetry uh super string theory the multiverse maybe we live in a simulation all of these ideas that have no grounding in reality some of which sound to me like you know just like what someone would say uh science fiction basically because you have no way to test it uh you know through experiments and experiments really are key it's not just the nuance you say okay forget about experiment and some philosophers try to say you know if there is a consensus what's the problem the point is it's key then that's what galileo it's key to have feedback from reality you know you can think that you have a billion dollars or that you are more rich than you know uh elon musk that's fine you can feel very happy about it you can talk about it with your friends and all of you will be happy and think about what you can do with the money then you go to an atm machine and you make an experiment you check how much money you have in in your checking account and if it turns out that you know you you don't have much you can't you can't materialize your dreams okay so you realize you have a reality check yes and my point is without experiments giving you a reality check without the atm machine showing you whether your ideas are bankrupt or not without putting skin in the game and by skinning the game i mean don't just talk about theoretical ideas make them testable if you don't make them testable they're worthless they're just like theology that is not testable by the way theology has some tests let me give you that's interesting three examples yes um it turns out that my book already inspired a phd student at harvard in the english department to pursue a phd in that direction and she invited me to the phd exam a couple of months ago and in the exam one of the examiners a professor asked her do you know why jordano bruno was burnt at the stake and she said no i think it's because he was an obnoxious guy and irritated a lot of people yes which is true but the professor said no it's because giordano bruno said that other stars are just like the sun and they could have a planet like the earth around them that could host life and that was offensive to the church why was it offensive because there is the possibility that this life sinned okay and if that life sinned on planets around other stars it should have been saved by christ and then you need multiple copies of christ and that's unacceptable how can you have duplicates of christ right and so they burned the guy it was about that's okay i'm just like loading this all in because that's kind of brilliant so he he was actually already into it's not just about the stars it's anticipating that there could be other life forms yeah like why if this star if there's other stars why would it be special why would our star be special he was making the right argument and he would just follow that all along to say like there should be other earth like places there should be other life and then there's different copies of christ yes so that was offensive so i said i said to that um i said to that professor i said great you know i wanted to introduce some scientific tone to the discussion and i said this is great because now you basically laid the foundation for an experimental test of this theology what is the test we now know that other stars are like the sun and we know they have planets like the earth around them so suppose we find life there and we figure out that they sinned then we ask them did you witness christ and if they say no it means that this this theology is ruled out so there is an experimental test so this is experimental test number one another experimental test you know in the bible you know in the old testament abraham uh was heard the voice the voice of god to sacrifice his son right only son and that's what the story says now suppose abraham my name by the way had a voice memo up on his cell phone yes he could have pressed this up and recorded the voice of god and that would have been experimental evidence that god exists right fortunately he didn't but it's an experimental test right there is a third example i should tell and that is elie wiesel attributed this story to martin buber but it's not clear whether it's true or not at any event the story goes that martin buber you know he was a philosopher and he said you know the christians argue that jesus you know the the messiah arrived already and will come back again in the future the jews argue the messiah never came and will arrive in the future so he said why argue both sides agree that the messiah will arrive in the future when the messiah arrives we can ask whether he or she came before you know like visited us and then figure it out and one side so again experimental test of a theology yes so even theology if it puts a skin in the game you know if it makes a prediction could be tested right so why can't string theories test themselves or why can't you know even cosmic inflation that's another model that you know one of the inventors from mit alan guth argues that it's not falsifiable my point is a theory that cannot be falsified is not helpful because it means that you can't make progress you cannot improve your understanding of nature the only way for us to learn about nature is by making hypotheses that are testable doing the experiments and learning whether we are correct or not so b and coupled that with a curiosity and open-mindedness that allows us to explore all kinds of possible hypotheses but always the pursuit of those the the scientific rigor around those hypotheses is ultimately get evidence knowledge is of of what nature is should be a

dialogue with nature yes rather than a monologue beautifully put can we talk a little bit about the drake equation another framework from which to have this kind of discussion about uh possible civilizations out there so let me ask within the context of the drake equation or maybe bigger how many alien civilizations do you think are out there well it's hard to tell because the drake equation is again quantifying our ignorance it's just a set of factors the only one that we know are actually two that we know quite well is the rate of star formation in the milky way galaxy which we measured by now and the frequency of planets like the earth around stars yes and at the right distance to have life but other than that there are lots of implicit assumptions about all the other factors that will enable us to detect a signal now i should say the drake equation has a very limited validity just for signals from civilizations that are transmitting at the time that you're observing them however we can do much better than that we can look for artifacts that they left behind even even if they are dead you can look for industrial pollution in the atmosphere supply why do i bring this up again to show you the conservatism of the mainstream in astronomy and by the way i shouldn't you know i have leadership positions i was chair of the astronomy department for nine years the longest serving chair at harvard and i'm the chair of the board on physics and astronomy of the national academies you know it's the primary board uh and um you know i'm director of two centers at harvard and so forth so i do represent the community in various ways but at the same time you know i'm a little bit disappointed by the conservatism that people have and so let me give you an illustration of that so the astronomy community actually is going right now through the process of defining its goals for the next decade and there are proposals for telescopes that would cost billions of dollars and whose goal is to find evidence for oxygen in the atmosphere of planets around other stars with the idea that this would be a marker a signature of life now the problem with that is earth didn't have much oxygen in its atmosphere for the first two billion years roughly half you know half of its life it didn't have much oxygen but it had life it had microbial life it's not an it's not clear yet as of yet what the origin is for the rise in the oxygen level after two billion years about 2.4 billion years ago but we know that a planet can have life without oxygen in the atmosphere because earth did it the second problem with this approach is that you can have oxygen from natural processes you can break water molecules and make oxygen right so even if you find it it will never tell you that for sure life exists there and so even with these billions of dollars the mainstream community will never be confident but uh whether there is life there now how can it be confident there is actually a way if instead of looking with the same instruments if you look for molecules that indicate industrial pollution for example cfcs you know that are produced by refrigerating systems or industries here on earth that they do the ozone layer you know you can search for that and i wrote a paper five years ago suggesting that now what's the problem you can just tell nasa i want to build this telescope to search for oxygen but also for industrial pollution nobody would say that because it sounds like you know on the periphery of the field and i asked you why hilarious because that's exactly i mean that's what you're saying is quite brilliant i mean uh because it's a really strong signal and if life if there's alien civilizations out there then they're probably going to be many of them and they're probably going to be more advanced than us and they're probably going to have something like industrial pollution which would be a much stronger signal than some basic gas which could have a lot of different explanations so like somebody like oxygen or i mean i don't you know uh i mean we could talk about signs of life on venus and so on but like if you want a strong

signal it would be pollution i love how garbage is no but the pollution you have to understand we think of pollution as a problem but on a planet that was too cold for example to have a comfortable life on it you can imagine terraforming it and putting a blanket of polluting gases such that it will be warmer and that would be a positive change so if an industrial or a technological civilization wants to terraform a planet that otherwise is too cold for them they would do it so what's the problem of defining it as a search goal using the same technologies the problem is that there is a taboo we are not supposed to discuss extraterrestrial intelligence there is no funding for this subject not much very little and young people because of the bullying on twitter you know all the social media and elsewhere young people with talent that are curious about this these questions do not enter this field of study and obviously if you step on the grass it will never grow right so if you don't give funding obviously you know the mainstream community says look nothing was discovered so far obviously nothing would be discovered if talented people go to other disciplines never you never search for it well enough you will never find anything i mean look at gravitational wave astrophysics it's a completely new window into the universe pioneered by ray weiss at mit and at first it was ridiculed and thanks to some administrators at the national science foundation it received funding despite the fact that the mainstream of the astronomy community was very resistant yes to it and now it's considered a frontier so all these people that i remember as a postdoc a young postdoc these people that bash this field said bad things about people you know said nothing will come out of it now they say oh yeah of course you know the nobel prize was given to the you know to the ligo collaboration of course now they're they're supportive of it but my point is if if you suppress innovation early on there are lots of missed opportunities the discovery of exoplanets is one example you know in 1952 there was an astronomer called the named otto struve and he wrote the paper saying why don't we search for jupiter like planets close to their host star because if they're close enough they would move the star back and forth and we can detect the signal yes okay and so astronomers on time allocation committees of telescopes for 40 years argued this is not possible because we know why jupiter resides so far from the sun you cannot have jupiter so close because there is this region where ice forms far from the sun and beyond that region is where jupiter-like planets can form there was a theory behind it which ended up being wrong by now by today's standards but yes anyway they did not give time on telescopes to search for such systems until the first system was discovered four decades after otto struve's paper and the nobel prize was awarded to that just a couple of years ago yeah and you ask yourself okay so you know science still made progress what's the problem the problem is that this baby came out barely you know and and there was a delay of four decades so the progress was delayed and i wonder how many babies were not born because of this resistance so there must be ideas that are as good as this one that were suppressed because they were bullied because uh people ridiculed them that were actually good ideas and we these are missed opportunities babies that were never born yes and you know i'm willing to push this frontier of the search for technologies or technological signatures of other civilizations because you know when i was young i was in the military in israel it's obligatory to serve and there was this saying that you know one of the soldiers sometimes has to put his body on the barbed wire so that others can go through and i'm willing to suffer the pain so that you know younger people in the future will be able to speak freely about the possibility that some of the anomalies we find in the sky yes are due to technological signatures and it's quite obvious

this is why i like like folks in the artificial intelligence space elon musk and a few others speak about this and they look at the long arc they say like what you know this kind of you know you can call it like first principles thinking or you can call anything really is like if we just zoom off from our current bickering and our current like discussions in the what science is doing and look at the long arc of the trajectory we're headed at which questions are obviously fundamental to science and it should be asked and which is the space of hypotheses we should be exploring and like exoplanets is a really good example of one that was like an obvious one i recently talked to sarah seeger and it was very taboo when she was starting out to work on an exoplanet and that was even in the 90s yeah and uh like it's obvious should not be a taboo subject and to me i mean i'm probably ignorant but to me exoplanets seems like it's ridiculous that that would ever be a taboo subject right to not fund to not explore that's very but even for her it's now taboo to say like what you know to to look for industrial pollution right right it's like i find that ridiculous i'll tell you why you take the next step it's ridiculous for another reason yes not because of just the scientific benefits that we might have by exploring it but because the public cares about these questions yes and the public funds science so how dare the scientists yes shy away from addressing these questions if they have the technology to do it it's like saying i don't want to look through galileo's telescope it's exactly the same you have the technology to explore this question to find evidence and you shy away from it you might ask why do people shy away from it yes and perhaps it's because of the fact that there is science fiction i i'm not a fan of science fiction because it has an element to it that violates the laws of physics in many of the books and and the films and i cannot enjoy the these things when i see the laws of physics violated but who cares that the you know the fact that there is science fiction i mean if if you have the scientific methodology to address the same subject i don't care that other people uh you know spoke nonsense about this subject or said things that make no sense who cares you do your scientific work just like you explore the dark matter you explore the possibility that umuamua is an artifact you just look for evidence and try to deduce uh what what it means and i have no problem with doing that to me it sounds like any other scientific question that we have and given the public's interest we have an obligation to do that by the way science to me is not an occupation of the elite it doesn't allow me to feel superior to other humans that are unable to understand the math to me it's a it's a way of life you know if there is a problem in the faucet or in the pipe at home i try to figure out what the problem is and with a plumber we figure it out and you know we look at the clues and the same thing in science you know you look at the evidence you try to figure out what it means it's it's common sense in a way and it shouldn't be regarded as something removed from the public it should be a reflection of the public's interest and i think it's actually a crime to resist the public if the public says i care about this and you say no no that's not sophisticated enough for me i want to do intellectual gymnastics on auntie the sitter space to me that's a crime yes i'd uh 100 agree so it's it's hilarious that the very not hilarious it's sad that people who are trained in the scientific community to have the tools to explore this world to be children to be the most effective at being children uh are the ones that resist being children the most but there is a large number of people that embrace the childlike wonder about the world and may not necessarily have the tools to do it that's the more general public and so you know i wonder if i could ask you and talk to you a little bit about you know ufo sightings that there's people you know quote-unquote believers you know there's hundreds of thousands of ufo sightings and you know i've you know consumed some of the things that people have said about it and uh one one thing i really like about it is how excited they are by the possibility uh by it's it's almost like this childlike wonder about the world out there they're not it's not a fear it's an excitement do you think because we're talking about uh this extra possibly extraterrestrial object that visited that flew by earth do you think it's possible that out of those hundreds of thousands of ufo sightings one is an actual one or some number is an actual sighting of a non-human some alien technology and that we're not um we did not we're too close-minded to uh to look and to see i think to answer this question we need better evidence my starting point as i said out of modesty is that we are not particularly interesting and therefore i would agree i would be hard-pressed to imagine that someone wants to really spy on us uh so i would think you know as a starting point that we don't deserve attention and we shouldn't expect someone but who knows now the problem that i have with ufo citing reports is that you know 50 years ago there were some reports of fuzzy images you know sorcerer-like things uh by now our technologies are much better our cameras are much more sensitive these fuzzy images should have turned into crisp clear images of things that we are confident about and they haven't turned that way it's always on the borderline of believability and because of that i believe that it might be most likely artifacts of our instruments or some natural phenomena that we are unable to understand now of course the reason you should you need you must examine those if for example pilots report about them or uh the military finds evidence for them is because it may pose a national security threat if another country has technologies that we don't know about and they're spying on us we need to know about it and therefore we should examine everything that looks unusual but to associate it with an alien life is a little too far for me until we have evidence that stands up to the level of scientific credence you know that that we are a hundred percent sure that you know from multiple detectors and you know through a scientific process now again if the scientific community shies away from these reports we will never have that it's like saying i don't want to take photographs of something because i know what it is then you will never know what it is but i think if if some scientist if grants let's put it this way if funding will be given to scientists to follow on some of these reports and use scientific instruments that are capable of detecting those sightings with much better resolution with much better information that would be great because it will clarify the matter you know these are not as you said you know hundreds of thousands these are not once-in-a-lifetime events so it's possible to take scientific instrumentation and explore go to the ocean where the you know someone reported that there are frequent events that are unusual and check it out yeah do a scientific experiment what's the problem why not why only do experiments deep into the ocean and look at the oceanography or do other things you know we can do scientific investigation of these sightings and figure out what what they mean uh i'm very much in favor of that uh but until we have the evidence i would be doubtful as to what they actually mean yeah we have to be humble and uh and acknowledge that we're not that interesting it's kind of you're making me realize that because it's so taboo that the people that have the equipment uh meaning and when i was just talking everybody has cameras now but to have a large-scale like uh sensor right network that collects data regularly collects just like we look at the weather we're collecting information and then we can then x that information when there is reports and like have it not be a taboo thing where there's like millions or billions of dollars funding this effort that by the way inspires millions of people this is exactly what you're talking about it's like it's uh the scientific community is afraid of a

topic that inspires millions of people exactly it's absurd but if you put blinders on your eyes you don't see it yeah right i should say that we do have meteors that we see these are rocks that by chance happen to collide with the earth and they if they're small they burn up in the atmosphere but if they're big enough uh tens of meters or more hundreds of meters the outer layer burns up but then the core of the object makes it through and this is our chance of putting our hands around an object if this meteor came from interstellar space so one path of discovery is to search for interstellar meteors and with the student of mine we actually looked through the record and we thought that we found one example of a meteor that was reported that might have come from interstellar space and another approach is for example to look at the moon the moon is different from the earth in the sense that it doesn't have an atmosphere so objects do not burn up on their way to it it's sort of like a museum it collects everything that kind of rocks from out there deep space yeah and there is no geological activity on the moon so on earth every 100 million years you know we could have had computer terminals on earth that could have been a civilization like ours with electronic equipment yes more than 100 million years ago and it's completely lost you cannot excavate and find the evidence for it because in archaeological digs because the earth is being mixed on these time scales and everything that was on the surface more than 100 million years ago is buried deep inside the earth right now because of geological activity fascinating you think about by the way yeah but on the moon this doesn't happen the only thing that happens on the moon is you have objects impacting the moon and they go 10 meters deep so they produce some dust but the moon keeps everything it's like a museum it keeps everything on the surface so if we go to the moon i would highly recommend regarding it as an archaeological site yes and looking for objects that are strange maybe it collected some trash you know from interstellar space if we could just linger on the on the drake equation for a little bit we kind of talked about there's a lot of uncertainty in the parameters and and our and in the drake equation itself is very limited but i think the parameters are interesting in themselves even if it's limited because i think each one is within the reach of science right right did you get the evidence for uh i mean one a few i find really interesting could be interesting to get your comment on uh so the one with the most variance i i would say from my perspective is the length that civilizations last however you define it and the drake equation is the length of how long you're communicating yeah just like transmitting just like you said that that might that's a wrong way to think about it because we can be detecting some other outputs of the civilizations etc but just if we just define broadly how long those civilizations last do you have a sense of uh how long that might last like what what are the great filters that might destroy civilizations that we should be thinking about what uh yeah is in and what it how can science give us more hints on this topic so i as i mentioned before operate by the copernican principle meaning that you know we are not special we don't live in a special place and not in a special time and by the way it's just modesty encapsulated in scientific terms yes right you're saying i'm not special you know i find conditions here they exist everywhere so if you adapt the copernican principle you basically say our civilization transmitted radio signals for 100 years roughly so probably it would last another hundred or few hundred and that's it because we don't live at a special time so that's you know well of course if we get our act together and we somehow start to cooperate rather than fighting each other killing each other you know wasting a lot of resources on things that would destroy our planet maybe we can lengthen that period if we get smarter but the the most natural assumption is to say that we would live

into the future as much as we lived from the time that we start to develop the means for our own destruction the technologies we have which is quite pessimistic i must say so several centuries that's what i would give not unless we get our act unless we become more intelligent than the newspapers report every day okay point number one second and and by the way this is relevant i should say because there was a report about uh perhaps a radio signal detected from proxima centauri what do you make of that signal oh i think it's some australian guy with a cell phone next to the observatory or something like that because it was the parks telescope in australia okay i was like yeah okay so it's no human created noise yeah which is always the worry because actually the same observatory the parks observatory uh detected a couple of years ago some signal and then they realized that it comes back at lunch lunch time yes and they said okay what could it be and then they figured out that it must be the microwave oven in the observatory because someone was opening it before it finished and it was creating this radio signal that they detected with the telescope every lunch time uh so just a cautionary remark but the reason i think it's human-made without getting to the technical details is because of this very short window by which we were transmitting radio signals out of the lifetime of the earth you know as i said 100 years out of four and a half billion years that the earth existed so what's the chance that another civilization a twin civilization of ours is transmitting radio signals exactly at the time that we are looking with our radio telescopes yeah ten to the minus seven you know so and the other the other argument i have that is uh is that they detected it in a very narrow band of frequencies and that makes it i'm not you know it cannot be through natural processes a very narrow band just like some radio transmissions that we produce but if it were to come from the habitable zone from a transmitter on the surface of proxima b this is the planet that orbits proxima centauri then i calculated that the frequency would drift through the doppler effect you know just like when you hear a siren uh on the street you know when the car approaches you it has a different pitch than when it goes recedes away from you that's the doppler effect and when the planet orbits the star proxima centauri you would see or detect a different frequency when the planet approaches us as compared to when it recedes so there should be a frequency drift just because of the motion of the planet and i calculated that it it must be much bigger than then observed so it cannot just be a transmitter sitting on the planet and sending another direction a radio signal unless they want to cancel the doppler effect but then they need to know about us because in a different direction it will not be canceled only in our direction they can cancel it perfectly so there is this direction of proxima centauri but i have a problem imagining a transmitter on the surface of a planet in the habitable zone emitting it but my main issue is really with the likelihood given what we know about ourselves right in terms of the durations the civilization the copernican principle so nevertheless this particular signal is likely to be uh human interference perhaps but um yeah do you find the proxima b interesting or the the more general question is do you think we humans will venture out into outside our solar system and potentially colonize other habitable planets actually i am involved in a project whose goal is to develop the technology that would allow us to leave the solar system and visit the nearest stars and that is called the star shot in 2015 in may 2015 an entrepreneur from silicon valley yuri milner came to my office at harvard and said would you be interested in leading a project that would do that in our lifetime because as we discussed before to traverse those distances you know with existing rockets would take tens of thousands of years and you know that's too long you know you for example to get to proxima centauri with the kind of spacecrafts that we already sent like new horizons or voyager 1 voyager 2 you you need you you needed to send them when the first humans left africa so so that they would arrive there now yes and you know that that's a long time to wait so yuri wanted to do it within our lifetime yes 10 20 years meaning it has to move at a fraction of the speed of light so can we send a spacecraft that would be moving at the fraction of the speed of light and i said let me look into that for six months and with my students and postdocs we arrived to the conclusion that the only technology that can do that is the light sail technology where can you explain it uh you basically produce a very powerful laser beam on earth so you can collect sunlight with photovoltaic cells or whatever and then convert it into stored energy and then produce a very powerful laser beam that is 100 gigawatts and focus it on a sail in space that is roughly the size of a person a couple of meters or a few meters that weighs only a gram or a few grams very thin and through the math you can show that you can propel such a cell if you shine on it for a few minutes it will traverse the distance that is five times the distance to the moon and it will get to a fifth of the speed of light sounds crazy but i've talked to a bunch of people and they're like i know it sounds crazy but it's actually it will work this is one of those i it's just beautiful i mean this is this is science and the point is people didn't get excited about space since the apollo yes uh era and it's about time you know for us to go into space a couple of months ago i was asked to participate in a debate organized by ibm and bloomberg news and the discussion centered on the question is the space race between the us and china good for humanity oh interesting and all the other debaters were worried about the military threats yeah and i just couldn't understand what they're talking about because military threats come from hovering above the surface of the earth right and we live on a two-dimensional surface we live on the surface of the earth but space is all about the third dimension getting far from error so if you go to mars or you go to a star another star there is no military threat what are we talking about space is all about you know feeling that you know we are one civilization in fact not fighting each other just going far and having aspirations for something that goes beyond military threats yeah so why would we be worried that the space race will lead that's actually brilliant i didn't you know there's some it does in our discourse about it the space race is sometimes made synonymous with like the cold war or something like that right or with wars but really yeah there was a lot of ego tied up in that i remember i mean it's still still to this day there's a lot of pride that russians the soviet union was the first of space and there's a lot of pride in the american side that was the first on the moon but yeah you're exactly right like there's no aggression there's no wars and and beyond that if you think about the global economy right now there is a commercial interest that's why jeff bezos and elon musk are interested about you know mars and so forth there is a commercial interest which is international it's not it's driven by money yes not by name by pride and you know nations can sign treaties first of all there are lots of treaties that were signed even before the first world war and the second world war and the world war took place so who cares you know like humans treaties do not safeguard anything you know but beyond that even if nations sign treaties about space exploration you might still find commercial entities that will find a way to get their launches and you know so i think we should rethink space it has nothing to do with national pride once again nothing to do with our egos it's about exploration and the biggest problem i think to human in human history is that is that humans tend to think about egos and about their their own personal uh image rather than look at the big picture you know we will not be around for long we are just occupying a small space right now let's move out of this you know the way that oscar wilde said i think is the best he said all of us are in the gutters but some of us are looking at the stars yeah and the more of us are looking at the stars the likelier we are to uh to this for this thing for this little experiment we have going on to last last a while as opposed to end too quickly i mean it's not just about science of being humble it's it's about the survival of the human species as being is being humble to me it's incredibly inspiring the starshop project of i mean there's something magical about being able to go to another habitable planet and take a picture even i mean within our lifetime i mean that that uh with crazy technology too which is it's i should tell you how it was conceived so um i was at the time um so after six months passed after the visit of yura miller uh i was usually i go in december during the winter break i go to israel um i i used to go to see my family and i get a phone call just before the weekend started they get a phone call yuri would like you to present your concept in two weeks at his home and i said well uh thank you for letting me know because i'm uh actually out of the door of the hotel to go to a goat farm in in the negev in the southern part of israel with because my wife wanted to have sort of um to go to a place that is removed from civilization so to speak so we went to that goat farm and you know i need to make the presentation and there was no internet connectivity except in the office of the goat farm so the following morning at the 6 a.m i sit with my back to the office of that goat farm looking at goats that were newly born and typing into my laptop the presentation you know the powerpoints presentation about you know our ambitions for visiting the nearest star and that was very surreal to me that oh like our origins in many ways this very primitive origins and uh our dreams exactly of looking out that is brilliant so that is incredibly inspiring to me but it's also inspiring of putting humans onto other um moons or planets i still find going to the moon really exciting i don't know maybe i'm just a sucker for it but it it's really exciting and mars which is a new place a new planet another planet that might have life i mean there's something magical to that or some traces of previous life you might think that humans cannot really survive and and there are risks by going there but my point is you know we started from africa and we got to apartment buildings in manhattan yes right it's a very different environment from the jungles to live in an apartment building in you know a small cubicle um and you know it took tens of thousands of years but humans adapted right so why couldn't humans also make the leap and adapt to a habitat in space you know that now you can build a platform that would look like an apartment building in the bronx or somewhere but have inside of it everything that humans need yes and it just like the space station but bigger and it will be a platform in space and the advantage of that is if something bad happens on earth you have that complex where humans live and you can also move it back and forth depending on how bright the sun gets because you know within within a billion years within a billion years the sun would be too hot and it will boil off all the oceans on earth so we cannot stay here for more than a billion years that's for sure yes so that's a billion years from now uh i prefer like shorter term deadlines and so and that's i mean there's a lot of threats that we're facing currently do you find it exciting the possibility of uh you know uh landing on mars and starting little like uh building a manhattan style apartment building on mars and and humans occupying it do you think from a scientific from an engineering perspective that's uh that's a worthy pursuit i think it's worthy but the real issue that is often uh underplayed is the risk to the human body from cosmic rays these are energetic particles and we are protected from them by the magnetic field around the earth that blocks them but if you go to mars where there is no such magnetic field to block them then you know a significant fraction of the brain cells in your your head will be damaged within a year and the consequences of that are not clear i mean it's quite possible that humans cannot really survive on the surface now it may mean that we need to dig tunnels uh go underground or create some protection this is something that can be engineered yes uh and you know we can start from the moon and then move to mars that would be a natural progression but it's a big uh issue that needs to be dealt with i don't think you know each showstopper i think we can overcome it but you know just like anything in science and technology you have to work on it for a while figure out solutions and but it's not as rosy as elon musk talks about i mean elon musk can obviously be optimistic i think eventually it will boil down to figuring out um how to cope with this risk the health risk yeah i mean uh in defense of optimism i i find that there's a at least a correlation if not their best friends is optimism and open-mindedness is uh it's a necessary it's preconditioned to to do to try crazy things and in that sense there the sense i have about going to mars if we use today's logic of what kind of benefits we'll get from that we're never going to go and make most decisions we make in life most decisions we've made as a human species are irrational if you just if you look at just today but if you look at the long arc and the possibilities that it might bring just like humans left europe and yeah europe and yeah and by the way it was destroyed everybody and but it was a commercial interest that drove that for trade and you know it might happen again in this context you have people like jeff bezos and elon musk that are commercially driven to go to space yes but it doesn't mean that what we will ultimately find is not new worlds you know that have nothing you know much have much more to offer than just commercial interests and uh as a side effect almost right yeah yeah and then that's why i think you know we should be open-minded and explore and however at the same time because of the reasons you pointed out uh i'm not optimistic that we will survive more than a few centuries into the future because people do not think long term and that means that we will only survive for the short term i don't know if you have thoughts about this but what are the things that worry the most about uh from the great perspective of the universe which is the great filters that destroys intelligent civilizations but for our own species here uh like what are the things that worry the most yeah the thing that worries me the most is that people pay attention to how many likes they have on twitter and rather than you know basketball coaches tell the team players keep your eyes on the ball not on the audience the problem is we keep our eyes on the audience most of the time yes let's keep our eyes on the ball and what does that mean first of all in context of science it means pay attention to the evidence when the evidence looks strange then we should figure it out you know i went to a seminar about umuamua at harvard and a colleague of mine that is mainstream conservative would never say anything that would deviate from what everyone else is thinking said to me after the seminar i wish this object never existed now to me i mean i just couldn't hear that what do you mean nature is whatever it is you have to pay attention to it you you cannot say i you know you cannot bury your head in this i mean you should bless nature for giving you clues about things that you haven't expected yes and i think that's the biggest fault that we are looking for confirmations of things we already know so that we can maintain our pride that we already knew it and maintain our image not make mistakes because we already knew it therefore we expected the right thing yes but science is a learning experience and sometimes you're wrong and let's learn from those mistakes and what's the problem about that why is why do we have to get you know prizes and why do we get to be honored and maintain our image when the actual objective of science is learning about nature and like you you've talked about anomalies in this case are actually are not things that are unfortunate and to be ignored are in fact gifts and should be the focus of science exactly because that's the way for us to improve our understanding if you look at quantum mechanics nobody dreamed about it and it was revolutionary and we still don't fully understand it it's a pain for us to figure out so why do you so i understand from the science from the perspective that's holding our science back why do you have a sense that that's also something that might be uh a problem for us in terms of the survival of human civilization because when you look at society it operates by the same principles there is uh people look for affirmation by groups and they you know people segregate into herds that think like them especially these days when social media is so strong you can find your support group and you if you don't look for evidence for what you're saying you can say crazy things as long as there are enough people supporting what you say you can even have your newspapers you can have everything to support your view and then you know bad things will happen to society because we're detaching ourselves from reality and uh if we detach ourselves from reality all the destructive things that naturally can occur in the real world whether from nuclear weapons all the kinds of threats that we're facing uh even we're living through a pandemic the uh suppose you know a much much worse pandemic could happen right and then we could sadly like we did this one politicize it in some kind of way and have bickering in the space of twitter and politics as opposed to there's an actual thing that could destroy the human species so the only way for us to maintain to to stay modest yes and learn about what really happens is by looking for evidence again i'm i'm saying it's not about yourself you know it's about figuring out what's around us and if you close yourself by surrounding yourself with people that are like-minded that refuse to look at the evidence you can do bad things uh and throughout human history that's the origin of all the bad things that happen yes and i think it's a key it's a key to be modest and to look at evidence and it's not a nuance now you might say oh okay the uneducated person might operate no it's the scientific community operates this way my problem is not with people that don't have an academic pedigree it's included everywhere in society on the topic of uh like discovery of evidence surveillance civilizations which is something you touch on in your book what that idea would do to societies to the human psyche and in general do you think and you talk about the uh i still have trouble pronouncing but wager right what do you think is uh can you explain it and what do you think in general is the effect that such knowledge might have on human civilization right so pascal had this wager about god and by the way there are interesting connections between theology and the search for extraterrestrial life you know it's possible that you know we were planted on this planet by another civilization that's you know we attribute to god powers that are that belong really to technological civilization uh but putting that aside uh pascal basically said you know let's there are two possibilities either god exists or not right and if god exists you know the consequences are quite significant and therefore you know we should we should consider that possibility differently than equal weight to both possibilities and uh i suggest that we do the same with omua mua or other technological signatures that we uh keep in mind the consequences and therefore pay more attention to that possibility now some people say extraordinary claims require extraordinary evidence my point is that the term extraordinary is really subjective you know for one person a black hole is extraordinary for another you know it's just a consequence of einstein's theory of gravity yeah it's nothing extraordinary

yeah the same about the type of dark matter anything so we should leave the extraordinary part of that sentence just keep evidence okay so let's be guided by evidence and even even if we have extraordinary claims you know let's not dismiss them because the evidence is not extraordinary enough because if we have an image of something and it looks really strange and we say oh the image is not sufficiently sharp therefore we should not even pay attention to this image or not even consider i think that's a mistake yes what we should do is say look there is some evidence for something unusual let's try and build instruments that will give us a better image and if you just dismiss extraordinary claims because the you consider them extraordinary you avoid discovering things that you haven't expected and so i believe that along the history of astronomy there are many missed opportunities and i speak about astronomy but i'm sure in other fields it's also true i mean this is my expertise for example you know the astrophysical journal which is the main primary publication in astrophysics uh if you go you go beyond before the 1980s there are images that were posted in the astrophysical journal of giant arcs you know arcs of light surrounding clusters of galaxies and you know you can find it in printed versions of the astrophysical journal people just ignore they put the image they see the arc they say who knows what it is and just ignore it and then in the 1980s the subject of gravitational lensing became popular and the idea is that you can deflect light by the force of gravity and then you can put the source behind the cluster of galaxies and then you will get these arcs and actually einstein predicted it uh in 1940 and you know so these things were expected but people just had them in the images didn't pay attention so i'm sure there are lost opportunities sometimes you even in existing data you have things that are unusual and exceptional and are not being addressed yeah you actually i think you have the article uh the data is not enough from from quite a few years ago will you talk let's do you know we can go back to the 70s and 80s but we can go also to the mayan civilization right the mayan civilization basically believed in astrology that you can forecast the outcome of a war based on the position of the planets yes and and they had you know astronomers in their culture had the highest social status they were priests yes they were elevated and the reason was that they helped politicians decide when to go to war because they would tell the politicians you know the planets would be in this configuration it's a better chance for you to win the war yes go to war and in retrospect they you know they collected wonderful data but misinterpreted it because we now know that the position of venus or jupiter or whatever has nothing to do with the outcome of world war one which you know it has nothing to do and uh so we can have a prejudice and collect data without actually doing the right thing with it that's such a pisces thing to say i looked up what your astrological sign is well so you mentioned einstein predicted that black holes don't exist or just or exist in nature when einstein came up with his theory of gravity in 1915 november 1915 a few months later another physicist carl schwarzschild he was the director of the potsdam observatory but he was a patriot a german patriot so he went into the first world war fighting for germany but while he was at the front he sent a postcard to einstein saying you know a few months after the theory was developed saying actually i found a solution to your equations and that was a black hole solution and then he died a few months later and einstein was a pacifist and he survived so the the lesson from this story is that if you want to work out the consequences of a theory you better wear pacifist but but the point is that this solution was known shortly after einstein came up with his theory but in but in 1939 einstein wrote a paper in the analysis of mathematics saying even though the solution exists i don't think it's realized in nature and his argument was if you

imagine a star collapsing stars often spin and the spin will prevent them from making a black hole collapsing to a point so i mean can you maybe one of the many things you uh you have work on you're an expert in as black holes can you first say what are black holes and second how do we know that they exist right so black holes are the ultimate prison you know you can check in but an aromatic even light cannot escape from them so there are extreme structures of space and time and there is this so-called schwarzschild radius or or the event horizon of a black hole once you enter into it with a spaceship you would never be able to tweet back to your friends and tell them by the way i asked the students in my class freshman seminar at harvard i said let me give you two possible journeys that you can take i said suppose aliens come to earth and suggest that you would board spaceship would you do it and the second is suppose you could board a spaceship that will take you into a black hole would you do it so all of them said to the first question yes under one condition that i'll be able to maintain my social media contacts and report back share the experience with them i couldn't but personally i have no footprint on social media yeah which is as a matter of principle yeah my wife asked me when we got married and i uh honor that and i told you offline i need to get married just like she's such a woman she truly is a special agent well she she was wise enough to recognize the risk but um it saves me time and it also keeps me away from crowds you know i don't have the uh notion of what a lot of other people think so i can think independently think exactly yeah exactly but uh putting so i was surprised to hear that for students it's extremely important to share experiences even if they go on a spaceship with aliens they still want to brag about it rather than look around and see what's going on this is not an option when you go to the black hole is exactly the point so for the black hole they said no because there obviously you can find your death after uh you get into it and you you can crash into singularity there is this singularity in the center so inside the event horizon we know that all the matter collects at a point now we can't really predict what happens at the singularity because einstein's theory breaks down and we know why it breaks down because it doesn't have quantum mechanics that talks about small distances we don't have a theory that unifies quantum mechanics and gravity so that it will predict what happens in near a singularity and in fact you know i once a couple of years ago i had a flood in my basement i mean and i i invited the plumber to come over and and figure out and and we found that the sewer was clogged because of three roots that got into it and we solved the problem but then i i thought to myself well isn't that what happens to the singularity of a black hole because the question is where does the matter go you know if you know in the case of a home i never thought about it but the water all the water that we use goes in you know through the sewer to some reservoir somewhere and the question is what happens inside a black hole and one possibility is that there is an object in the middle just like a star you know and everything collects there and the object has the maximum density that we can imagine like planck densities it's the ultimate density that you can have where gravity is as strong as all the other forces um so you can imagine this object very dense object at the center that collects all the matter another possibility is that there is some tunnel just like the sewer it takes the matter into another place and we don't know the answer where but i wrote a scientific american essay about it and uh admitting my our ignorance it's a fascinating question what happens to the method that goes into black hole i actually recommend it to some of my colleagues that work on string theory i uh at the closing of a conference i'm i'm the founding director of the black hole initiative at harvard which brings together

astronomers physicists philosophers and mathematicians and we have a conference once a year and at the end of one of them since i'm the director i had to summarize and i said that i wish we could go on a field trip to a black hole nearby and i highly recommend to my colleagues that work on string theory to enter into that black hole because then they can test their theory when they get inside but one of the string theorists in the audience nimar khan hamad immediately raised his voice and said you have an ulterior motive for sending us into a black hole uh which i didn't deny but at any event yes that's true that's true can you say why we know that black holes exist right so um it's an interesting question because black holes were considered a theoretical construct and einstein even denied their existence in 1939 uh but then um in the 19 in the mid 1960s uh quasars were discovered these are very bright sources of light a hundred times brighter than their host galaxy which are point-like at this at the center of galaxies and it was immediately suggested uh by ed salpeter in the west and by yakov zeldovich in the east that these are black holes that accrete gas collect gas from their host galaxy that are being fed with gas and they shine very brightly because as the gas uh falls towards the black holes uh just like water um you know running down the the sink uh the gas swirls and then rubs against itself and heats up and shines very brightly because it's very hot close to the black hole by viscous by viscosity it it it heats up uh and in in the case of black holes it's the turbulence the turbulent viscosity that causes it to heat up so um we get these very bright sources of light just from black holes that are supposed to be dark you know nothing escapes from them but they create a violent environment where gas moves close to the speed of light light and therefore shines very brightly much more than any other source in the sky and we can see these quasars all the way to the edge of the universe so we have evidence now that when the universe was you know about seven percent of its present age you know infant uh already back then you had black holes of a billion times the mass of the sun which is quite remarkable you know it's like finding giant babies in a nursery you know like how can these black holes grow so fast you know less than a billion years after the big bang you already have a billion times the mass of the sun in these black holes and the answer is presumably there are very quick processes that build them up they they they build quickly very quickly and so we see those black holes and that was found in the mid 1960s but in 19 in sorry in 2015 exactly 100 years after einstein came up with his theory of gravity the ligo observatory detected gravitational waves and these are just ripples in space and time so according to einstein's theory the the innovation the ingenuity of einstein's theory of gravity that was formulated in november 1915 was to say that space and time are not rigid you know they are they respond to matter so for example if you have two black holes and they collide it's just like a stone being thrown into this on a surface of a pond they generate waves disturbances in space and time that propagate out at the speed of light these are gravitational waves they create a space-time storm around them and then the waves go all the way through the universe and reach us and if you have a sensitive enough detector like ligo you can detect these waves and so it was not just the message that we received for the first time gravitational waves but it was the messenger so there are two aspects to it one is the messenger which is gravitational wave for the first time were detected directly and the second was the message which was a collision of two black holes because we could see the pattern of the ripples in space and time and it was fully consistent with the prediction that schwarz had made for how a black the space time around the black hole is because when two black holes collide you can sort of map from the message that you get you can

reconstruct what really happened and it's fully consistent and in 2017 and 2020 there's two nobel prizes that's right uh uh that had uh to do with the black holes can you maybe describe in the same masterful way that you already been doing uh what those nobel prizes were given for yeah so the 2017 was given for the ligo collaboration for discovering gravitation waves from collisions of black holes and the 2020 nobel prize in physics was given for uh two things one was theoretical work that was done by roger penrose in the 1960s demonstrating that black holes are inevitable when stars collapse and it was mostly mathematical work and actually stephen hawking uh also contributed significantly to that frontier and unfortunately he is not alive so he could not be honored so penrose received it on his own and then two other astronomers received it as well andrea guez and reinhard genzel and they provided conclusive evidence that there is a black hole at the center of the milky way galaxy that weighs about 4 million times the mass of the sun and they found the evidence from the motion of stars very close to the black hole just like we see the planets moving around the sun there are stars close to the center of the galaxy and they are orbiting at very high speeds of order thousands of kilometers per second or thousands of miles per second per second uh think about it yeah which uh can only be induced at those distances if there is a four million solar mass object that is extremely compact and the only thing that is compatible with the constraints is a black hole and they actually made a movie of the motion of these stars around the center one of them moves around the center over a decade you know six over time scales that we can monitor and um it was a breakthrough in a way um so combining ligo with uh the detection of a black hole at the center of the milky way and in many other galaxies like quasars uh you know now i would say black hole research is vogue you know it's it's very much in fashion you know we saw it back in 2016 when we established the black hole initiative yes you kind of saw that there is this excitement about in in breakthroughs and discoveries around black holes which are probably one of the most fascinating objects in the universe i mean it's up there uh they're both terrifying and beautiful right just and they capture the entirety of the physics that we know about this universe i should say the re you know the question is where is the nearest black hole can we visit it and you know i wrote a paper with my undergraduate student amir siraj suggesting that perhaps you know there could be if there is one in the solar system we can detect it because um i don't know if you heard but there is a claim that maybe there is a planet nine in the solar system uh because we see some anomalies at the outer parts of the solar system so some people suggested maybe there is a planet out there that was not yet detected so people searched for it didn't find it it weighs roughly five times the mass of the earth and we said okay maybe you can't find it because it's a black hole that was formed early in the universe is that part so where do you stand up it could be that the dark matter is made of black holes of this mass you know we don't know what the dark matter is made of you could it could be the black holes so we said but there is an experimental way to test it and the way to do it is because uh is there is the oort cloud of icy rocks in the outer solar system and if you imagine a black hole there every now and then a rock will pass close enough to the black hole to be disrupted by the very strong gravity close to the black hole and that would produce a flare that you can observe and we calculated how frequently these flares should occur and with lsst on the vera rubin observatory we found that you can actually test this hypothesis that's brilliant and if you don't see flares then you can put limits on the existence of a black hole in the solar system it would be extremely exciting if there was a black hole if planet nine was a black hole because we could visit it you know and we can examine it and it will not be a matter of you know an object that is very removed from us another thing i should say is it's possible that the black hole affected life on earth uh the black hole at the center of the milky way how you know that black hole right now is dormant it's very faint but we know that it flares when a star like the sun comes close to it the star will be spaghettified basically becomes a stream of gas like a spaghetti and then the gas would fall into the black hole and there would be a flare and this process happens once every 10 000 years or so so we expect that you know these flares to occur every 10 000 years but we also see evidence for the possibility that gas clouds were disrupted by the black hole because the stars that are close to the black hole are residing in a single or two planes and the only way you can get that is if they formed out of a disk of gas just like the planets in the solar system formed so there is evidence that gas fell into the black hole and powered possibly a flare and these flares produce x-rays and ultraviolet radiation that could damage life if the earth was close enough to the center of the galaxy where we are right now it's not very risky for us but there is a theoretical argument that says the solar system the sun was closer to the galactic center early on and then it migrated outwards so maybe maybe in the early stage of the solar system the conditions you know were affected shaped by these flares of the black hole at the center of the galaxy and that's why for the first two billion years there wasn't any oxygen in the atmosphere you know who knows but um it's just interesting to think that you know from a theoretical concept that einstein resisted in 1939 it may well be that you know black holes have influence on our life and that you know it's just like discovering that some uh stranger affected your family and in a way your life and um you know if that happens to be the case a second nobel prize should be given not not for just the discovery of this black hole at the center of the galaxy but perhaps for the nobel prize in chemistry for the effect that it had for the fact for the for the interplay that resulted in some kind of uh yeah so yeah the chemical effect bio biology i mean all those kinds of things in in terms of uh the emergence of uh life and the creation of a habitable environment that's so fascinating and of course like you said dark matter like black holes have some so they could be the dark matter in principle yes uh we don't know uh what the dark matter is at the moment does it make you sad so you've had an interaction and perhaps a bit of a friendship with stephen hawking uh does it make you sad that he didn't win the nobel well all together i don't assign great importance to prizes because as you said you know jean-paul starter who i admired as a teenager because i was interested in philosophy when i grew up on a farm in israel you know i used to collect eggs every afternoon and i would drive the tractor to the hills of our village and just think about philosophy read philosophy books and jean paul sata was one of my favorite and he was honored with the nobel prize in literature he was a philosopher primarily existentialist and he said the hell with it you know why should i give um special attention to this committee of people that get their self-importance from awarding me the price like what what's uh you know why why does that merit my attention yes so he he gave up on the nobel prize and you know that two benefits to that one that you don't you're not working your entire life in the direction that would satisfy the will of other people you know you work independently you're not after these honors just for the same reason that you're if you're not living your life for making a profit or money you can live a more fulfilling life because you're not being swayed by the wind you know of how to make money and so forth the second aspect of it is you know that very often um you know these prizes um they um they distort the way we do science

because instead of people willing to take risks and instead of having announcements only after a group of people converges with a definite result you know uh the natural progression of science is based on trial and error you know it's reporting some results and perhaps they're wrong but then other people find perhaps better evidence and then you figure out what's going on and that's the natural way that science is you know it's a learning experience so if you give the public an image by which scientists are always right you know and and you know some of my colleagues say we must do that because otherwise the public will never believe us that global warming is really taking place right but that's not true because the public would really believe you if you show the evidence yes so the point is you should be sincere when the evidence is not absolutely clear or where there are disputes about the interpretation of the evidence we should show us you know the king is naked okay there is no point in pretending that the king is dressed yes saying that scientists are always right scientists are wrong frequently and the only way to make progress is by evidence giving us the support that we need to make airtight arguments so when you say global warming is taking place if the evidence is fully supportive if there are no holes in the argument then people will be convinced because you're not trying to fool them when the evidence was not complete you also show them that the evidence is not complete and when there's holes you show that there's holes and here's the methodology we're using to try to close those holes exactly let's be sincere why pretend so if there were no in a world where there would there were no prizes no honors we would act like kids as i said before we would really be focusing on the ball and not on the audience yeah the prizes get in the way and it's it's so powerful it do you think in some sense the few people have turned down the prize made a much more powerful statement i i don't know if you're familiar with in the in the space of mathematics with the fields medal and uh google pearlman yes turned down the prize it's uh so he i've committed one of the reasons i started this podcast is i i'm going to definitely talk to putin i'm go definitely talking to pearl and people keep telling me it's impossible i i i love hearing that because i'll talk to both anyway but do you have us do you have a sense of um why he turned down the prize and is that a powerful statement to you well what i read is that um you're talking about the mathematician the mathematician what i read is that he was disappointed by the response of the community the mainstream community the mathematicians to his earlier work where they dismissed it they didn't attend to the details and and didn't treat him with proper respect because he was not considered one of them yes and i think that speaks uh volumes about the current scientific culture which is uh based on group think and on social interaction rather than on the merit of the argument and on the evidence in the context of physics so in mathematics there is no empirical basis you're exploring ideas that are logically consistent uh but nevertheless there is this uh group thing and i think he was so frustrated with his past experience that he didn't even bother to publish his papers he just posted them on the archive and um in a way saying you know i know what what the answer is go look at it and then again in the long arc of history uh his work on archive will be remembered and all the prizes most of the prizes will be forgotten that's what people don't kind of think about is when you look at roger penrose for example is another fascinating figure uh you know it's possible and i forgive me if it's i'm sure of my ignorance but he's also did some work on consciousness he's been one of the only people who spoke about consciousness which for a longest time and is still arguably outside of the realm of the sciences right it's still seen as a taboo subject and and he was brave enough to explore it uh

from a physics perspective from a just a philosophical perspective but like with the rigor like proposing different kind of hypotheses of how consciousness might be able to emerge in the brain and it's possible that that is the thing he's remembered for if you look hundred years from now right as opposed to the the work in the black holes which fits into the kind of asp like the fits into what the current scientific community uh uh allows to be the the space of what is and isn't science yeah it's really interesting to look at people that are innovators where in some phases of their career their ideas fit into the uh social structure that is around them but in other phases it doesn't and when you look at them they just operated the same way throughout and it's it says more about their environment than about them well yeah i i don't know if you know who max tag mark is yeah just recently talked to him i just recently talked to him again and he uh i mean he was a little bit more explicit about saying you know being aware which is something i also recommend it's like being aware where the scientific community stands and doing enough to get like move along into your career in your career and yeah it's the necessary evil i suppose if if you are one of those out of the box thinkers that just naturally have this childlike curiosity which max definitely is one of them is sometimes you have to do some stuff that fits in you publish and you get tenure and all those things but the tenure is a great privilege because it allows you to in principle explore things that are not accepted by others and unfortunately it's not being being taken advantage of by most people and it's a waste of a very precious resource yeah absolutely this space that you kind of touched on that's full of theories and is perhaps detached from appreciation of empirical evidence or longing for empirical evidence or grounding in empirical evidence is uh the theoretical physics community and the interest in uh unifying the laws of physics and with the theory of everything it's i'm not sure from which direction to approach this question but how far away are we from arriving at a theory of everything do you think and uh how would we how important is it to try to arrive at it uh at this kind of goal of this beautiful simple theory that unlocks the very you know fundamental basis of our nature as we know it and you know uh and how what are the kinds of approaches we need to take to get there yeah so in in physics the biggest challenge is to unify quantum mechanics with gravity and i believe that once we have experimental evidence for how this happens in nature in systems that have quantum mechanical effects but also gravity is important then the theory will fall into our lap okay but the mistake that is made by the community right now is to come up uh with the right theory from scratch and you know einstein gave the illusion that you can just sit in your office and and understand nature you know when he came up with his general theory of relativity but you know first of all perhaps he was lucky but it's not a rule the rule is that you need evidence to guide you especially when dealing with quantum mechanics which is really not intuitive and so there are two places where the two theories meet one is black holes and there is a puzzle there it's called the information paradox in principle you can throw the encyclopedia britannica into a black hole it's a lot of information and then it will be gone because a black hole carries only three uh properties or qualities the mass the charge and the spin according to einstein but then when hawking tried to bring in quantum mechanics to the game he realized that black holes have a temperature and they radiate this is called hawking radiation and it was sort of anticipated by jacob beckenstein before him and hawking wanted to prove beckenstein wrong and then figure this out and so what it means is black holes eventually evaporate and they evaporate into radiation that doesn't carry this information according to hawking's calculation and then the question is according to quantum mechanics information must be preserved so where did the information go if uh a black hole is gone and where is the information that was encoded in the encyclopedia when it went into the black hole and to that question we don't have an answer yet it's one of those puzzles about black holes and it touches on the interplay between quantum mechanics and gravity another important question is what happened at the beginning of the universe what happened before the big bang and by the way on that i should say you know there are some conjectures uh it's all in principle if we figure it out if we have a theory of quantum gravity it's possible to imagine that we will figure out how to create a universe in the laboratory by irritating the vacuum you might create a baby universe and if we do that it will offer a solution to what happened before the big bang perhaps the big bang emerged from the laboratory of another civilization so it's like baby universes are being born out of laboratories and inside the baby universe you have a civilization that brings to existence a new baby universe just like humans right we have babies and they make babies so in principle that would solve the problem of why there was a big bang and also what happened before the big bang yes so we came our umbilical cord is connected to a laboratory of a civilization that produced our universe once it figured out quantum gravity you know it's uh it's it's baby big bang's all the way down it's just big bangs all the way up so if we collect data about how the universe started we could potentially test theories of or it can educate us about how to unify quantum mechanics and gravity if we if we get any information about what happens near the singularity of a black hole you know if we yeah if we get a sense of you know somehow we learn what happens in this thing that would educate so there are places where we can search for evidence but it's very challenging i should say and my point is you know the string theories they decided that they know how to approach the problem that they don't have a single theory there is a multitude of theories and it's not tightly constrained and they cannot make predictions about black holes or about the beginning of the universe so so at the moment i say we're at a loss and the the way i feel about this concept of the theory of everything we should wait until we get enough evidence to guide us and until then you know there are many important problems that we can address you know why why bang our head against the wall on a problem for which we have no guidance right we don't have a good dance partner in terms of evidence there's not exactly i mean it'd be interesting just like you said i mean the lab is one place to create universes or black holes but it'd be fascinating if there's indeed a black hole in our solar system that you can interact with so the problem with the origin of the universe is all you can do is collect data about it right you can't interact with it well you can for example detect gravitational waves that emerged from that and you know there is an effort to do that and that could potentially tell us something but um yeah uh it's a challenge and that's why we're stuck so i should say despite what physicists portray that you know we live through an exceptional growth in our understanding of the universe we're actually pretty much stuck i would say because we don't know the nature of the dark matter most of the matter in the universe we don't know what it is and we don't know how the universe started we don't know what happens in this in the interior of a black hole because you've thought quite a bit about dark matter as well is do you have any kind of hypothesis interesting hypothesis we already mentioned a few about what is dark matter and what are the uh possible paths that we could take to unlock the mystery of dark what is dark matter yeah so what we need is some anomalies that would hint what the nature of the dark matter is or to detect it in the laboratory there are lots of laboratory experiments searching but it's like searching for a

needle in a haystack because there's so many possibilities for the type of particle that it may be um but maybe at some point you know we'll find either a particle or black holes as the dark matter or something else but you also may be sorry to interrupt to comment about what is dark matter like what it's just the name we're assigned to what so most of the community believes that it's a particle that we haven't yet detected it doesn't interact with light so it's dark but the question is what does it interact with and how can we find it and for many years physicists were guided by the idea that it's some extension of the standard model of particle physics but then they said oh we will find some clues from the large hadron collider about its nature or maybe it's related to supersymmetry which is a new symmetry that we haven't found any evidence for in both cases the large hadron collider did not give us any clues and other people searched for specific types of particles in the laboratory and didn't find any a couple of years ago actually around the time that i worked on umuamua i also worked on the possibility that the dark matter particles may have a small electric charge which is a speculation but nobody complained about it and you know it was published and i regard it more as of speculation than the artificial origin of umuah and to me i apply you know as far as i'm concerned i applied the same scientific tools in both cases there is an anomaly that led me to that discussion which has to do with the hydrogen being called in the early universe more than we expected so we suggested maybe the dark matter particles have some small charge but you deal with anomalies by exploring possibilities that's the only way to do it and then collecting more data to check those and searching for technological signatures is the same as any other part of our scientific endeavor we make hypotheses and we collect data and i don't see any reason for having a taboo on this subject in your child-like open-minded excitement and approach to science you're i think to anyone listening to this are truly inspiring i mean the question i think is useful to ask is by way of advice for young people a lot of young people listen to this whether from all over the world and teenagers undergraduate students even graduate students even p like even young faculty even older faculty they're all young at heart like there's many hearts you have advice for bullets focus on the traditionally defined sort of young folks that kind of graduate you have advice to give to young people like that today about life maybe in general maybe a life of curiosity in the sciences definitely um well first i should confess that i enjoy working with young people much more than with senior and the reason is they don't carry a baggage of prejudice yes they're not so self-centered they're open to exploration uh my advice i mean one of the lessons that took me a while to learn and i should say i i lost important opportunities as a result of that so that i would regard it as a mistake on my behalf was to believe experts so quote unquote so on a number of occasions i would come up with an original idea and then suggest it to an expert someone that works in the same field for a while and the expert would dismiss it most of the time because it's new and was not explored not because of the merit and then what happened to me several times is that someone else would listen to the conversation or would hear me suggesting it and i would give up because the expert said no and then that someone else you know would develop it so that it becomes the hottest thing in this field and it have you know once it happened to me multiple times i then realized the hell with the experts you know like they don't know what they're talking about they're just repeating them yes they don't think creatively they are being threatened by innovation okay and um it's the natural reaction of someone that cares about their ego more than about the matter uh that we are discussing and so i said i would not i don't care how many likes i have on twitter i don't care whether the

experts say one thing or another i will basically exercise my judgment yes and do the best i can you know turns out that i'm wrong i made a mistake you know that's part of the of the scientific endeavor you know and um it took me a while to recognize that and it was a lot of wasted opportunities so to the young people i would recommend don't listen to experts carve your own path now of course you will be wrong you should learn from experience just like kids do but do it yourself your father died in 2017 your mother died in 2019. do you miss them very much so is there a memory uh that fond memory that stands out or maybe what have you learned from them from my mother i mean she was very much my inspiration for pursuing intellectual work because she studied at the university and then because of the second world war after the second world war she was born in bulgaria they they immigrated to to israel and and she left university to work on a farm and later in life when all the kids left home she went back to the university and finished the phd but she planted in me the intellectual curiosity and valuing uh learning as or acquiring knowledge as a very important element in life and and my love with philosophy came from attending classes that she took at the university uh when i was a teenager i was fortunate to go to some of these and they inspired me later on and i'm very different than my colleagues as you can tell because my upbringing was quite different and the only reason i'm doing physics or astrophysics is because of circumstances i uh at age 18 i was asked to serve in the military and the only way for me to pursue intellectual work was to work on physics because that was the closest to philosophy and i was good at physics so they admitted me to an elite program called alpiot that allowed me to finish my phd at age 24 and to actually propose the first uh international project that was funded by the star wars initiative from ronald reagan and that brought me brought me to the us to visit washington dc where we were funded from and then on one of the visits i went to the institute for advanced study at princeton and met john bakal that later offered me a five-year fellowship there under the condition that i'll switch to astrophysics at which point you know i said okay i cannot give up on this opportunity i'll do it switch to astrophysics it felt like a forced uh marriage kind of arranged mary yes and then i was offered the position at harvard because nobody wanted that uh they first selected someone else and that someone said i don't want to become a junior faculty at the harvard astronomy department because the chance for being promoted are very small so he took another job and then i was taken in line they gave it to me i didn't care much because i could go back to the farm any day you know and uh after three years i was tenured yes and the eventually a decade later became the chair of this department and served for nine years as the chair of the astronomy department at harvard but at that point it became clear to me that i'm actually married to the love of my life even though it was an arranged marriage there are many philosophical questions in astrophysics that we can address but i'm still very different than my colleagues you know that we're focusing on technical skills in getting to this job uh so my mother was really uh extremely instrumental in in planting the seeds of stuff thinking about the big picture in me then my father he was you know he was working in the farm and we didn't speak much because we sort of understood each other without speaking uh but what he uh gave me is a sense of uh you know that it's more important to do things than to talk about them i love the the the i mean my apologies but mit mind and hand i love that there's uh that the root of philosophy that you gain from your mom and uh the the hand that action is all that ultimately in the end matters from your dad that's that's it's really powerful i if we could take a small detour into uh philosophy is there by chance any books authors whether philosophical or not you mentioned sacha that stand out to you that were formative and some small or big way that perhaps you would recommend to others maybe when you were very young or maybe later on in life well actually yeah i you know i read the number of existentialists that appealed to me because they were authentic you know satur you know he declined the nobel prizes we discussed but he also uh was mocking people that pretend to be something better than they are you know he was living an authentic life that is sincere and that's what appealed to me and then albert camille was another french philosopher that they advocated existentialism um you know that really appealed to me that's probably my favorite extensious camo yeah yeah and he died at a young age in an accident unfortunately um and then you know people like nietzsche that uh you know broke conventions and i noticed that nietzsche is still extremely popular you know that's quite surprising uh it he appeals to the young people of today and the people that it's the children it's the childlike wonder about the world and he was unapologetic you know it's like most philosophers have a very strict adherence to terminology into the practices academic philosophers and nietzsche was full of contradictions and and he just i mean he it was just this big kid with opinions and thought deeply about this world and people are really attracted that and surprisingly there's not enough people like that throughout history of philosophy and that that's why i think this is still drawn to him yeah to me what uh stands out is his statement that the best way to corrupt the mind of young people is to tell them that they should agree with the common view you know and uh you know it goes back to the threat that went through our discussion yes you've you you've kind of suggested that we ought to be humble about our very own existence and that our existence lasts only a short time uh we talked about um you losing your father and your mother uh do you think about your own mortality are you oh yeah afraid of death i'm not afraid you know what epicurus actually because was a very wise person uh uh according to lucretius of course didn't leave anything in writing but uh he said that he's never afraid of death because as long as he is around death is not around and when death will be around he will not be around so he will never meet death so why should you be worried about something you will never meet uh you know and it's an interesting philosophy of life you know you shouldn't be afraid of something that you will never encounter right but there's a finiteness to this experience we live every day i mean i think if we're being honest with you every day as if it's going to last forever we often kind of don't contemplate the fact that it ends you kind of have plans and goals and you have these possibilities uh you have a kind of lingering thought especially as you get older and older and older that this is like especially when you lose friends right and then you start to realize um you know it it doesn't but i don't know if you really are cognizant of that i mean because so but you have to be careful not to be depressed by it because otherwise you lose the vitality right so i think the most important thing to draw from from knowing that you are short-lived is a sense of appreciation that you're alive that's the first thing but more importantly a sense of modesty because how can anyone be arrogant if they kept at the same time this notion that they are short-lived i mean you cannot be arrogant because anything that you advocate for you know you will not be around to do that in a hundred years so people will just forget and move on you know and uh if you keep that in mind you know the scissors in ancient rome they they had a person next to them telling them don't forget that you're a mortal you know there was a person with that duty because the caesars thought that they are all powerful you know uh and they had for a good reason someone they hired to whisper in their ear don't forget that you're mortal yeah

well you're somebody one of the most uh respected uh famous scientist in the world sitting on the farm gazing up at the stars so you seem like an appropriate person to ask the completely inappropriate question of what do you think is the meaning of it all what's the meaning of life that's an excellent question and if we ever find an alien that we can converse with i would like to answer this i would like to ask for an answer to this question because um would they have a different opinion you think well they might be wiser because they looked around for a while but i'm afraid they will they will be silent i'm afraid they will not have a good answer and i think uh it's it's the process that you should get uh satisfied by the process of learning you should enjoy okay so it's not so much that there is a meaning i in fact there is as far as i can tell things just exist you know and it's um i think it's inappropriate for us to assign meaning for our existence because you know we as a civilization we will eventually perish you know and nothing will be you know just another planet on which life died you know and if you look at the big scheme of things who cares like who cares and how can we assign significance to what we are doing you know so if you say the meaning of life is this well it will not be around in a billion years so what you know it cannot be the meaning of life because life you know nothing will be wrong so i think we should just enjoy the process and you know it's like many other things in life you enjoy good food okay and you can enjoy learning why because it makes you uh appreciate better where you know the environment that you live in and sometimes people think religion for example is in conflict with science spirituality con in conflict that's not true uh if you see a watch and you look at it from the outside you know you might say oh that's interesting but then if you start to open it up and learn about how it works you appreciate it more so science is the way to learn about how the world works and it's not in conflict to this the meaning that you assigned to all of this but it helps you appreciate the world better so in fact i would think that a religious person should promote science because it gives you a better appreciation of what's around you you know it's like you know if you buy uh in a grocery buy something you know a bunch of fruits that are packed together and you can't see from the outside exactly what kind of fruits are inside but if you open it up and study you appreciate better the merchandise that you get right so you pay the same amount of money but at least you know what's inside so why don't we figure out what the world is about you know what the universe contains what is the dark matter it will help us appreciate you know the bigger picture and then you can assign your own flavor to what it means you know i i think i'm truly grateful that a person like you exists at the center of the scientific community gives me faith and hope about this uh this big journey that we call science so uh thank you for writing the book you wrote recently you have many other books and articles that i think people should definitely read and thank you for wasting all this time with me this is truly an honor thank you so much not a waste at all and thank you for having me i learned a lot from your questions and your remarks thank you thank you thanks for listening to this conversation with avi loeb and thank you to our sponsors zero fasting app for intermittent fasting element electrolyte drink sun basket meal delivery service and pessimist archive history podcast so the choice is a fasting app fasting fuel fast breaking delicious meals and a history podcast that has very little as far as i know to do with fasting choose wisely my friends and if you wish click the sponsor links below to get a discount and to support this podcast and now let me leave you some words from albert einstein the important thing is not to stop questioning curiosity has its own reason for existence one cannot help but be in awe when he contemplates the mysteries of eternity of life of the marvelous structure of reality it is enough if one tries merely to comprehend a little of this mystery every day thank you for listening and hope to see you next time you

hi everybody I'm Roger Lonas um welcome to the ask an expert presentation this afternoon uh we're down in the moving beyond Earth exhibition uh and we came here specifc specifically because I have pictures to show but no artifacts to show um there is unfortunately uh no real artifacts from the 1947 Roswell incident we'll talk a lot about that uh in the next few minutes and uh we're recording this for posterity so at some point in the future you should be able to find it online as well um basically I want to set the scene for you from uh about 1947 uh I mentioned UFOs and the Cold War uh and Cher in the desert and um and all of that seems to to be appropriate for this particular talk um in 1947 the United States was beginning to enter a very serious environment with the Cold War uh the Soviet Union was uh looking like a a very dominant power in Europe uh it had taken control of much of of Eastern Europe it looked like it was going to try to push in and take control of places like Greece and various other parts of the Balkans um and and and there was great concern that that we were going to be head-to-head with the Soviet Union uh in a competition that could last a short or a long time but may well end in nuclear Annihilation so there was a lot of concern about that it's in this particular context that the UFO craze in 1947 really begins it it all starts really with a fellow named Kenneth Arnold the picture that you see in the back here uh is him he was an amateur pilot he was a businessman and he was flying around Mount reneer on June 24th in which where he claims to have seen an unidentified flying object a UFO now UFOs are legitimate probably we've all seen UFOs something we cannot identify that is flying off in the distance uh the chances are at some point in time as you continue to look at this thing you will be able to identify it but for the moment it's a UFO he saw something we think he certainly reported it as such he called it a flying saucer and that set off a real craze with lots of people here you can see on the on the left hand side this magazine fate which has the story of the flying discs as as he called them and it kicked off a wave of UFO sightings beginning in the latter part of June of 1947 and running through the end of that particular summer uh more than three 300 were reported at the time um and just over the Fourth of July weekend uh of that particular year so so people are seeing lots of things what they are seeing is anyone's guess uh I would be willing to bet it was not extraterrestrial whatever it was uh because there's just no uh no indication of that anywhere in any documentation that anybody can find um also later in life

um uh Mr Arnold's uh story changes somewhat uh here he is a bit older describing more what he saw which is not a flying disc at all but looks more like the uh uh some sort of a bat thing that uh and I'm Thinking of U of a boomerang or something like that that uh is what it looks like but nonetheless it set off this craze and lots of people saw lots of things in uh the summer of 1947 Roswell was a sleepy little town in in New Mexico uh it was dominated by uh by farming and ranching especially ranching in the area uh there was a military base there where the 509th composite group was located which was the which was the uh organization that had dropped the atomic bombs at the end of World War II so it was a very famous uh organization uh and a Rancher by the name of Mac Brazil uh found something out on some of the property that he had about 80 Mi or so out of town that uh he couldn't quite identify he uh threw some of it in the back of his truck and he drove downtown and talked to the sheriff George Wilcox and he says I don't know what this stuff is it looks kind of weird you know you think it has anything to do with those UFOs that people are talking about um he did that on the second uh day after well he did that on the 8th of July which is just a few days after the 4th and um and immediately Willcox called the local uh Air Force Base and said hey we got a Rancher here found some stuff and you guys need to come take a look at it so they did and um uh Butch blaner commanded that particular Air Force uh uh facility and uh he sent Jesse Marcel the fellow in the middle uh who was an intelligence officer over to talk to the uh to the sheriff and to ma Brazil and to go back out to where this site was and to pick up whatever was there they went back out and they loaded a bunch of stuff into into a truck it didn't amount to a lot it looked uh uh there were some metallic things there were some things that looked like ball of wood there was other stuff that uh that was in this as well and uh then they brought it back to the base uh eventually this material goes to the eth Air Force Commander uh Roger Ry uh who's up in the Dallas area and um and and there's a interesting sort of press releas maybe not a press release more like a verbal conversation that Marcel and the local information officer had with the local newspaper in Roswell and it ends up creating this particular stir on the afternoon of the 8th it says that the Roswell Army Airfield captures Flying Saucer on a ranch in Roswell region and the the the key piece to this now this is an afternoon newspaper uh from the Roswell Daily Record the intelligence office of the 509th bombardment group at Roswell announced at noon today that the field has come into possession of a flying saucer okay well now this sets off everybody literally around the world uh as as the media starts to uh to get interested in this they publish stories you hear radio reports there's all kinds of activity that's a result of this everybody who can get there sends their uh sends their journalists into the area to start investigating this further um all of this within less than 24 hours is turned off the next day the Roswell dispatch which is a morning newspaper Imagine by the way a city having two newspapers especially one the size of Roswell I mean it's unheard of today except maybe New York or Chicago uh and um but the Roswell dispatch which is a morning newspaper publishes big headlines Army debunks Roswell flying disc as World simmers with excitement and indeed they did the officers then turn around and say that the disc is really a weather balloon the operative quote is Roswell bounced into the international news scene yesterday when a flying disc was reported 85 miles Northwest of town and 25 miles from Corona by WW Brazil now that's the Rancher and until the eth Air Force Headquarters in Fort Worth announced that the dis was nothing more than a weather balloon the entire us and England seed with curiosity over the report and the Roswell telephone company was busy handling calls from every city in this country and

several from across the sea so they debunk it uh within just a few hours and and in this particular speculation um when the afternoon paper in Roswell is published on the 9th of July uh they've got more information and they've now talked to General Remy who's up at the Air Force and uh and he shows them what they found uh among other things he said that the mysterious objects um was were a harmless high altitude weather balloon not a grounded flying disc excitement was high until Brigadier General Roger M Ry Commander da da da cleared up the mystery that's pretty much the end of it uh for the time being they did publish some photographs let me show you some of those uh here is um the um uh the uh uh intelligence officer from Roswell uh major Marcel who's looking at the stuff and you can see it looks kind of like like myar and there's some some sticks and things that are down toward the bottom let me get my handy dandy pointer out and you can see these sorts of things over here uh and those are are very light sort of wood or so it's or it was reported as such let's put it that way um here you can see a similar it's taking place at the same time with in the same building the same chairs are in the background and that's General Ry looking at the same stuff what this actually was uh by everybody's account that anyone can come up with is that it was a part of of of a balloon that wasn't a weather balloon at all there there was good reasons to keep that a secret it was a part of a project Mogul uh effort and project Mogul was an effort by the Department of Defense actually before this time the war department uh to uh to create the ability to find out if the Russians have a nuclear weapon and so what they wanted to do was to send into the upper atmosphere and float it over toward the Soviet Union a um a sensing device that could detect sound waves from an atomic bomb test trying to determine if the Russians had the bomb now by the way they would get the bomb in 1949 and it's because of this kind of capability that we found out about it pretty quickly um they did a whole bunch of these test and they obviously deployed it then on a uh a real basis as well a little bit later on there were successors to this as well in terms of efforts to figure out what the Soviet Union was up to and and this particular picture is actually a pretty good one um there was a launch of one of these balloons on the 4th of June from 1947 went out of Alamogordo which wasn't all that far uh to the west of where uh where this uh wreckage was found it's probable that they didn't lose the whole balloon in this particular one as it came down probably pieces of it dragged off broke off and the thing then took off and went back on its way and it was probably weeks before uh Brazil was able to find uh this material out there on a part of his his property uh so anyway look at look at this thing this is the top of the balloon and if you go down what you'll find periodically is sensors more balloons uh various types of reflective material and then this bottom hits up to here and goes all the way down you see all of these balloons uh another big uh set of materials here and then more here and all the way down to the bottom now this stuff is a is a is a a metallized uh sort of material not unlike What was seen in the photograph that gives us a lot of reason to suggest that that's probably what these guys found now the there was no way that the Air Force was going going to uh announce what they were really doing here so at some level maybe even the UFO story served a purpose as a cover for them but more importantly the weather balloon story certainly served a purpose and uh and that's probably what took place there has been no end of debate about this since 1947 um it really didn't it kind of went away near the end of the par that particular year there was an investigation of material uh in 1948 there was a report written that's now Declassified that you can read if you wish that talks about this and then it kind of went away in the Public's mind it emerged again in the late 1970s when uh some of the

folks who were actors in that 1947 event uh made claims that had never been made before about the possibilities of extraterrestrials about the finding of bodies at this particular crash site about all kinds of other things that were uh put into super secret um uh storage in the United States and uh and we've said nothing about since that time but uh that is all far after the fact uh this controversy however and it has been churning now for many years this controversy uh sparked a response uh from a um a New Mexico member of Congress in the mid 1990s in which he charged the Air Force with a reinvestigation of the Roswell incident and it produced this phone book known as the re the Roswell report fact versus fiction in the New Mexico desert complete with all the documents you could ever possibly want um and it's available online too if you want it but um the the argument that they made very firmly in this was that project Mogul was the uh was by all accounts that anybody can make uh sense of uh what the material was that was picked up uh by uh By Brazil out on his farm that um uh that there was no extraterrestrial UFO of any shape size form or whatever and uh and that the rest of this is just kind of bogus uh now in the aftermath of the Cold War it's okay to talk about project Mogul but for many many years that was very secret as well so that's the story but it continues to live on and it has made Roswell into kind of a mecca for those who are interested in uh in uh ufology uh the legend lives on here is an artist's Recreation of what he thinks might have happened on the on the crash of a u of an extraterrestrial vehicle in 1947 completely fictional but uh but an interesting uh thing I think I've seen this in movies um and then we have our own UFO Museum in um um in Roswell as well and when you go into this Museum it's fascinating to look at uh there's all kinds of things uh there's even the alien autopsy stuff that uh that people have talked about and diaramas depicting this um and then the city itself uh has got a crash site complete with bullet holes in the sign and um and then uh the the um if you look up at the top of the lamps uh you will see that they are ETS um so the city has kind of lived off of this at some level uh and uh and enjoys playing it for what it's worth the uh the folks who are True Believers in uh the uh Earth being visited by extraterrestrials is absolutely convinced that this is a major event in the history of this these sets of encounters and that it's been completely covered up um most of the rest of the people are accepting of the Air Force's well report and its explanation and I am certainly in that category as well thank you for listening to this edition of ask an expert a companion question and answer session for this lecture may also be available for a schedule of upcoming ask and expert lectures at the Museum please visit www. nm. si.edu

hi everyone one of the joys of doing a live stream is that you're actually going live and if there's a mistake then there's a mistake and you have to kind of roll with it so hopefully you can all hear me this time I'm back to talk about the themes that I've been going over once again this year I've done a couple of times already this year I did this last year which is to look at the episodes or at least the episode themes of the TV show Project Blue Book and to go over the historical reality behind the themes as best as I can

there's a lot of people out there who like the show and but they're not UFO specialists how many people really are and so when they see certain things covered in the show they think is that really what happened or is that fictionalized and the fact is like all TV shows this one fiction Eliza's a lot of the themes that they have in there but there's also a core of historical truth that they do portray in that show so what I wanted to do is look at the third episode of season two and kind of do the same thing that I've been doing all along and now episode three was basically there area 51 show now to anyone with the slightest bit of knowledge either of UFOs or area 51 you're going to realize that having a couple of project Bluebook investigators head out to the Nevada desert and investigate alien abductions at area 51 well to say the least that's a tad unrealistic that never happened in reality not even close

area 51 back in the 50s was so ultra secret certainly the folks in the blue book program there's no evidence at all that they had any idea that there was any place like that whatsoever at the Nevada Test Site so no it's not realistic on the other hand there are genuine connections of area 51 to the UFO subject and I want to talk about some of those now there's no way I can do a comprehensive survey in a live stream that I'm estimating it'll be about 20 minutes but I do want to go over some of this with you in the first place we should point out that what we call area 51 is part of a much larger area called the Nevada Test Site

that's a region about the size of a small country which the United States government has been using since the 1950s for different very secret programs that they consider essential for national security probably the main reason for this area is just simply how remote it is I mean this is really one of those places where someone can easily say you can't get there from here it's massive

it's very dry it's not easy to live out there and very few people have lived out there

it's got desert it's got mountains around it and for decades the large portion of the Nevada Test Site was used to drop hundreds of hydrogen bombs for testing purposes turning that whole area into moonscape but the area also has a number of former lakes that all dried up millions of years ago which are nearly perfectly flat they're perfect for testing experimental aircraft which is what made Groom Dry Lake that's the area that dominates that's the region that dominates area 51 it makes it so important you've got several miles of perfectly flat ground there in the middle of nowhere so why not test the high altitude U-2 spy plane there which is what they started doing in 1955 now it's common to say that no one was out at area 51

until that time until 1955 but in fact during the Second World War there was an airfield on the Groom Lake site you can look this up in Wikipedia and that began service in 1942 and was called the Indian Springs air force auxiliary field and we're told that it had to unpaved runways each about a mile long but it was a CIA and Lockheed that we learned really got Groom Lake and area 51 going starting in April 1955 and that was for to do the testing of the U-2 spy plane I'm sure there's no doubt that this element was a key element maybe the key element in getting Groom going as a secret major secret base during the Cold War but I want to point out that even now or in 2020 that the early history of this base is not really accessible to the public how many years has it been 70 almost 70 years when conventional research is trying to strong-arm people into believing that there's no UFO connection to this base you got to be aware that that's either a specific tactic to deceive you or more commonly I think it's just based on ignorance so one thing to keep in mind is that until 1989 only those insiders who work there and a very few citizens in the nearby areas who might have heard vague rumors and and really nothing more than that they're the only people who had any inkling at all that there was something out there in the Nevada desert so right up until 1985 1989 excuse me now the rest of the world had no idea and then along came a young man named Bob Lazar who went public in a series of interviews with Las Vegas journalist George Knapp not only outing this very important secret base that no one knew about but he did so explicitly with a connection to UFOs and this is something that I think is always worth emphasizing this place was incredibly secret and indeed its existence wasn't even officially recognized by the US government until 2013 it had been sort of unofficially

before them but you didn't really get an official statement till 2013 it's not that long ago and if it hadn't been for Bob Lazar you really have to wonder how long it would have taken the world with any discussion about this place and at all if ever now when you look at the sources of so-called authoritative information about area 51 and yes that phrase is increasingly being

you see it on Google you see it on Facebook we all know what this is about this is a kind of a counter-attack by the establishment to push aside narratives that they don't like marginalizing alternative news sources that are not part of the corporate media establishment yes we all know that so whenever you hear the so-called authoritative sources talking about area 51 you should find that phrase offensive first of all authoritative news like this is supposed to be we tell ourselves this is a democratic society with free flow of information so when you get an official corporate establishment source telling you this is authoritative you should be offended by that like you have a brain inside your head you have the ability to think for yourself you don't you don't need an authoritative source to tell you what you're supposed to believe that's my take on it but anyway if you want to find these so-called establishment authoritative sources probably the easiest place to go is Wikipedia on any subject that pushes any boundaries to the establishment line and all Wikipedia has become nothing other than a propaganda arm of that establishment any source of so-called authoritative information that uses its position for anything other than a dispassionate search for the truth in my view is engaging in a form of intellectual treason and that's what Wikipedia does regularly they use their position not for the search for truth but to strong-arm you into believing something and you see this very clearly when it comes to UFOs and you see it very clearly without Wikipedia handles area 51

so the wiki entry on area 51 is fairly medium length article there's a lot of on the oxcart program by the CIA there's that you know the stealth program and things like this and then there's a very short a very short section entitled UFOs and other conspiracy theories UF hoaxes and other conspiracy theories in connection with area 51

now do we really have to keep pointing out that the very phrase conspiracy theory was a 1960s creation of the CIA because it was that phrase conspiracy theory was developed specifically specifically as a form of propaganda to smear people who didn't believe the officially sanctioned lies back then about the Kennedy assassination you can look it all up the documents are there I've talked about it on this very channel which I think that that got D monetize if I'm not mistaken by YouTube thanks YouTube anyway the phrase conspiracy theory has been used ever since first by the lackeys and the mainstream media who were explicitly working for the CIA through things like operation Mockingbird and undoubtedly related activities to influence the media yes

but ever since then by the dum-dum journalists and other media people who just don't know any better you see this phrase everywhere a conspiracy theory and whenever you see it be assured that the person using it is it is too intellectually lazy to to be even worth listening to you know the phrase conspiracy theorist is like a blanket denial that any kind of covert any kind of secret and the kind of conspiratorial actions never happen I've talked about this whole sham idea of conspiracy theories before and you know I'll talk about it again I'm sure but back to the Wikipedia piece most of that short segments dealing with UFOs in the fifty-one entry they just list a couple of bullet points of alleged UFO connections to the base and a few other connections that are even more far-out like time travel so they yeah they lump all of that together now there's no overt debunking commentary on these so-called conspiracy theories there's just bullet points but the section does take a paragraph to trot out a very tired and literally unbelievable claim from the CIA from years ago that flights of it's secret aircraft back in the 50s and 60s were the cause of a lot of UFO reports there's one sentence I'm just gonna read it to you

that's clearly a falsehood in this Wikipedia article but of course that doesn't stop it from becoming authoritative information for you the sentences many sighting reports came to the Air Force a project Bluebook which investigated UFO sightings through air traffic controllers and letters to the government as a sentence in the Wikipedia article and I'll just have to say is oh really and and by many may we ask how many like I would like to know how many of the UFO sightings reported sir at the United States or indeed throughout the world during the late 1950s and into the 60s were caused by these aircraft flying out of Groom Lake I would like to know if there's any researcher who can identify even five examples I'd like to know if there's any researchers who can identify a single example of a U-2 spy plane being identified as a UFO

like for real so ever since the CIA put this lie out in 1997 you hear lazy journalists and researchers repeat the statement over and over that this was the case I don't know why maybe to try to make themselves like they know what they're talking about I can't think of any other reason other than just to deceive you but there is a reason to consider serious connections not just to UFOs with Area 51 and the notorious S4

a couple of miles south of Area 51 but also to the task of testing exotic technologies relating to UFOs all at that area yes absolutely there's reasons to look at this we don't live in a society with a transparent government and any politician who talks about transparency and government is either lying or hopelessly naive our form of government long ago stopped being something that was even remotely something that you could call transparent for a long time now the United States has been an empire and you know as I know back in the days of ancient Rome empires and republics don't mix so in trying to get information about Area 51

researchers are in a very difficult position with some analogies like genuine analogies to researchers back in the days of the Soviet Union who are trying to get the truth out of their government those people back then those Russians and Soviets knew that their government lied to them they knew that they were not going to get official confirmation of a lot of the things that they were looking for they knew that sometimes they had to consider rumors or allegations even even if there's potential items on potential consideration since other forms of information just were not available to them and unfortunately that is our situation today with so much of the U.S. national security state and it is the case with Area 51 even now even now it's an amazing thing to consider this one thing that I find very interesting about Area 51 is that it might have it's really possible that it got its start not from the YouTube program but in fact from the retrieval of a downed UFO as controversial I agree with you it's controversial

okay and I suppose I'm used to controversial statements and even this one maybe is a bit of a stretch but maybe it isn't a stretch the crash of a UFO in the area of Kingman

Arizona back in 1953 has been discussed by researchers since the early 70s since there was a detailed statement that was given on this matter back at that time in 70s this was several years before researchers reopened the Roswell case think about that for a minute a man named Arthur Stancil spoke to a very astute researcher named Ray Fowler stancel was an atomic scientist he worked at Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base it's a very important place in the 40s and 50s under the direction of a Dr. Eric Wengert Lange who himself is a fascinating and even legendary figure

Stancil told Ray Fowler about how he was on a temporary assignment at Indian Springs in Nevada it's very close to Area 51 in May 1953 when he was ordered along with a number of other scientists to a remote crash site they were flown first and then they were driven in a sealed-off bus and their job was to study an object that was there they were told by an Air Force colonel that this was an experimental US aircraft that had crashed

but when Stencil got to it and he was told to look at it it was a classic flying saucer embedded about 20 inches into the sand and that the desert he said fully intact and possibly even undamaged he said and there's a lot more to this case and I had a nice conversation about it last summer with researcher Michael Shreck

which you can find on this YouTube channel it's a great interview that Michael did but what's interesting here is what apparently happened to the craft when it was recovered by the US military according to the researcher Harry Drew who is really the only person in recent years who has gone deeply into this case

Harry Drew there is a decent case to be made that this craft was brought to the Nevada Test Site and specifically the place we now call Area 51

this would be

two full years before anything was supposed to be going on there and yes it's controversial for sure I mean after all we don't have anything in the way of official documentation to support it but I would say that such a case is absolutely possible and even plausible and to those people who would have a knee-jerk reaction that is impossible I would just say remember that there was a confirmed military presence in that area as early as 1942 could there have been a couple of early hangars out there to have housed such an object I think absolutely that could have been I would find it entirely fitting frankly if the Kingman craft were brought to Area 51 in 1953 again this region came to our attention through the subject of UFOs by Bob Lazar who talked about UFOs being there and attempts to reverse-engineer the technology of UFOs that's the whole Bob Lazar story and I'll add that the journalist George Knapp told me more than once and I'm sure he's told other people that over the years he has spoken to at least two dozen other Groom Lake Area 51 insiders who have corroborated key elements of Bob Lazar claims although none of those people were ever willing to go public and George Knapp has talked about this I think quite a lot and then you have the statements and observations of Aviation journalist James Goodall who I've also interviewed on this channel

James Goodall collected a number of amazing interviews and statements from area 51 insiders over the years back in the 80s and 90s the one that sticks in my memory is the most maybe amazing statement was from man who had over a decade of experience at groom and he said to Goodall quote we have things in the Nevada desert that would make George Lucas envious and that was made during the 1980s mid 80s there was another informant who told Goodall better than Star Wars Star Trek or anything you see in the movie

better than Star Wars or Star Trek things that would make George Lucas envious now wow that's just a WoW segment pardon me and I would encourage you actually go back to the interview that I did with James Goodall on this channel he it was an incredible interview he was amazing and he was very forthright about you know the likelihood of alien Tekkit at places like area 51 and Goodall I mean aside from a UFO investigator he's an aviation journalist legend so he's really worth listening to on this now there been a lot more there's a lot more evidence and testimony than even Lazar and good old you got the statements of bill uhouse who was a test pilot as a mechanical engineer at area 51 he claimed claimed but he's worth listening to here to have worked in part with a live heli and being j-rod to build a flight simulator

to train pilots to fly advanced US aircraft particularly some of the advanced even stealth aircraft not necessarily all flying saucers by the way although he's got stories about that but the tech he said came from research from the attempt to understand a UFO recovered from kingman arizona in 1953 that was us so once again you've got the UFO area 51 connection now again it's on my goal here to list all the UFO or alien connections to area 51 I think there are a number of other locations that also have strong connections of UFOs probably starting with wright-patterson Air Force Base itself in Dayton Ohio but area 51 definitely belongs in the conversation I think it's a shame that even now we know so little about the history of the base and what has gone on there you can argue of course that the truth is so dramatic it's so important maybe even so dreadful

the public must never know the truth well I would guess with some confidence that there are those people on the inside in the know who do feel this way you could even consider the possibility that if you think long and hard on it that maybe those people have a point is it true that some facts some realities would be genuinely disruptive to us to our society in a bad way if they were widely known and I'll leave that up to you to think about but I would say in response to that position

the following statement I would say that attempts to hide the truth can only go so far

until they corrupt those who are suppressing that truth and perhaps most importantly corrupting the societies that they think they're trying to protect there's a reason that ever since the dawn of human civilization we have associated truth with light and we've associated secrecy and lies with darkness without truth

we're blind that's the thing that's why truth is like light because with it we see properly and without it

we're blind we can't really see things as they properly are if we don't see the truth we're like those fools living in Plato's cave who think that the shadows they see on the wall in front of them are the actual representations of reality and by the way the rest of Plato's parable here is quite instructive because in that story when one of those people finds his way out of the cave his experience with the bright sunlight at first is very painful it's disorienting it's uncomfortable but then he starts to realize something that this is actually the reality that the things he sees are the real things and that he'd been living in a fantasy world for his whole life he can finally see things properly and moreover when he tries to liberate the others in the cave he goes back in there tries to get them out he meets with all kinds of resistance those people don't want the truth

comfortable with their illusions that's what they know so over 2,000 years later and plato's story of the cave remains a brilliant analogy to our situation today we are spoon-fed illusions and the history and reality of places like area 51 are shielded by those illusions I believe that there will be a day when we learn the enormity of what has been concealed there make no mistake it will happen I don't know when but I know that it sure as the Sun will shine when the day is new that the truth can't be buried forever well I've enjoyed being here with you if you like what I do on this channel and the things that I put up here I would please say liked this video subscribe to my channel it's free its YouTube and come by my website sometime as well

Richard Olin members calm and Richard Island Press calm I've got a lot going on both of those places always putting up new content particularly at Richard all members a lot of free content there

by all means stop by and again I'd like to thank you for being here with me today

catch you later bye-bye

- [Narrator] Groom Lake,
Pittman Station, Paradise Ranch,

Saint Elsewhere, Dreamland.

While it is known by many names,

it is perhaps best known simply as Area 51

and few places in the world have generated

as much speculation and interest

as this remote base located in the Nevada Desert.

On the surface, it looks relatively inconspicuous

yet it is one of the most heavily guarded sites in the world

with armed guards authorized to use lethal force against anyone who tries to cross its boundaries

to look inside.

In UFO circles, the base

has long been associated with the retrieval and reengineering of alien technology acquired from UFO crash sites
such as the Roswell Incident in 1947.
Indeed, witnesses have reported strange objects in the sky around the base and people who have claimed to work at Area 51 tell stories
of experimental aircraft
based on the alien propulsion systems.

The fact that the US government wouldn't even acknowledge the base's existence
until 2013 has only reinforced the belief by some that something otherworldly is kept inside
the well-guarded base perimeter.

But, could the truth be a little more down to planet Earth?

In recent years, more and more information about the history of the base and its role in the Cold War stand-off between East and West has come to light and could go some way to explaining

why the base has garnered such a reputation.

From advanced spy aircraft
to captured enemy fighters

and early research in to stealth aircraft,

Area 51 has quietly
waged the technology war against America's enemies

for over 60 years.

Early History.

Groom Lake upon which Area 51 is built is a barren salt flat in the Nevada Desert

and had been the scene of intermittent lead and silver mining between the late 19th century

to the early 1950s.

The flat and hard terrain made it ideal for use as an airstrip and in 1942

as the US geared up for World War II,

a base was established with two crossing unpaved runways

named Indian Springs Air Force Auxiliary Field.

Indian Springs remained open until 1947

and after a brief period where mining in the area resumed,

Groom Lake became barren once again.

In the meantime, the Allies who had been victorious

during World War II were now staring suspiciously

at one another across the so-called Iron Curtain

and the Cold War was heating up.

Both the US and the Soviet Union began a modernization

of their armed forces to face one another and the US needed to know just how advanced

and extensive the Soviet weapons program was.

Spy satellites were over a decade away

and so the US government therefore turned to the Lockheed aircraft corporation

to develop a long-range, high altitude reconnaissance aircraft that could spy on the Soviet Union.

The design team for the new aircraft was headed up by the legendary aircraft designer, Kelly Johnson

who is considered to be one of the greatest minds

in aviation history.

His department at Lockheed,
known affectionately as the Skunk Works,
developed an incredible aircraft that was capable of flying in excess of 70,000 feet,
well above what Soviet fighter planes could fly at the time.

The project, dubbed Aquatone,
was draped in a level of secrecy that was arguably greater than that of the Manhattan Project that developed the first atom bomb.

Paperwork surrounding the project was not stamped as secret so that if they were ever lost or misplaced,
nobody would know it was a secret document
and would likely dismiss it rather than let curiosity
at having a secret document get to them and start reading it.

The aircraft was also given the designation of U-2
as part of its cover
since in the US military, aircraft marked with a U
are generally transport

or logistic types rather than spy planes.

The unique qualities of the U-2 combined with the required level of secrecy

was forever a problem for the design team

when it came to finding an appropriate test site.

More than fifty sites were rejected

before Kelly's team stumbled across the old wartime strip

at Groom Lake.

The wartime airstrip was
by then in a poor state

and so a new runway would have to be built specifically for the U-2.

Convinced he had found the ideal place

he convinced the US government to purchase the land

and it was given a grid reference

by the Atomic Energy Commission namely Area 51.

Unfortunately, at that time the US

was conducting nuclear weapons tests

at the nearby Nevada Test Range and the salt lake was downwind of these tests.

This disrupted Kelly's team as they worked to prepare the site for U-2 testing as they had to shut down work to allow the radioactive clouds to pass.

However, tests carried out as late as the 1980's
would show the area had a higher than normal radiation level
resulting in a clean-up effort

and has led to employees at the base trying to get compensation for radiation-related illnesses.

In July 1955, the first U-2
was airlifted to the site

and prepared for testing but the U-2's first flight

was not exactly intentional.

On August 1st, 1955,
Lockheed's chief test pilot,

Tony LeVier, was performing a high speed taxi run

when he suddenly realized the wheels
had briefly left the ground.

Flight testing of the U-2 began in earnest and the following year this incredible aircraft began flying operations over the Soviet Union gathering intelligence on Soviet forces.

The Soviets struggled to track the aircraft

due to the altitude it was flying at

and lacked anyway of intercepting it.

The US also used the U-2 to spy on British,

French and Israeli forces engaged in the ill-conceived Suez War against Egypt in October 1956.

British pilots would later arrive at Area 51 for training to fly the U-2 themselves on behalf of the American and British intelligence services.

Despite the success of the U-2 in its early operations,

it was clear to all that it was only a matter of time before the Soviets developed technology to counter it.

As such, research began at Area 51 under Project Rainbow

to develop radar absorbent material or RAM

which could be affixed to the aircraft's fuselage.

As the name suggests,
this material was designed to prevent radar beams from bouncing back to the ground station and revealing the aircraft's position

by absorbing them in to the aircraft's body.

However, the U-2 could not be made entirely invisible

to radar and this was proven on May 1st, 1960,

when a U-2 flown by Francis Gary Powers was shot down

over the Soviet Union.

A second U-2 was shot down over Cuba

during the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962.

In order to keep gathering intelligence on the Soviets

and their client states such as North Vietnam and China,

a new aircraft was developed that could fly higher

and faster than anything the Soviets had

and Area 51 was again at the forefront of the test program.

Developed again by Kelly Johnson under Project Oxcart,

the new aircraft was designated as the A-12,

repeating the misinformation

trick they had done

with the U-2 since A refers to attack aircraft.

The A-12 was assembled and flown for the first time

from Area 51 on April 25th, 1962.

Curiously, like its predecessor
the A-12's first flight

was accidental taking place during what should have been just a ground run.

Looking more like one of the wonder machines

that Area 51 is famous for,

the A-12 was capable of over three times the speed of sound and could fly even higher than the U-2.

The enormous stresses
this flight regime imposed

on the aircraft were such that the only material

the aircraft could be realistically constructed with

was titanium but in the early 1960s

the only reliable source for titanium was the Soviet Union and it was unlikely they would be willing to sell it to the US for use in their newest spy plane.

Therefore, the CIA created a string of fake foreign companies

to purchase the titanium

from Soviet manufacturers and then secretly transport it back to the US for use in building the A-12.

As well as having astonishing performance,

the A-12 was also the first aircraft

designed to evade radar.

A model of the A-12 was assembled at Area 51

mounted on a stand in front of a radar dish

to monitor how effective it was at deflecting radar beams

from different angles.

While not a true stealth aircraft,

the A-12 was an exceptionally difficult aircraft to detect.

During its lifetime,
the A-12 flew missions

over North Korea and then over Vietnam

during the Vietnam War.

Flying such an unusual aircraft was often difficult and on January 5th 1967,

an A-12 crashed on approach to Area 51 killing its CIA pilot, Walter Ray.

The A-12 was withdrawn
from service in 1968

but was replaced by the SR-71 Blackbird,

a development of the A-12 that incorporated

all the experience gained in the testing at Area 51.

Another peculiar aircraft program that is associated with both Area 51 and the A-12

is the D-21 unmanned drone.

The D-21 was designed to be carried on the back of an A-12 to a launch point

just outside enemy territory

after which it would separate and then fly through heavily defended enemy territory

taking pictures of high priority targets.

The photographic film would then be ejected over the ocean

for retrieval while the D-21 itself would self-destruct.

The D-21 was not a success and its intended role

was carried out by the first generation of spy satellites

but it did help pave the way for modern drones.

Indeed, spy satellites were a growing problem for Area 51

in the 60's since they threatened to finally break through the base's once airtight veil of secrecy.

The U-2 and SR-71 were therefore tasked with photographing the base from high altitude

to assess just what Soviet satellites could see

and work out how best they could conceal operations

whenever one went over the base.

But it wasn't only American aircraft

that were tested at the secret base.

In the skies over Korea
in the early 1950's

and then again over Vietnam in the 1960's,

the US Air Force and US Navy began to realize that although technologically inferior to their own sophisticated warplanes,

Soviet-supplied fighters were still highly capable

In Vietnam especially, US fighters put up a poor showing against the primitive North Vietnamese aircraft

and so the USAF, US Navy and CIA worked to unlock the secrets of these aircraft
and develop tactics against them.

For that, they needed to get hold of these aircraft

for evaluation especially the new MiG-21.

During the early 1960's,
the Israeli Mossad intelligence service undertook Operation Diamond in order to recruit an Iraqi pilot to defect to Israel in a MiG-21.

On August 16th, 1966, Iraqi pilot Munir Redfa

flew his MiG-21 to Israel and the following year

the Israelis loaned the aircraft to the US to evaluate.

The aircraft operated out of Area 51
and was given a phony US designation to disguise its identity
on official documentation.

Under the Have Doughnut
program the aircraft was used in simulated dogfights against every major American combat aircraft to work out its strengths and weaknesses.

These tests led to the US Navy establishing

the Top Gun training school based partly on the experience gained during the evaluation.

Area 51 would also see the newer MiG-23
arrive later for similar trials.

In the 1970s, Area 51
was the site of testing

of yet another radical new aircraft.

Built on the research to make both the U-2 and A-12

difficult to detect on radar,

work now began on developing an aircraft
that was truly invisible to radar.

In 1975, Lockheed's Skunk Works was awarded a contract

to build two technology
demonstrators that were intended to prove the concept could work.

The two aircraft, built
under Project Have Blue,

were completed by Lockheed
and flown for the first time

from Area 51 on December 1st, 1977.

These two aircraft would pave the way for the F-117 Nighthawk stealth aircraft

that became operational
in the early 1980's

and would be used to spectacular effect

in the 1991 Gulf War striking targets

deep inside Iraq with impunity.

In recent years, it has been speculated that Area 51

continues to be used as a test base

for advanced drone aircraft.

However, the public perception of Area 51

remains heavily associated with UFOs, crashed extra-terrestrial craft

and testing of alien technology.

So why is this?

Place in UFOlogy

With so many advanced aircraft having been tested

at the site under an intense cloak of secrecy,

it is little wonder that Area 51

has become associated with UFO's.

Most UFO experts agree that around 90% of sightings

in and around the base since the 1970's

can now be explained away
as the testing of aircraft

such as the unusual-looking Have Blue

but around 10% remain unexplained and the US government continues to keep silent regarding them.

This has only served to fuel
the many conspiracy theories

over just what goes on there

even though there is often
little evidence to support them.

Some of the theories put forward the belief that the base has been involved in anti-gravity

and even time travel experiments.

Rumors of the development of stealth technology

has also spurred on the idea that the base

continued the work started by the Philadelphia Experiment

in which a US Navy warship was supposedly made invisible

for several seconds.

Some even believe that with such a high level of secrecy

it was the perfect site with which to fake the moon landings.

Perhaps the most popular belief regarding the base

is that the crashed UFO

from the famous 1947 Roswell Incident has been stored there, presumably after having been stored at another base

in the immediate years after the crash,

along with the craft's dead occupants.

Since then, it has been claimed that several other crashed UFOs

have also been housed there

such as an egg-shaped craft
retrieved by US soldiers

from Fort Polk, Louisiana in 1953

or a disc that was recovered from Alabama in 1955

in which an Army helicopter pilot claimed

he flew alien bodies to Maxwell Air Force Base.

Even Hollywood has cashed in on the reputation of Area 51

with perhaps the most notable instance being the 1996 summer blockbuster Independence Day.

In the movie, Area 51 does indeed have the Roswell spacecraft

and was a key plot point

in the movie's climax however this angered

the US military's liaison
staff involved in the project

who demanded that all reference to the base was dropped.

The film's director,
Roland Emmerich, refused

because it was crucial to the story

and so in protest the US military stopped their support

but in doing so only perpetuated the theories

of alien craft being stored at Area 51.

It is possible that the US military was simply trying to curb interest

in one of their most secret aircraft testing sites

but if that was the case

then they unintentionally achieved the opposite effect.

So, how did the belief that retrieved aircraft

and beings are kept at Area 51 start?

While rumors to that effect have been whispered

in UFO circles for many years,

it is widely attributed to a man named Bob Lazar

who brought it to the wider public's attention

after giving a startling interview in 1989

to a Las Vegas TV station.

He stated that he was a former employee at the base,

he made some incredible claims
as to just what activity

had gone on there and that there was an immense underground facility called S-4

located just south of the above ground facility.

He said that he worked at S-4 and was directly involved in the reverse engineering

of several flying saucers

that had been retrieved
by the US government

since the 1940's.

He claimed that the engineers
there were testing aircraft

based on the Alien technology and that were propelled

by manipulating gravity waves.

This would seem to explain
some of the sightings

reported around the base of objects moving

at very high speed only to immediately change direction

or come to a stop without slowing down

as a conventional aircraft would.

In the 1989 interview,
he added that the fuel

for these craft was an as then-undiscovered element

known simply as Element 115.

This element was finally synthesized in Russia in 2003

and was named Moscovium

and is still the subject of research.

He even provided detailed descriptions

of what one of the alien craft was like inside

emphasizing that the chairs
on which the aliens sat

were quite small and unsuitable for adult humans.

Perhaps his most startling claim however is seeing reports that aliens

had been directly involved

in human affairs for over 10,000 years.

In the initial interview, Lazar
had his identity concealed

but then later came forward and spoke openly

about his experiences working at Area 51.

When asked why he waved his anonymity

he responded by saying that it was in an effort to protect himself from the US government

who would no longer be able to silence him

without encouraging unwanted interest in the goings on at Area 51.

Lazar's claims generated a lot of media attention

but investigations in to his past,

especially his qualifications,

failed to stand up to scrutiny.

He claimed he had studied at MIT and CalTech,

but reporters who checked up on this failed to find any evidence and no one could remember him

being at either institution.

Lazar responded by saying that the US government

had proven adept at erasing people's histories

and probably threatened the families of students and staff

who might admit to remember him.

His credibility took a blow in 1990

when he was arrested in connection with aiding a prostitution ring

and he continues to have occasional run-ins with the law

such as in 2006 when he was charged with illegally transporting restricted chemicals

across state lines.

But to prove he was telling the truth,

Lazar took three lie detector tests not long after going public with his identity.

The examiner who conducted the test stated afterwards

that in his opinion, Lazar
was not being deceptive,

meaning he at least believed
what he was saying was true.

Nevertheless, many academics
have dismissed his claims,

including leading UFO researcher Stanton Friedman.

Despite this, he still has a committed following

who believe him.

Whether his claims are true or not,

Lazar has to be given credit

for bringing the story of Area 51 being home to crashed UFOs

to the public's attention.

But he is by no means the only person

to have made such claims.

Just a few years later,
in 1996 SKY TV produced

a documentary about Area 51 entitled Dreamland

as part of that summer's UFO craze

thanks to Independence Day's release.

The producers interviewed
a 71-year old man who claimed to be a former mechanical engineer at Area 51

who not only worked on Alien technology

but actually interacted with an alien being known only as J-ROD.

The engineer claimed that his job was to build a simulator

for US pilots to train to fly a disc shaped craft

under J-ROD's supervision.

Less than a year later,

on May 23rd, 1997 radio DJ Art Bell

was hosting his daily show when a man phoned in claiming to have worked at the S-4 facility at Area 51.

He only referred to himself as Victor and claimed he was the one who leaked a video commonly known as the Alien Interview

which allegedly took place at Area 51.

The video has been debunked by most experts

and it is possible the man was trying to simply generate interest in it but then on September 11th of the same year,

another man phoned in to Art Bell claiming to be another Area 51 employee

and that not only were alien ships and beings

being kept there but that there was a frightening global alien conspiracy at work.

The man was clearly
disheveled and terrified,

growing more upset as the call went on which made people believe that the man felt

there was a genuine threat
to whomever was calling

but if that wasn't creepy enough

the radio broadcast suddenly went silent

because of a mysterious malfunction

to which Art Bell couldn't explain.

This led to people
believing the government

was trying to silence the caller.

On April 28th, 1998, Art Bell spoke to another caller claiming to be the frightened

Area 51 employee only this time he was calm and collected claiming the first call was a hoax

and part of a number of wacky characters he created to call in to the show with.

The man would only give his name as Brian

but while he admitted that his call was a hoax

he couldn't explain the interruption of the signal

during the broadcast and said that he went to bed that night

freaked out that maybe he had gone too far and upset the wrong people.

On September 9th, 2014,
almost 17 years to the day of the first call, comic book writer Bryan Glass

publicly admitted that he was behind both calls.

However, some listeners to the broadcasts have claimed that that the second caller could not have been the same person as the first because of differences

in mannerism and tone

but Glass maintains he was responsible for both.

The next significant figure to emerge in the story of Area 51 is Dr. Dan Burisch.

Burisch was a noted psychology and biology academic

being the youngest person
to ever be admitted to the Los Angeles Microscopical Society

and had links with Dr. Edward Teller who was known to be linked to Bob Lazar.

In 1990, Burisch was employed by the US government

as a bio-warfare specialist
during Operation Desert Storm

where it was feared the Iraqi forces would use

biological weapons against US and coalition troops.

Burisch claims that in 1994
he was offered a position

at Area 51 to work on a Project known as Aquarius.

Having gained his security clearance,

Burisch said he flew to Area 51

from Las Vegas' McCarran International Airport

aboard one of the so-called Janet airlines Boeing 737s

that provide transport services
to employees of the base.

He said that on the flight
the Neil Diamond song

"Coming to America" was repeatedly played

as part of an indoctrination
to what they could expect there

as the song is about immigrants
looking for a better life

in the US only in this instance the immigrants were aliens.

After landing at Area 51
he was then transported to the huge underground S-4 facility

where Lazar had claimed he worked.

Curiously, Burisch said that one of the options available for getting to S-4

were the military Mi-24
Hind-D helicopter gunship.

Before entering S-4, Burisch said he had to undergo a vigorous security check to make sure that he was not carrying any hidden recording equipment.

This included him stripping naked

and having his body checked.

Once inside S-4 he claimed to have seen numerous alien and human-alien hybrid technology craft

before meeting the alien known as J-ROD.

Under Project Aquarius, Bursich and J-ROD worked on cloning and researching alien viruses

although perhaps the word alien is inappropriate.

According to Burisch, J-ROD's people were actually from Earth but 50,000 years in our future

where a major catastrophe saw them escape

across space and time.

The work was carried out under the authority of the mysterious Majestic 12 organization

but Burisch said J-ROD became extremely ill

and he had to care for him
before helping to send him back in to space through an ancient device

similar to a Stargate.

Understandably, these extraordinary claims

have been the source of much debate.

Like Lazar, Burisch's credentials

have been called in to question

with his supporters claiming that he too

has had his history tampered with to discredit him.

Others claim that his story is little more than an amalgamation of previous stories including ones that have been debunked.

Some of his employment
history seems to contradict

his education claims and he is known to have a history of financial difficulty so would benefit from going public with such a story.

Burisch himself has even suffered physical attacks

over his claims but his supporters simply claim that the infamous Majestic 12 organization is succeeding in clouding the truth.

But, while both Lazar and Burisch
have been called in to question
regarding their authenticity,

in recent years another person came forward

to claim that he knew of the existence of alien beings

and technology at Area 51

and he was far more difficult to discredit.

His name was Paul Hellyer and he was the Canadian Defense Minister between 1963 and 1967.

He claims that during his time in office

he was shown proof that various aliens do exist

and that many of them are visiting Earth on a regular basis.

Regarding Area 51, he has said that one of Canada's former Chief of Emergency Measures,

although he has not yet named which one,

was invited to tour the Area 51 facility

and saw the retrieved UFOs.

The Canadian official was also given a briefing

on what to do should a UFO
crash on Canadian soil.

So, how likely is it Hellyer
is telling the truth?

He seems resolute in his belief of extra-terrestrials

visiting Earth risking his reputation

in order to inform people of his belief that many of these extra-terrestrials are concerned about the way we are damaging our planet and ourselves

such as with war and pollution.

Also, during the time he was in government

the US and Canada had extremely close defense links

due to the Cold War so it is possible that Canadian officials would have been invited to tour Area 51 or the S-4 facility if such a place exists

but until more witnesses come forward

or documents are released
corroborating the story

we have only his word.

In 2013, a video was released on YouTube

of an elderly gentlemen who apparently did not have long to live and who claimed to be ex-CIA.

In the video he confessed to having seen alien bodies

and craft at Area 51 but again there is little

to corroborate the authenticity of the confession.

Indeed, finding evidence of genuine UFO activity at Area 51

is especially difficult because of the level of security

around the base but in May 2017

an impressive piece of footage was released

by the UFO hunting group SecureTeam 10.

The footage appears to show a UFO

flying over the base and recorded by base personnel

sometime in the late 1980's or early 1990's.

SecureTeam 10 claim the video was leaked to them and proves that Area 51 is involved in the research and operation of alien technology.

Another bizarre event occurred at the base in 2012

when a couple driving near the base recorded bizarre smoke clouds

from inside the perimeter.

They were unable to see what was causing the smoke

since it was emanating from behind a hill

parked on top of which was a security vehicle

making sure no one got too close.

Although filmed in 2012,

the couple didn't release
the footage until 2016.

Other Area 51's.

If we were to assume that at least some of the claims

are true and the base really is being used in the retrieval and reverse engineering of alien technology, is it possible that there are other such bases that carry out a similar function?

The Tonopah test range is a satellite base to Area 51

located 70 miles away
and like its neighbor

is highly restricted base.

It is known that some of the captured MiGs were tested there as was the F-117
but some speculate it has also been used to test captured alien technology.

In the early 1980's, Albuquerque businessman Paul Bennewitz

claimed he started detecting radio emissions

between alien spacecraft and a US military installation

located in Dulce, New Mexico.

In 1990, UFOlogist John Lear claimed to have evidence of such a base but it has since been speculated that Mr. Bennewitz was in fact detecting encrypted communications between underground USAF bases

housing Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles.

It would also therefore be possible that other countries have their own Area 51-type facilities.

In 1974, the Berwyn Mountains in North Wales

was reportedly the scene of a UFO crash

and conspiracy theorists believe that alien bodies

were recovered from the site and transported to the Ministry of Defense's facility at Porton Down

where research in to biological weaponry takes place.

In 1946, the former Soviet Union established a secret base

at Kaputsin Yar in Astrakhan Oblast

located between Volgograd and Astrakhan.

The base was intended to be a secret location

with which to develop and test rockets

based on captured German research.

However, it has been claimed that in 1948 a UFO crashed

near the town of Dalnegorsk in the eastern Soviet Union

in what is remembered as the Height 611 Incident

or alternatively as Russia's Roswell.

Almost mirroring the claims regarding Area 51,

conspiracy theorists believe that the craft

and its occupants were transported to Kaputsin Yar

for study and that an underground base

was established there for that purpose.

It's true the base has a long history of UFO sightings including a number of triangular shaped objects landing

and taking off vertically

but like it's American counterpart,

the base's full history
remains classified.

In recent years, there has been speculation

amongst some UFOlogists that even Nazi Germany

had their equivalent to Area 51 during the Second World War.

Located at the Wenceslas Mine in Poland,

the site was supposedly the scene of research

in to an advanced bell-shaped device known as the Die Glocke

the purpose of which remains up for debate

even amongst those who believe in its existence.

Some believe it was an anti-gravity device

while others think it was a weapon

since at least five scientists

were supposedly killed during testing.

Perhaps the most outlandish theory

is that it was a device
for looking through time

but regardless of which is true, if any of it is,

the question has to be asked just how did the Nazi scientists unlock this technology?

Some have theorized that in their quest

for furthering the Aryan race they made contact with a group of Aliens known as the Tall Whites

or Nordic types because of their northern European look.

Some Alien conspiracy theorists have put forward the idea that this group of aliens, who Burisch claims

is one of a number of Aliens who developed on Earth

in the future like J-ROD's species,

gave the Nazis the technology necessary

to start their research
but that the project

was not complete before Nazi Germany fell to the Allies.

They speculate the Die
Glocke was destroyed

while others claim it was smuggled

to a South American country.

Conclusion.

For a base so shrouded in secrecy it is easy to see how it can fuel the imagination

and until the base's full history is finally revealed

there will always be speculation, rumors and unfortunately hoaxers.

However, this aspect of the base's story

should not overshadow the important role it has played in history particularly during the Cold War.

Stories of alien technology aside,

it is likely many new types of drone aircraft

are being tested there,
the sightings of which

only further the base's association with UFOs.

Commercial satellite imagery from sources

such as Google Earth taken over several years reveal

that the base has actually expanded

since the end of the Cold War implying that it remains a key part of America's defense and intelligence operations.

Whatever the truth of Area 51 is,

this fascinating site
still remains well guarded

and despite the US government

finally acknowledging its existence

it is unlikely to give up all of its secrets anytime soon

meaning it truly does earn the name, Dreamland.

deep in the heart of the Nevada desert in a barren desolate valley there exists a place that the United States government would rather you not know about A military base so secret the Pentagon refuses to admit it exists A place that has been the launching site for the most advanced aeronautical technology the world has ever known The base itself has a buffer zone estimated at over 12 m There are no gates but those who stand guard have permission to shoot anyone who attempts to penetrate its border The people who work here are sworn to secrecy They fly in every morning on jets with no markings The windows are painted over A base so secret it doesn't even have a name at least an official one In the past aerospace workers referred to it as Groom Lake for the dry lake bed adjacent to its runways Some know it simply as the ranch The air traffic control tower at the base uses the code name Dreamland but most know it by the region's designation on an obscure US Geological Survey map which places the world's most secret military base on a grid marked Area 51 It started out as a place to fly experimental airplanes in secret It was remote the terrain for boating and virtually inaccessible Which is why back in the 1950s the United States government developed a keen interest in the Nevada desert So much of an interest that the Department of Defense took control of a huge chunk of land larger than Switzerland for use as a desert laboratory The Nevada test site as it is called was used for the testing of nuclear bombs Satellite photographs show the pockmark surface of a bomb testing sites such as Mercury Nevada home of above ground nuclear detonations but a bomb tests aren't all that is done out here Part of the test site is used as a bombing range for Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas The air base and target area are all part of the Nellis Range Complex where virtually every fighter pilot in the free world comes to test their skills in war games above the Amarosa desert But besides the nuclear testing and beyond the air base there was a third element to the Nevada test site developed in the 1950s to test flight top secret aircraft A 60 square mile region encompassing two valleys surrounded by the Groom Mountain Range It was here the place many now refer to as Area 51 that the government specifically the CIA decided to have aerospace giant Lockheed test a secret plane built to spy on the Soviet Union It was called the U2 The CIA went out in about 1955 to uh the northern part of the Nevada test site and established this area on the Groom Dry Lake for the testing of advanced aircraft technology Um the kind of unofficial version and from what I've been able to research there is some support of this is that even in the 1940s perhaps the late 1940s the Navy had an auxiliary uh

naval airfield out there and they used to store nuclear weapons out there at the Groom Lake facility Now there were only a few buildings up at that time Now one alleged eyewitness said that in 1948 there were five buildings and one of them was a hanger For years this is where the US government tested its greatest airborne secrets Many of them planes built by Lockheed's legendary Skunkworks the aerospace company's assembly plant used to piece together top secret government projects Besides the U2 it is where the super secret SR71 Blackbird first took to the air Later came the F-117A stealth fighter There have been suggestions that Northrip Grumman's B2 stealth bomber was also flight tested here All of which made Area 51 famous to aviation buffs like Chucker And I've always had an interest since I was a young kid And uh I started hearing about a place called Grim Lake in the early '70s from uh people that work at Lockheed that occasionally would fly out here and spend a couple weeks working on a secret aircraft And although they wouldn't tell me much they sort of you know explained where it was and in the general nature of what was going on out here And so few years ago two and a half years ago I finally decided it's time to pack up and go over there and check it out for myself Groom Lake is a part of Area 51 It is a dry lake bed surrounded by the Groom Mountain Range After hearing about it as an inquisitive teenager it was only recently that Chuck Clark came to investigate the area on his own What he found was very much what he expected based on the rumors from Lockheed engineers he had befriended years ago while growing up in Southern California Very large non-existent base according to the military uh with a six mile runway and a three-mile runway which is brand new Uh it continues to grow to this day uh where everything else is being either closed or scaled back This thing just grows and grows and grows Uh for the most part they're testing uh black project uh spy planes you know next generation spy planes things that you would expect that they'd be doing in such a location Okay we'll be back in a minute Among the latest projects under development at the base is the Aurora a supersonic reconnaissance aircraft that reportedly uses a unique propulsion system using a combination of cryogenic methane or ammonia The aircraft is believed to have a unique roar according to residents of the desert area and leaves contrails that look like donuts strung together on a rope The Aurora project is the latest in a long line of classified government experiments using the most advanced technology experiments that the United States has gone to amazing lengths to keep from foreign governments and from its own people Glenn Campbell is a computer scientist who has spent years studying Area 51 The name Area 51 refers to a block of land about 60 mi square The name Dreamland refers to a block of airspace above that land which is much larger Dreamland is is not a secret name It is used by pilots on on routine military maneuvers out here and Dreamland is known as the box to pilots It is placed where you do not fly There are numerous stories of military pilots on routine exercise here wandering across the boundary of this dreamland airspace being forced down at the base and being severely debriefed This is the sort of mistake that would end careers in the military and certainly has If you land at Dreamland you may never fly again The boundary of this non-existent military facility is patrolled by non-existent security guards Uh these are guards wearing camouflage fatings without name tags without insignia driving unmarked white Jeep Cherokees Uh we call them for one of a better name the camo dudes for their camouflage fatings Uh they patrol both the military land and the adjoining public lands And this is what disturbs some people The workers who are out there now don't talk They're absolutely terrified of talking They have absolutely have drilled into these people that this is something you do not talk about And you really have the fear of God you see the fear of God in their eyes If I were to confront somebody out here uh at the McCarron terminal where people take off Uh but the former workers or workers who are not directly connected to Area 51 let's say the work at the nuclear test site I find them coming to me to ask me what I think of the Bob Lazar story He may be the first former worker at Area 51 to speak out publicly about the base and what he did there In 1989 Robert Lazar was interviewed on a Las Vegas television station The first interview was done in silhouette to protect Lazar's identity But after claiming that his life had been threatened Lazar went public with an amazing story That besides testing super secret jets the American government was also in the process of analyzing extraterrestrial spacecraft The testers company reproduced a flying saucer model based on Lazar's description Bob Lazar's story is certainly a piece of work It's a fascinating story whether you regard it as a hoax or reality He claims that he went to work for for a few short months at a government facility where he worked with nine alien spacecraft dissected them found out something about how they worked How this story differs from anybody else's stories is that it's highly specific It's highly limited It's a disciplined story He's not saying he saw any aliens He's not saying saying he knows what the alien agenda is He's just saying this is where I went This is where I did That's all I know Lazar claims the alien spacecraft was not actually housed at Area 51 but in a valley just south of the base at Papoose Dry Lake Lazar says this region was called S4 It's completely surrounded by mountains and as with Area 51 does not appear on any maps The only pictures of it have been taken by the former Soviet Union from space Lazar claims he worked for several weeks at S4 after being hired by the government as a propulsion engineer He claims to have obtained the position on the recommendation of Dr Edward Teller the father of the hydrogen bomb Lazar said he had previously worked for Teller at the Los Alamos nuclear laboratory in New Mexico His new job at the secret desert base according to Lazar was reverse engineering the propulsion system of a flying saucer one of nine that Lazar claims were kept inside a hanger built into a hillside Lazar has given a detailed description of what he saw explaining that the craft used a combination of matter and antimatter for propulsion He says only once did he see one of the alien craft actually fly He says he never saw an alien or was told of how the government had obtained the spacecraft Bob Lazar is highly specific about what he saw He can describe it in great detail His descriptions of this craft that he worked with this flying saucer have resulted in this plastic model kit produced by the tester corporation Uh he will tell you flat out whether something is right or wrong Uh most of the time when he's spoken in public he's just taken questions and you can throw any question at him in a technical vein and he will come back with a solid sounding answer one that real physicist physicists can debate back and forth That's what I admire about that story Campbell admits Lazar's story cannot be verified and it is hard to believe What he finds most interesting however are some of the people who do think that Bob Lazar is telling the truth These workers are as fascinated with the Bob Lazar story and the Area 51 mystique is as the rest of us and they don't know what's going on out there They can't say what's in the next hanger or what's over the next hill These things these programs are highly compartmentalized You go there you do your job you go to your workplace and that's all you see and all you know and all you'll ever talk about So I know former workers who worked there in the 70s uh and they're they're open to the story They they think that uh yes there's something like that going on at Papoose Lake Uh one worker even said that he knew this area as area S4 just like Bob Lazar referred to it as and it was strictly offlimits to these workers so they're curious Lazar says he was disturbed by his discovery and thought the public had a right to know about the research being conducted on alien technology He claims though that by violating his oath of secrecy the government has erased any and all of the records verifying his background There is no record of his employment at the Los Alamos Nuclear Laboratory Although a phone book was reportedly discovered which included Lazar's name and an extension number Lazar claims his educational record has also been purged from the schools he says he attended MIT and Caltech Both institutions claim he never was a student there Whether the educ problem with the educational credentials means that he's lying about the S4 that's not necessarily true It just means that you can't take his story uh in isolation You have to go and look for other stories And I still leave the open the door open to it I think it could be true Time after time Lazar has turned down opportunities to make a lot of money off of this There is a a movie deal in the works but time after time that has been shot down because Bob Lazar insisted that it be the real story not a Hollywood's fictionalized version To many however Lazar's motivations are as clear as the Nevada night sky Since his story was first publicized scores of UFO investigators believers in extraterrestrials and even curious tourists have treed the area just outside the borders of the secret base They gather at the black mailbox which belongs to a local rancher It's the only landmark for miles It is at this site that Chuck Clark claims to have periodically witnessed unidentified flying objects Glowing craft uh that take off from actually south of the the base out there itself in the next valley over Um and they seem to be capable of doing uh going from a dead stop to several thousand miles an hour stop on a dime do a 90 or 120° turn without decelerating things that just don't fall into our physics Clark says he first witnessed what he terms UFO technology over the base one evening in February of 1995 This video shot with a Sony night scope telephoto lens in late spring 1995 shows what appears to be a large glowing object just above the groom range The light appears to change in intensity and there are no normal aircraft strobes The light hovers above the groom range for about 30 seconds then disappears behind the mountain For a while what I thought was a illumination flare had risen from the airspace and uh uh hung motionless in the sky uh quite brilliant yellow white light about the size of the planet Jupiter or Venus or something like that Uh and then slowly descended and uh when it got down to the hill line instead of disappearing behind the hills as I expected it was in front of the hills uh it uh got down to 20 or 30 feet above the ground where it stopped and uh because it was quite bright it was illuminating the ground I could see clearly where it was and I was still of the opinion it was a flare I just thought it was blowing out from the base and that they were going to start a range fire with it And then suddenly the thing streaked sideways covered 4.8 miles distance in oh one to one and a half seconds I didn't clock it It's only an estimate But on the outside one and a half seconds and that's still in excess of 9,000 m an hour When it stopped it didn't slow down and stop It just stopped cold and it hovered for a few more seconds Then it vanished in place This home video was made by a visitor to the black mailbox who tries to keep in focus a bright light darting across a region just south of Area 51 The approximate location of S4 where Robert Lazar contends that nine alien spacecraft were based What in the world is it here at the black mailbox got people from Japan just up the road here We're at Groom Lake also recording the air channels I can hear jets in the background I'm going to zoom back a little bit This is looking straight over Steve Medlin's Ranch right here off 375 highway This is right over the peaks I'm panning way back for reference Casino reference I'm going zoom back in Moves away Comes forward Turn on headlights now Turn the headlights back off Headlights back on Looking for reference Got the 35 mph speed limit sign going back up above the mountain Boy this is hard to nail Trying to zoom in I'm maxed out on zoom Camera's perfectly still and this thing is all over the place The object seen in this home video is very similar to what Chuck Clark says he has seen on several occasions at this site Again he was too far to notice any detail in the object but could clearly witness its lightning speed movements It was about 13 1/2 miles distant from my position And then when it did come down in front of that hill and I could see precisely where it was it was still 12 mi from me And so I got the impression that this was about the size of a fuselage of an aircraft I think it was big enough to be you know piloted uh 30 40 foot across something like that But I was too far to see any uh uh any structure or any shape And it's also self luminous And sometimes also that's another thing that shows up Um apparently the luminosity is some sort of a byproduct of the propulsion system because quite often just before a maneuver is made the brightness will change It'll either intensify or dim a little Uh it sort of it sort of cues you that something's going to happen This video taken by a professional photographer shows a bright light in the distance above the base The object enters the camera's view in the lower right side of the frame It's moving so fast that it's difficult to see The object makes radical movements at extremely high speeds On several occasions the object leaves the screen then reappears then vanishes It blinks out then reappears Also notice the light's intensity increases just prior to acceleration We showed this tape to propulsion expert Mary Bowen for her analysis The things that seem very unusual about this um that we've just seen are the velocity that it appears to have and the fact that it seems to be doing these um uh turns and maneuvers that are not very aerodynamic and and a a vehicle with wings does fairly um slow controlled turns I mean relative to what we saw here If you want to start with the assumptions that um this vehicle is 13 or more miles away and um uh that it that it is doing this maneuver um in essentially the way you see it which is really a two-dimensional image that we're looking at um it is clearly traveling at a very fast rate of speed and it is doing a maneuver um that is not at all conventional for any sort of spacecraft or or more likely aircraft that I know of Um in in addition something that's traveling that fast would um normally is it's uh traveling if you calculate the velocity um it's faster than the speed of sound and therefore you would expect to hear some sort of a sonic boom um especially if you're only 13 miles away from um from this thing you would you know very likely hear it So it's a little confusing how you would get something traveling that fast and doing maneuvers like that without creating a sound um a sonic boom of some sort Um none of these things can easily be explained with any sort of uh technology that I know of right now On the other hand I'm much more willing to believe there are um simpler explanations than to think that it's some sort of a um alien spacecraft Although most of the mysterious sightings are from a distance of a dozen miles or more there are a few who say they have seen objects in the area at a much closer range Susan Low says she was with a friend near the black mailbox one night when she witnessed a bright orb And um the first thing we saw was a was a round discshaped craft that was on the horizon It was actually eye level to us It was not up in the air It was an orange shaped color glowing It was ground level It was really odd There were um some port holes what seemed to be kind of port holes around it And it was a really large craft because it must have been at least a mile and a half away from us And yet it was maybe it it probably was I mean I hesitate to say but it was a huge craft from where we were because it was big you know to us and it was probably a mile and a half away at least Then there is the experience of Bill Hamilton Hamilton is a UFO investigator He and an associate say they too had a close encounter near Mailbox Road As we continued to look another light came on to our right and I thought "Well that's up in the hill somewhere in the groom range where this light came on." So I told Pamela I said "You keep an eye on the original light and I'll keep an eye on this light." I said "We've got nothing else to do." Right so she went on talking and every now and then she'd look through her binoculars and then she tapped me on the shoulder and said "You better look at this original light It's beginning to brighten up And as I looked back I noticed that I could see a glow coming from the ground I said "What's going on here?" And suddenly coming up out of this glow right rising off the ground and tilting was an object that appeared to me to be about the size of a bus And it had lighted windows or rectangular lights on it Some of it was amber Some of it was blue white in color And at that point in time I'm saying "Oh my god." And I'm halfway kidding here I said "What are we looking at here is this a UFO?" I said "We're scanning the sky and something's coming up off the ground." At that point as I'm looking away and I'm looking back at the object through the binoculars this object is changing its configuration and it resolves itself into two bright orbs of light And we're continuing to look at it and I'm saying "Oh my goodness what is happening here?" Because this thing is changing shape I've never quite seen that before And as I continued to look the lights increase in brilliance and the lights became so brilliant I've never seen anything so bright at night To believers Hamilton's story and that of many others is proof that the government is testing alien spacecraft at or around Area 51 Now on any given night you will find people standing at the black mailbox looking skyward above the Groom Mountain Range Well I had a good look in the glasses and uh it went to the left and it hovered for a while It was pulsating and uh then it uh started off to the right and just disappeared You hear a lot of stories about what's going on what supposedly isn't going on You know there's no Area 51 there's no Groom Lake which is baloney Uh but there's also some strange sightings out here and we're curious We're very very curious and we want to see them Glenn Campbell is skeptical He believes that alien craft may once have been housed at Area 51 but has never seen any evidence that they are still there I first came here about 2 and a half years ago I heard the stories in the UFO literature that you could come to this mysterious desert location and see flying saucers on demand And this is a little bit too good to pass up So I came and I did the traditional thing which is to sit out in your car and watch the skies for a night or two and I saw fantastic lights all of which I came to understand were flares and other lights associated with the bombing runs and the military exercises out here I succeeded in explaining just about everything that I had heard in the UFO literature in terms of these lights So I began to dismiss most of it Most people come here wanting there to be alien life And this is a problem because when you really want something bad you're going to see the an ambiguous stimulus and turn it into whatever it is you want But there are some who never wanted to see a UFO such as Laray Fletcher Laorray had spent over 20 years living outside the base in the remote desert hamlet of Rachel Nevada In that time she had witnessed scores of high-tech jet aircraft crisscrossing the desert sky She says never once did she pay much attention but there was one encounter with a flying object that was different than all the others Rarely does she tell the story for fear of ridicule I was halfway between uh the top of Coyote Summit and the bottom of uh Queen City Summit Driving your car Driving my car coming home from the road No Well yes there was another car coming from I was going west The other car was going east What' you see what' I see okay We were coming I was coming There was nothing out there Absolutely nothing It was dark kind of a not a cloudy night but not really really clear too And as I was going I had gotten past the black mailbox maybe a tenth of a mile or so And off to my left there was a huge bank of lights And when I say huge I mean huge was the biggest thing I have ever seen in my life I have never been frightened of anything I've ever seen out here before but this frightened me I would say it was between maybe four and 500 ft off the ground And it was doing a jumping jack motion It was like we're trying to lift up and we can't It would lift up and then it would drop back down It would lift up and drop back down And it did this for oh maybe four five six minutes And then all of a sudden it just lifted off and was gone There was nothing there Just vanished Just vanished No vapor trail no sound no nothing Just vanished It was not saucer shaped It was more I don't know what you can call it Anyway it I guess if you tilted it it would look like a saucer The lights were like a port hole on a ship in the night Really they um they were all over the craft where we what we could see and they weren't blinking And they were steady light and they would uh the below the ship itself as it was going up and down was an orange light like maybe they were trying to see where they were at or it could have been heat I I can't explain it I really can't No one said anything No one did anything But it frightened me tremendously the other fellows that were coming from the other direction When they got there they stopped and uh one of them is an ex test site or X-51 worker and he made the remark "Oh my god how did this happen?" And uh it was just it was just very scary It was like there was something saying don't you come over here we won't come over there But there wasn't anything saying this It was just a feeling but we all had the same feeling that there was something Don't go over there You know some of my neighbors don't really like us to talk about this and I have to live here and other people come in here and they think you're nuts and let you make things up and but once you see it you don't make it up anymore If you're making it up In telling his story Robert Lazar says he was never told how the American government obtained the flying discs he had been hired to analyze Some believe the discs are from the legendary incident at Roswell New Mexico in 1947 It was there that a suspected UFO crashed on a ranch outside a nearby Air Force base If you believe these Roswell scenarios these crash scenarios where would they have brought the hardware this would be the logical location This is a remote location a place where you would bring something potentially dangerous that you don't know whether it's going to blow up You would want this big vast expansive land around you And this certainly provided it from all different directions I get sort of anecdotal uh stories about for example uh the worker I talked to never saw any saucers but his friend Joe saw saucers and his friend Joe is inaccessible or dead I have a lot of stories like that stories about construction workers who went into to construct uh small quarters with little tiny uh child's furniture in the quarters Again this is all quite unverifiable but there's a whole folklore rich folklore uh about how the alien presence is out here It's a very coherent folklore The story same stories come up again and again uh what the stories sort of seem to focus on is a scenario that started with the Saucer crashes in the 1940s and 50s Now everyone's heard about the Roswell crash uh in 1947 Uh one source tells me that there was a one in 1953 in Arizona and that was the beginning of our contact the US government's contact with alien life Uh this sort of scenario says that there were crashes we recovered craft we recovered alien bodies and we even recovered a few live bodies And those live bodies provided our initial contact Today you'll meet people who spent the better part of their lives trying to find out what it was And they say the US government covered it up What they really believe happened is the crash of a UFO There was no way you could uh construe it to be a weather balloon Well some friendly person in Washington called us and pointed out that this was restricted information He said "Well they told me not to say anything." A closer look Hi I'm Faith Daniels and welcome to a closer look at strange lights in the sky Experts are saying a lot of people are going to see them this week because of a rare astronomical event The planets Venus Jupiter and Mars are lining up And some folks are going to swear that they are seeing UFOs Well 44 years ago residents of Roswell New Mexico were sure they had seen a flying saucer They even heard it crash David Garcia takes a closer look They say it happened here almost 44 years ago Something some say a flying disc some say a weather balloon crashed in this field 75 miles outside of Roswell New Mexico Even today many people around here say it was a UFO a flying disc as it was reported in the local paper the next day They also believe there has been and continues to be a government cover up of what happened In 1947 Elizabeth Tulk's father was the local sheriff and she says after he got to the crash site the government got to him They told us my husband Mr Wilcox that she would say "Don't you say a word." So he he didn't and he was very calm about I mean he just didn't say anything In fact the air base commander issued a press release describing the crash of some sort of flying disc that made headlines Then hours later the Air Force announced there had been no UFO simply the crash of a weather balloon And when the general came in he told me not to say anything that he would handle it Army intelligence officer Jess Marcel senior had been one of the first government officials to examine the debris that was found at the scene interviewed shortly before his death in 1986 He continued to insist it came from a UFO I said "It looked like balsa wood It seemed it would seem lighter than balsa wood." So I got my cigarette lighter and I said "I want to see if this stuff will burn." It didn't A UFO a government cover up Not an easy story for most people to accept around Roswell the home in 1947 of the world's only atomic attack bomber group The people didn't question their government and for nearly 50 years they have lived with it For a closer look I'm David Garcia in Los Angeles After all the years of controversy a new book about the incident is coming out It is called UFO Crash at Roswell It's based on interviews with more than 300 people And the author retired Air Force Captain Kevin Randall is with us now After 44 years why should we care whether this happened or didn't happen probably the biggest story of the century maybe of a millennium We're talking about the contact of uh with life from other planets We finally learn that we're not alone in the universe This is the story that proves it to us But there have been so many alleged sightings Why should we believe that what happened in Roswell was really a UFO because this is the one sighting we have where we've got all the elements we need We've got over 300 witnesses people who were there who saw it We know that there was wreckage recovered The government has the wreckage We know that bodies were recovered The government has the bodies This will be the one case that can prove the whole phenomenon Give it the reality that it needs The government has wreckage and alien bodies Alien bodies Yes You say that so seriously And it's because it's absolutely true We have probably If it's so true why haven't we heard about it you have heard about it You just have ignored it This stuff stuff has leaked into the press a number of times and the story is so incredible It's what we call a self-keeping secret People don't want to believe it They read the story and they ignore it We can go back through the newspapers and the news magazines from 1947 on We can find the story appearing periodically Sometimes it's around Aztec New Mexico Sometimes it's involved other things But we can find it appearing and people just ignore that So we have heard about it if it's the biggest story of the century Why would the government cover it up in 1947 we just come out of one of the most disastrous wars that had ever been fought In 1947 they didn't know what they were dealing with They were presented with a technology was so far superior to ours that they needed to keep it covered up In 1961 the Brookings Institute did a report for the United States uh Senate or for the for NASA And in that they talked about what would happen if there was a confrontation between people of Earth and an extraterrestrial society And the conclusions were based on our own history that when a superior civilization confronts an inferior civilization the inferior civilization ceases to exist Well allow me to raise an eyebrow for the next 30 minutes if you will because we're going to we'll come back and talk to you a little bit later Right now we're going to head out to Roswell and find out what the people there are saying And we have some people who say they absolutely believe it We're still talking about what happened back in 1947 In places like the cafe at Roswell Inn folks will gladly sit down a cup of coffee and try to convince you that it really happened At the cafe this morning we have three people who remember what happened Walter Hot Art McQuitty and Glenn Dennis Hi guys Hey Hi How are you walter tell me how you fit into this puzzle What were you doing back in 47 well Fay back in uh 1947 I was a public relations officer for at that time Roswell Army Airfield I was the one that prepared the news release and sent it or took it in to the newspapers and the radio stations And that was a extent of my activity uh in so far as a flying saucer crash uh is concerned Who gave you the order to to issue this press release it came from Colonel Blanchard who was a base commander Uh he called me on the phone and told me particulars of the uh information that he had and asked me to get the release out and take it into the news media which I did Did he seem like a guy who had just seen a UFO i honestly can't remember what he sounded like Uh that's been 44 years ago Uh I don't think he was that emotional of an individual that you could tell by his voice Uh whether he was excited or it was just a normal situation for him After you typed up this press release saying there was a UFO though I can't imagine it could be a normal situation for anybody Out comes this weather balloon press release that contradicts everything Well I think that was part of the cover up and it's quite possible that this went a little bit further in that the press release may have been the start of a cover up that evolved around stating that we had it and then while people were talking about it in the community and then coming back and saying "Well it was a weather balloon." which pretty well squelched all the uh rumors about it being a flying saucer Art you were the editor at the paper when Walter walked in and handed you a press release saying that the military thinks that a UFO has just crashed What did you do when you saw that release i about jumped out of my skin I was I I firmly believe that all of the people who were reporting saucers were really seeing them And so when they brought the press release in saying that they had discovered the wreckage of a UFO although they didn't call them that in those days they were called saucers Uh I got very excited and I turned to the AP ticker in our office and lo and behold the story was already on the ticker and I said "Walter what the heck are you doing you scooped this." It turns out that uh they took turns giving the press releases and the one of the radio stations had already moved it Then they come back at you and say it was a weather balloon Did you buy the weather balloon theory no I did not buy it because I firmly believed that what people were seeing were from another celestial organization and and I I was very comfortable that they had found the wreckage of the saucer All right on to Glenn Dennis Glenn you were the base funeral director at the time How did you get involved in this well I wasn't the base funeral director I was a funeral director at the Ballard funeral home in Roswell at the time and uh I got I received a telephone call from the uh mortuary officer at the air base uh inquiring about certain types of casket sizes like 3 foot 6 in or foot casket and uh what was available and how many what did we have in stock and I informed them we only had like a 4 foot but we could get whatever they needed within 24 hours You must have thought that was a little odd to have that kind of a request And then you came upon a nurse who said that she saw alien bodies Well the nurse uh she was a nurse there at the base that I knew quite well Uh she would walked in on this unintentionally She went into one of the examining rooms to uh pick up some supplies and uh she uh the doctors there was two doctors two pathologists that were doing a a partial autopsy on that looked like she said we have a drawing that you apparently drew based on her description of it Well she gave me a description She drew that description for me uh on the back of a a prescription pad that she always carried in her purse I mean in her uniform there Do you do you ever find out what happened to that nurse no we never have I haven't heard from her since All right guys Thanks a lot for sharing your part of the story We're going to continue to unravel the mystery in just a moment We'll meet someone who says he actually handled parts of the wreckage when a closer look comes back We're back now on a closer look Our next guest was 11 years old back in 1947 Jesse Marcel Jr is the son of Air Force major sent to inspect the wreckage And he was there when his dad brought some of that wreckage home You actually saw this stuff well I handled it uh as it was brought in from the car and placed on our kitchen floor in the house in Roswell What did it look like well it is a lot of uh foil like fragments with uh opaite type pieces of plastic and then structural members like a I-beam type material Had you ever seen anything like that before not really Never Not not to my knowledge No Could it have been a weather balloon i had seen weather balloons because I was given one one time by my dad but it was not that I assure you that Now I read a newspaper account from the time and the rancher who collected this debris described it as foil and sticks and paper and tape Does that look like what you saw uh I didn't see any paper or sticks but I saw it was all metal and some pieces of plastic The newspaper account at the time said that the the debris gathered up completely weighed about five pounds Could a could a UFO weigh 5 pounds well not a real UFO I wouldn't think So what do you think this was that you were handling it was a very remarkable piece of M And you know it had writing on it that was very strange That was the part that really set it off from anything that I had ever seen was the type of writing that was embossed or imprinted on the inner surface of these I beams that were in there Would you liken it to hieroglyphics or um I thought of it as resembling hieroglyphics at the time but uh not really but just resembling hieroglyphics It was kind of a purple violet hue embossed on the inside of Have you ever seen anything like this since then no sure not Is it possible that it was like an enemy spy satellite or something unless they're using strange material strange writing What happened to it after it left your kitchen well I helped my dad load it back onto the car and he took off for the air base and that was the last I saw it Yeah And what about your dad what did he do with it then i understand he flew it to Carswell Air Base that night or the next day I'm not sure Would they have given so much attention to a weather balloon it doesn't seem likely No not to fly a a weather balloon to Carwell and a B29 which is not very cost effective Why didn't you try to keep any of it i didn't I was Air Force It's not my material Play by the rules You bet That's right Your daddy firmly believes that what he saw was a UFO We discussed it later and uh that was the only thing we could come up with That was the only thing that he could conclude That was it Do you also believe that there was a government cover up i think there was because he was part of it He was part of it in what way well he had to then uh backtrack on the flying saucer uh story and uh put out the story that this was a weather balloon but I assure you it was not a weather balloon And he didn't buy the weather balloon No ma'am Sure not But he was Air Force He went along with it All right Major Thanks a lot for talking with us Closer look We'll come back after this We're back on a closer look We're joined again by retired Air Force Captain Kevin Randall who authored the book on entitled UFO Crash at Roswell Also joining us is Stanton Friedman a nuclear physicist He has interviewed many of the witnesses and is still pursuing the release of the official government documents in the case Welcome Why are you still so interested after all this time biggest story of the millennium As Kevin said earlier I started research on this in the mid70s The more I dug into it the more believable it was the more evidence we found I've been interested in flying saucers for over 30 years and this is the key case and I think it's one that everybody in the world ought to be interested in but trying to get people to speak out is difficult Do you think there was a government cover up there there's no question about that Not only about this case but lots of other UFO cases What does the government have to gain if it's the biggest story of the millennium well several different things it has to gain First of all it means it has access to technology that might enable it to build better weapons delivery and defense systems since they can fly circles around anything We got you got wreckage Good place to start Second you worry about what if the other guy figures out how they work before you do How do you defend against them you don't want them to know You know they know And the third is the big political question If you make an announcement that indeed there are alien spacecraft is going to be a push by the younger generation for an Earthling orientation obviously to aliens We're all earthlings No government on this planet that wants its citizens to owe their allegiance to the planet instead of them You're such a smart intelligent guy and we're talking about earthlings and aliens That's because I've been studying the evidence for 30 years It's time the media got involved in studying the evidence We're here We're involved We're working on it Yes Tell me why the aliens chose Roswell I don't speak for aliens but New Mexico was unique in the world at that time as the only place where he could look at the three aspects that showed that Earthlings would be going to the stars Three new technologies And if you were an alien at that time you'd worry about Earthlings coming out of primitive society One was atom bombs First test was not far from where this happened Second was rockets We were firing German V2s not far from when where this happened Third was radar Our best radar was used to track the uh rockets There was only one place in the world Remember that the group involved in this Major Marcel this was the only atomic bombing group in the entire world And he was the intelligence officer for that group Well and high level clearances aware of everything else that was going on satellite or there were no satellites First satellite didn't go up for 10 years after that So there goes that right out the window 10 years is a long time You know we have a statement from the Air Force It says there's been no evidence indicating sightings categorized as unidentified are extraterrestrial vehicles Now the stating the statement goes much beyond that And they say in the possession of the Air Force if you read the original statements and in the first place the way national security works there's no reason to believe what the Air Force says about anything I mean the black budget of the United States not under congressional control is now running at $34 billion a year The National Security Agency alone spends over 10 billion a year Half the people in my lecture audiences As a scientist I've spoken to over 600 colleges I get a good feedback Half the people have never heard of the NSA So if you can hide 34 billion a year hiding a few saucers lying a few times I mean here here's what you get under freedom of information from the National Security Agency Here's a released UFO document This deals with UFOs from the CI they're handing you Yeah This is what you get Took me five years to get this released CIA UFO document You can read eight words Our government at work Yeah I mean this is the magic key that opens all the doors You know here's a 33y old document I just got it two months ago That's what you can read about it So people have the wrong idea that uh there can't be a cover up It's very easy to have a cover up And the crash at Roswell is an important component of that Kevin you interviewed 300 people some many of them eyewitnesses Did you ever actually interview somebody who said that they saw with their own eyes alien bodies yes we've probably interviewed half a dozen people that saw the alien bodies with their own eyes There's no question about it They were on the impact site We were told security at the impact site was extremely tight There were armed guards around the uh the craft itself armed guards around the area and armed guards thrown in a corner around there So you couldn't even use the roads to get into the area I tell you what you you guys have a convincing argument going All right a closer look We'll come back after this We're back now on a closer look with the mayor of Roswell William Brainer Mayor how did you first hear about these UFOs well good morning Faith Uh my first uh knowledge of it came in 1965 some 12 years after I got here Uh we issued invitations to all the past commanders of the base to come for a weekend and 23 generals showed up Uh one of them was uh Butch Blanchard who was then a four-star general and most of the people there in Roswell now believe that this happened at this time Yeah I don't know There's a certain amount of skepticism around but uh I think at this point uh given the continuing and increasing evidence uh it's becoming harder and harder to refute it Well you're having a UFO day there so somebody's got to buy it When is UFO we are Uh that'll be on July the 10th when Mr Randall and Mr Schmidt will be here the authors of the book They'll hold a symposium uh go over some of the evidence and uh uh kind of bring the public up to speed with what their uh book uh details All right Mr Mayor thanks a lot for talking with us today I still have the two people with me here in New York and I want to continue our conversation for the few seconds that we have left to find out if anybody ever threatened people you tried to get at Yes Yes We both have talked to people who said that they were threatened In some cases their families were threatened The government strength at that time just after the war was very powerful When they told you not to say anything most people didn't say anything And we've talked to people now who says "I signed a security oath I can't talk about 44 years ago." Take it one step further We've talked to people today who have told us that lately within the last year they have been threatened So the government cover up continues today They don't want the government tracks these people for 44 years Absolutely They know where they know where They know where everybody Dennis said that a nurse saw the autopsies being done Did you ever find her no We've tried very hard to find her Gone She was shipped out and then supposedly there was a plane crash but we can't verify the plane crash We think we know what what happened to her but we haven't been able to locate her Interesting Closer look comes back Tough And now that school's out for most kids we've decided to look at topics of special interest to kids on Monday a closer look at Ninja Turtles and what they do to your kids We'll see you next time Uh this sort of scenario says that there were crashes we recovered craft we recovered alien bodies and we even recovered a few live bodies and those live bodies provided our initial contact Since then since 1953 uh the alien information was all taken out of the government agencies that had it The CIA doesn't have it The NSA doesn't have it All this information was brought into another government agency which to this day does not exist that agency um one source calls it the satellite government the separate agency uh has been reproducing these craft and has been successful in doing it We started with their technology in 1953 we we are unable to fly their craft So they teach us how to reproduce these craft and now we have them and who knows what we're doing with them I can't tell you this scenario is true or false but it it comes up again and again from a lot of unverified sources I know of two sources both who are telling this story both of whom can't be entirely verified One is Bob Lazar of course telling his tale And the other one is is uh an old fellow 70 years 70 years old who who claims that he was uh worked with simulators that he helped design simulators to train pilots to fly our versions of these alien flying saucers Now this makes a certain cracked amount of sense If the government is reproducing saucers then it has to have this support structure including the building of flight simulators and and all the other things that go into the an aircraft development program His story like Lazar is highly specific He can tell he can talk in great technical detail about how the craft works about the systems that he designed And then as you're getting to other areas like the aliens and what their agenda may be he lo knows a lot less information because obviously these programs are highly compartmentalized you don't know the whole picture He was directly briefed about how the alien program started and he was directly told that these were alien craft that he was uh reproducing Uh the briefings consisted of uh a description of how the program started and the program started in 1953 with a crash in near near Kingman Arizona There were four live aliens in that crash In fact it didn't really seem like a crash at all because the ship was in perfect condition and the aliens were in perfect condition My source believes it was a setup What uh this began was a form of cooperation between a secret government agency and the aliens The aliens gave us technology They taught us how to build these craft And obviously the aliens are getting something else in return It's not entirely clear what that is but there are some elements involved And my source says boron and arsenic are the two elements Um so this is a nice coherent story and I I I receive it as oral folklore as oral history like someone telling me about how the Hoover Dam was built or some old event that I I can't participate in in directly It's that has that sort of legitimacy and that sort of feel to it But of course this is a non-existent program It's highly secret and I can't verify any of this stuff Neither can anyone else But that hasn't stopped scores from trying And while most UFO investigators use their eyes to help unlock the mysteries of Area 51 there are a few who use their ears Ralph McCarron and his friends are experts at cracking secret radio frequencies They call themselves the freak masters In the daytime they monitor cockpit transmissions from aircraft flying near and around Nellis Air Force Base which occasionally stages air combat games known as Red Flag But it's at night that the group turns its antenna towards Area 51 in the attempt to decode radio traffic at the super secret base They listen for transmissions between the air tower and flights into the base as well as the radio traffic from the security detail which combs the surrounding hills looking for trespassers Some of their methods they use are ground sensors When your vehicle passes by on the road it's sensed and a radio signal is sent to their control room alerting them that you're already in the area Again that's on public land and actually is not supposed to be legal but they use it to their advantage Gives them early warning when we're in the area Uh if you're listening they're security freaks They immediately come alive Fortunately it's scrambled so we can't tell what they're saying But at that time you'll notice security vehicles entering the area you're going into They don't seem to want to make contact with you But they let you know they're there and they keep an eye on you the entire time You could see anything from conventional aircraft to uh lights that seem to shoot across the sky at incredible speeds Uh lights doing just incredible maneuvers in the sky which I find totally unexplainable Doesn't seem like we have that capability that I'm aware of Yeah I'd like you to be uh able to find out just what these vehicles are There's no doubt about it There's something out there What is going on the answer depends on who you talk to Obviously the government is hiding something But what and if it is flying saucers from an alien planet why would they be so careless as to conduct nightly displays over the desert floor chuck Clark believes that the government despite all its secrecy may have welcomed the emergence of Area 51 as the international home for UFO viewing He believes there is a chance Uncle Sam is attempting to introduce the public to the existence of extraterrestrial life He says it may be part of a program undertaken years ago at the advent of the space age Yeah Well that was one of the things that our government looked at back in the late 50s very early 60s when we were about to send man up in into space uh uh NASA went to the Brookings Institute and I believe they also threw this at the Rand Corporation in Santa Monica which were both think tanks and uh so okay now we're about to go into space what happens if we get up there and we meet somebody how do we tell the people of the world and it wasn't how do we keep it from them it's how do we tell them and basically they came back with their study and they said um we have a 30-year plan where you start with wild unsubstantiated rumor mixed with disinformation and and over the period you get more and more accurate and you condition them to soften the blow And I think that's what's been going on If that is true that the government is conditioning the public into accepting that we have been visited by aliens from another planet they sure picked a lonely spot for such a cosmic introduction Scalded by the desert sun each summer withered by the freezing winds in winter nothing comes easy in this part of the world Not for the ranchers whose cattle graze on sparse vegetation and who must often drill deep for groundwater to keep their animals from dying of thirst Not for the miners The tungsten and silver mines died out long ago The ore is still in the ground but it is cheaper to import it from other countries than to dig it out Remnants of a once thriving industry can be found throughout the desert A fine lung clogging dust in the shaft of this mine was believed to have led many miners to an early death The mine itself was known as the Widowmaker The community of Delmare which served the mine is now a ghost town The businesses and families having moved away long ago Among the few tiny hamlets which continued to survive is this loose collection of double wide trailers a town named for an infant Uh the first baby that was born here in the valley and was delivered by her father So they wanted a name for the town It had been called Sand Springs or just Tempute Mountain and they decided that they would like to have a name for it And when uh the Joneses named little the little girl and named her Rachel I they thought that would be nice to honor little Rachel by naming the town after her As it turned out the honor took on a new and tragic significance Rachel Jones and her family moved to Moses Lake Washington after the tungsten mine where her father had been working closed Three years after her birth Rachel Jones died the result of a respiratory condition doctors believed was aggravated by volcanic ash spewed from the eruption of Mount St Helens Girl's namesake hasn't changed much over time The Department of Energy still has a monitoring station here to test the atmosphere for radioactive fallout from the nuclear tests conducted upwind at the Mammoth Nevada test site Some of those who live here are seasonal ranch ants who work on nearby cattle ranches A few are retired living off pensions and social security And there is a quiet low-key group of Area 51 employees There is a post office a one room grocery store and a restaurant run by Pat and Joe Travis It was called the Rachel Bar and Grill when they first purchased it Business consisted of dinners and drinks for a few local patrons each night Tourists were few and far between although they occasionally did get a motorist taking the dusty trail known as Highway 375 the YZ trail connecting Yusede to Zion National Park in Utah But then came Bob Lazar's tale of extraterrestrial spacecraft And all of a sudden the curious started showing up searching for flying saucers So wife and I we just uh I know I said we'd need to change the name of this place you know and cuz we we had added the rooms There was never any rooms here before So uh we needed one name We had the little three motel and Joe and Patch Rachel Bar and Girl you know so need to consolidate it under one name So we just kind of kicked names around and we came up with a little alien The accommodations aren't what you might call out of this world Joe and Pat rent out trailers in the back for those spending the night There's no wine list on the dinner menu but the little alien has become the unofficial meeting spot for those who come here seeking to find answers in the Nevada night sky More than anything this is a place where everybody can come and talk about anything they want to If they've been abducted we can discuss that If they want to talk about the government they can do that If they want to talk about sightings they can do that Any experience under the sun that somebody has had is welcome to be talked about here We don't hide it A lot of people come in and they're they're really off in the corner They don't want to say why they even came up here But I say "Look we can talk about this It's not taboo up here." UFO photographs adorn the wall including a poster of the base just over the mountains There's merchandise from t-shirts to postcards Breakfast lunch and dinner are served daily And regardless of what time it is there will usually be someone with a sympathetic ear for your story Well this one lady that uh sticks in my mind came up She was a young young lady about 30 35 maybe and she had felt that she had been abducted and she was afraid to talk to anyone about it you know She felt that she maybe had a transplant or something you know implant in her body or something you know and she was really uptight And uh we we talk with people and and people can vent their spleen because nobody's going to laugh or ridicule them here you know I mean the every every uh person has a right to their uh to their story and and we won't laugh Nobody nobody will laugh at them here I think 90% maybe 95% of the people even 98% are really genuinely honest about what they tell us whether they've been abducted I don't think we get very many if you want to call them cooks crackos Occasionally there are there is one but that's that's not the that's the exception It's not the rule There are a lot of disbelievers There have been disbelievers even in reporters but then they've also had those that came as a disbeliever and left here feeling that they had been given a lot more than they ever came out to knowledge that that maybe perhaps wouldn't be available elsewhere I feel a lot of people that are skeptical or they uh total totally disbelieve They come out to see what they can see you know may perhaps learn a little bit in the meantime It's something different to do We also get a lot of travelers from other countries that come here and a lot of them of course aren't even aware that our theme our our talk thing is the aliens or UFOs or encounters but we have learned so much about other countries and the same sort of thing that's actually happened in their countries because after a few minutes even a lot of those people from other countries will talk to us about things that have happened in relate a story that happened in their country you know like France or Germany or Switzerland where wherever it might be And we have actually had phone calls from Belgium from England from Holland asking us if the stories that they have seen in their country about us are facts from Paris Got a call one morning from Paris and the things that are on our walls from Japan They're authentic The man that did them has been here a couple of times Sometimes the calls are from news reporters Some are people planning a one-day diversion during their trip to Las Vegas And others simply want to hear stories about strange encounters with aliens And if nobody is in the bar to accommodate Joe and Pat Travis have some stories of their own to relate Happened twice She's she's the one that uh she says they're here right here in the room with her I said "Well talk to them I can't see them You know she was the one that could see them I I couldn't Beam of light came in through the back door The first winter we were here It illuminated the entire door jam We were the only two people here It was 20 below zero outside So we realized the doors were not standing open It was actually physically closed completely and through the door And that's why on our postcard Joe and I are standing in front of that door because that is the same door that this light came through It left no burn marks no marks of any kind on the door But it's that's the truth because we were Were you scared at all no No It was a very pleasant uh feeling Well we felt a presence of energy if you will I don't know what you know you felt someone looking at you You know you look around and someone's looking at you Well this is this is a presence that we felt He told it out loud to make itself at home that it would always be welcome to be here And I have felt from the beginning that that some force brought some call it fate destiny whatever you know some force brought us to this place uh guided us or whatever brought us here Anyway and then this is a feeling that we both share you know because when I I lived in Detroit just outside Detroit for 30 years and I hate wintertime and cold And I told a wife I there's two things I don't do I don't cut grass and I don't shovel snow When we got married but yet we are here you know and uh he still doesn't cut grass but with the tractor he will shovel snow You get a might of snow but I have a tractor that still snow But if the little alien is Rachel's meeting spot this is the town's library The Area 51 research center is run by UFO investigator Glenn Campbell as an information clearing house for everything from government land grabs around the base to the latest Hollywood studio interested in making a movie about Area 51 Every book that has ever mentioned the base is sold here along with a model of the flying disc described by Robert Lazar There's even a book on how to teach your children to live with extraterrestrials There are hats patches and t-shirts maps and photographs of the base itself As with the little alien the Area 51 research center gets requests for information from around the globe From here the traveler can get directions to the base along with warnings as to what will happen if you aren't careful Area 51 may not appear to be a highly secure military base There are no fences surrounding its 12m wide perimeter but deadly force is authorized for the security detail which comb the mountains Photographs are not allowed and if you take one step over the base boundary you will immediately be detained cited and arrested There was a time when a visitor could get a glimpse of Area 51 without risking arrest Freedom Ridge as it was called gave visitors a distant but unobstructed view of Area 51 such a good view that recently the Air Force asked and received permission to take the property out of public control It is now military property and off limits to the public But if you were able to see the base there's a good chance you wouldn't see much It's best not seen because if you see it if you climb one of these mountains to look down on the secret base what you see looks like any other ordinary Air Force base There's most of the traffic in and out is routine uh commercial type airliners bringing workers in or military type planes If you saw a secret plane you might not even recognize it So a lot of people are disappointed when they come up here They come from vast distances as far away as Europe and Asia some of them to see Area 51 And then when you see it well it's not much different than it is in the pictures Besides according to Bob Lazar's story the base with the alien flying saucers isn't Area 51 but Papu Stry Lake in a valley to the south which is completely surrounded by mountains Now Bob Lazar never said he worked with alien craft at Area 51 He said at Papoose Lake south of Area 51 Unfortunately you can't see this area You can't visit this area Uh there's no way to investigate this While you do have this secret base that is nearer to the public and easier to look at So everyone has focused on Area 51 So many have focused on the base over the past several years that the state of Nevada has seized upon the interest in UFOs to promote the region as a tourist destination The state recently proclaimed Route 375 which runs through Rachel Nevada as the extraterrestrial highway a road which many have already taken in the search for alien spacecraft Although some come not because they believe in flying saucers but because they are fascinated by those who do Uh it's a fascinating story even if there really aren't any um flying saucers alien spacecraft Um just the study of human nature how people can come to perceive certain things Um how some people may have an interest in promoting that Um I am interested in how it's possible for a perfectly reasonable person not a cook you know not someone that's just subject to wishful thinking can see something in the sky that really looks inexplicable but yet if you work on it a little bit you can you can come up with possible explanations of what it is Uh I've I've uh had more fun here in the last couple days talking to everybody than I've had in a long time Everybody loves a secret base just tell the public here this place doesn't exist you can't look there then of course the public wants to know people love a mystery and this this place embodies a mystery uh they could the military planners could handle things so much better if they gave the base a name and perhaps invited a few journalists to the cafeteria then the place would lose its mystique as as it is now the government doesn't acknowledge the base at all aside from a few sentences and a press release so naturally it attracts attention attention People want to know and people also impress upon this place anything they want it to be It becomes the center of the new world order or the center of whatever conspiracy you're knitting for yourself And this is a fascinating process quite apart from what might be in the base itself If you were if if a public relations manager were to design a base that's intended to attract attention they would design a base like this one one that the government simply doesn't talk about I approach it as an interesting story a story that I want to collect but my life goes on as usual without knowing the truth one way or the other But some do want to know and don't mind traveling great lengths to find out They are the people who gather on a warm summer's night at the black mailbox off Highway 375 No doubt hoping that someday there will be a public explanation for those strange lights that dart about the Nevada night sky Above a region that has now become famous around the world as the home of unidentified flying objects a geological map designation Area 51 Heat up Heat up here Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat Heat We just visit for you I don't think my father fix

one of the discoveries that emerged out of uh modern quantum theory is that uh so-called empty space isn't really empty at all it's actually full of energy so instead of being like kind of a quiet empty Lake it's more like the froth at the base of a waterfall or something and this energy is basically electromagnetic in nature and uh the energy density is uh quite high in fact it's so high that when it was first discovered mathematically it was thought to be some kind of artifact of the mathematics but then as time went on there were even Nobel prize winning experiments that showed that this energy in so-called empty space was really there we don't usually notice it because um it's so homogeneously distributed it sort of be like sitting in a bathtub with uh at exactly your body temperature you might not notice notice the water but under certain circumstances it can be um Disturbed or perturbed and then it has has effects as I mentioned some some effects on atomic emission for example is what eventually ended up in a Nobel Prize for Willis lamb of Y University it's called the lamb shift and this is a recognition that in fact uh this energy disturbs atoms so atoms aren't sitting in a void they're sitting in the sea of energy so once uh Quantum theorists realized that energy was there the next question was well is there any way to tap it and it was thought originally that probably not it might be like trying to tap the heat energy around us and uh you can quickly prove for thermodynamic reasons that uh it'll take more energy to tap it than you'd get out of it so you don't come out ahead but back in about 1984 researcher a huge laboratory the name of Robert forward uh showed that there was a particular Effect called the Casmir effect which demonstrated that in fact this energy could be taed well when you go to look at the numbers you find out that there's enough energy in the volume of a coffee cup to evaporate all the world's oceans if you could get it all of it so this raised the issue among uh theorists well can we manipulate this energy uh could we attap it for space flight application for example and um there are a couple ways to go could we get propulsion out of it could we use it as an energy source and so these are the areas that modern there is looking at but one of the more interesting aspects is that if in fact it does look like there's a route from here to there then you know we consider the possibility that well maybe there are other civilizations who've been down this track ahead of us and so it opens up the possibility that you can't reject the possibility of for example ET visitation out of hand usually here where you Einstein

said you can't go fast and speed of light well that's something out of special Theory relativity and it really is that you can't take an object and speed it up and then through the light barrier because it take an infinite amount of energy Mass to do it but it turns out it's a faulty conclusion to say therefore you can't go fast and speed of light because once you get into general relativity you have some options the options are to change the properties of space itself so that locally the velocity of light is engineered to be faster than the usual value the best way to explain how it is uh how how it comes about is that it's actually the idea of uh stretching space expanding space on one side of the craft and shrinking space on the other so that you're not only moving forward through space if a space itself is like moving forward in a rubber sheet while at the same time you're pulling the rubber sheet and expanding it so then relative to the outside environment you can be going at say the speed of light along the rubber sheet but if the rubber sheet itself is moving relative to the rest of the universe then your net motion is faster than the speed of light so the implication then is well if you can manipulate this 0 point energy C get it out of the way then something tried to accelerate you it would it would be easy you would have no quote inertia be you know rather than using humongous amounts of energy to um try to propel you through this tremendous Force drag that you get from the vacuum fluctuations um you could throw bbb's out the back I suppose and take off like a shot and so in fact the air force uh was sufficiently interested in that that they set up a program called Mass modification in which I and my colleagues were interviewed to find out the all the details of our modeling inertia as a vacuum fluctuation phenomena that might in principle be manipulated to see if there was a possibility in some Far distant future of reducing the inertia of a spaceship so that ordinary propulsive means could be used with relatively low energy requirements and so they did a year-long study and uh went around to various uh universities and Laboratories and ask people to tell them about um experiments they might be able to do to determine whether our model was correct so again there's there's another indication that uh these are not just uh Fringe scientists with science fiction ideas uh but the basically the these are kind of mainstream ideas being published in mainstream physics journals and being taken seriously by mainstream um military and uh NASA type funders whole volume of space would be in a special state so um the pilots for example would not feel inertial forces either and so under those conditions of promoting situation which you get rapid inertia of a spaceship um the people inside would under those same space manipulated conditions not feel tremendous inertial forces uh here at the institute for advanced studies uh one of our main interest is exploring the possibility of uh tapping or mining this vacuum fluctuation Energy Zero Point Energy by way we call it zero point because even if you froze the universe down all the way down to absolute zero where most motion would be frozen out this energy would still be there it's a very fundamental kind of energy but we're looking to see if we can extract it for many uses not just space flight application um I mean the the grand uh outcome would be that if you could use it uh to power everything from electric toothbrushes to aircraft carriers to automobiles to homes to to space flight uh one of the main U areas of Interest actually um in terms of potential use that we've been approached by many people there a possibility of having a very cheap energy source for desalinization which is very hard to make antimatter in large quantities and uh keep it bottled up uh but it has been it has been done um protons antiprotons have been generated in accelerator experiments and then captured and and kept uh contained for some periods of time so that that's an area that I know the Air Force has has been interested in and

and pursues research on uh you know sometime before this Millennium is out I'm certain that uh probably that will come to use if there aren't other Alternatives that that are simpler I routinely make presentations and briefings to various branches of the government um I've been taken out an aircraft carriers by the Navy and shown what it is that we have to replace if we have new energy sources to uh provide new fuel methods um of course NASA is funding some of these breakthrough propulsion physics ideas the Air Force various labs in the Air Force are pursuing um fundamental studies on these kind of exotic ideas so so there's a lot of uh government interest it's getting to the point where Modern theoretical physicists are are loath to rule out any possibility I mean now we're talking about U parallel universes and membranes of many dimensions and uh I mean the physics is is just getting as wild as it can possibly be and sandwiched in among all those alternative possibilities is the possibility that uh some of these Concepts might actually play a role in in space flight application where um civilizations ourselves in the future or maybe more advanced ET civilizations in present could perhaps uh travel long distances in relatively short times of course we see claims uh and not just uh among the public but among uh military pilots and um good observers uh typically in the military that there appear to be something like craft flying around with anomalous behavior on the other hand in terms of some of the characteristics that seem to be attributed to them um and giving the kind of physics and the direction physics is going can't rule out that uh maybe maybe some are are some kind of craft or probes maybe even more likely probes and craft from some Far Away civilization of course one of the Intriguing things uh as we start looking into the possibility of reducing inertia um and so on and then you see these supposed sightings in the sky which turn on a dime right angle turn and so on and the reason we used to reject those out of hand was that it appeared to be there was no inertia there and until recently that was sort of an inconceivable idea to a physicist so I think physicist is probably pretty Justified and say you know that that doesn't sound like anything I can imagine to be a craft could imagine it to be some form of plasma phenomena or whatever but not a craft and so now as we get this new evidence that well okay maybe in Nur can be modified then it does make you sort of sit back and take a second thought about it but when you consider that uh our electromagnetic technology is you know a century old basically then realize that you could have advanced civilizations out there that are Millennia Beyond us there really is no way of of saying whether they might have some other way of making contact or find other ways like wormholes of just sending probes here or whatever could be well beyond our imagine the case that NORAD has uncorrelated targets um that they can't account for and um from time to time satellites see things called Fast Walkers seem to be energetic um signatures uh moving faster than can be accounted for by known planes for example people of some credibility and credentialing are willing to come forth and say despite the gigue factor for this area we think there's something there that should be taken more seriously well it's it's another Mark that um kind of an idea whose time has come to take this seriously this should not be an area considered taboo by modern scientists here you have a guy who shows up before congressional committees doing whistleblowing activities ities and under circumstances where a lot of people if they could find holes in his credibility would have been more than glad to try to destroy his stories and his credibility and they didn't and so then you suddenly have a fellow like that coming forward and saying that U he has evidence from his own experience that uh there was crash retrievals and technologies that he personally was involved in Distributing out why would a guy with that kind of background

make it up I had a chance to ask him about it once and he said well the way it came out in the book is not exactly the way it was but uh it's really that uh we waited until there were developments in regular American industry and then uh we would Sol stuff here that might accelerate those developments it isn't that the developments got started on the Bas of what we had because we didn't want anybody to know we had it you can't uh probably dismiss it out of hand because it's hard to come up with a reason why he would have just made it up because he's a very sort of patriotic kind of guy so that is really an enigma this shows this shows the Cutaway you can see the uh the four ejection seats actually there there are two facing us but there are also two that are sort of facing away from us on the other side of that Central column you can see the uh the oxygen tanks down here in the corner uh that that actually go all the way around the inside of the skirt

i work principally as a conceptual artist most of my clients are in the defense industry i occasionally work directly for the military but most of the time I work for civilian corporations that are defense contractors they build weapon systems and things for the military worked for all the major defense contractors i worked for General Dynamics Lockheed Northrup McDonald Douglas Boeing Rockwell International Honeywell Allied Signal Corporation um and and it was a very enjoyable very lucrative business and just before I went into college um in ' 67 when I was at Westover Air Force Base um had this uh Gilbert Science Company 80 power reflector telescope and everything and um one night before I was going to go to bed um took the dog out you know to go to the bathroom and stuff it was in March or February of ' 67 and I saw this light moving across the sky and then it just kind of stopped and there wasn't any noise so I took the dog back in the house i brought out my telescope and I watched this thing through the telescope for about 10 minutes and then it in fact it was hovering directly over the facility where they kept the nuclear weapons the storage facility near the alert hangers at Westover Air Force Base and it started to move off and it it uh moved off slowly and kind of wandered around the sky and then all of a sudden just was gone like it been fired out of a gun i was just out of sight in just a second or two it all started coming together when I was working at Introvision and John Epalito talked about this um interview that he had done with a person who had for some reason had wound up walking up to or near a hanger at a um a section of a military an air force base and had seen a flying saucer in the hanger and then he was uh arrested and hauled off and blindfolded and debriefed and all this sort of thing this fellow Mark Stambbau apparently according to Roger Turner had developed a an experiment that um created a kind of levitation um in some circles it's been called electrogravitic uh levitation or anti-gravity and what he did was he apparently acquired a high voltage power source DC direct current power source and he um took a couple of quarter inch thick uh copper plates about a foot in diameter uh with a lead coming out of the middle of each one at the top and the bottom and he basically embedded them in a type of plastic resin like you know polycarbonate or plexiglass or some other kind of clear resin where you could see the plates and you could see the material uh apparently did everything he could to get all the little air bubbles and stuff out there so there wouldn't be any pathways for the electricity to break down the material and arc through there and the experiment was to see how much voltage you could put on this capacitor this is a plate capacitor in this arrangement how much voltage can you put on this thing before the the insulating material begins to just break down well according to Roger he got up to about a million volts and the thing would begin to float but it floated in accordance with principles that have been described in a patent that was filed back in the late 50s early 60s by a gentleman called Thomas Towns and Brown he and another individual by the name of um a Dr befield he had been a student of this Dr befield and it became this effect became known as the Beield Brown effect well he uh apparently uh duplicated the experiments done by Befold and Brown the the the one uh aspect that they found about the this this arrangement was that the levitation would always occur or movement would occur in the direction of the positively charged plate so if you had two plates one's negative one's positive because it's a direct current system and if you have the positive plate on top it would move in that direction if you had it on a pendulum it would always swing in the direction of whatever direction the positive plate was fa facing um Befield Brown had even done some experiments in the 50s where he had put a couple of these type of capacitors on a uh like a little um pivoting point these things would spin as you charge them i got a call from a kid that I had known at Art Center a fellow by the name of Brad Sorenson and he apparently had seen the magazine recognized my name and uh contacted the art director who gave him my phone number and he called me up and uh it turned out that uh he had um gone to work for a design firm in the Glendale Pasadena area of California um ultimately wound up acquiring most of the clientele for this particular agency um in the process had developed a um sort of a business practice where he would create products conceptual designs and products for different clients and the way he structured his business he would set it up so that if he came up with some new and novel design something that was patentable the client would pay to have the patent secured and then he would agree if the patent was in his name he would agree to license it exclusively to them and no one else and then they would pay him royalties so he got the his clients to pay for all his patents and then he had all these royalties coming in and he was a millionaire before 30 and this is so this is Brad Sorenson coming back to me you know eight years after school and we're talking and he's telling me all these interesting stories and uh so I I there was an air show that was coming up uh out at Norton Air Force Base which um used to be an active Air Force Base right on the eastern fringe of San Bernardino in Southern California it's about 50 to 70 miles outside of Los Angeles due east of Los Angeles right along north just north of Interstate 10 and um uh I suggested that we get together and go to this air show and I'd heard that they were going to have a a flyby or a flying demonstration by the SR71 Blackbird and he seemed to know a lot about that so I said "Well let's let's do that." Well it turned out the last minute the the magazine Popular Science came back again and and said that they had some really really crazy deadline for another illustration they wanted to know if I could do it over the weekend have it finished by the following Monday or Tuesday um so I had to to beg off on this air show but Brad had already made arrangements to go by himself he was going to meet me there but he was going to bring one of his clients with him and it turned out that this client um was a a tall thin um white-haired man with glasses with an Italian sounding last name um and uh was already a millionaire in his own right he was in civilian life again after having been um either a secretary of defense or an under secretary of defense but Brad wanted me to meet this gentleman and if I'd known this at the time I probably would have told the magazine to wait because I had no idea at that point what I was going to be missing out on and believe me I've kicked myself ever since because the following week after Brad uh um got back home and called me up and told me about the air show he told me about what he had seen there and apparently right about the time that um the um the Air Force flying demonstration team the the Thunderbirds uh were planning to um begin their show this gentleman that Brad was with said "Follow me." And they go walking down to the other end of the airfield away from where the crowds were to this huge hanger it's um at Norton Air Force Base i don't remember the building number but it's it's got to be one of the largest hangers um in the Air Force inventory in fact on the base it was called the big hanger it looks like four giant Quanset hut styled hangers that are all connected in the middle with shops and work areas out around the edges and there's sort of a divider in the middle but they can they can work on several of these C5s in these hangers all at the same time they can just drive them right in underneath the roof with their tail sticking out you know the the doors and uh work on them inside away from the weather and the heat um so this gentleman took Brad down there and there was a cordon of military police around the hanger and he walked up to one and he said "Um you know what do you want why are you here?" And he says "I'm here to talk to uh the guy who's running the show." And um so the guard goes in out comes uh the same guard with a a gentleman in a three-piece suit who immediately recognizes this this fellow that uh that Brad is with this this fellow who I speculate was probably Frank Carli they go inside and immediately after getting inside the door this this fellow apparently um passes Brad off as his aid to this this fellow who's um managing this exhibit that's going on inside this hanger and this exhibit is for um some of the local politicians who are secured for or cleared for high security information and some of the uh the local military officials um now it just so happens that at that very same time I had a um a really good relationship with the Air Force ARC program and the public affairs office for the Air Force in Los Angeles the fellow who headed up that office at the time was a colonel by the name of Thomas Hornung it's h o r n u n g i believe he's retired now in Florida somewhere but um was a a short short fellow i think he was probably about 5'5 he he met he sort of met the minimum standards to get into the military because of his height but very nice fellow and I believe that he was probably the individual who uh did a lot of interfacing with the services to make this show happen along with the assistance of um at that time um Congressman George E brown Jr who at the time was the uh chairman of the um uh congressional committee on space science and advanced technology so you see all these things coming together and then when you hear what Brad described in the hanging you start to understand why it was so significant well as soon as they walk in Brad is told by this fellow that he's with there's a lot of things in here that I didn't expect they were going to have on display stuff you probably shouldn't be seeing so don't talk to anybody don't ask any questions just keep your mouth shut smile and nod but don't say anything just enjoy the show we're going to get out of here as soon as we can so in the process the host or the the person running this show was very engaging to or with the the gentleman that Brad was with and so they bring them in and they're showing them everything and in the process of this this this exhibit they had a number of um I guess you'd call them high-tech advanced technology hovercraft that employed different types of uh little trap doors that would open and thrust would come out and blow them around and you could fly you know several feet off the ground with these things there was the um losing prototype from the B2 stealth bomber competition they also had um what was called the um the the Lockheed Pulser nicknamed the Aurora and it was described as being a a large sort of a flattened out football shape all black all covered with um tiles very much like the space shuttle had three landing or had two um two large um main gear underneath the aircraft two tires on each side and a long spindling spindly sort of um u nose gear under the the nose very very long um it didn't appear to have a cockpit of any kind it instead had a kind of synthetic vision system it looked like a couple of those little mirrored balls that you see on the lawns back east in New England um on either side and these were infrared seeker heads and he was north of what later became known as the Area 51 um weapons range it's north of Las Vegas in Nevada um said that he came out of the clouds um middle of the afternoon and below him and to his left was this this black diamond shaped aircraft flat foot and foot football shaped flattened football shape uh but this one had a cockpit on a little canopy had um a vertical stabilizer above and vertical stabilizer below and it had a couple of little um like knacka ducts for the inlets for the air for the jet engines and then a couple of little openings in the back kind of like the ones on the stealth fighter you know where they they spread the exhaust stream out so that it disperses the heat allows the heat signature of the plane to be dropped off dramatically so they're not susceptible to heat seeking missiles and things of that kind but he this pilot in recounting the story to Hal McCormick says that he called his ground controller and said "Why didn't you tell me there's other traffic in my area why didn't you tell me that there's somebody else here?" And they said "Well because there is nobody else there." And he said "Well the hell there isn't i can see him right here." And the plane looks like this it's black and diamond shaped and has two tails and with that this thing banked away from him hit the afterburners and took off and disappeared in the clouds and the next thing that happened was you got a call from the ground control unit which just happened to be the tower at Nellis Air Force Base and it said divert to Nellis land stay in the aircraft don't depart the aircraft someone will meet you there so he immediately diverted to Nellis um landed the plane waited until some MPs came out and they took him out of the plane handcuffed him put him in the plane and then they spent several days talking to him about the aircraft that he did not see and so this all kind of came full circle for me but the the thing that Brad said when he described this uh Aurora type aircraft in this hanger along with these other unusual vehicles was that uh it employed a very unusual kind of technology that it had two propulsion systems not just one that there were engines inside the fuselage of the aircraft that had trap doors that would open up so that it could fly using these internal engines and then when it would get up to say two and a half or three times the speed of sound where the air coming over the top of this aircraft is compressed and superheated and really really hot forming the shock wave coming off this aircraft that they had a way of closing all of these exhaust shoots and these inlets for these these I guess there were four engines inside the aircraft and there was an external type of pulse detonation engine that would operate and and there was a kind of shallow ridge that ran laterally across the the the belly and the backbone of the aircraft at the widest part there were no wings and no tails on this aircraft that Brad had seen in the hangar but along this ridge were all these little tiny orifice these little look like fuel injectors pointing outward in into the airstream directly behind this ridge i mean if it flew this way they would point towards the back and the idea was that as a supersonic shock wave would form over the front of the aircraft and it would separate from the surface of the aircraft right where that little ridge was they would spray fuel into the superheated highly compressed air and it would explode it would spontaneously explode and as it did so it would expand between the tapered afterbody of the vehicle and the

shock wave that came off those ridges so it was like an exhaust cone turned inside out and it would pinch the back end of the vehicle and shoot it forward at speeds of something like 10 or 15,000 miles an hour just incredible bullet basically um and that was part of the reason the whole thing was covered with these ceramic tiles is to protect it from melting when it was flying through the air the other thing that he said about that aircraft was that it had these circular launch tubes in the belly of the vehicle uh each of which carried um a single cone-shaped nuclearpowered or conventionally conventionally uh loaded um warhead in a re-entry vehicle that could be guided into precision and individually guided two targets and the way the system operated was was just absolutely beautiful and elegant and simple and they they had a tile on the outside with um explosive bolts holding it in place and it was flush with the the tiles on the belly of the vehicle and up inside this tube was this this cone-shaped re-entry vehicle pointing nose down um possibly having a kind of a Sabo or a three-piece spacer in there that would hold it centered in the tube and then directly above that and behind it was another circular tile and then behind that was a big coiled spring and what they would do is they would fire off the explosive bolts the spring would push this re-entry vehicle out of the tube the Sabo would fly away in pieces the thing would stabilize in the airstream you ever want to see this take a piece of paper and curl it up into a little cone put a little like a uh a fishing weight in the nose and toss it out the window of your car when you're doing 60 miles an hour and it stabilizes just perfect and then it you know it'll fly away from the car but that's how they would launch these things and then the spring would slam this tile down into place and instantly you'd have perfect aerodynamic efficiency again in just a fraction of a second so you could spit these things out the tiles you know probably explode when the explosive bolts go off the Sabo was probably fiberglass something you know it would be harmless coming back through the um through the atmosphere because they fly at extremely high altitudes um but these things had the ability to be just about anywhere in the world in 30 minutes after launch with the capability of 121 nuclear you know probably 10 15 megaton weapons a tactical type nuclear re-entry vehicle um and then there was the question about how many of them were made so uh this this aircraft has been seen on a number of occasions particularly coming in and out of Beal Air Force Base which is up near uh I think it's Modesto or uh actually I think it's northeast of Sacramento um and it used to be the big base for the SR71 Blackbird which eventually was sort of decommissioned one day when I was talking with the people at Lockheed particularly a gentleman by the name of Tom Katon who was working in their Calabasas division at that time that's where all the meetings were were in Cal their their facility in Calabasas California um he said that um they were developing this artwork as a new version of an existing aircraft and he went on to describe this existing aircraft as being one that had two propulsion systems he didn't describe what it looked like but what he said was that they had had a recent problem with the operation of this this first generation aircraft he didn't call it you know the F-19 or the Aurora or anything just said it had two propulsion systems but he said that the pilot was going to land at a facility north of Nellis Air Force Base in the desert that the weather apparently was bad he was going to divert to Edwards and then he had a problem transitioning from one kind of propulsion system to the other didn't specify what they were but of course this all comes later when you hear what Brad had to say about what he saw in the hanger Norton Air Force Base so but he said this to Tom Thomas Keaton said that the aircraft had to fly out over the Pacific and because it was flying so fast he had to make a big sweeping arc while he sorted out this problem transitioning from one propulsion system to the other and by the time he was ready to turn around with the corrections made and come back he was over Hawaii and it was only 15 minutes later well it's 3,000 miles from the coast of California to Hawaii 15 minutes that means he was doing 12,000 miles an hour at least to make that distance in that amount of time so obviously you know I mean then there were all of these stories about uh what people thought were double sonic booms or earthquakes or something that when you tracked all the seismic activity over Los Angeles there was this perfect pathway going over Los Angeles that crossed or basically made a connect the dots kind of illustration between um the Pacific Ocean Los Angeles Edwards Air Force Base um a facility that Lockheed had near Bakersfield which I I can't remember recall the name of now and then of course uh the Area 51 facilities north of Nellis Air Force Base so it was like they had three options of where they could land edwards this other interim facility that Lockheed had and then Area 51 so getting back to Brad's story at Norton Air Force Base one of the other things that he said was that after they showed them all of this aircraft and all these little hovercraft and the flying wing and all this thing he said they had a big black curtain that divided the hanger into two two different areas and that behind these curtains was another big area and inside this area they had you know all the lights turned off and they go in they turn lights on and here are three flying saucers floating off the floor no cables suspended from the ceiling holding them up no landing gear underneath just floating hovering above the floor and they had little exhibits they had a TV a little uh videotape running showing the smallest of the three vehicles sitting out in the desert presumably over a dry lake bed at some place like Area 51 and it uh it showed this vehicle making um three little quick hopping motions like that and then accelerating straight up and out of sight till you couldn't see it and completely disappearing from view in just a couple of seconds i mean just boom no sound no sonic boom nothing um they had a cutaway illustration pretty much like the one I'll show you in a little bit that showed what the internal components of this vehicle were and they had some of the panels taken off so you could actually look in and see oxygen tanks and a little robotic arm that could extend out from the side of the vehicle for collecting samples and things so obviously this is a vehicle that not only is capable of flying around through the atmosphere but it's also capable of going out to space and collecting samples and it's using a type of propulsion system that doesn't make any noise as far as he could see it had no moving parts um and didn't have any exhaust gases or fuel to be expended it was just there hovering um so he listened intently and collected as much information as he could and when he came back he he told me how he'd seen these three flying saucers in this hanger at Norton Air Force Base in November 12th 1988 it was a Saturday um and uh he said that the smallest was somewhat bell-shaped they were they were all identical in shape and proportion except that there were three different sizes smallest at its at its widest part flat on the bottom somewhat bell-shaped had a dome or like a half of a sphere on top then a little ledge around that and then sloping sides uh um like a skirt and then the flat bottom and the sides were sloping at about I'd say about a 35 degree angle from pure vertical and the panels that were around that skirt were what had been removed so that he could see you know these big oxygen tanks inside and he was very specific in describing the oxygen tanks as being about 16 to 18 inches in diameter about six feet long and they were all radially oriented like the spokes of the wheel but this dome that on was visible on the top was actually the upper half of a a big sphere-shaped crew compartment that was in the middle of the vehicle and around the widest around the middle of this vehicle this this ledge that was perceived

when you could see just see the outside of this vehicle was actually a large um plastic casting that had this this big set of copper coils in it uh I said it was about 18 inches wide at the top about 8 to 10 in thick had um oh I don't know maybe 15 to 20 stacked layers of copper coils inside of it and then the bottom of the vehicle was about maybe oh 11 or 12 in thick and in both cases the coil and this this large disc at the bottom were like a big plastic casting sort of a greenish a greenish blue clear plastic or even maybe it might have been glass uh and embedded in the plastic were the coils in the section that was above the ring that was above around the the spherical shaped crew compartment but then down below were these copper plates and they were divided up into 40 well later I determined using my conceptual artist skills determined there were exactly 48 sections like thin slices of pizza pie and each section within this casting one big piece casting 24 ft in diameter probably weighed four or five tons easy judging by the thickness and the diameter must have been monstrous in weight full of half-inch thick copper plates each each of the 48 sections had eight copper plates the plates were half an inch thick and then the spacing in between them was like um you know 125% the thickness of the the plates it was about threequarters of an inch so the half-inch thick plates $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch of this dielectric material in between this this insulating material so here we are back to the plate capacitors again and and the prospect of someone finding a way to use the Bfield brown effect this levitation effect where you charge a capacitor and it lifts towards the positive plates now when you got eight plates stacked up in there they alternate it goes negative positive negative positive negative one four times so you ultimately wind up with the positive plates always being above a set of negative plates you know as you go up the interesting thing about it was the outer edge of this disc that supported the the capacitor it was milled off at the same 35° angle as the rest of the vehicle as was the edge of this ring that supported the coils on the inside of the crew compartment was a big column that ran down through the middle and there were uh four ejection seats mounted back to back on the upper half of this column and then right in the middle of the column was a large like a flywheel of some kind well the synthetic vision system that's on the AR what they called the alien reproduction vehicle it was also nicknamed the flux liner uh this is this this anti-gravity propulsion system this this flying saucer one of three that were in this hanger at Norton Air Force Base this synthetic vision system uses the same kind of technology as the the gun slaving system that they have in the Apache helicopter except in this case you have two cameras and it picks any pair of the cameras in that pattern of six that are around the circumference including the one on the top whichever pair most closely matches the orientation of the pilot's head so if he wants to look behind him he can pick pick a view in that direction and the cameras slew in pairs and he has a little screen in front of his helmet and it gives him an alternating view he has like a little a little set of glasses that he wears and in fact you can you can actually buy a 3D um viewing system for your video camera now that does this same thing and what it does is uses a beam splitter which sends part of light one way and then part of it at a right angle and offsets it by about 6 in and then it has an electronic shutter in there that uses these these uh like a liquid crystal type material that darkens and becomes transparent at intervals of about 60th of a second or a 30th of a second and so the cameras as they're looking around are giving him a right left right left view and the goggles the things that he's wearing he has two little projection screens inside his helmet and they both project well two cameras but one projection screen and the glasses have that special blocking device that allows one eye to see and then the other eye to see and at the

sections well why would you want to do that i mean if you're using just a normal Tesla coil you usually only have maybe one or two capacitors in the whole system but you're talking about a different type of capacitor here you're talking about capacitors are made up of plates plates that are shaped like long thin triangles and they're all radially oriented just like the spokes of the wheel just like the oxygen tanks just like the field lines from that large diameter coil so you begin to realize as you look at this system if you're an electrician or you just somebody knows a little bit about Tesla coils and the way that they're set up you begin to realize that the orientation of the components is really the key to making the system work why so many different capacitor sections well okay if you just have one big disc like Mark Stambbau did with his experiment at the University of Tucson which by the way was confiscated by men claiming to be from the government that were claiming privilege under the National Security Act they took all this stuff interviewed all of the people that saw the experiments told everybody to keep their mouth shut not talk about it but I heard about it from his roommate who knew what had happened but in that case you just get levitation but you don't get any control you have this thing floating around and it's just sort of floating on you know whatever this field is that it's producing but you don't have any control so what happens you break that that disc up into 48 individual sections and then you can decide how much electricity you want to put on this side or over there on that side and so you control the amount of electricity the amount of thrust and vectoring that you get you can make the thing roll around like a coin about to come to stop after you flick it onto a desk you can make it go straight up you can make it bank and turn yaw pitch whatever you want to by virtue of the fact that you can control where the electricity goes in those 48 different sections and if you ever take a circle and you divide it up into 48 equal sections you'll find that those are really thin little slices i mean they're like maybe one/10enth or 112th of the kind of typical wedge you get when somebody slices you a piece of pie a pizza you know or something but anyway so you have this capacitor or these 48 individual capacitors and you have one big Tesla coil so you've got to have some kind of a rotating spark gap just like the distributor in your car that sends the electricity out to each of those sections and then you have to have some way of controlling how much electricity goes to each one so but the system explains itself in a way because you've got four sets four pairs of plates you know four sets of one positive one negative times 48 section so what do you do you have your spark gap set up so that if you want to have only a little bit of electricity on this one particular capacitor module you only charge two of the plates in the stack you want a little bit more on the one next to it you charge four you want a watt you charge six and if you want the maximum thrust from that one particular module you charge all eight so that's how they can control it subtly they can get it to do whatever they want to now Brad when he described the control system said that on the one side there was this big high voltage what they call a potentiometer it's like a like a a reostat like a big controller it allows you to put put progressively more electricity through the system as you as you push the lever now on the other side of the control system there was a um sort of a metallic bar that came up like a like a kind of like a a stork's neck and at the top of it or right at the the very tip of it was a sort of metallic looking ball well attached to that ball was a kind of a bowl that seemed to just hang off the bottom of that ball it just almost like it was magnetically attached to it and he said that the system when you really when you watched it as you were standing next to it he said the whole thing would just sit there and it would kind of rock and list almost like a large ship at anchor in the ocean at a harbor you know floating

on the water literally on a sea of energy as I think it was um uh it was a Dr mo did experiments with um different kinds of energy something that may have been scalar energy up in Utah back in the the 20s or the 30s I believe it was but he tal he wrote a book called the sea of energy and he describes this type of energy and Brad said that when this thing was moving around that the system wasn't energized to its full strength and so components inside of the ship were still subject to some influence by gravity and he says as it would start to list in one direction that bowl because of the influence of gravity would swing in the same direction as it started to tilt it would it would slide over and it would power up the system on that side and it would bring it back to a rided position all by itself completely unmanned it would sit there and it would correct itself just while it was sitting there well not too long ago about two years ago I came across an article in um um I think it was uh NASA's publication called Tech Briefs and in this in this system in this in this article in in this one of these issues I found a system that had been designed and patented by a couple of scientists working at Caltech in Pasadena under contract with I believe it was a Jet Propulsion Laboratory in NASA and they had developed a whole computerized network of sensors and systems and computers that was all linked fiber optically well why would that make any difference why would you want to have a system that's all linked fiber optically and the reason is is that if you find a way to control gravity and maybe reduce the mass of a vehicle the the very thing that makes it float if you find a way to reduce the mass of that vehicle and propel it at ungodly speeds like in the video where Brad said it hopped three times and then took off like a shot if you're able to do that then what are the other side benefits of that if you've somehow found a way of tapping into this this scalar field this 0 point energy if what the scientists believe is true that the zero point energy is actually what keeps the electrons around the atomic structure of everything in our universe so it keeps them energized it keep those little electrons spinning in their different clouds around the nucleus of every atom in our world keeps them going keeps them from crashing into the nucleus like a satellite orbiting the Earth that gets pulled into the atmosphere by gravitational drag well if you have a way of interfering with that interaction that absorption of zero point energy by those electrons and they begin to slow down and every atom in the universe is just like a little gyroscope it's got all these electrons spinning around the nucleus and they have kind of a gyroscopic effect which is the effect we called inertia and mass you have one nucleus with a proton a neutron and one electron helium or excuse me hydrogen you know spinning around like that no not very much mass not too much inertia but you take uranium 235 with 235 electrons all spinning around in their different clouds there's a lot of mass there a lot of inertia it's because it's like a bigger gyroscope in a way it's the the analogy that I've kind of picked up here but if you have a way of interfering with that absorption of zero point energy so those electrons become deenergized they begin to slow down the effect of that inertia that gyroscopic effect begins to drop off and the mass drops off too even though the atomic structure is intact even though it's still there it's still uranium but it's not as heavy one of the things that Einstein said was that you could never accelerate anything up to and past the speed of light because if you did so you would have to have all the energy in the universe because as you accelerate through space mass increases and one of the old films showing this concept shows a train going faster and faster towards the speed of light but the train keeps getting bigger and bigger and longer until the engine just can't pull it so it can't ever pass the speed of light but what if what if you have a system a a a device that absorbs that 0

point energy and prevents it from interacting with the atomic structure of your vehicle and at the same time is providing additional power to the capacitor section these this this whole electrical system that's going on in the vehicle that's running what happens is that as you go faster as you accelerate all of that added energy which would keep those electrons spinning faster and faster and increasing the mass like Einstein described that same energy would be converted into thrust but it's not allowed it's not it's not being channeled in a way that allows it to interact with the atomic structure of the vehicle and make it get heavier and more massive have more inertia so the faster you go literally the faster you are able to go because you're tapping all that energy which would otherwise increase your mass just like Einstein said so in effect the faster you go the easier it gets to the easier it becomes to to go up to and exceed the speed of light now Brad said that in this exhibit at Norton Air Force Base that a three-star general said that these vehicles were capable of doing light speed or better oh by the way and the largest of three vehicles was about 120 to 130 feet in diameter i mean that's that's massive when you think about it it's just huge there is a a scientist in Utah by the name of Mory B king he's written a book called Tapping the Zero Point Energy and what he maintains is that this energy is embedded in spaceime all around us it's in everything we see i think it was uh I don't know was it James James Clerk Maxwell speculated that there's enough of this this flux this electrical charge in in the nothingness of space that if you could capture all the energy that was embedded in just a cubic yard of space that you'd have enough energy to boil the oceans of the entire world that's how much energy is sitting there waiting to be tapped now one of the things that Mora B King said was that the best way to tap that energy is by driving it out of equilibrium it's just like a bunch of cigarette smoke in a box but if you somehow send a shock wave through it you can get a force you can get ripples through it and then if you have a way of collecting that energy at the other end you have a way of tapping into it using it now one of the ways that they believe you can actually demonstrate the existence of this force is something called the Casimir effect this is something that was discovered years ago i it was probably just before the turn of the century before you know 1899 to 1900 and it was described as an experiment where a scientist took a couple of heavy steel plates suspended them on tracks with the faces parallel and his thinking was that if there's this this omnidirectional omnipresent force that's all around us it's acting on us from all sides we can't feel anything because it's in equilibrium but if you create an environment where it becomes channeled in a way you put two big pieces of steel together like this where the faces become closer and closer that energy can't get into that little gap in between but it's pushing on the outer surfaces from all directions so what happens you get those plates those two plates close enough together and they slam together very very hard and they release all kinds of heat in the process now there are a number of scientists that said "Well if you could have some kind of a foliated charge collector that had all these plates stacked up you know just a few millimeters apart and get them all to slam together at the same time you could somehow tap that energy." But apparently this system here this this alien reproduction vehicle this flux liner has a way of doing that somehow electronically now Brad had described the fact that this central column has a kind of vacuum chamber in it and the vacuum chamber is one of the things that you hear all these these scientists who describe these over unity or free energy devices they build they all have some kind of vacuum tubes vacuum technology even the Philadelphia experiment where they supposedly made a whole battleship disappear used tons and tons of vacuum tubes the real big ones they used to have back in the

40s well Brad maintained that inside this this big vacuum chamber in the central column that's inside of everything else inside of the flywheel inside of the secondary coils of this Tesla coil inside of the you know the crew compartment there is this vacuum chamber with mercury vapor in it now mercury vapor uh metallic mercury when it becomes a vapor is what they call a noble gas it will conduct electricity but it produces all kinds of ionic effects it these these little uh molecules of mercury become charged in unusual ways and if you fire a tremendous amount of electricity through mercury vapor that's in a partial vacuum there's something special something unusual that happens in that process and I believe it's the process that Mory King described when he said driving the energy in the vacuum out of equilibrium putting some kind of a shock wave through it you know sending a big electrical charge through there you know like like one of those plasma spheres you see you touch them and little lightning bolts come over and touch the side where you touch it with your fingers and stuff the same kind of thing but in a very controlled very directional kind of way now the other thing that I believe happens here is that as this system begins to tap into this zero point energy and is drawing it away from the local environment the whole craft becomes lighter in weight it becomes partially mass canceled if you will which is one of the reasons why just a little bit of energy on the capacitors can shoot it all over the place now I talked about this article in tech briefs where they were developing a whole system that was all linked by fiber optics that allows you to evaluate and control computers and different systems well one of the things that I believe that happens is when you take a system like this and you fire it up and everything in the system starts to become mass canceled the next thing that happens that the electrons that are flowing through the system also become mass canceled and what does that mean it means that as that system and all the electrons flowing through that that big Tesla coil become mass canceled it also becomes the perfect superconductor which means the efficiency of the system goes right through the ceiling so you get dramatic efficiency just like the whole thing was dunked into liquid nitrogen or or made out of pure silver or pure gold you know which at certain temperatures are perfect conductors you have all these these these fields being induced and one of the things that happens is that because these fields around that main coil are all they have the field lines that are radially oriented just like the capacitors in the bottom of the craft i believe that what happens is you you wind up on a on a very microscopic scale you wind up with the same thing that you have in that little toy I described earlier the Newton's cradle where the little ball bearings go back and forth except in this case you've got all this electrical potential all these electrons that are sitting in the capacitor sections and those electrons are all lining up on the field lines they're just like a bunch of soldiers standing there getting ready to march off to war they're all in single file lines and every time you hit those capacitors and the electrons with a pulse of electricity from the Tesla coil you create longitudinal waves the same scalar waves we talked about way back in the beginning and I believe that what you do there is you're creating an effect like an like a barrier in a way that that prevents this this zero point flux from interacting with the atomic structure of the vehicle and so it becomes lighter and it can be accelerated incredible speed in 1992 you know I described this thing to people that I met and I went to an air show at Edwards Air Force Base it was right after the Persian Gulf War uh I met some friends of mine one of my clients at Rockwell had some exhibits there and they they had a friend a mutual friend who a fellow by the name of Kent Selin Slen who worked for the AIL Corporation and as it turned out Kent Selin uh and I had a mutual friend it turned out that he and I both knew a fellow by the name of Bill Scott or William Scott who was a local editor for a trade publication called Aviation Week in Space Technology now Bill Scott used to be a test pilot at Edwards Air Force Base back in the early 1970s and Kent Selin had been a crew chief working on the plane that Bill Scott flew now here we were talking about the Persian Gulf War and in the wake of that particular war I met a young lady that worked at the restaurant where I ate every day and she was complaining because her husband who was a Marine had gone over to the Persian Gulf and he was over there for six months or a year or something but he'd write home and he'd tell all these stories about how there were UFOs flying all over the Persian Gulf at night over the Gulf they'd see these things zipping around the sky so I was talking to Kent Selin about this fellow and describing these things that he had seen when he was a marine on one of these ships in the Persian Gulf and he nodded his head and and smiled a big grin and he winked and he kind of said "Yeah I know what you're talking about." And I said "Well how do you know what I'm talking what how do you know what I what I'm talking about?" And he says "Well because I've seen one." And I said at that point I keyed in on something that John Epaleo of Intervision had told me about something in a hanger something that someone had seen in a hanger and then I remembered something that a young lady who claims to be a UFO abductee she said she'd met a young lady who was in the Air Force worked at Edwards Air Force Base her husband was a security guy that worked at North Base which is a facility where they keep all these classified aircraft and during the Christmas break one year she said that they were all bored and lonely he was the only guy out there so he invited her out to North Base in the middle of the night and he took her around and he showed her all these classified aircraft in these hangers and one of them was a flying saucer and what did it look like it was flat on the bottom had slope sides has a dome on the top with the little plastic bubbles with the synthetic vision system the whole bit so I said to Kent when I'm meeting him at this air show at Edwards in '92 i said "Well um was it flat on the bottom and had sloping sides and a dome on the top and little bubbles you know little camera things?" He "Oh you've seen one." I said "Well let me borrow you a pen." So I took out a little piece of paper drew a sketch i said "Do it look like that?" He says "Yeah that's it that's what it looks like." I said "Well so when did you see this?" He says "I saw it in 1973." I said "Well where when how do you know what when did you see it?" He says "Well I was a crew chief." He said "I worked on Bill Scott's plane when he was a test pilot." And he says "One night my ship supervisor said to me you go out to North Base they've got a a power unit out there a ground power unit for an aircraft that's leaking or failed or something so we need you to take a tow vehicle out there go out pick it up bring it back drop it off at the repair depot." He says "Then you can go for the night because we finished all our other work." Well instead of going around the big perimeter road that goes up to the main entrance of North Base what this young man did what Kent Salad did in 1973 one of the same years I was in the Air Force he drove straight across the dry lake bed at Edwards to the North Base facility assuming that the security was so tight out there that they would see him coming you know with their thermal imaging systems or whatever they had back then and that they would the security people would pick him up and say "Okay it's it's over there get it and leave." Well instead what happened is he comes up off the dry lake bed rolls right up on the tarmac and is going down these rows of hangers they're all Quonet style hangers back then and he stops in front of the first one with the doors cracked expecting to find this defective ground power unit and what does he see he sees this flying saucer sitting in the hanger hovering off the ground which brings me back to John Epalito's story about a guy who saw a UFO in a hanger at you know sometime prior to 1982 when I met him so or 19 I guess I met him in 1980 actually but but so it starts coming full circle so I I said well what happened and he says "Well this thing you know was flat on the bottom sloping sides had little cameras in these little plastic domes all over and there was a door on the side." And he says "I wasn't there for 15 seconds and I heard footsteps running up to me before I could even turn around look," he says "There was a machine gun barrel at my throat." Another one over here and he says "A gruff voice says "Close your eyes and get on the ground or we're going to blow your head off." So they put a hood over his head blindfolded him hauled him off and they spent 18 hours debriefing him and while they did they told him things about this vehicle that my buddy Brad didn't even know just from what he could see you know standing in that exhibit with his eyes you know with his eyes open not saying anything well Kent Cellin tells me that the upper and the lower sections of the crew compartment they're made out of a what's called a ptruded sphere it means you take uh you know a composite material like Kevlar or fiberglass or carbon thread and you you embed it with resin and then you wrap it around a ball-shaped mandrel while it's still wet and all these fibers bind together into a huge highly incredibly strong sphere probably stronger than steel and ca capable of you know holding up to you know machine gun fire everything won't go through it because it's just like a big piece of armor plating but at the same time they set it up so the top and the bottom halves can be split and they mold a little flange all the way around on each of those and that flange is what holds the primary windings of the Tesla coil together now he said that one of the things that they designed into the system was that if the you know the pilots of this thing were at high altitude and they had to eject there's all this ionized air around the craft it could fry these pilots when they went to eject so they couldn't just pop out of there he said that they had a series of explosive bolts around the upper and the lower halves of the sphere and when it came time to eject the whole top of the sphere would come off and it would pull the outer sheath of that central column along with the ejection seats right out of the vehicle and it would offer a protective shield around them as they were going up because the flywheel is right underneath their feet it's this big 9 ft diameter flywheel in the smallest version of the craft so it come off of course the charge would start to dissipate as dissipate you know as this thing flew away and I even speculated that that in some sense this this this B-shaped upper section of the crew compartment that they're sitting inside of could even act as a rudimentary re-entry shield if they were coming back down through the atmosphere but Brad had said that that all the components in the system were all offthe-shelf components things that you could find you know right in the inventory but they have their own uh oxygen supply and he says they eject uh once they get below 15,000 ft and the individual seats come down off this central column on a set of rails just like little railroad cars they come off one by one and the parachutes come out and away they go i looked at all this information that I got from Brad i saw you know realized there's a mechanical arm that can extend out from you these little trap doors that open up on the side of the vehicle it's obvious that these things are capable of space travel and then I remembered something that that he even denies telling me now but 101 15 years ago when I was first talking to Tom Barden one of the first things that he ever told me when I was talking about scalar effects and you know what it was and what it does and how does it work and are the Soviets weaponizing this technology all these things that he was speculating about one of the things that he said just off the top of his head probably didn't even realize the significance of it at the time and he since has denied saying it one of the things that he said was "Have you ever wondered why the NASA budget has been cut back so severely?" Well it's because because they've got all this other technology that is so much better so much faster i mean light speeded or better come on so much better than rocket propelled spaceships that take months sometimes years to get to the outer reaches of the solar system why would you put millions and millions of dollars in I mean what a public works program for scientists why invest all that money when you have this system classified system that's used exclusively like probably by the National Security Agency the CIA or Air Force intelligence or something but it'll go anywhere in the solar system in in hours compared to months or years why spend all that money on NASA when you got something that'll go there right now right now so when people speculate that there may be a a a manned base on the back side of the moon or there might be bases on Mars I can tell you that I am almost positive that that's true in fact I am positive that it's true he says "Well," he says "Um I work at the B2 bomber facility out at Plant 42 in Palmdale in Lancaster." I said "I've had a tour of that through the Air Force public affairs office i got a tour of that whole facility i know right where that is i've been there." He says "Well then you also probably know that Caddy Corner across from the big production facility for the B2 bomber down at the southwest corner of the field is the Lockheed Skunk Works that huge complex down there i said "Yeah I know exactly where that is." He says "Well uh a year ago a summer of this would have been the summer of 1992." He said "After they passed this legislation that said you can't smoke indoors anymore in any government sponsored building this kind of thing." He says "I was outside about 10:30 at night because I worked a late shift." And he said "Smoking a cigarette." And he said "I noticed that the sheriff's deputies were blocking off all of the streets surrounding Plan 42." And when they do that and I've since confirmed that they do do that because I got a ticket coming out of that same facility doing some work for for Rockwell a year and a half later but the the sheriff's deputies confirmed that yes in fact when any time there's a a classified aircraft that's coming into land or is departing from Plan 42 they block off civilian traffic and all the surrounding streets so they don't see any of the classified stuff so he says "I notice all the streets being blocked off." He says "I can see the red and blue lights around the perimeter of the base and he said that he said then I noticed that all of the these big mercury vapor lamps that are around the edge of the roof for the locked skunk works all are extinguished and he said the the big bypass doors in front of this huge hanger must be like a between a quarter of a million and half a million square feet it's a mammoth hanger probably 12tory tall ceilings just huge building the doors are open and sitting out in front of this hanger or is this circular formation of these vehicles but they're really weird vehicles they're like these little It's like a little tractor with a turret on it and the turret has a big mechanical arm with a basket on the end of it it's the kind of thing that these electrical linemen use to work on these high high tension power lines and stuff but the baskets are all up in the air and strung from each one of them in this big circle is this big black curtain that that comes down and there's of a rope that ties them all together and they're in a circle and he said that uh that particular night was a very smoggy summer evening in 1992 and he said in Palmdale it gets so smoggy up there that the city lights make the sky glow sort of a dull orange and he said "I looked up above this circle of vehicles and up above them at about 500 feet was this big black lensshaped flying saucer just sitting there above the vehicles and out of the midst of this group of vehicles a man comes out with a big blue green handheld flashlight shines it up the vehicle flashes it three times." He said there are three blue green lights underneath the vehicle and they flash at him three times and then this thing lowers down into this cluster of vehicles the arms all extend out over the center cover it all up and then they all trundle into the hanger the doors closed lights come on the sheriff's leave well he said he smoked a lot of cigarettes for the next week after that waiting to see something else and a week later his his patience was rewarded and he said that the whole process reversed itself he says "The lights go out the doors open this cluster of vehicles come out the arms all stand up like this." And he said after a while he said "This thing silently raises up to about 500 ft above the vehicles the guy comes out with the flashlight flashes three times it flashes its lights at him three times and then he said this thing took off covered the entire length of the runway which is right next to the B2 facility went past him and disappeared into the dark in under two seconds." And he did it this this vehicle did it without any noise without any supersonic shock wave no sonic boom nothing just like it's been fired from a cannon he says "It changed my life." He says "It changed my whole perspective." Because he says then he says "I know they got anti-gravity." He says "They got massless propulsion." He says "They've got technology that they might have even gotten recovered from some kind of a spacecraft that came from god knows where some other star system." But he says the fact is they've got it we go to the patent office and we start looking for patents and we find patents by Nicola Tesla they all go all the way back to the 1890s that look just like this technology these big these energy transmitters these these uh Tesla coil type things that he was designing with which which also had uh coils just like the one in the the alien reproduction vehicle where the outer bank of the coils are sloping at an angle almost like a section cut out of a cone or a frustrum is what they call it then we find a diagram and this is one of the things that I sent to Leslie Kaine that I wish we had here now but there there was a patent and the patent was filed by a James King Jr and this patent looks just like this system except that instead of having a dome for a crew compartment it has a cylinder in the center of that thing the same shape the flat bottom the sloping sides has the coils around the circumference has the the the capacitor plates that are all radially oriented filed in uh initially in 1960 the patent was secured in 1967 the same year that this photo was taken near Provo Utah and the clincher is the guy who filed the patent worked with Towns and Brown towns and Brown had worked at a laboratory in near Princeton New Jersey with a scientist by the name of Agnu Bonsson in the Bonsson laboratories they did all these experiments that they presented this what they were calling electrogravitic propulsion to the Navy and the Navy basically poo pooed it at least according to the the uh the stories they didn't seem interested and yet on film there is a film available now you can get it from Atlantis Rising magazine and a couple other places there is some some video that was converted from the 16 millimeter film that was shot by Agnu Bonson's daughter originally was called Daddy's Laboratory and it shows all these experiments that that Bonsson and Thomas Towns and Brown did along with their assistant James King who filed the patent that show little discs you know levitating and shooting off sparks and stuff and so it it all kind of comes full circle you see that not only have they got the technology they've got the technology in deployment not only does it fly but it looks just like the patents that were filed back in the 60s the same year that photos were taken near Area 51 between Area 51 and Provo Utah by a military pilot and and it it shows all all the same features shows all the same shapes and so the bottom line for me is that that uh regardless of whether you you understand all the fine points of the technology the technology exists there are people that have seen it i've seen these things myself um and uh so it's to me it's just really a matter of time before they they bring this technology out of the black and begin to let us use it for other things like pollutionfree production of energy big one big environmental saver um uh you could probably take a couple little things that look like those flying saucers and put them around a crankshaft and use them to drive an engine pollution free no use of fuel um probably have to shield it against all the ionization but you could probably find a way to do it i'm sure you could find a way to make an electro electrogravidically driven motor electric motor um the only other thing I could say is that when I was talking about the fiber optic control system that's also one of the things that goes back to the original Roswell account that there were all these little fibers with light going through them and they couldn't explain what this stuff was well Of course we're talking about fiber optics right okay well why would you need a fiber optic system in a in a spaceship well okay if suddenly everything in the vehicle suddenly becomes massanced and even the electrons become mass it means that all of the all the telemetry that's going through your system is going to go out of haywire it's going to be like suddenly the system goes through a phase change and everything's superconducting so you have to have some way of maintaining the same level of control for your spark gaps the control of the amount of electricity that goes out to the different capacitors so that when you change the control stick you still get the same amount of movement and deflection in the system even when you go into a a state of mass cancellation or partial mass cancellation because the electrons are also mass canceled and so they come superconducting circuits well why use Why use fiber optics because photons have no mass supposedly so they're unaffected so it means that any information any telemetry that you send back and forth to your computer doesn't matter if the computer functions at a superconducting level because it just makes it faster more efficient smarter but you want to be able to control the aircraft so it doesn't crash what's the best way to do it with fiber optics he specifically said this was a waste of taxpayers money to have covert operations that have developed advanced technologies in this energy or propulsion area and then NASA is also getting tax dollars to do the same thing all over again the parallel development he felt was a waste of taxpayers money i've seen other senators say the same thing in fact that particular senator requested um information from the president about such covert operations

hi everyone it's great to be back with a blue sky and Sun and starting to feel like maybe summer is still out there as a possibility in this strange age of covered and on this Monday couple of days ago I went to a nearby a grocery store with my respirator mask on making the flesh on my face feel pressed in I had on my hat covering my hair and big glasses and I had rubber gloves on my standard kovat kind of gear I was feeling hot and vulnerable and slightly afraid in this kovat world where everyone now is a potential virus carrier and therefore a possible lethal threat and in that closed up closed in the state of mind I got out of my car and I headed forward disconnected from the world around me on purpose

until I got near the front of the store and there were boxes of fresh spring pink white yellow flowers and they've been set up right in front of the doors I love flowers and I just had to stop and look and then I saw it a beautiful large swallowtail butterfly moving rapidly over the pollen tops of the flowers I haven't seen butterflies around my Albuquerque home since around 2015 not many bees either so seeing this large beautiful butterfly harvesting pollen in the middle of a supermarket parking lot suddenly gave me hope hope for all of us hope that kovat can be defeated as surely as that gorgeous butterfly has somehow survived what seemed like the end of butterflies here

watch this Swallowtail think about its resiliency and its determination to live when there are too many asphalt parking lots and not enough flowers it's there it's us it's life in a universe that could have gone either way

matter or antimatter so we can't let kovat get us down and I hope telling you this precious exquisite Swallowtail tonight it will lift your spirits right now and always in memory and in yesterday's New York Times on the front page is this headline Oxford University group earlier efforts provide edge in the vaccine race now I'm going to hold up the newspaper I'm gonna let my sidekick chocolate down he was playing with fluffy and fluffy ran away to have him go so this is a really important story it says on page one above the fold that in this case scientists at the university Jenner Institute at Oxford had a head start on a vaccine having proved in previous trials that similar inoculations including one last year against an earlier coronavirus were harmless in humans and that has enabled them to leap ahead in scheduled tests of their new coronavirus vaccine and it will involve over six thousand people by the end of next month meaning the end of May hoping to show not only that this is a safe vaccine but that it works wouldn't that be something talk about another one chalked up in the hope and the positive and the bright spring category and then today dr. Anthony Falchi announced that the drug REM Desa vir that I talked about over a month ago as being a possible treatment quote shows significant positive data and medical experts are saying that REM Desa vir might reduce recovery time for some patients from 15 days to 9 or 10 days and going forward with let's hope more and more positive news this week on Monday April 27th the Pentagon announced that it was officially declassifying three videos of UFOs taken by u.s. Navy pilots in 2004 and 2015 the three UFO videos now officially Declassified by the Pentagon have the same names used by Tom belongs to the stars Academy who originally released these same three videos in December of 2017 and 2018 in collaboration with Liu Elizondo former director of the advanced aerospace threat identification program in the Pentagon also known as a tip the videos are called Tic Tac or FLIR one gimbal which is the kind of support that you would put something on if it was going to be in a pitching and rolling area that's what a gimbal is and three go fast well the Navy previously acknowledged the three videos eight months ago in September of 2019 and for this week's release the Department of Defense put out a statement that says quote DoD is releasing the videos in order to clear up any misconceptions by the public on whether or not the footage that has been circulating was real or whether or not there are more issues to these videos

well the aerial phenomena observed in the videos remains characterized by the Department of Defense as quote unidentified close quote

even retired US Senator Harry Reid sent out a tweet highlighting an April 27th 20/20 CBS News headline that read quote Pentagon formally releases three navy videos showing unidentified aerial phenomena senator Reid's tweet stated quote I'm glad the Pentagon is finally releasing this footage but it only scratches the surface of research and materials available this is from retired US Senator Harry Reid the US needs to take a serious scientific look at this at any potential national security implications the American people deserve to be informed close quote

I couldn't agree more and so tonight I think it's important for all of us to see these three videos again first let's look at the gimble video with two men reacting to the UFO on their jet fighter image display this was one of two videos announced on Saturday December 16th 2017 on the front page of the New York Times above the fold along with a second longer video called FLIR one or the tic-tac because the UFO was white and oval-shaped like the little candy and then in 2018 to the Stars released a third UFO video that they called go fast now tonight I want to start with the gimbal and go fast and then I want to share with you excerpts of my interview with Navy pilot David flavor about what happened back on November 14 2004 when he tried to approach an unidentified aerial phenomena or UFO in the sky south of San Diego California so here now let's go with gimble followed by go fast there's a whole fleet of a look on the sa

well going against the window went to Hudson points OS Oh

that's not how I smell is it

well if there's a good thing it's rotated

on November 14th 2004 the USS Nimitz Strike Group was stationed southwest of San Diego California the Nimitz and its various support ships including the USS Princeton which is a u.s. Navy Tiger Ronda class cruiser warship with guided missiles and passive phase array radar were there the Nimitz was preparing for combat in the Middle East and the USS Princeton had an unsolved mystery beginning in November 2004 and persisting for at least two weeks

UFOs play cat-and-mouse with the US Navy off the coast of Baja California that the Princeton's fire control officer at first and his senior chief had detected several puzzling returns on their ends by one Navy 3d radar system that includes a ballistic missile defense those radar returns came from at least 80,000 feet above and the source of the radar returns were moving from 80,000 feet down to 20,000 feet where the UFOs would hover for two to three hours before zipping back up some pilots saw UFOs drop down rapidly to only fifty feet above the ocean water in just seconds

thus crafts were UFOs also known as u ApS unidentified aerial phenomena but the Navy fire control officers called them anomalous aerial vehicles or AAV

adding to the mystery was the fact that the UFOs were always over the same latitude/longitude spot roughly 70 nautical miles southwest of tijuana mexico and that is about 80 land miles out into the pacific the spy-1 radar that was tracking this mind-blowing

UFO phenomena and its maneuvers in mid-november 2004 was at the time the most advanced and powerful radar on earth and the military men watching the radar were stunned as the UFO quote descended hovered and then zipped away at speeds and turn rates and accelerations that were faster than any known by friendly or enemy threat aircraft close quote and by November 14 2004 at 9:30 a.m. Pacific time an Operations officer aboard the USS Princeton contacted two airborne

US Navy jet fighters from the USS Nimitz the first Super Hornet f-18 fighter jet was piloted by commander David flavor commanding officer of Strike Fighter Squadron 41 his wingman in the second Super Hornet was Jim slate they were in routine combat exercises 100 miles southwest of San Diego when the USS Princeton's radio operator asked the pilots to change their course in order to investigate an unidentified radar return observed by the Princeton's on radar the morning sky was clear and blue over a calm sea no cloud cover when the two super hornet jet fighters reached the latitude and longitude that the princeton had given them there was nothing in the air on the radar but in the ocean water below them they could see quote

a turbulent oval area of churning water with foam and frothy waves about the size of a Boeing 737 airplane that was the area of the turning water it had a smoother area of lighter color at the center as if the waves were breaking over something just under the surface a few seconds later they noticed an unusual object hovering with erratic movements 50 feet above the boiling water close quote

here now to describe what he saw firsthand is US Navy commander David flavor in excerpts from my June 2018 interview with him for phenomenon radio we will repeat some parts of the original FLIR one tic-tac video throughout this audio excerpt here's what happened is we press out towards the cap combat air patrols place where we would hold until the ship saw some type of threat aircraft and then we would get vector Don to it as we approach the cap and they say hey we're gonna suspend the air defense exercise we have a real-world tasking I said okay

they sent us out to the west and they immediately start giving us bearing range and altitude you know two seven zero for 60 miles at 20,000 feet so it means he's west of our position he's about 60 miles away and he's at 20,000 feet we don't know what it is all they're seeing is a blip on the radar so we start moving out to the west so we're telling them that we don't see anything and we've got a radar set up so we're scanning east of the sky both left right and up and down between the two airplanes and my wingman is on my left side over to the south as we proceed to the west 40 miles to 7-0 20 miles we're still not seen and on the radar as we get out to the same point where our blip and their blip merge or basically in the resolution cell of the radar so to the pilot and the weapons systems operators that are in the back seat it tells us get your heads out because now we have to find this thing it's in the same piece of sky around this so as we start looking around we're looking out the right-hand side and I'm like what is that and if you've ever been at sea if you put something about ten feet below the water in the ocean and as the waves come up they'll break over the top of it and you'll get whitewater it was crystal clear there was light winds so there was no Whitecaps which quite often out off the coast of San Diego you get some pretty decent Whitecaps there's no clouds it's just a perfect day we noticed this disturbance this white water nam sudden we see this little white object in your mind imagine we're gonna use a clock no help so the object is at the middle of the clock and we're at the six o'clock position my wingman is just to the south of me and we're watching the tic-tac and it's over this white disturbance in the water then it's going

north south east west north south it's just kind of moving around randomly and what's interesting when we first see it is down low over the waters about 50 feet it's almost like a ping-pong ball so when it goes right it can stop instantly and goes back left it can go straight forward it can go back it's just kind of randomly moving around and sir

have you gone from 20,000 feet down to about 12,000 feet

to get a clear you not yet we're still at 20,000 feet trying to figure out what it is as we're looking at it we get to about the nine o'clock position we're just going around a circle and I'm like I'm gonna go check this thing out I get on the radio say hey we're gonna check it out the other airplane decides hey we're gonna stay up high which is a good idea because now they're gonna separate from us they're still in visual sight they can see us and the object of the nine o'clock position I start to descend and we get around the corner and I get to about the 12 o'clock position the object is still kind of pointed north south

it turns and now it parallels us kind of points east west and it starts coming up so now it's mirroring us those were here and we start our descent and we start coming down and it's coming up so we get all the way around the circle back to about the eight o'clock position and the object is now at about the two o'clock position and my wingman is up above and I decide well I want to get close to it so I cut across the circle from eight o'clock and go to three o'clock because that the we're moving if

is a two o'clock can it maintains its normal velocity it's gonna get to three o'clock about the time I start pointing at three o'clock then that way I can join on it and see what it is it's probably 3,000 people on me and I cut across from the eight o'clock and I go towards the three o'clock position and as I'm pulling nose on to the object I get within about a half mile of it and it goes from left to right across my nose and as soon as it crosses my nose it rapidly accelerates and disappears so I asked the wingman where to go it just literally disappeared my wingman they don't see it at all they're like it's gone well that was very odd the object disappears so we're kind of baffled to try and figure out what it is so I decide because it disappears no one sees it I said well let's turn around and see what was in the water as soon as we turn around pretty much right over the spot where the disturbance was we just haven't been watching it there's nothing there's no white water to be seen as far as the eye can show so I'm like that's kind of weird so we turn again as soon as we turn the controller comes up and he says hey sir you are not going to believe this but that thing is at your cat point combat air patrols this is where you aren't going to go the cat point yes that's exactly right the cat point is somewhere around estimating sixty miles away

okay and the whole time that the last is maybe a couple of minutes for us to turn those jets around and this thing appears 60 miles away that's really fast it's faster than we can go it must have felt eerie that what had just disappeared and the water has gone quiet now is exactly at the cap point that you were just going to go to but now the object is there that is 100% correct as a matter of fact I remember telling my backseater I don't know about you but

I'm pretty weirded out at this point I had been flying for 16 years had 3,500 ish hours a lot of experience and never ever seen anything like this and we never see it again we finish our training and we proceed back to the ship we have to do a debrief so usually the junior crewmember go down to what we call civic or carrier intelligence CV I see and they do a debrief you know the ridicule is coming the next crew from my squadron was getting ready to launch

we're tell him about this letter putting their gear on so what is au decides that he is gonna find this thing and that's his mission for his flight which ironically he does he launches off and they're driving out to a hold point and he picks up a radar hit on his radar he tries to lock it and as soon as he tries to lock it the radar gets jammed so he's unable to hold the radar lock

he immediately selects the targeting pod and he obtains a passive track on the object which is the video that you see when it goes to a more of a great screen and the object in the middle is kind of that darker gray slash kind of blackish

that's the EOIR mode that's the visual light form that you would do it's a TV camera I'm from what was videotaped at the end it was in a white mode when it just suddenly goes so fast right off of the screen the hardest problem is you have to determine the range between the airplane and the object if you watch the video at the very end on the right corner it says range in nine nine point nine nine nine point nine means that the radar which is going to provide the range cannot get ranging information on the target as fast as it went off to accelerate from folding and then going off the left side is pretty impressive for it to leave like that that's a significant acceleration rate to just go off the screen that back right

can you explain to an audience why what you guys were dealing with was not another plane well yeah

planes have wings if you looked at it on an IR a plane will usually have a plume on one side where the exhaust is coming out planes have control surfaces this had no control surfaces that had no known visible propulsion mode on the IR had no key it was a uniform color throughout when you get to the end of the video you can kind of see it on a youtube video and we had the original stuff you could see it quite well right before it flies off the screen he's getting relatively close to it and you can see there's two small objects that look like little feet sticking out the bottom but there's nothing on the top and then it just accelerates I don't know of anything it has an acceleration rate like that you've got an object that we've tracked back in 2004 that could come from above 8000 feet track by one of the most sophisticated radars it comes down it hangs out at 20,000 feet for three or four hours and then it just goes back up and disappears and there was more than one of them

we're tracking multiple objects so those are confirmed as unidentified aerial phenomena now officially by the United States Department of Defense and the Pentagon and all that had in the beginning remember back in December of 2017 after the December 16th New York Times even the Pentagon and some other departments were saying that there had been no official release of those videos well what is interesting is the timing

I wonder why given the fact that there was an effort in September of 2019 for the government to say yes these videos the gimbal the go fast and the tick-tock or flare one they are legitimate they are real and now they've been officially Declassified as of this week but what about the timing I've been getting a lot of emails from people saying do you think that Kovan will now be used to either hide more things or perhaps open up more things having to do with UFOs and ETS because the world is so swamped their attention is so taken by news and coverage in kovat that this might be a time this year of 2020 as schizophrenic as this seems that we may get more and more releases around the space force and Mars and getting to the moon and bases and it will sort of be balanced out by all the deflections Arko vyd well in that same question about deflection how much invisibility is now being used by our human military mixed in the skies and in the planet

with invisible technology that is by some other kind of intelligence both working both here on the planet the alien intelligence having worked in invisibility for millennia the Americans and others such as Russia and China back engineering and working from apparently retrieval of technology over a few decades and I'm going to dovetail that into an email that I received on April 28th this is from a woman has a home in the Moreno Valley area near March Air Force Base in California I want to share this with you she and her partner they are educated people and as I read this try to think if you were in her place as I have shared some of the correspondence that I get about strange sounds and people not being able to see anything what are the implications quote tonight April 28th

this is last night at 20/20 I was in my jacuzzi reading and suddenly an extremely loud plane jet or helicopter engine sound began coming toward me overhead it seemed it sounded like it was about to make a crash landing into my neighborhood or the surrounding mountains I live right at the top of the city at the base of the mountains surrounding rechak Canyon and about 10 to 15 minutes from March Air Force Base

the sound was so loud that I could feel it and the water in the jacuzzi began pulsing along with the pulsing woosh sound like the helicopter blades and I could hear the wooden fence surrounding my extremely large open-air backyard rattling it only lasts at two to three minutes and as I searched the sky frantically spinning around in all directions

there was nothing in the air that I could see for many miles and then abruptly it went dead silent it sounded like it was directly overhead and at peak loudness and then instant silence that was about 6:30 p.m. that would have been Pacific right before the sunset all the way so the sky was clear and highly contrasted with orange and light wispy clouds a nice flying object would have been highly visible I was so confused and afraid by what I heard that I made my fiancée run out to me and I was shaking like a leaf he had heard it too inside over our extremely loud pool waterfall that was running at high level are many dogs were barking in response to the sound and the TV was up high but we assumed it must have been a circling helicopter and said our home owners association is a main stop for local fire planes to collect water to put out fires here so we get helicopters often but this was not that sound even more disturbing to me is that this is not the first incident over me in the jacuzzi in 2015 an aircraft similar to but absolutely not the b-2 spirit suddenly appeared directly above our house with only a very low humming noise and was dead stopped in the air and then slowly glided directly above me and right above our neighbors three tall trees and then slowly drifted away like it was idling in the air and that was around sunset in the our same house I am very concerned that this has something to do with the real reason behind the kovat quarantine and I am very concerned I read that last sentence only because not because I think that that's at all a reasonable conclusion but that I'm getting so many sentences where people are saying they feel that something else is afoot that the coronavirus is a box in which a lot of things are happening but people are sensing that there's something else either bigger something coming and I'm be very interested in hearing from all of you about that and Peggy I would love to get people's comments and questions now hi Linda

first I'd like to thank everybody for their super chats tonight so thank you

moonbird parisa tempest Minnesota folk Mike Martin mr. nice guy

Kiki Dombrowski Priscilla Munson and Alejandro Portillo thank you so much yes thank you thank you thank you so much in the spirit of that amazing swallowtail butterfly may we all take heart and keep expanding what we're trying to learn and do and thank you for being here I have a great question here saying how do you think that the latest released video confirmation will help disclosure of past cases do you think this will gain momentum it's a very good question I have wondered it myself back when all of this first broke in the New York Times The Washington Post and Politico on that Saturday December

16th of 2017 I and so many others we really did think this is going to be the braking inertia to take it all forward in open and I remember sitting right up my computer that morning early and the phone rang and I picked it up and it but it was Whitley Whitley Strieber Linda it's happening it's on the front page of the New York Times and I think a lot of people thought oh wow

finally finally and here we are in 2020 and there have been spurts and it's frustrating for those of us who have been exposed to people who have worked in military who worked in the Pentagon who have worked in Intel agencies to all kinds of special ops and they know all about firsthand other intelligences and here we are feeling I guess it's sort of like almost deranged by the kovat huge pandemic and we still haven't been told that we're not alone in this universe and it is crazy so this is the third time now that there have been government comments about those three videos the first being a push back in December of 2017 when the New York Times and The Washington Post and Politico and then the news all sorts of news departments had on Lou al Elizondo and others from Tom DeLonge Stu the stars and it felt like like solid credible possible opening up and then we've had stops and starts but it is it defies understanding for those of us who have been exposed to a lot about why what is the real reason that our I'm going to say our existence in a universe where there are other intelligences without question why is that still considered some sort of a national security threat as we are in 2020 if anybody listening falls into the category of a whistleblower who has first-hand knowledge and you want to try to help answer my question please get in touch with me through hard mail post office box two one eight four three Albuquerque New Mexico eight seven one five four or through protonmail which is supposed to be encrypted and somewhat regularly regulated in terms of safety or Federal Express and that takes communication with me by email but this is such a time of discontent this is such a time of people wanting to change the whole status quo of a pandemic planet and sometimes when there's this much energy wanting it to change that maybe there are ways that information can reach somebody an investigative reporter like myself so I throw that out there to you and I'm curious if any of you in the human abduction syndrome category have you had any vivid dreams the dreams that are like real life like this but you open your eyes in them those are vivid dreams

have any of you had really vivid dreams in which you think that some intelligence that you've had some kind of interaction with is trying to show you what might be coming because it feels truly like this timeline was exploded at the end of December and that just like confetti it's been coming down and falling into a brand new order that the timeline is nothing like it was was in December it does have this visceral feel that we're now in something that is truly unknown what is coming is there a timeline that can move without a huge future so I would love to hear whatever you all may be thinking or or seeing and and also the questions about what you personally are most interested in I really welcome being able to dig into subjects that you are interested in I always learn a lot and so we've got a big smorgasbord in this time of kovat that we can all keep getting into and learning more okay Peggy what else a viewer asks if these videos were already released last year through to the Stars Academy why is this a big deal now yeah this is the question we've all been asking what December 16th 2017 New York Times front page Washington Post feature section Politico these videos interviews with captain flavor commander flavor all of that was fresh breaking news that went on several weeks through television news when that broke but the problem was at the end of December of 2017 the Pentagon the Department of Defense for reasons unknown pushed back about these being legitimate and then some people jumped in and said no no no it was a German company had it and and there were all kinds of arguments about whether this had been posted before and it was whether it created and it was just chop suey suddenly was dumped on what seemed like a clean release and then it there was continual evolution as to the Stars and others kept trying to defend these videos and it wasn't until September of 2019 so you go from December 2017 to September 2019 that there was a story about the Navy and in relationship with the Department of Defense saying that these were in fact verified as being legitimate videos and then this week comes official they say official declassification so whatever murky world that the videos were in in 2017 in terms of should they be released were they a threat to national security

what happened in terms of getting them out to the public all of that now this week for the first time has been like settled by the fact that it has been a section that these are now officially declassified you can read Popular Mechanics did a wonderful deep long story

citing emails and

and all kinds of sources they did one in January and they've done one now and it all goes into this whole issue of the videos and and the whole back story and why why always the are they or are they not legitimate were they officially released could they be a government like they were produced to release because there's something bigger and more that they want to release and this is sort of a way to condition people all of that has been a murky confusion around these videos since December of 2017 and then they go fast a small white that moves so fast that go fast was released in 2018

what is dominating the news kovat it's hard to get a signal through a much of anything else so it's odd the timing and it may be because this is one of the ways counterintelligence and Intel work sometimes important news gets released on purpose when there's a lot of deflecting other concerns and then it's they can say well we made it public you just weren't paying attention

so I don't know what more is coming in 2020 but the way this year has gotten to off to a start with covet and political instability and even the question is the leader of North Korea alive or dead why did somebody put out the glass coffin of the father and what looks like a glass coffin with maybe an in it but the government there at least as far as I knew yesterday

nothing there was nothing so we we are living on a planet as I said the time line it just doesn't even feel like there's anything out there very far with tremendous sense of vulnerability and what's coming next

I hope for the sake of justice for the sake of Americans being able to look each other in the eye and other people in the planet that we could finally say yeah we've been hiding extraterrestrials in their technologies since World War two because we thought the world would collapse the stock market would collapse religions would collapse everybody would collapse if we told them that there are ETS and they have advanced technologies and they can get here from there and they may even move timelines and they may travel in portals between dimensions and I think everybody can handle it now so now what about another question Linda a viewer wonders some people say that black projects are 20 to 30 years ahead of what we have now is it likely that these are just black ops drones then a craft from another planet I'm assuming they're asking about gimbal flare and go fast is that what I believe so yes I defer to commander David flavor I got to talk with him for two hours and that phenomena radio interview and respect his experience very much and when these pilots who fly things like those Hornet f-18s say I have never in my 16 years of flying I have never seen anything like this and he gave the reasons why that there was nothing about the FLIR image that fit anything that we know as aerodynamic on this planet and that the speed with which those objects were moving david flavor said to me when before we actually started the recording of that official phenomena radio interview in early 2018 he said I feel so frustrated that there are people out there who say your kit you're being deceived the United States has all kinds of advanced technologies that are 3035 years beyond where we are now exactly the point of the question and what you are getting in your f-18 Hornet imagery is one of our advanced technologies and they're just playing with you

it's cat-and-mouse by our own government it isn't anything that is from someplace else in the universe well commander Frey versed what we saw was something that was able to move at least beyond Mach 5 or 3 somewhere in there I think they thought it was moving around Mach 4 or 5 at some points or up faster and seemingly stopped and some things might be on an angle rapidly and said a human pilot couldn't be able wouldn't be able to sustain those kinds of speeds and stops and 90-degree turns and in one of the one of those videos you've got that object and then it does a turns like that in the two men are sort of stunned by what they're watching so no I do not think that the current phenomena that has been recorded by advanced radar and other equipment in some of our fastest jets falls in the category of black technology of ours and partly why I feel so strongly is if you jump all the way back to the end of the 40s into the early 50s and what was being described by military people then and lens Stringfield who wrote a very important book called situation read if you guys have not read lens stringfield's situation read

googly-eye new lens Stringfield well and we had long deep discussions about so many different subjects and he told me looking right at me he said linda when I served in the Air Force I knew that there was a standing order secret nobody was supposed to talk about it but there was a standing order to physically bring down UFOs from the sky with some sort of weapon and he said and this is a lens Stringfield quote to me we lost so many pilots trying to carry out that order and it was rescinded and then he and I talked about the different facets that those statements bring up immediately why what had happened that the United States would have a standing order to have its military in planes try to shoot out of the sky something that was defined by Harry S. Truman and Majestic 12 and that entire period at right at the end of World War two as extraterrestrial biological entities that was a phrase that the Truman administration and those that followed used in their own documents why would we want to shoot them down the implication this is what Lynn and I talked about that there had been what was considered to be hostile beams that melted our craft but would shooting down something that was an advanced technology make logical sense why would we assume that we could do that Len and I talked about well maybe it is that the government has some proof of some kind of a relationship with one intelligence and that there's more than one and some are not friendly

so that was a discussion a long time ago which we've talked about here before and maybe the implication was that we thought that we had backing that if we tried to take down X type of craft versus not another type that we were joining some political conflict that has a progenitor has an origination point maybe outside of the solar system and now the solar system is involved which means Earth has been involved for a long time because there are other intelligences with geopolitical interest concerns and conflicts what's amazing is that now we're at 2020 and I don't know anybody who actually knows the bottom line truth I'm saying that seriously I've had people tell me that this is the way it works this is who is this and this and this and this is what they want and they and then you'll end up something happens in an abduction or something else and it completely contradicts some assertion by somebody who has had a military or a government or Intel background and it continues to be this complex ever-changing do we know who the players are at all and if human bodies can be cloned and used as camouflage by various geopolitical conflict intelligences how would we ever know unless we had advanced intelligence that could be pointed at a human body walking around on the earth and we would know from some technology that had been proved to us demonstrated to us this is something else that's how complicated this is I just don't think there's any doubt whatsoever that we have other intelligences interacting with this planet and this solar system right now but it's not in the way that humans relate to each other and would the videos if the whole planet became conversant with the backstory behind the three videos that I show tonight and then you go on beyond that and we start getting more videos that our government would stand behind and say we are now confirming these are unexplained aerial phenomena or UFOs would there reach a critical mass is that what they're waiting for test test test see what the reporters do see what the public's reactions see what various professions their reactions then come out with something more and maybe this year in this decade was always that's the way I understood it that by 20:30 all of this should be opened up but what will come it do would it would it make governments tell the truth more or less

that's a good question Peggy yeah let's let's see what people think it's covered going to make governments tell us more honestly sort of like mayor or sorry Governor Cuomo in New York I think he really really tries to tell the general public the truth unlike a lot of others and we need people like that now more than ever I think and maybe kovat strange evil cruel kovat could maybe be pushing political forces that are going to have to completely reorganize all of their houses and do everything differently and finally maybe it would start tipping us toward way much more honesty between the public and the government we certainly deserve to be told the truth which is exactly what Nevada retired Senator Harry Reid said in his tweet this week the American people deserve to know the truth and I was a little late getting started but Peggy if there's one more question we have one more well we have many more but I have one here if the government has a history of lying to us about alien existence how can we trust anything that they say or even trust that they're sharing with us all the information welcome to my world that is a question that I've had ever since I started my first week of investigating animal mutilations in the state of Colorado

as director of special projects at the CBS station which was then KMGH TV and I've told you all before how innocent and naive I was in so many levels that I even called up the Central Intelligence Agency in Langley Virginia saying who I was where I was from what I was working on and that I wanted to know if I could get an interview with one of the CIA agents working the whole phenomenon in the state of Colorado in the West I thought you could do that and then this very very very cold

female voice came on one of the many extensions that I was transferred to being recorded I'm sure every step of the way

we do not make available any of our special agents or analysts working in the field just like that and it was one of those paradigm shifts that all of us go through in life depending upon what you do the government at that moment was inscrutable and cold and I did not know then how do I find answers from government and intelligence agencies that should be the ones investigating animal mutilations and in an odd way it was that push back that wall that made me want to persist made me want more than anything else to find out how in the world do you take down a 2,000 pound bull and take an ear and I the tongue the jaw flesh the genitals and core out the rectum with no blood no fluid

those excisions dry and no tracks around those bodies that were on dusty Dusty dusty ground no grass without even having the tracks of the animal and that's why sheriff's told me Linda right from the beginning in the early 60s it was the lack of tracks it kept us saying something's coming in and getting these animals from the sky and they're taken up into the sky and they're returned from the sky it's the only way you can make any sense of the trackless Bloodless animals and right there I've handed you a metaphor for exactly that question how do you ever trust any political or government agencies that know that as Sheriff Tex graves told me Linda the perpetrators of animal mutilations are creatures from outer space well he was a sheriff you didn't find those statements coming from governor's or senators or presidents or elected officials of other note so can you trust what is that old saying trust but verify

every single one of us in our life we have to work at trying to push through confusion push through political rhetoric we have to individually always all be trying to get to facts the pressure of facts and truth as much as we possibly can that's what I'm trying to do here

each Wednesday I love your emails and your letters

you are an intelligent and compassionate and struggling group of people you're dear to me I love you and I'll leave tonight saying I hope you never forget that black and yellow swallowtail butterfly in those flowers at the front door of a grocery store surrounded by people in masks afraid of microbes called Kovan and that butterfly was enjoy gathering pollen from those pink white and yellow flowers I wish all of you all of us joy

and there we go welcome everyone to intelligent disclosure I'm Richard Dolan and here's Tracy everyone happy I'm happy here with you what do we want to start here well we just got back from a lien con la as a lot of you know and it was fun

my home so I know how that goes but it was it was a fun conference I it was very very interesting in many ways by the way if you're gonna see the camera shake if you're gonna see the camera go in and out of focus don't complain

don't complain

you know better no complaining this is a set up so sometimes the camera is gonna shake because you would really be embarrassed to see how we've got this whole thing precariously situated right now when we get back into the collab room over yonder it'll be nice and rock-solid again so I just want to put that get that out of the way

it's always some worry is only someone this is temporary we do have a little bit of a funny setup here and there I just saw the shake so there's I just did that yeah my hand down okay so I didn't mean to cut you off no no I just came back from alien cotton right yes this is this is not a con about aliens as a convention they call it alien conscious like there's comic-con there's like all kinds of cons out there now right mm-hmm

so this one is done by the folks at ancient aliens because I've done like a total of four episodes on ancient aliens or whatever over there see more than that not many they invited me and I went and actually it was fun it was I enjoyed meeting with people yeah

but of course there's always that's the best part is meeting everyone who's there

want to say this all the news in my opinion the big news it's not going away it all has to do with the Admiral Wilson leaked the Eric Davis notes and so forth I can tell you that was a major part of the conversation among many many people over that weekend I'm sure you would agree mm-hmm

yeah absolutely more and more information is coming in all the time but of course it can't go out immediately

it has to be considered and Excel yeah but I also picked up a couple of very good investigators who are helping out with doing some genuine investigation in the whole background of this whole situation so while there's some people out there who are really just fixated on the provenance of these documents they're really wasting a lot of time because the the action is in looking at these documents and understanding what they mean and that's what we're doing here so we've got a number of individuals who are very energetically lending their support I will have a lot more to say about this whole scenario as it continues to unfold and that's really all that I can say we've got a number of questions that lots of folks have been emailing to us over the last week or so so we've collected them and we'll be reading those and if you've got some good questions relevant on point questions put them in and pursuing X well actually they'll be able to collect them and by the end of the live stream maybe we'll be able to get to some of those as well because we want to really get to all relevant questions yeah and you might want to wait till a little bit later as well in the broadcast just because we are going to be covering off on a lot of things so what I'm noticing by the way I'm sure you agree it's like the questions are really basically two questions on leaks mainly the Wilson leak but also the alien autopsy email leak that's all one thing and then TTS a which just dominates so many of the people's questions they want to ask about that so we figured it'd be good to deal with those two fundamental themes and then there's a couple of others that are coming in as well that people want to know about and I think we can get into mm-hmm

I think when we get into it too it's good to remember I this really became clear to me when we were meeting people who watched the show that you know it's not all people who have been deeply investigating and into this field for a very long time we sort of have every group of people some people have even been writing in saying they're new but they found this channel and they found some other researchers and they're doing their best to get caught up but they're just not at the level of everybody else so we always are trying to remember that we're speaking to everybody here yes it's really important yeah so every once in a while I'll probably stop Richard and have explain some things that you know some you'll be like oh I already know that but I mean part of this whole thing is that we want to bring in more people we want the people who are wondering about this we want to help them understand all of us do so please be patient when we do that and you know George Knapp you didn't interview with him and he was really saying you know this this truly is a very very steep learning curve and I agree you know as much as you immerse there's so much rich history here it is it does take a while to get caught up I was still working on it you know it's true it takes there are folks who will who will think and maybe I have this predisposition myself almost 25 years ago when I took my foray into the UFO subject you know you get this idea how hard could it be well it's actually very demanding and it takes there there is a steep learning curve

I think George said it exactly right this weekend the UFO subject I often think of as as like this you know when you go to speak to a wise old master on in a cave or on the hilltop right you don't just walk up to the person and say all right tell me everything you you know right now that's not how you go about doing it the UFO subject is like that you know just stroll in and expect everything to just fall into your lap it's there's a lot to learn it's a very complex field I'm constantly amazed at how folks just think you know you can explain every little nuance like right off the bat it takes time so have patience and be willing to have the patience and like any great subject that's worth the time the UFO subject will easily repay all the effort all the time that you put into it that I can absolutely assure you but yeah

steep learning curve I think that's quite right and sometimes you know we can't always see the chat but there are I mean on the days that I do get to see the chat we do have some people in there who are very well-versed and you never know they might be able to answer some things as well

so um I definitely see that

I definitely see people helping each other out in chat and love that I just think that's the greatest I'm glad you mentioned this because it's really important to me it's always been important to me that when I whether I'm speaking at an event or writing in a book or writing an article or being here on on a live stream that I've got to keep in mind there's a very wide audience out there there are people who are deeply deeply knowledgeable and invested in the UFO subject and then there are those who are just coming to it for the first time and both those types of people are valuable and you know you have to walk a fine line to be able to deal with this subject in such a way as to satisfy both those types and you can't always do it to be honest but my feeling is both are important you know we're at a point in our society where the UFO subject really has been very much amplified in public consciousness just in the last two years mm-hmm so when folks are coming in they're curious and it's important for those people who know about it to explain it explain it as clearly as you can to those who haven't had the time to research it yet and we also don't want to you know jump on them because they don't understand we want to help bring them along so they do understand so exactly you know there aren't any dumb questions we want to definitely encourage a sharing of knowledge and information and actually you know we were going to read this question first

it is quite but there's there's one there is one that was actually get to it this might be this might be the one we want to start with actually okay what do you think about that yeah I think it's good idea that before we get into the questions was there something else you wanted hit or are we uh no I think I just said it yeah that we all want to help each other out

you were saying you know this has come more into public consciousness in the last two years but just think about the last three weeks yeah right so it's possible that a lot of people are watching these shows and reading these articles in the major media for the first time and they're curious and who knows where they're gonna land because there's so much available out there and navigating it is not the easiest but so them might land here and so this is I mean this is where we want them

hmm it's been one month since the New York Times piece it's true on the Navy and UA it's true so we're just saying to some people be patient and you know we do want to be inclusive of everyone so yeah so let's let's get into it so this is the most entry-level eventual of a question spike we don't have to mention his name but it's by a friend of ours yeah

so when I looked at it I was like are you kidding me why are you asking this question but now that we just said what we said but it's a good question so why don't you this will be a bit of a review for people who have been watching every single show but let's do that let's review this this actually is very important to go over so why is this leak considered so significant right so I'm talking specifically about the Admiral Wilson leak of Eric Davis's notes and so forth if you do not know what this is go back go back to our channel you can say look for a UFO leak of the century that's what I called it a few weeks ago I do believe it is without question the UFO leak of the century I'm not alone in that assessment many other experienced researchers feel exactly the same and it is true so I'm talking about the leak of notes 15 pages of notes purportedly but I would say actually by dr. Eric Davis of nibs a National Institute of Discovery Science employee of Robert Bigelow a billionaire from an hour-plus long meeting that he had with a retired Admiral by the name of Thomas R Wilson and this is a meeting during which Davis either recorded it or took copious notes one or the other

he wrote 15 page 13 pages plus a two-page letter which he inserted in in which he's describing Wilson's reaction to a meeting that Wilson had 5 years earlier when Wilson discovered the reality of deeply classified programs to study alien technology et whatever and despite the fact that as head of intelligence for the Joint Chiefs of Staff he should have had proper oversight regulatory authority over this program he was denied access to it so that's very significant for obvious reasons you've got two very high-level people having a very sophisticated conversation it's quite obvious when you read through these notes about this subject now you've got a lot of people arguing over provenance how do we prove this is genuine you know they are absolutely missing the point here provenance is important and in fact I think the people who are talking about these documents are doing a very good job in describing that yes indeed they came from the files of the deceased astronaut dr. Edgar Mitchell now can they prove it do they have the individual who's got possession of the files the answer is no and I myself don't know who that person is on this channel I did an interview a few weeks ago with a gentleman named James Rigney of Australia who is the second in the chain James does know who that person is James is a person who's very well-known to a lot of the folks in the UFO research field he's a good guy and he was very upfront with me about how those documents came into being at least as much as he is able to we know that they were acquired legally we know that they came from the files of dr. Edgar Mitchell so there's folks now there's people complaining well it doesn't even matter who it came from that became from Mitchell or not - which I would say or what are you drinking like it matters very much where these files came from and they certainly appear to any reasonable analysis of that's exactly where they came from but the really important thing is what's in these notes all right and what's in these notes is a very detailed discussion about this entire failed attempt by Admiral Wilson to gain access to this black-budget program

I'm going to add something I've said many times which is that I was shown this document by an absolutely impeccable source at the end of 2006 I was shown two pages of the document not all 15 I was shown one of the pages with the quote that I have never forgotten which was where Wilson saying this is technology not of this earth not made by man not by human hands and indeed this is the document as it appears now a number of other researchers some well-known such as grant Cameron and others who are also very well known who do not want to come public at this time some of them are very mainstream know that these documents are real because they also have been shown these documents so it's fascinating it's going to require a lot to unpack I had a conversation with George Knapp about this and I mean I can just say I don't want to speak for George directly he can do that but I I know that he is interested in covering these notes when he feels when he feels the time is right I guess for him to do it it's delicate for some of these folks because frankly they concern individuals who are pretty well known I mean not just Erik Davis but he'll put off Robert Bigelow all these people are around and you know I think that some of these journalists are treading very carefully before they go in a very very public way with it but the fact is it's out and they're gonna have to deal with it this is not going away a lot of these folks how put off dr. Christopher green KITT green who's very prominent in the other leafy so-called alien autopsy leaked email these are people with very long-standing security clearances and you can bet it's an embarrassment for them in an uncomfortable situation for them to have this information leaked out these are conversations they were all having privately they're on their own Club that they did not expect ever to leak out and now it is leaked out so that's gonna be an issue for them but anyway unpacking what's in these notes I think is gonna take more time there's a lot there and there's a lot for energetic researchers to dive into so rather than running around in circles over whether these are genuine dive in and do some investigation you're gonna find your efforts are well paid off we just want to add just in case there are people wondering Richard was saying if you want to get caught up but I'll just say our last two Saturday shows well not this past Saturday actually the two prior Saturday shows and last Tuesday I think it was last Tuesday's show yes there are about three shows that you probably want to watch if we want to go back and hear everything else that's been said about it

I would also say on our website Richard Olin members I have free articles so go to Richard

Elam members go to free content and just go down the tab and you'll see a number of my recent articles a lot of those articles are text versions of the live streams that that I've done on Saturdays and there's another there's a couple of other articles as well that are just there and are relevant so you may want to check those out yep

okay so how about this what now a lot of the other questions are probably going to be jumping right in really deep into this so Anthony Clayton

what does Richard think will be the possible outcomes from this leaked document going forward and the most likely yeah it's a good question

look I like to say never ever doubt the mainstream media's ability to kill any story it doesn't want to come out and that would that goes for this too so it seems to me that this is not a welcomed story for certain groups and people it's certainly not a welcomed story for anyone connected to this program of reverse-engineering ET Tech I'm gonna want that but also you have a mainstream media that is very very deeply controlled so we've had as I have called for a long time a controlled disclosure

narrative that's been coming out for a long time it's really been in conjunction with TTS a which has had the initiative on this and somehow and I don't know exactly how they've been able to do this but they've been able to get very excellent cooperation with mainstream media it's been quite remarkable in fact not just cooperation it's I think it's fair to say the TTS a is somehow found a way to drive this narrative in the mainstream so there's a lot of analysis that is left to be done on that but this leak this leak is not a welcome development for the folks of TTS a so the question is how far will let's go now my attitude is this we have a controlled media yes oh my god I've been talking about this controlled media for over two decades publicly so you don't need to convince me but it's also true that we're not in a completely monolithic 100% totalitarian society yet we're not there there are always alternative narratives and they seep through what we're seeing with YouTube for example is an attempt to roll back the freedoms that we've had through YouTube but they're not fully rolled back you know we're not like China yet and we're not back like 1980s American television either so we still have much much more freedom in this society than certain groups would like for us to have and so while that situation is the case it's going to be very difficult to contain this leak it's getting attention I'm gonna be on coast to coast in a few days with Jimmy Church and I think Steven Greer will get the first couple of hours and I think I'm getting the second few hours this will be on coasts so that's a large audience that's not off that's not full mainstream obviously but it's getting there if George Knapp is able to do a piece on this that's sort of mainstream not like NBC Nightly News but is getting there so I think what's going to happen is that this story's going to be on a slow build for a while and it might take the full rest of this year for it to get that type of attention it might even be next year it could easily take that long meanwhile it's going to continue to Royal through the UFO community and there's going to be a couple of very loud dissenting voices who are going to just do everything they can to throw disrepute on these notes but their effort they're playing a losing game that this is they're not gonna win

there's always already a very strong consensus that has evolved and centered around the validity of this this leak so the point is how far will it go you know ten years ago I wrote a book on disclosure it was called after disclosure and you know looking back on how I perceived it I got one big thing I don't want to say wrong but I may it may be wrong which was I saw a disclosure as such a such a revolutionary thing where the the powers that be would have zero motivation for letting the secret out that the only way that it could come out would be by some explosive leak or some sighting that could not be explained and so forth and then that it would cause an avalanche and mayhem now what's happening is something a little different you have this controlled narrative rolling out it's very possible that some very smart people up at the top of our hierarchy have realized this secret is not going to be able to be kept forever so if we're gonna let it out we need to control how it comes out and we're going to control the narrative so I think that's part of it but the real question is can you control a UFO narrative forever because when enough questions leaked out will there be that avalanche effect that I wrote about a decade ago and I do believe that that is a definite possibility so long answer to your question I don't know exactly how far this is going to go or play out is this going to be disclosed

there's a lot of reasons to think it won't but I will say this we are in a place today in the middle of 2019 that I think nobody could have predicted two years ago or a little more than two years ago too much has changed and a lot is move forward last thing I just want to say auntie TSA I'm gonna jump ahead I don't know this but my feeling is that those individuals they've got their motivations for sure for promoting a disclosure narrative and I don't think that it is nefarious but I'm gonna wait until we get to that very long question because I think that person actually Freyja kind of framed the issue in a very very good way so I think we create all of us to sort of follow along the yanking of it yeah I think you did a great job so I thought we you want to move on okay well we could go into some of these we have a few here there's so many places make it go right now that's happened okay I like that too are we being steered towards fear VT this is from the chat it's a great question

yeah I don't really think so

I mean this actually deals with the the other person's question but let me just say here you've got a couple of statements people are talking about the show unidentified so let's just go to that that's the TTS a production essentially they're creating this is Lou Elizondo and the whole team is on there and look they're all military guys so they're interviewing Navy guys in one statement by Kevin day the radar operator of the USS Princeton I think was something like well if they're hostile we're screwed

well that's true like if they're hostile we are screwed now that doesn't mean that they're hostile we don't know that they are I would say that the tone of that show matches very closely a lot of the tone of my first two books on UFOs in the national security state which focus on military encounters with these objects that invade sensitive airspace that we've never had an ability to deal with

and you know from a that there are multiple points of view of looking at this phenomenon you could look at it from a civilian point of view people having their own personal encounters there positive and negative encounters all of that's in the in the mix but what drew me to this subject 25 years ago was the fact that the military was having encounters and that left a paper trail and that was important and that had to do with our government because we pay for that military and so my attitude was I wanted to look at the military encounters if for no other reason then that's a heck of a way to generate a public discussion on this mm-hmm and it seems to me that's what they're doing but I think I'm jumping the gun maybe we should get together yeah I was just thinking the same thing - okay so this is a long question but I think everybody will appreciate it so I'm just gonna start from the beginning mmm

the masses are easily moderated by the careful application of fear this is part of the t TSA agenda but I don't believe it is being done in a malicious manner but rather as a tool for disclosure I've heard a lot of conjecture on T TSA I genuinely believe these guys are trying their best to achieve some disclosure without blowing their access to levels of secrecy and individuals that they require to help this endeavor I have not heard anyone really pointing this aspect out and it's important but instead the speaking points have seemed to focus on how their personal lives can be affected by disclosing classified national security Intel but preserving and hopefully cultivating insider access really is the main point we pause on that for say yeah

yeah yeah so I feel that I have actually hit on this to some extent but basically these folks whether they're put off or Eric Davis or Louise Ando or Christopher Mellon or any of these other folks there they are they're actually negotiating their way through something that you could say is a treacherous little path so if you're trying to push a disclosure narrative and if you are trying to get sir military encounters with these UAP or UFOs declassified first of all it has to be said there's a lot of people within the Pentagon who do not want that Declassified my Pentagon is a large organization and it's it's foolish to think that it's monolithic quite the opposite

you got factions it's like a labyrinth so and there's little you know a power center here and a power center there and they don't then are don't agree I mean to say nothing of interest service rivalries like between the Navy and the Air Force and the army and so on so but the thing is if you are someone with classified and you've signed you know national non-disclosure agreements NDA's and you've got these classified agreements you've you've signed and you've nevertheless believed that some of this information needs to come out ask yourself a question how do you do it that's not an easy thing to do people say well they should just release the information but I don't think it's that simple I've had a number of conversations with similar individuals not even all of the tts a crap over the years who told me this is a very difficult problem that they face it's like you know one person once said to me let's say I knew who the top 10 or 12 individuals who had all the information on UFOs were like the actual mj-12 let's just say I have it and I give it to the New York Times first of all will the New York Times publish it that's a good question

secondly will it be disputed or debunked another good question if this person doesn't have airtight evidence like they're putting themselves at risk because it very likely would be traced back to that person and so then they're locked out this is the game that I discovered over many years that everyone in that community is playing they're trying to work their way through to get to the gold to get to the you know to the center and they have to do it without breaking the law

this weekend I had very deep conversation with a gentleman who I've known for many years this is an invariant akkada damn who has had a number of contacts that he has developed within one was in the Joint Chiefs of Staff or it's very connected to the Joint Chiefs another one was very very high up in NASA and both of those individuals when you know he got a chance to talk with him he always brought up the issue of UFOs because that's what he's interested in and both of these very prominent people at one point said stop it right there I'm gonna ask you never to talk to me about this one of them said my spouse could lose all benefits all pension and I could go into a place worse than living worth so these people are ruled by fear of themselves and of their careers and they know darn well they can't just put this classified information out there without repercussions but what do some of them do I'll tell you what some of them do despite that they will frequently very quietly drop little bread crumbs out for other researchers they've done it for me they've done it for grant camera and they've done it for Linda Moulton Howe they've done it for a number of other people and you know when you get these little bread crumbs as a researcher you have to ask yourself do I throw this person under the bus and the answer's no you can't do that because then you then you stop it

then you stop the whole thing from coming out like no one has ever given me ever enough data that I could just go to the media as a slam dunk this leak is probably the best opportunity and once this leak of these 15 pages of notes finally came out I was like yes we're gonna run with this we're gonna work with this because I've known about this since I was six so anyway that's a long interruption of that letter okay so we go on to the threat narrative right

I haven't heard anyone speak to one aspect of the TTS a unidentified threat narrative that I feel we should all be considering and bringing to the table the threat response narrative is an obviously important part of this organizations approach right so just rephrase what he's saying is that on the show unidentified they are emphasizing the threat narrative and they definitely are to keep going I understand why the space brothers sisters are not comfortable with this as it just seems to reinforce our prediction for election press aria our predilection for armed conflict and export of that propensity for violence to space which is not desirable we probably get our collective ass kicked to the curb for trying I linked to peace too but I see the value in this approach I have to keep going okay

the possible national security threat is a strong lever for the movement of public opinion thus placing pressure on the US government to make some disclosure and it is the easiest lever to manipulate it is most likely the best tool in their toolbox to force some action from Congress and the intelligence community by way of public concern even though our democracy is long gone

an aroused patriotic and demanding public body can still force change in these institutions so I understand why TTS is playing this card though I am not convinced that this phenomenon is a real existential threat there are plenty of reasons to approach it with caution even if we are currently communicating at some level with extraterrestrial civilizations there is no guarantee they come in peace or war and our understanding of their morals cultural influences and even their language could be deeply flawed for lack of true comprehension so it seems to me we should watch the threat narrative very carefully while letting it also bear fruit good let's pause there and maybe that might be all unless you see some of you absolutely

there's a lot it's a long letter it's a great letter we both thought it was great letter we put this on our site yeah that's a good idea don't mind so people can read it I just want to focus in on this because this this writer really crystallized something for me when I wrote volumes 1 & 2 of UFOs in the national security state which by the way if you haven't read it I would recommend go buy it because it's still it's it's the best history that I could have written on the UFO subject and I am working on volume 3 incidentally but my approach was actually similar in the sense of not emphasizing threat threat threat but at least pointing out that this is a potential threat I think you're a fool if you don't recognize the possibility of a threat and if you're in military that's your job

you have to perceive you have to analyze all activity as a potential threat but with this person's suggesting is that this is a very easy lever or lever to manipulate for them it's probably the easiest one to get congressional or some kind of public action and really makes sense you know you've had a you've had a system that's been complacent on this officially speaking for an entire human lifetime what's gonna get them moving here well a very directed you know emphasis on hey this could be dangerous he's gonna get someone's attention now I think this writer is totally right to say like that can really drastically be overdone

right so we got to watch that I fully agree I've been saying this all along but I think you know from my point of view what they have done with this show and what TTS in general is done for two years is move this ball forward in a public realm that was unthinkable two years ago

hmm at a friend who occasionally writes to me he just wrote to me today again I've known for many years and he's kind of buff in a friendly way very critical of my attitude on all of this he thinks someone else said well Dolan's drunk the cool

TTS is like what that's that's not I don't know what that even means drunk the kool-aid I try to look at this in a factual way and by that I simply mean as my friend wrote today he says I think you're missing point you got to look at the context over the content look at the context of what the information is coming in rather than the content and I I wrote back to him today said no you've got it exactly wrong you have it actually 100% wrong always content first context second you cannot understand context if you don't get your facts straight

so you've got to understand the actual information what is being said is what is being said truthful is what is being said false like that's your first step always and if you're not doing then if you're going into the context before you're doing the content you're falling into the modern post modern the postmodern disease of our society which does this all the time don't do that don't make the same mistake that people today rather than listening to what someone else is saying they're micro analyzing their alleged motivations for doing whatever they do

first thing you're supposed to do is understand what the other person saying because I guess what sometimes people that you don't like can say something that's useful sometimes people who have selfish motivations can still say things that are truthful all right

so motivations are interesting and sometimes they're important but they are not more important than the data don't get all screwed up on this too many people are doing that all right is there any more they got away there well I just want to add this because probably a lot of people are thinking this too along with what I was saying before and if our government rolls out a hardcore threat reaction as a type of disclosure you know we don't just accept that we must be adamant to demand verifiable proof for example living beings real crafts real evidence of hostile intent

etc we must not be led by our fear into a non-existent conflict with real spacefaring civilizations or false-flag alien scenarios that may evolve from this style of forced disclosure what he's saying is what we're just saying your get your facts straight first get the information

do your best to confirm or to falsify the information that you're getting rather than micromanaging the alleged motivations of what's coming down the road understand the information first sorry we're going on with this but I think there's a lot of good points there that showed up in other questions so this is why we're doing it like this this this person really had a lot of good points so I do believe many in the military the Intel community and our government are quietly angry about lack of access to this subject and acquired materials I'm sure they feel shut up by the overwhelming iron fist of control the corporate world has upon the subject an area that should be controlled if necessary by these institutions rather than the rare field world of air right right Wow

that's what verified world of extreme wealth so that's another great point right I want to add something little corporate ownership of this one thing that I don't think he does mention but I think we researchers really want to start looking into is not simply the military government motivations for and as he's paying saying fighting the corporate control over this which is I think absolutely true but understanding that there's into corporate rivalries going on here that are very likely triggering certain weather leaks or disclosure initiatives and so forth and that might very well be the case with the TSA which is essentially a Bigelow centered group you know in all but name Robert Bigelow is has been a defense contractor now that you know the a type contract that he got is chump change by anyone's any military contractors standards but nonetheless he's in the game and one thing keep in mind is that contractors are jealous of each other

contractors don't like each other contractors compete with each other contractors are sometimes angry over the fact that their competitor has access to exotic tech that they may not have access to and they know this is true and it bothers them to no end and so sometimes we have to understand it could very well be the case that a leak could occur courtesy of a competitive military contractor so they've got their motives I'm not saying this has happened in any of the cases we're talking about here but it absolutely can happen everyone's got their motivations everyone wants to make their money but that doesn't mean that the leaks are therefore false it could mean that they're totally true

so anyway okay I'm going to skip a bunch because I think it is a good idea we'll put this we'll post this under free content yeah we'll put it under the personal letter if anybody wants to read this because there are so many good points yeah he just feels that we are right about how TTS A's best impact is bringing the average TV viewing public into the conversation and the D stigmatizing of the UFO UAP subject they are stimulating honest conversation instead of Snickers and innuendo they're making these objects real for those who may have ignored them in the past so right that's a huge thing yes

the huge thing I mean it's something that we've all been wanting for so long and here it is and look at this arguing but yeah well I think you know this is we're in a situation right now where two three plus years ago we would have loved to have found ourselves in and now we're in it so it doesn't mean that there aren't new problems and I really like this this man's attitude which is you know watch that threat narrative like I got to keep an eye on it but in my opinion I think we agree here we watched the first four episodes uh-huh

I'm not seeing a heck of a threat narrative I have to be honest with you if you think this is a threat narrative I think I don't think you really know what a true threat narrative is this doesn't sound like fear-mongering it's I would say moderate concern and by the way if I were in charge or running national security in any way shape or form it would be my job and would be your job to be concerned over a potential threat like that that's just normal

now whether these these things they're actual threats is a really fair question to ask right now we just need to get this out on the table in public and talk about it sir we have to start somewhere yeah

and it seems like a fair place to start

okay so good I think that's a lot of tea tsa we want to get back to the leaks perhaps or the leaks I'll let you look through these while I look through the chat all right so yeah here's one am I supposed to mention these names am I allowed to mention them I think you can for these ones Keith Koch this is my question is what if any FOIA requests do you think will be generated by these documents I assume he's talking about the Wilson leak and anything related says if there are what are the important revelations implications it's a good question I don't know that I'm sure there will be researchers who are going to want a FOIA these they we should and there are ways of doing it but this may not generate anything I mean if you go through the notes you find Wilson was given explicit direction on where to look by one of the people was by former Secretary of Defense William Perry who knew that system as well as anyone alive at the time and Wilson still nearly didn't find the program that he was looking for these things are well hidden according to at least how he was describing it and and according to anything that we now know of unacknowledged special access programs we do have some knowledge on these types of programs these are the primordial black budget programs they are intensely secretive intensely privatized and very protected from public purview doesn't mean it's impossible but this could be a real tough one

we're not in a situation where our government is you know accessible to the eyes of the people it's quite the opposite

and I think we all know this so we're in a very difficult position visa be the government and visa vie these private corporations which are the real power behind the scenes but I thought it's a good question this is another question this is another of the motivation questions my question this is Martin La Victoire why is this happening now what could be the ulterior motive to this slow-cooker disclosure the whole phrasing of ulterior motive makes it seem like they're going to do some kind of Verna von Braun false flag alien invasion thing which a lot of people seem to think this I talked about this last week not a believer in that if you're still thinking the Verna von Browns the false flag scenario is gonna happen you really ask yourself what's what's the planning range for these types of things is it more than 50 years are they actually planning this out I would be very skeptical of that scenario ulterior motives well I don't know and I don't know how I can answer that or how you can answer that I've done my best offering a hypothetical earlier which is that people have made the decision that this is going to come out and it's probably best and safest for them to slowly control that narrative and I think that's really what's happening we're in an era right now 2019 is not the same as 2010 it's not the same as 2000 and it's not the same as 1990 where then are really speeding up era and it does seem to me that things are moving very fast and it's becoming increasingly impossible to hide the inevitable so someone at some point I think is made a decision

if you throwing up their hands as it were and they're rolling out a slow controlled narrative where that will end I don't think they have the I don't think that I've been saying all along you want to tame the UFO phenomenon turn it to you AP be my guest UFOs are not easily gonna be tamed so where we're gonna end up at the end of this is anybody's guess

you see something in there that you want to read uh no this was just a comment of what you said before from KQ it's when you were saying but they will drop breadcrumbs it seems like they give breadcrumbs then they turn around and discredit the person that received the crumb least that's what it seems like

why don't it depends on what we're talking about if you're talking about the leak I don't see how that would make sense the leak is the leak no one no there's no evidence and no reason to believe at this point that some agency Mack engineered that leak there's not any ration now for that and there's no reason to believe it for everything that we know this was a leak that occurred through private individuals interested in the UFO subject and I don't have any reason to think otherwise at this point so the leak is the leak and the leak as I'm saying is unwelcome to the people at T TSA for a lot of reasons

it's embarrassing to some of the key people there and B it really messes with their control narrative of we don't know what these things are well if you take the leak seriously they know damn well what these things are mm-hmm

of course they know what these things are every now and then you get it or not right yeah

Elizondo and his thing it was one of his last ones with Tucker Carlson essentially said you know he's always likes to say well we don't know what they are but he also said look they're not Chinese in Russian all right

we're pretty sure about that of course they're sure about that like they know this is about Russian and Chinese so fill in the blank they're playing this game it's a public relations game they go as far as they think that they can go and to keep moving that narrative forward right he was in a position where it was his job to know here's a question this is a relevant one here

Damien Wynn do you think T TSA is going to bring some black technology into the white world like the day after Roswell so what he's saying is they have had access and we know this is true through a help put off in Eric Davis's study is at earth Tech of the metamaterial the artifact which by the way if you do not know what this is about you get up to speed on this one but gave an amazing lecture a year ago June of 2018 at society of scientific exploration / urbe international remote viewing Association and he talked about this artifact allegedly from the 40s it's off the charts sophisticated it's amazing they've been studying this so is not hard to imagine that sure they would love to get access to a patent write some of this tech if they could get there if they could do that mm-hmm

I mean I don't know how that would work legally but maybe they've got some good lawyers and they're trying to figure that out there's no question that you're gonna have a lot of people seeing dollar signs as a great opportunity to cash in on this so that could happen

a number of years ago I was friends with a man named Gordon Novell who's long since passed away

Gordon sure there's people watching this who remember Gordon he's a real character he's a brilliant man and he was kind of well plugged in in his own way Gordon had this project called the RAM project and he even got me to write up a paper firm on on that at one point in Gordon's attitude was we're gonna white world there's black technology and he used a lot of colorful language he says we're gonna stick it to those so-and-so's at area 51 is that how he said it and he didn't say so-and-so's and and he was he was he would promise everyone on this team like you're gonna make a trillion dollars on this guarantee Dolan and like all right Gordon whatever you say you know I don't think any of us really believe that Gordon was going to be able to do it but he really tried to put a team together to white world this black world technology and maybe I think maybe who's onto something the point is like these guys here I think it wouldn't shock me in the least if they have a similar attitude I'm sure Gordon knew a lot of these people who are TTS a mm-hmm

so I'm sure they all talk to each other and I wouldn't be surprised in the least if they want to do such a project like that is that is that a dark motivation that that's a human motivation my attitude is I don't I don't really care if someone wants to cash in on this let them do it just get the truth out get the truth out and we'll fight about motivations later get the truth out and we can talk about government policy later get the truth out get the truth out the single most important thing we can do on this we've been dealing with 70-plus years of lies of stigma of ridicule so get the truth that if we can do that we can take the next problem when we when we get to it so so is that part of what you'd say I think a lot of people are wondering because of what's out there you know what if what if this is a CIA thing well in a way it's I mean you've got CIA employees who or at least contractors who've who are pushing it cut off work for the CIA with the remote viewing

Christopher Mellon was Defense Department high-level intelligence management and Louie's Elizondo's intelligence and Steve Justice over at Lockheed Skunkworks guaranteed he's had a lot of connection with the intelligence community all of these guys have so what does it mean I guess I would ask myself you know historically if you've done your history if you're listening here is it true that every single person who's ever worked for the intelligence community is out-and-out evil no I mean that's dumb to think that people are people they're complex and sometimes they're working a disinformation program and sometimes it's not a disinformation program use your common sense use your brains someone like Putt-off is 82 years old if he's working at disinformation on behalf of the CIA someone please explain to me what his motivation is what is he actually doing what does he seek to gain you know if he's smart he's trying to gain a seat on the board of posterity in the future for doing something that the rest of humanity will be grateful for that's that would be my advice to him do it because it's the right thing to do but I don't really care what people's motivations are I mean we care but it's not as important as what the actions are you know everyone's got their motivations I mean honestly I think people just get this is a good one here I think they get very obsessive of in motivations and it's not that you should not take it into account but again

content first context second so focus on the information and find out what is true what is not true it's not like we're not watching them we are watching them we're all why yes like we were reading in that letter I mean we're happy about where what's happening right now message is coming out but we are all going to be watching I've spent a good portion of this year talking about their control disclosure narrative and talking about how they've rebranding UFOs to UAP like this has been one of the main themes that I've been hitting on this year it's important to know that they're siphoning the history out of the UFO phenomenon got to be careful you don't do that or at least I understand why they are doing it but we are not therefore obligated to accept that at face value all right but we can also understand why it's happening all right it doesn't have to be necessarily nefarious saying we need to understand like what is their actual motivation here is it nefarious or are they just taking baby steps mm-hmm

trying to work their way through something and I don't know maybe it's one maybe it's the other but the important thing is this information is coming out okay so we're gonna move on to another one and this is from Jerry Foshee if alien tech is actually being controlled in a private sector environment and protected to the point that even a member of the Joint Chiefs cannot gain access to the program

why couldn't or why wouldn't the POTUS do something akin to sending the entire 82nd Airborne Division yep yep in to seize the facilities and all they contain as this would be an entirely illegal handling of items technology beings etc that could be in indescribably dangerous to the US in other words a clear and present danger by being essentially outside any government oversight regulation or law let's leave it at that

that's a great question and I'm gonna take a guess that this individual probably implicitly knows the answer in that question it's worth asking you know we're in an era where we have to ask ourselves

he says POTUS of course is President of the United States who is in charge is that the President of the United States is this something behind him is it the deep state is it the national security state is it the global financial powers that be and I think we know where the real powers reside generally speaking presidents come and go and the deep state or those powers behind the scenes they stay they're lifers so you know what happened when John F Kennedy was assassinated it's really worth asking in this context I think there's a very good reason to believe Kennedy was assassinated for probably a couple of reasons but all of which indicated that he was not a team player

as far as the deep state was concerned you know he had questions about the Federal Reserve he had questions about UFOs and that's factual he had questions about Vietnam as far as we can tell

surely looks like that to me he had questions about nuclear proliferation and there was a lot more Kennedy back in 1962-63 showed himself to be a real danger and so he was taken out all right so we really need to understand like is the president the guy running the show any president in you know 1997 when all of this was going down President was Bill Clinton I'm pretty darn sure that Bill Clinton was not in a strong position to be able to do anything about this if he wanted to and I'm gonna take a real guess that he didn't want to Bill Clinton okay

was this close to the guy who preceded him George Herbert Walker Bush they were buddies they ran against each other big deal meant nothing Bill Clinton was hand-picked he attended the 1991 Bilderberg meeting that's like in Goodfellas where you become a made man and a year later Clinton becomes the Democratic nominee for the presidency and he wins in the fake choice between Clinton and Bush of 92

you know the real choice actually was Ross Perot and they took him out and Clinton gets in and basically takes Bush's identical position on almost everything point is Bill Clinton was never going to send in the 82nd airborne on this matter I mean aside from the fact that he was very politically compromised for a lot of reasons in 1997 wasn't gonna happen but certainly not for this so these guys they don't have a lot of leeway they don't have a lot of power and you know there's another thing my colleague and friend Katherine Austin Fitz has talked repeatedly and as she was very high up in government and she has talked many times about a control file that exists in her view on every single prominent politician there is and actually not just she has talked about this I believe William Binney formerly of NSA has talked about bill bill Benny is one of the most important whistleblower leakers we've had in all of American history he's a Real American Hero Batman they talk about a control file that exists on every one of these politicians but they've got you you get into that position and they will control you it's really good worth asking by the way where Trump fits in all of this incidentally and I I don't know if I you should or can get into that here but maybe we can come back to that in the future it's really worth asking because you've got the whole queue nerit that says he's an outsider taking down the deep state and others who say no way he's been completely co-opted by them so on

I personally believe he's been utterly co-opted by the neo cons and not by the neoliberal so

he's been co-opted by half of the American ruling elite but not the other half and that's why he's still problematic from their point of view but anyway this is why presidents there's not just gonna go and do this as far as I can tell or they could be taken out either with their lives or ruined in some other way I was just I just caught my attention there Joe from the Carolinas is here and he was saying you know ultimately POTUS is civilian the president is civilian right yeah so and I have a question from him here good what do you think was still being hidden from Admiral Wilson oh that's a great question even if you go through these notes all right a lot of people have been looking at this thinking abductions aren't real seriously you've got the contract or telling Wilson our progress has been painfully slow we're not making any progress on this but what does that sound like to most of us that is nothing to see here this year if you think keep it open we don't want you here nothing to see nothing great is going on here don't you worry about it there's a lot of things in these notes that conflict with the other areas of understanding that we have developed over the years I mean think of something like the 1998 arv story the alien reproduction vehicle which by the way was Gordon ovals real inspiration the ARF as he called it anyway you know that's a very interesting story comes from the aviation writer mark McCandlish who is very well known and he's been quite public I would say about this over the years mark is a very proficient aviation illustrator and writer and had the opportunity and as he would look back on it blew the opportunity to go to a very very interesting airshow his friend and colleague Brad Sorensen went and Brad Sorensen according to the story is November of 88 took a very high-level defense official who said to him I'll tell you where the real airshow is and they go off to a place called the big hangar lockheed Helen Dale's facility in this big hangar guarded by guys in m16s they go in and behind this curtain are three hovering silently hovering flying saucers for lack of a better word they're known as the alien reproduction vehicles according to Sorensen there was a fourth star giving a lecture at a podium about them referring to them as alien reproduction vehicles and so on saying actually that they had traversed the solar system Sorensen said I looked at this very carefully and he said it looked like it had been put through its paces it didn't it didn't look brand-new so for whatever that means the general said these things run on the on the vacuum of space this was one year before a fella by the name of how put-off wrote his first paper on wait for it

zero-point energy otherwise known as the vacuum so how does Wilson's the notes by Eric Davis and Wilson's conversation square with with the arv story well particularly since this facility was a Lockheed facility and the good betting information on the contractor and Wilson the Wilson notes is Lockheed Martin a lot of people believe that it's Lockheed Martin so that would seem to me to be an out-and-out lie it would seem to me or or here's the other possibility

Lockheed itself is so compartmented that these guys are kept secret from each other and I I don't know how that would work but maybe that's the case you know this document sometimes leads to more questions not all the answers that we want but you know that's more research for us I just want to throw in this question just because what you just said by 1776 why is it that nobody talks about the secret projects at Boeing phantom works over the decades skunk works gets all the all the attention isn't a diversion or just oranges why is that I think it's a great question

diversion I don't know I think you know what happens is researchers just tend to fixate on on what's what best known you know in Reverend Lockheed skunkworks is is I mean they're sexy they were they've done all these cool projects but Boeing has definitely been connected to the black triangles that people have been talking about I I should write about this I had a couple of interviews with a retired Boeing engineer who worked at Boeing in the 1980s and 90s a really sharp guy indeed who told me he's fairly explicit about this about his knowledge of Boeing's attempts to build silent black triangles based on wait for it reverse engineered alien technology and he wasn't as far as I could see directly involved in replicating it but he knew about it and so these stories are out there but I agree with the with the person asking this question you know there's other companies in fact what I would like to see is that this latest document drop on these this Wilson conversation should lead us to ask what are the likely defense contractors that are dealing with this exotic technology and I I really think this is a important direction that people need to be going is one of several important directions okay so I want to ask this question because it's shown up in many places and then go off in some other directions but we're having a rash of UFO UIP events and at the same time countries are in a race to get back to the moon what gives and i think when when this person is talking about events i think they're talking about you know the rise of everything in the new york times and news

yeah the news essentially so what's up with the timing of everything why

why is this all going down now in your opinion is there a reason yeah it's a good question and that's what I was saying before because history is speeding up you're having a confluence of a number of things happening this is an inevitability hmm I was saying this 10 years ago actually I was saying that we're getting to a point things are speeding up more and more and more our computing capabilities are increasing our social connectivity is increasing our ability to extract information is constantly increasing our ability now we're going into space in a much more significant way than in the past that's happening so this isn't like the 1960s anymore the nineteen seventies it's becoming impossible to keep this contained and so therefore it seems to me that preparations have to be made for rolling out information so that it doesn't come out as a huge shock and then then the ruling structures like is in danger of totally losing control over the narrative they're gonna lose some control over it they can't control this entirely it's not going to be possible it's not going to be pop they're trying they're trying to do through not just controlling mainstream media but not controlling Google and YouTube or at least coordinating with Google and Facebook and all of us but the control is not complete and so it's not it's really not gonna happen so but I think this is why it's like everything is coming together and it's rapid and we're gonna see more and more of this and in the coming decade okay we have the soft disclosure occurring presently and we have the testimony of Gary McKinnon regarding a space force and offworld personnel and we have Bob Lazarre's testimony I'm working reverse engineering the craft is it not possible that it is all one in the same for example now we have a fully operational space force that is separate from any kind of oversight largely offworld or underwater and the crafts that were encountered by commander flavor were actually our own they knew the rendezvous rendezvous points as they have access to all our technology and information on their systems already mm-hmm

yes he says all this in addition to ET and UT right extraterrestrials then I assume ultra terrestrial right do we want to mention that name that's true strike yeah he's one of the members of our side is a great guy yeah I mean we're all wondering this so is there if there is a breakaway civilization how advanced is it that's really the magical question how advanced is it and why would they be messing with the military

that's a great question too why on earth would they do that what would be the motivation for that well one thing we have to keep in mind is if you if you break down to 2004 citing what we're now learning and this is largely through the show unidentified by the way is that it wasn't just one tick-tack UFO I mean we kind of knew this before there were multiple sightings over a period of weeks but what we're getting now from the Navy witnesses is that no there were actually large numbers of these things at one time mm-hmm you had to kind of I don't know if you want to call it a fleet but you've got a large numbers of these things and this is also the case on the East Coast in 2014-2015 off the coast of Virginia so are we just bumping into their infrastructure are we doing something at the same time that they're doing it and they're just monitoring us we've had this this whole situation of UFOs monitoring us since the beginning they've been monitoring our nuclear installations they've been monitoring our nuclear tests I spoke to a witness back in in the 1960s was involved he was a navy person and he was involved in a lot of the tests of nuclear ordnance in the upper atmosphere in the early 1960s and he said to me this is out in the Pacific we had UFOs all the time all the time during our tests so you know it could be I mean in theory could be a breakaway civilization but I I suspect it isn't it's all comes down to this science of these things do we really understand the science it's not clear to me like when you talk about the meta materials that putt-off is discussing last year I get the very strong impression that we are not at the level of duplicating that material science that is human hair with the bismuth human hair width of magnesium back again and again and again and to have them bond in the way that they are apparently bonded in this sample like there's certain things we can do and there are certain things we don't seem to have the ability yet to do to nano engineer a material we're down to the tens of nanometer level as far as I can understand and and the quality is not that great and yet according to Davis and put off this meta material has been engineered at the nanometer level and possibly even the angstrom level which is 1/10 of a nanometer so that appears to me to be well beyond what we've got and that artifact incidentally allegedly is from the 1940s we don't really know but that's where it's supposed to be from so there's definitely groups that I would say are not us but - what drew is asking here is the tic-tac UFO something potentially ours and face force we don't have a way of understanding how they do what they do yet well just so people know I think most people watching this know but maybe not everybody knows if you do watch the show an identified and you are you know it's just not what they're saying this is coming straight out of the pilots mouth and that is what you're right what you're watching on the show they were just saying you know the the craft didn't go after them

however the craft was seemed to be following them right and seemed to be interacting with them so you actually hear multiple pilots say this

the female pilot who is anonymous says something along these lines

Brian graves graves does and

Danny that coin I think is the other one's name right so um and flavor I just can't understand if it was part of space force or breakaway civilization why they would get so close to the super hornets why they would risk this unbelievably expensive technology by getting that close and they are saying you know they they got really really close to the craft so for me that just doesn't make any sense I can't think of any reason in my mind that that they would be interacting like that now you would think that they have bigger things to do they have what we need

honestly but we don't know what we need is we need more access to the information we need to get into the records the classified records that you know exist that the Navy's got and that other branches of the military have you gonna tell me they didn't do a detailed classified analysis of the tick-tack UFO encounter seriously like you know what we're hearing from the show unidentified is that well no one's talking about it but actually we do know that there was high-level interest in that data back in oh four so someone is damned interested in that stuff and there they did an analysis of it so we need to find it we need to find out where that analysis is located and what do they think you know we need to see this do they think it's a breakaway civilization okay fine let's find out do they think it's extraterrestrial do they think it they're coming in from another dimension you know two millimeters away from our nose I don't know

lots of questions no answers but it's it's a valid question germ so there you go sure how are we doing for time by the way where it's 916 we do this every time yeah and there's a lot of good questions this is a good one yeah that one and I just want to look over here let me let me jump into this one this is from Jay King he says yes we can use his name thanks Jay this is a long question I'm just gonna try to paraphrase but he this is a good question and I didn't know that this was the case I'm glad he'd mention it here's a question I noticed on the I notice on the earth tech team page the earth tech is help put offs and Eric Davis's team they're all rights help put offs company earth deck I notice that on the earth tech team plate page all direct references to reverse engineering have recently been scrubbed that's interesting

now Eric Davis is bio instead instead references and then he lists a bunch of these things

SETI Zeno archaeology among other things talking about breakthrough propulsion physics for interstellar flight interstellar flight science this is all Davis's work beamed energy propulsion advanced space nuclear power and propulsion directed energy weapons future and transformational technology on and on but apparently there was there had been reference to reverse engineer technology which J is saying has been scrubbed taken off the site so that would be interesting

well I think I'm just offering my opinion here you know when when put off last year it's talking about their attempts to study this bismuth magnesium artifact alright

which by the way it's on Vimeo go to Vimeo type in putt-off 2018 SSE lecture you'll find it you have to pay five dollars pay the money watch the lecture by the way Steve Bassett at PRG research has a very excellent breakdown of that lecture incidentally but anyway the point is putt-off gives us lecture a year ago and i'm telling you this is a series of bombshells which he himself said you know he couldn't talk about this a few years earlier without going to jail and by the way I asked him who gave you this green light and would you not like to know gave me a great not answer essentially though he didn't want to tell me you know didn't give me an answer that I thought was really helpful

but the point is he's dropping this bomb now the impression that I get is that I don't think he was expecting this to go to Vimeo that's my opinion

I think he was doing a very limited disclosure for what he thought was a very limited audience and you know so like a little bit of a safe place that he could just say this and I think the repercussions are a little bit more than what he expected so I think what was supposed to be for a quiet little audience that wasn't supposed to go anywhere it went somewhere and you know since I have been talking about this for almost the entire year now and a few other people have talked about this not many unfortunately but I think it's enough that I'm just guessing here the good people at earth Tech said let's take this off the website at this time and that's the best guess I can offer is I think it's it would not be a mistake it would not be an accident that they would have done that good question and there's another relevant question here I'm just gonna hunt through this there are so many there are so many yeah

oh there's one on this Antilia autopsy yeah we haven't talked about that at all

why don't we why don't cuz I mean there's one on on Steven Greer yeah let's talk about Santilli though because that's everybody is sort of in the mode of the leap dogs okay and then there's one on the interview on Costa Jack Sarfati right which I'll just very quickly deal with this hair does it okay kind of follows on top so someone asks did you

Mark Martin Barnes did you see the interview on coast with Sarfati so Friday claims to understand how the tic-tacs work says the Russians are onto the technology which could be weaponized and dominate he is desperately trying to get Trump's ear for an emergency program this is a national security emergency

he says the paradigm describes consciousness what's your take on this yeah I wrote about this

for a quiet article actually in our site which you know members last fall last summer under when I did it or no last winter I'm sorry he did an amazing very interesting let's say interview on YouTube about a 30 minute long interview I can't remember the name of the YouTube channel but just type in Sarfati tic-tac physics on YouTube and you will find it it's 30 minutes long and it's worth listening to twice carefully take notes

he really follows up on a lot of what putt-off said in his SSC speech in 2018 and he's basically talking about how the material the meta material itself of the craft as he calls it softens the space-time boundary it's very interesting and I won't go into all of his theories here because a I'm not really qualified to get into his physics anyway and I only have a laypersons understanding but what he's really saying is that it's I think we've been looking at like what's the engine of this all this time and what he's saying look at the material look at the material science which he argues the lattice like structure of these meta materials somehow slows the speed of light down inside it and on how this happens so don't ask slows the speed of light down enough though that it changes the equations necessary to achieve a warping of space-time in other words Miguel Alcubierre back in 1994 developed some mathematics of warp drive the math is good from everything that I've heard the problem with it is that achieving it according to his calculations would require a ridiculous amount of energy that we don't have but what Sarfati is arguing is that no no you can do it there's a trick the trick is in the metamaterial a lattice structure which slows down speed of light which changes the equations and he says hey maybe the amount of energy that you need is just a triple-a battery which I don't know if he's serious but I think that's his point so that's my take now as far as like national emergency the Russians the Chinese whatever that's Sarfati that's his politics ask him about it you know I think he's been kind of neo Connie for many many years and you know there's a lot of other people who feel that way I don't know if I feel that way but that's his opinion so there you go

this one can I do the Greer question here okay

I was quite I was noting that lower on the priorities because I'll move that back what about the Sam Kelly thing don't do that

yeah all right

can I read this one do you want to read this you read this is anonymous all right and uh my takeaway is that you guys feel the scent until the autopsy film is authentic is this correct

Linda Moulton Howe also has compelling evidence that the film is real this verifies for me that the greys do exist based on it on overwhelming evidence do you want to just talk to that party when we get go yeah let's do that that's really the relevant one look I'm very interested in here's the main thing that I'm interested in I'm not involved in the argument is they is this realer as a fake Santilli just put out a recent statements on grant Cameron's Facebook page where he's got his own explanation as to why there was a cameraman why they're all these other people involved Santa leaves arguing you can believe it or not and I'm not offering a position here that he was doing a restoration of a god-awful bad quality film that he got okay so that's his position and he maintains that was always his position okay

I'm less interested in that at the moment I'm interested in those emails where KITT green dr. Christopher green is talking explicitly to his buddies putt-off Bigelow called Kelleher was on this Eric Davis that his opinions at the alien autopsy video of San Tilly's is genuine and depicts an actual alien and he says this on that and by the way there's a few people out there who say no no that's fake

the emails are all wrong like that is the dumbest argument yet that I've heard to try to debunk this video if you're gonna try to debunk the email you'd better do better than that

I went back and forth all day with kid green the day those were leaked

he did not deny those emails and in fact I've got that in an article form on my website it's you can read it Richard all the members go look for it not hiding this from you

Greene was embarrassed I could easily tell that this came out and he immediately said now no that whole thing was hoax everyone knows it was hoaxed

and I said look that's not what I'm interested in here I'm interested in in the emails where you state that you were briefed at the Pentagon by a uniformed Pentagon officer in 1987 or 1988 that you were shown an alien autopsy report and an image of a being that you write in this email was identical to the Santilli alien now I ask you how is that not interesting right

that's very interesting

what does this mean I don't know what it means yet but you know you get some of these people that not this person asking the question he seems to believe it there are people who act like you know MIT medieval priests guarding the sanctity of the dogma thou shalt not question the Santelli film is a hoax well look sorry this is new information I want to get to the bottom of this I want to know why KITT green wrote this now in the email exchange that I had with him that day which is in my article okay he concluded by saying well they lied to me at the Pentagon now that's where I'm gonna be honest and say I have a little bit of an issue with this not that the Pentagon is not gonna lie and maybe that they may not even lie to a high-level CIA officer who used to get briefings around Reagan and in a formal briefing okay a uniformed officer lying maybe that happened but you're taking a heck of a chance there

how many autopsy reports is kid

green red I have no idea but I'll bet it's a lot but the most important thing is that it knocks out the timeline of the original film yes yes that's a 13-cent Tilly's film it knocks out the timeline so there we I got an email from a very strong prominent defender of the Santilli hoax interpretation and maybe that's right but nonetheless I said to this person in a private email said look I'm not arguing against your position here what I'm saying is what kid greens statement is very interesting and this person said well unless he had a time machine that's impossible and that's where I have a problem with that argument like you're gonna prove to me that Green is lying on this then you better make your argument alright but he Green himself was acknowledging those emails mm-hmm

so so just to be clear so the sentient film came out when he created that one it was first shown in 95 okay 99 five okay so he created it and it was shown on FOX TV in the US and 97 okay and so kicked green was saying that he saw this in 87 or 88 he couldn't remember the exact date apparently okay so those many years before it does it blows the whole thing out now you could say does that mean there's pentagon collaboration with Santilli doesn't look like it there's there's no evidence at all for that at all just got to say that but I mean these are the kinds of questions that arise right so to me it's just an interesting thing and I'm I'm I want to see where this dust settles I'm interested in follow right and in case you're interested in more we do know that Linda Moulton Howe is investigating this further and so it's grant Cameron and which brings me to some other questions that someone had here mr. black spoon what do you think of the alien autopsy developments and the crank and get grant Cameron trying to get the original film yeah yes we did just hear about that yeah and well yeah apparently be great Santilli apparently says he still got it right like who knew so 29

Tina's not the same as 19 95 or 97 like we've got way better ability to analyze these this film and so hey let's do it right let's do it and I did not read the statement myself but there was a statement from Sen Tilly that it was put up on grants Facebook page if you leave yeah right well you probably were reading something when I mention that oh you did yeah I probably was but he did do that so yeah that's this all big messy thing and this is a controversy that I'm just kind of smiling and sitting back and like let's let this whole thing play out I'm I don't have a I don't have a stake in this one so wherever it leads is where it leads I don't know what the truth is here now I will say that through the 1950s and 60s and 70s there have been a number of stories that have always circulated about alien autopsies the late researcher Leonard Stringfield collected a number of them I've talked about this many times I've written about it in especially volume 2 of UFOs international security state

Stringfield was deeply involved in that so there's something there

I personally believe that there have been alien autopsies that have been done so is this one of them are not this I don't know I don't know but you know I remember and this is let's not do historical revisionism here in the late 90s and early 2000s yes there was a huge effort by a lot of people to say this is a hoax but there were a lot of very detailed analyses that supported that film back then they were out there the whole argument of the telephone the whole argument over the autopsy procedures people went back and forth and so I'm just interested to see how this turns out now what I didn't know is that kick green felt so strongly as he did and by the way the writing that that's totally kid greens expressions that's how he writes he's like very very no nonsense right he's ha to percent no-nonsense and had you mentioned when I was that Santilli said he was threatened Diddy so there you go right so pressured and threatened the things Johnson I just want to read this because I just want answer what is your opinion on the Carol Rosen's verner from bronze story which by the way Richard answered in great detail last week

I'll just recap him now okay he's gonna recap and actually my recapped it earlier just you didn't mention it probably we came in late it's basically I know Carol rosin I like Carol rosin I had a couple of heart-to-heart conversations with Carol rosin and I respect her and I believe her

I believe her story having said all of that I do not see why this story that she's had about Verner von braun has become like a mantra in the UFO community and it really has become almost an article of faith think about this when she introduced that story that von Braun said to her Carol we're gonna go through different phases of fake threats cold war

terrorists asteroid and aliens okay she told that in oh one at Steve and girls press conference I don't know what my first saying that earlier if she did so when she told it that story would have been over 25 years old because von Braun died in 77

it's now been another two decades since then we're approaching the half century mark on this prediction and I just would ask anyone how many decades have to go before you start to wonder maybe it's we need to rethink this prediction alright and also you know it's not that elites don't have long term plans but go into the work of you know like studying the Bilderbergers and there's been some very very excellent journalists who've been able to get leaked Bilderberg minutes out and actually now you can get a comprehensive leaked minutes of Bilderberg meetings going back through the years it's fascinating if anyone is able to be labeled the Masters of the Universe they get my vote the Bilderberg people and yet their timeline

of machinations as it were is certainly not fifty years it's more like five years maybe ten years you know for example they were definitely the ones who were responsible for creating the European Common Market and they were working this whole thing really early on but it wasn't a fifty year timeline they were in nineteen I think it was 83 two years before Gorbachev they had a one of their themes was on envisioning a post-soviet future wow that's interesting so it's very likely that they had something to do with engineering the end of the Soviet Union

but even that's less than a 10-year timeline so you have to ask yourself are there groups actually able to do a 50-year that's a true long con now I'm not saying it's impossible but I am saying I don't know of any examples historically where that has been done and it's going to take some convincing for me to believe the Von Braun narrative at this point that is the fake alien invasion thing which has kind of gotten folded into the old guilt

Jill's mo Nast Project Blue Beam narrative which by the way started

I got have to keep telling people and reminding them didn't start out as a fake alien invasion narrative started out as a fake second coming of Christ narrative because he was very religious and when that didn't happen in the early 2000s after he had been dead for a few years it morphed into an alien invasion narrative but the original Blue Beam was purely a religious thing so anyway long answer to a short question let me know when I can do this one

okay I just want to read the second part of this and the information released by Annie Jacobson that the alien and the autopsy is not an alien but a manipulated human which I'm sure has part to do with the refurbishing of the film no that was in her her earlier book yeah I mean she gets her own sources that that have said a number of these things that I don't know where she gets the sources who's saying this she just

it out in the book

maybe I mean I guess you could say maybe but if it's a manipulated human then how do they give it an extra finger if it's a manipulated human how do they give at this black you know lid over the eyes and we'd make more sense that is a prosthetic than a manipulated human right like that makes less sense to me then then an out-and-out fake like what Phillip Mantle would be talking about I would put that third on the list of possibilities okay you can do it

let's do the gym did Steven Greer everyone wants to ask me all the time all the time the best even Gregory it never stops and the thing is I'll just say this I don't have a lot of direct interaction with Steve magre very little direct interaction with Steven Greer you can ask him why that's Takei I don't know why that is so but we don't really communicate very much I'm not his enemy and I'm not his buddy I don't you know I think everyone is a complex human being that goes for me that goes for dr. Greer

that goes for you so we're all complex people then having said that let me recent read this Richard can I read this name no we didn't get permission name recently my wife and I listen to Jimmy church's interview of dr. Steven Greer and fade to black we've been listening to you for about a year and I've heard you make a few comments about career would you be willing to critique

Greer's analysis of the UFO phenomena and his briefs briefs as in quotes to political and military leaders at one point

Greer made the statement that he's briefed nine hundred and fifty people in the government does he really have that kind of access and how has he gained this access well I can't speak to all of this so I can't speak to the claim of nine hundred fifty people I don't I don't know one way or the other this is what he has said and now it is definitely true that you know there are a number of things that Greer has said over the years that I think are spot-on exactly right all right he has talked for many many years

about these unacknowledged special access programs and clearly

a lot of that has come excuse me

from the period when he was making the rounds in DC in the 1990s which he was doing he did meet with CIA director James Woolsey and Woolsey's wife Sue walls he was also a power player in DC along with you know the head of the Arlington Institute I met myself a couple of times can't remember now my brain just moving too fast but John I was gonna say a bad word Clara didn't Peterson John Peterson and John Peterson's wife that meeting happened that was in 94 I believe super-early how Steven Greer was able to do that ask him I don't know how he did that I get the impression Peterson saw him and brought him in but I don't know but he did it from there he did make the rounds at least partly with Edgar Mitchell and did have this meeting with Wilson like that did happen and I gather he had meetings with other people now the 9:50 maybe that includes secretaries and low-level people as well as upper-level people probably but I don't know as far as critique I guess what I would say is one thing that I will publicly take issue with and this is not as a way to trash-talk anyone because I'm not interested in doing that and I'm interested in getting personal with anybody it's all about the issues to me but simply the insistence as it seems to me that all of these extraterrestrials are benevolent or are here for our greater good and I don't know that to be the true and I don't know how anyone can know that I don't like when certain things are taken as what appears to be an article of faith all right there are reasons to think that these beings are not overtly pedal-to-the-metal hostile they haven't done in Independence Day scenario okay that's true so that's a good thing

but does that necessarily mean there aren't other things going on that may be dangerous well of course there are some real possibilities that they may be dangerous all right absolutely it doesn't have to be a full-on alien invasion you know blowing up the White House or blowing up whatever for it to be considered a threat so I just I don't see how it is necessarily a given that all of these other beings are going to be our friends and I also think it is positively naive to just open arms and say yes space brothers we're here for peace look like the earlier writer with the very long letter stated don't go out there being overtly belligerent but don't be a tool either you know be properly cautious there are billions of people's lives at stake here and if you were responsible for at least in some measure of protecting the security of those people you would be utterly irresponsible for just opening the door why do you think you lock your doors at night when you go to sleep because there are bad people out there who might who might take advantage and might steal your things do you really think that all beings from any other dimension or place are necessarily gonna be good like seriously who thinks that so I would just say that's my critique of Stephen Greer's philosophy and look he has his B's got reasons for his point of view and maybe they're valid as well I have reasons for my point of view which I think are valid I would just say we need as much evidence as we can and we can take it from there there's other things you know that he's talked about over the years that I would absolutely take issue with but fundamentally I think you know when we're when we are on this side of the UFO reality argument debate with the rest of the world

I think we're in a much much smarter if we see the things that keep us together it's like one fight at a time one argument at a time like we've got this one to deal with right now the reality of this phenomenon these would be the rest of the world and waking the world up to what's going on and you know for his part he has tried to do that in his way from my part I have tried to do that in my way that was that good I didn't really that's great throw rotten tomatoes there anyone here know he did a lot of legwork for the field you know look at he's getting a little bit of you know vindication after all these years a lot of people I don't think believed a lot of the so-called briefings and whatever that he gave over the years and what's funny I think is he didn't know about the leak when it happened he didn't I think it came to him as a surprise but yeah I think look I know he's polarizing some people love him some people hate him it's interesting to see that some people love and hate me so I understand what that's like too but you know I've worked really hard over these many years in this field to not get personal with other researchers no matter how much I may disagree with some of them the only time that I'll really you know throw it down as it were is when I think someone's acting in genuinely bad faith and genuinely trying to sow disinformation or dissension in this field and there I will when need be I'll do my best to say something about it but otherwise I don't it's a waste of time to get involved in wars with other people it's a real waste of energy mm-hmm it's a big diversion yeah really

there are people in this field right now who are in my opinion extremely divisive and really unprofessional in their handling of this controversy right now these leaks

some of them are professional dark journalists

I think Daniel lists is someone whose perspective is worth knowing you know and then there are other people whose perspectives I think are really not worth knowing and I'm just gonna leave it at that I don't I don't think that all the all the voices who are chiming in on this are genuine are professional and are doing anything other than just self-promotion

so my that's my take on it at this point I'll leave it at that okay I think we might want to wrap it up it's been almost two hours

sure biggest takeaway from this content first context second don't please do not lose sight of what's happening here all right understand the information test the information check the information see if it's genuine or not then after we can confirm a few things let's worry about the context or let's discuss the context and try to understand it the best we can otherwise we're just putting the cart before the horse so to speak and by the way being very postmodern in a very unsavory way and if you don't know what I'm talking about

you can look all this up

don't be postmodern in your approach to truth really dangerous way to go stick to the facts stick to the evidence interpretations follow the facts not reverse all right all right wrap it up I think we should wrap this up okay I'm glad to say here so this was a totally different show tonight we decided to do questions all questions so we rarely ever do that but I think it went quite well and we're very grateful that you were all here and grateful for all your questions I know we couldn't get to all of them but we did our best to sort of put in a mix to sort of cover off on on different areas that interest everybody I wanted to say something Tracey organized all of these questions beforehand she did all the legwork on this so I just want to thank you for you know took many hours for you to hunt through the masses of emails that we have and to prepare all of this so

let's just get something here seriously I feel bad about all the people I couldn't get to so but I tried to do my best to cover often and there's many big interests yeah that people had around this now that a lot of the good questions and there's just so many more that we there are we could probably do several more shows just like this there's so many here so many anyway well thanks and comments as well so that show up after the fact but if there's a I just want to say so yeah I am I'm in touch every day with various individuals on matters relating to all of this so there's a lot going on behind the scenes and you know if you know anything about me you know that I'm I'm trying to line all my ducks up in a row before I present more information out to you but that will be happening you can absolutely rest assured I've got more information about all this whole scenario in the in the weeks to come and and hopefully I'll have something on Saturday for my live stream then we'll see how that goes

so you know we want to thank you all so much for being here I'm sorry that we couldn't watch the chat I did see there were a couple of colors so I just want to thank people for the super chats and thank you for your support but thank you to everyone for being here which are just putting out more free content than he ever has there's lots of free content every week we also have members content we have a free newsletter and just to let people know we were putting it out every single Sunday but I think we're gonna move to every two weeks just so people know so we skipped we were at alien Con it was just impossible to do

can I just say the reason we happen early when we started this we didn't really have a way of notifying members of our website of new material that was coming out we now on our site have members can have notification so it's not as necessary but we still want to put out a newsletter for the public so I think that'll be it

yeah I want to say one final thing about all this if I may

please all right

the implications don't lose sight of the implications this is very much in line with my research for the past 20 plus years which is that you've got runaway secrecy here all right how hard is it to believe you got runaway secrecy in a situation in which privatization of the UFO secret is paramount and it provides a very convenient and run around FOIA and around public responsibilities that the government has on this matter all right so it's not just in the UFO field every student the few that are out there of the special access program that we have in this country have all concluded that this is a runaway system of secrecy and that has largely become privatized beyond the formal control of Defense Department officials from Bill Sweetman article in 2000 great piece by the way too was the Washington Post of all places the Washington Post

Dana Larkin and Dana priest and Bill Larkin did that piece 10 years ago also they had very similar conclusions that it was just runaway secrecy runaway privacy so this is our situation and it is the case relating to the UFO phenomenon and getting to the bottom of this is not going to be easy you know I am not in any way promising some utopian disclosure are you kidding me I don't I don't believe in utopias and I don't like utopians I think they're dangerous people and I am certainly not promising that we're gonna have all of our problems solved by some disk magical disclosure don't count on it count on a lot of spin coming out with any kind of disclosure all right so it is our job to watch the Watchers to monitor those people letting the information out I'm just trying to caution you don't get lost in what is important important things are happening this information is coming out and that's an important step and we saw have many more steps ahead of us I think I said one time a couple of years ago the fight for disclosure isn't the end it is the beginning of the new level for the fight for truth and it's really true it's the beginning of an stage so that's where we're at this is an ongoing issue and you know we've got a lot of other problems to deal with in the coming years and decades aside from this we've really got a lot to deal with 24/7 surveillance state for starters in which your privacy is basically going to be a fiction and a thing of the past

how how a UFO disclosures going to mix in with all of that is another thing we could be asking but we've got there's a lot of issues to deal with problems are never going to stop so your job and our job is to be educated and be strong and be fearless and just keep in mind throughout our history we have always dealt with problems and catastrophes and crises and death and injustice and all kinds of problems it's no different now so just be strong and be as clear-headed in as calm as you can be so that we can actually have a chance at solving some of these problems and answering some of these questions if we can do that

I say take the win alrighty we have each other

all right yes we do yes and find the people who matter to you find the people you were close to that you can love and who can love you and who can help make your world a better place start start at home start with your friends and yes spread the truth keep fighting the good fight and with that and with that I think we should say goodnight catch your left catch you next time thanks so much for being here later

the Joe Rogan experience what do you think a bobble is our story because bobble is our story what's it really there's some fascinating aspects to it but one of the most fascinating is some of the things that he's said that people said was horseshit is told has been proven to be true like one of the things the the biometric reader that measured the length of the bones in your hand and that they're unique as unique as a fingerprint and you're like what are you talking about that this was something they really did have and they have photos of this thing now this is something he talked about and they claimed it was science fiction

I mean it's fascinating when someone touches upon a subject that the government does not want known about for any reason and there is a campaign to discredit that person you know there's no doubt that that happened to him I mean it was remarkable and I write about him in the book because if you follow the logic that my source told me that these were you know modified human beings as part of a hoax and the reason that I trust the source is because Joe he told me that he also worked on the program so he had like a burden to unload right and so if you follow that logic through then the bobble is our story is that Bob when Bob Lazar said I saw an alien it looked like this it was small it had big eyes it's yes those were the jannat genetically I mean those were the surgically modified humans that the government was doing experiments on I think Bob lazare's exact quote was he walked by a window and he looked in he saw two agents that were it looked they were looking down at something that was very small and looked humanoid but he didn't know if it was a dummy or anything and he wasn't even supposed to be looking in there and it was a brief like one-second look that he is bounced around in his head back and forth has it ever occurred to you that maybe the guy who gave that information did work there but is also feeding you horseshit well the source was a major player in the Manhattan Project he went on and worked in the Atomic Energy Commission I mean there's a wing of a museum named after his accolades his awards were so extraordinary it would please him I've never said his name although you know I will say this well you're giving her away like giving away a lot of the stuff he recently died and he did give me permission to tell his full story after he died and I'm circling around that I'm circling around that but he was absolutely a you know with a Q clearance that's what you have when you have access to nuclear secrets so if someone has a

Q clearance for decades and they're full of garbage you really have to ask my god should this guy have a Q clearance I mean that's reverse engineering his credibility but I think you should read the whole book because you know it's shocking what he says but it does make sense if you can get through four hundred pages of you know the CIA's idea about information disinformation why we need to cover things up why that's why I'm asking if you think that he's he might have been lying to you

I don't believe what's elaboration know I don't believe I don't believe so you think that the Stalin that the Russian government definitely did surgically alter people to make them look like aliens

I believe were their images I believe what he told me

did you see photos no but here's the rub ready okay when I was writing another book called phenomena which dealt with the CIA and the Pentagon's use of psychics okay mm-hmm

over decades I mean this goes back everything I write about pretty much goes back to post-world War with no remote viewing stuff yes yes and it's all about government u.s. government takes pole position after World War two and we now need to always be ahead of the curve we must lead we can never get beaten by the Russians now it's China okay so the psychic program had a lot of people who really believe in aliens or you know other Intel intelligence from other worlds and when I was writing the phenomena book I learned a whole bunch of new information about how upset they were with my story because they Baloo the source by the way they knew the source and believed that he was fed misinformation so these are two sides of the coin which are super interesting I think if you can look at them with your own biased turned off and not have a desired outcome I want to believe this I don't want to believe this right speaking of I want to believe you know I was working on a project with Chris Carter the who is the x-files creator and the one person I took the source that I wanted to meet the source was Chris Carter and I we went out there together and sat with him and met him and it was well because the source had never even heard of the x-files that it was like oh I know probably me talking about baseball you know really yeah

Politics and Prose

Annie Jacobson is a journalist and is the author of Area 51 um her current book Operation Paperclip discusses the end of World War II and the American government's decision to accept uh highlevel German scientists inside its borders some of which had done monstrous things uh this decision accelerated us scientific capabilities but also brought into question its ethical standing so to talk about that please welcome Annie Jacobson how's the sound good uh thank you so much politics and Pros for having me and welcome everyone I'm Annie Jacobson I'm going to talk to you tonight about Operation Paperclip and I really want to thank everyone for coming um it's really my favorite part of the book tour and really writing the book is just being able to look people in the eye that that read my book and uh and speak with them about it so I'm going to take you through about 60 slides and um tell you a little bit about Operation Paperclip and then I welcome your questions one of the things that people often ask me is why would I write about such a subject um Operation Paperclip was a classified military program it had a public face so the idea was that you couldn't very well have 1,600 Germans running around the United States in various military facilities or uh ultimately in academic institutions and not have an explanation why and so with the German scientists came a a propaganda campaign to call them good scientists that may be the case there were, 1600 of them that may certainly be the case with some of them and I've actually had people at every one of my book readings so far uh who had a father or an uncle that was part of paperclip but what I will tell you is the men that I focused on um had very dark paths and I'm going to tell you a little bit about that so how did I report the story I was originally working on this book my first book Area 51 when I came across these two aircraft designers and they were the Horton Brothers they designed this aircraft the Horton all-wing five and you can see it looks remarkably like the B2 stealth bomber and when I first saw those two images next to one another I suddenly realized without very much more explanation how much technology we in fact got from the Reich and I wanted to know more what I learned was that the while the Horton brothers were overlooked for paperclip their boss was not this is their boss this is Colonel sigfried canamer he was one of the reich's top 10 pilots and he flew on spy missions this Photograph here is Canam about to fly over Norway way to choose bombing targets and Canam you see that's his paperclip photo there and when I learned kire came to the United States I wondered how you could go from having Hermon Goring as your boss as he was now keep in mind Goring was in charge of the German air force the Luft wafa canamer was so important to Goring that in documents he refers to him as my boy so the question for me in my mind was how do you have this as your boss and then suddenly have the Pentagon as your boss I learned that when camer retired from the US Air Force in the mid 70s he was given the Department of Defense distinguished civilian service award and that is the highest award that a scientist can get from the defense department and I wanted to know how this could be I tracked down one of K Myer's Grand children who courageously agreed to share the story of his grandfather with me including a box of papers that he had in the attic and one of the most interesting things that Dirk ker said to me and made me know that I wanted to write this story to research and report it was he said Annie many of my family members say do not speak about Sig Freed's past but he being my age said you know a Google search very quickly reveals that camire was goinging right-hand man and he said he would rather know the truth about his grandfather than not know it and so that was one example of an a seed planted that I knew there is more to be learned about Operation Paperclip I'm going to take you back briefly to the fall of 1944 this is Germany there in dark blue and of course the Allies have landed at normany Normandy they're going at Germany this way the Soviets are coming this way and immersed inside the army soldiers are a group of scientists Le led by a particle physicist named Samuel goodi and that operation was sort of the precursor to paperclip it was called operation Al sauce Samuel goodsmith and his team have one mission that is to find out about what was known as ABC weapons Atomic biological and chemical they find out very quickly that Hitler's at IC program is not what that we had feared that was lucky for us but as Hitler told his uh war and weapons Minister Albert Shar nuclear science is Jewish science this is what Hitler said and therefore that Atomic program had not progressed the same way that the biological and chemical weapons had very quickly Samuel gitt in a small H in a small apartment in storg France learns about this man Dr Kurt Blum the deputy the Surgeon General of the Reich and he also learns about this man Dr Walter shriber the Surgeon General of the Third Reich what good Smith's finds and these papers that I looked at were remarkable because they're just a sort of seemingly benign correspondence between scientists the apartment belonged to a a doctor named Dr oan Hogan once a temperate man worked in the United States on a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship and hogan was writing to himler and saying of the hundred prisoners you sent me a group of them died in transport please send more and this is a terrifying moment for operation alau because they realize that the Reich is experimenting on humans from the concentration camps to push Medical Science in a manner that cannot be pushed if you're experimenting on rabbits and guinea pigs so Dr Blum and Dr shriber are now on the top of the target list for operation Al sauce and ultimately paperclip there you have Hitler and Goring and of course the third horrible Triad of this group of folks who are in the Target eye of the Allies is himler and himler is overseeing a vast network of state sponsored slavery and it's the slaves from the the concentration camps that are assembling the weapons so you have prisoners being experimented on for some for some of the programs and you have prisoners being used to build rockets and such for the other weapons programs as we're moving across Germany all across the Reich the Allies are coming across hidden troves of treasure like this this is a famous photograph of gold but also in these caves allies are finding documents and they're finding weapons and this is one example this little innocuous looking entrance is actually the entrance to nordh Housen

which was the underground tunnel facility where Warner Von Brown General dornberger and many other scientists who would later come to America are working to build the rockets for the Reich so you see down on the bottom photograph those are train tracks the rocket parts would go in the slave laborers would build them and out of the tunnels on those trains would come V2 rockets and body parts this is the V2 rocket so one of our teams was sent in these men were sent to capture a hundred rockets and to ship them back to the United States so that we could fly them here at the White Sands Missile Range but this is where you really see Operation Paperclip begin because also at the same time you have the scientists and you see that an intelligence officer the program sort of begins in bits and pieces and and one intelligence Officer says we have the Rockets but how about the scientists this is Von Brown This Is dornberger and two others who I write about in in paperclip what's left out of the issue is that dornberger you can see here he's with himler they're both wearing leather coats I find this Photograph remarkable I was not able to get permission to publish it in my book I'm happy to show it to you here General dornberger went on and became a very important part of the paperclip program he worked for Bell aircraft for years he had one of the highest clearances at the Pentagon he was a recruiting officer for paperclip and nothing was ever mentioned of his past and this Photograph was certainly kept hidden for a rather long time Arthur Rudolph George Rick and dornberger those are all their paperclip photographs part of what I write about in the book is how the US military was complicit and this is a great moral conundrum because we were complicit in needing these scientists to be put forth as the good Germans as the benign scientists who somehow were hiding out from the Reich but of course we know from the photograph with General dornberger that is a fiction and for example nearby at nordh Housen was The Bu inval concentration camp and when I traveled to Germany this to research the book you know this sign really comes came across to me as as really remarkable and and something I thought about often it says yadam Das Z it's an old German proverb and it means does everyone get what they deserve and I often wondered as I was researching and Reporting this question exactly that the scientists were taken to this Castle ironically this had been Goring one of gorings Luft wafa headquarters it's outside Frankfurt and um when I went there also to speak to the oldtime caretaker he had lots of stories which I write in the book about what it was like when the US military took over and set up all the scientists that we were collecting throughout the ruins of the Reich we set them up in this facility and we began to interview them these are a number of the scientists who were in a it was called dust B dust bin a little humor by the Allies there but these are some of the scientists who were um kept there one of the scientists we couldn't find at first was Dr Ambrose Ambrose I think is probably the most nefarious character that I write about in the book and I'm going to tell you briefly why Ambrose was was Hitler's favorite chemist and I don't say that lightly I found a document in the National Archives that I don't believe had ever been been reported before it shows an award that Ambrose was given by Hitler of 1 million reiches marks and the reason that Ambrose was given that was because he was he inv co-invented saren gas the a in sarin stands for Ambrose but he also invented synthetic for the Reich and this was a very big deal to Hitler tanks need Treads aircraft need tires Hitler knew the Reich was running out of rubber and so when Ambrose invented rubber the furer bestowed him with favor in the form of this giant Financial reward um Ambrose was also put in charge of a slave labor Factory none other than at aitz and this is an Allied intelligence photo of the aitz berkau complex in June of 1944 it's a little hard to interpret um to the naked eye but because it's from so high up but you see there's aitz up there it's labeled there's Birkin now and down on the bottom you can just barely see it says aitz 3 bua bua is the name for synthetic Rubber and this was where where Ambrose was manager and slaves who were spared the gas chamber some of whom I interview for the book were sent to bua to work most of them were worked to death of all the photographs that I found on my research and Reporting none bothered me to the degree that this one did it was not the bodies stacked like cordwood that we all have seen and have horrified us but rather it was this and it's because of what that sign says it says company sporting club IG aitz and those are two of Otto Ambrose's colleagues fencing so after a day in the last laboratory they would go for sport and fence and as it was explained to me by the academics at the Fritz Bower Institute who allowed me to publish this Photograph they told me that the this sporting event would take place in the afternoons well within the sight of the three large chimneys of the death camps crematoria that Otto Ambrose became part of paperclip is horrifying Dr Blomma captured by the Allies begins talking he's the first high ranking member of the Third Reich also close to Hitler he wore the golden party badge which means he had favor from the fur and he begins cooperating with the allies and tells them about let atrocities Mass sterilization and gassing of Jews there's a tug of war going on the S one group of scientist is extremely interested in Dr Blum he's in charge of Hitler's biological weapons program he's been working on a Bubonic plague weapon but there's a there's a tug OFW going on because here you have Dr Leopold Alexander who has been sent to Germany not to try to find scientists interrogate them find out their knowledge and decide whether or not they should be part of Operation Paperclip but rather to look for men specifically science specifically doctors who might be tried at the nberg war crimes trials at the same time you have Harry Armstrong later the second Surgeon General of the Third Reich Armstrong is interested in enhancing pilot performance in the United States the next war will involve pilots who fly high fast and far and the Reich har Harry Armstrong knows is far advanced in Pilot physiology at this point than the US Army a forces and he wants those German doctors he teams up with Dr Hubertus strughold known as the father of space medicine we'll talk about strug hold a little bit later on um strug hold was the top man in Luft wafa medicine it when I was doing an interview recently someone said well could people that were this high up not have known and the best analogy I can give you is imagine being a hedge fund manager today and trying to say that you're not interested in capitalism if you were to rise to the top of your field in the Third Reich you had knowledge of things and you had a commitment to an ideology that is almost impossible in my estimation to say that you didn't know nevertheless Harry Armstrong and hubertis struggled create a partnership in Germany and they hire these men this Photograph never published before uh Richard Coon is in the center a very famous Nobel prizewinning um chemist and many other scientists who would come to the United States as part of Operation Paperclip to work in Texas but before that happened there was a knock on the door in the Institute where they were all set up to work in Germany before their passage to the United States could be changed and that was from as I told you Dr Leopold Alexander he wanted these three for war crimes as he wanted Dr Theodore beniger um Dr Theodore beniger when I read about his obituary in the New York Times published in 1999 when Ben ziger was 94 uh the the New York Times louded his long career for the US Navy as a doctor it talked about how he invented the ear Thermon Omer but it left out entirely that Dr Theodore beniger was part of a small group of doctors that worked with himler and when himler would show films of medical murder experiments at the Reich air Ministry he had Dr Theodore beniger do the introductions so this is this kind of whitewashing I found astonishing and even more troubling when I looked deep into the nuremberg files I found out that Dr Theodore beniger was on the initial list to be tried at the doctor's trial and yet mysteriously just 3 weeks before trial he was released into custody of Harry Armstrong of the US Army Air Forces and he was on his way to the United States part of Dr Alexander's role was to find witnesses to find the few survivors of those horrific concentration camp medical experiments and put them on trial so we had the doctor's trial they're using see Dr blomma in the center he would be acquitted and he would later become part of paperclip and there you see Dr Alexander with a witness who comes into the story later um at the nurg doctor's trial this is a one of the doctors you know someone once asked me did any of the doctors know each other and they absolutely did Dr Alexander part of the reason why he was chosen to be the chief medical expert for the nerenberg trials was that he had grown up up in Vienna and he left um when the Nazis took power so he was a fluent German speaker and he was astonished to figure out at the doctor's trial that he was in the same medical class with Dr bleach Carl Holland rer one of the few survivors of those um experiments I tell this story in the book but there's so many moments that I came across that are just lost to history I couldn't believe that they had never I had never heard of them and they seem to not have been written about anywhere Carl Holland rer was the subject of ass saltwater experiments and I won't give you the details because they're gruesome you can read some of them in the book but Holland rer was so outraged at beagle boach who had performed those experiments on him he came into the nerber trials with a dagger hidden in his pocket and while he was on the witness stand he leapt off the the stand and he tried to stab beagle boach and one of the nernberg judges was so upset with him because he said we are here to show what democracy is all about that he sent poor Colin Carl Hollen Riner back into the prison with the Nazi doctors um Dr Walter shriber hold that thought he was absent from the doctor's trial he'd been captured by the Soviets jumping over to another program briefly and quickly some of the men who who worked for the US Army really felt that this program was terrible and they didn't want to be working with Nazi potential war criminals but there was also a Soviet threat and they felt that it was perhaps the lesser of two evils other army officers really seem to like these scientists with full knowledge of how complicit they had been in war crimes and that was very disturbing um General Luke's here was one of them there he is holding an incendiary bomb and there he is um I found this actually in general lukes's personal papers at the US Army Heritage Institute in upstate Pennsylvania and I'm going to speak for a second about reporting the story and how stories like this get reported there's sort of an idea that you just file a Freedom of Information Act and magically all these documents appear and that's of course not the case I often think of myself a bit like a detective and that you have to really find your way to the story but when I saw this photograph of General Luke seeming to enjoy himself at a cocktail party with Hitler's chemist I decided to track down Luke's personal papers which I found at the history Institute and that's where I found out going to jump forward I found General lukes's Diaries and this is that incredible human element of it all where you know I keep a diary um maybe lots of you do and you sort of write like things maybe you're not supposed to write and uh General luks wrote you know attended a conference with Dr sheber classified matters and all along the Department of Defense had been telling me that sheber had never been part of paperclip that's sheber he was a SS Brigade furer he served on reich's

forer SS himler personal staff he worked on concentration camps experiments he was a chemist there he is wearing the golden party badge I told you about that means he had favor from the Führer but the reason that Sheber was never known to be part of paperclip was because he was later hired by the CIA and they were able to put a different classification on his papers um so up until this point Shear's participation in this program was not known his courageous family members in Germany also gave me some very interesting information which I report in the book but just to show you how high up Sheber was and why uh it was necessary to keep him a very big secret there he is I couldn't get permission to publish this Photograph I'm happy to show it to you here there he is shaking hands with himler with Hitler in the forest but ultimately I was able through the that sort of detective work and finding out about Dr Shear's participation in paperclip and I was able to get that list and there it is that's the official list of all the high ranking chemical weapons experts on Hitler's uh roster who ended up working as part of paperclip and just a fascinating photograph of Sheber that his family shared with me and that's when he was working for the CIA so people often ask how could this have happened and um this is why you know there was a very real threat and that was the Soviet Union and the threat was thermonuclear war um very quickly the Cold War heated up and all of those criminals that we had sent to prison well we needed Germany as an ally and so John McLoys US High Commissioner he left his position as president of the World Bank and agreed to go to Germany to serve as High Commissioner and he released the majority of those convicted Nazi war criminals they had been in Landsberg prison those are the uh unmarked graves of the 486 who had been hung but he released a lot of them including Ambrose I found this picture to be incredibly disturbing that's Ambrose I told you the one for Ambrose and Serebrennikov gas Hitler's favorite chemist he was running the managing the AitZ 3 Buena Factory um he was actually tried at Nuremberg he was convicted of mass murder and slavery there he is in a Nuremberg photograph laughing with his lawyers perhaps he had foresight and knew that he would be given clemency by us High Commissioner John McLoys released and he would become later uh on contract with the US Department of Energy some of the doctors were such hot potatoes that was the actual term that they used if someone couldn't come to the United States and so they were sent to this facility outside Frankfurt it was a black site I sort of think of it as the original post-war black site um and that is where we worked on enhanced interrogation techniques with Soviet block prisoners ultimately this program would become known as the infamous MK Ultra program but it began here much earlier than thought and lo and behold who were the two physicians at Camp King Dr Shriber released from the Russians many thought he was a Soviet and Dr Kurt Blum but the reason that Blum got the position was because Shriber came to the United States and this was one of the most horrifying moments to to to research and Report was that Dr Shriber whose specialty was actually lethal phenol injections uh it was a quick way to get rid of someone at a concentration camp he oversaw those experiments we knew it we couldn't prosecute him at Nuremberg because he was uh in the Soviet Union and he actually was a witness for the Soviet Union at the Nuremberg trials but now he was on the American team and he was sent to America to this place um the US Air Force school of aviation medicine at Randall Field Harry Armstrong whose photograph I showed you he had set this place up this would become the Bastion of our Aerospace medicine ultimately and um when Dr Shriber the former surgeon general of the Third Reich arrived in the United States and here's where circumstance plays into the story I really love when fate and Circumstance work in a very interesting way that perhaps Justice cannot shriber there's a small article in a Air Force medical journal about him and it just describes him as an ex Soviet prisoner this is the former Surgeon General of the Third Reich that's what it says about him a little Hu that he had agreed to or wanted to have this article there and who happened to read that journal at that exact time that moment in time in 1951 but Dr Leopold Alexander the chief uh war crimes prosecutor from the doctor's trial and he was outraged and he called up Harry Armstrong who is now the Surgeon General of the US Air Force and says this man is a Nazi war criminal and there must be some mistake but there is no mistake akake shriber is working among these guys 34 of whom are at Randall Field working on us um space medicine and they don't want to have to call attention to this and they do not want to have to let go of Dr shriber and so there's a dramatic tug of war behind the scenes um Dr Alexander decides to go to the Press he calls up a reporter from the Boston Globe and says that shers in the country but also as fate and Circumstance would have it at this exact time I showed you this Photograph earlier this is a witness from the Ravens book concentration camp who was part of the medical experiments that shriber was part of she just so happened to be coming to the United States at this time Dr Alexander and a colleague in Boston are giving pro bono medical treatment to anyone who is a victim and a survivor of the Nazi concentration camp medical experiment she's in the United States at this exact time just to give you an idea that's what her leg looked like from some of the experiments Dr Alexander and uh Alexander Hardy who was assistant prosecutor together wrote to President Truman and said Dr shriber must be expelled and a little bit of Justice this was the article in the New York Times as he left for Argentina and it says Nazi physician leaving so in the end paperclip those 1600 scientists had different trajectories in their life I write about what their lives were like in my book but of course the most famous among them was Warner Von Brown and Arthur Rudolph who had been in charge of the uh underground weapons facility at Nord Housen where 30,000 slave laborers died building the V2 Rockets he was one of the few German scientists who was investigated by the Department of Justice not until 1983 but investigated nonetheless and uh Rudolph was given a choice he could stand stay here and stand trial for war crimes or he could go back to Germany and he chose to go to Germany Kurt Deus the first director of the JFK Space Center um toward the end of my research I was learning about Deus he wore the SS uniform to work he also in documents that I read through thoroughly uh turned over a colleague to the Gestapo who had for making anti-hitler remarks and there's this incredible moment in that in the early part of paperclip where one group of American intelligent officers who are recruiting for paperclip find deus's information out and they notify the Joint Chiefs Who and the the group working at the Pentagon to get this the different individual scientists here and they say Deus cannot be brought to the United States He deliberately and viciously turned over a colleague to the gapo who went to prison but the Joint Chiefs say we need him and he comes to this day the National Space Club gives out the Dr Kurt Davis award and uh there he is um when I asked the director of that award what he says when a journalist asks him why do you continue to give out an award to an a known Nazi he said that no one had ever asked him that question before I think ultimately Einstein had it right um Einstein left Germany as soon as the Nazis took power and his quote was that the reason he had left was because science and Justice were now in the hands of a raw and rabid mob of Nazi militia there he is getting his US citizenship the majority of the 1600 Operation Paperclip scientists who came here were given that coveted US citizenship so I leave you with the last thought

which is yadm Das Z that sign over the buen Wald gate uh we know from a document that vorer Von Brown himself would go to the buen Wald camp and handpick slave laborers um to work on the Rockets so is that really true does everyone get what he deserves I sought out that question I sought out that answer from all the different individuals that I interviewed but the best answer that I got came from now 91-year-old geard mashi and as a teenager he was spared the gas chamber at aitz because he could work he became a slave labor at bua at that factory that Otto Ambrose ran and I said geard you know is it true and what lasts and he smiled and he pulled back the sleeve of his arm and he showed me that blue Ink aitz Tattoo and he said this is what matters this lasts and it's a record of the truth I want to thank you all for coming tonight and I welcome your questions so I'm sure there are many questions just make your way to one of the microphones and please ask well thank thank you very much I have two questions um I've also done a lot of this type of research in archives in your research did you come across any evidence that documents had been destroyed or were you denied documents and my second question is what does this say about Allied denotification efforts mhm so the first part of the question Absol I mean lost or missing is kind of a euphemism for something which I haven't quite figured out but at Auto Ambrose would be the best case in point um Otto Ambrose who got that department of energy contract and I think I neglected to mention the worst part of the story was that when Otto Ambrose was given clemency by us High Commissioner John McLoy his finances were fully restored so that 1 million reichs marked bonus came back to him and I wanted to know know how it was that Otto Ambrose came to the United States because he was a convicted Nazi war criminal he came here I know twice possibly three times and so in filing Freedom of Information Act request with the state department those Ambrose files of those travel documents he would have had to have been given special permission always came up lost or missing and the second part of your question just remind me if you would what does it say about Allied densification efforts I mean it was a a huge effort you know many people are imprisoned and targ yes re-education of Germany you know massive changes that occurred I mean just your comments and thoughts on the um sincerity of these efforts well um Germany was divided up into four parts for the allies and of the part that we had which had 20 million Germans uh us occupation authorities originally determined that there were 3.9 million um indict offenders they Whittle down that figure to 970,000 of that 970,000 ultimately 170,000 were tried in those densification courts that you're speaking of 50,000 were held were given criminal sentences a lot of times it was work or paying a fine and of that o just around a thousand were put in prison thank you um once the United States and allies decided that there was going to be West Germany mhm many Nazis became part of the uh Secret Service intelligence service in Germany in fact there's a general whose name I forgot he became yes he became the chief there so well Galen became the chief immediately after the war yes so um don't you think that that they were not thinking about the victims of this man at all not anymore they were more interested in um acquiring the knowledge from the Germans and also uh be strong to face the new enemy which was Russia yes you're absolutely right and and and I I write about that at length in the book because the Soviet threat was considered extreme much earlier than you know then we think it was really in the months after the war The Joint intelligence committee that reported information to the Joint Chiefs of Staff gave a document to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and said we must prepare for Total War that was the quote they used with the Soviets and they said it will involve ABC Warfare Atomic biological and chemical so we absolutely the position was we must get these scientists or the Soviets will yes thank you for your wonderful talk um is there a statute of limitation on war crimes and are any of these people still alive today as far as I know all of the as far as I know all of the Operation Paperclip scientists have died um the statute of limitations that was a question that came up when Dr shriber when the when we were trying to get rid of him after this enormous press situation happened when the uh war crimes victim you know testified to the FBI that this was the shriber from Ravens book concentration camp a Time Magazine officer asked a Time Magazine journalist asked the head of the Air Force that that exact question you know and he said we're not going to start the nurburg trials over so that sort of answers your question and that was in 1951 uh also uh were the mosad at all trying to get to these people does anybody know that having known that they took people out of Argentina could they have not found them on the streets in the United States why was that so difficult I don't really deal with the Mad in my book but I mean there were programs going on all over the Middle East as well okay yes yes yeah uh you mentioned uh the Soviets were interested in in these scientists as well and so there was some kind of competition so how successful uh may not be the right word but how how did the efforts compare to the Soviets that's that's a very important question I mean particularly with the rocket scientist because we knew the most about that uh prior to the end of the war and there was a real time crunch getting those German scientists out of nordh Housen because that area was going to be in Soviet control we got 114 of them the Russians got 200 500 900 depends on which source of information you use but here's the rub with that the Soviets loathe the Germans and vice versa because of the war for the most part and so the Soviets treated their German scientists as second class citizens whereas our German scientists the rocket scientists in particular were put up on a pedestal and you know given leadership position in theog the German scientists were considered second class citizens as far as the Russians were concerned so much so that they squeezed them of information and then sent them back to Germany at which point the CIA created a program called operation Dragon return and they sent CIA officers into Germany to gather up information and testimony from every German scientist who had been in the Soviet Union to find out what they knew about the Soviet missile program which was almost nothing because they were kept from the information so the end story of that is the Soviet program went very well without the help of the Nazi scientists which which you must ask the question then did we really need them thank you I'm curious about um your access and researching you mentioned a few instances in just your talk about you know some not being allowed publishing and FIFA access to item St if you could talk about the challenges of that and some more at length little bit yeah I mean there was always a challenge but as a journalist you just or at least the way that I work is I just find my story however I can and and ultimately if you keep searching and keep knocking on doors you you find out you find what you're looking for I mean one example I was really fascinated with Dr Blom and Dr shriber just because they were such high ranking members of the Reich Dr blom's son spoke to me invited me into his home he had never spoken with the journalist before he's in his 70s um he shared lots of information with me very courageously um you know we all have father issues that's a real father issue um on the other hand Dr Ambrose uh you know and mindful of this money being restored to Ambrose I I found out that Ambrose had a villa in Switzerland and I really wanted to know about that money so I tracked down Ambrose's son um but he refused to speak to me you know we we had sort of a correspondence a little bit and when I asked him could you tell me a little bit about how you present this information to your family to your grandchildren for example who happen to live uh not far from where I live in Los Angeles um you know he ceased conversation with me and he said that is a private matter there's got to be more questions this looks like a curious group yes you want one has to keep in mind the standards of Ethics back then were not what they are now they were human experiments in the united stage for example where they inoculated African-Americans and Hispanics with the gorilla bacteria so I don't think that that the people who brought the Nazis here had very thick skins some of them probably were anti-semitic you know if you if you know some of these characters they may have been you know uh they don't quite meet our standards of today that I think is the great moral conundrum of paperclip and it's why the book is so long because I um you know I profile these 21 scientists and I try to tell you as much about each of them that I could learn start with what they were doing during the war and let you come to your own conclusion about the morality of it all Yes um two simple questions one is uh where did Operation Paperclip come from that name those two groups I was telling you about the those in Germany who were in interrogating or rather interviewing the German scientists and preparing them for passage to the United States some of them were very much against the program and so as a means to kind of make sure that the files got to the right people the pro paperclip officers Intelligence Officers would fasten a paperclip it was not called paperclip then it was called overcast and they would fasten a paperclip onto the top of the file to kind of give an indication this file should go to the right person and that is how paperclip got its name and certainly the America the German scientists worked with side by side with American scientists some of whom probably fought in the War what was their reaction to working with a former Nazi yes I mean that's an interesting question some of them were Jewish I invent I interviewed a lot of these scientists for my earlier book Area 51 and the idea was that these were the good German scientists and uh you know on average on balance there would be no reason why you would not believe your government when they were that you worked for when they told you that so the Joint Chiefs knew about the truth behind the real information but very few people outside of that inner circle really knew thank you um actually that's a really good uh segue into my question um uh your last book was actually um criticized a little bit for having some factchecking issues and I was curious you know what kind of efforts you made to maybe do a bit better for this uh for your latest book well I don't know specifically what what your referring to about the factchecking but um what I did for this book as I do for all of my research is Source things in the back of the book the book is almost 600 pages and I think the last 110 or so are foot footnotes and I did that in Area 51 as well so that other researchers can look at those notes and then of course use that as a means to do their own research sure but I I mean um I've read your last book and despite the the you know large number of of footnotes I mean there's still things where you say you know CIS L was the one responsible for not uh the decision not to bomb on um the Bay of Pigs and I'm just curious if you made an extra effort on on this one over your last book I think the standard is always the same that as a journalist you do your best to to work hard to make sure that the facts are specific and tie those two footnotes hi I'm wondering if you could um Envision an AI alternative history for a moment and answer one of the questions that you posed which was did we really need these scientists so can you imagine what would have happened if these guys had been prosecuted and never came to the United States to build this thing and and and in other words does the end justify the means um for that question you know I I like to interview current members of the US military because they're always the ones that remind me in an important way that as a journalist I'm never the one in the position of making National Security decisions and so it's almost impossible to imagine that situation because the the people who were in charge of paperclip The Joint Chiefs and their staff were in that critical position of believing the intelligence that they were getting that the Soviet Union Was preparing for Total War and that we too needed to prepare for that so one would never want to stand on a pedestal and Wag the finger back at history that's something I'm I'm always reminded and um and I do try we need hundreds of these scientists would five have done I mean thank you yeah yes yes um your book treats uh 21 uh special cases the the most notorious probably of the of the group did you get any sense of what the nature my my grandfather was one of the uh less prominent paperclip scientists and he was a physical chist to my knowledge he was not a war criminal but does your book talk about how the large majority of them were just actually good scientists or or well I would have no way of knowing if they were good scientists because I didn't look at their case their specific cases no I understand these 21 were outrageous but um most of the relatives of the other uh 1519 are running around like me and and could tell you something about about those people I mean yeah I I you I would say you would need to research your own family history to really know for yourself what went on during the War I mean the best example I can give you is Shear's son um claimed to have no idea that his father was on himmler's personal staff um it's not exactly dinner conversation after the war and so I don't know I mean but interestingly at every one of my readings as I said there has been someone who has been either a child or a grandchild of a of one of the scientists who came here on paperclip so no doubt there are other stories to be told well they were the propaganda worked because my grandfather's family was treated very well in Tennessee where they were relocated MH and um uh and he was given a later an Institute at a university and and he had a he had a good career here in America he was more than 50 when he was brought over and heed worked until he was 88 and uh published and and so forth and and uh I mean obviously to sell a book you have to focus on the most outrageous part of it but I'm just I'm just wondering if at any point in the book you you talk about this this this bigger picture well I do talk about the bigger picture but I'll give you another example Canam Meer his grandson and I have this conversation often because Canam Meer was gor's right-hand man so the immediate rush to judgment so to speak would be how horrible but what the grandson and I discuss is you know his Durk is his name and his position is you know my grandfather was an engineer and he's been called Guilty By Association so I understand and empathize with how complicated an individual story is um but the reason that I focused on these 21 was because I found them the most interesting and also because I could access their information um another interesting postscript is that I had the son of one of these not mentioned in your book uh on my faculty um he he had a PhD from from uh Berkeley and in his 40s he decided he wanted to go back and go to medical school and he went back to the University of um which took him as an overseas German um I found the whole thing I told him I thought he was crazy uh at this at that point in his life to have done this um but you know they they considered him German he clearly was on an American passport and had got and been educated here thank you for sharing that yeah anyone else yeah yeah I just wanted to share an observation also you were giving the figures about densification and what it came down to and uh I I certainly see the moral concerns involved on the other hand uh I've worked in Iraq and in Iraq uh uh with much less justification I think

in many ways as you probably know they dismissed all of the civil servants who'd been B party members even though that was basically a requirement and it hugely uh uh it was a great blow to the government and they dismissed all of the army and dismissing everyone with guns is even more questionable so I don't know I guess well what has our moral judgment gotten better or is the answer somewhere in between I I think you're bringing up a great point which is that always in war there are these issues and we saw it then and we see it now and interestingly all all of those uh one of the first things that the one group of US Army Intelligence Officers did in Iraq was capture all of saddam's documents because and you probably know this and they're now at the Hoover Institute and Iraq says well we want our documents back but we're not going to give them back because out of the fear that what is in those documents shows who snitched on who and who was hung um and there again is the the same more conundrum who owns those documents who gets to be in charge of their own past think we'll have time for two more questions so two more questions yes yes yeah do you have any idea why the the Germans the nuclear scientists could not get the at bom I mean that a lot has been written about it and I would encourage you to read those books but the what little I touched upon because of course Al sauce learned quickly that that program was not Advanced and I think in summation that the the idea that Hitler thought it was Jewish scienti Jewish science really kept that program from blossoming the way that their chemical weapons program I mean they had enormous caches of chemical weapons that we came upon you know bombs that were supposed to be dropped by the LT Waffa loaded with sarin gas bunkers full of them hundreds of tons of this why these chemical weapons were not used remains a great mystery um but that atomic bomb issue is really many people have written about that and it's sort of the great mysterious good fortune that that program did not Advance thank you yes I wonder if if you could elaborate on what what still mystifies me is the the most mystifying thing you've said and that these German scientists working side by side with Highly Educated uh people who grew up in in World War II when we were bought to up to believe that there was no such a thing as a good German and and yet the and and yet they didn't suspect that these people who were also educated and also knew a great deal of Science and also presumably worked in science in Germany were they was not one person suspicious enough to say this these cannot be good Germans who just uh lived in a cave during World War II yes and I think that that is where the the US Army in particular became complicit in that idea because they really helped promote that fiction and I think that if there's one thing I really sought out to do and I hope I did do with this book is help reconcile the past in terms of the fiction versus the facts thank you yes

Lund University Sweden August 27th 2013 researchers confirm the existence of a new element on the periodic table created through nuclear fusion they name it unimp Pentium or element 115 although most scientists still don't know much about this unique radioactive component it shares commonalities with plutonium used in experimental rocket fuels Element 115 has its own lore in UFO history so this was said to be an element described by a gentleman named Bob Lazar who claimed to have worked just south of Area 51 on an ET flying saucery the government is holding uh nine alien spacecraft uh that are repelled by um a modified gravity generator um it's being work is being conducted 15 mil south of room lake at that isolated area only designated as S4 uh that at least one of those crafts operate according to what Lazar said these alien craft ran on element 115 and there's no evidence that we have this even occurring naturally anywhere on Earth well it turns out that scientists now claim to have created element 115 by Atomic Collisions I think this recent discovery of Anam Pentium really does help us understand the significance of Bob Lazar's testimony this was a man who was exposed to a very rare element that was allegedly part of the propulsion system of an extraterrestrial vehicle on December 23rd 2015 yet another groundbreaking material makes headlines scientists working at the University of California announced the creation of a new metal that is strong and lightweight but also flexible and resistant to extremely high temperatures what's really exciting about this material is you don't lose a lot of its flexibility what we call its plastic like properties a lot of metals when you make them strong become very brittle so this material has a large number of applications whether it be a car an airplane or a spaceship while this miracle metal is unlike any alloy developed before some believe its description is actually familiar and that it may be a match to the strange material allegedly retrieved by Major Jesse Marcel from the infamous Roswell crash most of the stuff at Roswell was extraordinarily lightweight very thin foil like material very very strong but weighing next to nothing that's from people who handled it the UCLA guys are doing research open research more or less stuff from Roswell this material is the beginning of an entirely new Revolution in Material Science where we are now going to be able to engineer materials at the molecular level and this does appear to be the fruits of a long-term reverse engineering program where those Technologies are being brought into the corporate sector and now it's become something that we all take for granted it's been seven decades since the what I call the first lie which was the foundational lie at Roswell happened and still the official line of the United States is that this is a subject they don't know about and don't care about which is about as far from the truth as you could possibly get we're beginning to understand the Extraterrestrial craft its mechanism how it works and how it functions and I'm convinced we're going to be able to travel in space sooner than later the same way that these ETS have come here it's almost as if these extraterrestrials are giving us a little bit here a little bit there and they're leading us somewhere which we're ultimately going to find out very soon where this is going is it possible modern-day scientists are finally decoding the puzzle of the advanced technological debris left scattered across the globe could it be that we have finally reached a level of technological sophistication that allows us to fully understand extraterrestrial technology they got that knowledge it boggles the mind we have been visited by extraterrestrials in the remote past

IN 1968, ERICH VON DANIKEN
ASKS THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION

IN A BOOK CALLED CHARIOTS OF THE GODS.

IT BECAME AN INTERNATIONAL BEST-SELLER.

AND BASICALLY, EVER SINCE HE HAS PUT A CHALLENGE TO SCIENCE

TO COME UP WITH AN ANSWER

AS TO WHETHER OR NOT
WE WERE ALONE IN THE PAST.

FORTY YEARS ON,
THE ANSWER IS STILL OPEN,

AND SCIENTISTS ARE REFUSING TO LOOK AT WHETHER OR NOT

WE HAVE BEEN VISITED IN THE PAST.

THE QUESTION IS:
WERE WE ALONE?

THE QUESTION REMAINS:
WERE WE ALONE?

BUT IN THIS DVD,

AND PROVIDE AN ANSWER WHICH SAYS:

YES, WE WERE NOT ALONE.

Woman (radio transmission):
...EIGHT-ZERO-SEVEN,

MAINTAIN ALTITUDE
OF 15,000 FEET.

Man:
FIVE-FIVE-TWO-SEVEN, MAINTAIN...

(overlapping radio transmissions)

(radio transmissions continue)

WHEN ERICH VON DANIKEN
POSED THE QUESTION,

VARIOUS TOPICS BEGAN TO COME TO THE FOREFRONT.

ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS ONES
WERE THE NAZCA LINES.

THE NAZCA LINES ARE IN PERU,

AND THEY ARE A SYSTEM OF LINES AND GEOGLYPHS ON THE GROUND.

AT THE TIME, VERY FEW PEOPLE WERE INTERESTED.

IN FACT, IT WAS A LONE WOMAN
CALLED MARIA REICHE

WHO ALMOST SINGLE-HANDEDLY

WAS TRYING TO GET THESE PLACES PRESERVED.

WHEN ERICH, THEREFORE,
FOCUSED HIS ATTENTION ON THE NAZCA LINES

AND ASKED WHETHER THESE WERE SIGNS OF ANCIENT ALIENS

WHO MIGHT HAVE COME TO PLANET EARTH,

BASICALLY, PANDEMONIUM
DESCENDED ON HER DOMAIN.

WHEN YOU START LOOKING AT THE NAZCA LINES IN DETAIL,

YOU WILL FIND THAT VERY FEW OF THEM

ARE REALLY LANDING STRIPS, AS ERICH POSED A QUESTION.

IT SIMPLY CANNOT BE--
THEY ARE GEOGLYPHS,

THEY ARE INCHES
OF SCRAPED SURFACE

WHICH HAVE REVEALED
THE UNDERLAYING COAT

AND, AS SUCH, REALLY ARE NOT A LANDING STRIP AT ALL.

BUT THE BASIC QUESTION WHICH ERICH WAS ASKING WAS THIS:

SHOULD THEY BE SEEN
FROM THE SKY;

SHOULD THEY BE SEEN FROM ABOVE?

WELL, SCIENTISTS,
AFTER ERICH POSED THE QUESTION,

BEGAN TO STUDY THE NAZCA LINES,

AND WHAT THEY FOUND WAS THAT, REALLY,

THEY WERE PART OF A LARGER CIVILIZATION,

EVEN ONE WHICH HAD PYRAMIDS.

BUT THERE WAS NO ROOM,
OF COURSE, FOR AN AIRPORT
OR AN ANCIENT SPACE DOCK.

BUT WHAT SOME SCIENTISTS ARE LOOKING AT RIGHT NOW IS INDEED THIS QUESTION:

SHOULD THEY NOT BE SEEN FROM ABOVE?

BECAUSE, REALLY,
ONLY FROM ABOVE CAN THEY BE SEEN FROM THE PERSPECTIVE

THAT THEY ARE DESIGNED TO BE.

AND THE ANSWER IS YES,
THERE HAS BEEN EVIDENCE SO FAR

WHICH SUGGESTS THAT SOME OF THE SCARRING OF THE ROCK

MEANS THAT THESE ROCKS WERE VERY CLOSE TO HEAT,

AND THE HEAT HAS BEEN THERE
BECAUSE OF HOT AIR BALLOONS.

IN SHORT, IT'S BELIEVED, AND IT IS PROPOSED BY SCIENTISTS,

THAT THE NAZCA LINES WERE INDEED SUPPOSED TO BE SEEN FROM THE SKY;

NOT BY ANCIENT
EXTRATERRESTRIAL BEINGS,

BUT BY US OURSELVES,
BY OUR CIVILIZATION,

WHICH HAD FAR MORE ADVANCED KNOWLEDGE, WHICH HAD HOT AIR BALLOONS,

AND WHICH,
WITH THESE HOT AIR BALLOONS,

THEY COULD SEE THE GEOGLYPHS
FROM THE SKY.

IN THE CASE OF NAZCA, IT MIGHT APPEAR THAT
VON DANIEN HAS BEEN DEBUNKED.

BUT REALLY WHAT HE HAS SHOWN IS THAT OUR ANCESTORS

WERE INDEED FAR MORE SUPERIOR, TECHNOLOGICALLY SPEAKING,

THAN, IN 1968, WE WERE GIVING THEM CREDIT FOR.

THE OTHER ARTIFACT WHICH VON DANIEN FOCUSED ON

WAS THE PALENQUE COFFIN.

THIS IS A COFFIN
OF LORD PAKAL,

AND IT'S SITUATED

IN A PYRAMID.

BASICALLY, THE QUESTION WAS:

WHEN YOU TURN IT
90 DEGREES AROUND,

DOES THIS NOT LOOK AS IF LORD PAKAL IS RIDING

SOME KIND OF AIR SCOOTER?

OF COURSE, THE QUESTION IS VERY TANTALIZING,

BUT WHEN WE START LOOKING AT THE PALENQUE TOMB,

WE REALLY SEE THAT WE CANNOT
JUST TURN IT 90 DEGREES
AS WE WANT IT TO BE.

INSTEAD,
WHAT HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED
SINCE 1968, ONCE AGAIN,

AND PRETTY MUCH BECAUSE OF VON DANIEN'S PRODDING,

IS THAT WE NOW KNOW THAT THIS IS A SCENE

DEPICTING LORD PAKAL DESCENDING INTO THE UNDERWORLD;

HE IS FALLING INTO THE UNDERWORLD
AT THE WORLD TREE.

SO ONCE AGAIN, VON DANIEN
POSED A QUESTION.

THE ANSWER SEEMS TO BE "NO,"

BUT IN TRYING TO

ANSWER THE QUESTION,

SCIENCE HAS REALLY FOUND AN ANSWER

TO WHAT LORD PAKAL
REALLY WAS BEING SYMBOLIZED

AT HIS TOMBSTONE.

OUT OF THE 237 QUESTIONS
WHICH VON DANIEN POSED,

SOME HAVE BEEN PROVEN TO BE A "NO."

BUT IT DOESN'T NECESSARILY MEAN THAT IN FINDING THE ANSWER,

WHICH IS A NEGATIVE,

THAT HE DIDN'T CONTRIBUTE TO SCIENCE.

EARLY ON,
PEOPLE LIKE JOSEF BLUMRICH

BEGAN TO LOOK AT VON DANIEN'S MATERIAL.

AND BLUMRICH WAS A NASA ENGINEER,

AND BASICALLY HE WENT IN SEARCH OF DETAILS

WHICH HE FELT
HE COULD EASILY DEBUNK.

AND SO WHEN VON DANIEN Is TALKING ABOUT A DESCRIPTION OF EZEKIEL

AND WONDERS WHETHER WHAT EZEKIEL IS SEEING IN THE BIBLE

IS ACTUALLY A SPACESHIP,

BLUMRICH FELT
HE WAS RIGHT AT HOME

AND WAS GOING TO BASICALLY DESTROY
VON DANIEN'S REPUTATION.

WELL, WHAT HAPPENED NEXT IS A STORY WHICH BLUMRICH LOVES TELLING.

BASICALLY,
WHAT HAPPENED WAS THIS:

BLUMRICH WENT IN SEARCH OF FURTHER DETAILS AS TO WHAT EZEKIEL HAD FOUND,

AND BASICALLY A FEW YEARS LATER
BLUMRICH PUBLISHED A BOOK

CALLED THE SPACESHIPS OF EZEKIEL.

WHAT BLUMRICH WAS FINDING AND IDENTIFYING

WAS THAT EVERYTHING WHICH
VON DANIEN SAID ABOUT EZEKIEL

HE COULD VERIFY AND BACK UP.

AND BASICALLY WHAT HE WAS DOING WAS SHOWING

THAT VON DANIEN
HAD ONLY TOUCHED THE SURFACE,

AND THAT WITHIN THE WRITINGS OF EZEKIEL IN THE BIBLE

THERE WERE FURTHER DETAILS WHICH HIGHLIGHTED

THE POSSIBILITY

THAT WHAT EZEKIEL HAD SEEN
WAS INDEED A SPACESHIP.

ALL OF THIS TO SUGGEST THAT, REALLY,

THE QUESTION WHICH
VON DANIKEN POSED IN 1968

HAS RECEIVED AN AWFUL LOT OF CONTROVERSY,

BUT WE ALSO NEED TO MOVE INTO BROADER ASPECTS AND INTRODUCE NEW MATERIAL,

BECAUSE SO MUCH HAS CHANGED SINCE THEN,

AND REALLY, THAT NEEDS TO RISE TO THE SURFACE RIGHT NOW.

THE BIG QUESTION
WHEN IT COMES TO
THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION

IS WHETHER THEY ARE A SUBSTITUTE FOR GOD.

IT'S A QUESTION WHICH AN AWFUL LOT OF PEOPLE WOULD REALLY SAY, "MAYBE,"

AND DEFINITELY
IT'S A POSSIBILITY,

EVEN THOUGH I PERSONALLY BELIEVE THAT WE SHOULD REALLY DISENTANGLE THE TWO TOPICS.

ANCIENT ALIEN THEORISTS HAVE LOOKED AT "CARGO CULTS,"

AND BASICALLY,
CARGO CULTS ARE A RELATIVELY NEW PHENOMENON.

WHAT HAPPENED WAS THIS:
AT THE TIME OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR,

CERTAIN PACIFIC ISLANDS
GOT AN ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS

IN THE WAR OF
THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

AND SO WHAT HAPPENED
WAS THAT ALL OF A SUDDEN

THE NATIVES OF ISLANDS LIKE TANNA

BASICALLY WERE GIVEN AN AWFUL LOT OF GOODS,

AND THEIR ISLAND
WAS TRANSFORMED INTO MILITARY BASES.

AFTER THE SECOND WORLD WAR, EVERYBODY LEFT,

AND BASICALLY THE ISLAND,
ONCE AGAIN,

FELT THAT THESE PEOPLE SHOULD COME BACK.

AND THIS IS WHERE THE IDEA OF A CARGO CULT COMES ABOUT.

BECAUSE WHAT HAPPENED NEXT WAS THAT THE RUNWAYS

WERE BEING RECONSTRUCTED
OUT OF WHEAT,

THE PLANES WHICH
THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS HAD

WAS RECONSTRUCTED
OUT OF WHEAT.

AND BASICALLY
A CONCEPT CAME ABOUT

THAT THERE HAD BEEN THIS CIVILIZING DEITY,

WHICH THEY IDENTIFIED WITH JOHN FRUM,

AND THEY REALLY WERE BEGINNING TO IMPORE HIM

TO RETURN AND BRING BACK
THIS GOLDEN AGE.

AND THIS IS SOMETHING WHICH WE SEE IN AN AWFUL LOT OF CULTURES,

WHETHER IT IS QUETZALCOATL
IN THE MAYAN HEARTLAND, VIRACocha WITH THE INCAS,

OSIRIS WITH THE ANCIENT EGYPTIANS;

ALL OF THESE DEITIES
WHICH SOMEHOW BROUGHT THEM
CIVILIZATION

HAVE ALWAYS BEEN SET TO RETURN,

AND TO SOME EXTENT
WERE ALSO IMPORED TO RETURN,

BECAUSE THEY WERE GOING TO RETURN A GOLDEN AGE TO THE VARIOUS CIVILIZATIONS,

WHETHER THEY WERE
THE MAYANS, THE INCANS,
OR THE ANCIENT EGYPTIANS.

AND WHAT WE'RE SEEING IS THAT A PHYSICAL CONTACT,

A PHYSICAL DEITY,
IN THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC,

INDEED MADE IT INTO A GOD.

AND THERE'S A FUNNY AFTERMATH TO THIS,

BECAUSE AT SOME TIME LATER

THEY HEARD STORIES ABOUT PRINCE PHILIP,
THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH,

AND BASICALLY
THEY BEGAN TO WORK HIM

INTO THE MYTHOLOGY
OF THIS JOHN FRUM,

THEY SAID HE WAS THE COUSIN
OR THE BROTHER OF JOHN FRUM.

AND THEY ACTUALLY BEGAN TO IDENTIFY HIM AS A DEITY

AND BEGAN TO SEND LETTERS TO HIM

AND BEGAN TO CONSIDER HIM TO BE AS ONE OF THEIR TRIBE,

EVEN THOUGH, OF COURSE,
HE HAS NOTHING TO DO

WITH THE PEOPLE OF
THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

THE INTERESTING ASPECT IS THAT EVENTUALLY

THEY WERE ABLE TO BYPASS ROYAL PROTOCOL

AND SEND A LETTER TO THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH,

AND BASICALLY HE RETURNED IT,

SIGNED, WITH A PHOTOGRAPH,
SIGNED AS WELL,

AND THE PEOPLE OF VANUATU
AND OTHER SOUTH PACIFIC ISLANDS

ARE NOW WORSHIPPING
PRINCE PHILIP AS A DEITY.

AND IT JUST GOES TO SHOW THAT INDEED CERTAIN PEOPLE CAN BE DEIFIED,

AND CERTAIN ALIEN PEOPLE,

NOT NECESSARILY "ALIEN" IN THE SENSE THAT THEY WERE EXTRATERRESTRIAL,

BUT DEFINITELY THAT THEY HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE INDIGENOUS CULTURE AS SUCH,

TRANSFORMED THE CIVILIZATION,

FRAMEWORK IN PLACE.

THAT TO SOME EXTENT IS WHAT
THE ANCIENT ALIEN THEORY IS PROPOSING AS WELL,

THAT THERE WERE CONTACT WITH INTELLIGENCES

WHICH ARE EITHER HUMAN,
NON-HUMAN,

PHYSICAL OR NON-PHYSICAL,

BUT DEFINITELY OUTSIDE OF THE SCOPE OF A CIVILIZATION,

AND THAT THERE ARE TRACES IN THE MYTHS, THE LEGENDS,

AND THE STORIES OF THESE CIVILIZATIONS

WHICH SHOW THAT CONTACT HAD BEEN ESTABLISHED

WITH SOMEBODY ALIEN
TO THE INDIGENOUS TRIBE.

SO LET US GO INTO
THE BEST EVIDENCE

FOR FINDING OUT
WHETHER OR NOT

ANCIENT CONTACT HAS BEEN MADE
WITH OUR ANCESTORS.

WELL, WE NEED TO START WITH THE ONLY SURVIVING MONUMENT

OF THE SEVEN WONDERS:
THE GREAT PYRAMIDS.

PEOPLE WILL TELL YOU THAT THE GREAT PYRAMIDS

COULD NOT POSSIBLY HAVE BEEN BUILT BY MANKIND,

AND THAT IS, TO SOME EXTENT,

SIMPLY NOT TRUE.

OUR ANCESTORS WERE DEFINITELY CAPABLE OF BUILDING IT.

THE REALLY INTRIGUING QUESTION IS WHETHER THEY DID

AND WHETHER THERE IS EVIDENCE
WITHIN THE BUILDING
OF THE GREAT PYRAMID

OF SIGNS THAT THEY WERE USING TECHNOLOGY

WHICH WAS NOT COMMONLY AVAILABLE TO THEM.

AND THE ANSWER TO THAT QUESTION IS "YES."

BASICALLY, THE STORY
OF THE GREAT PYRAMID

IS THE STORY OF A FRENCH PHYSICIST/CHEMIST, JOSEPH DAVIDOVITS.

HE IS CONSIDERED
TO BE THE FATHER
OF GEOPOLYMERIZATION,

AND BASICALLY GEOPOLYMERS
IS THE FOLLOWING THING:

THE SCIENCE OF GEOPOLYMERIZATION

IS THAT DAVIDOVITS WAS LOOKING TO NATURAL ROCKS,

AND BASICALLY REALIZED THAT THESE WERE FORMED
OVER A CERTAIN PERIOD OF TIME--

FROM DAYS TO,
SOMETIMES, MILLENNIA,

TO, SOMETIMES,
MILLIONS OF YEARS.

IT'S A CHEMICAL PROCESS,

AND SO HE WONDERED WHETHER, IF HE USED THE SAME INGREDIENTS,

HE COULD USE CHEMICAL PROCESSES

TO SPEED UP
THE ROCK FORMATION,

AND BASICALLY DO THIS IN HIS LABORATORY.

AND SO HE SET OUT TO FIND OUT WHETHER HE COULD DO THAT,

AND THE ANSWER WAS A POSITIVE:
HE MANAGED TO DO SO,

HENCE WHY HE BECAME THE FATHER
OF GEOPOLYMERIZATION.

HE HAS A RECORD,
HIS CURRICULUM VITAE,

WHICH IS LONGER THAN MOST BOOKS.

BUT A FEW YEARS AGO
HE BASICALLY BEGAN TO SEE

THAT WHAT WAS HAPPENING
IN ANCIENT EGYPT

WAS VERY MUCH ON PAR WITH WHAT HE HAD SEEN
IN HIS LABORATORY.

WHEN DAVIDOVITS

LOOKED AT THE BLOCKS
OF THE GREAT PYRAMID,

HE REALIZED THAT THEY HAD NOT BEEN HEWN FROM A QUARRY;

HE REALIZED THAT THEY WERE THE RESULT
OF GEOPOLYMERIZATION,

THAT THEY WERE GEOPOLYMERS.

AND SO WHAT HE DID WAS,

HE BEGAN TO DO
A DETAILED INVESTIGATION.

AND WHEN HE FELT THAT HE WAS READY TO PUBLISH IT,

HE ALSO MADE
THE EGYPTOLOGISTS AWARE.

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT WAS SOMETHING OF A FARFARICAL COMEDY,

BECAUSE EGYPTOLOGISTS
BASICALLY SAID THAT THEY KNEW

THAT WHAT DAVIDOVITS WAS SAYING WAS SIMPLY NOT TRUE.

THE GREAT PYRAMID
WAS NOT MADE FROM CEMENT,

BECAUSE GEOPOLYMERS, IN EGYPTOLOGICAL CIRCLES,

ARE QUITE OFTEN MISTAKEN FOR CEMENT, AND IT'S CLEARLY NOT THE CASE:

CEMENT IS CEMENT;
GEOPOLYMERS ARE NATURAL ROCKS,

BUT JUST THROUGH A SPEEDED-UP PROCESS.

AND SO WHAT HE DID WAS THAT HE SENT IN A PIECE OF GEOPOLYMER

FOR CHEMICAL ANALYSIS,

AND THE LABORATORIES WHICH THE EGYPTOLOGICAL CIRCLES USED

SENT BACK A REPORT SAYING THAT IT WAS A NATURAL ROCK,

TO WHICH HIS REPLY WAS,
"WELL, THAT'S NOT THE CASE.

"IT IS A PIECE OF ROCK WHICH I CREATED IN MY LABORATORY,

"AND IT GOES TO SHOW THAT YOUR ANALYSIS OF MY RESEARCH

IS BASICALLY INCORRECT."

WHERE IT STANDS AT THE MOMENT

IS THAT DAVIDOVITS IS SLOWLY
BEGINNING TO GET AHEAD

IN CONVINCING EGYPTOLOGICAL
CIRCLES OF HIS RIGHT.

BUT THE INTERESTING THING IS THIS:

DAVIDOVITS IS SHOWING US THAT A PROCESS

WHICH WAS ONLY DISCOVERED IN THE 1970s

WAS ALSO IN USE, BUT IN THE ANCIENT EGYPTIAN TIMES,

AND THEN DISAPPEARED.

THE INTERESTING ASPECT IS THAT FROM ANCIENT EGYPTIAN TIMES

WE HAVE RECORDS
WHICH SHOW US

THAT THEY KNEW
WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE

FOR PYRAMID-BUILDING PROCESSES.

HIS NAME IS IMHOTEP, AND HE REALLY WAS DEIFIED

BY THE ANCIENT EGYPTIANS THEMSELVES.

IMHOTEP SAYS THAT THE KNOWLEDGE

THROUGH WHICH HE WAS ABLE TO CONSTRUCT PYRAMIDS

WAS GIVEN TO HIM
BY NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES.

AND SO WE HAVE CLEAR EVIDENCE TO SUGGEST

THAT THE ANCIENT EGYPTIANS
WERE INDEED RIGHT IN SAYING THAT THEY WERE NOT ALONE,

THAT THEY WERE GUIDED ON THIS PROCESS OF CIVILIZATION,

AND THE GREAT PYRAMID IS JUST ONE EXAMPLE

AS TO HOW THEY WERE GUIDED IN THIS PROCESS

ALONG THE LINES OF DEITIES--
NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES--

HELPING THEM OUT.

ANOTHER FAVORITE PLACE OF MINE
IS BAALBEK,

IN THE BEKAA VALLEY
IN THE LEBANON.

IT'S NOT HOT ON THE TOURIST LIST RIGHT NOW,

BASICALLY BECAUSE IT IS IN SUCH A VOLATILE REGION.

BAALBEK IS COMPOSED OF A TEMPLE OF JUPITER
WHICH WAS BUILT IN ROMAN TIMES,

AND IT IS ACTUALLY
THE LARGEST ROMAN TEMPLE
OUTSIDE OF ROME.

WHEN YOU ARE ASKING HISTORIANS

AS TO HOW DO ANCIENT ROMANS BUILD THIS TEMPLE,

THEY WILL TELL YOU THAT THAT MOMENT IN TIME

THEY REALLY WERE STRETCHED
IN THEIR TECHNICAL CAPABILITIES

IN CONSTRUCTING THIS TEMPLE.

BUT IT'S NOT THE TEMPLE,
BUT THE PLATFORM

ON WHICH THE TEMPLE SITS THAT IS THE ENIGMA.

HERE WE FIND STONE BLOCKS
WHICH ARE THOUSANDS OF TONS
IN WEIGHT.

IN FACT, THE TALLEST ONE,
THE LARGEST ONE,

WEIGHS JUST UNDER 2,000 TONS.

AT THE END OF THE 20th CENTURY,

CONSTRUCTION ENGINEERS WERE ABLE TO WORK WITH SUCH WEIGHTS.

THERE WERE MACHINES WHICH COULD LIFT THIS AMOUNT OF WEIGHT,

BUT THERE WERE NO MACHINES
TEN YEARS AGO WHICH COULD TRANSPORT THIS WEIGHT.

YET WE KNOW FOR A FACT THAT THE ENGINEERS OF BAALBEK

THOUSANDS OF YEARS AGO
WERE ABLE TO TRANSPORT THIS.

NOW, HOW ARE HISTORIANS
DEALING WITH THIS ANOMALY?

THEY'RE BASICALLY LEAVING IT
UNADDRESSED, AS IF THERE IS NO PROBLEM THERE.

BUT CLEARLY, WHEN WE HAVE ONLY JUST GOTTEN THE TECHNOLOGY TO MOVE THESE STONES INTO PLACE

AND WE KNOW FOR A FACT THAT

THE ANCIENT ENGINEERS
OF BAALBEK WERE ABLE TO TRANSPORT THIS,

THEN THERE IS A QUESTION
TO BE ANSWERED THERE.

CARNAC IN BRITTANY
IS ANOTHER FAMOUS EXAMPLE.

HERE WE HAVE THOUSANDS OF STANDING STONES
ALIGNED IN NEAT ROWS.

WE ARE UNABLE TO REALLY GIVE ANY INSIGHTS AS TO WHAT THEY WERE THERE FOR.

CARNAC IS PART OF
THE MEGALITHIC CIVILIZATION,

AND THIS IS AS FAR AS SCIENCE HAS GONE.

THEY HAVE IDENTIFIED THAT THE PEOPLE WHO BUILT THESE STONES

WERE PEOPLE WHO BUILT THESE STONES,

BECAUSE A MEGALITH
REALLY IS A TALL STONE.

WELL, IN THE CASE OF CARNAC,
THERE ARE EXPLORATIONS

AS TO WHAT THESE MIGHT ALL BE ABOUT.

FIRST OF ALL,
THEY HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED

AS BEING ALIGNED TO THINGS LIKE
THE SUMMER SOLSTICE,

THE WINTER SOLSTICE,
THE EQUINOXES,

TO CERTAIN IMPORTANT
STAND-STILLS OF THE MOON.

SO WE KNOW FOR A FACT THAT THERE WAS SOME KIND OF TECHNICAL CAPABILITY

IN CONSTRUCTING THESE.

IT IS THANKS TO THE WORK OF HOWARD CROWHURST,

WHO REALLY HAS GONE INTO AN EXTRAORDINARY DETAIL
INTO CARNAC,

THAT WE BEGIN TO IDENTIFY CERTAIN COMPONENTS.

FIRST OF ALL, HE'S BEEN ABLE TO IDENTIFY THAT

AN AWFUL LOT OF MATHEMATICAL SKILL WENT INTO THESE THINGS,

THAT THESE STONES WERE NOT JUST SIMPLY PLACED HAPHAZARDLY,

BUT THAT THEY WERE REALLY PLACED ACCORDING TO A MATHEMATICAL SEQUENCE.

FURTHERMORE, THAT THE DISTANCES
AND THE ALIGNMENTS

OF THE VARIOUS MEGALITHIC ROWS IN CARNAC

ALSO WERE NOT JUST DONE BY COINCIDENCE,

BUT THAT THEY WERE DONE
IN A VERY SPECIFIC PATTERN.

SO WHAT WE'RE GETTING HERE

IS THOUSANDS OF STONES
WHICH WERE ALIGNED
IN VERY SPECIFIC ROWS,

BUT FOR WHICH SCIENCE

HAS NOT FOUND AN ANSWER.

BUT WHAT WE DO KNOW IS THAT THERE WAS EXTRAORDINARY AMOUNTS

OF ENGINEERING
IN THESE STONE ROWS.

AND THIS IS TO SOME EXTENT
ANOTHER EXAMPLE

OF WHERE WE FIND THAT OUR ANCESTORS

WERE FAR MORE TECHNICALLY CAPABLE,

BUT ALSO MATHEMATICALLY AWARE,
THEN WE GIVE THEM CREDIT FOR.

FOR EXAMPLE,
SUCH THINGS AS PI AND PHI

DID NOT OFFICIALLY EXIST
IN MEGALITHIC TIMES.

THE DISCOVERY OF THESE MATHEMATICAL EQUATIONS

ARE ONLY CREDITED TO THE GREEKS.

BUT WE FIND THAT THE MEGALITH BUILDERS OF CARNAC
WERE DEFINITELY AWARE OF THEM.

SO WHAT WE SEE HERE
REALLY IS, ONCE AGAIN,

AN EXAMPLE OF A FACT THAT SCIENCE IS UNABLE TO ADDRESS

SOMETHING WHICH IS PHYSICALLY PRESENT,

AND IT IS, ONCE AGAIN, A QUESTION FOR SCIENCE

AS TO HOW THEY ARE GOING TO EXPLAIN THIS.

NOW, IN THE CASE OF CARNAC,

OR WHETHER IT IS MORE A LOST CIVILIZATION CONNECTION.

AND TO SOME EXTENT,
AT THIS MOMENT IN TIME,

THAT QUESTION HAS TO REMAIN OPEN.

ONE OF THE GIMMICKS
OF THE ANCIENT ALIEN THEORY
HAS TO BE CRYSTAL SKULLS.

THE CRYSTAL SKULLS ARE AWE-INSPIRING,

AND NOBODY REALLY KNOWS HOW THEY WERE MADE.

WE CAN REPRODUCE THEM TODAY,
BUT NOT NECESSARILY ALL SKULLS.

SOME OF THEM STAND OUT,

AND TWO STAND OUT
MORE THAN OTHERS.

ONE OF THEM IS MAX.

MAX IS A CRYSTAL SKULL

WHICH IS COMPOSED OUT OF SIX DIFFERENT TYPES OF CRYSTAL.

AND IT IS SAID THAT WHOEVER BEGAN TO WORK WITH THIS CRYSTAL,

IF WE WERE TO DO IT TODAY,

BASICALLY MAX WOULD SHATTER
INTO THOUSANDS OF PIECES.

BUT SOMEHOW IN THE PAST,
SOMEBODY HAS BEEN ABLE TO FORM MAX,

AND THE END RESULT IS STILL THERE.

MAX, UNFORTUNATELY,
IS NOT AS FAMOUS AS
THE MITCHELL-HEDGES SKULL.

IS ONE OF THE VERY FEW ANCIENT SKULLS

WHICH HAS A DETACHABLE JAW.

WHEN ANNA MITCHELL-HEDGES

TOOK HER SKULL TO HEWLETT-PACKARD LABORATORIES,

THEY IDENTIFIED THAT, REALLY,
THIS WAS A PIECE OF ENGINEERING

WHICH TODAY WE CANNOT DO.

THE PROBLEM IS THAT THE JAW IS MADE OF
THE SAME PIECE OF CRYSTAL,

AND SO FOR THAT TO WORK, REALLY, WE NEED TO IDENTIFY

A PIECE OF TECHNOLOGY WHICH WE CURRENTLY DO NOT HAVE,

BECAUSE EVERY PIECE OF TECHNOLOGY TODAY

IS UNABLE TO REPRODUCE THIS.

IT IS SAID THAT IT WOULD SHATTER,

BUT BASICALLY WE HAVE NO IDEA
HOW TO DO THIS.

H.P. SAID THAT IF IT WAS DONE
THROUGH HUMAN WORK,

IT WOULD REALLY
HAVE TAKEN 75 YEARS,

PROBABLY THREE PEOPLE,
EACH, TWENTY YEARS TO DO THIS,

DAY IN, DAY OUT,
TO GET THIS END RESULT.

IT IS REALLY IMPOSSIBLE TO BELIEVE THAT THIS WAS THE CASE.

NOW, THE MITCHELL-HEDGES SKULL HAS ALSO COME IN

FOR SOME SCRUTINY
AND FOR SOME SKEPTICISM.

JANE WALSH OF THE SMITHSONIAN IS ABSOLUTELY CONVINCED

THAT THE MITCHELL-HEDGES SKULL

WAS MADE AT THE END OF THE 19th CENTURY IN GERMANY.

FORTUNATELY, OR UNFORTUNATELY,

SHE HAS BEEN UNABLE TO PRODUCE ANY EVIDENCE TO BACK UP HER CONCLUSION,

HOWEVER VOCIFEROUS SHE IS

IN PROCLAIMING IT.

IT IS TRUE THAT THERE IS SOME CONTROVERSY

AS TO WHERE MITCHELL-HEDGES GOT HIS CRYSTAL SKULL FROM.

THE STORY GOES THAT ANNA MITCHELL-HEDGES

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY, 1917,
HER SEVENTEENTH BIRTHDAY,

THAT SHE IDENTIFIED THIS SKULL
AMONGST OTHER PIECES

IN THE RUINS OF A MAYAN CITADEL.

THERE IS NO ARCHEOLOGICAL
EVIDENCE TO BACK THAT UP;

IT IS EVEN SAID THAT SHE PROBABLY WASN'T THERE.

BUT THIS DOESN'T NECESSARILY MEAN THAT THE SKULL

IS INDEED OF ORIGINS
FROM GERMANY OR ELSEWHERE,

THAT THIS IS A MODERN FAKE.

IN FACT, THE ANSWER CAN BE FOUND IN WHITE TIGER,

WHICH IS A BOOK WHICH MITCHELL-HEDGES
WROTE AS A NOVEL,

BUT MANY ASPECTS OF THE NOVEL REALLY SHOW THAT

WHAT HE'S DOING HERE

IS PUTTING OUT NON-FICTION
UNDER THE GUISE OF FICTION.

AND BASICALLY THE STORY OF WHITE TIGER IS THIS:

AN ENGLISH EX-PAT
IS LIVING IN MEXICO

AND COMES ACROSS A TRIBE.

THE TRIBE TAKES HIM IN,

AND AFTER A PERIOD OF TIME
BEGINS TO SHOW HIM SECRETS.

PART OF THESE SECRETS INVOLVE A HUGE TREASURE,

AND IN WHITE TIGER,

WHICH IS THE NICKNAME
OF THIS ENGLISH EX-PAT,

AFTER A WHILE WHITE TIGER
GOES WITH THE HIGH PRIEST

INTO THE VAULT WHICH IS SAID TO CONTAIN THE TREASURE OF THE AZTECS.

AND AFTER A SERIES OF PUSHING AGAINST WALLS REVEALING DOORS,

HE FINALLY SEES IN FRONT OF HIM
THE TREASURE OF THE AZTECS.

AND IN IT, HE SAYS,
ARE CRYSTAL HEADS.

NOW, MITCHELL-HEDGES
WRITES THIS BOOK IN 1931,

AND IT'S ONLY IN 1947-ISH THAT HE BEGINS

TO TAKE THE CRYSTAL SKULL OUT
FOR PUBLIC DISPLAYS.

AND REALLY, WHEN YOU RECONSTRUCT MITCHELL-HEDGES'S LIFE,

YOU BEGIN TO REALIZE THAT, INDEED,

THERE IS A PERIOD OF HIS TIME, 1912, 1914,

THAT WE HE WAS LIVING THE LIFE OF WHITE TIGER,

THAT HE WAS MAKING CONTACT WITH THESE INDIGENOUS TRIBES,

AND THAT IT IS LIKELY THAT IT IS AT THAT MOMENT IN TIME

THAT HE WAS GIVEN
THE CRYSTAL SKULL
FOR PRESERVATION.

AFTER A FEW DECADES, HE REALLY FELT CONFIDENT ENOUGH TO TAKE IT OUT ON THE ROAD

AND SHOW IT TO PEOPLE.

IT APPEARS THAT BECAUSE IT WAS SUCH A MYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCE,

SUCH A PRIVILEGED CIRCUMSTANCE,

IN WHICH HE WAS GIVEN THESE CRYSTAL SKULLS,

THAT ANNA MITCHELL-HEDGES
THEN INVENTED THE STORY

AS TO HOW SHE DISCOVERED IT.

BECAUSE IF THE STORY OF WHITE TIGER IS TRUE,

THEN IT IS NOT JUST ONE CRYSTAL SKULL WHICH MITCHELL-HEDGES HAS;

THERE WERE REALLY SEVERAL CRYSTAL SKULLS STILL HIDING, PROBABLY TO THIS DAY,

TOGETHER WITH OTHER TREASURES
OF THE MAYAN POPULATION,

SOMEWHERE WITHIN THE MAYAN HEARTLAND.

AND SO A WHITE LIE WAS INVENTED

BASICALLY
TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM THAT REGION

AGAINST TREASURE SEEKERS.

ONE OF THE BEST EXAMPLES
HAS TO COME FROM THE BIBLE,

AND IT IS THE STORY OF THE WATCHERS.

IN GENESIS ITSELF
IT SAYS THAT NON-HUMAN BEINGS

CAME DOWN TO EARTH
AND BEGAN TO MATE WITH FEMALES.

THE END RESULT WAS A RACE OF GIANTS,

BUT ALSO THAT THE CREATURES
WHICH WERE BORN WERE SO BIG

THAT QUITE OFTEN

THE WOMEN COULD NOT GIVE BIRTH TO IT,

BECAUSE BASICALLY THE PELVIS
WAS NOT WIDE ENOUGH

FOR THE HEADS OF THESE CREATURES.

NOW, THAT MIGHT SOUND
A LOT LIKE SCIENCE-FICTION,

BUT WHY WOULD IT
MAKE IT INTO GENESIS?

IF IT IS A RELIGIOUS MESSAGE,

WHAT IS THE RELIGIOUS MESSAGE
REALLY THERE FOR?

AND WHEN YOU START LOOKING INTO THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL EVIDENCE,

YOU WILL FIND THAT
THIS IS ACTUALLY NOT SOMETHING

WHICH IS TYPICAL TO THE BIBLE.

IT IS ACTUALLY A TRADITION

WHICH DATES BACK TO SUMARIAN TIMES.

AND WHAT WE HAVE ARE STORIES OF THE NEPHILIM,

OTHER CREATURES
WHICH ARE SAID TO HAVE

DESCENDED FROM HEAVEN TO EARTH
TO MATE WITH MANKIND.

AND SO WHAT WE SEE IS EVIDENCE

FROM VARIOUS CULTURES,

BUT PRESENT IN THE WESTERN BIBLE AS WELL,

WHICH SHOWS THAT SO MANY TRADITIONS IN THE MIDDLE EAST

HAD A CLEAR KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEF

THAT THEY, AT ONE POINT, HAD BEEN VISITED.

THIS IS NOT JUST SOMETHING WHICH CAN BE PUSHED ASIDE,

BECAUSE THERE IS ALSO ARCHAEOLOGICAL EVIDENCE
IN VARIOUS LOCATIONS,

IN FACT, ON VARIOUS CONTINENTS,

TO SHOW THAT THERE SEEMS TO BE A RACE OF GIANTS.

GIANT SKULLS
WERE FOUND, FOR EXAMPLE, IN LOVELOCK, NEVADA,

AND IT SHOWS YOU THAT THE GIANTS WHICH WERE DESCRIBED IN THE BIBLE

ARE NOT JUST STORIES, ARE NOT JUST MYTHS,

BUT ARE ALSO ARCHAEOLOGICAL;

THEY HAVE LEFT A TRACE IN OUR ARCHAEOLOGICAL RECORDS.

AND IT IS REALLY UP TO US TO BEGIN TO ANALYZE

WHETHER OR NOT
ALL OF THESE INTERRELATE,

WHETHER THESE GIANTS
ON THE NEW WORLD

WERE LINKED WITH THE GIANTS ON THE OLD WORLD,

AND WHETHER, INDEED, THEY ARE OF NON-HUMAN ORIGINS

OR WHETHER THEY ARE A SORT OF LOST SPECIES
OF PLANET EARTH.

NOW, WHAT IS THE BEST EVIDENCE?

THE BEST EVIDENCE,
ACCORDING TO CARL SAGAN,

IS ACTUALLY A STORY OF OANNES.

THE STORY OF OANNES
IS VERY INTERESTING,

AND IT IS RECORDED BY BEROSUS.

BEROSUS IS A PERSON WHO LIVED IN GREEK TIMES

AND WHO WAS REPORTING ON EVENTS

WHICH TOOK PLACE IN BABYLONIAN TIMES.

THE STORY OF OANNES IS THIS:

THAT A CREATURE
WHICH WAS HALF-FISH, HALF-MAN, CAME FROM THE PERSIAN GULF

AND BEGAN TO SPEAK,
IF NOT INSTRUCT,
WITH THE LOCALS.

HE TAUGHT THEM SCIENCES
SUCH AS ASTRONOMY, MATHEMATICS.

AT NIGHT HE WOULD DISAPPEAR ONCE AGAIN
INTO THE PERSIAN GULF,

AND THE NEXT MORNING
OR A FEW DAYS LATER

HE WOULD EMERGE
FROM THERE AGAIN
AND CONTINUE HIS EDUCATION.

AFTER A CERTAIN PERIOD OF TIME
OANNES WOULD STOP COMING,

AND A LITTLE WHILE LATER, SOMEBODY ELSE WOULD COME,

ANOTHER CREATURE
HALF-FISH, HALF-MAN,

AND THAT CREATURE KNEW PRECISELY WHERE

AND HE TOOK IT UP FROM THERE.

THIS CONTINUED FOR A SERIES OF SEVEN SUCH CREATURES,

WHICH, IN THE BABYLONIAN TRADITION

AND THE SUMERIAN TRADITION
ARE KNOWN AS THE APKALLU,

THE SEVEN SAGES, WHO BASICALLY BROUGHT CIVILIZATION

TO THE BABYLONIANS
AND TO THE SUMERIANS.

SO WHAT WE HAVE HERE IS VERY CLEAR EVIDENCE

THAT THE BABYLONIANS SAY THAT CIVILIZATION WAS A GIFT OF THE GODS,

THAT IT WAS A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE,

A HALF-FISH, HALF-MAN,
A CREATURE CALLED OANNES,

WHO GAVE IT TO THEM,

THAT THEY WERE TAUGHT CIVILIZATION,

THAT CIVILIZATION
WAS A GIFT OF THE GODS.

THIS STORY OF OANNES WAS ACTUALLY IDENTIFIED
BY THE LATE CARL SAGAN

AS THE BEST EVIDENCE AVAILABLE

THAT WE HAVE BEEN CONTACTED IN THE PAST
BY NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES,

WHICH WERE CLEARLY, IN THIS CASE,
IN A PHYSICAL FORM

AND CLEARLY OF A DESCRIPTION
WHICH MAKES THEM VERY MUCH

A CANDIDATE FOR BEING OF EXTRATERRESTRIAL ORIGINS.

THE DROPA,
AS THEY ARE CALLED,

ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE RESULT OF A SPACECRAFT
WHICH CRASHED IN 12,000 B.C.

NOW, REALLY THIS SOUNDS
AN EXTRAORDINARY STORY, DOESN'T IT?

AND THE STORY GOES AS THIS:

IN 1962, A CHINESE SCIENTIST WAS ABLE TO DECODE INSCRIPTIONS

WHICH HAD BEEN DURING A SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION
IN THE 1920s.

AND WHAT HE SAID HE IDENTIFIED IN THESE INSCRIPTIONS

WAS THAT A SPACECRAFT HAD INDEED LANDED
IN 12,000 B.C.,

THAT IT HAD MADE CONTACT WITH THE LOCAL PEOPLE,

AND THAT A SECOND SPACECRAFT
A FEW THOUSAND YEARS LATER

HAD ALSO CRASHED IN THAT REGION.

THE SURVIVORS OF THAT SPACECRAFT
BASICALLY SETTLED

AND BEGAN TO INTERBREED
WITH THE LOCALS.

NOW, THE FIRST QUESTION IS,
OF COURSE, IS IT POSSIBLE

THAT AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL CIVILIZATION CAN

INTERBREED WITH MANKIND?

AND IT IS SOMETHING WHICH WE'LL COME BACK TO.

BUT LET'S ASSUME
FOR THE MOMENT THAT
THE ANSWER IS YES.

WELL, THE STORY THEN CONTINUES

THAT THE END RESULT WAS A HUMAN BEING

WHICH LOOKED HUMAN BUT WITH CERTAIN SPECIFIC FEATURES;

SPECIFICALLY VERY STRONG BONES
OF THE HEAD

WITH DEEP INSET EYES.

THE STORY OF THE DROPA
MIGHT REMAIN THERE

HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE WORK OF A GERMAN TOUR OPERATOR
CALLED HARTWIG HAUSDORF,

AND IN THE EARLY 1990s
HE WAS ABLE TO GO INTO CHINA

AND SPEAK TO THE PEOPLE INVOLVED.

AND WHAT HE CAME BACK WITH WAS A STORY THAT REALLY CONFIRMS

EVERYTHING OF
THE ORIGINAL ACCOUNT.

WHAT HE IDENTIFIED
WAS THAT THE JADE DISCS

ON WHICH THESE INSCRIPTIONS HAD BEEN FOUND DO EXIST;

IN FACT, JADE DISCS
ARE QUITE COMMON.

THE STORY, OF COURSE,
HAS NOT BEEN VERIFIED,

BUT HERE IS WHAT WE KNOW:

WE KNOW THAT IN 1997
THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT
BEGAN TO DO A DETAILED STUDY;

THEY WERE BASICALLY MAPPING
EVERYBODY IN CHINA AND IDENTIFYING TRIBES.

THE END RESULT IS THAT IN THE LAND NEAR WHERE

THE DROPA WERE SAID TO HAVE CRASHED,

THERE WERE EVIDENCES THERE
OF TRIBES

WHICH WERE VERY DIFFERENT FROM ANYWHERE ELSE IN CHINA.

THE FEATURES WHICH THEY DESCRIBE ARE VERY MUCH ON PAR

WITH THE DESCRIPTIONS OF THE DROPA.

AND OF COURSE,
CHINESE SCIENTISTS SINCE 1997
HAVE BEEN TRYING TO EXPLAIN

AS TO WHY THIS TRIBE
LOOKS SO STRANGE.

THEIR EXPLANATION IS THAT

REALLY WHAT HAD HAPPENED THERE

IS THAT SOME FORM OF CONTAMINATION,

MAYBE LEAD POISONING,
IN THE PAST

WAS THE CONTRIBUTING FACTOR

AS TO WHY THESE PEOPLE LOOKED SO WEIRD.

BUT REALLY OTHER SCIENTISTS HAVE BEEN ABLE TO SAY

THAT THIS IS SIMPLY NOT THE CASE.

LEAD POISONING KILLS PEOPLE;

IT DOESN'T CAUSE
GENETIC MUTATIONS
OR GENETIC TRANSFORMATIONS.

SO WHATEVER THESE PEOPLE ARE,

THEY ARE INDEED
POSING AN ANOMALY,

AND SCIENTISTS IN CHINA

ARE ACTUALLY TRYING TO EXPLORE THAT MYSTERY AS WE SPEAK.

NOW, THE PROBLEM WITH THE CHINESE ROSWELL IS

THAT SOME PEOPLE BELIEVE THIS IS A HOAX.

THEY SAY THAT DAVID AGAMON
IN SUNGODS IN EXILE IN 1978

WROTE HIS BOOK, WHICH HE

PRETENDED WAS NON-FICTION,

IT'S A STORY ABOUT
AN ARCHAEOLOGIST WHO, IN 1947,

GOES ON AN EXPEDITION
INTO THE BAYAN-KARA-ULA HOMELAND

AND STUMBLES UPON VERIFICATION

OF THE STORY OF THE STONE DISCS
OF BAYAN-KARA-ULA.

LATER ON, DAVID AGAMON BASICALLY
SAID THAT THIS WAS AN INVENTION,

THAT HE HAD DRESSED UP FICTION
AS NON-FICTION.

CERTAIN PEOPLE BELIEVE THAT THE CHINESE ROSWELL IS A MYTH,

THAT IT HAS BEEN DEBUNKED.

THEY ARGUE THAT A BOOK IN 1978
CALLED SUNGODS IN EXILE

IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS MYTH.

INDEED, SUNGODS IN EXILE
WAS PUBLISHED IN 1978

AND USES THE MATERIAL
OF THE STONE DISCS
OF BAYAN-KARA-ULA,

AND IT INJECTS THE STORY
OF AN EXPEDITION IN 1947:

A PERSON BASICALLY GOES TO THE BAYAN-KARA-ULA REGION

AND FINDS CORROBORATING EVIDENCE FOR THE STONE DISCS

AND THIS SPACE CRASH STORY.

DAVID AGAMON,
WHO WROTE THIS BOOK,

AFTERWARDS SAID THAT EVEN THOUGH THE BOOK
PRETENDED TO BE NON-FICTION,

HE HAD LARGELY MADE IT UP,

AND SO SKEPTICS
ARE POINTING OUT

THAT THE ENTIRE STORY OF THE CHINESE ROSWELL

GOES BACK TO THIS STORY OF 1978

AND THAT, THEREFORE,
WE SHOULD SIMPLY DISCARD IT.

UNFORTUNATELY, THAT'S ABSOLUTELY NOT THE CASE.

HARTWIG HAUSDORF
AND VARIOUS OTHER PEOPLE

HAVE BEEN ABLE TO IDENTIFY THAT
THE STORY GOES BACK TO 1962.

THEY HAVE FOUND EVIDENCE
IN 1962 NEWSPAPERS IN GERMANY
WHICH RELATE THIS STORY,

SIXTEEN YEARS BEFORE
SUNGODS IN EXILE WAS PUBLISHED.

1962 IS ALSO THE TIME WHEN, OF COURSE,

THE CHINESE PROFESSOR WAS SAID
TO HAVE MADE THIS DISCOVERY, THIS BREAKTHROUGH,

AND SO THE QUESTION THAT REALLY SHOULD BE ASKED IS THIS:

DID, IN 1962, THIS PROFESSOR
INDEED MAKE THIS BREAKTHROUGH,

AND WAS THIS SOMEHOW REPORTED INTO WEST GERMAN MAGAZINES AT THAT MOMENT?

THE ANSWER SEEMS TO BE A STRAIGHTFORWARD "YES."

THE QUESTION IS, OF COURSE, WHERE THESE STONE DISCS ARE,

AND WHAT HAPPENED TO THESE CHINESE PROFESSORS?

THAT IS SOMETHING WHICH IS THERE FOR THE FUTURE,

BUT ONCE AGAIN,
ALL THE EVIDENCE

WHICH WE ARE EXPLORING WHEN IT COMES TO THE CHINESE ROSWELL,

EACH CASE THE EVIDENCE IS SUGGESTING THAT IT IS TRUE,

THAT SOMETHING, INDEED, SOMETHING HAPPENED.

AND WE HAVE PEOPLE LIVING THERE RIGHT NOW,
DESCENDANTS OF THE DROPA,

WHO WE CAN GO AND GET DNA FROM

AND REALLY ANSWER THE QUESTION
AS TO WHETHER OR NOT

THESE PEOPLE WERE INDEED HUMAN/
NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES HYBRIDS.

SO WE HAVE VARIOUS POCKETS OF INFORMATION

FROM THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL.
MYTHOLOGICAL,

HISTORICAL FRAMEWORK.

AND REALLY THE QUESTION THEN IS:
CAN WE EXTRAPOLATE FROM THIS?

ARE THERE BIG THEORIES
WHICH WE CAN SUBSTANTIATE?

DO WE KNOW WHERE E.T. CAME FROM?

DO WE KNOW WHAT THEY DID IN THE PAST?

CERTAIN PEOPLE LIKE DAVID ICKE, ZECHARIA SITCHIN, OTHERS,

HAVE SAID, YES, WE CAN.

ONE SPECIFIC PERSON,
ROBERT TEMPLE,

WROTE ABOUT THE DOGON TRIBE
WHO LIVE IN MALI.

HE BASICALLY SAID THAT WHEN HE ANALYZED HIS FINDINGS
ON THIS TRIBE

THAT THEY WERE AN EXAMPLE OF A TRIBE WHO HAD CONTACT

WITH AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL
INTELLIGENCE.

HE BELIEVED THAT THEY POSSESS
INFORMATION

ABOUT SIRIUS A, B, AND C

WHICH THEY COULDN'T HAVE GATHERED THROUGH NORMAL MEANS;

HE BASICALLY ARGUED THAT THEY HAD BEEN GIVEN THIS INFORMATION

THROUGH CONTACT WITH NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES;

E.T. HAD TOLD THEM THIS.

NOW, WHEN OTHER SCIENTISTS,

AND SPECIFICALLY
ANTHROPOLOGISTS,

MADE CONTACT WITH THE DOGON TRIBE,

WHAT THEY IDENTIFIED
WAS THAT THE INFORMATION WHICH TEMPLE PRESENTED

WAS REALLY NOT AS STRONG AS IT SHOULD BE.

THE PEOPLE WHO
THE ANTHROPOLOGISTS,

SPECIFICALLY
GRIAULE AND DIETERLEN,

SPOKE TO IN THE EARLY PART OF THE 20th CENTURY,

SOME OF THEM WERE STILL ALIVE,

AND THEY BASICALLY SAID THAT THE ANTHROPOLOGISTS HAD MISTAKEN

OR MISIDENTIFIED
SOME OF THE INFORMATION

WHICH THE TRIBE ELDERS HAD GIVEN TO THEM.

NOW, WHEN IT COMES TO SITCHIN,

IT IS AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT MATTER.

SITCHIN WILL TELL YOU THAT HE PERFECTLY KNOWS

WHERE THE ANCIENT ALIENS CAME FROM.

HE SAYS THAT THEY COME FROM A PLANET CALLED NIBIRU

WHICH HE IDENTIFIES AS THE TWELFTH PLANET
IN OUR SOLAR SYSTEM,

HE SAYS THAT NIBIRU HAS A VERY SPECIFIC ORBIT,

THAT ITS ORBIT
REALLY IS 3,600 YEARS,

AND THAT THE PLANET
IS SOMETIMES CLOSE TO THE SUN

AND SOMETIMES
VERY FAR FROM THE SUN.

HE SAYS THAT THESE PEOPLE CAME TO PLANET EARTH TO GET GOLD,

WHICH THEY NEEDED
ON THEIR HOME PLANET,

AND ALSO THAT THEY CREATED MANKIND SPECIFICALLY AS

A SLAVE LABOR FORCE TO WORK IN THE GOLD MINES,

SPECIFICALLY
THE GOLD MINES OF AFRICA,

SPECIFICALLY OF SOUTH AFRICA.

HE ALSO BELIEVES THAT THIS CONTACT
WAS ESTABLISHED

SEVERAL HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF YEARS AGO.

THE PROBLEM WITH SITCHIN IS THIS:

SITCHIN IN THE 1970s WAS SAYING THAT EVERYBODY ELSE

WAS MIS-TRANSLATING SUMERIAN LANGUAGES,

THAT HE ALONE WAS ABLE TO UNDERSTAND AND READ SUMERIAN

AND THAT THEREFORE
WE SHOULD STICK WITH

HIS INTERPRETATION
OF THE SUMERIAN LANGUAGE.

WHAT SITCHIN IS FAILING TO SAY

IS THAT, REALLY,
THE ANCIENT SUMERIANS
HAD A LEXICON;

WE TODAY HAVE A LEXICON
OF SUMERIAN WORDS,

WHICH BASICALLY MEANS THAT WE CAN GO AND CHECK,

SPECIFICALLY, A SUMERIAN WORD AND WHAT THEY MEAN,

THAT THERE IS A DEFINITION LEFT TO US
BY THE ANCIENT SUMERIANS.

AND SO THE WORDS
THAT SITCHIN IS HIGHLIGHTING,

FOR EXAMPLE, "MOO" OR "SHEM,"

WHICH HE INTERPRETS
AS A "SPACESHIP" OR A "SPACECRAFT,"

REALLY ARE NO SUCH THING;

IT IS A COMPLETE
DIFFERENT MEANING

WHICH THE ANCIENT SUMERIANS
GAVE TO THESE WORDS THEMSELVES.

SO WE KNOW THAT SITCHIN
IS DEFINITELY SOMEWHAT WRONG.

BUT SPECIFICALLY WHAT I FELT WAS REALLY UPSETTING

WAS THAT WHEN I STARTED TO FACT-CHECK SOME OF SITCHIN'S CLAIMS.

FOR EXAMPLE, I WAS VERY PERSONALLY INTERESTED

IN A STORY ABOUT HOW CERTAIN GLASS THAT REMAINS IN THE SINAI DESERT

COULD POTENTIALLY BE EVIDENCE
OF AN ANCIENT A-EXPLOSION.

SITCHIN WAS TALKING ABOUT THIS,

AND I FELT THAT I SHOULD REALLY EXPLORE THIS,

BECAUSE IF THIS WERE THE CASE,

IT WOULD BE AMONGST
THE BEST EVIDENCES,

BECAUSE WE ALL KNOW THAT ATOMIC WARFARE, AN ATOMIC EXPLOSION,

COULD ONLY MEAN ONE THING:

A HIGHLY TECHNOLOGICALLY ADVANCED CIVILIZATION

WHICH EITHER COMPLETELY DISAPPEARED,

OR AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL INCIDENT,

AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL ENCOUNTER.

AND WHAT WE KNOW, THAT THERE ARE SUMERIAN ACCOUNTS,

SUCH AS THE ONE OF OANNES,

WHICH IS, AFTER ALL,
ONE OF THE BEST EXAMPLES

OF CONTACT WITH A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE--

I FELT THAT I HAD TO EXPLORE.

WELL, SITCHIN,
IN ONE OF HIS BOOKS,

BASICALLY SAYS THAT THERE IS A SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATION

WHICH DETAILS THESE GLASS
REMAINS IN THE SINAI DESERT,

AND HE SAYS THAT THE PAPER CLEARLY SHOWS, CLEARLY IDENTIFIES,

THAT NOBODY KNOWS
HOW THIS HAPPENED,

AND THAT IT IS UNEXPLAINABLE TO SOME EXTENT.

FORTUNATELY,
THE SCIENTIFIC PAPER
WAS AVAILABLE ON THE INTERNET,

SO I HAD AN EASY DOWNLOAD, AND EVEN IN THE SUMMARY

IT IS CLEAR THAT A COMPLETELY DIFFERENT PICTURE EMERGES

THAN THE ONE WHICH SITCHIN IS PAINTING.

THIS SCIENTIFIC PAPER
BASICALLY SAYS

THAT THIS MATERIAL COMES FROM A VOLCANIC EXPLOSION.

AND SO WHEREAS SITCHIN
IS SAYING AND MAKING US BELIEVE

THAT THAT THERE IS NO INFORMATION WHATSOEVER

AS TO HOW THIS GLASS MATERIAL CAME ABOUT,

THE SCIENTIFIC PAPER
MAKES IT VERY CLEAR

THAT THIS IS THE RESULT OF A VOLCANIC EXPLOSION.

THE ONLY QUESTION WHICH

THE SCIENTIFIC PAPER LEAVES IS THAT IT IS UNABLE AS TO WHICH SPECIFIC EXPLOSION
OUT OF THREE POTENTIAL CANDIDATES

THIS GLASS MATERIAL HAS ORIGINATED FROM.

SO I AM SOMEWHAT IF NOT EXTREMELY UPSET WITH SITCHIN,

BECAUSE THERE IS NO POSSIBLE MEANS

THAT HE COULD HAVE MISINTERPRETED THIS SUMMARY.

AND ALL OF HIS OTHER EVIDENCE REALLY DOES SUGGEST

THAT HIS THEORIES
IS JUST THAT: IT'S A THEORY;

AND WHEN WE START
DIGGING DEEPER,

REALLY WHAT WE ARE FINDING ARE HOLES.

SO AT THIS MOMENT IN TIME,
THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION

REALLY DOES NOT HAVE AN ANSWER WHICH IS ALL-ENCOMPASSING.

THERE IS SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE
OUT THERE WHICH SUGGESTS THAT

OUR ANCESTORS WERE INDEED IN CONTACT WITH EXTRATERRESTRIAL BEINGS.

THEY THEMSELVES BELIEVED SO,
SO IT IS DEFINITELY NOT DEROGATORY TO THINK THAT SOME OF OUR CIVILIZATIONS
WERE NOT JUST SIMPLY DUE TO OUR ANCESTORS,
BUT DUE TO OUTSIDE FACTORS.
BUT THE QUESTION IS:
ARE WE AS A SPECIES
EXTRATERRESTRIALS OURSELVES?
REALLY, A VERY INTERESTING EXAMPLE OF ALIEN LIFE CAME ABOUT DURING
THE RESEARCH PHASE
OF THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION.
WE SEEM TO BE ALIENS OURSELVES.
CHANDRA WICKRAMASINGHE IS A PROFESSOR WHO STUDIED UNDER
SIR FRED HOYLE,
AND BASICALLY WHAT HE IS SAYING
IS THAT SINCE 1982
THERE HAS BEEN A CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE
TO SQUASH ANY DISSENT
WHICH ARGUES THAT LIFE
HAS ORIGINATED ON PLANET EARTH.
HE'S SAYING THAT SINCE 1982
THERE IS ACTUALLY A SUBSTANTIAL

AMOUNT OF EVIDENCE

THAT LIFE HAS ORIGINATED
ELSEWHERE IN THE UNIVERSE,

AND, IN FACT, THAT THERE IS EVIDENCE TO SUGGEST

THAT LIFE COULD NOT POSSIBLY HAVE ORIGINATED
ON PLANET EARTH.

THIS SOMEHOW PRIMORDIAL SOUP--

WHICH IS DEEMED TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ORIGINS
OF LIFE ON EARTH--DO NOT WASH,

AND THERE ARE EXPERIMENTS
DATING BACK TO THE 19th CENTURY WHICH SHOW AS SUCH.

NOW, SINCE 1982,
WICKRAMASINGHE IS SAYING,

THAT VIRUSES ARE MOST POTENTIALLY ALSO OF EXTRATERRESTRIAL ORIGIN.

BUT THE BIG FOCUS HAS BEEN ON NASA.

IN 1996, THEY WENT PUBLIC WITH EVIDENCE

THAT THERE WAS LIFE ON A METEORITE FROM MARS,

AND IN DECEMBER 2010
THEY ALSO HELPED A PROFESSOR
CALLED WOLFE-SIMON

IN HER
PROCLAMATION OF EVIDENCE, REALLY ALIEN EVIDENCE,

AND IN DECEMBER OF 2010

NASA ALSO HELPED WOLFE-SIMON
PUBLISH HER ACCOUNTS

AS TO HOW IN MONO LAKE
SHE HAS FOUND EVIDENCE

OF A LIFE FORM
WHICH DEFIES EVERYTHING

WE UNDERSTAND LIFE
ON PLANET EARTH TO BE.

SHE'S NOT SAYING
IT IS ALIEN LIFE,

BUT IT IS REALLY ALIEN IN THE SENSE THAT IT IS SO WEIRD.

NOW, NASA IS VERY CLOSE

TO FINDING EVIDENCE OF EXTRATERRESTRIAL LIFE;

THEY FEEL CONFIDENT THAT WITHIN THE NEXT 15-20 YEARS
THEY WILL DO SO.

NASA WAS TRYING TO PICK UP SIGNS OF INTELLIGENT LIFE ON RADIO ASTRONOMY

WITH "SETI," THE SEARCH FOR EXTRATERRESTRIAL LIFE.

TODAY, THEY HAVE CHANGED TACK;

THEY BELIEVE THAT ASTROBIOLOGY
IS ACTUALLY THE BEST MEANS

OF IDENTIFYING LIFE ON PLANETS
OUTSIDE THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

FOR THIS,
THEY HAVE LAUNCHED THINGS
LIKE THE KEPLER TELESCOPE,

AND WHEN IT WAS LAUNCHED
IN 2010,

A YEAR LATER,
BY FEBRUARY 2011,

THEY HAVE ALREADY IDENTIFIED
54 PLANETS

ON WHICH THEY SUSPECT THAT FURTHER EXPLORATION OF THOSE SYSTEMS

WILL IDENTIFY LIFE.

SO 15-20 YEARS
IS REALLY VERY CLOSE.

BUT NASA HAS GONE FURTHER:

IN THEIR LABORATORIES,
THEY HAVE ACTUALLY RECREATED
INTERSTELLAR SPACE,

AND WHEN THEY DID SO, THEY FOUND THAT

THE BUILDING BLOCKS OF LIFE--
DNA AND RNA--

ARE SPONTANEOUSLY
BEING CREATED THERE.

THEY HAVE GONE AS FAR AS TO SAY

THAT LIFE IN THE UNIVERSE IS A COSMIC IMPERATIVE.

THE CONCLUSIONS
WHICH NASA IS REVEALING

SUGGEST THAT LIFE IN THE UNIVERSE IS EVERYWHERE,

AND THAT THIS LIFE
IS VERY MUCH LIKE OURS,
IT IS DNA-BASED.

AND SO WHENEVER WE ARE CONFRONTED WITH STORIES
FROM MYTHS AND LEGENDS

THAT SOMEHOW OUR ANCESTORS
WERE ABLE TO INTERBREED

WITH NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES, ANCIENT ALIENS,

WE SHOULD REALLY
BE LOOKING TOWARDS

THE VERY LATEST RESEARCH
COMING FROM WITHIN NASA

TO SUGGEST THAT THIS IS INDEED ABSOLUTELY POSSIBLE.

NASA IS CURRENTLY
PAVING THE WAY

OUR ANCIENT MYTHS
ARE ABSOLUTELY TRUE.

SO WE'RE BEING CONFRONTED WITH ON THE ONE SIDE NASA,

WHO'S HELPING US ANSWER
THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION.

THEY ARE CONFIDENT THAT WITHIN THE NEXT 15 YEARS OR SO

THEY ARE GOING TO FIND EVIDENCE OF ALIEN LIFE

SOMEWHERE OUTSIDE OF THIS PLANET.

THEY'RE SHOWING US THAT
DNA IS A COSMIC IMPERATIVE,

AND WHEN WE LOOK AT THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL RECORD,

THERE ARE CLEAR SIGNS THAT ANCIENT ALIENS

ARE NOT A FIGMENT
OF OUR IMAGINATION

OR MAYBE OUR ANCESTORS' IMAGINATION,

BUT THAT THEY ARE GENUINE POSSIBILITIES.

ON THE OTHER HAND
WE HAVE SCIENCE,

WHO'S BASICALLY REFUSING TO ADDRESS THE ISSUE.

NOW, WHEN IT COMES TO
THE POSSIBILITY

OF ANCIENT ALIEN CONTACT
WITH OUR ANCESTORS,

DUNCAN LUNAN,
A SCOTTISH ASTRONOMER,
MADE A STATISTICAL ANALYSIS,

AND HE IS SHOWING US THAT IN THE PERIOD OF TIME

FROM ROUGHLY 5000 B.C. TO NOW

THERE SHOULD BE THREE OR FOUR POTENTIAL CONTACTS,

WITH OUR ANCESTORS,
OF ANCIENT ALIENS.

THREE OR FOUR.

SO OUT OF 240 QUESTIONS
WHICH ERICH VON DANIKEN POSED,

OUT OF THE VARIOUS POTENTIALS,

WHETHER THEY ARE CRYSTAL SKULLS,

WHETHER THEY ARE
THE EVIDENCE OF BAALBEK,

AND SPECIFICALLY
THE STORY OF OANNES,

ONLY THREE OR FOUR
NEED TO BE TRUE.

ALL THE OTHER ONES ARE LIKELY GOING TO BE DISCARDED

AS EITHER EVIDENCE

OF A HIGHER CIVILIZATION
WHICH WAS PRESENT ON EARTH

BUT WHICH WAS HUMAN IN ORIGINS,

OR SIMPLY AS SOMETHING ELSE.

THREE OR FOUR IS REALLY SOMETHING WHICH WE'RE AIMING FOR;

NOTHING MORE, NOTHING LESS.

NOW, A GLIMMER OF HOPE
ON THE HORIZON HAS COME FROM PAUL DAVIES.

HE IS ARGUING THAT
THE ANCIENT ALIEN THEORY,

THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION,

SHOULD BE REFRAMED
AS A SCIENCE CALLED
"ASTROFORENSICS."

IT IS HIS CONVICTION THAT ASTROFORENSICS

SHOULD GO OUT AND STUDY DNA,

SHOULD STUDY
THE GEOLOGICAL RECORD, SHOULD STUDY STARS,

SHOULD STUDY EVERYTHING WITHIN THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL WORLD,

AND LOOK FOR EVIDENCE OF CONTACT

WITH NON-HUMAN,
ALIEN INTELLIGENCE.

HE IS OF THE OPINION THAT CONTACT WITH THIS ALIEN INTELLIGENCE

DID NOT OCCUR WITHIN THE POSSIBILITY OF
THE LAST 5,000 YEARS;

HE IS OF THE CONVICTION

MIGHT HAVE BEEN
ON PLANET EARTH,

BUT THAT THIS HAPPENED
SOMEHOW HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF YEARS,

MILLIONS OF YEARS,
MAYBE EVEN BILLIONS OF YEARS.

BUT IT IS CLEAR WHEN WE LOOK AT THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL RECORD,

AND THE MYTHOLOGICAL RECORD,

THAT ALL OUR ANCESTORS WERE SCREAMING IT

AT AN EXTREMELY LOUD VOICE, AND THAT VOICE WAS THIS:

WE WERE NOT ALONE,
WE WERE NOT ALONE
ON THE ROAD OF CIVILIZATION,

WE WALKED THE PATH
OF CIVILIZATION,

AND WERE GUIDED ON THIS PATH
BY A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE.

WHETHER YOU WANT TO CALL THIS A PHYSICAL ALIEN BEING

OR WHETHER YOU WOULD WANT TO CALL IT SOMETHING ELSE, IT DOESN'T REALLY MATTER;

THE EXAMPLES ARE THERE.

NOW, TO UNDERSTAND THIS IDEA
OF ANCIENT ALIEN CONTACT,

WE ACTUALLY NEED TO GO INTO THE PRESENT TIMES AS WELL.

AND IT IS HERE
WHERE I UNDERSTOOD THAT STORIES LIKE IMHOTEP,

WHO SAY THAT HE FOUND INFORMATION

ABOUT HOW TO BUILD THE PYRAMIDS
FROM A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE,

ALSO HAS COMPONENTS
IN TODAY'S REALITY.

PROBABLY THE MOST FAMOUS EXAMPLE OF THIS IS TERENCE McKENNA.

TERENCE McKENNA WAS AN ANTHROPOLOGIST

WHO WENT INTO THE AMAZON RAIN FOREST.

HE PARTOOK OF A POTION
CALLED AYAHUASCA

WHICH HE SAID OPENED HIS MIND,

PROJECTED HIS MIND
INTO ANOTHER DIMENSION,

AND IN THAT OTHER DIMENSION HE MADE CONTACT WITH NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES.

HE SAID THAT THEY GAVE HIM A PIECE OF INFORMATION

WHICH WAS THE FABRIC OF TIME:
HOW TIME WAS CONSTRUCTED,

AND HOW THE FABRIC OF TIME
REALLY WAS A FRACTAL WAVE.

THEY GAVE HIM
A MATHEMATICAL FORMULA,

AND HE BROUGHT THIS MATHEMATICAL FORMULA WITH HIM

FROM THIS OTHER DIMENSION

INTO OUR PRESENT REALITY.

AND FOR APPROXIMATELY THIRTY YEARS

HE SUBJECTED THIS TO ANALYSIS,

GAVE IT TO PEOPLE FOR VARIOUS EXPERIMENTATIONS WITH THEM,

THEY WERE MADE INTO COMPUTER PROGRAMS,

IT WAS BELIEVED THAT NOVELTY,
NEW THINGS,

WERE SOMEHOW RELATED TO THIS CONCEPT OF TIME,

AND HE ALSO BELIEVED THAT TIME AT SOME POINT WAS GOING TO RUN OUT.

NOW, TERENCE McKENNA'S EXAMPLE OF "TIME WAVE ZERO,"

OR THE "TIME WAVE," OR WHATEVER YOU WANT TO CALL IT,

THIS FRACTAL WAVE,
THIS MATHEMATICAL EQUATION,

IS REALLY VERY GOOD EVIDENCE OF A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE
GIVING MANKIND INFORMATION.

AND SO WE SEE THAT THIS IS NOT JUST HAPPENING IN THE PAST

BUT ALSO IN THE PRESENT,

AND SO I THINK WE HAVE TO DISTINGUISH AS WELL

WHEN WE ARE DEFINING

ANCIENT ALIENS.

WHEN VON DANIKEN POSED
THE QUESTION IN THE 1960s,

VERY MUCH THE QUESTION
ON EVERYBODY'S MIND WAS

WHETHER A PHYSICAL E.T. CAME HERE AND GAVE US INFORMATION,

AND THE STORY OF OANNES IS CLEARLY AN EXAMPLE

OF WHERE THIS IS LIKELY THE CASE.

DUNCAN LUNAN SAYS THAT THERE ARE THREE TO FOUR OF SUCH POTENTIAL CONTACTS

IN THE HISTORY OF OUR CIVILIZATION, BUT NOT MORE.

BUT WHEN WE ARE TALKING ABOUT NON-HUMAN CONTACT,

SOMEHOW US BEING ABLE TO MAKE CONTACT WITH A NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

THROUGH PSYCHOLOGICAL, SPIRITUAL,

OR WHATEVER MEANS POSSIBLE, REALLY WHAT WE'RE SEEING THERE

IS AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT PLAYING FIELD.

TERENCE McKENNA IS ONE OF THEM,

BUT EXAMPLES LIKE
GEORGE VAN TASSEL,

WHO WAS A UFO CONTACTEE
AND WHO SAID

THAT HE WAS GIVEN
INFORMATION ABOUT ACOUSTICS

FROM THESE EXTRATERRESTRIALS,
THESE NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCES,

IS ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF SOMETHING WHICH I THINK

REALLY BREAKS THE FIELD OF ANCIENT ALIENS WIDE OPEN.

IF SOMEHOW WE WERE ABLE TO IDENTIFY

WHETHER OR NOT
THERE IS A SCIENCE OF THE SOUL,

WHETHER SPIRIT REALLY EXISTS

AND WHETHER SPIRIT IS ABLE TO COMMUNICATE WITH SPIRIT
THROUGH TELEPATHY;

WHEN THOSE QUESTIONS
GET ANSWERED,

THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION
WILL BE TRANSFORMED

IN A COMPLETELY DIFFERENT BAILIWICK.

AND REALLY, ONCE AGAIN,
WE ARE WAITING FOR SCIENCE
TO CATCH UP,

BECAUSE ALL OF THOSE AREAS
OF EXPERTISE

ARE, ONCE AGAIN, AREAS WHERE SCIENCE IS NOT GOING.

AND SO
THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION-- WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

THE ANSWER IS "YES."

IF YOUR BURDEN OF PROOF IS REASONABLE,

THEN THE ANSWER TO THE ANCIENT ALIEN QUESTION IS YES,

WE HAVE BEEN CONTACTED
IN THE PAST;

WE HAVE BEEN CONTACTED
IN THE NOT-TOO-DISTANT PAST;

TERENCE McKENNA IS AN EXAMPLE OF THIS.

HOWEVER, IF YOU PUT YOUR BURDEN OF PROOF EXTREMELY HIGH,

YOU WILL HAVE TO CONCLUDE THAT THE ANSWER IS "NO,"

AND SPECIFICALLY,
YOU ARE ABLE TO DO SO

BECAUSE SCIENCE IS HELPING YOU
IN ESCAPING THE POSITIVE ANSWER.

BUT REALLY, WHEN YOU WEIGH
ALL THE EVIDENCE,

THERE IS ONLY ONE CONCLUSION
WHICH WE CAN DRAW,

AND THAT ONE IS THAT WE WERE NOT ALONE.

UFO CENTRAL

this is the small town of Aztec New Mexico located about 2 and 1/2 hours Northwest of albuquerque depending upon how fast you drive along the often deserted highway it's close to the four corners area that Geographic Landmark where the states of Utah Arizona Colorado and New Mexico intersect one another like most places it has a story to tell with Aztec however that story goes far beyond

on the norm you might even say that the Aztec story is truly out of this world these days if you told a friend that you were off to New Mexico to visit the site of an alleged Flying Saucer crash that friend would probably assume you were headed to Roswell for the past three decades or so this has been a pretty safe assumption as the Roswell incident has become an integral part of American pop culture but travel back in time to the late 1940s and early 1950s and your friend would have assumed that you had a different destination in mind because long before Roswell became the most famous UFO incident there was Aztec the first of the crashed Flying Saucer Stories the gist of the Aztec tale is that in 1948 uh flying saucer complete with anywhere from 14 to 18 bodies crashed in Aztec New Mexico and recovered undercover of high secrecy by the US military and in various formats and permutations the tale's been circulated for the last 50 years some people consider it to be an outright hoax some people are sitting on the fence

other people consider it to be genuine some people consider it maybe it's a genuine incident but it occurred somewhere else the timeline of Aztec uh would be a report from the oil field workers a little after 5:00 a.m. on March 25th 1948 uh basically the first report came in as a large brush fire on a Mesa off of Hart Canyon Road as the oil field workers got out there they discovered a large disc approximately 100 ft in diameter sitting on top of a mesa that had nothing to do with the brush fire but because of the oil drip tanks out there at that time people from El Paso Oil Company were notified that they should get out there to investigate the fire and any subsequent danger it could pose upon getting out there they noticed a large disc on the Mesa military showed up later that day uh late lunchtime early afternoon the uh

one local law enforcement officer had warned the locals that the military would be there eventually that they had been notified Aztec is a fascinating case because it was the original if you will crash Flying Saucer story and it surfaced first in 1949 in columns written by Frank Scully in the daily variety It ultimately led to a best-selling book that Scully wrote and uh

I think it sold something on the order of 60,000 copies in 1950 in hard cover and then it went on to 12 additions overseas and on and on and on I mean it was remarkable how successful it was it's obvious he struck some kind of real Court it was also total nonsense and and Scully was either a one of these fellows who knew enough knew enough not to ask uh questions he didn't want to hear the answers to or he was genuinely duped uh by a fellow named Silas Newton in a sidekick of his named Leo gabauer

who became known as Dr G in scully's book in Frank scully's book behind the flying saucers which came out in 1950 he tells the Aztec story As Told by to him by Silas Newton and Leo gauier silus Newton and Leo gauier then introduced Frank Scully to at least eight scientists that allegedly worked on the Aztec crash Frank scarly took these eight people and molded them into one Dr G the Skeptics like to attack the story if they haven't researched it and say the Dr G was Leo gauier Leo Gau was no more a scientist than anybody he was an electrical engineer that worked with Silas Newton uh more of a glorified electrician more than electrical engineer Frank Scully in his book plainly states that Dr G is up to eight scientists that worked on the

the recovered UFO at Aztec essentially these two guys were conmen who uh were in the process of trying to Pedal a doodle buug which is an oil and gas industry tag for a device that will find oil and gas but of course doesn't uh and in his case it was a machine that not only found oil and gas but gold and water and pretty much anything that the uh Mark was interested in finding and uh on top of that gabauer had invented something Sim which also supposedly could assess the health of a person so this was sort of an all-in-one Do-it all kind of thing but what they did which was unusual uh and made their little bit unique uh in was that they they claimed that their Doodle Bug was better than anybody else's because it was using technology that had been taken from the Flying Saucer that allegedly crashed near Aztec and therefore obviously it was far superior uh Dr G our friend gabauer was supposedly a

magnetics expert who was one of those called in by the Air Force when the saucer was tracked in into ground near Aztec uh where it floated to ground not actually crashed and um presumably disabled by a high-powered radar somewhere nearby that was such was the claim anyhow the whole thing was a total con job and uh it was quickly recognized as such and then really exposed in detail in 1952 by JP KH who was an investigative reporter I think he was with the San Francisco Examiner

if I'm not mistaken and um he did a four or five month investigation in detail including uh man managing to con the con man out of a an example or a sample of the mysterious metal that the saucer was made out it turned out to be the sort of stuff that you made pots and pans out of actually but you know he was a very very very sharp reporter who did a really good job and uh true magazine published his article in 1952 exposing these guys and this led to the district attorney in uh

in Denver Colorado Prosecuting Newton and Gabauer for fraud and various other sorts of associated charges anyway they were convicted in December of 1952 and uh basically the whole notion of Crash flying saucers uh went away and people who take flying saucers UFOs seriously for decades wouldn't touch anything like that with a 10-ft pole until Roswell came along I think we're some of the skeptics

ICS attack uh the the Aztec story is why would one two or up to eight scientists uh confide with Frank Skelly and that's an important question but you have to look at who Frank Skelly was back then you have to look at how the media operated back then we didn't have CNN we didn't have national network TV uh you had a very tight group of journalists the Dorothy kill gallons the Walter winchill the

Frank skulies that uh quite frankly were the most credible people of their their day in journalism and that would probably be an automatic person that you would go to to break a story like that the other thing if you read Frank Skully's writings the scientists that approached him did not think that was going to be a secret for a long time they thought that story would break within a year they're giving Frank Scully a little Advance on the Aztec incident approaching the first

UFO related documentary I made was a biography of legendary Roswell investigator Stanton T fredman if the Aztec incident has a fredman that is to say someone with respected professional credentials who has chosen to undertake a search for the truth about the UFO phenomenon it is this man Scott Ramsey a successful businessman from North Carolina Frank Scully might have broken the Aztec story but it is Ramsey who has rescued the tale from obscurity and who has challenged after years of research the long held view that the whole thing was simply a hoax in looking at the story that was one thing that intrigued me was looking at the claims made back in 1950 by these eight scientists and one was the secret radar bases so as we started to look into the claims that Dr G was telling Frank Scully and we compare to what we know now when you go back

Alabama and asked for the records on these at the same time the state of New Mexico was doing a historical research on anything that had anything to do with the Cold War so this became a perfect fit we went down to kind of a dual purpose they released the records but we had a problem the Air Force bases under the or the air radar bases under the Air Force didn't exist till 1950 well we couldn't tie that to Aztec

because Aztec of course was 1948 looking at the records in great detail we saw things like the first quarterly report for their Capital expenditures they needed a roof they needed a water heater they needed some improvements in electrical work uh mainly some Transformers and we asked ourself a question if this base was just built why would they be needing to requisition a water heater a new roof on a building and new Transformers

so we went back and we did some digging and uh turned out that the radar bases were built in 1946 which we have all the historical information on those the Air Force did acquire the basis from 1950 to 1957 but the atomic energy commission requisitioned those air the radar bases from 1946 till they turned them over to the Air Force in 1950 there were three we had Continental Divide which is out near Gallop elvado which is near cha Tia Amaria area and mor arti which is due east of Albuquerque that put up a perfect triangle around Kirkland Air Force Base Sandy National Labs and Los Alamos which was the main purpose of those radar bases was to protect those atomic energy commission installations Ramsey who has done a tremendous amount of research on on Aztec he found these places

you know the if you look at the history of the Air Defense command and the setup of the lashup radar system which was the beginning of our whole Continental Air Defense radar system and all of that there were no Air Defense command Radars at those sites at the time of the alleged crash saucer incident but he found out that there were Radars there and they were under the control of the atomic energy commission they had something whatever something to do with some sort of vague feeble attempt to to provide for defense against air attack at Los Alamos the National Lab theom land um as far as the rest of New Mexico is concerned there just weren't any such Radars you know they had them at White Sands they had Radars at White Sands for tracking captured V2s that they were launching down there and other things of that sort but those were again these were World War II retreads essentially there was nothing exotic what kind of people did they have serving here if you because it looks like a short straw kind of gig for me yeah yeah that's what I thought when I first saw it I thought my God you really had to do some something wrong to get here but boy you look at the report

these guys were the cream of the crb you the three uh three bases they really they had some pretty pretty impressive resumes let's put it that way we looked into the type of radar that they were using at these three installations especially Alvada had a very very powerful radar it was an experimental radar for the US Navy it was a high microwave which all Radars are they all work on some form of signal microwave this one was extremely powerful and we even have the manuals telling the operators the dos and don'ts if aircraft were in the area keeping in mind that was a restricted airspace back in those days this is the old uh Power Generation building they had uh five diesel generators in here they would they would pump the uh kerosene the diesel fuel in here through the pump station the pump house right there and uh this was backup these radar units took a lot of a lot of electricity to run and these were backups you can see from the slabs here there were five then all the switch gear and all the cabling that would drop down and go over to the the bunker next door so that's the bunker over there is it that's the main radar let's go take a look at that sure so this is a pretty powerful radar we're talking about oh yeah

when the Air Force took it over it became the Tia Amaria and then later on in life elado yeah you ready go in there sure let's uh let's take a look you're not afraid of bats are you well I don't want to get bitten by one Yep this is it right here

probably won't want to go back in there probably not I guarantee you don't and so people speculate that the uh the radar here was powerful enough to uh interfere somehow with an alien spacecraft that's that's a theory and might have brought it down and they would have had similar radar stations I assumed down by Roswell they had one in Corona and uh if you read the historical reports we were going through last night they also had one down at Walker which was Roswell right right coincidence yeah maybe if these guys came flying across Millions upon millions of miles of space if if they flew from or billions if they came from another star and a planet around another star is it likely that they wouldn't be shielded against the kind of feeble radiation that would be coming out of our radar sets I mean How likely is it that they would have forgotten about that particular

part of the spectrum and then they come they get here and they get shot out of the sky and people are saying oh they're dropping out of the Skies what is all this business How could a sophisticated craft from far away crash you know we had two shuttles go too very sophisticated craft I think they may have run into the unexpected whe it was a radar beam or all kinds of other things uh accidents happen that's the way it is and uh

I think if you look at the mothership descriptions these huge monster UFOs if you will which are seen to have little ones going in and out of them one big vehicle could carry a whole bunch of these little vehicles and if they lose one they lose one okay explorers mellan didn't make it around the planet uh his ship made it he didn't make it I think that Scott Ramsey has been a forerunner in this and has done some excellent research when he started there were a lot more Skeptics than there are today there were a lot of people who said they were crazy that this was just a scam there was nothing to it and he's proved that there were radar sites secret radar bases that were sending out microwave rays um microwave beams that that could have knocked a flying saucer out of the sky and caused it to crash land north of Aztec and he's proved that fact so that gives it a little bit more of a validity to me that there's some truth to these theories when you start getting the the government documents in your hand another intriguing fact is that the FBI file on Leo Jabow which has been Declassified the entire file runs to 400 pages of which only 200 have been Declassified and many of the documents contained within the withheld material are classified for reasons affecting National Security and the defense of the USA now it's one thing for someone to be arrested and convicted for U scams and cons and things like this but it's a big leap for someone to be a con artist then to find that the FBI considers them a threat to National Security and so this sort of begs the question do the withheld documents contain far more on the Aztec case that has been published and put into the public domain by the FBI I think the fact that those files are still classified might be the result of two quite different things one is that they really were involved in some stuff and had some information that for whatever reason they agreed not to talk about but the FBI pressured them and so forth that's certainly a possibility another is the general FBI attitude the old Jay Edgar Hoover attitude about keeping track of people and getting files and you know having power over them and I don't know which it was uh Newton was sharp no question about that whether he stumbled across some things that he shouldn't have stumbled across I don't know a number of FBI documents make it very clear that the FBI and the Air Force at the time were following Newton and Jabar very very closely and we're literally listening on there every word we're going out to conferences and lectures that both men were speaking at and wanted to know what the truth was behind the Aztec case uh

was it a genuine incident or was it simply a concoction of these two enterprising conmen it's possible there's something in there that would bear on this and give us some answers and maybe they would prefer for reasons which may or may not be legitimate uh to keep that quiet certainly we can't say oh this is real because these conmen told this story but because conman told the story about Aztec doesn't mean that there wasn't an Aztec

story to be told a genuine one a legitimate one you have to be real careful about this guilt by association or genuineness by association for that matter comment government coverups conflicting stories if there was a theme song for the investigation of the UFO phenomenon it might well be the Beatles the long and Winding Road the Aztec case is the perfect example of this both figuratively and literally

in the case of Hart Canyon Road which leads to the alleged crash site in looking at the story uh one of the things that's come under scrutiny is the fact that the Skeptics on the Aztec incident claim that the heart Canyon Road did not exist in 1948 uh we know it did now that would have been the Stage Coach Road back in the late 1800s on the way to Durango if you go out to the crash site today follow heartt Canyon

on the Old Stage Road route you come up to what they call the Arkansas Loop or the Arkansas Bend and on top of that Plateau is a road cut through allegedly by the military in 1948 to get the recovery equipment the cranes and whatnot down in there to retrieve the craft so this is the mystery Road this is the mystery tell me about the mystery Road well this road unless it shows up on recent Maps has never showing up anywhere right this is the road the uh military or whoever the recovery operation was allegedly cut uh to get back here to retrieve the craft okay and this was in March 48 that's right and this road now most of the roads around here you were telling me uh it's oil roads and stuff like that they they're marked on the maps the USGA Maps is it USGS yeah right um and this road wasn't marked on any of those Maps until if it is marked

till until Rec very recently right so we've got a mystery Road yep and over here we've got a mystery cement block concrete pad now let's go take a look at that then very good tell me the story behind the mystery slab of concrete well it really makes no sense why it's even here it's uh on the average 9 and 1/2 in thick did a core sample right at about a year ago what we're trying to establish is how old the slab is sure does it f

into the time frame of 1948 we've got rebar heavily fortified you know 9 1/2 in thick rebar all through it uh early Skeptics said it was a well cap we've rolled that out obviously if we have drilled through it through the concrete if there was High Pressure natural gas under there we'd know it so that's what they say the Skeptics said well cap for natural gas that's right and there is gas and oil around here all over yeah but not on a not on a Mesa that's bed

Rock and you go a few feet under this silt and you're going to hit Bedrock okay the uh gring is of local local it's indigenous to the the area so they didn't truck it in they just kind of get they just Ed what was laying around here so if you're coming down the road you're in a you know Chop Chop you're in a hurry cutting a quick Road Uh something's happening real quick you know you just pull what you can find that's right from the local area okay bring your Portland cement and your forms and rebar and be done with it now what's it doing here though why if if if there was a crash site and all of this you know what is this when they cut the road as you can see to this day it's very silty they had trouble with one of the crane arm supports one of the legs of the crane and The Story Goes I had to pour this because the leg would just keep going into the S which is you can see around here is still a problem sure I mean if you just you can just walk over here and uh y take a look at the take a look at the silt I wouldn't want to put a crane on that no

um all right so you got a mystery Road y you got a mystery slab roads allegedly cut by the military to come in here crane slabs allegedly put here uh to support or the slabs allegedly put here to support a crane what's the crane recovering allegedly flying disc allegedly a flying disc now where is the flying disc all right well we don't know where it is now but where was it back then allegedly about 200 yd straight through well let's go take a look works for me watch your footing yeah got any snakes around here yeah not

this time here the recovery group that uh was sent out to Aztec was a hybrid recovery that had been formed after the Roswell incident because the Roswell incident had been so badly botched with a news release uh basically a lot of people at the base being aware of it the newspaper running an article and after the Roswell incident this newly Recovery Group was formed this would have been a very very elite group uh so they would never have

have a another Roswell incident where they had some young guys at a base even though the 509th was a top-notch base with top-notch people it was 8 months later you know Roswell kind of got boted the news released the press release and uh the old timer I talked to that was in air intelligence said that we were dealing with a much more mature crowd back then late 30s early 40s so they would never have the uh they'd never have another Roswell press release is going out young PR officers and that sort of thing right this was one of the best recoveries they had done to date I think ASC is certainly part of the cover up I think after Roswell they got much better at covering things up making sure that they monitored flights of vehicles so they would get there first remembering that New Mexico is not highly populated I mean today it's less than maybe two million people in the fifth largest state mind you

um I think that the government made it a strong policy they set up mj12 and they put the clamps on and part of the keeping secrets is to lie and misrepresent and misdirect a standard practice you know again uh New Mexico when the first Adam bombas exploded July 16th 1945 uh was seen from 100 miles away it was a pretty big bang

uh there were articles in the newspaper ammunition dump blows up nobody injured fortunately I've got some of those articles they got good at covering things up what we feel based on all the reports this would be the epicenter of the crash site right here it was virtually intact right that was it a soft Landing was it a crash we don't know there now there's a plaque over here so this is a commemorative plaque of the of the alleged incident recovery at Hart Canyon honor about this site on March 25th 1948 the spacecraft of Origins unknown crash landed on this Mesa the 767 A&W radar base in nearby Elvado New Mexico tracked the errant landing to this site high security recovery operation took approximately two weeks with all remains being taken to Los Alamos New Mexico

scientific study an evaluation by some of the world's leading scientists and Los Al is what 2 hours from here 2 and a half about 127 miles as the crow flies sure the recovery of this craft by the US government military was one of the most secretive recoveries of spacecraft with Origins unknown since the similar recovery in Roswell New Mexico 8 months earlier sadly all occupants as many as 16 died as the result of this crash making full disclosure of both purpose and or origination all but impossible

h i was put here in 1999 3 years after the Symposium started uh one year one oh right yeah one year 98 was the first year right so this is it not much to look at but no not really who knows what happened here lot of Twisted dead trees lot of broken off trees and a big open space that uh about 35 ft wide 110 ft long the only question is what crash

here did anything crash here yeah all right I love visiting New Mexico not just because I'm interested in the UFO phenomenon but because its vast empty spaces are so different so alien one might say to my home Halifax Nova Scotia a bustling Cosmopolitan sea port on Canada's East Coast out here I sometimes feel that

I'm at the edge of the world and yet there are similarities between New Mexico and Nova Scotia friendly people for example that might not be readily apparent but which do exist these common elements are also present in the Roswell and Aztec UFO incidents no matter how much the Skeptics might tell you otherwise let's do a comparison of Roswell and azuk Roswell made the front page of many many newspapers across the country we had an intelligence officer who was given the release to go ahead and release the information to the Press later retracting it the next day Aztec we may have one newspaper article that made it out that has conveniently disappeared out of the archives you hear the argument we don't have eyewitnesses at Aztec well we didn't have eyewitnesses four or five years ago we have eyewitnesses

now unfortunately some are deceased one key eyewitness that we had that he's deceased now was Doug Nolan uh grew up in the four corners area at 19 years of age work for the AL Paso oil company was in his truck that day that over the radio they had an old Motorola radio in the truck uh traveling with his boss Bill Ferguson they were called on the radio to get out to Heart Canyon because of the brush fire the infamous brush fire we hear about upon uh arriving at the crash site they were told by other workers the brush fires on one side they were worried about a drip tank getting ignited in the brush fire upon arrival there other oil field workers told them that it's not the brush fire you got to see you got to see what's laying up on the Mason Doug went on to tell us all the locals that were there the police

the two police officers that were there his boss Bill Ferguson who's probably deceased although we were still looking for him I had the luxury of interviewing Doug back uh about October of 2003 and he passed away December 7th and then we have an eyewitness we have a deathbed confession Doug it had six Strokes from June until October uh was very slow and methodical and recalling the incident and appeared to be very credible in the interview in the late uh '90s early 2000 we were contacted by a gentleman Ken Farley from Bat Cave Arizona and Ken uh wanted to talk to us he was in very bad Health Randy Barnes and I met down in Phoenix rented a car drove up interviewed Ken for probably 3 hours took very good notes Ken was uh very ill on oxygen he

since passed away Ken told his side of the story that uh he was in Durango passing through to San Diego fresh out of the military met a friend in uh Cedar Hill a drop off point where he was to pick him up and keep traveling to San Diego his friend told him there was a lot of commotion going on out on Hart Canyon Road and they thought an aircraft had gone down Ken and his friend uh got to the

to the crash site and walked out to the western side of where the disc was and at that point a group of people from Aztec the oil field people uh two Law Enforcement Officers showed up we already actually at the scene and uh we found Ken's story believable but we had a hard time digesting the two police officers we figured today if you were out there and you called 911 you'd be lucky to get one in a reasonable time frame no no disrespect to the local law enforcement but it's out in the middle of nowhere and the fact that there's two police officers out there we had a little bit of a problem with we didn't write off his interview we kind of parked it over in the the holding pen until we got more eyewitnesses then in 2003 we were we contacted Doug Nolan who had contacted bill styman it was one of the leftover leads Bill never got to after the book was published Doug told an interesting story which was very believable backed up with names of other local residents but about 3/4 of the way through the interview he mentions the other police officer and I stopped Doug and I said what other police officer he said well we had the local police officer and then another gentleman young guy well Doug was 19 at the time and said that police officer was about

about his age slightly older that police officer didn't seem to intermingle with the locals so Doug went over and talked to him and he said he was from the town of Cuba New Mexico which is southeast of of Aztec that police officer claimed he had followed the craft that night up which is now 550 the Old Highway 44 we dug into the details as best Doug again was dying he had had six Strokes since past

June Doug also said uh he was going through who was at the crash site that day could remember all but two people cuz he didn't know who they were and I asked him who and he said two young guys maybe three that stood at the western side of the crash L at that point that tied in Ken Farley's story also backing up his Claim about the two police officers so we had stories that were now starting to connect with Witnesses

in the winter of 2002 I was contacted by Glenn Pace Glenn Pace was a born and raised in the Farmington area subsequently he was interviewed extensively by Linda Molton how told a very interesting story as a Young Man delivering papers a day or two after the Aztec crash back then the local paper was called The Hustler that's since then since then

it's now the Farmington Daily Times Glenn recalls delivering papers with an article on the cover of the Hustler referring to ranchers find disc on Ranch in heart Canyon Road at that time that is one of a few years of the Hustler there is no archived microfish on years later Glenn Pace was working down at wh Sand's Missile Range now wh sand

Proving Ground and uh worked with Otto Krauss who was a very well-known scientist of his day passed away the early 90s and AOC Krauss asked him where he was from and when Glenn said the Farmington area night after night of working out on the test range they got to know each other pretty well and Otto said that he was uh somehow involved in the Aztec UFO recovery and doing research and looking into Otto Krauss's background I believe he would have been somebody you would have included in that he was a very brilliant man of his day uh Otto made reference to Glenn that the Aztec recovery was one of the best ones the military had done again using words close to we didn't botch it like we did in Roswell March 27th of uh 1999 I was contacted indirectly by Fred Reed

he had contacted the Daily Times and the Aztec public library and uh sent a very nice letter he had attended the uh 97 Symposium and I subsequently sat down on the phone and talked to Fred for quite a long time in 1948 he worked for the OSS predecessor to uh the CIA and Fred and his crew was dispatched to the Aztec crash site uh after the crash was removed matter of fact there was no discussion of a UFO or a flying disc they were told to go out and do a final cleanup of the site and to absolutely map and Survey with great Precision the entire area and when talking to Fred I asked Fred well what were your thoughts what do you what did you think when you and your crew got here and he said actually we thought a plane had crashed which would make sense with all the air traffic over the state of New Mexico Military at that time uh he described the Mesa back then having just been there a couple days before looking back to 1948 that there had been large equipment out there which they were told to not really Rel landscape but kind of retexture get rid of all the the heavy equipment tracks uh clean up anything left behind K rash and cans whatnot which by the way later we did find

find some 18 in down in the soil map the entire area make sure cleanup uh was well done nothing left behind and uh move on which was not unusual for uh his group in the OSS years later uh Fred was talking to some senior officers on what happened out at Aztec and it was eluded that it was a rather large flying disc they never came out and said that it was a gentleman he befriended that was senior to him but uh interesting that's uh they were actually sent out to do a cleanup and uh some of the interesting things that uh Fred uh enlightened us with we've always had a question of the cut in Road the mystery Road and the concrete slab and uh Fred said 1948 it was quite evident that that was a fresh cut Road and the concrete slab which again

was used to uh Aid a crane leg support leg to get some object off the Mesa Fred and I have made a uh a date to sit down and have lunch and go over his service records and kind of go into the story a little bit more and unfortunately he died of a massive heart attack about a month later he died in March of that year I'm Excuse me April that year a lot of skeptical people will come up to me and others and say things like well

you know do you really think that the government or any government could hide something as Monumental as aliens for 50 years you know you give them too much credit they're not that good our governments are not that smart they they can't keep it secret you hear this all the time uh I think that's that's utter nonsense um I think to ask this question betrays a real lack of understanding about how secrecy operates for instance to answer the question can such a secret be kept the true answer is

yes and no it's really both uh it is yes first of all in the sense that secrecy protocols within the military in particular are extreme penalties are extreme um you sign away your constitutional rights and many cases when you are exposed to very very sensitive classified information and uh in many cases this is binding for life so it's not that easy to just to go talking about what you've experienced

uh but the answer in a sense is no in in the sense that leaks do occur leaks have always occurred regarding UFOs right from the late 40s right on through to the present day stuff gets out that is true however um the real issue is if you're trying to manage this problem and you're trying to control the UFO problem uh the real problem becomes not to slam that lid down 100% because that's that is impossible the real issue is seems to me is to neutralize or make useless information that does come out how do you do that one of the good witnesses that we've uh located who wishes to uh remain anonymous is a gentleman that I divulge to you and uh he was not at the crash site uh but worked behind the scenes out of the RO Roswell Army Airfield basically his job was to review Personnel records of the up to 200 people that work

worked on the recovery and uh to make sure that their personnel files would not reflect that they were at the crash site in other words making sure that if years down the road somebody made that claim that they could show through their personnel files that they were nowhere near the area like the Jesse Marcel case of Roswell this individual didn't find us we found him apparently a lot of the uh UFO reports that were not going to Blue Book that we're going to this Air Force Intel we going to him and as luck would have it when we found him he was still alive and was up until a few months back the Skeptics maintain that this is all hoey that you could never keep a flying saucer crash secret that someone whether on the recovery team or a civilian witness would talk about something as big as Roswell or Aztec but would they and if they tried who would would really be listening one of the most intriguing ones I investigated occurred in early 1964 and involved the recovery of a small triangular-shaped object from a a Midlands forest and in this particular case um I tracked down various Witnesses who recalled seeing military cordons and police cordons turning people away from the area uh one witness who stood out more than any other um literally stumbled upon the recovery scene of this object which was being loaded above

a military transport vehicle and he was treated quite roughly by the military had his camera and film confiscated and was warn not to talk about this incident this was February 1964 and he spoke to me in September 1996 and when myself and a colleague went to interview him um he'd had this just before we arrived he'd had this rather bizarre and kind of threatening telephone call from the ministry of Defense ordering him as a civilian not to talk to us about this particular case and it did put him off speaking he was quite frightened by it all and of course we hear a counts like this very often within the UFO subject and you need to investigate each one on its own Merit um what we did we through various checks and um things like this we were able to determine that he had indeed received a telephone call from the ministry of Defense one specific branch called the ministry of Defense guard service now this man is now in his

70s and he's a just a retired washing machine repairer um living on his own in a small apartment and he gets a phone call from the ministry of Defense police at 9:00 in the morning warning him not to talk about an incident that he was involved in 40 years previously unfortunately we were able to verify the incoming details of this telephone call to to confirm that he did receive it and so this kind of begs the question what kind of incident could be of Paramount importance to the British Ministry of Defense

that 40 years after it occurred someone is still keeping watch on the people who are involved in the case to the extent that they're being told not to talk to civilian UFO researchers and the fact that we arrang the interview by telephone then that sort of brings up all sort of other scenarios about telephone monitoring operations um to keep this story under wraps and as as skeptical as I was when I first got into the subject um even for me now you know I've had events

occurrences like this happened so many times that you know I'm I believe there is a concerted effort on the part of a a covert organization buried incredibly well within within the intelligence Community to keep watch on the more sensitive and Sensational aspects of the UFO subject I think there really was a crash there I think that uh Scott has gathered a lot of witnesses I think we've got more to find of course we're racing the

Undertaker and losing the race most of the time several important Witnesses have died within the past year I personally think that New Mexico would have been a prime target for any alien visitors I mean I make one assumption about all civilizations out there as well as here for that matter that they're concerned about their own Survival and security that seems to be a natural part of the development of any advanced civilization okay that being the case you have to keep tabs on The Primitives in

in the neighborhood but only close tibs frequent visitations detailed investigations when they show signs of being able to bother you at the end of World War II there were three signs that soon these idiot earthlings this primitive Society whose major activity is tribal Warfare we don't look far to see that it's still that way we don't need to look far for that would be moving out soon meaning 100 years which on a cosmic time scale is nothing the three signs were clearly nuclear weapons

you measure the radiation in the atmosphere it's easy to find V2 Rockets which obviously weren't being used to carry mail back and forth between Germany and England and Powerful Electronics radar systems in particular which suddenly appeared on this planet used to be AM radio which sticks around the planet and now suddenly you've got radar beams that go outside we're obviously moving along with development of electronic systems I don't think it's any coincidence at all that the

the only place on the planet where you could check out all three of these Technologies in 1947 and 48 was Southeastern New Mexico that's where the first atom bomb was tested Trinity site on Alamogordo Army Airfield White Sands Proving Ground if you want to call it that uh the B2 rockets were all being tested there that we had captured from the Germans and we were modifying some to go up much higher and things like that and that's where we had our best radar

to track the Rockets which sometimes went South instead of North even though they were supposed to go north uh I would be flabbergasted that if aliens weren't checking out the place so New Mexico would have been a natural place for aliens to visit but Roswell and Aztec remain controversial at best is there a related UFO incident that even the Skeptics can accept as real as it happens there is and it occurred

just a few miles from Aztec in Farmington New Mexico the uh the Farmington Armada case is a classic in euphology uh in March of 1950 a large number of people in Farmington New Mexico which at that time was a lot smaller than it is now I mean dramatically smaller I think now it's about 30,000 we're dealing in those days with maybe 3,000 people if that in any case they what they saw were literally hundreds of objects circling in the sky and zooming back and forth in formation and uh most people describing them as being shaped like dinner plates classic flying saucers uh including one that was bright red all the others were silvery and the bright red one red one is interesting particularly because as it led a group of these of saucers away from Farmington uh to the off to the southeast roughly almost actually more due East but just a little south of that uh a few minutes later before any of this could hit the Newswire

or be on the radio anywhere in Las Vegas New Mexico a group of uh of postal workers were outside taking a break or something and looked up and saw a group of saucers whizzing over and one of them was bright red uh I think these people were actually did see indeed you know who knows it was this a RV point where they all dropping down from the mother ship and then heading out to the Four Points of the compass or what they were doing I don't know but I think they really did see something quite real the Farmington Armada which involved lots of people seeing lots of stuff up there lots of vehicles if you will half the town I guess saw these things uh Dr

James E McDonald did a detailed investigation found loads of people who'd seen things maybe that was the Gathering Place I don't know four corners area there who knows why they were there I mean who knows why people picnic in a certain area you know I don't know and it may be a staging area okay you guys check out the nuclear weapon sites over there and

and remember pretty soon we were building nuclear weap testing nuclear weapons in Nevada which is the other way from Farmington toward Roswell in the other direction uh they had a great Gathering laying out their their plans for further reconnaissance and it was taken seriously by the Farmington Daily Times as you can see by this headline which ran on Saturday March 18th of 1950 huge saucer Armada jolts Farmington there were several witnesses to the event and Lincoln O'Brien the publisher of the paper actually sent a telegram by Western Union to Kim pie of the true magazine whole city Farmington New Mexico where we own daily sees large Forest wine saucers air mailing You full reports story terrific not fully developed if you want to send man to Farmington we will assist him in every way so it was taken seriously at that time and I think that that was probably because there had been so many connections to UFOs in the late 1940s and early 1950s and there are some people who believe that this saucer Armada was actually connected to the crash at Roswell and at Aztec we had the crash at Roswell in 47 the crash in Aztec in 48 and then the flyover in 1950 and several people believe that the saucers flew over

information as a salute to their fallen comrades because it did happen in March the same month that the Aztec crash was reported to have happened so P night year we already been up there saucer came in which direction IED story says from that direction from over Bloomfield Blanco came right through this tree line right here where all the trees are damaged and twisted and came to restor

down in here so there it is the Aztec UFO incident the first of the crashed Flying Saucer Tales but is it a fraud perpetrated by a couple of clever comment on an unwitting journalist or is it part of the greatest of all government conspiracies the truth as so often seems to be the case in the UFO field remains a mystery it is up to you to judge the evidence I'll give the final word however to Scott Ramsey the man most responsible for bringing that evidence to light once again in concluding with the Aztec incident you you have to look at uh I think we certainly have look at the original story look at what the Skeptics have to say take the original information that Skelly published in 1950 which we've done and then digested from there and I think we've we've proved Beyond a shadow of a doubt that somebody with incredibly good Insider information was telling Frank skul's story we've got a lot more research to do on the Aztec incident there's no doubt if if our research shows that Aztec was a tall story that got out of control we'll be the first ones to come forward and and say that uh but until then it's an open case it's an open mystery and we're going to keep going on it

we're actually honored to have our next guests in the studio with us he doesn't do interviews unless his whip towards nap he's been a harassed

call most constantly in the last seven years since you came out with this information Bob Lazar is with us I recognize all dude so you're the man that came out in what year wasn't 1988 yeah late 1988 yeah came out on channel Channel 8 News in silhouette you didn't show your face right told all the stories about what actually happened at area 51 this is before all the stories came out about UFOs and extraterrestrials and all that you're the guy that actually can fucking divulge the information right how long did you work there and what was your job before what or you can tell the stories right but you want to gather all this information it wasn't that long I would I would just say a few months yeah I really can't remember yeah what did you do what you do up there actually my job was back engineering one of the alien crafts specifically is a power and propulsion system of that craft back engineering so I mean that means they have the craft and you had to figure out what meter or the finished finished product and we work backwards in trying to essentially discover the manufacturing process and the materials used was it crashed or was it in one piece it was on perfect condition I was in one piece well what does it look like yeah you know like I always say the typical flying saucer availa it essentially does something like you'd see in the movies it's a sleek 52.8 foot in diameter about 16 feet high

did you get that thing fired up and running not personally but if they they have running through several test flights

was yeah I was in the hangar when one of them was uh well when that particular one was test long though was your impetus what would be a kind of straw the Pope the camel's back that made you come out and start saying some of the things that you saw going on there well that's a really long story we don't have many many smaller events that happened and began to get me concerned and I initially confided in a couple friends and at that time you know no one really had heard of anything going on out there and I had the flight schedule the test

flights so I knew the dates and times of the test and on one particular night I took myself and a few friends out there just to show him what I was talking about and you know back then you could get in pretty far their security really wasn't that great and you know they all got to witness the test you know we repeated that several times until we finally got caught now this was the craft that you've been working on that they were flight testing okay so what was it made of did you analyze it what was the propulsion system I mean what what was this thing all about the propulsion system was a gravitational propulsion system and for those people that are into physics to print a science it's it's kind of a gap that we have in science right now we know what gravity is but and what it does but we have no way to make it and the reason that gravity a gravity propulsion system is such a revolution in a way to propel something is that gravity has a really neat effect in that it bends space and distorts time and this isn't a theory we know this for a fact that we can see stars that are behind the Sun that are blocked from our view by the Sun by the fact that the Sun gravitational field bends space around it so we can see behind it any system that would use something like this any craft would certainly be you know an amazing way so it didn't need like fuel it didn't he did it had an extremely advanced reactor that's a brilliant thing I don't know something different okay

really tryna end up with this yeah I don't know what that guys talking about there there's nothing to do with alien craft the reactor there's essentially three forms of nuclear reactions fission reaction which is at UT an atomic bomb and in common reactors a fusion reaction which you'd see in a hydrogen bomb and those are reactors were currently working on to develop and then there's a total annihilation reaction which is a matter any matter reaction and the reaction there is so much more efficient than the other two in a fission or fusion reaction you may only get one to ten percent of the fuel converted to energy in an antimatter reactor you'd get a hundred percent conversion to extremely powerful encounter but it doesn't take a lot of this stuff to tell me to go for like long voyages they wouldn't have to have huge fuel tank strength and just oh there are no long forest really yeah the craft does not fly for very long because what they don't need they come from a mother ship or something no I

they can traverse tremendous distances and there's more time however they don't fly in a linear mode they don't just cruise around in space like a normal spaceship what they would essentially bend the fabric of space it's well it's very tough to to say without demonstrating somebody like me that flunked algebra to I would not get it well there's your concept also we're not normally dealing with because we don't normally

we've known things that they can theoretically exist but because there's no way to generate an intense gravitational field we can observe things like we can observe what we think are black holes that exert a tremendous gravitational force so much so that they slow down time around them and that we can see space has been so if you could actually create something like a black hole an intense gravitational field like that you could Bend space and because time is distorted you're not essentially elapsing as much time as normal I would so you can almost jump from point to point

it isn't very exciting stuff I mean for someone might like you to work with this at least in your aim you know I could I could really care less about alien whatever the technology is what I was interested in I was fortunate enough to what you did before that how did you get how did you get the invitation to come out and work on this thing I had worked before that at Los Alamos National Labs and New Mexico essentially amazed on physics division working with a particle accelerator while there Edward Teller who's the father of the hydrogen bomb was giving a lecture I went with a couple of colleagues to see him there we got there early and coincidentally that day I was on the front page of the Los Alamos newspaper because I built a jet car and they had on yeah I had a colonic and dr. teller was outside reading the article so I introduced myself to him and we had talked for a while

time of death I moved to Las Vegas like with the lab I was kind of burnout on science and we went into some bizarre things out here and later on I decided to reenter the field and I sent resumes out took places where I either like to live or work

the test site URI TMG and I also sent with dr. teller referencing our meeting that we had you know some years ago and he remembered me and what he did was say there was someone at EG&G not that worked at EG&G but that there would be an interview set up for me

if I was interested and I went down had the interview and I was told that what the job entailed is I was going to be working on an advanced propulsion system which was great that's exactly what I wanted to do and I thought you know this is going to be the next generation fighter aircraft or something I have no idea where we're going to be working in Reverse from something that was created you know a great distance away so what a shock when you found out what your job entails yeah I would

and did they enforce secrecy did they tell you you're not allowed to talk about this urgell every kind essentially we signed away my constitutional rights to a fair trial

if I was convicted there's 10 10 10 year in jail $10,000 fine automatically imposed for divulging information I had signed authorization as my phone monitored and so it was a very strange time in my life and it began to build up this paranoia because you know you begin to think about reminder during my phone these guys are following me around is my house by diving you begin to lose your mind yeah I don't see how everyone else was dealing with it there but it became and it became increasingly difficult for me so did you do what they wanted you to do did you figure out how to put that in jet that propulsion system into like a modern-day fighter is that what they were trying to do yeah well they just wanted to be able to make more of them

the bottom line is no one's going to be making more though just because you can't make that graphical you know my analogy to this is you can take a brand new honda dirtbikes and drop it off you know and in the times of a wagon trains and so forth in the Old West and everyone will gather around it and say wow look at this eventually diddling with it they will figure out how to start it and eventually they become proficient in writing it and when it runs out of fuel the party's over

they will I mean the plastic on the thing will amaze them go never even be able to make that much less behind a label on the side so this is exactly the situation we're in I mean it's like that's fine--but surprise toy and can't do anything with it at all and they're afraid of losing it so they're not going to take it out of the atmosphere but you know they have done several tests just on our mountain top level and you know bring it back down and say wow so is it out of gas now no they have a sufficient fuel supply for it but you know there's just not a whole lot that we can do many gonna strap some bombs on it or needed it fly over visits the Dom with it you know

well I wouldn't doubt that they would eventually use it for that well how is that the only class that's out there they were actually nine there's nine yeah each one being different anyone know I don't know this for a fact but I assumed that they've been collections either from other countries or whatever I don't know how we talked about out of crash retrievals or whatever but I don't know that their crash materials I don't know where they came from

and I was only allowed inside and to work on one of them sign of nothing about the other craft other than that they all look different

what about what about the pilots a little Judah drove them where they are I don't know he never heard him I don't know things fell out of the sky unpiloted or you know there are certainly accommodations for on outside but this one you know 52-foot craft only fit three beings there only three seats ensign home within it yeah it is area 51 and under under underground

I've heard all areas where you say where these crafts are they above ground around the ground well more specifically this is an area called s4 which is 15 miles south to groom like everyone just as area 51 and I just gotten tired of correcting everybody okay area 51 is the place where they develop a whole host of things like the dad is dealt I felt everything I mean there are thousands of people working there there are no flashing saucers at area 51 it's too if you just couldn't keep something like that a secret there that's why it is specifically separated down at s4 and I thought that far from area 51 so I guess you can call it part of the groom lake complex but where I work there was only 22 other scientists and it's a small installation all the installation is fairly large to help the craft but as far as a complement of people is fairly small did you live out there and live right on the facility do they kick you out there were some people that did and they dug into the craft again captain their land I flew in and out I ice blue from McCarran because at that time EG&G was out at McCarran it has moved it to you know Nellis Air Force Base by the flu I to McCarran land attic room Lake and they put us on a

and drove south down to a Papoose Lake bed well your life has just been turned upside down inside out scrutinized and it's amazing that you've had the stability that you had in the last seven years having come out you have people that even call you the modern-day Messiah yeah I mean you've had a long as you like to talk to some of the true lunatics meaning our good listenership on the phone or and I understand very necessary or not necessary even doing a story on your life they're doing a movie about you now is that true

yeah yeah that should be out next year and in fact they're kind of going all out they're building a full-size installation against the side of a mountain out here when they when they do that filming Wow

I can't imagine your level of paranoia when you came out and talked about this or when you realize that you're being well that was part of they're doing it in silhouette and so forth and now it's you know it's been five years I'm right I've been showing you all right

yeah chances are that installations even there anymore and uh much less I'm doing any tests out there but I I don't know I guess we need to take a quick break do we raise our maybe we can play some JUnit so we're just going to shut up and rock and roll can crawl and maybe we can take some calls and over talking to one of the foremost experts in this field UFO week with Larkin Craig comp 92.3

The Rock allows we have to is your first listing for we talked to Bob or what producer Dave I'm going to talk to Bob first and we have some people on the phone and we will have that looks like we all here we'll have that in a second you'll split their arm home bob lazar worked at the area 51

back in the early years and what is the person who went on channel 8 and revealed all the secrets about UFOs and and alien craft and everything that went on at area 51 is since then become pretty much public knowledge and and the focus of a lot of special special TV shows like Larry King just a special from out there not too long ago was kind

I didn't yeah they wanted me to be on that and turn them down we're runnin a merge beyond them you turned a lot of people down in fact you don't do interviews too you know

very very rarely what will George Knapp and that's about it and our we had to twist his arm quite a bit together want to show today no do you think because it's the 90s and a lot of this is that's been held secret from us that the government has been doing over the years has been come to life do you think that will visual information will come out that they'll finally come clean with it or not no you really don't why are they hiding it from us yeah I don't know why you think driving probably national security they want to take this propulsion system they had you working on put it in fighter jets maybe but you know why can't they at least release the part saying you know by the way this happened and we're keeping in all the specifics about it secret yeah I don't know and you know I'm sure you've heard you know everyone's speculation about that but you know you have to look at if you know people claim they can't keep stuff like that secret well you know look the stealth was in the operation and you know the late seventies and it didn't become public knowledge right until they wanted it to there were thousands of people working on that and you know you look at other projects like that

Leonel ago looking to go women and yeah in the 50s they were feeding women fallout

we never thanked Nick you ready oh so uh is there a group of nasty guys and they are well we do have some listeners on the phone that we're lucky enough to get in and I guess we're going to talk to them now okay I come good morning if you ask if they use unleaded or regular your attic we're going to fly to you here's Bob Lazar what do you want to know okay that contract you mentioned you signed about ten years in jail why is it in jail no the secrecy agreement it's a good question probably because they became public with

of course if they decided to prosecute they'd have to admit that everything I said was true so I imagine they're at an impasse there I think Phil is vetted no they want to bring any more attention to it okay thank you okay Tom good morning Hans ello what's your question yeah Bob I just basically wanted to hold the listeners out there after you they try to get you for pandering that was my apartment building as a matter of fact I live right next door to that and I just wanted to let everybody know that that is totally fair I never thought you around there or any prostitutes and just wonder how you feel about that actually that that's only partially false what I did was this was of course after I left the project is I had written some computer software to make the brothel run smoother oh yeah and you know there was an illegal brothel running in town there and who bought the software for me and it did get me in trouble that was technically aiding and abetting prostitution so interestingly enough in a keygen I hadn't corrected but I as I guess punishment for it I had a perform community service and interestingly enough the community service I do perform was installing the same computer system for Clark County oh I do it around for them because those who make credibility with that yeah yeah they did well at the time I was in the middle of the news and you know they looked at that it's the perfect vehicle to hammer this into the ground and it was and actually it it kind of helped out because it got a lot of the heat off me well it certainly helped me believe I would know what skeptical but after that I thought was a true believer thank you for your call maybe you know so what was it her software what kind of software you don't need to know i console morning

I wish your question for Bob hello okay a brain come a calm to which a question for Bob honest watching the afternoon that he was on with George Knapp and I saw the documents that he brought on the world blacked out and essentially what was said afterwards because the whole show went off the air and was gone and essentially what was said afterwards was that they literally wiped him out as a person

he has no medical records no full records no nothing now my husband and I do a lot of you whether we call UFO was going out and check it out and looking for things and we have seen some some very unusual things in the sky late at night specially by soup mountains my my worry is that some of these people are going to come up out of wherever and do the same thing to us and I want to know is that the distinct possibility I don't know I guess it depends what level of threat you present to them

let's look talk about that thank you for a call you're welcome

it is interesting that your life did that happen to you they tried to wipe you out they did try and discredit you that happened that continues to happen oh sure what like school records medical records yeah just about everything the one of the best ones was and why I don't understand it because if you know it's just not that effective

you know they had I worked at Los Alamos National Labs for quite a while and you know if you call

and ask you know if I had ever worked that they say no absolutely never ever you know I'm in the phone book and I'll on the front page of the paper you know back in the times you know stating that and work there my colleagues and friends are still there that you know yeah in fact I had taken George Knapp to Los Alamos brought them inside the lab to speak to some like you know co-workers and colleagues and I said yeah I'm Bob used to work here and this and that you know show them around where I used to work you know so what is the point of I bet you still get a bill from the IRS don't you what do you mean well I mean they wiped you out of the government wanted to wipe you out that was part of it you still paid a there's a big gap in my IRS records I left one of these UFO researchers I can't remember his name the ghost track town you know I gave a sign permission to track down IRS records to see you know what's it exactly what was deposited in my social security account and from where and there's a big gap that occurs in there this is you know really interesting during the time you were working at Los Alamos and area all the way up to you know a few years into a reconnaissance it's yeah they say I have no contributions you know if you were on the rhetoric face or yes I was an employee no haven't you been blackballed by the scientific community and in fact mr. Heller

I mean tell her who you is how you got the job out there won't even speak to you is that true I know I don't think he would know they're not happy with you

yeah I always say that well I certainly can't get a clearance anymore and unfortunate because a lot of you know they need stuff to do in science is all you know reasonably high security so that these that out interestingly enough I do own a company and it does have a contract with Los Alamos labs though I don't think that's almost labs knows who owns the company but that's about the only thing I'm doing as far as science right now we design and build and repair radiation detectors what about this month what about this model that's out now that's like the hottest model on the market right and all the thing the hobby stores Tesla's company approached me with it make said we want to make a flying saucer model and you know would you help us and initially I said no and they said well then we're making one anyway

so you can help us make it accurate or we could make it how we think it is and so I essentially said you know go for it gave them actually was one of the people that are working on the movie people that are doing the special effects had already assimilated the model on in computer data so they can you know do the computer animation Angeles flying around and so they essentially just gave that data to testers and just plug the disc in and machined out parts and in fact the cover of that box is actually a clip a one frame from the movie oh really yeah it is and they won't tell you who they're considering to play the part cuz they know you can't keep the secret right you're right yeah they didn't say that the last I did hear was John Malkovich but you're trying to keep it pretty accurate pretty him close to the truth instead of what happened to Travis Walton in the movie fire in the sky it was pretty hard

other companies other movie companies that wanted to do it Steven Seagal really really wanted to do it he still does Warner Brothers did Columbia wanted to and I could have gotten an awful lot more money from those bigger companies and I went with the new line who left me with the impression that some of the guys had to fill their car just as a midget divided our rights to it and because it's just a little company they didn't pay very much but they let me not have right of script refusal but things had to be technically correct and approved by me right so that was worth a lot more to me than you know than the money when can we expect to moving out next year

hey John architect would be great for the role of the daughter Wow well this has been very interesting UFO we have learned so much right now I mean some of these things flew over my head like a low-flying spacecraft you know what we're trying to do is remain open take in all the information without judging it without censoring it without giving our opinion on it because there is so much out there's so many different ways to look at it and we just want to have the opportunity to have a forum where we can at least talk about it in like everything that's censored from your background you thinking of a daily sure do it is it agree money and as bob lazar man who george knapp Abed sends you a nice Christmas card every year day

well George and I have become good friends but he's uh his life was totally changed by needing you his life is clear and look at what's happened to him in the last 70 I get this true he is the UFO guy yeah he is

he certainly is he gave us a copy of mother the thing he made the three three video series are the special it's not even available yeah well if George is listening I have never got a copy of that Oh rot row and but it's interesting that you really don't have any interest in the alien part of it and Oh where's Hugh Arcturus optic at all I don't want to talk UFOs I don't want to hear UFO stories I don't want to listen to a decade I am NOT interested and everybody has come

after you

right yeah maybe that's why well it's very very interesting stuff and we appreciate you coming on today with us Bob Lazar look forward to seen the movie don't find it good luck with them and I guess we're going to wrap up the UFO week with a very special all requests hour every Friday we do all requests and this one we want you to use your brains we're going to do like all a UFO alien space anything you can think of that has a sort of a tiny the UFO week if y'all request our a special one and that'll be next

Richard Dolan Intelligent Disclosure

- there we go

greetings everyone welcome to intelligent disclosure I'm Richard and here's Tracy hi everyone happy to be here with you again we've got a pretty good track record of doing this live on time by the way it's true I don't know how long we've been doing this but it's been a while and we always with one or two exceptions we've started on the dot yeah and we've dove right in

we had I think we had a couple of times that of you yeah a couple but basically we're doing all right here I just want to say to hide it the whole chap family we see everybody gathering there yes indeed yep

so happy you're here so last week we did a presentation basically did a nice little discourse on Leonard Stringfield I wanted to give you a some insight into one of the most important and relatively forgotten UFO researchers who really got into the whole phenomenon of alien crash retrievals and bodies and everything else associated with that so this week we want to continue that and I actually would like to come back to stringfield's research on another week I think this is this is a theme we can really we can work this theme for a while because there's so much there but for this week I wanted to take you through what I personally feel is the most fascinating trail of breadcrumbs that UFO research offers at least in the realm of UFO crash retrievals and alien beings and that's what I often call the Smiths our Bakker Walker saga and I'll explain all what that means just very shortly I know it's not sexy is it not it's not an exciting title I don't know how better I haven't come up with a better title I know it's easier when it's Roswell or Aztec but this one needs teasing and but it gets so interesting the more you tease it so I told Tracy about this earlier today I said yes the smiths about girl walker saga you're like uh yeah no I need to know I want to know the players and I want to understand who they are what they do and it's important you know you know to pull it all apart and really did understand the chain that happened it didn't really have a lot of resonance with you initially but right once that I did explain you got into it and it's a fascinating story and I prepared some good visuals for you to help walk you through it so I believe that that will be a useful thing for you anything we want to talk about one of two things before we jumped in well one thing we had some travel recently something I know and I think we talked about it on the last show we had some issues with travel

we won't go deep into that but accept a nine-hour layover at O'Hare cut fun times couple of malfunctioning planes luckily on the ground software issues for navigation yeah

and somehow through all of that I ended up getting what we both ended up getting sick I guess it's an airport thing that doesn't usually happen to me

I'm usually bringing the emergency kit for him but I do I get sick a lot when I travel it yeah definitely happens but this time you got nailed it took me down so the only reason why we're saying this it's not for sympathy or anything like that but the tail end of it is just a brutal cough and so I just might have to duck out that's all

I'm not gonna sit here and cough on camera and slow down the presentation so if it has your standards

I'm just Tracy's got a standard duck out and that's that and coughing is below your standard well no I don't want to do in the experience for other people so so if you if you notice after we take a visual off the camera that raises that I snuck out

that's why don't like have a riot don't think like something Bad's have it's just you're taking a quick moment I told me my best I said like if if you're not on this they'll be like you know pitchforks and torches are gonna be come I'm sure yeah

they want you here any so there was that and then project Bluebook don't project Bluebook so last week everybody probably saw the

Betty and Barney Hill case yes so we haven't said anything for a long time we knew people would have some issues with how that one went down well the fact that you have a you know the thing about the Betty and Barney Hill case many things about it in 1961 they were an interracial couple and you know Betty Hill was white Barney Hill was african-american and of course the series did not treat it that way they treated them both as african-american and but we've since learned part of the rationale a little bit of the ration well actually I'm just getting my guess for the rationale is it because they said it not in 1961 but in 1952 I guess so they got the change the time and I maybe I'm just guessing they thought maybe it didn't seem as credible to have an interracial couple earlier in the 50s I'm only guessing here but I don't know why they made that decision I mean it's it's actually important part of the case in the sense that as an interracial couple in 1961 they didn't want publicity mm-hmm

like they weren't looking to be on the newspapers as we've been abducted by aliens like that was the last thing that they wanted so the fact that they were you know that Betty was white and Barney was black was a significant element in the story and that was removed from the telling of it in the series unfortunately in my opinion well which was super shocking to us you know we've been sitting on that one for a long time like why why that of all things I know but it doesn't have to be that's right so so and tonight is the season finale

so I've fallen behind on my Saturday live streams to talk about the real cases behind the blue book series I will continue that but Saturday was not possible we were that was that crazy travel day about so we'll catch up yeah we definitely will so yeah um

I think that's about it we should probably just get right in there

I think so I want to talk about the this on going deep there's a such amount of deep research on the phenomenon of required alien tech and acquired non-human beings hmmm alright so again this is a saga I'm gonna want you to walk through this trail of breadcrumbs with me as I explain to you just why this is one of the most interesting stories in in all of UFO lore and one of our friends and colleagues grant Cameron was involved in the tail end of investigating this as well he had a lot to say about it

grant was looking into this in like 1989 and 90 mm-hmm

actually even earlier than 1989 I think in 1987 or 88 so before I get into the actual detail I'll just mention like the state of UFO research in say the 1980s was relating to crash retrieval it was very tepid and the sense in other words researchers at that time we're thinking crash retrievals what are you crazy

there was actually a printed debate in the International UFO Reporter the iur between David Jacobs this is 1985 and Richard Hall who Richard Hall is no longer alive on the idea of crash retrievals and in Jacobs opinion it was absolutely no crash retrievals and Richard Hall gave a definite maybe to crash retrievals Jacobs opinion was that the idea of crash retrievals was just so outlandish that and you know to have a cover-up on this was he said it would have to be so immense that it would be impossible to keep this secret like you hear this among skeptics today and this was not simply David Jacobs position in 1985 it was a lot of other UFO researchers believe this he said look if you're gonna go that route then you need absolute proof of alien hardware otherwise nothing else is gonna work he said look we've got documents through Freedom of Information there's nothing that indicates that the u.s. government is systematically even investigating UFOs much less retrieving crash UFOs I think in 85 that was a very very conservative argument he says all this information is anecdotal mostly anonymous and if you keep following up on these week leaks you're just gonna be wasting your time so that's it at Richard Hall I didn't know I don't agree with everything Richard Hall is said and done in his career but I agree with him on this point that at this particular juncture he said look there may seem to be a kind of ridiculousness to the idea of crash retrievals but there is wrote a small but growing number a body of credible reports that suggested this and Richard Hall pointed out he said there's a man named dr. Roberts our Bakker and Roberts our Bakker certainly qualifies as a leading scientist who has made several statements about UFO crash retrieval programs and you know Richard Hall just said look to those of you who are skeptical about this I recommend be a little more cautious before you condemn this idea that of crash retrievals of UFOs now I think it was very interesting that Richard Hall mentioned Robert Sbrocco because sar Bakker is a critically important person in this whole story that I want to tell you but I want to back it up now and start with a man that I think I've shared this image before with you this is Wilbur Smith and one of your Canadian man that's how I know we shift prayers from the past Wilbur Smith

Wilbert Smithsonian or so but he was a very important man in all of us and really the starting point of our journey this evening in 1950 Wilbur Smith was a Canadian government official he was like a mid-level mid to upper level official with the Canadian Department of Transportation

he was also deeply interested in

UFOs he became a friend of Donald Kehoe through the 1950s by the way and was very much a friend of good UFO research and himself was a very good UFO researcher and he had a very scientific bent about it scientific as well as brave Wilbur Smith was into things like consciousness way before anyone else was and he had an idea that these alien beings were friendly he believed that we really had a lot to learn from them so that was his approach and he goes down in 1952 the Canadian Embassy in Washington DC so while he's there he has a meeting and it turns out that it's with dr. Roberts our Bakker but it's a quiet meeting and Smith chats with him a little bit and he comes back from that meetings this is a picture of Washington DC circa 1950 or so nice black-and-white photo so he's down there and he meets with SAR Bakker now who at the time was a young brilliant US defense scientist he was very deeply involved with the whole defense community at the time and Smith ends up writing a three-page report to his government to his supervisors in the Canadian Department of Transportation about his meeting with US officials he does not mention Sabich or by name and this particular document remains classified for many years Smith died in 1962 no one knew about this document when he died and no one would know about it until the 1970s so many many years later now what's the big deal about this document well I will show you it's this second page of the document where he talks about a few very key things and in fact there's a lot of interest in this document but for our purposes for this presentation I want to point out these three quotes that he has on this particular page he talks about flying saucers being quote the most highly classified subject in the United States government

he says flying saucers exist and he says again according to his source within the United States scientific community quote concentrated effort is being made by a small group headed by dr. Vannevar Bush now for those of you who don't know that name he is not related to the Bush family of presidential Fame George Herbert Walker George W but Vannevar Bush was I'll talk about him a little bit more later he was probably the most powerful scientist in the United States at that time so Smith writes this memo and a number of years go by let me stop this broadcast that's that's Arthur Bray and I'll mention him in a minute that was a much younger man just a darker hair but many years go by and nothing is known of this memo so we go all through the 1950s 1960s no one knows about this

you know UFO researchers are going through this attempt to try to get any information out of the US government that they can people like James McDonald learned in the 1960s of like the Robertson panel and he was shocked that the CIA was managing UFO right matters in the u.s. so that's where we were at we were not anywhere at memos like what Wilbert Smith wrote to the Canadian government so that comes out in the later 1970s where it's kind of a bombshell but even so you might think well this is just one Canadian bureaucrat writing to his government about a conversation he has with some unnamed scientists what's the big deal

you know is this actionable information and at that point all you can say it's interesting and there's really no proof of anything other than that he had a conversation with someone now so the years go by and enter this gentleman

Arthur Bray and I got to meet Arthur Bray

in 2005 I did a fact you know I was in Toronto and oh five for the lecture in which Paul Hellyer mm-hmm introduced himself to the world as someone interested in UFOs Paul Hellyer of course was famous in Canada already but Stanton Friedman was there Steve Bassett I think was there I was there and maybe Paul Harris was there as well in fact I'm not sure I think so

so we were there in Toronto but while I was there I was also in the Canadian National Archives in Ottawa and I was able to meet Arthur Bray and that's I can't remember where we actually were but that's where in his living room he's a very nice man

Sir Arthur Bray was a good UFO researcher and he was in the will Burt Smith papers Wilbur Smith was long dead

Arthur brave was coming through these papers in Ottawa and he finds there's that coffin lid on it

Arthur Bray finds a link to that man dr. Roberts our Bakker and that's a picture of Roberts our Berger in fact that was taken in 1950 by The Saturday Evening Post so Roberts our Bakker was a very well-known brilliant scientist who had had his own publicity about him he was a very known quantity at the time so what Arthur Bray found was handwritten notes by Wilbert Smith that mentioned Roberts our Bakker this is September 15 1950 and it's transcripts of an interview with Robert isar Bakker and this is the page in question just want to show folks that this is where the information comes from and and this is what Smith wrote on that page so WBS is Walter

Wilbert Smith excuse me and he says to SAR Bakker I have read Scully's book on the saucers and Scully's book of course is Frank Scully's book behind the flying saucers which is about the Aztec crash and we want to talk about that he says I've read Sully's book on a saucers Scully's book excuse me that was the only book published at the time on UFOs this is September 1950 and would like to know how much of it is true and Tsar Bakker says according to Smith's handwritten notes the facts reported in the book are substantially correct Smith asks the saucers do exist and Smith and SAR Bakker says yes they exist and up taking on you're gonna go out come back if I feel better but I feel bad so my my my dear wife has had to take a quick moment out I think you heard the coughing we're gonna wish her luck and hopefully she'll come back so so at this point Smith gets what really does appear to be a confirmation from Tsar Bakr that this flying saucer phenomenon is real in fact there's much more that he talks about in his memo to the Canadian government that's really quite interesting and including the fact that these this phenomenon seems to be connected with mental phenomenon grant Cameron has really unpacked a lot of that and talked about it at length but I'm gonna leave that alone for the moment for right now we're at the point where Arthur Bray in the early 1980s has discovered this handwritten note by Wilbert Smith relating to Roberts or Bakr and pinpointing Sark and now the interesting thing about this is that SAR Bakr was alive in the early 1980s and what that means is that people could talk to Robert saw Barker that's very interesting and indeed they did this is a book written by William Steinman called UFO crash a well kept UFO crash at Aztec excuse me a well kept secret

Steinman I don't have any pictures of William Steinman I would I would show you otherwise I spoke to him myself about 10 plus years ago he's retired fundamentally from UFO research but in the 1980s William Steinman was one of the most active and valuable UFO researchers out there by far and this is a very large book he wrote about the Aztec crash but in addition to researching the Aztec crash Steinman was researching a variety of leads and he hunted down Robert SAR Bakker and spoke with SAR Bakker and developed a bit of a rapport with him and as a result of their conversation SAR Bakker wrote in 1983 a two-page type letter you can see it right here single space type there's a lot of information on that letter in response to Steinman's inquiries relating to his meeting with Wilbert Smith and much more and here are the key things that saw Bakker wrote back so Sbrocco did say yes I did meet with Wilbert Smith and essentially says fundamentally that what Smith was talking about was true

Sarika gave a lot more information and I'm showing you some of the key quotes here he said that he had indeed been invited to participate in several discussions associated with the reported recoveries he made it very clear that he himself was not personally involved in the recoveries but he knew about them and then he goes on and gives drops a couple of important names here

John van Noy Minh excuse me John von Neumann was definitely involved said Roberts our Bakker dr. Vannevar Bush was definitely involved and then he says and I think dr. Robert Oppenheimer also those are three major names you will recall that Vannevar Bush was mentioned by Smith years earlier in his 1950 memo to the Canadian his supervisors so here's our Bakker more than three decades later also mentioning Vannevar Bush's name he goes on he said at another point certain materials reported to have come from flying saucer crashes were extremely light and very tough I am sure our laboratories analyzed them very carefully and he also stated I remember in talking with some of the people at the office that I got the impression these aliens were constructed like certain insects that's amazing that's an amazing statement and again so this is the second time van of our bushes mentioned and he mentioned dr. John von Neumann that's an incredible thing von Neumann was probably the most brilliant mathematician of the 20th century I mean there are people who consider von Neumann to be the most brilliant mind like ever in human history I know that he has his defenders on that in fact I have a little slide on von Neumann I want to share with you here he was an absolutely extraordinary individual and my wife is coming back good that you're off camera now so we'll see how long sighs but von Neumann was an absolute genius in every respect and but what is interesting here that I want to point out is binoy Minh was actually in a very excellent position in terms of his career to have done exactly what Sarah Parker said after the Second World War of course he was deeply involved in the Manhattan Project he did some of the key mathematics to to make that project project a success he then after the war was on the general Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission the AEC and if you know your UFO history you will know that the AEC was deeply involved in the UFO phenomenon in the sense that UFOs were seen repeatedly over critically important

AEC installations loss

Alamos Hanford in state of Washington

Oak Ridge all of these were subject to constant violations by UFOs and von Neumann was part of that so you have the world's greatest living genius in this man and he is part of it and he knows about it and he also was a consultant for a number of military organizations including the US Air Force in general that's interesting and then part of the Armed Forces special weapons project that's the AFS WP that's really important to me because the AFS WP was similarly deeply concerned with things like the green fireball sightings that were centered over Los Alamos in New Mexico in the late 1940s early 50s so von Neumann would have been very much involved in those discussions as well as at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory all of these utterly key scientific institutions that are clearly concerned with the UFO phenomena Lawrence Livermore not as overtly so but there's no question that it would be and then you have dr. Vannevar Bush by the way it occurred to me that he looks a little bit like the Wicked Witch of the West in that picture I'm not trying to be mean no but he's got the he's got the whole head the facing down like he's her brother a little bit I'm just saying the shape of the face the shape yeah but he was but this is van Busche here and Vannevar Bush was not simply a brilliant scientist and engineer in his own right absolutely top of the line in every way but he was a master organizer and a master manager of people and organizations and this is why he was not only the chief scientific adviser to President Roosevelt and President Harry Truman the top science guy okay

but he managed a Manhattan Project

he managed all wartime military research and development it was all under him and he was really more than any other person responsible for the creation of the National Foundation after the war and of course if you know your mj-12 lore he's mentioned as one of the key members of mj-12 and in the famous memo that was attributed by Harry Truman establishing mj-12 Vannevar Bush's name appears very prominently in that so that's fan Bush and this is dr. Eric a Walker and I want you to get a good look at that face this is Eric Walker in 1950 and this is the man that at the end of SAR Bacher's life we're talking early 1980s now you know Sabich had written this two-page letter to William Steinman talking about how this is yes this all seemed to be real and he had not been part of the crash retrieval meetings but he knew someone who was and he couldn't remember it at first

Steinman based on all of these different clues that he was getting realized that it was probably Walker he talks with Tsar Bakr and saw Bakr says absolutely for sure it was indeed Eric Walker he's the guy so who is Eric Walker you asked Eric Walker was probably most famous as the president of Penn State University so that's a very publicly prominent job but more important than that for five years he was the chair of a think-tank that many people I think have never heard of but it was called the Institute for Defense analysis actually analyses I think it's plural I should have an e there the ID a and this is one of the most elite military think tanks in the United States and he was chair of it for five years but I think he was actually the effective head of it from much more than that and then for two years and I think this is where the UFO connection really comes in strongly from 1950 to 1951 he was an executive the executive secretary

the military's research and development board and it was as a member in that capacity that he according to Tsar Bakr attended meetings at wright-patterson Air Force Base

concerning UFO crash retrievals

so that's Walker now many years go by you know between the 1950s and 1980s and here's Simon now being told yes Eric Walker so then Tsar Bakr dies and there's Steinman there Stanton Friedman who had also talked with Tsar Bakr had not gotten the lead on Walker

but Steinman did grant Cameron Scott Krane two young researchers in the 1980s they learn about this through their connections with Steinman and they're talking about it

Steinman here's Walker in later years and Steinman finds him in a phone call in 1987 shortly after the mj-12 record story had come out they had previously correspondent with Walker and just basically got blown off and in 1987 Steinman reaches Walker and talks about mj-12 with him and this is August 30th 1987 and the two of them speak on the phone so styman let me stop the screen share here for just for a second

Steinman calls Walker and he says I'm calling in reference to meetings that you attended at wright-patterson air force base around 1949 or 1950 now I will guarantee you when Steinman says that to walk or Walker's totally and be caught off guard

like no one on the outside would have known that this was the case

I don't think Walker had any clue that anyone had been talking with saw Bakr and I'm sure Eric Walker was quite confident that he was going to go for the rest of his life without anyone knowing about this and here comes this guy out of the blue saying

oh yeah I know that you were at wright-patt around 1950 having meetings concerning crash disks so and the mj-12 documents had just been publicized and it was all of this argument about them so you can easily see how Eric Walker would be caught a little bit off his guard at this moment so amazingly Walker replies yes

he says I attended meetings concerning that subject matter according to his time and those are the exact words and then he says why are you getting so worked up over this what's the big deal you can imagine it's time it's like well what are you talking about he says we're talking about the actual recovery of a flying saucer not built or constructed on this earth he says and he says furthermore we're talking about bodies of the occupants that were analyzed to be human-like but not human so of course I'm gonna get worked up Steinman Eve really I just love this whole story because he's so involved he's so emotionally engaged like I think many ordinary like normal people would but if you saw that picture of Walker you can see Walker this is why you get guys like that running programs like that you can see Eric Walker was someone who had very very strong control over himself in all aspects of his life I've no doubt about this was absolutely brilliant and probably I'm going to guess didn't have the same ordinary kinds of emotional reactions that regular people like us would have at something so momentous I think Walker was very much used to keeping control but here Walker was caught off his guard and he admits it but he's like what's the big deal like you're getting worked up over nothing

he says was there to get all excited about what's the concern in styling you Simon was expecting a challenging interview but this is a nonchalance that he wasn't really expecting and so he's asking more questions he says have you heard of the mj-12 group or project majestic 12 and walkers shocked him

he says yes I know of mj-12 I've known of them for 40 years there's a wild moment he says I believe you are chasing after windmills you're delving into an area you can do absolutely nothing about so why get involved with it why be all concerned about it why don't you just leave it alone and drop it forget about it

wow that's that's Eric Walker on the film assignment this time ends like I'm not going to drop it the public has a right to know we have a right to know the truth and he keeps on with Walker and Walker continues to chat with them on this phone call this is August 1987 gosh too bad they didn't have the apps we have now we're just records the whole thing with all according Brian but it was 13 that's a good thing but in this case you'd want it for this for sure yeah but I will just say this I think you might have still been out of the room and I talked about that I personally did speak with William Steinman over a decade ago I had a very long conversation with him about research and I will say hey I found Williams time and he's retired from UFO research but I found him to be absolutely forthright honest in every way that I can imagine he was he didn't really want a UFO research any more but he was very very straightforward with me and I have I don't think there's any reason to doubt how he describes his conversation with Walker and as as people will see other people also had encounters with Walker that are similar to what happened here with Steinman in any case Diamond says look do you remember any details regarding recovery operations of UFOs and any analysis and again this is a surprising answer Walker's like I'm sure I've got notes around that around the house somewhere concerning my meetings at wright-patterson you said I'd have to dig them out and read them over in order to jog my memory so I could kind of believe that 30 years go by he's you know lived his life since then I don't know how involved in the UFOs

subject Eric Walker really was in the late 1980s but he's he's also saying like I've got notes yeah and I need to jog my memory and he says that like that's the best I can do for right now so that was the end of it and can I just ask yeah yeah I think people are probably wondering why do we think he would be so willing to have this discussion so openly like this what do we think about that well no one knows right so that's one thing so all we can do is speculate I'm gonna give my speculation which as I was sort of implying I think Eric Walker was caught off guard it's just I think as simple as that like you know you've you've had this secret information for decades and suddenly a researcher out of the blue gives you you know chapter and verse of the things that you were involved in meetings at wright-patterson 1950 on crash retrievals you don't want to look bad kind of thing

no like exactly I think that and also it's the 1980s it's not 2019 where everything is recorded 24/7 all the time I think there was a different culture and people I think if he was caught off guard he might have been much more likely to speak out what he thought might have been off the record how you gonna prove it he might be thinking mm-hmm

right even in the 80s it was possible to record telephone calls but it wasn't it wasn't a normal right thing that people did so my hunch is that Walker was caught off guard and then just made light of it like what's the big deal

mm-hmm and I think that's probably it like what are you gonna do about it essentially I know we've got the media on our side we've got everyone on our side

you're just some guy tilting at windmills right so that's the best answer I could give on this matter

Steinman kept up a correspondence with Walker that was the only time that they spoke and Walker said things like some things you have rides some things you have very wrong he said we did recover a machine

obviously he said it was a landing vehicle only and he said it I believe it's still being stored near right field he wrote and he said something that was very odd actually I mean I wasn't well this what I'm about to say is he an moron so was Walker messing with Steinman Steinman wondered grant Cameron later wondered and I wonder he said we didn't get any dead bodies found at this particular site we only found four normal human looking males who were very alive but he did imply that they were kind of alien he said this is a direct quote from what Walker wrote to Steinman he said unfortunately they had no memory of anything in the past probably by design he writes but they were highly intelligent he said they learned the English language within a few hours and it was our desire decision not to make public spectacles of them but to allow them to be absorbed into American culture as soon as we were sure they did not bring any contamination with them and I mean that just seems like an outrageous statement and not a believable statement right to me learning English in a few hours

and it's not that they couldn't do it but like you're just gonna let them go into society so I really wonder like was Walker trying to do his own little damage control right like after he lets something out and now he's just dropping something ridiculous first time and follow up on Steinman and said sorry you said this is in the same phone call

no this is in a letter following okay letter following up that's time and receive from Walker

yes Singh so then he just goes on says each of these four went on to have very successful careers and what they did technology sports and finance so who's the famous athlete that's from alien an alien athlete we don't know but that's what he kind of implied and he said there was a fourth person I can't remember what happened like so that's it Simon was very very puzzled over this letter and they're like is this and it seemed to contradict by the way what what ass are Bakker had said which is that he speculated that these beings were insect like in nature and here's Walker saying something very very different like now they're totally human so it's very bizarre it seemed not very plausible to Steinman than Z plausible to me that the US military is just gonna let these human aliens just traipse on off into American society like Cameron and Saad crane and Eric Walker want a excuse me

Steinman wonder is this a joke right i walker and was this an unsolicited letter I'm sorry did you know it was but it was Walker writing back to Steinman just like an apply so didn't reply to the phone call and replied to the phone call and a letter Steinman had written

okay so styman did write a letter yeah exactly so so that's the state of affairs in the late 80s and what what you find with Walker is that he really starts to back away from these researchers Scott Crane who was living in Pennsylvania tried to reach Walker who was in the same state and walkers just like nope

not interested

not gonna talk I want nothing to do with any of this stuff so that's where matters stood at the late 1980s and I want to share a screen here and and take the story a little bit further so there's the Walker talking about this and this is him talking to Steinman just forget about it drop it and so forth

now enter a fellow named Armen Victorian a also known as dr. Henry aza dead al-assad Adel it's a hard name for me to pronounce he's Armenian as it turns out in fact this is such an interesting man he actually had several aliases there was a documentary made about him he was clearly a very very capable smart man who had a lingering a lot of pies he had been arrested in 1980

nine of stealing as smuggling endangered orchids so there's that whole thing and he talked like how he made this huge amount of money doing all of that he was also very interested in UFOs though and was actively researching an alleged South African UFO crash from the late 1980s so he was in corresponding with Grant Cameron and it was through grant that he learned about this whole dealing with Eric Walker so as dr. Henry aza did L and I don't think he's actually a doctor but he can talk a good game he finds Eric Walker and he gets Eric Walker to talk a little bit more an hour in 1989-1990 he writes to Walker in December of 89 and they have a phone call in January of 1990 and this is just amazing stuff he goes on and on he says doctor have we ever captured anything at all we must have Walker's sure he says did we learn anything Walker yeah I think so is it determined from which star system they come from I do not think so have we ever been able to make contact with them on the communication basis and Walker says we promised not to tell so it is Walker just playing games or him or not

Armen Victorian goes on he says have we ever been able to make contact with them

oh I said that do they constitute any threat to the national security of any country and Walker says everyone decides that on his own so these are actually plausible answers but you don't know is blowing him off or is it he's just maybe a little bit of both

and then Arman victorian says do you know whether there is any cooperation between them these EBE send us as an advanced civilization and he says I think so there have been occasions but then I can only speak for myself so he's just blowing him off but he's also not denying any of this right so then it goes on this is this is a lot here and I don't want to I probably have too much text here

but he goes on this is the second phone call from March of 1980 are the mj-12 documents authentic and at this point Walker says I don't think so

so it's this is three years after Walker's conversation with William Steinman where he's totally caught off guard some time has passed and now Walker is familiar with the mj-12 docks and he's saying I don't think they're authentic but then the follow-up question but is there any such group and there's silence and then this is the most interesting element of all of Walker's conversations with Arman victory and he says how good is your mathematics it's like he changes the subjects who says that

dr. Walker says this to Arman Victorian is calling him and Victorian says well as good as it can be for a doctor in physics but why and Walker says because only a very few people are capable in handling this issue it brings to mind someone like John von Neumann who was a genius mathematician who was involved least there's only a very few people capable of handling this issue unless your mind ability is like Einsteins or likewise I don't think how you can achieve anything in this in other words they are not gonna want you in the program unless you're a mathematical genius essentially and but Armand Victorians not dunnies as well 498 for many years I've been trying but are there government scientists he says everyone mistakes about this issue I gathered by that you mean whether they work for the defense establishment of the military and he says that's where you're wrong

there are they are a handful of elite when you are invited into that group I would know and then armed in Victorian ass is this group like the bilderbergs Pugwash which no one really talks about them but another elite group or the trilateral more silence Walker says something like that are you a member of that group Walker says I cannot answer that and then the other fascinating question first how good is your math second how good is your seventh sense

how much do you know about ESP okay interesting indeed and and the Victorians as well I know to some degree about ESP and EVP electronic voice phenomena I assume but what has that got to do with any of this and Walker says unless you know about it and know how to use it you would not be taken in only a few know about it so that's some amazing stuff yeah I have to agree with you that is interesting so even if he's blowing him off or whatever the reasons are that he's acting so nonchalant and just giving these sort of seemingly rote answers right he peppers in these fascinating and and they're a thing that makes sense don't they well yeah with everything we know and psy phenomenon that's right like you've got to have your game on at the highest level to be involved in this type of program and you know this is back in 1990 there's no internet there's no large conversations about any of this is a very kind of relatively quiet world that existed Walker's having this conversation he could just as easily have hung up the phone yeah and yet they're having this long conversation it went on a little bit by the way arm in Victorian is dr. Henry as Adele says have we mastered the knowledge are we working together with these beings and Walker says that we actually had learned a lot but we are not working with them only contact he said that's interesting and then the question was that we captured any saucers any material from the disks to study and then you know he says kind of what he said a few years earlier to William Steinman which is look this technology is far beyond what we know in ordinary terms of physics

he says you're pushing for answers aren't you as I said is far beyond the known level of physics that's known very few have knowledge with it and he starts to just say they had one more phone call in August of 1990 and at this point Walker really was backing away and let me just share this slide here so you can see what I'm talking about he says look this is this stuff this is none of your concern

all right you don't have the skills to be brought in you're just doing this to satisfy your own personal curiosity and I'm not I'm not playing that game with you all right he says it's not going to do any damn good except to make you happy are we going to change all the plans and regulations just to make you happy

if you say that you're looking for the truth you'll never get it anyway so forget it

that's Walker 1990 and that was really the last statement Eric Walker made to anyone as far as I know about the UFO phenomenon and and then he died five years lat

after that but he essentially became reclusive - any attempts at by researchers to contact him so I think it's a fascinating little trail you know I mean it starts with will Burt Smith in 1950 having a little conversation with Roberts or Bakker mm-hmm

who himself was one of the highest most well plugged in defense scientists of his era SAR Bakker leads them to Eric Walker and in the process does a great deal of confirmation as well of crash retrieval program and I mean in this particular presentation I didn't really have a lot to say about actual aliens physiology or biology we'll come back to that maybe in another one but I really feel like this is a very important series of pieces of evidence to put together mm-hmm that form as I like to say a trail of breadcrumbs of breadcrumbs leading to an quite a strong level of confirmation about this phenomenon yeah it's fascinating you know so that's basically it

that's essentially what I've got here for this I mean I have to say I'm sure some people have the same reaction as me that it's amazing that sometimes that they're talking to people that they were talking to researchers that Tsar Bakr was ever talking to researchers and that Walker was talking well I know it is it's surprising but maybe we shouldn't be that shocked because it did happen you know in the case of Sabah they seemed guarded anyways I mean Walker seemed really guarded and what he was saying he was either being super careful or you know just feel it he almost sounds like so you know he's prepared that someone's listening like he's being very vague but then he drops these little things but the thing the thing that I would remind all of us is that all of these people are human beings so they have their own emotions they have their own unpredictability we're not robots and we're not ant we're not the aliens we are human beings and as such we act we do react and that includes even people with prominent powerful classified clearances it seems to me even people is brilliant as Eric Walker and Roberts are Walker toward the end of their life if in the right circumstances caught off guard they can talk Weiss our Bakker wrote that two-page letter is a great question to ask and I don't know the answer but he did he did do it and it was a matter of discussion in a lot of circles that was not publicized but people knew better been rich of Lockheed skunkworks he knew about it and his colleagues knew about it it was all being discussed in the 1980s we can come back to that some other time perhaps but people were very aware like what's our Bakker had to say was very important right didn't you say that one of the things that sort of was a factor that you felt was playing in was that I can't remember which one of them it was that you're referring to but they sort of were under the assumption that the momentum was going to bring this out anyhow that this information was become public last week when we did the previous episode on aliens and evidence and reports we talked a lot about Leonard Stringfield and indeed Stringfield talking in the late 70s mm-hmm

he had just written a book called situation read which had a small chapter on UFO crash retrievals and that was kind of a big deal at the time we're talking 1976-77 era Jimmy Carter is elected president November of 76 and there had been a lot of UFO chat around Jimmy Carter because he had seen a UFO in 1969 and he was open about so there was this belief it was a mistaken belief but still people thought Jimmy Carter might release UFO information and so there is that whole thing lurking around and then plus the fact that Stringfield had simply put himself into this publicly by talking about it brought a number of people to him and indeed some of them at least at least a few of them stated I'm talking to you because well the president's going to come out with it anyway so why not right right so yeah and that so that's kind of relevant to Walker in a way right I think that's what you were kind of getting it yeah now I want to bring up the Aztec UFO crash um if you could just maybe start with Scully's book but I mean that is an example where there were bodies reported there were several witnesses on scene and we said we were just going to touch upon that yes absolutely it's a fascinating story in fact I've got Scully's book downstairs I didn't bring it up I do have two the other books on there this is a Steinman's book on the UFO crash a little closer there I think they can see that they're too shiny right and and this is an earlier version of Scott and Suzanne Ramsay's book actually done also with dr. Frank Thayer on the Aztec incident my version is not the latest this is the problem of Limpy revised her versions of the book I need to get there 2015 this is I have the 2011 but it's still a great book and but it does start with Frank Scully's book behind the flying saucers and so let's go back a little bit in time to this because what happened was this is an alleged I think a real UFO crash that took place in March 1948 and Aztec New Mexico is located it's at the Four Corners area that's where New Mexico and Colorado and Utah and Arizona meets that's four corners and this is a very remote area in fact it's almost surrounded by Native American reservations to this day so what a lot of people often forget is that for many years the main UFO crash case wasn't Roswell

it was Aztec you know the Roswell thing came out for one day and then was buried the Aztec crash was written about by Frank Scully who was a journalist comes out with the book in 1950 called behind the flying saucers and he had two main sources for this story he had a friend named Silas Newton and then an acquaintance and an occasional business partner of Newton who Scully in the book just called dr. G that's GE in the book and so according to Scully's story there is a flying saucer that came down basically intact then the US military gets it and he actually had a fair amount of description here that he was told there was a portal that was punctured and they got into it through that way and there was anywhere from two alien bodies to up to 16 alien bodies who that who knew how many there really were but all these stories of alien bodies they were small they looked human but there was very small three and a half feet and they were dead and they were dead burnt and they were wearing clothing right so what was the clothing that you I think it was jumpsuits they were wearing some sort of old jumpsuit

was close-fitting type of a thing yeah exactly and so according to a Scully Road the whole flying sauce was taken apart and sent off to right field right perhaps an air force base right field at the time in Dayton Ohio and that's where it sure would go without a doubt right so Scully Rice's book in 1950 this is the book that Wilbert Smith was asking about in his meeting with SAR Bakker Scully's book legit SAR Bakker says it is substantially correct so that's interesting nevertheless a couple of years later 1953

I think journalist named JP Kahn writes a series of expose x' devastating pieces saying these witnesses of scoff Scully's are total BS so you were following this as well were you because we were both looking into this earlier today yeah I don't I was able to find as much as you in that short of time but it was I was listening to more I want to hear the things that were being said against and what ended up happening to the person who was going against the story I just wanted to know he maimed a JP Kahn yeah yeah because a lot of people I guess a lot of the skeptic websites sort of stopped at his reports right and what he said is he says aha

there's no dr. G it's a guy named Leo Gebauer right and he's a con man and both of them are con men in the oil industry is this whole thing and he said these two guys just hoped Scully Scully was naive he wasn't in on it you just you just wasn't very sharp and they fooled him he said Silas Newton lied about his education and had defrauded business associates in one form or another in fact both were convicted this is what really made it look bad of discrediting some Colorado business in some way so and that's where everyone leaves it right right but I think that even the statement you just made I think there's something wrong with that statement and about him being convicted you know I was listening to Scott Susanne and basically what I ended up learning Scott Susanne Ramsey mm-hmm who are really experts in this case they are indeed and I think that they would easily say and respectfully that if that's where people believe the research ends they have not continued far enough along the journey because it goes so much further digging into this controvert this controversy and this I keep forgetting his name who you just said J pecan J pecan yeah

well absolutely and bunking a lot of what he said their work is is so important so what happened was you know years go by I never says oh so the whole thing was a hoax Steinman comes out in the 1980s and writes his book on Aztec but it doesn't really do the job that people want it as big as a book it was it really didn't but scott and suzanne ramsey really did do it

they succeeded where Steinman didn't quite make it they did a whole analysis of JP Kahn for one mm-hmm and they found out Cohn originally wanted he was so taken with the Aztec story he wanted to co-author it with Scully and Scully said no thanks I don't really need you

Khan took it as a personal affront and made it his business to try to destroy Frank Scully so that definitely they bring out very very clearly the other thing is as Scully pointed out that this dr. G was modeled on get Bauer but not only on get Bowery says look I had multiple insight sources I just have this one guy and he said get Bauer okay didn't study at the University of Berlin like he said he'd like dr. G did and didn't manage all these thousands of people doing experimental work he was an engineer and he did was in charge of like maintenance equipment not research at this air research company in Phoenix so we had technical specs but the interesting thing that that scott and suzanne ramsey learned is that Leo Bauer had an FBI file on him of almost 400 pages and half to this day half of those pages have not been Declassified why yeah what's up with that so what's the exactly in the interest of national defense so you have to wonder okay but so here's the thing

so um other people have looked into the Aztec case a Linda Moulton Howe looked into it she actually interviewed members of a family called the pace family near Farmington which is right for all this not have happen and they remembered hearing news of a UFO crash in the area 1948-1949 they weren't sure but it was March and and then but then scum Scott Ramsey and and then he's joined by Suzanne but Scott got into it on his own first and no one has done more than those two they contacted relatives of two former New Mexico police officers from the area who told their families that they saw a crash disk and by the way the place where it came down his heart Canyon the name of it and they said it's 1948 March and and then they found a witness who claimed to have worked at Roswell and said that there was a concrete slab at the crash site that was used to support the crane that removed the crafted Aztec so he says there is this huge concrete slab that was put down there because this disk required a significant crane and the crane required this slab so they looked and looked and looked for the slab and finally found the slab with the rebar and the rebar and the concrete was dated to the 1940s they think they've got it and then you know the whole thing about the vendetta by JP Khan and all of that I think I think what they did is it and there's actually quite a lot more we should probably get yeah hey why don't we save the details of the case because case really deserves its own show the story yes so good and I will say a lot of people asked about it in chat I I you know obviously I haven't been as deep in chat lately as I have in the past but it does often come up because it is such an interesting case right such an interesting crash retrieval case and it has all of the elements that we want to discuss and even the the thorough debunking is important for everyone to hear because there is such a wall for people around that case you know some people just think no it was all debunked but no it's worthy of a deep and thorough look over I think the debunking was definitely the dominant motif for many many years and you find a lot of researchers even some of the more conservative ones in my view are looking they're reviewing the asset case because of the work of sconces and Ramsey so I think I think it's mission accomplished for those two I think they actually have succeeded generally speaking at least among UFO researchers now in terms of the general public totally different yeah people don't know I did interview Scott and Suzanne for a Richard Dolan show some years ago on kgr a and I think I would like to bring them back and we can do one for this channel mm-hmm

and get that out there I think the public doesn't know but you know something that's really good for us to do is to really learn what the skeptics are saying and understand the rebuttal so much so that if it does come down to it and we are talking to people in the public who think it's all bunk we know what we're talking about well I agree and the other thing about what skeptics is look everyone should be skeptical agree you and I should be and everyone ought to be in in the true scientific sense which is let's look for the evidence and let's not jump to conclusions so you always want to know what's skeptics are saying even even those skeptics who are knee-jerk skeptics right you want to know what their argument is so that you can understand it sometimes they're right like they're often right so the last thing you want to do is latch on to a case that's a losing cause right don't waste your time with that stuff you want to focus on the things that are genuine and so you need the skeptics for that reason because they're willing to more than the UFO UFO believers a problem with it and because I am a believer and and I can fall into the trap just like any other believer which is when an interesting case comes your way because you know that this phenomenon is real you're inclined to say okay this could be real right whereas the skeptics gonna start from the assumption no it's not real and here's why it isn't so both sides actually you know when you go into a new case each has a point here right at least from my point of view no so but you want to know always what the skeptics have to say it's and it's annoying to some believers because the skeptics not always but they can be kind of snarky right cuz they're tired of the UFO believers and the UFO believers are tired of the skeptic so they can each be snarky with each other and so one side doesn't like to listen to the other side but you really we have to I agree it sounds to me like Scott and Suzanne have been working on this for so long they have taken the time to go through all of the debunking because they want it to pass the test as well yes so I think you know they went to great lengths for example I think one of the biggest one of the biggest things being said was how would you get the craft out of that area so I think Scott went through the trouble or they both went through the trouble of building something that wide and moving it out of that area to see if it actually was possible this interest so because they thought they've invested so much in this case you know they have to listen to those skeptics like they're saying and they need to know as well does it pass the test they were successful they were successful so again another reason why this case in particular is a really good one too for us to examine and listen to

I like tying it in with tonight's chat because it really does come in together with Wilbert Smith's asking about Scully's book in SAR Bakker back in 1950 saying the facts are substantially correct I like that and and that whole case goes through years and years of dismissal and debunking and and finally it gets a really genuine revival through Scott and Suzanne by the way I met both of them in 2003 and I met them when they met each other no event that Scott was already even then getting kind of really into the Aztec case and yeah it was a UFO conference and they met they fell in love they moved to the Atlantic coast and they'd been there ever since and and she has been every bit as involved in researching this as he has so they're great a great team and two super super wonderful people I I just can't say enough about them you haven't met them yet have you have you have I met them at contact oh right remember that's right yes yeah I'm so glad yeah that's right going to have you on if you guys see this please

we'd like to yeah I would like to bring you back on I think it okay it's time here so think it is yeah ten after so I don't know if we want to answer any questions people will see and give you a little light there about that I feel pretty good about how we present to this this theme again want to return and get some more into Leonard Stringfield stuff of God his books still lying around here he has a wealth of information relating to the retrieval of UFOs and the study of the ETS themselves so there's so much more to go into I feel like in in in our time period where there's just so many claims that are out there there are other claims that I personally feel are legit and we really need to know what they are and unpacking them is one of the things that I enjoy doing for this program so anything in there that you sing okay so I'm just looking at what we have a few things that we have does mr. Dolan have a personal library from 3d the destroyer whoa does he ever well yes I mean of course I I'm 20 plus years ago I had no UFO library obviously I just had a couple of thousand history books from and philosophy and whatever is that's all I do is I read and read and read and read when I started with the UFO topic in 94 really was the first big year I began collecting them then and I don't know how many I've got a couple of thousand UFO books I was lucky in that there is a local gentleman from Rochester New York named William Sherwood and I love this man to this day he's long since deceased they'll share what and I were about 50 years apart and so when I was just beginning the whole UFO Trek I was this is in the 1990s looking for like a local Rochester group that I could yea talk to and I remember looking on AOL because this is like 1997 and I found the Rochester UFO study group I thought wow perfect let's find that well I had learned that it was kind of defunct but it was still listed and some kind of listing and I wrote to them because I I didn't even have email and I left my phone number and this very old man called me a couple of weeks later he was 85 at the time and it was bill Sherwood and we struck up a friendship I visited him a number of times and when he died I think in 2008 he left me his entire library bill scher what had the a legendary library like everyone knew about he had been involved in UFOs since the 1950s he was a Kodak engineer yet patents to his name he spoke fluent German fluent Portuguese learned Japanese in his 70s how do you do that that was bill Sherwood and he and his wife were just absolutely lovely people and he left me his massive library and as well so what I had was more than doubled his library was much larger than mine so I have that which gave me a complete collection of MUFON journals and the IEEE urs and the APRA bulletins and the nightcap investigators and all these other countless journals that I never even knew about right and he had them all and not only that you also got files and files and files files of his own personal investigations because it wasn't just a like a meetup group this was a study group correct from what I've gathered and seen myself he took all subjects not just UFO but all the surrounding subjects as well very very seriously and he took detailed notes he didn't do

yeah I miss bill

I saw him shortly before he died and yeah I have a lot of very fond memories of him but but to answer the question yes I have a good there are people with a better UFO library than I have for sure but I would say mine is pretty good I would say it's pretty pretty big yeah alright so there is long answer you would find it big long answer to the question yes okay let's see I see there's a remote viewing question here hey Richard and Tracy does any has anyone done and remove you I'm Pine Gap Oh

I don't really know if anyone's done more should and you have thoughts on this well yeah it you know

depends who's doing it

mm-hmm it's one thing it's really something interesting when there's a lot it on the Internet

these days saying something remote viewed Pine Gap remote mute I just want to say just because it's remote viewed doesn't mean that that's reliable information

you know classically when they were doing it in Project Star Gate they're using teams of remote viewers and not only that most of these people have gone through a system where you know they have gone through training that works them up to an accuracy level and then only after that is there a point of you know sort of reliable information because when you're talking about somewhere like Pine Gap you're talking about something that cannot be you can't get feedback it can't be verified so there has to be a very rigorous extensive background to that you know so it'll stop - remote viewing like that otherwise so it's very difficult even if you see something out on the web

Pine Gap remote viewed - take that as gospel I just want to say and they'll you know we've just were chatting with Russell Targ and Lance munguia and we've been into the whole third eye spies situation and you know you have pointed out to do a true remote view and Russell has said the same thing you can't just say oh I'm going to remote view something oh yeah because your conscious mind has to be out of the picture that's a change you need someone running this and you the remote view or don't know what the target is yes you don't want to be front loaded in any way right I mean unless you're Jo McGonagall or Lynn Buchanan I'm sure these guys are at a place where David Morehouse where you know they have a way of dealing or Paul Smith with front-loading but generally when you're doing remote viewing front loading is a huge problem so you don't want to have any knowledge whatsoever of the target because as soon as you do your left brain is in a

to compromise anything coming through and guess it's going to guess and even if you don't think it's guessing it's it's possibly guessing so there are all sorts of factors but that's one thing what we need though we actually could get like a team of remote viewers including yourself and we could have someone directing them or like giving them assignments but they don't know what the assignment will be well you have to be careful with that too because so live on tier two be the one directing it why don't we get you to be the one remote viewing not saying I mean there is a lot to be said for remote viewing one thing about Russell is he's out there really promoting you know everyone can do this and it's true

but there is you know everyone can but there's a lot behind coming up with accuracy when you are trying to get actionable intelligence or really dig for the truth on something like Pine Gap

so what Richard was just suggesting you still know sorry that I would be able I would know within a good realm of what Richard would be wanting to task you know what I'm saying

yeah he wouldn't know when you wouldn't know what necessarily there's still a wide range of things that I might be able to ask you with there's a wide range but see I could just right now begin to guess the type of range now I'm married to him well right but um there there are a lot of things to consider

that's all I'm saying

when we're talking about removing you know why don't we remote view the moon why don't we review Pine Gap and yes we can

I mean we can do it but can we be guaranteed that our left brain is not filled um sorry compromising the information coming through so I'm I still think I don't know thinking can be done it can we could get a little team of people I mean here where we live I bet there's a few and we might be able to do a little something well I mean would be a fun thing to try yeah sorry you could put together a group and lots of lots of these groups exist right and you definitely could organize something like that but like I say to it typically when people are training you are mixing in many many many many different things so there needs to be someone actually two people not one who are providing direction right one person and they are then isn't it like when Russell Todd would give assignments he wouldn't know all of the assignments either isn't that the case right so you're saying immaterial what you're trying to blind double-blind right so yeah so if I'm giving you the remote view right

no I don't even know yeah it's coming from somewhere else

I'm just uh I'm just giving an envelope that has a number on it and that's all yeah that's how it works yeah doesn't make sense why this is the whole remote viewing thing none of this makes sense but it works I will say for myself personally it is easier and Russell and everyone will agree with me who's done remote viewing it you know seriously it is easier if you know nothing so then if you know it then if you're guessing out of 52 cards it is easier it puts it puts something in you at ease actually that you I can't guess well I'm gonna suggest we get clear going up English oh yeah we're going on because it's actually 80 minutes and we probably want to get close to doing that so yeah alright I think yeah I think this is fun I'm glad we did the remote viewing but we can come back to renege on it right um from tonk why did I start following you guys now I'm hooked

oh that's nice thank you see someone asked if I there any discussions between myself and Michael Shrek that he could look up that's a great question I've really loved Michael rats research he's an outstanding researcher at what he does and he's

he's been now involved in the UFO field for a long time

Michael straps probably the best expert in our field of a lot of to do with aviation technology we correspond every now and then and but we haven't really had in-depth conversations lately and I think would be a good thing maybe to get Michael on and have a nice conversation with them so thanks for the suggestion anything else

who is my oh wow

who is Richards most influential net influential mentor kind of you mm-hmm

I'll start with my mother and father but that goes without saying in the university there was a professor of history named Stuart Campbell who is long retired and loved Stuart he taught me a lot about how to go through history and how to approach intellectual history back in those days I liked Stuart because he inherited and he really helped me believe in myself as a future historian and gave me such great encouragement and not any mentors through most of my 20s I have to say but you have some that you read yes indeed

Marcus Oh Marcus Aurelius is probably my favorite author of all time the ancient Roman Emperor yeah I've read I probably read Marcus Aurelius and meditations probably I don't know 20 30 times or more and then of more contemporary writers a big one was Gore Vidal actually his brilliant political essays a lot of good fiction as well it was a big fan of him but his political essays were in the context of the 1980s you got to remember he was as cutting edge as he could probably get there are folks like Noam Chomsky as well who back in the 1970s and 80s were pretty advanced for me and both of them influenced me quite a bit another writer in my 20s and 30s was Frederick Nietzsche

read probably all beaches books and what inspired me about him

I'll never forget I was about 34 years old and I reread Nietzsche's book called daybreak or the dawn and as I was reading and I thought this guy was my age when he wrote this book and it's just such a brilliant like a work of genius and I thought what am I doing wrong like he's doing this amazing thing of course he's twice as smart as I'll ever be

but I thought here he is doing something really incredible and I want to get off my ass and do something really noteworthy too so it was kind of an inspiration and another great writer to other Russians were Fyodor Dostoevsky and Leo Tolstoy were great great influences on me until it like mentally I read Tolstoy and of course war and peace is the greatest thing I've ever read in my life and Dostoyevsky's crime and punishment and the brothers karamazov just absolutely breathtakingly beautiful books so I don't know if they're really mentors but they were definitely important very very strong influences in my development for sure

mm-hmm all right I think no I'll do it now we're gonna wrap it up here we're gonna wrap it up and I'm just glancing down at the chat and I just see again the whole chat family is here

I see I recognise every single name I see going down there right now every single one of you is such a fan

it's the chat family so we have to take a moment to say hi to the chat family and thank you all and we love having like all of you recognized like all of you hi

okay one thing I want to say someone rise Tolstoy depressing said no not true

Tolstoy not depressing not sad you get into Tolstoy and in fact I'll give you an assignment read you don't don't read war in peace that's kind of longer that'll take a lot while but read the death of Ivan Illich if you want serious in-depth insight into what is life all about that's a book it's a short story it's like a sliver of war and peace and it's all about like what are we doing here what's what are the important things in this life read the death of Ivan Illich by Leo Tolstoy it'll it'll make your week it'll be a beautiful experience so there maybe it's the titles that sound depressing actually

oh yeah kind of a downer right I was like but but seriously true genius and look you know whether whether you live one life or multiple lives this life that you're living matters like this life matters some make it count and get into some deep issues and Tolstoy is a beautiful way to get into them as dust I asked in I mean there's writers living today that'll do it as well but I like I like the old-timers those are your peeps they are indeed yeah absolutely we all have our inspirations but thanks for sharing yours and again thank you again to everyone for being here with us it makes it all so worth it that you're here and thank you for a great presentation again it's wonderful of doing it and anything else we want to share with them

well we we're gonna be a little incommunicado that's right next week so I don't know if I'll be able to do this show live and I don't feel good to be able to do a pre-record of it so we actually may not be here next Magnus next week we might be on a MUFON Cruise it I've never done a cruise in my life so this is first we're doing it will be out at sea so I don't I don't think it's gonna be possible I don't I don't know if it's going to be either I mean we're gonna look into it and see if there is an opportunity it might not necessarily be Tuesday night at 8:00 it might be whenever we can run do that but I know there's a couple of you in chat who are going somewhere

so we look forward to seeing you yeah and I'm doing a couple of lectures so they'll be fresh

I'll be that I think we'll have a good time of course well hopefully I get motion sickness or anything like that no we'll be good we'll take all the supplies injure lots of ginger and you have never done this before so yeah first time for everything

well have a good time we won't be able to do this live next week so we'll have to figure out something yeah and it for those of you who have enjoyed the show and you appreciate Richards research one of the best and easiest ways to support him is to subscribe to the channel if you haven't already and to turn on notifications so you know when we do release videos like when we're on a cruise and it comes up all of a sudden if you have notifications on you will get notified exactly when we are going live absolutely and thanks for mentioning that also we have a newsletter it's free go to any of the two websites Richard will impress or Richard only members subscribe free to the newsletter subscribing yeah the newsletter is not the same as being a member of the Richard or members it's not the same thing but the newsletter does give you free information in your mailbox every week about all the things that we're up to there's more information at Richard only members if you are interested you can always become a member of that site as well there's a lot of exclusive content there we're creating things every week all the time for that site that's so that's it and for those of you who are watching Project Blue Book enjoy the finale tonight oh yes well do you know what's we do yes we know we've seen it so that's it okay yeah

everyone loved having you here with us thank you everyone so much for being here

we hope you have a great night absolutely thanks for coming out and we'll catch you next time take care bye good night

today we're closer than ever to knowing the answer some scientists believe we'll get our first look at our extraterrestrial cousins in the near future I hope it's in the next 10 years and I'm ready for it next week so the sooner the better what's more we could find these aliens not on distant planets in unexplored galaxies but right next door in our own solar system scientists are now honing in on proof that ET is out there and living on the most hazardous of worlds our safari will journey to seven destinations in our solar system to see just where these creatures could be and what they might look like these exotic lands are unimaginably harsh life as we think of it would perish in an instant but alien life may be far tougher than we expect as we're learning from a surprising group of living things right here on earth until just a few decades ago we were sure our planet was unique it is the only one we found so far that has nurtured the evolution of millions of species thanks to its abundant sunshine warm water and protective atmosphere we logically concluded that life needed each of those things the conclusion that ruled out all other known worlds in our solar system but then biologists began combing some of the Earth's darkest and coldest places and to their surprise they found living breathing creatures biologists call these organisms extremophiles some don't be light or oxygen others survive in tremendous atmospheric pressure it seems life can turn up practically anywhere take Antarctica after years of searching this arid frozen landscape scientists doubt if they'd find anything alive but in 1999 a team of explorers unearthed a rock from six feet under the ice of they found amazed them when they cracked the rock open they found it teeming with tiny creatures here at temperatures of 68 degrees below zero and six feet under solid ice life had found a foothold biologists have been increasingly discovering life not kangaroos but you know simpler forms of life they live at very cold temperatures very high temperatures very great pressures even in places where there's sort of a high degree of radiation turns out life is able to live in a much wider variety of environments on our own planet than we used to think and if life can survive extreme conditions not just here at home but elsewhere in our solar system think about this unless there's something extraordinarily miraculous about our solar system or our planet then life has got to be extremely commonplace I mean that there's got to be large numbers of worlds with life and some of them would have cooked up intelligent life in the beginning was as deadly a planet as any

over the first billion years of Earth's existence cosmic debris pummeled it mercilessly the impacts turned its surface into a broiling seething Inferno where life was impossible but once the solar system settled down and the earth began to cool water appeared setting the stage for life in 1953 researchers Stanley Miller proved in a lab experiment just how easily life on Earth got its start the combined water with hydrogen methane and ammonia components of the Earth's early atmosphere then he zapped his solution with an electric charge to simulate lightning his results shocked the world Miller had created organic molecules called amino acids the protein building blocks of all living things if lightning helped jumpstart life on earth could it have done the same on other planets galactic probes have now found the ingredients in Miller's experiment throughout our solar system including one essential to life one of the requirements that every form of life that we know about on earth has every single one is liquid water we've used evidence for liquid water to kind of guide our search for habitable environments our safari is headed to seven worlds some possibly rich in water my scientists believe aliens might be hiding while any life there might have begun much like life on earth how it looks now is anyone's guess we begin in the world that has fun ways fired our imaginations the planet right next door of all the planets where we've looked for life it's the one you've studied most the scientists who make it the first look at Martians if they're found is Steve Squyres principal investigator for NASA's Mars rovers Mars has always had among all the planets I think a special fascination for humans for a very long time we've known enough about Mars to know that it is probably the most earth-like it may be the most like earth with an atmosphere and seasons but we humans would perish quickly on Mars it's air is thin 40 times thinner than the air at the top of Mount Everest and it sits in a bad neighborhood of our solar system near an asteroid belt its atmosphere is too flimsy to protect it asteroids continually bombarded surface violent winds can whip Mars is sandy soil into storms that consume the entire planet for weeks and spawned tornadoes eight kilometers high midday temperatures of the Equator of one degree Celsius fall to minus 70 at night David Grinspoon is a curator of astrobiology at the Denver Museum of Nature and Science as he sees it Mars will be warmer if it wasn't a planet for erupt when I grab coffee on a cold morning I know that a small espresso is gonna cool off quickly whereas the larger coffee is gonna stay warm much longer large objects stay warm longer because their interiors are shielded from the outside where the cooling occurs and planets are exactly the same way a small planet will cool off early in its history a larger planet like Earth will stay warm for billions of years which makes it a better place probably to look for life despite Mars's drawbacks it has always fascinated scientists because it's terrains seem to give evidence but it might support life it's dynamic landscape of mountains volcanoes and deep ravines is not unlike our earth too early astronomers these features look like oceans and rivers and even a system of canals supposedly not just supporting life but actually produced by it personal law in the United States observe these things and inferred that in fact these things were so straight and so regular in geometry that they had to have been the product of intelligent life okay well he was right the problem was the life was at the wrong end of the telescope in viewing this thing visually through a telescope eyepiece the the human eye brain combination started to connect things that weren't really there Lola was not alone some scientists were shocked when the probe Viking one beamed back this image is that a human face perhaps produced by Martians - until recently we've never really known where to look in our solar system for extraterrestrial life but we've always known what the aliens will be like once we found usually there is more than a hint of the earthling in our aliens hostile or lovable a cleanser is and all Newton images of ourselves as a senior astronomer at the search for extraterrestrial intelligence Institute in California seth shostack has spent his career listening for the radio waves of a distant alien society there's no reason to assume that they're going to look like us or even think like us or behave like us or have language you know you just have to look at the variety of life on Earth and you see that you know nature can come up with lots of different forms but if there is life on Mars how could it survive in such extreme conditions since the 1960s scientists have sent dozens of probes to the Red Planet the first pictures of the barren landscape quickly dashed any hope of finding intelligent beings but what scientists did see startled them though there's no evidence of Marshall made canals there are signs that Mars actually may have had water some think the angry red planet might once have been blue you just have to look back a couple of billion years three and a half billion 430 years ago Mars had a thicker atmosphere had water on its surface clearly may be developed life and as it slowly went bad you know the life had to adapt life may have adapted not died off because some liquid water may still exist underground but with no surface water frigid temperatures and ultra thin atmosphere Mars is a planet only one kind of creature could love an extreme a phial extremophiles thrive in the cruelest of places to see where they might lurk on Mars we head to the Valles Marineris a massive rift in Mars is surface twenty times wider than the Grand Canyon in places and almost as deep as Mount Everest is tall Lakes may have once flooded this valley and those lakes could have hosted life as the water dried up life could have evolved to cope with the harsher environment we won't know what these extremophiles are like until we find them but they may resemble creatures that exist in extreme places right here on earth an unusual team of biologists called astrobiologists study earth for the kinds of life we may find in outerspace astrobiologist rocker Manchin Ellie is on the hunt for Mars's extremophiles if it went beneath the surface and some of it undoubtedly did then what happened to it well it formed brine pockets so what kind of organism can live in a salty brine a salt loving ordinance astrobiologist Chris McKay thinks he knows the kind of salt loving creatures that might survive on Mars creatures much like those he's found in one of the driest saltiest places on earth the fundamental challenge to life on Mars is in a sense that's fundamental challenge of life here in Death Valley its dryness that is the hardest thing for life to adapt to thousands of years ago a salty lake covered Death Valley just as lakes filled Mars is Mariner trench this appears like a lifeless place big flat white empty horizon but yet just below the surface we find layers of algae and bacteria growing there living in a environment that in many ways is fundamentally different from the environment that we sense on the surface here you're in a place which looks lifeless looks dead and yet you dig down and hidden underneath there it is beneath the salt is a layer of Hardy green algae that survive on the water and light that trickle through the algae in turn feeds salt-loving microorganisms irin deserts on earth dried salty lake beds we're gonna find them on Mars as well salty deserts are not the only places life might be hiding on the Red Planet there are Mars is tremendous volcanoes some of them six times larger than those on earth astrobiologists penny Boston studies the caves called lava tubes left over after volcanic lava has dissipated not long ago we assumed caves like these were devoid of life they get no sunlight and no sunlight means no photosynthesis but in lava tubes outside Albuquerque New Mexico Boston has found evidence of extreme life because we know Mars has many many lava tubes and so here we have the opportunity to see how these formed and also to look at the life that inhabits them the extremophiles Boston has found appear to be thriving they get their energy by feeding on the minerals in the cave wall here up close to the wall and you can see these white patches here growing against the black basalt and each one of these is like major city for these little guys they're all nestled in these little pockets in the basalt and so these guys are permanently adapted to these freezing temperatures they never see any light and they get what they can find in the environment all their creatures like these in the caves below Mars's volcano fields Boston thinks so we are going to find life and I just hope that I live a long and healthy life so that I can still be around to see that we may already have had our first glimpse of Martians not from our visit to their planet but from their visit to ours sixteen million years ago an asteroid slammed into Mars and propelled a two kilogram rock into space amazingly that rock sailed to earth and came to rest in Antarctica inside NASA scientist David McKay and Everett Gibson were amazed to spot the outlines of fossils water has carved small tunnels in the rock and in these tunnels McKay and Gibson found what they believed to be evidence of bacterial life there's a little microbes and they're dead and there they're fossils or in some cases we don't even see the forms we see the footprints so the evidence that they were their life from Mars maybe the hunt is only just beginning NASA plans to send a rover called Phoenix to Mars it will study the planets ice cap and prove three feet beneath the surface NASA even has a plan to send human visitors they may not meet the little green men of our imaginations but they could encounter life in some form what will it look like it is likely to be a subterranean dweller with an ability to survive on little water perhaps an organism with a taste for minerals and let the creatures in the lava tubes of New Mexico even the smallest find would have enormous implications proof that life is not unique to earth that exists just next door our safari to the places in our solar system likely to harbor alien life now takes us past the asteroid belt on the far side of Mars here Jupiter rains but this planet the largest in our solar system is fairly hostile to life thanks to its toxic gases and overpowering gravity not only is it pretty cold out at Jupiter it's also you know it's got this really thick atmosphere tens of thousands of miles thick and it's got ammonia and methane you know things used to clean the bathroom but Jupiter has more than 60 moons that we know about at first glance those moons would seem unlikely places to seek alien life their atmospheres are thin and they are inhumanly cold the temperature on Callisto is lower than minus 200 degrees Celsius the scientific probes Voyager and Galileo have detected little on the surface of these moons but ice with one dramatic exception IO is one of the closest moons to Jupiter when NASA sent Voyager 1 into IO in 1979 astronomers were astonished to find its surface roiling with giant volcanoes IO is the most volcanically active place in the solar system just spewing volcanic material from its surface all the time what could be heating the interior of this frigid moon amazingly it's the force of gravity from Jupiter the giant planet exerts enormous gravitational pull on its moons the closer the moon the stronger the force so strong it can actually stretch their crusts but some of these moons have elliptical orbits so as they near Jupiter the crust stretches towards it when they move further away the crust relaxes back towards spherical this constant tidal movement creates friction deep inside and that friction generates heat it's like rubbing two sticks together to start a fire the pull of Jupiter is heating IO from the inside out volcanic fumes and lack of water make IO inhospitable to life but Jupiter's other large moons are more distant close enough for Jupiter's gravity to warm them from within but distant enough to remain calm on the surface three of them look particularly promising as possible homes for alien life the one farthest

from the giant planet Callisto on its surface Callisto looks like our moon scarred and cratered by countless hits from asteroids those impacts may have melted the surface ice for brief periods allowing life to take hold but in 1998 the Galileo spacecraft detected a much more promising incubator deep beneath Callisto surface radioactive rocks and tremendous pressure in its core generate heat inside Callisto the heat may be melting its icy crust from below creating a hidden ocean and hidden oceans could mean hidden life as we fly closer to Jupiter we find its largest moon Ganymede Ganymede is also deeply scarred ridges rise above its surface those bright spots are craters as big as five kilometers across and likely to be lined with frost but these photos offer the most compelling clues to where life here might hide they show flowing glaciers glaciers that resemble those on earth Ganymede's moving glaciers could also be signs of heat within so like a Callisto Ganymede could also have a hidden ocean buried beneath as much as a hundred and ninety kilometers of ice the third moon on this leg of our alien Safari is the most intriguing it is called Europa and of the three it resides closest to Jupiter that proximity to the giant planet means Europa score may be very hot far hotter than Callisto's or Ganymede's but its surface remains frigid a potent combination for life since there could be a temperate zone where they meet mammoth fishes scar you rope as thick crust of ice a sign that ice is always shifting on our own planet we see the same cracks in the ice sheets covering the Arctic Ocean Europa's crust may be riding the largest ocean in the solar system an ocean twice as large as all of the Earth's put together now those oceans if they're there and the chances are pretty good that at least some of them are they've been sitting around for a long time four billion years a little longer right in four billion years an ocean of water do you think anything might have cooked up there well certainly seems plausible the environment on in Europa's ocean is more or less as nice as the environment in our own ocean as a place for for living things to exist heck things from planet earth could probably live in the open ocean but Europa's oceans will be very cold even slushy and sunlight never penetrates them thanks to an icy cover that maybe 16 kilometers thick we might never have thought life could exist here if not for a revolutionary discovery off the coast of Ecuador deep in the Pacific biologists have found flourishing communities of tubeworms with crabs and even squid these creatures are thriving despite complete darkness extreme cold and the pressure of the deep ocean they feed on bacteria that take their energy not from the Sun but from chemicals erupting from the seafloor we might find there a similar volcanic vents on Europa supporting their own web of life to find out NASA scientists would like to put a lander on the European surface some would like to send a cryobot a robot that would melt the ice and release a probe into the liquid below that's not so hard to do you just have to melt your way through but you're gonna have to melt your way through not a couple hundred feet but maybe a dozen miles of ice and send down a fishing line with a maybe a video camera and a light bulb on it and look around in all that water we can't rule out the possibility that very simple life-forms have evolved further we might even find creatures as advanced as some here at home most likely however we would find microbes but even that will be a sea change in how we view the birth and growth of life Europa was warm what if the place is one of the coldest known or if it's lakes flow with toxic chemicals instead of water these are the worlds we find as our safari continues even deeper into space as our safari in search of alien life sweeps by the ringed planet Saturn we can see the violently swirling gases that choke its atmosphere we can also feel Saturn's gravity weaker than Jupiter's but still formidable we'll keep moving we're not likely to find living things here

Saturn's rings are also extremely inhospitable they're made of rock and ice as small as a grain of sugar or as big as a house but Saturn has many moons 56 that we've spotted so far our safari heads first to one of those moons a tiny frigid satellite called Enceladus just 500 kilometers in diameter here gravity is very weak a fraction of that on earth and Enceladus has hardly any atmosphere it reflects back into space almost all the sunlight that hits it making it the shiniest object in our solar system until very recently we also thought Enceladus was too cold to support life it appears we were wrong in 2005 after a seven-year journey the Cassini spacecraft approached the tiny moon and detected something that stunned the missions principal investigator Carolyn Porco so this was the picture that just you know grabbed us just was shocking those are plumes made of water from Ibiza the Giza steam and hot water hit the cold vacuum of space and explode into a jet of ice with little gravity to rein it in the ice cloud can grow as big as Enceladus itself porco has never seen anything like it anywhere else it's like a planetary explorers dream to come upon a body like Enceladus those Jets was fountains if you will just spewing vapor and icy snow hundreds of kilometers above the South Pole of Enceladus there's only one conclusion time frigid Enceladus is piping hot within like Jupiter and Saturn's giant gravitational field tugs on its satellites creating friction and heat within as far as we can tell now as soon as I can inescapable conclusion that there may be liquid water deeper down on Enceladus because it's one and the best models we can put forth right now to even explain them warmth much less than Jets seem to indicate that you would get temperatures warm enough to melt water heat liquid water even the farthest reaches of our solar system may contain the chemistry for life what kind of creature could live in the steamy waters of a geezer thanks to hot springs back on earth we have some idea at one point we assumed nothing lived in the steam-driven fountains of Yellowstone National Park but then biologists discovered microbes in these waters microbes that feed on chemicals dissolved in the water today we call them the thermophiles the hardiest can thrive in boiling water but there be thermophiles on Enceladus to find out our Safari takes us in for a close-up of this extraterrestrial Old Faithful it's too cold for anything to live near the surface but temperatures there are minus 165 degrees Celsius but what about the hot water inside in the ice bloom above Enceladus Cassini's probes have found carbon dioxide and methane chemicals that could feed life below just as the chemical Laden springs of Yellowstone feed microbes living there we have a body that very very likely has liquid water in its interior has shown us already it's got simple organic compounds and you know a whole host of things that make it I think a major body of astrobiological interest in our solar system if Enceladus has been a shock astronomers have been astounded by another of Saturn's moons Titan it may be the unluckiest to harbor life titin gets only a limited amount of sunlight about a thousandth as much as Earth probes sent to Titan have detected ice but no liquid water under temperatures of minus 138 degrees Celsius that ice is hard as stone what could possibly make Titan a promising environment that alien life remarkably tighten in many ways resembles the earth but not the one we know now Titan has turned out to be the body fantastic in the Saturn system which is long suspected of having an environment at the surface not only similar to the kind of environment we find here on earth even believe it or not similar to the kind of environment we had on earth before the emergence of life Titan intrigued Carolyn Porco's team so much they directed the Cassini spacecraft to send a probe there in 2005 it was the most distant surface mission ever conducted the probes or just ridges and planes but a later fly over by Cassini spotted a shoreline soon thousands of lakes came into view at least one bigger than the Great Lakes of North America it's the first time we ever detected liquid on the surface of another celestial body that looks like Minnesota except the lakes are not water they're they're liquid natural gas but liquid natural gas is a liquid and that's not snow those are methane flakes like earth Titan has weather but it's of a rather psychedelic kind there are even anything hurricanes it's not water it's methane doing all the exact same things raining evaporating flowing in rivers so you have something that is basically doing what water does on earth on Titan only it's methane a similar scene may have existed on earth four billion years ago making scientists suspect that Titan could also be an incubator for life chemistry does go on at those cold temperatures it's really slow but Titan has had four billion years in which to do some chemistry and maybe in that period of time maybe something is cooked up it would have to cook up without liquid water something we've never seen before but scientists aren't ruling it out the substitute could be the methane so abundant on Titan used for fuel on earth methane was long thought poisonous to all life but in 1997 researchers examined mounds of methane ice in the Gulf of Mexico and they were astonished to find colonies of small centipede like worms thriving amid the frozen substance they think the worms may eat bacteria that feed on the methane in general things that we think of as deadly many of them are potentially lively if you can figure out an evolutionary way to tap into that energy rather than having it destroy you then it can be bountiful there could be one more complication for life on the surface of Titan with only a weak magnetic field to shield it living things on the surface could be exposed to cosmic radiation but that might not be a problem for an extreme a file as we found here on earth biologists have uncovered plenty of life near Chernobyl's contaminated nuclear reactor and even swimming in toxic radioactive spills actually feeding off the decaying molecules it's possible Titans life-forms could do the same to find life on Titan we may have to dive into its leafy notes where we might find chemical loving bacteria we may even find microbes resistant to radiation not unlike those here on earth the Chernobyl living on its rock-hard ice sheets organisms that eat methane might give off heat melting the ice possibly creating another fountain for life there's no doubt life on Titan would be a strange brew but we have yet to visit the most bizarre world where scientists believe life could exist and it's much closer to home our safari of the world's most likely to harbor alien life has taken us far we visited frigid deserts submerged oceans and methane lakes but the world we are about to visit may be the most extreme of all for our final stop we are turning back toward to Venus our closest planetary neighbor in the solar system if life can survive here it seems it could exist almost everywhere to reach the surface of Venus we have to fly through a dense layer of yellow clouds and 64 kilometers deep with a composition similar to battery acid the atmosphere here is 90 times heavier than Earth's too heavy for a human to tolerate on the ground there are extinct volcanoes and lava flows as far as the eye can see they cover 85% of the planet's surface it is hard to believe Venus once had vast oceans you basically had a runaway greenhouse effect where as it starts to get warmer the oceans start to evaporate and then that puts water vapor in the air well water vapor is a potent greenhouse gas so that's what leads to the runaway the oceans basically boil off and then the CO_2 all ends up in the atmosphere and so today you have this very hot hyper greenhouse planet with temperatures around 460 degrees Celsius Venus is even hotter than mercury the planet closest to the Sun not a surface hospitable to life life as we know it cannot exist on the surface of Venus because organic molecules would just be ripped to shreds by the hot gases but we've stopped here not because of what's on the ground but what's in the air in 1982 the Soviet spacecraft Venera 14 visited Venus in the clouds 50 kilometres up it detected temperatures much cooler than on the surface what's more it found the molecules so critical for life H_2O so far every bit of water we found beyond Earth is frozen solid only in the clouds above Venus have we found it in vapour form a possible incubator for life but Venus is clouds are also filled with highly acidic sulfur once we thought nothing could live in sulfur but scientists have analyzed some of the most acidic water on earth leaching from a California mine in sulfuric acids strong enough to erode metal eat through clothing and dissolve human flesh they found life acid-loving extremophiles these organisms feed on sulfur compounds like iron sulfide eating the iron and emitting the highly acidic sulfur do extremophiles like these float above Venus astrobiologist David Grinspoon likes to think it's possible maybe in the cards of Venus there are some sulfur based organisms sulfur actually absorbs ultraviolet light in interesting ways and I'm just imagining that there's some maybe some kind of photo chemical reaction going on where ultraviolet light is actually being used to convert chemicals into some higher energy state which then is basically being eaten what will these aliens be like when we do find them they would have to tolerate high temperatures and enormous atmospheric pressure they would also need to thrive in acid concentrations deadly to most life-forms perhaps they might resemble a hardy version of the acid resistant extremophiles in California's mine we keep finding that life lives in places that we used to think were inhospitable so whenever we say oh it's impossible you couldn't have life and the cause of Venus I think we have to be very careful because they might just reflect our own ignorance or our limitations on our own imagination and maybe not real limitations on the ultimate creativity of nature which seems to find solutions to these problems as a safari returns to the cool-blue lush and lively world of Earth we can see why we so revere it's life-sustaining gifts but as we are learning even the most extreme environments can Harbor living things extremophiles may resemble the first version of life in our universe and they could even be the most common could they have evolved further from these humble beginnings could intelligent life be out there as well for more than 40 years scientists at the search for extraterrestrial intelligence Institute in California have been searching the skies for answers to that question astronomer Seth Shostak believes he'll know the sound of alien life when he hears it we have a couple of observing projects to try and find signals the biggest one are our radio searches and that's where we use big arrays of antennas and we point these antennas at nearby star systems that we think well this is the kind of star that might have a planet that might be something like earth we point in those directions hoping to pick up a signal that would tell us that somebody there is clever enough to build a radio transmitter it's a safari that never leaves home today we're closer than ever to moving the answer some scientists believe we'll get our first look at our extraterrestrial cousins in the near future I hope it's in the next 10 years and I'm ready for it next week so the sooner the better what's more we could find these aliens not on distant planets in unexplored galaxies but right next door in our own solar system scientists are now honing in on proof that it is out there and living on the most hazardous of worlds our safari will journey to seven destinations in our solar system to see just where these creatures could be and what they might look like these exotic lands are unimaginably harsh life as we think of it would perish in an instant but alien life may be far tougher than we expect as we're learning from a surprising group of living things right here on earth until just a few decades ago we were sure our planet was unique it is the only one

we found so far that has nurtured the evolution of millions of species thanks to its abundant sunshine warm water and protective atmosphere we logically concluded that life needed each of those things the conclusion that ruled out all other known worlds in our solar system but then biologists began combing some of the Earth's darkest and coldest places and to their surprise they found living breathing creatures biologists call these organisms extremophiles some don't be light or oxygen others survive in tremendous atmospheric pressure it seems life can turn up practically anywhere take Antarctica after years of searching this arid frozen landscape scientists doubted they'd find anything alive but in 1999 a team of explorers unearthed a rock from six feet under the ice they found amazed when they cracked the rock open they found it teeming with tiny creatures here at temperatures of 68 degrees below zero and six feet under solid ice life had found a foothold biologists have been increasingly discovering life not kangaroos but you know simpler forms of life they live at very cold temperatures very high temperatures very great pressures even in places where there is sort of a high degree of radiation it turns out life is able to live in a much wider variety of environments on our own planet than we used to think and if life can survive extreme conditions not just here at home but elsewhere in our solar system think of what basically how could it survive in such extreme conditions since the 1960's scientists have sent dozens of probes to the Red Planet the first pictures of the barren landscape quickly dashed any hope of finding intelligent beings but what scientists did see startled them though there's no evidence of Marshall made canals there are signs that Mars actually may have had water some think the angry red planet might once have been blue you just have to look back a couple of billion years three and a half billion four billion years ago Mars had a thicker atmosphere had water on its surface clearly maybe develop life and as it slowly went bad you know the life had to adapt life may have adapted not died off because some liquid water may still exist underground but with no surface water frigid temperatures and ultra thin atmosphere Mars is a planet only one kind of creature could love an extreme file extremophiles thrive in the cruelest of places to see where they might lurk on Mars we head to the Valles Marineris a massive rift in Mars is surface 20 times wider than the Grand Canyon in places and almost as deep as Mount Everest is tall lakes may have once flooded this valley and those lakes could have hosted life as the water dried up life could have evolved to cope with the harsher environment we won't know what these extremophiles are like until we find them but they may resemble creatures that exist in extreme places right here on earth an unusual team of biologists called astrobiologists study earth for the kinds of life we may find in outerspace astrobiologist rocker Manchin Ellie is on the hunt for Mars's extremophiles if it went beneath the surface and some of it undoubtedly did then what happened to it well it formed brine pockets so what kind of organism can live in a salty brine a salt loving ordinance astrobiologist Chris McKay thinks he knows the kind of salt loving creatures that might survive on Mars creatures much like those he's found in one of the driest saltiest places on earth a fundamental challenge to life on Mars is in a sense that's fundamental challenge of life here in Death Valley its dryness that is the hardest thing for life to adapt to thousands of years ago a salty lake covered Death Valley just as lakes filled Mars is Mariner trench this appears like a lifeless place big flat white empty horizon but yet just below the surface we find layers of algae and bacteria growing there living in a environment that in many ways is fundamentally different from the environment that we sense on the surface with a system near an asteroid belt its atmosphere is too flimsy to protect it

asteroids continually bombarded surface violent winds can whip Mars is sandy soil into storms that consume the entire planet for weeks and spawn tornadoes eight kilometers high midday temperatures of the Equator of one degree Celsius fall to minus 70 at night David Grinspoon is a curator of astrobiology at the Denver Museum of Nature and Science as he sees it Mars will be warmer if it wasn't a planetary runt when I grabbed coffee on a cold morning I know that a small espresso is gonna cool off quickly whereas the larger coffee is gonna stay warm much longer large objects stay warm longer because their interiors are shielded from the outside where the cooling occurs and planets are exactly the same way a small planet will cool off early in its history a larger planet like Earth will stay warm for billions of years which makes it a better place probably to look for life despite Mazdas drawbacks it has always fascinated scientists because it's terrains seem to give evidence but it might support life it's dynamic landscape of mountains volcanoes and deep ravines is not unlike our earth to early astronomers these features look like oceans and rivers and even a system of canals supposedly not just supporting life but actually produced by it Percival Lowell in the United States observed these things and inferred that in fact these things were so straight and so regular in geometry that they had to have been the product of intelligent life okay well he was right the problem was the life was at the wrong end of the telescope in viewing this thing visually through a telescope eyepiece the the human eye brain combination started to connect things that weren't really there Lowell was not alone some scientists were shocked when the probe Viking one beamed back this image is that a human face perhaps produced by Martians until recently we've never really know where to look in our solar system for extraterrestrial life but we've always known what the aliens will be like once we found them usually there is more than a hint of the earthling in our aliens hostile or lovable they tend to return or mutant images of ourselves as a senior astronomer at the search for extraterrestrial intelligence Institute in California seth shostack has spent his career listening for the radio waves of a distant alien society there's no reason to assume that they're going to look like us or even think like us or behave like us or have language you know you just have to look at the variety of life on earth and you see that you know nature can come up with lots of different forms but if there is life on Mars here you're in a place which looks lifeless looks dead and yet you dig down and hidden underneath there it is beneath the salt is a layer of hardy green algae that survive on the water and light that trickle through the algae in turn feeds salt-loving microorganisms here in deserts on earth dried salty lake beds we're gonna find them on Mars as well salty deserts are not the only places life might be hiding on the Red Planet there are Mars is tremendous volcanoes some of them six times larger than those on earth astrobiologists penny Boston studies the caves called lava tubes left over after volcanic lava has dissipated not long ago we assumed caves like these were devoid of life they get no sunlight and no sunlight means known photosynthesis but in lava tubes outside Albuquerque New Mexico Boston has found evidence of extreme life because we know Mars has many many lava tubes and so here we have the opportunity to see how these formed and also to look at the life that inhabits them the extremophiles Boston has found appear to be thriving they get their energy by feeding on the minerals in the cave wall here up close to the wall and you can see these white patches here growing against the black basalt and each one of these is like major city for these little guys they're you know they're all nestled in these little pockets in the basalt and so these guys are permanently adapted to these freezing temperatures they never see any light and they get what they can find in the environment are there creatures like these in the caves below Mars's volcano fields Boston thinks so we are going to find life and I just hope that I live a long and healthy life so that I can still be around to see that we may already have had our first glimpse of Martians not from our visit to their planet but from their visit to ours sixteen million years ago an asteroid slammed into Mars and propelled a two kilogram rock into space amazingly that rock sailed to earth and came to rest in Antarctica inside NASA scientist David McKay and Everett Gibson were amazed to spot the outlines of fossils water has carved small tunnels in the rock and in these tunnels McKay and Gibson found what they believed to be evidence of bacterial life here's a little microbes and they're dead and they're their fossils or in some cases we don't even see the forms we see the footprints so the evidence that they were their life from Mars maybe the hunt is only just beginning NASA plans to send a rover called Phoenix to Mars unless there's something extraordinarily miraculous about our solar system or our planet then life has got to be extremely commonplace I mean that there's got to be large numbers of worlds with life and some of them would have cooked up intelligent life in the beginning our earth was as deadly a planet as any over the first billion years of Earth's existence cosmic debris pummeled it mercilessly the impacts turned its surface into a broiling seething Inferno when life was impossible but once the solar system settled down and the earth began to cool water appeared setting the stage for life in 1953 researcher Stanley Miller proved in a lab experiment just how easily life on Earth got its start the combined water with hydrogen methane and ammonia components of the Earth's early atmosphere then he zapped his solution with an electric charge to simulate lightning his results shocked the world Miller had created organic molecules called amino acids the protein building blocks of all living things if lightening helped jumpstart life on earth could it have done the same on other planets galactic probes have now found the ingredients in Miller's experiment throughout our solar system including one essential to life one of the requirements that every form of life that we know about on earth has every single one is liquid water we've used evidence for liquid water to kind of guide our search for habitable environments our safari is headed to seven worlds some possibly rich in water my scientists believe aliens might be hiding while any life there might have begun much like life on earth how it looks now is anyone's guess we begin in the world that has always fired our imaginations the planet right next door of all the planets where we've looked for life it's the one you've studied worst the scientists who make it the first look at Martians if they're found is Steve Squyres principal investigator for NASA's Mars rovers Mars has always had among all the planets I think a special fascination for for him as for a very long time we've known enough about Mars to know that it is probably the most earth-like it may be the most like earth with an atmosphere and seasons but we humans would perish quickly on Mars it's air is thin 40 times thinner than the air at the top of Mount Everest and it sits in a bad neighborhood of a minority of the population for example if you show people a photograph which is actually being computer-generated of them from their childhood going on a balloon ride and this photograph is in with lots of photographs from things in their childhood which really did take place the sizable minority will actually quite happily tell you about the time they went up in a hot-air balloon when they were six getting on that event never actually took place we do know that we're all potentially prone to these false memories much more so than we would ever up once guessed false memory syndrome is based on the idea that memory is faulty and memory is faulty obviously I'm living proof that memory is faulty the older I get the fact is though that memory is not so faulty that people are going to forget entire events they might get details wrong they might get their chronology out of order a little bit but the fact that they were for example in a train crash or something like that they're not going to forget that event without anecdotal evidence without human memory without the ability to retrieve memories we would not have a judicial system and a civilization we grow into walls psychologists have developed a wide range of plausible theories to explain why individuals believe they've been abducted by aliens but all of them have ultimately been countered by ufologists it has ranged from simply lying to psychosis it's mass hallucination it's mass hysteria it goes on and on and on there is no end to it however skeptics believe there is one simple factor that makes their case watertight as a scientist I'm interested in the question of whether or not there is anything happening here in terms of objective reality if there's no way of us being able to produce any kind of evidence hard physical evidence then I'd say that what we're looking at is essentially a psychological phenomenon in order to really challenge the skeptics argument ufologists need to find evidence that can stand up to scientific scrutiny in France one of the real 4,400 believed they may hold the proof ufologists have been looking for a Chanel Aleph world on his activity in Aleppo City Eric julienne is a retired pilot an air traffic controller whose career involved making tough decisions while under immense pressure who is a filament Hickey the man who stabbed you tips ecology it's the more important dawn over cappadocia control over anya over the past 15 years eric claims to have had a variety of extraterrestrial experiences both at home and at work citadel more local dr. Haddad the target so Muskoka dollars critical Iranian Army layer see a little less the value Western alfalfa meal kilometer as well as sightings Eric claims to have had regular contact and communication with alien beings that have given him a clear understanding of their technology they know zooty so Tajik the pub so limited and space material durability they took lead if you can take another home acompaña con pokemon this extractivist possibility after enduring years of abduction experiences Eric believes he has recently been left with solid evidence of their visits an element of perfect for the Papa Don Palacios sit letter is used in honest person you say it protect an oblong locate the possible is extractivist accordingly Eric slump provides science with something tangible a contest but Budd Hopkins believes his thirty years of research is already unearthed all the evidence that anyone would need the skeptics are fond of saying there's no physical evidence what the skeptics are saying gee I haven't heard of any because I haven't looked into it ok these are some of the photographs of scooping works that turn up again and again I may have seen a hundred of these why don't the critics recognize it it's because they don't even know anything about it but bob has collected photographs of abductees who claim their experience left him with abnormal scars a man's back here's another one on the front of the shin this is one I'm a little boy that turned up overnight he was 5 years old I had one case where there were three young women involved in an invention experience and at the end of it each one had a scoop mark in exactly the same place the doctors who have looked at these things have told me that they most closely resemble the scars from punch biopsies sometimes they will take two samples that person is reacting and another sample is taken sometimes people remember the tool that was used one can infer without much difficulty that they're taking a flesh sample to take from us our own DNA our own physical genetic makeup again these are marks which turn up again and again but we have no explanation of exactly why they are taking this flesh except obviously they're getting some kind of sample Eric has come to London to visit a leading ear nose and throat specialist and have the lump behind his ear tested hello this is very freely on can see that the puzzle piece he's hoping the results will make sense of his belief that the lump is in fact an alien implant supported when dacovia - not a provider si vous Kujo glad to meet you nice to meet you okay let's take a look at this page it's not tender at all if I was to touch it like this not causing any pain or discomfort no hey Sakura visit homes dawn dawn set up low C key booth to sell the Fuji the deuce mini-map on Simois stand ahead slightly away from me if you knew kinetic or organic or Donna colonoscopies fair to say tip the Dijkstra this could be Easter diagonals further by doing a couple of tests and I propose that we do an ultrasound of this area and a plain x-ray and actually there was a lot more information one of the reasons why Eric believes his lump is an implant is due to the nature of his experiences that took place in the summer of 2003 I mean is experience critical new you give it is experienced medical you've got a lump or a problem behind your ear I understand today I don't respond amongst a sea of an especially don't insult you was only a Selden artist a few G of wa kunu the sixth annual the this under woulda silicon induce solar fault all right once the ultrasound and x-ray results are processed and evaluated booster Achilles the consultant will be able to provide Eric with a clear diagnosis of his lump you experience Rachel and the boys were left confused by what it was they experienced the next day we talked about it again and you just wanted to know who else had seen it but you just didn't know how how to find that out and you know we talked about a number of things and mum came up with the idea of phoning the radio station at the local radio station family from North Lancashire been describing how they saw a mysterious light in the sky last night Rachel Deveraux was driving on the moors between Inkleturn and Bentham with her two children and her mother and they all saw a bright light move with great speed and change directions and so she's never seen anything like it before this was like a really really bright pure white light in a perfect bullshit no trails nothing lots of people say well a few people said this see this light seriously Keith Nick Clitheroe Vera and Clara and Ian in Finnish goals a local UFO group also heard a family story and made contact I got in touch with Anne first I phoned her up and that was shortly after the first saw the light and she was very euphoric about it she was just wanting out it was really the UFO group were able to help Rachel and and document the events of the night but the emotional support they could offer was limited we're a local UFO group we're not professionally qualified at all and I think you'll be quite difficult for someone to go to their MP who I mean the GP there isn't anyone who could deal with people who've got strange experience like this I think they'll want to get answers to what happened some during that time whether the will do is open to question you suddenly you've got all these different factors in your life that are just complain mystery its helplessness and it makes you cry because you don't know how to stop it you don't know what it was and I mean it's making me cry I don't know right growth if you don't think about it like we are now May becomes overwhelming and you can't cope with it you I mean the kamat use xscape just consent we've all got false memories and you all imagined it I know I didn't because I know how it's made me feel inside more than anything it's so it's just wanting to make sense of it that's the way that's the feeling it gives you just wanting more knowledge in wanting to make everything fit into place in a way that you can understand while these experiences often create feelings of fear and anxiety not everyone who reports them find them distressing in fact many believe their contact with extraterrestrial beings has ultimately enriched their lives my first really conscious memory of my experiences with extraterrestrials was from about the age of 3 years old where I would be meeting I guess like

my other family there were no difference to me I just saw them as my my star family like you know and my parents here were my earth family Tracy Taylor grew up in Perth Western Australia and claims to have had regular experiences that involved tests on her body and information put into her mind I think I learned pretty quick not to talk about it I think I just focused it into my schoolwork and used the knowledge and the understandings that I had to do well at school Tracy's experiences intensified through her teens until she got to the point where she felt she needed to take control of what was going on I had to question my own sanity basically so I went along to visit psychiatrists psychologists asked for my brain to be scanned I'm ready to think that they're gonna take me up to the hospital in a minute the brain scans showed up to be normal all the psychological tests showed up to be fine one of them walked up to me and said you know is there anything really negative about this I said well not really but it's hard to integrate into my life they said well good luck with it that's just what okay this is confirmation for me all right and that was the end of it I just walked out of there and thought okay I'll get on with it I'll accept it Tracy now integrates her experiences into the rest of her life and focuses on the positive aspects they have brought out just prince fantastic symbolism here she believes her contact with extraterrestrials has given her a unique artistic ability that she now wants to develop into a career the first time I ever did one of these drawings I just had the urge to get my paper in my pen something just sort of came over me and my hand started to move do you actually see anything cause is it just from within you like a downloading of information I suppose in a symbolic form just sort of seems to feel like it comes through me it's not from me much more like a sort of radio waves Tracey was interested in art before these illustrations came through but claims that her style of drawing changed radically overnight I recognized very much the Silver State symbol over a period of time I spoke to people who studied ancient cultures and these people were able to pinpoint things in the pictures saying this is something that you could find in a temple in in Peru when this is something you'd find in a temple in in Luxor in Egypt until an expert read this I've had linguists looking at it and they say again that it's related to hieroglyphics in ancient sumerians at various times over the past six years Tracey has also produced a series of graphical illustrations which she claims she later discovered hold a hidden message and that circles dropping over the top of that pyramid exactly yes yeah yes again it fits so these were all done over different periods of time and yet they all look together to form a whole looking at just on a purely surface level there is an element of storytelling apparently this depicts the past and moving into the present and they're moving into the future and that only ones storytelling I can relate to because they have a similarity of stained-glass windows and telling a spiritual story and the lotus blossom and they're bursting forth yeah we've probably maybe think we never know the answer of where it comes from or how it gets to be in a pencil at the tip of a hand but you can't take away from the fact that there is something it's common for abductees to come to be given special abilities as a result of their experience typically these will include the ability to heal or to be able to pass on messages to humanity if in some way the messages that are coming through me can assist other people and the planet that they're connected to I think it's it's great one of the things that has to always be borne in mind about the abduction experience is that the communication in virtually all these cases is telepathic so one has to assume that every abductee can pick up thoughts from the aliens and communicate non-verbally therefore that's a basic paranormal gift is that something that only abductees have or is that something that might be more extensively present in the population we don't really know believers argue that people who return with enhanced psychic abilities provide yet further proof that their experience was real people who have had this experience claim that they have unusual powers by natural facts they don't seem able to demonstrate these powers under control conditions if they could then that would be absolutely amazing but at the moment though the wider scientific community doesn't even accept that these kind of claim powers are real skeptics continue to dismiss the types of evidence ufologists and believers have to offer but can ignore the medical opinion of a qualified surgeon especially one who claims that strange objects he has removed from abductees defy earthly explanation we have those which are metallic and covered with this very very strange membrane and at the time of surgery can't be cut with a surgical blade is impervious to cutting Rachel Devereaux had her first missing time experience just three months ago while driving home having looked into the phenomenon she is decided to take a bold but common step for people who have had this type of encounter she's going to have hypnotic regression I'm feeling quite nervous about it about the regression but also quite excited alright so you might not done this before but I think a few thousand times Rachel's hoping that under hypnosis she can be taken back to when she had her experience and retrieved memories that are not consciously accessible I want it to be an honest account you know if I do remember how do you feel it's no walls it's just black everywhere he's like standing in the middle of space there's big big bright light here right in front of me that's high and that's watching what the little ones are doing the small ones going around and looking at and talking to each other they think the boys are funny I think they're funny I can hear laughing now the children laughing they're really giggling I'm scared for the children put the lights there and it's just telling me that's fine and we're not gonna hurt them that your children that your children yeah that's fine yeah yourself going back all that good have you feel wow I can't believe how real that felt from my perspective having completed thousands of regressions over the years you didn't fabricate that she didn't pretend to cry speechless I'm just kind of speechless do I believe everything that happened I'm sort of 90% there yeah but it was real testimonies obtained from abductees under hypnosis often provide compelling detailed accounts of what happened during their missing time episode they have given you follow gist some mountain of anecdotal evidence to support their claims but skeptics find these reports unreliable the alien abduction phenomenon I think is somewhat complicated by the whole debate about hypnosis let's be honest scientists don't even agree on what hypnosis is people typically think that hypnotic regression is this kind of magic key for unlocking repressed or hidden memories in actual fact it's a great way of producing false memories it's based on expectations it's based on imagination it's all we wove them together and then they believe in this narrative in the hands of the wrong people it can be disastrous and in the hands of the right people people who know what they're doing who have adequate controls in place for false memories and things like that hypnosis is an excellent tool for getting at the truth with such a major source of research ignored by skeptics the need for unequivocal physical evidence is all the more important in America a surgeon has come forward with claims which may provide ufologists with the break they've been hoping for I started this as the ultimate skeptic I was then embroiled in the phenomena and shown things that could not be said for actually explained by our own science dr. Leah has been a practicing foot surgeon for the past 35 years but in 1994 he began removing foreign bodies from patients who claimed they were alien implants one of these people have things in their bodies which they've stepped on or exposed in a machine shop to a piece of metal others unfortunately have mental problems and would like to be an abductee since he started in this area eight years ago dr. Leir has conducted 11 operations and claims to have removed an assortment of mysterious objects there it is here so this putting piece of white guys I think this is it so we're gonna x-ray to make sure we have those which are metallic and covered with this very very strange membrane and at the time of surgery can't be cut with a surgical blade that's impervious to cutting and researching the pathology books no such entity has ever been found in the human body a logic explanation would be that it's not human tissue of course however when we get into the metals that's when we really get in to the strange stuff we had help from the National Institute for discovery science and they sent the first set of specimens to Los Alamos National Labs and to Mexico New Mexico Tech now these were blind studies all the studies are blind I mean by that that the laboratories are not told the origin of the specimens and the best analogy that the scientists were able to make initially where these were very close to meteorites the scientific community has generally disregarded dr. Lee's claims they feel his studies are inconclusive and are not supervised closely enough to rule out any chance the disciples may have been tampered with dr. Leir stands by his claims and thinks that it's the skeptics who are at fault I have never met a skeptic yet that didn't know everything about what I was doing and drawn all the conclusions but has never looked at one shred of the physical evidence or the data the moment of truth has arrived for Eric with the x-ray and ultrasound results return to the consultant Eric is about to discover if the lump behind his ear is natural or extraterrestrial so see it's decay come on until what you be Oscar will deduce many metal more first thing I want to show you is the ultrasound report and the old SoundScan and as you can see here there is the lesion that we are looking at and it's just under the surface of the skin and the appearances of those in keeping with assist and nothing else and when we look at the plain x-ray they certain is nothing metallic or anything of a hard consistency in this lump and this is again in keeping with the diagnosis of a benign cystic lesion we call it a sebaceous cyst it's a collection of material from a blocked sweat gland and it arises when a sweat caused becomes obstructed and the normal sebaceous material is not able to escape and therefore collects under the skin surface and forms a cystic collection could be possible to have an explanation about how assist could move from one way to from one point to another one and there is no easy solution or answer to that problem I am all I can speculate is that there may have been an episode of inflammation which is typical of these cysts well thank you very much indeed we log anticipated profit monitoring or news new intruder technology detects activists only the power definitely more your hope you see NEPA discusses well and avoid status although dr. Patel believes his findings are conclusive Erick remains unconvinced by such an Orthodox diagnosis and his concerns are shared by implant specialist dr. Leah the object is certainly rectangular there the color is not normal for the skin he claims that it has moved that certainly in the gates is something being a sebaceous cyst sebaceous the words sebaceous comes from the word sebum which is a gland attached to a hair follicle and that becomes inflamed and infected and that's how you get the sebaceous cyst they would not move from one hair follicle to another we got one of these implants and it turns out that it's a of alien technology or that it's made of materials that wouldn't be easy to find on earth then great it's a fantastic scientific breakthrough when dealing with this phenomenon skeptics argue that the evidence does not exist whereas ufologists say the evidence is there but science just doesn't know how to interpret it it would seem that without a miraculous breakthrough there is little chance of either side reaching a common understanding however there are a new set of theories developed by the world's leading physicists that believers point to as holding the key to explaining this mystery a lot of physicists think we're entering a new golden age of theoretical physics and in a way we're beginning to be able to address questions such as why is the universe here at all dr. Brian Cox is a particle physicist who is directly involved with multimillion-dollar experiments to find out that the universe could contain hidden dimensions that are still to be discovered in the last 10 years theories have been developed where that we need other dimensions to explain the way the universe looks to us so not only three dimensions up and down and across and even a fourth one time but actually something like 10 or 11 dimensions that means it's a whole swathe of the universe out there that we really know very little about extra dimensions the Kabir a centimeter away from my head an entire universe with you know things could live there for our parole we know also there can be wormholes so these these are tunnels and in space-time so you could pop into a wormhole at one end of the universe and instantaneously appear another end of the universe and those tunnels could even be between one time in the universe to another so they could in principle allow time travel to happen now we don't know whether those things exist or not but the theory allows them to exist these theories do not provide any evidence to support the claims of abductees but they do offer a framework that can explain the universe and our place within it and perhaps that's exactly what the missing time phenomenon is all about trying to find a belief system that makes sense of our world and universe I think your belief system plays a part in interpreting as it were what you think you've seen if you see a figure at the foot of your bed if you're religious you might think you've seen an angel if you believe in the paranormal you might say you've seen a ghost if you're a ufologist you might say that's an alien we live in a culture where it's easier to believe in God it's saner to believe in a God than it is to believe that there's life on other planets we have multiple witness sightings of people seeing extraterrestrials and their occupants that's a no-no there's a stigma but if you believe in God that's okay I find that very interesting most scientists agree that the universe is both old enough and large enough for extraterrestrial life to exist whether we've made contact with it yet depends on who or what you believe someone doesn't believe my prediction my fault the 4400 Tuesday at 9:00 and next here on sky1 we're caught up in a murder you said we could be saving philadelphia harrison falls stars in witness

ALEX:

It's all already happened.

It was over before it began.

You know, the world
could end tomorrow, but...

You know,
but what else is new, right?

So maybe you--
You can't change how it ends

but you sure as hell can change
how you get there.

Jesus. Fuck.

[QUIETLY]
What the fuck?

"Watch me."

[MOUSE CLICKS]

[SIGHING]
Okay.

I know this is weird,

and you're probably freaking the fuck out,

but just relax.

You're not dreaming.

You're not drunk,
and you're not high.

This is, um--

[BREATHES DEEPLY]

This is happening.

So if you could, uh--

You could stop your heart
from doing somersaults,

and your thoughts from drowning
in a sea of confusion, then--

Then I'll explain everything.

you might wanna take
a shot or two of bourbon first.

What the fuck?

ALEX [ON COMPUTER]:

I'm serious, man.
It's gonna help.

Yeah, um...

Yeah. I-- Shit. I--

Um, I'm-- I'm not really sure how to...

explain this because it's-- It's such a

gargantuan mind-fuck,

so I'll just, um--

I'll start at the beginning.

[DOORBELL RINGS]

[DOORBELL RINGS]

[BANGING ON DOOR]

Alex Jacobs?

You a lawyer?

My name is Rebecca Stillman.

I work for A.R.I.S.T.
May I come in?

Who the fuck is
A.R.I.S.T.?

Advanced Research Institute of Science and Technology.

We're a private company
under contract with the NSA.

Look, lady,

I've been cleared,

so if you wanna talk
to my lawyer--

I'm here to offer you a job.

That's, uh...

That's a hell of an NDA.

Okay. So you're gonna
show up on my doorstep,

offer me a job,
but you're not gonna

tell me
what it is?

I can't divulge any specifics

until you've signed
the non-disclosure agreement.

It's only a precaution.
No obligation.

As a gesture of how important it is for us that you

consider our proposal,

I'd like to offer a little something just to hear me out.

What is this?

Sign, and it's yours.

You're gonna pay me
just to sign the NDA?

You've got nothing to lose.

All right. Shoot.

We'd like to hire you to decipher an encrypted message.

Okay. Why me?

Because you're arguably
one of the best

cryptographers
of your generation.

No, come on.

That's bullshit.
Look, I'm good,

but the best? No.

We like your work, Alex.

We were particularly impressed with your Amber algorithm.

My Amber algorithm.

That, uh, pissed a lot of people off, that one.

It did more than that.

Broke countless laws,
compromised

the security of hundreds
of multinational firms,

and folded the company
you worked for.

You know, I can't take all the credit for that.

You see, the-the NSA,
they pressured us

into implementing back doors

for the sake of
"national security."

And you do know after
that information leaked,

they turned their backs,

and they threw us
under the bus,

so thank you, Uncle Sam.

It's business.

It's conspiracy.

Come on. I signed
the NDA. What, uh--?

What ethically-ambiguous
scheme is it this time?

Two months ago,
we detected

a U.S. military satellite in orbit.

A satellite we never sent up.

It was retrieved
and examined,

and inside, we found
an encoded message.

One that we've been unable to decrypt.

What do you mean,
you didn't send it up?

We never sent that satellite into orbit.

So it's not American.

It's ours.
Just not from now.

[INHALES SHARPLY]

We believe
it's from the future.

I'm sorry, uh, what?

There was a non-encrypted
message stating its origin.

Of course,
we were dubious at first,

but after undergoing
a variety of tests

we've come to the conclusion that it was,

in fact,
sent back in time.

Okay, you're, uh--
You gotta be fucking kidding me.

It contains advanced apparati
well beyond our--

This is gonna bounce, right?
The check?

That check's gonna bounce.

That check will not bounce.

I assure you.

Alex, I'm speaking to you with utmost sincerity.

Let me get this straight.

You're telling me
that there is a satellite

that has been
sent back in time,

and it has
an encrypted message

that you want me to decrypt.
That's what you're saying?

We'd like to bring you to a secure laboratory

where you will have all the time and resources you need.

[CHUCKLING]
Wait a minute. You're serious?

A secure laboratory?

In a private facility.

Yes, if you agree
to my offer,

you'll be sedated
and transported.

[LAUGHING] What?

As a security measure.

Sedated? No! Okay.

Look, Alex, this is the opportunity of a lifetime.

No. The NSA sent you here
to fuck with me, didn't they?

I understand
this is hard to swallow.

Look, if you're trying to dupe me,

maybe you should use something more credible.

Okay. Okay.

Take out your phone.

I just had that check deposited
into your bank account.

And that was just
for signing the NDA.

You sign the contract
to work for us...

Your reputation's tarnished,
Alex.

No one wants to hire
a cryptographer

who specializes in subverted implementations.

You're scraping by, freelancing
for start-ups under an alias.

You're drowning in legal debt,
and living in

your mom and dad's old home.

You can't afford to turn this down.

Check your phone.

You're serious.

You sign this contract,

the first half
will be transferred

into your account immediately.
The rest upon completion.

Yeah, I signed it.

I would've been crazy
not to.

It was a ridiculous
amount of money.

They came for me
the next day.

[EXHALES HEAVILY]

[DOOR CLOSES]

Are you fucking
kidding me?

Don't get any ideas.

[SYRINGE SHOOTS]

[DOOR OPENS]

How's your head?

I feel like I was roofied
and lobotomized.

That'll pass.

You ready
to see the lab?

ALEX:
Let's do it.

Here you go.

I'm only decrypting
a message, right?

You'll find everything you need.

If not, we'll do our best
to accommodate any requests.

Is that it?

REBECCA:
Yeah. That is the chamber that contained the key.

No fucking way.

It's a vacuum.

They used quantum memory?

Yeah, but what we extracted
was just a lot of noise.

I'm assuming you guys tried
a dictionary attack, yeah?

REBECCA:
No luck. We think they sabotaged

the encryption algorithm.

That's your real entry point.

They left a back door.

REBECCA:
Something with which you're uniquely qualified.

[CLICKS TONGUE]

Ai-ai-ai. Okay. Uh.

This-- This could take a little bit.

They sent it
back this way,

to this specific time,
for a reason.

They believed
we could crack it.

We've uploaded a portion of the message onto a secure server.

That can help you recover the key.

Any idea
what it could be?

We're all waiting
to find out.

All right. Well, I'm not seeing a coffee pot in here.

That's gotta change.

Um, I'd also like a minifridge filled with beer.

Not kidding.
And if you could get me

a bottle of Scotch or bourbon.

Nothing under 20 years.
It's essential to my process.

You get me those things...

I'll get you the key.

[DOOR OPENS]

Good morning.

ALEX:
Is it?

I must have missed the sunrise.

We know this work
can be taxing,

and this environment
claustrophobic.

We've arranged for a weekend leave.

You keep saying "we."

Who is "we"?

It's been five weeks,
Alex.

We think it's time
you take a break.

Get outside, maybe

interact with other people.

I don't need it.

We think it'd be good for you.

Yeah. I don't need it.

Human interaction
is important,

and you refuse to speak
to our psychologist.

Even one conversation a day
helps keep the mind healthy.

I don't need to hear myself talk.

I do not crave comfort
through interaction,

and I do not feel particularly compelled to play pedestrian psych games

with your in-house shrink.

So why don't you just
let me soak up the me time,

and get some fucking work done,
all right?

Do you mind?

I'm on the clock,

and I'd like you
to get your money's worth.

[DOOR CLOSES]

[DOOR OPENS]

WOMAN:

I am going to assign

a one to the vertical spin,
and...

uh, let's make
the diagonal 0.

Let's try that.

[DOOR OPENS]

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

Assholes...

[DOOR OPENS]

You never told me.

Never told you what?

I wasn't
the first person here.

You hired another
cryptographer, didn't you?

Well, I guess
I'm the guy you call

when nobody else
can get the job done.

They're blueprints.

Designs for a machine
of some sort.

Not really sure what, though.
It's incomplete.

You guys only gave me a portion of what you found on that thing.

You read through all this?

Some of them.

There's something else.

It's a message.

It's Navajo.

Keeping it local.

It's a-- It's a warning.

[CHUCKLES]

Yeah.

Yeah, apparently, we are on the eve of the Third World War,

and that machine,
whatever the fuck it is,

is our first line of defense.

Your service
has been appreciated.

The remainder of your fee
will be transferred.

You'll be sedated
and escorted home.

Come on, come on.
What, no--? No champagne?

To ensure your adherence to
the terms of the contract,

you'll remain

under surveillance.

Not one word is to be spoken,
written or thought.

You're welcome.
You're welcome!

Do you have any idea?
Any idea what I did here?

Get off me.

[SYRINGE SHOOTS]

What the fuck?

[PILLS CLATTER]

ALEX [ON COMPUTER]:
I thought, at first,
it was a, um

side effect of the sedative,

or that maybe
I was just

purging the stress
from my system.

It was about three or four days

before I could keep anything down.

Then it started.

[FAINT CRACKLING]

[CRACKLING]

[VOICES ON RADIO TALKING, DISTORTED]

MAN'S VOICE:

Now you see what we see.

[DOORBELL RINGS]

MAN 1:

Alex Jacobs?

My colleague and I would like to ask you a few questions.

You from
A.R.I.S.T.?

May we come in?

Okay, um...

what's this all about?

We're here to ask you
a few questions.

What, like a customer-satisfaction survey?

The questions are regarding your recent work.

The satellite.

Uh, yeah. I can't talk about it.
I'm-- I'm under contract.

We're curious
to know why you agreed to help decipher

the code.

You're what?

We are curious.

Still can't talk about it.

These questions do not betray
the parameters of your contract.

All right, so...

So you wanna know
why I took the job.

MAN 1:
Yes.

Yeah, I took it
because you paid me.

You did it for money?

No. I didn't do it for money.

Look, between you and me,

I actually did it for the year's supply of mouthwash.

Ah, yeah, yeah.
I did it for the money.

You acted in no part
out of a sense of altruism?

Altruism? No, guys,
I'm not curing cancer, okay? I--

[HIGH-PITCHED RINGING]

Ugh. I decrypted a message.

MAN 1:
Then your decision
was purely selfish?

All right, look,

I've had the mother
of all migraines

for the past week.
I'm a little bit out of it.

I'm gonna need you guys
to help me out here.

You're in need of help?

What do you want?

MAN 2:
We are curious.

Jesus Christ.

You agreed to decipher
the code for profit.

Much like your previous work

implementing back doors
in security programs.

The outcomes of your actions
do not concern you?

The outcomes? It's a job.

I mean, if I'm not doing it,
someone else will.

Why did they ask you?

What? What?

Why did they ask you?

You know what, can I see some, uh, identification?

Identification?

Yeah, I'd like to see some.

Will you feel responsible for the harm that will come from the weapon?

We-- The weapon?

Will ID make you feel more comfortable?

The weapon that will be constructed from the blueprints.

Will it make you compliant?

What are you talking about?
What weapon?

The blueprints
you decrypted.

I deciphered blueprints, but--

Is it something you base trust on?

MAN 2:
You did not know?

No, I didn't.

I did not know this.

How do you feel
now that you know?

Do you feel regret?

It was a job.

Okay? I needed the money,
so I took the job.

There was no--
You know,

no forethought,
no ulterior motive.

It was just a fucking job.

So whatever...

I deciphered
was not my creation,

and I am not responsible for what happens next.

Does it scare you?

Do you trust us?

[IN UNISON]
Have you thought about--

--your own death?

--the people that will die?

[BREATHING HEAVILY]

No, no, all right. You guys--

You gotta go.

MAN 1:
We are thankful
for the time

you have taken to answer our questions.

MAN 2:

It means a great deal to us.

[ALEX PANTING]

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

What the--?

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

[CELL PHONE RINGING]

REBECCA [ON PHONE]:

What are you doing?

You were not authorized to commit that message

to memory.

That is property
of the U.S. government.

Shit, are you kidding me?
You hacked into my computer?

You were informed
you'd be under surveillance.

The fuck are you--?
Are you watching me? Huh?

You're legally bound to
the terms of the contract.

This place bugged?

Don't let this happen again.

You've been warned.

Fuck. You send--

Fucking send people here.

I hope you got a good show last night

when I was jacking off.

[EXHALES HEAVILY]

Are you fucking kidding me?

Jesus Christ. These pricks...

Cut the lights.

[WOOD CREAKS]

[LAUGHS NERVOUSLY]

[GROANING CONTINUES]

[CAR ENGINE RUMBLING]

[ENGINE STOPS]

[DOORBELL RINGS]

[DOORBELL RINGS]

REBECCA: Alex?

ALEX: Yeah.

ALEX:
In here.

Yeah, I know this--

This looks a little,
um, ahem....

So-- Right.

So I was-- I was stuck on this--
On this one--

On this one-- This one thing
on this one equation, right?

And-and I was thinking
to myself maybe--

Maybe it had to do
with-with quantum foam,

because of all the little wormholes in there, or maybe--

Maybe it had something to do with the, um--

With the holographic,
ah, principle.

Maybe it was that,
and maybe

we're in
a two-dimensional space,

because that would explain
the size difference.

Just wait a minute.
Just wait a minute.

I realized that I was being misdirected

and that I was too busy focusing on what I was seeing and not when.

What is all this?

It's the answer.

You see, if they can travel here
through space and time,

then that means that they can probably control space and time.

Which means they can exist
in the same space as us,

just at a different time.

No, no, no.
Think about it. Think.

They could be in this room,
just not right now.

They could be six hours
into the future,

12 hours into the past.

They could be in a time
where nobody can see them,

but in a place
where they can watch.

Now here's the part
that I didn't get at first.

I didn't understand,
but they're watching us.

They're watching us
through windows in time.

They're observing us,
they're studying us,

and they are
fucking everywhere.

You need to stop this.

No, no, no,
no, no.

No, I'm not the one that needs to stop.

You need to stop.

You need to stop building
that machine, okay?

It's not from us.

It is not from
the fucking future, okay?

It is from them.

They put those blueprints on that satellite with that message

to start the next war,
not to prevent it.

That's their plan.

We have your medical records.

We know about the tumor.

[SCOFFS, CHUCKLES]

A.R.I.S.T. have a compensation package for that one?

We're very sorry, Alex.

You're fucking sorry.
You put me in a room

with a satellite emitting

fucking
God-knows-how-much radiation.

That's the thing, right?

That's the thing. That's the thing that lets me see them.

Lets me look at them
as they look at me.

You're hallucinating.

No, I'm not.

That's what they want you to think.

This won't change anything.

Yes, it will.

You cannot build that machine.

This is not about a machine.

Yes, it is.

You're sick!

Look, I know you
don't have any family,

but maybe there's friends that you wanna--

I mean, is there someone you wanna see,

or a place you wanna go?
We can help with that. We can.

But you have got to stop this.

Let the work
and the message you've--

I'm not dying!

God, denial's a bitch, man.

But they weren't listening and I was adamant that there was something sinister at play.

[SIGHS]

I mean, sure, you know,

there was a part of me
that thought that maybe I was...

losing my mind...

but then I remembered

I wasn't the only
cryptographer they hired.

[BIRDS CHIRPING]

[LOCK CLICKS]

Beth Carter?

I'm Alex Jacobs.
I'm a-- I'm a cryptographer.

W-why are you here?

A couple months ago,
I was hired by a company, um...

I-I'm sorry,
I'm not feeling very well.

I know, but I need--
I need to talk--

I have to go.

Can I just talk to you

for one second?
It's-it's important.

I worked on-- Shit.

I worked on the same message as you!

All right, listen to me.

You don't have to worry, okay?
I'm not with A.R.I.S.T.

I went to the library
to track you down.

They don't even know that I'm here.

Ow! Fuck. Look.

I stayed in the same room as you.

Okay? I saw--

I found your name etched
onto the bedpost.

The message,
it's not-- It's not--

It's not what it says it is.
It's-- It's--

It's not from us.

I tried to tell them,
but they won't--

They won't...

listen, and...

I'm seeing things
that I can't explain,

but no one believes me

because I'm--

[BREATHING HEAVILY]

They gave me six months.

I've got two left.

I still don't accept it.

It's hard to imagine that

four weeks
from now,

I will no longer
be able to walk.

In six weeks,
I'll be so weak, I...

won't be able to talk.

And in eight weeks,
I'll be ashes.

Was there something wrong
with my decryption?

Is that why
they brought you in?

No, no, no, no, no.

As far as I know, they--

They only brought me in to corroborate.

You know it's a weapon, right?

A warning from the future isn't exactly gonna

show up with blueprints
for a microwave.

It's not from the future.

I'm-I'm so sorry,
I-- I didn't even

offer you something
to drink.

I'll actually take something

a little bit harder,
if you don't mind.

BETH:
Oh. Ha.

I forgot I even had that.

[LIQUOR POURS]

You're not gonna have any?

No, I don't drink.

I thought about quitting...

[CHUCKLES]
but fuck it.

BETH:
You know you're the first person
I've talked to in over a month?

Well,
other than doctors.

[CHUCKLES]
And Cipherman, but he's...

Do A.R.I.S.T.

still contact you?

I-- I'm pretty sure
he works for them.

I mean, he must.

There's no way he'd know what he does if he didn't.

Who is--?
I'm sorry, who's CIPHERMAN?

The screen just went black,
and then the next thing I know,
he was communicating with me.

That was about a month ago,

and I've spoken
every day since.

He gave you problems to solve?

It was a nice distraction.

What else
do you guys talk about?

Quantum physics, mostly.

Sometimes,
it felt like he was challenging

my understanding of it.

What, like, testing you?

I think it was

for the sake of conversation,
more than anything.

I took those screen shots
to prove to myself it was real.

[SCOFFS]
After I was diagnosed,
I never could tell.

I'm still not even sure you're real.

I-- I need to lie down.

Okay. All right,
come here. I got you.

Want some, uh--?

Some Valium?

Oh, those don't work anymore.

No, you're not.

I'm here. I'm real.

I never wrote my name
in binary.

[BELL PEALING]

[COMPUTER TRILLS]

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

[QUIETLY]
"--fast. How are you feeling today?"

"Nauseous."

Oh, my God.

Hi. Oh,
you feel better?

Good. Hey, I got a--
I got a question.

I was looking around.

Ah, do you have--?
Do you have any more--?

Do you have more of these things with the--?

With the problems
that he gave you?

What did you do?

Well, it's--
It's, uh...

It's-- It's a message.

Heh, heh. There's-- There's gaps in it,

there's pieces missing,
but it's--

It's a message to, um--

Have you ever put
these together before?

No, no, no. It's-- It's pieces.

It's pieces of a puzzle,
and-- And, um,

you decipher them,
you solve them independently,

and you put them together.

I think this guy's trying to tell you something.

Did--? Did you--?

Did I--? Oh, yeah. Yeah.

Uh, he contacted me, um
last night, but I--

You talked to him?

Yeah. Well, no,
he knew I wasn't you.

No, you--
You can't talk to him.

I-- I didn't talk to him, okay?
He knew that I wasn't you.

Okay, but this is mine.
Okay?

This is my computer,
these are my notes, my house.

You can't--

That's fine, it's fine.

Look, I don't think
he's working for A.R.I.S.T.

You can't be here.

Do you wanna know
what the difference between me and you is?

I'm the guy
that doesn't give a shit.

Okay? The NSA, they came in and forced the company that I worked for

to write back doors
in our algorithms,

and I didn't think twice about it.

I figured they were gonna
do it anyway,

I might as well
collect the check.

No, not you.
I read your bio.

You worked for Everleaf.

Okay? They told the NSA
to go fuck themselves.

Rather than compromise
the privacy of their clients,

they shut down.

You? You give a shit.

Help me stop this.

Come with me.

That's the day
I accepted the job.

After that, I got sick.

I started hallucinating.

I tried to come up
with rational,

reasonable explanations,
but none of them satisfied me,

so I started thinking about the message.

About the key
and quantum memory.

Polarized photons carrying a message from the future.

And photons are just packets of light, and...

light crosses the universe.

What if someone or...

something was sending messages
into the abyss?

Across space.

Across time.

All we have to do
is look for them.

I started capturing photons
and deciphering codes.

I became obsessed.

I believed the dead
were speaking to me.

Calling down
from the heavens.

Then, among their voices,
I heard my own.

I was just talking to myself.

Neither one of us should ever have taken this job

because it's taken
our health.

And whoever we used to be...

isn't who we are now.

You see them.

Everything you think you see
is just death.

Do you see that one
out the window there?

If I'm hallucinating,

then how are we hallucinating
the same thing?

This is real.

This is happening.

They put that message
on that satellite,

and this machine-- This is gonna tip the first domino.

We have to do something.

I just wanna die in peace.

[VOICE CRACKS]
...leave.

[CAR DOOR OPENS]

REBECCA: We've warned you.

[SIGHS]
Why were you in contact with Beth Carter?

Are you fucking serious?

How did you find her?

I told you
to leave all this behind.

[CHUCKLES]
What are you gonna do?
Kill me?

This is a matter
of national security.

You can only push so far before it's out of our hands.

Great. Then do me a favor.

Why don't you take a gun and shoot me

right through this fucking tumor?

You're not alone.

I know there's not much left
in this life for you,

but if there's someplace you wanna go or unfinished business,

we can help.

What about Beth?

Beth is none of your concern.

She's to be left alone.

Did you help her too?

You're not to visit

Beth again.

This is the last time
I'll be coming here.

Do you understand?

[CLICKS TONGUE]

Or what? Hm?

You weren't the only one exposed in that lab.

Time is all we have, Alex.

Use yours wisely.

[WHISPERS]
What the fuck?

[SIGHS]
Fuck.

[INAUDIBLE SCREAMING]

I thought that I...

wasn't here anymore.

I thought that I had been taken.

I was in a...

[SNIFFLES]
...glass tank somewhere.

Like ants in a colony...

going about our business.

Oblivious to the scientists watching over us.

[COMPUTER BEEPS]

[BOTTLE CLUNKS]

[KEYBOARD CLACKING]

[SCOFFS]

Mm.

[DOORBELL RINGS]

Is this real?

Oh, I fucking hope not.

You're drunk.

They took fucking everything.

That bitch and her fucking
A.R.I.S.T. watchdogs.

Are you okay?

[SCOFFS]

I'm fucking dying.

He was just here.

One of them?

No, not one of them.

Those assholes are always somewhere.

I'm talking about your boy.
I'm talking about Cipherman.

He contacted you?

He told me to come here.

He gave me your address.

I think you're right.

I think he's trying to figure out a way

to stop the machine.

He sent me the blueprints.

[SIGHS]
He's gotta be working on the inside

to have access to these.

This make sense to you?

A beam pipe,
a thermal shield...

a vacuum vessel.

It's--
It's all controlled by, uh--

By an air-gapped computer.

This is...
playing with existence.

He had you figuring out algorithms, right?

Which means
he's targeting the computer,

which would mean
the machine's already built.

It doesn't make sense, though.
How is that--?

How is that even possible?

I mean,
something like this would--

Would take years, right?

I guess it's gotta be.

I mean, otherwise,
he would just...

change the blueprints
and have them build a dud.

We did this.

We didn't know.

We just didn't want to acknowledge it.

You experience
the time rifts?

They're getting worse.

I don't want what I saw
to come true.

ALEX:
We started developing a virus...

to target the machine's
zero-day vulnerabilities,

with, uh--
With CIPHERMAN's help.

We were just three people...

doing what we could.

Trying to right whatever wrongs
we felt responsible for.

Then there was this moment.

This moment
I thought to myself,

you know,
I just thought, "Fuck.

We're just
these two people dying.

Going crazy, you know?

Hiding inside each other."

isolated from it all.

That didn't last long.

[KNOCKING ON DOOR]

Lock the door.

Good. You got them.

Hey, what are--?
What are you doing here?

A.R.I.S.T. They're on to me.
They'll be here soon.

No, but I know him.

I've been trying to stop this
from the inside.

No one can be trusted.

There is a man,

one of the founders
of A.R.I.S.T.

"Miles Driskoll."

REBECCA: That's his address.

I couldn't get you
the schematics directly.

I used him to communicate with you and develop a virus

to disable the machine.
I was gonna upload it myself.

Now you see what we see.

REBECCA:
None of this is what they think.

No one at A.R.I.S.T. believes that.

They think we're hallucinating.
They're blaming the tumors.

If more than one person sees
the same thing--

REBECCA:
There's no proof.

With the military
funding the project,

there's no way
they're walking away

from the most powerful weapon.

One message is all it took

to scare them into building it.

The prospect of power.

Do they know what it does?

REBECCA:

They think they do.

But what it says on the box
isn't what it really does.

Which is what?

God, there's no time. Please.

Pack as much as you can.

You gotta get out
before they come.

Please. Go, go.

You etched Beth's name
on the bedpost, didn't you?

I was hoping you'd

They're here.

Go. Go.
Find Driskoll.

Make sure you're not followed.
They'll be looking.

Don't use your cell. Use only cash. Don't leave a trail.

Hurry. You're running out of time.

The closer we get
to the activation,

the worse the time ripples
will get.

BETH:
What does that mean?

Understand
they're getting stronger

with every passing minute.
They're starting to interact.

Their existence is evolving beyond just observation.

What about you?

I'll buy you some time. Hurry.
Go. Now. Go!

[REBECCA WHIMPERING]

[CAR ENGINE REVVING]

[TIRES SQUEALING]

What do you think they'll do to her?

[GAS HISSING]

[GAS CONTINUES HISSING]

[CRICKETS CHIRPING]

ALEX:
Must not like people
very much.

BETH: Hello.

Beth, so good to--
To meet you.

I've-- I've so enjoyed
our conversations.

And Mr. Jacobs.
Please, come in.

So sorry about
all the clutter,

but you never know
when you might...

[SIGHS]
...need something.

[CLEARS THROAT]
I am one of the original scientists.

One of the original founders
of A.R.I.S.T.

You see,
this recent discovery

wasn't
our first encounter...

with our strange friends.

There was another satellite.

Found many, many, many moons ago...

orbiting Earth for,
we believe...

maybe hundreds of years

before we were capable of retrieving it.

Which was roughly

50 years ago or so.

I'm sorry, you--? You said
there's another satellite?

Yes.

Oh, yes.

Spinning around
our little world

until we advanced technologically

to the point where we could retrieve it

and discover its secrets.

They were waiting for us.

In a sense. Come in.

Please, come on in.

So if this
has happened before,

then that means
it can be stopped, right?

Not exactly.

No, this was a very similar state of affairs

to what is happening now,
but not quite the same.

We retrieved the satellite.

We-- We found, inside,
an encrypted message...

along with blueprints.

But the purpose was different.

The purpose, I believe,
was to tether themselves to--

To our dimension.

An anchor of sorts.

Our dimension.

You mean--?

Yes, yes, yes.

[CHUCKLES]
Yes. I mean, yes,
inter-dimensional beings.

Yes, that's what I believe them to be.

It's wonderful, isn't it?

Although I'm not sure that A.R.I.S.T.

shares
my enthusiasm.

When I tried to communicate
this to them,

they had me discredited,
locked up and...

[CHUCKLES]
...excommunicated
from the scientific community.

They said I was paranoid, schizophrenic.

Not unlike what you two have been going through, I'm sure.

I, too, developed a tumor.

A small one, non-fatal,

which I believe
enabled me to-- To see them.

But they don't exist
on the same plane

of linear time as we do.

It was challenging to try to figure out any way in which

I could make
some kind of sense of it,

which I-I'm sure you two can relate to.

Not to mention, psychiatric institutions in the '70s were--

Were a bit different than they are today.

Please, sit.
Sit, sit, please.

So if they-- If they exist on another plane...

then that means their perception of our reality

would be different.

MILES:
Well, I am quite certain that they are incapable of perceiving things

the way we do.

We are so, so primitive.
They are so advanced.

So that means whatever dimension they're from...

Wouldn't experience time
in linear form.

Yes, well, I believe that,

to them, quite possibly,
time is one moment.

[BOTH CHUCKLE]

So if the, uh--
If the first machine...

[CLEARS THROAT]
...was a tether

then what does
the new machine do?

Ah, well-- Ha.

I believe the new machine will allow them,

for lack of a better word,
access...

to our dimension.

Think of it as if they are watching a video cassette,

and we are the characters
in that story.

And we can move
from the beginning

through the middle
to the end.

We can only experience things
as such.

The first machine
was the remote,

with which they could jump around

at any point
and watch the story.

But they couldn't affect us.

They couldn't alter,
they couldn't interact.

But I believe
this new machine...

will enable them to-- Ha.

To reach
right through the screen.

And the closer we get to the machine's activation,

the stronger we're feeling
its effects.

They're becoming more present.

The effects of the machine
are rippling

as soon as the machine

is activated.

Time is bleeding backwards.

[CHUCKLES]

There's an overflow
of-of effects

moving out to the future
and to the past.

The closer we get
to that moment,

the more concentrated
the ripples are,

the more powerful
they become.

[SIGHS]

Yeah, uh,
Rebecca tried to warn us.

Yes, well, things are getting very strange

at A.R.I.S.T. Yes.

Very strange indeed.
Ha, ha.

Anything in close proximity is--

Are being affected dramatically.

People are moving
in slow motion,

looping conversations.
Can you imagine?

I-it's crazy. It's crackers.

We know nothing.

We know nothing.

We can try to reason
the rules of their existence,

but we don't even understand our own.

My theoretical description
of their existence is just that.

It's a theory. It's just so we can begin to understand.

But it's probably nowhere near the actual truth.

Case in point.

When you look at them...

you perceive them as what?

As men, correct?

Yeah. Yeah.

Tall, pale, no features.

Yes, you perceive them
as humanoid

because that is the only way
your brains can process them.

But it's probably nothing
of what they actually look like.

[CHUCKLING]

How can we know what they look like?

We know nothing
of the higher dimensions.

One thing I do know for sure,
they look nothing like men.

You should see the one in my backyard.

There's one
in your backyard?

MILES:
Oh, yes.

He's been there for,
oh, 30 years.

Hasn't moved one inch.

In the beginning,
I saw him as anthropomorphic.

But the more time passed,
the more my mind had to adjust.

And the more he changed.

He's a loyal friend.

The most loyal friend
I've ever had.

ALEX:
I don't see anything.

Well, that's interesting.

What does it look like?

Indescribable.

Quite terrifying, actually.

Everything about them's
so fascinating.

So mysterious.

Like the encryptions,
for example.

What about them?

Well, your solution...

to the decryption
was different to Beth's,

which was different to mine.
How can that be?

They know nothing
of our reality.

How can they encrypt something for us to decipher?

It's-- No.
They put something out there

that was different
for each of us,

yet always came to the same result.

It's really--
It's quite embarrassing

because I can't even begin to explain that.

That's why A.R.I.S.T. hired
multiple cryptographers.

Oh, and I have another theory,
I don't think it was radiation

that caused our little--
Our little friends here.

No, they are rather physical side effects of altering our perception of reality.

[STUTTERS]
Yes? Like a challenging puzzle can cause a headache.

This puzzle caused us
a tumor.

It's remarkable.

we're fucked.

Yes, I suppose--
I suppose you could say that.

But we can stop this.
There's still time.

Oh, no. I don't--
I think there's--

We can actually do anything.

You wasted our time developing a virus

that doesn't stand
a fucking chance?

Oh, no, no, no.

Th-the virus will work.

It's just that we don't have the luxury of time

to complete it.
I mean...

these ripples we are feeling
are likely from an event
that has already happened.

You know,
the machine's activation
may already have happened.

Some point in our future.

[SCOFFS]
We can't...

There must be something.

I mean, for all we know,
the effects may not be
from the machine's activation.
They may be from its detonation.

Jesus Christ, what the fuck?
Can we stop this thing or not?

Its detonation?

You know, there may be another method to destroy it.

Dismantle it,
take a sledgehammer to it,
blow it up.

[CHUCKLES]
That's great. That's great.

I'm so glad
we spent all that time

developing the virus.

Ah, yes, well, you see,
the problem is A.R.I.S.T.

will most definitely rebuild it.

No, so you have to go,
get to the server

and erase the blueprints.

But we don't even know where the A.R.I.S.T. facility is.

MILES:
Yes, well, now you do.

You forget, I was one of the original

founders of A.R.I.S.T. I know this place inside and out.

You should be able to access the facility

through the east-wing
maintenance tunnel here.

There's a hatch
about a mile down the road...

that'll take you directly to the lab.

Oh, shit,
we gotta go.

[CREAKING CONTINUES]

[WIND WHISTLING]

old friend.

We shouldn't have just left him.

There's nothing we could do.

So the hatch is just a couple miles off this back road.

If we leave first thing
in the morning,

we should be there
by evening.

[HATCH SQUEAKING]

[GASPING]
No.

[BREATHING SHAKILY]

[BEEPING FASTER]

[BEEPING INTERMITTENTLY]

[BOMB CONTINUES BEEPING INTERMITTENTLY]

[ALEX SCREAMS
DISTORTEDLY]

[SCREAMS DISTORTEDLY]

VOICE:
Relax.

Where am I? Where am I?

What do you see?

ALEX:

I don't know. I don't know.

Not as you understand it.

Do you fear death?

Do you fear living?

What are you?

Nothing you can understand.

What the fuck do you want?

We are very curious about your kind

and your experience of time.

[LAUGHS]

That's all this has been?

It is a curiosity to us.

[CHUCKLING]

So-- So all--

All this...

We would like to understand.

Linear time seems so impractical
a state of being.

To learn is a tediously
slow process...

and with each generation,
it begins anew.

A laborious cycle
of empty promise.

It banishes mankind
to the torment of ignorance.

Forever a child in the dark.

How curious that nature could punish

a creature so malevolently.

You are condemned
to relearn pain for an eternity.

How painful it must be
to possess self-awareness,

and consciousness
as you do...

trapped in a lower dimension,
such as you are.

Jesus Christ, what the fuck
do you want from me?

Why did you choose me?

Why did you choose to decrypt the message?

You asked me that before.

You came to my house.

We do not understand
decision.

We exist
in one single moment.

One blink of instantaneity.

We understand everything there is to be understood

in our world.

Therefore, causality,

probability and consequence
are a mystery to us.

It's something that doesn't exist in your time.

If man's experience of time
was like ours...

would he remain?
Would he remain?

Would he remain?
Would he remain?

Fuck! Oh, fuck.

If the cracks of time
were filled

and man had no place left to hide...

I don't know. Oh, fuck.

I don't know. I don't even know what the fuck you mean.

What happens
when man must wait no more?

We become you?

Is that something
you'd like?

I can't exist here.

It's making me sick.

You-- You're killing me.

But there is only one certainty for man:

[AIR WHOOSHES]

Yet man hides
from this inevitability.

Man desires more time
to distance himself from it.

However,
the more time man has...

the more it takes from him.

Prolonging your existence

comes at the cost of unknown suffering.

Time determines all for man.

Irony that it should be both the gift and the thief.

What's it like?

In your world?

You cannot understand.

If you can bridge the gap between dimensions

to communicate with me,
then you can--

Then you can fucking try.

You know things
about us...

and about our universe.
Tell me.

If you're seeking answers
to alter

your understanding
of reality...

does that not make your world
a projection

rather than a perception?

What is the actuality?

Do you see the world
as you imagine it...

or are you observing
what is really there?

If reality is just a projection,
what happens when the source,

when consciousness,
is absent?

Even with an eternity
of self-reflection,

man cannot understand
the difference between actuality

and illusion.

With every man born
comes a new reality...

all competing in perpetuity.

Perhaps this is why man
is so perpetually at odds.

So conflicted.

Stop. Stop. Stop.

So divided.

Am I the only one you're doing this to?

Would you feel better
if you weren't?

You don't want to be alone.

I don't wanna suffer.

You're in pain?

Yes, I'm in pain,
and now I just have to sit here

until I fucking die.

What if you could return
to a moment

in what you understand
as the past?

Before you were sick?

If I were to travel
back in time?

ALIEN:
Yes.

With the information
you now possess.

How do you think it would alter your behavior?

What would you decide to do differently,

if anything at all?

I would tell A.R.I.S.T.
to go fuck themselves.

You would choose differently?

ALEX:
I would stop this.

I would stop you.

Remove us from the equation.

ALIEN:
You would be unable to see us.

Doesn't matter.

I would know
that you're there.

I would know that you were watching.

The idea alone would change
your perception of reality,

and therefore
change your behavior.

ALIEN:
Why would you behave differently
if there was nothing you could do

to alter the situation?

I just would.

We find this curious.

We don't choose.

We don't decide what happens.
I didn't choose to be here.

I didn't choose to get sick.

Things happen
that we have no control of.

We don't just-- We don't just look at the world...

and paint it however we want.

If you really believe that,

then you believe
you are not in control,

and you exist
at the mercy of all else.

You believe your thoughts
are of no consequence.

If you returned to a time
with knowledge you now possess,

that you did not before...

what would it matter?

What would
our existence matter?

What would
our observations matter?

If time was reset...

and you were put back...

what difference
would it make?

ALEX:
Well, that's it.

that's everything.

ALEX [ON COMPUTER]:
I don't know if this is all a test, or...

I do know it can't change.

But, you know, the world
could end tomorrow, but...

[CHUCKLES]
Fuck. You know, what--?
What else is new, right?

It's all already happened.

Satellite's been found,
code's been cracked.

Message decrypted.

It was over before it began.

So maybe you--
You can't change...

how it ends, but--

--you can change
how you get there.

And another thing:

Lie to her.

Spare her from the truth,
so that she can--

She can live in peace.

And then forget.

Forget this message.

Forget what's going to happen.

Forget what's--
What's already happened.

Just forget everything.

London Real

now you've done out there on the space walk first of all did you ever think okay maybe there's a life out here and then also on a slightly more serious note when you do look out into the universe do you have this feeling that there's life out there that's it's the alien thing cracks me up because in america everybody thinks they're in roswell new mexico that's right yeah that's the what is the area 50 area 51 is in that's in a different place okay las vegas or near las vegas or i don't know where it is i don't even know if there is one or not but there's there's one in las vegas and there's one in new mexico but i always laugh that if i was an alien and i had to travel you know hundreds of light years and then billions of miles i finally made it to earth and it is a beautiful planet there's blue there's turquoise in the bahamas um the england london looks like a fun place to come there's lots of places i would go but the middle of new mexico would not be the place i would go it traveled billions of miles which is where they were all sighted although it's a beautiful place yeah so anyway okay so um but you know i being in space i learned a lot about physiology and biology because i had to ski i did ultrasound scans of my brain and my eyeball and my heart and these laser scans and i just learned a lot about the science of biology and then the science of astronomy and i i'm kind of i don't have enough faith to be an atheist because life is so incredible that i have a garage at home in my house and if i if i i could wait a month that garage would never clean itself if i waited a billion years the garage would not clean itself you know like i someone has to go out there and clean the garage i could take a pile of silicon and set it in my driveway and we have all these thunderstorms in houston why i almost missed the show today because we were late for weather flying in from houston this morning and if lightning hit that pile of silicon for a billion years it would never make that glass like this glass would never be created from some random things so knowing about life which is so amazing and we replicate ourselves and a lot of us work for 70 80 90 years and uh we have love and hate and happiness and all this stuff about life is just too somebody had to make it i you know i just don't have the faith to be a pure you know everything happened randomly atheist that's kind of the philosophy that i've i had before i went in space but having seen it and it's like this you know the sunrise view

i was telling you about wow that's there's there was something really powerful powerful there so that was kind of my philosophy okay looking at things and does that mean that it doesn't exist anywhere else in the universe no i don't think so at all okay i just don't think it i think somebody had to make it if it if it existed just like there's a glass here right right it might exist in france but somebody had to make it there that it didn't randomly happen across the channel um uh and i don't know i don't know if god made life in other planets or not there's an awful lot of planets we're starting to find with our satellites we're starting to find planets and other solar systems i mean you know you saw the picture of neil degrasse tyson on the wall and i know he was at uh he was at your your imax he was at the imax premiere right i mean i don't know if him or other people have said like if you do the numbers like you said we're finding there's so many other galaxies out there that some people say it's almost you can almost prove the fact that some biology must must exist it must be out there um the the flip side of that is if there is why i haven't heard from them if there's so many of them out there you think and we have this thing called seti which is a network that listens for radio signals yeah um so uh i don't know it's an interesting question i i just i've come to the conclusion that life doesn't happen randomly because it's just too nothing everything that is um interesting or you know there's this concept of entropy where everything kind of disintegrates yeah the second law thermodynamics and so without some creative energy my book would not have been written without my effort in writing a book and a a an organism is so much more advanced and harder to make than a book you know so that's my view continue watching this fascinating conversation for free by clicking on the link below to visit our website learn from the best minds in the world and connect with a community of passionate people building the best versions of themselves just click on the link below and i'll see you on the inside

I'm a full professor of psychology with particular interest in transpersonal psychology originally trained as a child psychologist and then went on from there trained in Psychotherapy and I've been an academic and research psychologist for many years I've always been interested in paranormal research I'm often asked why I became interested in it I can't remember a time in my life when I've not been interested in it the Paranormal is that mysterious area behind the seen and the known world and since most of the world is unseen and unknown and most of the world is full of mystery for me it's a fascinating and absorbing area and it links in of course with the whole question of survival and the nature of Mind answer the question who are we what is our real nature are we just a biological accident is there more to it than that do we live life without meaning and die without hope or is there some much broader Spectrum within which we're a part the society for psychical research or spr for short was set up in 1882 in fact it's the oldest scientific Society in the world devoted to exploring the Paranormal and by that we mean those faculties of man which cannot be explained under known laws we've had 12 Nobel Prize winners as members we've had many fellows of the royal society some of the finest scientists in Britain in fact have been members and many scientists from America have also been members I've always been interested within the context of the Paranormal in mediumship because clearly mediumship provides a Channel or a supposed Channel between this world and the next physical mediumship is a particular area of mediumship and it has the advantage in that what you see is fairly objective in other words all the investigators should see the same thing and within reasonable limits agree upon what they see the society for psychical research has been investigating physical mediumship on and off for over 100 years we got involved in skull which is one of the best cases although I've had many other experiences of physical phenomena got involved with skull as a result of invitation and for two years uh once a month we had sittings there with a group consisted of four people there were two mediums who were in trance and the two organizers and then the three experimenters from the spr myself and two colleagues all highly experienced investigators all trained scientists by the time I investigated skull I'd had many other experiences if I hark back very briefly to my first experience which was that of a poltergeist case Poltergeist haunting Poltergeist are supposedly noisy mischevous spirits and you get a great deal of stone throwing and things are broken and so on and I investigated a case of this kind for 2 years and saw much of the phenomena myself and it changed my Paradigm while I was there I thought it could not possibly be explained by normal means I got in the car halfway home I thought this is rubbish this is nonsense you don't get things thrown around like that but as I investigated that case and went further and further and deeper and deeper into it I gradually became convinced that it was genuine I even observed phenomena when I was in the building on my own so there was no question of trickery of any kind so by the time I got to sko i' also had sittings with other physical groups and so on so I was pretty sure that if we could eliminate normal explanation such as fraud for example then the phenomena would probably be genuine because one could not mistake what we saw we saw colored lights we saw materializations we had Direct voices that is Spirit voices talking from the air apparently we we were touched by the spirits saw a whole range of phenomena which could not be mistaken by Three Investigators such as ourselves we saw materializations and dematerialization we saw hands materialized up just up to the wrist silhouetted in the very bright lights which the spirits let's call them that for one of a better term brought with them and on one occasion we were asked to put a Pyrex Bowl on the table in the seon room to place one of the crystals in the bowl we did this as investigators one of the small lights then appeared to go into the Crystal and illuminate it brightly from within we were told to put our hands in the Pyrex Bowl and feel how solid the crystal was we did this we were then told to take our hands out feel the crystal again it still was visually there but in fact our fingers went right through it we were told it had dematerialized we were then told to take our hands out and then replace them and the Crystal was again solid now it sounds of course as if some trickery was involved but since our hands were over the bowl all this time there was no way in which the crystal could have been taken out and substituted or anything of that kind I know that there are devices trick devices which apparently levitate objects we know the whole range of these phenomena Skeptics are often unaware of the amount of experience and the amount of knowledge that goes into investigations of this kind between the Three Investigators you could say we'd had 50 years and more of experiences of this kind we know all the tricks and in fact we had a conjurer a member of the inner magic circle as one of the people who sat with this group at James Webster and his opinion his professional opinion was that there was no way in which any conjur could have duplicated the phenomena that we saw there in addition of course we were able to search the room thoroughly beforehand search the room thoroughly afterwards and so on it's very important to have a magician at these investigations because although scientists know the science and they know the tricks they don't actually uh do the tricks themselves you need a magician there who's done the tricks who knows the circumstances under which he can get results and the circumstances which would prevent him from getting results now we were very fortunate James Webster who's a silver medal holder of the inner magic circle which is the main group of magicians in Britain had sittings with the skull group and in his professional opinion there was no way in which any magician could duplicate the effects that he saw there even if they were given access to the room beforehand and were able to bring in all their own equipment and so on Spirit lights are one of the most interesting phenomena at physical Circles of that kind and they generally take uh three forms you have very small lights which start around the room at great speed and cannot be duplicated by LEDs being swung around on Long threads or anything of that nature or carbon fibers or what have you then there are larger lights which do similar things but are the size of let's say marbles quite large Marbles and then there are diffused patches of Light which would be very very difficult to explain by normal means you can project a light onto a wall but you can't project it readily in the air and Float around and at our invitation come towards us or move away from us and those diffused patches of light would sometimes materialize into hooded forms robed forms robed figures on the table in front of us a few inches away we were even allowed to invite them to come very close to us and then they would go up to the ceiling and then they would disappear on other occasions the diffused patches of light would take the form just of human face moving around the room with the direct voice very very faintly coming from the diffused patch of light and the the lips moving again very faintly in the case of skull we had quite an unusual example of matter through matter in that the small lights would sometimes hit the table with an audible sound and then appear instantaneously underneath the table now this was a fraud proof table which means that it was blocked underneath the table so nobody could get under the table crawl around under the table the two mediums nobody could get under the table and do this and then the light would materialize again near the legs let's say of Monte Keen one of my fellow investigators arthis or myself in areas which were inaccessible to the mediums or the other two members of the skull group The Lights also had another rather strange trick up their sleeve if I may talk about lights as having sleeves and that was to pass through bodies so that the the light would strike the body and next moment would exit from the body now I of course because I'm always up for these things I invited it to come and try this on me I wanted to see what would happen the the light hit me and um with I didn't feel thing light disappeared and next moment from inside the palm of my hand I felt slight pressure from inside just like the pressure that the light exerted if it landed on the outside of my palm and next moment the light had exited from my body again the these things are so extraordinary that when one tells them to people who've not had the experiences themselves they think it would must be trickery and the challenge then always is okay you duplicate we threw out the challenge we've maintained it throughout we will give every assistance to any magician who wishes to come and duplicate those phenomena under those conditions in the presence of investigators and in the presence of James Webster who actually saw the genuine phenomena now these are great experiences you see again I must stress it changes your Paradigm you go in thinking none of this can be true but after experience after experience after experience it gradually Dawns on you hey there's something going on here that we can't explain by normal scientific laws but which nevertheless exists and of course it links in very strongly with survival again because we were told in in all these sittings with the skull group and with the other groups that I've sat with that it was I don't like the term it was the spirits who were doing this and of course they were communicating through the mediums we were able to hold conversations with the mediums we were able to request certain kinds of phenomena and they actually would produce it to order the experiences that I've had have convinced me that it is very difficult to explain any of these things by an alternative explanation to that of survival and of course when you're working with mediums good mediums and there are a lot that aren't very good you have to search pretty hard to find a good medium many of them very well meaning but they're not that good when you work with a good medium these are professional people who are actually channeling supposedly discarnate Spirits now they know far more about it in a sense than investigators like myself who are just sitting there observing what is going on now I could go in with all sorts of grandiose theories of my own

and try and tell mediums that the experiences that they have are not what they think they are but there is grave dangers in that just as there are in the rest of psychology you try to dictate to people and say that you know their experiences better than they know them themselves so from the point of view mediums the answer to the question is clear survival is a fact and people are communicating now when they can communicate information which is not in the mind of the sitter so there's no question of telepathy from the mind of the sitter going to the mind of the medium and being given back to you as an apparent spirit and when you can rule out the fact that other people somewhere in the world might know the information that you're given then it does sound very very much as if it comes from the discarnate person who claims to be communicating it's the simplest explanation in many ways and science on the whole likes the explanation that fits the fact best and that is simplest now you you can demolish the theory if you like by saying I don't believe in survival anyway but then that's a closed mind and scientists should not have closed minds we should go into all these things with an open mind which means we look at the evidence and then we try to draw certain conclusions or form certain hypotheses on the basis of the evidence conditions in the afterlife as we understand them again through Communications through ITC Communications through Communications through medium are that the lower levels of the afterlife are very much like this world but that there are in a sense a world of thought just as we know that we are co-creators of this world from the atomic flux which is the real nature if you like of of material reality in this world so in the next World the mind of the Observer the consciousness of the Observer helps to create the experience so at the lower levels of the next World it does seem as if it is very much like this world either this world is a copy of the next world or the next world is a copy of this world but of course we're always told that there are various different levels of the next World and that eventually one moves into an area which is a formless area that that you go beyond form you go beyond physical form and exist to some form of pure Consciousness actually it all sounds rather like fun which is which is not a bad thing is

you have been you've been a longtime member of the society for psychical research can you tell me how long you've been involved with the spr and what offices you have held well I've been a member of the Society of psychical research since all the 1940s uh but it's only in the last 10 or 12 years that I've been actively involved and for the last I suppose 10 years I've been uh acting as either chairman of the image and publicity committee and Secretary of the survival research committee now the survival research committee is involved in encouraging Research into aspects of the survival of human consciousness after death and Inter mediumship which of course is associated with it the Society of psychic iCal research has an extraordinarily um notorious reputation for being scientifically rigorous and many people consider that it goes overboard in its skepticism but in fact uh it has been extremely uh over the years it's been extremely careful to ensure that the material that it produces by and large goes through the peer review system and is as scientifically kosher as anything can be and indeed because we are dealing with those things which are extraordinary we consider that extraordinary things do require a much higher level of authenticity than would normally be required for things which are well within the scientific Paradigm indeed over the years the spr has been responsible for exposing quite a number of hoaxes starting with the rather notorious Hodson report back in the 1880s into Madame blatsky although his methodology has now been found to be a bit d fl uh but particularly with its investigations into physical mediums and it was extremely difficult to get anything past the spr's um U hierarchy uh which appeared to show physical mediumship in a positive light in more recent years that has changed somewhat but the rigor uh required of scientific investigation is really very high physical mediumship is where the medium instead of merely conveying information orally manages to be the means by which physical things are produced now the physical things are very often primitively speaking table tapping table wraps knocks and things of that nature uh advancing from that there are things that move around the place um tables that actually get up and move or pull people around and then the materialization of phantom forms in some form or other very often and traditionally through the emanation of something called Ecto plasm which comes from different orifices in the medium's body and this has been a subject of enormous controversy over the last more than 100 years from the point of view of

investigators and I'm now looking at it as a society of Psy psychical research investigator uh our object was to see whether the reports that we'd had of amazing physical phenomena being produced by this group of mediums in the village of skull in norfol whether those phenomena could be produced under conditions which positively excluded the possibility of Fraud and so the object our object initially and indeed throughout the whole of our investigation was to see whether in agreement with the people sitting around the table the group and in agreement with the communicators from the other side who were regarded by them as their mentors and who who ruled the roost as it were we could agree upon procedures for the production of physical phenomena particularly physical phenomena related to the production of films the aims and purpose of the investigators of the sko group was to discover whether in conjunction with them and by agreement with them we could work out a series of Protocols of series of rules uh for the production of physical phenomena which would positively exclude any possibility of fraud initially we were all pretty skeptical because what what had been claimed seemed so way out what had been claimed primarily concerned with was concerned with the production of pictures without cameras uh without any form of um U manipulation by anyone and this seemed to us to be worthy of investigation with a very critical hat on their initial claims were that they were in contact with a group of deceased entities who were producing with their help a number of pictures the pictures which they reproduced were of either deceased persons or uh were films strips of films U which they claimed to be produced without any cameras and in the dark the report into the activities of the skull group was the result of some two years investigation that my colleagues and I did I wrote the uh report which runs to about 250 300 pages and it was published by the society uh in conjunction with my two principal colleagues that's Professor Fontana and the late professor Ellison um and as I say published in 1999 when we started uh the typical session of skull uh in this darken Cellar we'd be sitting around a table um the only light at that stage would be uh small pieces of luminous tape so that we could see who was moving round their wrists that's the the group there were six of them originally and then it were only four uh because two of them left we would start off with some sort of prayer or incantation to ask for divine blessing Etc but it wasn't really religious in that sense um and then there would be music music was needed to stir the vibe somehow um after the music it was usually Manu would come through uh Manu was the uh introducer and then he would disappear Manu would give us a pep talk uh saying what was going to happen uh in that session and how much he welcomed us and um how important it was Etc and then invariably we would have um the main female uh Communicator indeed the only female Communicator to come through that Mrs Bradshaw that we got to know her first name and to call her by her first name when we got fairly intimate and Mrs Bradshaw who was a very commanding figure um a lady of um the upper class Victorian or Edwardian lady she sounded like that and she would organize things and she would introduce other other um uh entities male entities um she would tell us what was going to happen she would comment on what we were doing and why we would be doing it and and indeed how we were behaving and sometimes what we were thinking she would answer our questions quite frequently before we had actually asked them uh which was quite embarrassing sometimes um I must say my most um uh surprising incident in I think the first or second um sence that I had was when because at that stage we weren't at all sure that we would get U reports a able to us transcripts available to us which we thought was absolutely essential I was making a note of everything in shorthand which is pretty difficult to do in the dark under the table I mean with their knowledge the communications were coming through almost exclusively through one or other of the two mediums husband and wife both of them as far as we knew in total trance and they were unconscious of what was happening at a later stage we did have some direct voice um that's to say voices which appear to be coming from right in front of us and which were not using the larynxes of the two mediums however this is something which was certainly our very strong impression but we couldn't prove it one way or the other so we tended to rather disregard these distinctions when the uh voices came through the mediums which they normally did um the voices were quite different from those of the mediums themselves and the personalities Behind The Voice voices were not only quite different but were very consistent even the accents were and we began to recognize it was very easy to recognize the female one because it was only one and she was very very ideosyncratic the ones uh coming through the male medium there were several different ones they all had distinctive voices although I found it more difficult than some of my colleagues did to determine who was who but there were several of them over the period of the year and some of them had specialities there was one very obvious one Raji who was an described himself as a mad dead Indian and who would make jokes and had very characteristic rather school boy sense of humor and he would have a an interchange with the female medium with the female Communicator Mrs Bradshaw Mrs Bradshaw was really the woman in charge she was the sort of major Domo as it were um ushering people in and out and telling us who was going to come and who wasn't going to come we don't exactly know because it's all in the dark exactly when the mediums do go into trance in fact we had no means of proving that they were in trance but all the all the indications are that unless they were lying they were in trance and they they went into trance apparently quite quickly we heard some deep breathings and some slight sort of moans and that would be it they would go into trance just like that it's a question of training apparently and they would gradually come out of Trance at the end of the session and it was rather important that they should do so slowly because if we switched on the light suddenly that would that would harm them the leading character was undoubtedly Emily Bradshaw um uh she I suppose was sort of 60% of what came through but there were others with various names of they only had their first names we never discovered who they were supposed to be in reality and but there was Joseph for example uh who was a rather grave U ex scientist um we didn't really there was Raji Who U was a mad dead Indian I say um and who really contributed to the joyousness of the affair because it was quite a jolly Affair um there was an Irish an ex Irishman who spoke in a distinctive Northern Irish accent I think he described himself as a former priest um and there were one or two others who played more or less important part as different experiments were conducted and when we had experiments which which required expertise in a particular area photographic area or area of reproduction and so on apparently there were different experts available but they weren't always directly available they sometimes had to come through another entity on the other side and then through the mediums so there was scope for misunderstanding and misrepresentation the sessions were all recorded on audio and we got transcripts of all of those that we participated in and these transcripts were know pretty lengthy um but I they were an important part of our investigation procedure because we didn't want to rely upon our memory the most spectacular uh as ECT which virtually all of the people who attended these skull sittings have reported with amazement was I suppose the lights they would come

on fairly quickly the lights appear to be animated in the sense that they were intelligently directed and intelligently moving and would be responsive to our wishes whether expressed or silent they would um the lights would be mainly or orbs that would move around with Incredible speed um sometimes performing all sorts of gations in the air um but able to somehow rather be solid enough to make noises when they hit the top of the table or you could feel them when they landed on our fingers on one occasion uh one of my colleagues Professor Graton Guinness without permission had the light sitting on his hand and enclosed it and having enclosed it he turned his hand over in order to ensure there were no sort of connecting rods or links or wires um and it buzzed around angrily inside his cued hands and then when he released it it disappeared uh he got ticked off of this not because it was wrong to do it but because he hadn't asked permission but it did indicate to him to his satisfaction and indeed I think to everybody else's that there was nothing physical that could have explained the movement of these very animated and and intelligent little little lights we were never sure exactly what the lights were except because obviously we asked questions about it except that they were animated spirits but they weren't as it were fully formed they weren't um discar entities as we understand them they were some somewhere in between but they were certainly animated and they were certainly responsive to our wishes I suppose the example of the lights which was most dramatic for me and indeed for my colleagues who participated in it it was a definite experiment uh the light a light appeared and settled on one of the four uh pieces of Crystal about 4 in long and it irradiated the crystal which was sitting right in front of me the crystal then levitated in front of our eyes we could see it glowing and then descended into a a Pyrex semi-translucent Bowl such that we could see the light glowing inside the bowl and the um piece of Crystal there then Arthur Ellison sitting on my right was invited to pick it up he picked it up and satisfied himself that it was there and it was glowing and he put it down again he was asked right away to pick it up again he picked it up or he tried to and his fingers closed right over it in other words he could see and we could see the essence of it but not the reality of it it had it had dematerialized then he was asked to pick it up again and it rematerialized in his hand now this dumbfounded him this is what Arthur Ellison after years and years of Investigation finally convinced him that this was real because it couldn't have been faked in any way and he had his his head right over the top of the bowl in order to ensure that no hand or no instrument could interfere with it then the experiment was repeated because I wanted to do the same thing I could hardly believe it and exactly the same thing happened with with me and then on my left was David Fontana and Professor Fontana insisted on having his go too and it was repeated a second time so that was I suppose the most dramatic aspect of the lights as far as I was concerned and also a pretty conclusive uh piece of evidence that something very paranormal was happening now an a port which we had some experience of but not all that many is something which materializes out of nothing the most amusing one was where we had a bet with um the the entity that a an experiment would fail she said it would it would win the experiment would work and she bet us half a crown an old fashioned uh coin that it would work uh it didn't work and we teased her about it and the next session started with uh Manu saying hold on a moment we've got something for you there was a big clang which shouldn't have taken place because it was later found on the floor which was carpeted and we subsequently found a half crown um as payment for her debt and she said triumphantly as this coin rattled to the ground we couldn't see it debt paid that was that was an aort and I've still got it here um it was musing but it was also quite significant of course it could have been faked we we don't attribute too much to that but um if you take all of these things together the possibility of Faking becomes steadily less and less possible if you take all the phenomena within the whole of the skull experiment over two years while we were there uh I would say that the possibility of Fraud and faking was nil but if you take each individual particular phenomena and examine the circumstances under which each phenomenon was was produced you could perhaps argue that there's a a gap here a hole here something which wasn't absolutely 100% but taking them all together I think that there's no doubt that they were they were um genuine before we arrived and one of the things that U we were shown to convince us was a copy of a newspaper uh which was a Daily Mail of the first of April 1944 and it contained an article about about the sentencing to 18 months imprisonment of a famous or rather Infamous medium called Helen Duncan and it was explained to us that this was in order that Helen Duncan who was watching from the other side the proceedings was uh going to give some indication of her presence and lo and behold this fairly pristine copy of the paper arrived well we didn't regard this too evidentially but because it was was challenged later on by one of my colleagues who said look it's quite possible to produce these things from reproductions um we took it to the leading research station uh in England indeed in the world on paper and and um printing in order to have it analyzed and it was absolutely clear from their report indeed I was there when when they showed it to me that first of all it was done on letter press which has gone out of uh existence virtually since the early 1970s I would say um and also the quality of the paper was identical to the quality of the paper uh produced in the same year it was newsprint produced during wartime which lacked certain chemicals which we couldn't get hold of so this was a genuine article which appeared 50 years after the event on their doorstep and no one has been able to explain how it got there while I can't swear exactly what happened to rert because from his point of view this was a unique experience when by that time I had become a little blaz uh but there were frequent occasions when there were materializations of spirit forms with sufficient amount of light the light being generated by all these orbs around uh to enable us to to see the outline of them they looked like and were described as um Angelic forms uh they certainly had some sort of physical substance because quite frequently they would sweep against us as though a piece of gossamer or cotton wool or cobwebs had touched us it was it was quite um uh physical in that sense um and then they would disappear but sometimes they would last sufficiently long for us to to see them change shape and move around but they were not at fall in the same category as the traditional materializations of forms which came from ectoplasm and which would build up and walk around the place that we didn't have there was no ectoplasm involved and indeed the energy involved in this appeared to be quite different from the traditional type of energy which produces physical energy for physical ectoplasm the forms uh did vary quite a lot they were shadowy um not substantial but uh able to you could actually feel them or they could feel you um and they would float around you could almost see through them on occasions um a hand would materialize and I'm thinking of one occasion when a hand grasped me and as it were um stroked my left hand the the hand was sufficiently visible in the light for me to see the finger Nails uh the hand was quite warm and natural I wanted to ensure that of course it wasn't a hand that had been produced artificially or was someone was stretching over the table it was in such a position that it couldn't have been produced from any other from any normal Source I was told who it the hand belonged to actually uh it was a well-known

dematerialized entity on the other side who appeared to be one of the spirits underlying the investigation and supporting it but the reasons for that are really quite involved and we go into some details about that in our report but the hand itself was caressing me for a time as a male hand um and it lasted for at least two to three minutes and I found it far from being spooky a rather wonderful experience and I'm I'm a very cerebral and rather unemotional sort of bloke but this I found quite impressive this hand wasn't insubstantial it was quite physical and I could see and I couldn't see through it it looked like a normal hand but when I asked about what was the what the hand appeared to be not connected to any body um Emily said rather tartly we don't deal in bits of bodies um but apparently they do deal in bits of bodies because there's no other body around and and there wouldn't have been physically room for it because it was on the table so uh the mystery of the hand remained I can't speak for the Solomon's book because they were talking uh at about what the sko group told them what happened both before and during our investigations I naturally tended to concentrate upon what we experienced ourselves and to largely disregard as anecdotal uh with all respect to the sko group what they experienced but of course we had to take into account the testimony of a large number of people who had attended their sessions and who were eager to give us their their um authentication of what happened and this helps to build up I for example we had someone who had uh been there on three occasions who was a former member of the magic circle who a professional conjurer uh an illusionist who was there specifically in order to see whether this could be faked in any way and he was absolutely satisfied that it couldn't be now that sort of evidence although it was before we came on the scene seemed to us to be to augment our own uh impressions of genuineness while I can't swear exactly what happened to Bert because from his point of view this was a unique experience when by that time I had become a little Blas uh but there were frequent occasions when there were materializations of spirit forms with sufficient amount of light the light being generated by all these orbs around uh to enable us to see the outline of them they looked like like were described as um Angelic forms uh they certainly had some sort of physical substance because quite frequently they would sweep against us as though a piece of gossamer or cotton wool or cobwebs had touched us it was it was quite quite um uh physical in that sense um and then they would disappear but sometimes they would last sufficiently long for us to see them change shape and move around but they were not at all in the same category as the traditional materializations of forms which came from ectoplasm and which would build up and walk around the place that we didn't have there was no ectoplasm involved and indeed the energy involved in this appeared to be quite different from the traditional type of energy which produces physical energy from physical ectoplasm well the forms did vary quite a lot they were shadowy um not substantial but uh able to you could actually feel them or they could feel you um and they would float around you could almost see through them on occasions um a hand would materialize them and I'm thinking of one occasion when a hand grasped me and as it were um stroked my left hand hand the the hand was sufficiently visible in the light for me to see the fingernails uh the hand was quite warm and natural I wanted to ensure that of course it wasn't a hand that had been produced artificially or was someone was stretching over the table it was in such a position that it couldn't have been produced from any other from any normal Source I was told who it the hand belonged to actually uh it was a well-known dematerialized entity of the other side who appeared to be one of the spirits underlying the investigations and supporting it but the reasons for that are really quite involved and we go into some details about that in our report but the hand itself was caressing me for a time as a male hand um and it lasted for at least two to three minutes and I found it far from being spooky a rather wonderful experience and I'm I'm a very cerebral and rather unemotional sort of bloke but this I found quite impressive this hand wasn't insubstantial it was quite physical and I could see it and I couldn't see through it it looked like a normal hand but when I asked about what was the what the hand appeared to be not connected to any body um Emily said rather tartly we don't deal in bits of bodies um but apparently they do deal in bits of bodies because there was no other body around and there wouldn't have been physically room for it because it was on the table so uh The Mystery of the hand remained our main object was to produce these films under conditions which eliminated any possibility of hoaxing so we would buy the film ourselves uh we would load it either into a box or into a a container security bag uh depending on how we proceeded the protocol changing rather from experiment to experiment and then immediately afterwards if it was as it usually was Polaroid film we would take it out of the box the bag ourselves so that no one else touched it and then develop it ourselves in a special machine and we could see then what the strips of films contained on the assumption that they were able or someone was able to get hold of a sealed box and somehow or other manipulate so that you could take out the film and put in another film which has already been prepared and then seal the Box again all in the dark and without our knowledge and without hearing anything peculiar on we found this hypothesis extremely improbable um and it presupposed an ability to manipulate a a sealed box which had been padlocked in the dark um by people who were we were watching all the time and who had identification labels on their on their wrists so I wouldn't say it was impossible nothing's absolutely impossible but extraordinary unlikely that uh this could have been done but in other cases there was no possibility because it was it was held in our hands all the time we think there was no possibility in those cases where the Box a little tub containing the film was put in a box the box was held in the hands of the experimenter so that no one could get at it no substitution was possible and then the experimenter would take it away and develop it himself in front of other people uh in the special Gadget which Polaroid had provided for developing 35mm films that we thought was as foolproof as anything could be it became quite clear that there was a learning curve on the part of the spirit team as there was on our part because it was an interchange groping forward to see what they could do because they couldn't do everything we wanted they wouldn't do it in the light for example they wouldn't have infrared so we had to devise uh a protocol which would satisfy them but also satisfy us but there was definitely a learning curve we persistently asked them to accept infrared cameras and they said not yet we're not ready for it it would interfere with the with the Vibes with the energy in some way from our point of view we could see no way in which this was likely or could be done but then again we didn't understand we don't don't understand how their method of communication or how their energy works so we had to accept this with great reluctance they made as far as I can recall no effort to explain in technical terms why that was the case but on other occasions they were able to discuss highly technical matters with us um which seemed to indicate a familiarity with with technical matters which were sometimes quite beyond my competence the film that we saw had a little diagram on uh showing how um the germanium Gadget as we called it should be modified in such a way by the introduction of two coils and where the coils were to go with a little description in writing as to why it was going to enhance reception and a little squiggle at the end which we disregarded at the time but then it occurred to us that this must be an initial we were told to look at it for that purpose and then I wrote to the uh Edison Memorial people in America and they sent me a copy of one of his letters which contained his initials which look almost identical to the signature on this film well Arthur Ellison then having been given these instructions by none other than than Edison uh duly altered uh the uh uh made these modifications the modifications were introduced but they didn't work very well I mean they improved the reception slightly the idea was to get a communication on uh a tape in a recorder uh which had no microphone in it so that this would be a clear indication of their communication from us to us uh but by the time they were playing around with this and and were practicing it they wanted to go onto a different experiment and this was indeed one of our problems that instead of really completing something and trying it again and again till they got it absolutely perfect it seemed as though there were a whole host of entities on the other side who were musling in and eager to try their it was their turn thank you very much because presumably it was pretty rare to have some um group of people like this who are willing and able to be the instrument of producing these physical phenomena so that was one of our frustrations they wanted to move on to to some new experiment before we were absolutely sure that we were 100% there the germanium device was originally constructed because the entities asked Arthur Ellison uh and gave him very detailed instructions about how to do it whether he could a get a piece of germanium and secondly put it uh and then they described in some detail how it was be constructed to be put under some sort of pressure and they describe what the pressure should be and what the voltage should be and how the coil was going to work and all that sort of thing it was meaningless to me it meant something to Arthur Ellison and it was virtually a type of primitive semiconductor the sort of thing that uh preceded the development of silicon chips uh which is one of the reasons why Arthur Ellison was rather sniffy about it because he didn't think it was very modern but this is what they wanted so he constructed the uh uh W with the help of the skull group he supervised the construction of this little J Gadget as we called it for me perhaps the most significant type of communication because it was directed personally at and to me as a sort of thank you for work that I done on on another aspect of the uh of the puzzles that they had set us was on the last occasion we had a full sitting with them this was where we had a blank tape in a tape recorder from which the microphone had been removed and at a particular moment we started the tape recorder we could we could handle it we could see where the starting stopping was uh and at that time the whole thing was also being recorded on a normal tape recorder so at the end we had two tapes for half an hour One recording everything that we heard and the other was the tape where nothing at all should have come through and nothing at all ought to have been recorded but in fact there was was a recording what I was told would be of significance to me and it turned out that I soon soon recognized uh a piece of music which was very significant for me because it was the first bit of classical music that I ever really knew well and it had great emotional content it was in fact the second movement of rahmanov second piano conto and it can be readily heard coming through we heard it all coming through this machine which had a tape on which had no uh means normal means of recording anything and above this there was a voice over the voice over was giving some sort of pontifical message which we couldn't quite understand but it was clearly in English and it sounded as though it was coming from the back of the stage of a a Victorian melodramatic uh oror uh but the important thing for me was the the the music that uh was a complete recording very similar to that which I had been brought up on where rahmanov actually played his own piano conato and the whole of the orchestra was um was there on this tape and obviously we asked about it and they said well this is just a thought projection coming from us as a thank you to to me for having um congratulated them on one of the earlier experiments the so-called Wordsworth experiment I think the most memorable one from my point point of view was where we had a tape recorder from which the microphone had been removed and which we put in a blank tape and apparently as a present to me for my hard work they said that they were going to bring something which was going to be oh music and the music I soon recognized coming out of this machine which is being held actually by my colleague David Fontana in his hand having pressed the two buttons record and play uh which shouldn't have recorded anything at all but it was recording rakman andan Concerto Number Two which had a lot of resonance for me uh and there was a voice over on top of it which one could hear coming through and this lasted for about 10 minutes or so and then faded out there was a lot of white noise too but it was it was a very good example of something which shouldn't have been there at all we didn't actually know when we'd set up the experiment uh what we were going to hear but they said before uh we we actually started pressing the buttons and and and recording whatever was supposed to be coming through that they were going to do uh a gift for me something to say thank you for my hard work and it was going to be in the form of music and there was a certain amount of badinage about um why I should be given a gift when others didn't and all that sort of thing and then we began to hear music coming through um the tape recorder with no microphone in it which was being held by by one of my colleagues on on my immediate left um and the tape recording was of rahmanov second pierto which was very meaningful to me um and above this there was a voice over that we couldn't quite recognize but um uh it was at the same time as the whole of this orchestral music was being played I wasn't myself present when a film with the German poem came up but the person who was were two close Cooperators of ours Walter uh schniter and his wife and Walter schniter obviously German um produced this um uh well he he had the film in a box um the Box uh well sealed and he subsequently opened it produced the film with the German message on um the German message was a um a a poem that no one has yet been able to trace we originally thought it was written by a man called Rooker who wrote in the 19th century it was sort of written in the style of the 1840s 1850s Stan Drang sort of style but the um the actual poem itself was handwritten in a style which was more typical of the way in which the Germans wrote German in the 1920s so there was a puzzle there but the film The the poem was regarded by Germans as being very good quality um and we made terrific efforts to find out who whether it had ever been published whether anyone would recognized it we wrote to all the German professors in virtually all the universities in the in the country um and also went to Germany for this purpose as well but no one was able to trace who who wrote it or how where it came from why do the spirits choose to communicate in this particular cryptic Manner and I wish I knew the answer uh it could be that they want to pose difficult problems for us because the more difficult the problem and the more difficult it is to discover the solution to it the more evidential it appears to be if it's obvious if for example um someone like Napoleon came through and said yeah I can prove I was Napoleon I was married to Josephine well everybody knows that if on the other hand some highly obscure person comes through uh and that has happened and they say who they are and there's absolutely no trace of them it's not evidential so you've got to over find some way in which if they want to prove afterlife and that's the assumption that we go on if they want to prove after life they must find some way in which they can overcome this dilemma by providing information which is not easy to get at which is not readily available in the public domain which shows some sign of intelligence and which is related to them in some way now U I don't think that that particular poem quite fits that bill it was certainly Arcane and certainly very specialized and very intelligent and it did show that someone or other could provide uh what was regarded as a very well written poem in German which went way way Beyond any possible competence on the part of the the sko group if they had been able to fake it we often ask asked ourselves why they chose this particular cryptic form of conveying information we really don't know the answer I suppose it is because if they wanted to provide say evidence that a particular individual Napoleon uh was coming through and we wanted to get him to authenticate this and he said well I was married to Josephine well everybody knows that and and he can't tell us anything that isn't in the public domain so it's not evidential if on the other hand it's someone highly obscure and no one's ever heard of him or we can't even trace him that's equally non-evidential so in a way the reason the motivation for providing something which is a puzzle which is difficult to solve is simply because it is difficult to solve it isn't readily available it can't be easily attributable to the the the person sitting around the table in that sales room I think it could be argued that there was nothing which absolutely proved the afterlife as distinct from something that's emanating from the Consciousness or the unconsciousness of the media mediums we were constantly on the lookout for clues for things which went well beyond what the mediums were able to do or were likely to be able to do and there were I suppose something like 15 or 20 such indications of things which we thought were extremely unlikely we couldn't prove that they were impossible but they would have presupposed a very considerable degree of um information and knowledge um on the part part of the medium which we thought was unlikely for example they they provided information of a rather specialist nature about identifying and commenting on some of the music which was being played on background tapes uh and we thought it very unlikely that um any of the sko group or particularly the the medium himself who was not particularly interested in music and knew very little about it would be able to know for example we had as a bit of background music one of the commentators said in relation to the background music was I should say it's a tape was a tape recording of bits and pieces of classical music which in which two or three bars of classical music melded into another two or three bars you know I disapproved of it rather but the entity on the other side was commenting on it uh and then he made a comment on something which was reversed and going backwards and forwards or going back from the middle and then you get back to the midd something which didn't seem to me to make didn't seem to anyone to make any sense and then I realized that what he was talking about was the particular variation of the Rahman of uh the rahmanov Paganini variations which is an inversion now not a lot of people know that uh the and the inversion is number 18 in the in the variations which is very specialized bit of knowledge I happen to know it because I'm interested in this sort of thing but I'm pretty sure that the the medium himself didn't know that but it was coming from the other side almost spontaneously it wasn't something that sort of he was priding himself on knowing a lot about the bits of Music he trying to identify each fragment of Music it was a sort of game as it were um so that was that's an example of the sort of thing I mean when I say we were looking for things all the time which couldn't be reasonably attributed to the to the

mediums themselves but taken in isolation you can't say any one of these is proof of anything the criticism that you don't get very much information with which makes it clear what it's like to be in the afterlife is one that's always made and I think it's always Justified um the the people on the other side say look uh we live in a totally different world in which um we have no of none of the normal senses we are just minds and this is something and and also time doesn't mean anything but you down here you earthlings can't understand this because you don't have the vocabulary you don't have the conception to to understand it because your world is limited by your three dimensions now I think that is probably true it's very irritating but it's probably true that we can't understand what it's like to be in a world without time for example so inevitably the the impression that we get are pretty vague and rather General as to what life is like there but you see we were not primarily concerned at that stage to deal with these so-called ontological problems about the nature of afterlife we were primarily there to get valid information a valid uh phenomena which was fraud free and then we were going to go on to the more important philosophical questions we never got to that stage as far as I know the photographic material that was um produced strictly speaking it's not photographic because no cameras were involved but the films produced were unique I don't know of any other experiment where this sort of thing has happened there been plenty of cases where photography has taken place where someone's mind has been projected and you you get a film a single film but uh strips of film made in these circumstances in the sort of conditions that we had at sko now there's been nothing quite like that the Assumption or theory is that these pictures were created by a thought process but the mechanism of it being created on this film is totally unknown the only alternative explanation is they are all fakes and I don't believe that there's evidence that that is the case I think that those pictures can be explained only by imagining that the spirits can project their Recollections and images onto a film in some way we can't begin to understand I can see no other explanation and I don't understand what that explanation is of course the way in which they actually transmit a sound onto um a magnetic tape is something which we asked them about and on which we had some explanation the explanation which is recorded in in the sko report is pretty Technical and I'm not at all sure that I understood it it was given actually to one of my colleagues while I was conducting an experiment uh and it talks about non-spin energy for example whatever that is I mean it's something that I think physics doesn't at the moment understand U and how um in getting to the tape there is a problem of a cut off point now there's a cut off point in associated with the use of of silicon chips uh it's a cut off which means that the Silicon chips fail to operate Beyond a certain temperature and they identified this as a problem and they said that the problem and they told us how the problem would eventually be solved by something called I think silicon oxide or t they gave us the name of a of a chem which they thought was likely to be the uh way in which this problem which limits the use of of semiconductors in all sorts of circumstances will eventually be solved in other words there was technical there were technical discussions of a level which went way beyond anything that uh was likely to be attributable to to the medium himself or to his subconscious when we were having experiments in EA on the um tape recordings Walter schniter who was a technician was asking questions of the spirits about the mechanism by which they got information on the tape and I was astonished at the degree of technical detail that uh followed in the exchanges detail far beyond anything likely to be reasonably attributable to the to the male medium who was speaking it seems that from what we were told that the individual entities coming through were either Specialists or were acting on behalf of Specialists sometimes when we question them they said they didn't know but they'd have to find out so the answer I think is that there were Specialists uh on the other side and it would be very difficult to explain the variety of things that came through unless there were Specialists so in other words there was a concerted effort by these spiritual entities to facilitate a bridge between the worlds I think it's pretty clear that there was a deliberate and communicate a communal effort on the part of the spirit entities to um prove survival and to cooperate into proving Survival by a variety of different means and using their different specialities to do so I think the impression that we got from the entirety of our experience was there was a group on the other side including or with available information from Specialists whose anxiety was to find different ways in which they could prove the existence of the afterlife and their ability to communicate intelligently with us we invited quite a range of different scientists from different disciplines um because I wanted to give credibility to uh the whole of the experiment uh what happened was that not all of them of course experienced the same thing and not all of them were equally credulous and some were more or less critical but uh for example Graton Guinness who was a professor of mathematics um was not only so impressed but he came came to a public meeting and demonstrated uh how how he had actually U encapsulated this the spirit of this AB orb in order to uh ensure that there could be no possible fraud the two principal investigators apart from myself were two very highly qualified uh scientists one was Arthur Ellison who was a emeritus professor of electrical engineering who'd been involved in this type of thing for many years and Professor David Fontana who's a professor of psychology and they uh not only co-wrote the report with me but attended most of the sittings that I attended so there were three of us all fairly experienced uh there primarily in order to check against any possibility of fraud but in addition we did invite a number of other scientists to to experience it too one of them was Dr sheldrake another was Professor Graton Guinness another was the present president of the Society of psychical research who came on two different occasions um and there were Professor Archie Roy also attended he's professor of astronomy um so we had a range of expertise on our side uh to match the expertise on their side and in some cases they could use as Archie Roy did his specialist knowledge of a particular area of astronomy in order to have an intelligent exchange about astronomical issues with the other side I think historically speaking if you take the whole of the phenomena in the skull group uh it ranks among the most profound pieces of evidence for the existence of an afterlife I don't know what happens when we die but I'm quite convinced from all my experience including the experience of the skull experiment that a Consciousness survives an intelligence survives in some form or other and that what survives is mind and not anything else but that mind can create its own environment so that you do have people on the other side who can smoke cigars and listen to music and play games and walk through but all of this is of their own creation that's something which we find extremely difficult to envisage but I'm quite sure uh that that's the sort of um home that awaits us what I'm not at all clear about is the relation a ship between the individual when he dies and the group consciousness of which he appears also to be a part uh I think that at some stage or other our entities merge into a group Consciousness on the other side what happens to it then as it goes off onto the light into the light I I simply don't know nor does anyone else I think the Skeptics regard the possibility of the survival of human consciousness as inherently so impossible that anyone must be rather crazy to believe it but when you look at the evidence you have to ask yourself whether you'd be even more crazy not to believe it or to find some alternative explanation which makes any sort of sense and I haven't found one I think it's apparent though you can't prove it that the progress uh that a person makes I don't mean intellectual progress I mean spiritual progress whatever that means in his life here determines the point of departure as it were in the next World it may be that he's not even ready to go there and he hangs around here and turns into a poltergeist or a ghost and and can't be moved on or he's got some unfinished business here which uh prevents him from from from moving uh up up the ladder as it were but all the indications are and all the evidence from the other side for what it is worth is that there is a hierarchical structure and that the idea is that the person by self Improvement in some way with help um moves up to a higher spiritual plane it's not something I may say I look forward to but this is what what I conclude from the evidence that's available well I don't particularly want to to have anything other than pure death thank you very much I rather enjoy living here I cannot envisage really what it's like to be on the other side and I would rather not believe in survival but I find it impossible to be intellectually honest and not believe in survival I mean whatever we're going to uh see and experience is something that we can't quite understand or accept now and there are so many question marks about it that the easier thing to do is to say well I don't really I don't want to be involved in it you count me out when I'm dead I'm did thank you very much that's it but I don't believe that to be true I mean I think that's just a way of running away from the facts I'm sure that belief in the afterlife ought to have changed the way I live my life make me a better person I'm not aware that it has done actually um but um theoretically at inate I'm quite sure that it helps a lot of other people and it may even help me when I get to an old age which is any day now one of the odd things about um survival experiments and survival information is the almost Universal agreement that there is an immediate review of your whole life when you die and there's no crime and punishment of the hell and Damnation sort but it's uh a process of self-revelation self-education um how that is done and exactly what happens to the individual during this process is to my mind a big question mark whether he's reincarnated in order to learn more and then goes back again I don't know the evidence for reincarnation I think is very profound indeed I think that um if we look for consensus on the other side we are presupposing something which I believe to be false and that is that once you get to the other side you're immediately U uh available for all information uh all the mysteries of the world are suddenly revealed to you um and I think that it was Myers who said it's as silly to imagine that once we get to the other side all Mysteries are revealed and all knowledge is available to us as it is to imagine that a small baby born on your world is immediately possessed of an understanding of how the world works so there is a hierarchy on the other side of people who just moved over who just have no more knowledge of what they're about uh as they had when they were on this side and are beginning to learn and then they move on to higher levels of spirituality where they can intelligently answer a lot of the questions that we pose but maybe they can't an Ask answer those questions in a form which is immediately accessible to us understandable to us the fear of death is undoubtedly a profound U phenomenon among virtually all people and I think that once a person is persuaded uh of the evidence in whatever way uh that there is an afterlife and that Consciousness continues and they can possibly communicate with their deceased ones on this side uh the fear of death begins to evaporate uh and it may diminish completely and if that is the case then it's a complete justification for all the efforts made by people like me for investigating the evidence I certainly think it can be argued that um eliminating or reducing the fear of death by being persuaded that there is an afterlife uh does or can change people in all sorts of ways I don't think it's changed me particularly at least I'm not conscious of it but by uh reducing the fear of death and knowing that they can uh possibly live again or there's something afterwards uh they should be become rather less concerned with material problems uh and more concerned with living a decent life how do I know that the spirit voices really did come from the afterlife rather than from the mediums themselves we don't know that we simply have a number of clues of information which was extremely unlikely to have direct D from the subconscious mind or the conscious mind of the of the medium uh and the more uh impressive those are the less likely it is that you can say that this is an aspect of mediumship and the more likely it is it's an aspect of discarnate communication for a few seconds here and this is for a television audience worldwide yep any system of thought including contemporary science has sort of boundaries of what what's permissible and what isn't and there's a kind of taboo about things that go beyond that within science based on a materialist point of view the mind is the brain so anything that suggests the Mind might be more than the brain goes against the theory and therefore most scientists don't want to know about it so there's a very powerful taboo when people say that the Paranormal is Paranormal they don't usually mean that these are things that don't happen for example telepathy is extremely common in the modern world most people have experienced it some people experience it on a daily basis in connection with phone calls um but that doesn't that doesn't mean it's paranormal it means it's normal it happens um it's only paranormal from the point of view of a theory that says it's impossible if the minds in the brain telepathy ought not to happen so if it does it's theoretically paranormal in actual fact it's normal scientific materialism is the belief that the mind is nothing other than the brain mental activity is brain activity all our Consciousness is inside our head and in fact most people would usually assume Consciousness is confined to a small layer at the top of the cerebral cortex so it's the theory that the mind's in the brain and can't in any way be detached from the brain or stretch out beyond the brain the Paranormal is defined in relation to the normal it means beyond the normal therefore to Define it implies that we know what the normal is in science this is often taken to be the materialist Theory materialists believe that the mind is nothing but the brain therefore anything that suggests the mind can have an influence at a distance as in telepathy or become detached from the brain as in survival of bodily death uh is by definition paranormal beyond the normal but this is a theoretical definition and in science we're meant to look at evidence and if we look at the evidence we get a very different picture things like telepathy are common the majority of the population say they've experienced it so it happens it's evidence there's a lot of evidence scientific evidence it happens so it's normal not paranormal it's only paranormal from the point of view of a particular Theory and science isn't committed to particular theories science doesn't have to adopt the materialist ideology as its basis science is a method of inquiry where we can find out by looking at evidence and constructing hypotheses and understand the world better through proper investigation not

Dogma the only way to find out what's really going on is through investigations if lots of people have had an experience of a particular kind then we could say it's normal for people to have this experience how we explain it as another question then we need to investigate that by science one of the problems with research in this area is that because of the taboo there's virtually no funding for this area so there's very little research now the funding is decided by Central Committees of scientists and they reflect scientific prejudices and and and consensus values it's partly a political question and I think in a democracy um certain percentage of science funding should be spent on Research that actually interests voters uh at the moment it's all decided by small Committees of science establishment people and representatives of big business but there's no reason why in a democracy some scientific research shouldn't reflect people's interests there's no doubt that a great many people are really interested in these questions of survival of the existence of psychic phenomena and so on and if science funding reflected the interests of the population then a huge amount of money would go into these fields rather than none science is not committed to any particular ideology or worldview it's a method of inquiry um there's a dominant materialism in science that grew up in the 19th century um it's become part of the culture of science but it's really a dogmatic belief system rather than a testable Theory things that don't fit in with it the evidence against materialism like a lot of the evidence for psychic phenomena uh is simply dismissed or treated as taboo so it's really a matter of maintaining a belief system and that in my opinion is extremely anti-scientific science is not about Dogma it's about investigation theoretical Frameworks are helpful but we don't have to have a theoretic iCal framework for phenomena we don't understand we find out about them by investigating them and people had um they were investigating fossils before Darwin came up with the theory of evolution um they had various theories but they weren't very solid ones some people thought they were left by the flood and so on um we investigate a lot of things in science like quazars in in cosmology whose nature is unknown um and if you said you can't investigate anything unless you understand it science would never have got off the ground in the first place Superstition is really believing something on the basis of a habit a cultural habit you're told about it you go on believing it even in the absence of any evidence well I would say that in some ways the materialist dogmas of science are a kind of superstition a belief that anything that doesn't fit into this way of thinking can't possibly exist it's a kind of anti-superstition superstition um I think the the real question is we need to investigate things on the experimental basis if if a lot of people believe in telepathy for example maybe it's a Superstition maybe it really happens the only way to find out is to study the phenomenon and find out whether it happens or not not to adopt the view that it's a Superstition a prejudice against it and then close off any inquiry that way we find out nothing we remain trapped in our belief system the scientific method is to do with having hypotheses and testing them by means of experiment it's a method of experimental inquiry this is of course physical in the sense that you're looking at physical evidence but the kinds of questions you ask depend on ideas that go beyond beyond science and which are called metaphysical and materialism for example is a metaphysical Doctrine it says that the only physical reality is matter now it doesn't prove that it says it it starts from that as a as an assumption and with that assumption uh you investigate what matter does anything that doesn't appear to be explicable in terms of matter is regarded as non-existent as a metaphysical assumption every kind of science starts from some kind of metaphysics uh a belief in the larger framework within which science takes place and in

scientific revolutions there's a challenge to the existing metaphysical doctrines and they're replaced by something else another Doctrine in modern sciences that Nature's governed by laws that are fixed for all time and were all there at the moment of the Big Bang we can't possibly prove that we can't go back in time to the Big Bang to see if all the laws of nature were there my own view is that they might have evolved that U even the laws of nature evolve or that they're more like habits um so science is always based on metaphysical assumptions this is necessary but the methods of Investigation through experiments look at physical evidence if one says that the conscious experiences that people have during a near-death experience are produced by the brain they would rather depend on brain activity but there's new evidence from Pim van ll in the Netherlands uh shows that in fact in people having near-death experiences the brain was completely flatlined there was no measurable electrical activity of at all he actually had Electro andil graphs on people's brains when they underwent near-death experiences and he was able to show that um the the brain activity the chaotic brain activity or the hyperactivity that some people postulated just wasn't going on the brain was to all intents not active at all so here we have uh conscious experiences associated with a brain that doesn't seem very active he thinks that this evidence the best evidence we have so far uh suggests that Consciousness can operate independently of the brain acquiring information when in an out of the body state as in an out of the- body experience or near-death experience only tells us that people can acquire information somehow it doesn't necessarily prove that their Center of Consciousness has moved outside the body um or that they're acquiring it by some strange means from a center outside the body it's conceivable it's being acquired by the body and then entering their Consciousness wherever that Center of Consciousness appears to be the evidence seems to be ambiguous and I don't think you can draw any firm conclusion one way or the other even if somebody knows what's going on somewhere else if you take seriously the idea of telepathy you see it's possible they picked it up telepathically from someone who knew what was going on there as soon as you allow for things like telepathy which personally I think well supported by evidence then you don't have to assume that they go out of the body and see something with disembodied eyes they could have picked it up telepathically from someone else who was seeing it that may seem improbable in fact both explanations seem improbable really but you know we're going to have to choose between improbable explanations um to explain this kind of evidence we don't know how telepathy is working you see if we don't know that telepathy is necessarily working through the brain so if the fact the brain's Flatline doesn't prove that telepathy is impossible in that state my own view is that telepathy is a field phenomenon that our minds are fields of activity and that telepathy depends on field connections now those fields may or may not be detachable from the brain that's very much an open question but one can't say that the telepathic acquisition of information has to depend on a functioning brain we just don't know we're in the realm of the unknown here I think that telepathy tells us that our Consciousness is not simply confined to our brains that there are links between people at a distance which enable information to be transfered I've done a lot of work on telepathy I think the evidence is extremely strong um it shows the mind is more than the brain and it implies that the mind is like a system of fields that project out beyond the brain just as a cell phone has invisible fields that go beyond the surface of the cell phone or a magnet has fields that go beyond the surface of the magnet so I think our our minds extend beyond the brain telepathy is consistent with a field theory of the Mind but in these examples telepathy is still rooted in the brain now near-death experiences and out of the body experiences uh rather suggest that the center of Consciousness can be detached from the brain. If telepathy is a system of fields then the question is can these fields leave the brain and be sort of free floating in space now that's quite a big jump and I find it rather hard to know what to think about that. I'm perfectly happy with the idea of fields extending around the brain uh in to explain telepathy which is a much less challenging phenomenon than these out of the body experiences or evidence for communication from the dead telepathy is you know pretty close to ordinary kind of scientific reality in my opinion um and relatively simple to understand uh these things go much further and they're much more challenging and I honestly don't know the answer. I'm never quite sure what people mean when they say Consciousness is non-local. I think Consciousness is located normally in our bodies. I mean we have a point of view which is normally located inside our bodies. My point of view now is based on where I'm sitting it's not distributed at random anywhere in the universe it's centered here um I can have non-local interactions if I have a telepathic communication with somebody in Australia then there's an influence that it doesn't seem to be dependent on distance or locality that passes between us uh but that person is also localized in a particular place in Australia so you can have non-local interactions and in physics when people talk about non-local interactions they mean that one thing uh and another thing can be linked at a distance in a way that doesn't seem to depend on how far apart they are but these things nevertheless have locations um to say non-local in a general sense implies that it has no place no locality all our conscious experience has locality even the out of the body experiences have a location for the Consciousness near the ceiling of the room for example it's still located at a particular point in this physical Universe um so it's a little confusing to use the word non-locality as if it implies that nothing has a place. I think that our normal Consciousness works through fields that through perception our perceptual world is projected out. I think vision involves light coming into the eyes and the visual world being projected out so um if you see me sitting here now my image of me isn't inside your brain where the materialists say it is it's where it seems to be it's projected out by you to where I'm sitting so Consciousness involves a system of fields of perceptual fields uh that are going on the whole time even in ordinary experience um our mind isn't confined to the inside of the brain any more than the field of a magnet is confined to the inside of the iron bar um nevertheless normally the Consciousness is rooted in the brain there are two circumstances when we experience our Consciousness as not being rooted in our brain as being located in some other body or place and the first and in my opinion the most important and interesting is in dreams everybody's had the experience of having a center of Consciousness outside their physical body during dreams I may dream that I'm running along the road even flying and yet my physical body is asleep in bed so every one of us has a dream body an alternative body and another kind of body that we experience subjectively from within on a nightly basis uh which has a world going on around it and we're in our dreams we're centered in this body we may not always be conscious or aware of it but we always have a point of view centered in this body so everybody knows from the experience of dreams that we can experience our Consciousness as being located somewhere else than in our physical body sometimes in dreams we dream about familiar places sometimes we're dreaming about fantastical places that don't really exist but it shows that our body can occupy a space in a kind of conscious realm of possibility or imagination or uh conscious construction uh that's not inside our body I think the best way of understanding the out of the body and near-death experiences is to see the this as being close to the dream phenomenon where our Dream body or something like our Dream body becomes detached from our ordinary body just as it does in dreams it's just that they're more clear or we're more aware of what's going on and this does in fact occur in a particular class of dreams called lucid dreams dreams where people know they're dreaming and uh they're aware that they're in their dream body and they can go where they like and uh they have gain a kind of power over the dream state this is something practiced by shamans in uh traditional cultures it's something that many people have had spontaneously in our own so to me the key to the question is understanding the dream body because that's the normal experience that all of us have had even if we've never had an out of the body experience uh in our dreams we've all experienced being outside our normal body in some other body or in in some other Center of Consciousness well the dream body is sometimes called the astral body and so some people call the conscious control of out of the body experiences astral projection um I don't think the word astral helps us very much I prefer the word dream body because dream body is so clear it's plain English and everybody knows that they've got a dream body because they've all experienced it if you talk about astral bodies then it brings in a whole esoteric nomenclature that's rather puzzling the word astral Supply suggests a connection with the Stars and it's not at all obvious why you should call this dream body uh after the Stars we may think of our dreams as Fantastical and unreal and in many ways they are um but when we're having a dream When We're Dreaming it seems real enough to us and a nightmare can be genuinely frightening it's not just imaginarily frightening it's really frightening and a wet dream in a man is you know really wet I mean this is is things are actually happening in the dreams it's not just a Fantastical realm um so to dismiss our Dream experience on the grounds it's not real it's something we only do on the basis of a comparison with Waking Life Now say you float out of your body and you have a near-death experience and this is like being in a dream and say it's not a near-death experience say it's a real death experience what happens if you go on floating and you're as it were trapped in a kind of dream body State a dream body world the difference from an ordinary dream is you can't wake up any longer because you haven't got a living body to wake up into and what if survival of bodily death is rather like being in a dream um from which you can't wake up that seems to me the most plausible way of thinking about it in fact because we already know from our own experience we can be in a realm of conscious experience with a kind of body in our dreams that's not the same as the ordinary realm we already know that our dreams are tremendously influenced by our preoccupations our fears our desires we we can have nightmares which are usually about being trapped or unable to escape or being chased or being threatened by some destructive force like a monster um all these things may happen after we're dead and people may have a great range of different experiences after they're dead on depending on the kind of person they are um it might like be like being in a Dream from which you can't wake up I think it's much easier to approach the subject of survival of bodily death by starting from our experience and particularly our experience of Dreams um than it is to start from brain physiology after all we know very little about the connection between brain physiology and Consciousness the Assumption in conventional science it's all inside the brain I think is false anyway because I think our minds are fields that stretch out beyond the brain um so starting from dreams I think is the best way of beginning to understand what might be going on in these various experiences in trying to understand afterdeath Communications and other kinds of influence from people who are apparently dead assuming it's not just a matter of telepathy um for me the interesting question is looking at dreaming people can someone who's dreaming have an influence at a distance by visiting that place in their dream body in a lucid dream people can actually will where they go they go and visit friends they say they've seen things happening and sometimes in those cases there are reports that people have seen them or felt a presence or an animal in the room has reacted as if somebody was there in other words the projection of their dream body to a particular place in what sometimes called astral projection um does seem to have effects in that place on on in some cases now perhaps uh such a person could even influence or even possess somebody in that place to you know start saying things or communicate through somebody or bring about even physical influences I don't know I think that that's the place to look research-wise the evidence for people in lucid dreams being able to influence things at a distance if they can then we'd have from the study of lucid dreams the idea that a dream body can bring about effects under certain circumstances can even be seen or have the presence felt by others this would then be relevant the whole question of a dream body theory of survival uh because after somebody's dead perhaps the same kind of thing could happen they could appear in particular places bring about effects people could feel their presence it might be that the ability some people seem to have to influence others or to be have effects in particular places um when they're in their dream state in the dream body um is comparable to what happens after people have died the evidence for survival from communication through mediums and so forth I think in this whole field of research people have ignored too much the evidence from dream research um because I think it's highly relevant and I think it's the the main clue we have about the nature of what's going on in these survival States science has done very little to investigate the afterlife or reincarnation most materialists assume that both of them are impossible so there's a kind of dogmatic denial by some scientists of the possibility of these things but I wouldn't say that was a scientific understanding I would say that was a dogmatic ideologically motivated dismissal um the only way to have a scientific understanding is to do the research and to find out what's actually happening and to look at the evidence in relation to reincarnation the best evidence is from Ian Stevenson's studies on children who remember previous lives I think he's established Beyond doubt that some children have memories that correspond to things that happened in previous lives that they couldn't have known otherwise now that doesn't necessarily prove reincarnation what it shows is there's been a transfer of memory my own view is that we all tap into a kind of collective memory and perhaps in these cases there's a specific transfer of memories from particular people maybe it's reincarnation maybe maybe it's memory transfer and even if these children have been reincarnated does that prove that everyone else has been and we've just forgotten all the details or or does it mean that reincarnation even if it is reincarnation is a rare exception personally I think it's an exception rather than the rule and in Stevenson's cases um the previous personalities the memories that were remembered are highly non-random they um show the majority of the people were murdered and the others died violent or sudden deaths so it's a particular category of people who seem to have past life m or least a particular category of past life uh so it may be exceptional rather than the rule to distinguish between a transference of memory and real reincarnation in cases where people have memories from previous lives would be difficult one way would be to see whether you can have two people with the same memories at the same time and I think there are such cases um that would then argue against reincarnation theory that said you have a kind of unit soul that goes from body to body but I suppose reincarnationist could say oh well sometimes it's splits up like twins and you've got and and you can go into two bodies at the same time so it's hard to find a conclusive experiment to distinguish between reincarnation and memory transfer um but it also leads us into philosophical questions what is it that your personality is you know in Buddhist philosophy uh there is no such thing as the core personality there's just a bundle of memories and you may have some memories from some person and another life but that doesn't prove that the the very essence of you has moved over from that other life and indeed some schools of Hinduism where reincarnation widely accepted um say that what's moving from life to life is only a few memories it's or dispositions but the essence of the self is not personal at all it's at and Brahman this is the ultimate principle is present in all people and you can't really say that it moves from one to the other one analogy they give is that if you have a buckets of water and you see the Moon reflected in the buckets of water if you see it first in one bucket and then in another it's not that the moons jump from one bucket to another it's both of them are reflecting something that's beyond themselves so even in Eastern philosophy there's no clear easy to grasp concept of reincarnation that would enable us to decide between memory transfer and reincarnation so this leads us into very deep areas of uh philosophy as well as science some of Stevenson's most impressive evidence comes from these birthmark cases where people have birth marks corresponding to wounds that apparently were usually to do with the murder of the previous personality here I think it shows that there are inherited influences that affect not just the memories but also the body itself I myself think that the inheritance of body form takes place through process I call morphic resonance I think that that as well as memory depends on a kind of collective memory principle so even if there's a transfer of some features of a previous body like birth marks where bullet wounds were U you could have a kind of body memory transfer but again that wouldn't necessarily prove an individual reincarnation Theory it would show that there was a strong influence from a particular previous person that's influenced both the body and the mind of of a later person um a transfer of memories uh but it wouldn't necessarily prove that they were that person um this really then becomes a matter of what you would believe on philosophical or theological grounds about what reincarnation is and what the essence of the person is I don't know how um The Reincarnation birth mark cases work how to explain those um a reincarnation would be one possibility but there would also be a possibility of transfer of memory through the fields that shape the growing body what I call morphic Fields uh which depend on the kind of memory and influence from the past and if there's an influence from a particular person in the past with bullet wounds or something that influences this body as it grows in the embryo um there's certainly something working through the field influencing the form from a particular person in the past as part of a collective influence from lots of other people in the past um it's a kind of memory effect but it doesn't necessarily prove complete reincarnation after all the the newly born child or the young child who has the memories doesn't look exactly like the other person it's not as if their entire bodily form has been transferred from one body to another it hasn't they look different it's just they resemble them in certain features and when they have conscious memories of previous lives it's not as if the whole of their memory is filled with these memories they say these things sometimes but they have other things in their minds as well and quite often they forget these memories of past lives by the time they're seven or eight years old so it's not as if there's a total

package deal whereas an entire bodily form an entire set of memories habits and dispositions is shifted from one body to another there's a transfer even on the best available evidence Stevenson's evidence of certain influences among others and those others have come from other people in the past it's I think we're all a kind of composite people who have memories of previous lives may have specifically enhanced memories of certain people in the past but this is not the whole of their personality nor is it the whole of their bodily form it accounts for certain marks like birth marks but not the shape of their nose the size of their face even their sex CU some people uh are born as boys when the previous personality was a girl these are pretty major differences the skull experiments were done carefully and they were done as properly as was possible under the circumstances and all of us would have liked to have infrared sensitive cameras filming what was going on and more light in the room but this is something that for various reasons they wouldn't or couldn't agree to now the cynics would say this is because they'd got something to hide um they would say this is because these phenomena can only manifest in darkness and it wouldn't be possible to look at them under these conditions and for some reason they didn't want it to be filmed with infrared cameras so this is something which the scientists and the psychical investigators involved were very keen to try and have done but it was just not something that the medium or the spirits that spoke through them would agree to so unfortunately the evidence isn't as conclusive as it would have been if phenomena had been captured on film and there had been sufficient light in the room to rule out certain other explanations when I attended a sitting uh in skull with the skull group this was in a basement it was dark the mediums wore luminous bands around their wrists so that you could see where their arms were um but apart from that there were no lights in the room and so it was extremely dark in the course of the session there were things where lights appeared at one stage there were small lights darting around the room um and my mind was trying all the time to think of so-called rational explanations for this I thought at first that the lights must be small light emitting diodes suspended on the end of nylon fishing line type things and I've more or less come to conclusion that's what was happening that they must have found some way of waving fishing rods around with these lights on the end when the light came down in front of it went pop went through the table and came out the other side and then floated up the other side now no nylon fishing line um explanation would account for it going through an apparently solid well it was a solid object to table um so there were things there that I just couldn't understand in terms of any normal kind of explanation this is where people who are experienced conjurers and illusionists come in and they always say oh well there's a way of doing it we can trick people and so on the trouble is you get into this shadowy realm where you get claims from illusionists uh who claim to have a superior knowledge of all these tricks I don't know of any that have duplicated that trick or shown how it could be done um I mean it doesn't seem like a trick but I mean I couldn't stop all these skeptical thoughts flooding through my mind as I sat there seeing these things happen at one stage a disembodied hand appeared and appeared to be floating over the table I asked Mrs Bradshaw who was speaking through one of the mediums um if this was a disembodied hand I said I can see a disembodied hand she said it's not a disembodied hand I said you mean it's got an invisible body attached and she said precisely and then she said would you like it to touch you and I saides so she said well ask it so I said hand will you touch me and so the hand went round behind me and it tapped me on the shoulder and then I saw it moving down and again floating over the table well this again

was extremely difficult to make any sense of my mind went into overdrive thinking of explanations you know hands that were somehow with strings holding them up and mean trying to think how this could be done through some kind of cheap Conjuring trick I couldn't think of any explanation of that kind um and then when I was there a crystal on the table started glowing and moving around there were some lights from these apparently self-luminous objects um and so there were a number of strange physical movements and phenomena which were exceedingly hard to understand um which didn't make sense in any normal terms which if they were Conjuring tricks would have required extraordinary Ingenuity and I couldn't see any evidence that the people were moving around or doing this kind of thing nor since they seemed decent honest quite Ordinary People could I see why they'd want to get up to such elaborate tricks as these um so I was completely baffled by the entire experience and I really couldn't see even if you accept the afterlife explanation uh that these really were disembodied Spirits speaking through the mediums I still couldn't understand why even if they were disembodied Spirits they want to make little light emitting diode type lamps whiz around the room or have disembodied hands appear um or make crystals float in the air and glow with a mysterious light and the whole thing was utterly baffling even if one took it at face value these occurrences were evidences of something something very strange happening you could perhaps call it psychokinesis which is Mind Over Matter effects but say there were real Mind Over Matter effects going on as opposed to Conjuring tricks um then how do we know they were coming from the minds of the disembodied people rather than from the minds of the mediums who were sitting in the room in pist phenomena Disturbed adolescence typically um can be associated with the movements of solid objects I've investigated a poltergeist case in North London it involved bottles of B's Irish Cream um being flung across rooms writing appearing on walls items of furniture toppling over and so forth these are quite big physical effects bigger than any I saw at skull yet we don't invoke um disembodied um TR people who are dead to explain these these seem to be associated with mental disturbances in the mind of a a teenager in this case a teen AG girl um so if Minds can produce these kinds of effects and do so in palag type phenomena then Minds might have been producing them at skull but then the question is whose mind were they coming perhaps through the unconscious minds of the mediums who may not consciously have been causing these effects any more than Disturbed adolescence consciously C cause Poltergeist phenomena or were they caused by seemingly um discarnate Spirits like Mrs Bradshaw who seemed a very respectable middleclass lady from Cambridge in the early part of the 20th century but even if it was Mrs Bradshaw why would she have wanted to make small lights uh where around the room

greetings and welcome to the richard dolan show where every week we fight the good fight happy to be here we're doing a video version of the program and my guest for this program my guess for this episode is um not just a friend he's not just a colleague he is much more than that to me in my life he is my co-author we co authored a d after disclosure together he is bryce zabel bryce so glad to have you on on the program i'm i'm glad to be here and in fact after 10 years i'm glad to be anywhere when you think about how much time has gone by it's unbelievable but congratulations to both of us for still being around good for us i could not agree more so i just want people to know uh lots of folks do know these uh facts about you but this is worth saying that you are the co-author co-creator i should say of the of what is still a great television show in our history that is dark skies you did that with brent friedman back at the in the late 90s and to my mind it's still really the best treatment of the ufo cover-up that anyone's really attempted to do i mean the x-files is a great show great drama you got mulder and scully uh blue book which is more recent um you know there's fun things about blue book but but what you guys did is you really tried to go deep on the history of the ufo phenomenon and to flesh out like who would mj 12 have been what would their policies have been and uh to my mind i think that's still the best treatment of that whole that whole subject you're very kind to say that um i know we're here to talk about after disclosure so i'll keep that brief one of the things we did do that you're referring to is uh going into this thing we created this massive timeline where we we literally took every ufological event and put it in a timeline and we did this in a graph and then we took every history historical event and put it in a timeline and then when they would match up we said there's an episode right that's how we kind of went about it and we also you know said to ourselves let's not tease anybody this is the real deal let's show them a ufo in the first scene and let's show them the inside workings of majestic 12. uh because i guess i'll just end it this way our theory was uh if roswell was a true event in 1947 by the time jfk was rolling into washington with the new frontier there had to be some stuff going down on this topic and we just wanted to dive into that so we did so thanks for bringing it up and by the way it doesn't stream and it's not the dark skies movie that came out a few years ago which people think i wrote i did not write that that was somebody using my dark sky's title to sort of you know bring something to their

movie whatever um dark skies hollywood yeah that was a i could weep about that one but uh so dark skies the television series that rich is generously brought up is not a streaming thing but it is there's an insanely great dvd set available through shout factory or on amazon or wherever and anyway enough well yeah i just i think it's worth it that people know that the other thing i just want them to know about you is you have a very active uh blog site called uh on the on the trail of the saucers and uh maybe we can talk about that a little later if we have time but we want to get into after disclosure this is what you and i did um and you know it started out as a series of phone calls you actually had called to uh you wanted to do some work on my two volumes of history of net ufo's national security state and i don't we don't even need to go in all that detail what really ended up happening was we had a series of phone conversations that morphed into what became after disclosure we discovered i really like this guy we're kind of simpatico in our ideas about ufos and we we both realized i don't i don't know when this flash happened maybe march or april of 2010 when we realized we could write a book that no one's ever done before and that's what we set out to do and back in fact i've got i've got edition one here excellent that's the abridged edition for people that want a little less in their lives uh you know uh i just have to say that uh i'm not gonna let you skip by ufos in the national security state so easily the truth of the matter is uh i loved that series of books i read both of them and i thought they were just they were overwhelming in their research and and they made me i was already you know solid but but i was way more solid after it so i wanted to figure out a way to maybe make those into a television series so we started talking about that and as i recall the thing that got to both of us is you didn't write those books without having a serious library of your own and i had a pretty serious one myself and neither one of us had a single book that had that was all about disclosure and in fact very few books had even a paragraph or two about them so no one no one had written about it no so you know sometimes i i guess i guess if you're a doer you say well if the book isn't available for me to read i guess i better write it so that's what we did and i never looked back i thought it was a brilliant experience for me personally and and for me professionally so i i have nothing but fond memories about it yeah same here the thing that we you know set out to do it's really it's a two phase book as i always saw it which is phase one is we ask a question how might ufo secrecy end so what what might be the uh right the triggers and the the movers that would get that whole thing because when we wrote this in 2010 this is before the new york times started covering the subject in 2017 onward we're in a different era now we need to talk about that by the way but in 2010 it was like the cover-up was very severely in place like for anyone who's around 10 years ago we all remember uh ufos are still getting no love from the media they're really getting no attention from the political establishment like nothing and so we really wanted to know how could this seemingly immovable uh structure of secrecy get jarred loose in one way so that was part of the book and then the whole rest of the book really more than half of it was us trying to answer the question what then like how how would the end of secrecy rock our world and um to this day actually no one else has really tried to do this type of a book uh i always felt that we we handled it the way a think tank might try to handle it in other words to really just be as analytical about our society as possible and look at the different sectors whether it's uh science whether it's academia whether it's uh religion whether it's culture and whether it's geopolitics which we did at the end and how all of these and other parts of our society would be transformed and that was hard to do because it really required a leap of imagination but we tried to ground that imagination speculation on the facts as we understood them so that's what we tried to do you know it's interesting because i think when we started out uh it was pretty clear we had a ufo historian who knew his stuff and then we had this dramatist who i don't know the hollywood guy but and we thought well let's just you know fuse them together and you know the speculative stuff we well bryce can think about enriches and then as we started to write we went no that's not going to work uh because i think we both realized that we had things to say about both different versions of it so we ended up writing on top of each other using google documents which i thought was great and it gave us such because if you trust the other writer you just let them right on top of you because you know they're going to make you smarter and it's a it's a better product so we we did that and i just want to pick up on one thread there really are two concepts inside that book uh the there is the one which is a.d after disclosure if you think about a.d i've always thought of it as a calendar marking point and i i guess that was the inspiration for our title which is everything's going to change after we all commonly agree that that we're not alone and they're here now not out there waiting for seti to ring him up yeah and and and so that a.d after disclosure was the speculative look you know the look into the future and trying not just to have banal little statements but to like give it some legs and to make it specific but buried within that is you can't have an ad if you don't have a bc and for us bc meant before confirmation that's the world we're still in today although we are in the final stages of it probably and to go back to your point uh we were in 2010 most definitively in a bc world very much so well before we're done here i really want to talk with you about uh this whole like phase that we're in right now because i have some thoughts about it i really want to hear your thoughts too but one thing that stands out with me relating to our book i think there's a lot of things that we really did get right or at least i think our thinking was in the right direction but there's one thing that that's turning out differently than how at least i anticipated probably you too and that's everything that's been going on for the last three years in the ufo field and i will just say like when we imagine the end of secrecy like again you know we're writing in 2010 and things were so it was so uh repressive by the standards of today in terms of what can we talk about publicly in terms of ufos like it's easy to forget the ufo subject was still pretty much not in polite society so we were imagining something happens something big happens that would jar this whole thing loose and i think both of us were thinking something big happens and that's going to start an avalanche and what we haven't seen is that avalanche what we're seeing instead is drip drip drip drip new fact new fact new fact we're seeing the new york times write about ufos that's shocking that would have been shocking to us in 2010. even right even with the new york times writing about it though like the other shoe hasn't dropped we're still in this kind of sort of maybe there's something there going phase no one's really talking about cover-ups even after three years of so so i'm waiting for the avalanche it hasn't happened and i'm wondering did we get something wrong or what do you think about that i don't think we got anything wrong i don't think i think right and wrong is kind of a value that i'm not going to buy into we did the best we could and we were more or less accurate about the disclosure issues i still think it stands on its own as to you know how it was going to come about i mean that's a tough one i mean who among us could really in 2010 have said donald trump will be president and who among us would have said that ufo disclosure would take off because of tom delong and who among us would have said that the the new york times would be writing about crash wreckage and who among us would have said the u.s navy was going to actually let three videos of their

encounters out so these are we did however predict that things like that would happen and so there they are and in fact what i would what i would say to that is um one thing we both really saw is that we had an expression in the book which was that disclosure is impossible and inevitable it was this paradox i really liked that phrase because i felt that it really encapsulated ufo secrecy and it was always we felt it was impossible because frankly there was just no motivation that we could see right for those people with the ufo knowledge and secret to let it out because i think we both concluded they had too much to lose uh in terms of repercussions of the secrecy itself like how have you lied to us all these years and all of that but then also in terms of letting out the science that undoubtedly has been learned energy secrets propulsion secrets who knows god whales so that's why it would be impossible but inevitable because we both could see in 2010 that the world was in such a tumultuous state of change uh wikileaks was still a fairly new thing um you know cell phones smartphones were actually a fairly new thing in 2010 uh videos uh capability on people's phones was a fairly new thing uh the video conferencing skype and just telecommunications instant worldwide was actually all that was new so we could see that there were a lot of things stirring the pot and i think what we both recognized is that unexpected things were going to happen in our society that were going to force this open it's actually what did happen so we didn't predict to the stars academy we didn't predict tom delong but we did predict that that conversations would be bubbling up more and more and more and more and somehow would force away into the public consciousness so that i think we did kind of see um but the details are always going to be impossible um right yeah i mean the details always were you know the devil is in the details you know i think for a little bit of uh you know just sort of drama we had the president announcing something at the beginning right that was always a possibility i mean it still is technically uh but it didn't have to be that way it was just a way to get people's attention and sort of ground them but i have one actual thing that as you were talking i was just thinking about it what is the other shoe well i'll tell you what the shoe is if you listen to what's going on in the media right now and even in ufology if you read people's twitter accounts i'm not saying across the board i'm not saying all the time but you get the sense that the only thing that ever happened in ufology if you watch unidentified for example is that the navy put out three videos and that these three videos that's all the information we have we've got to figure out these three videos and and basically uh is it or you know is it a danger to national security because we have navy videos well rich you wrote two phenomenal books that say otherwise your ufos in the national security state lay out chapter and verse of thousands of things that are part of ufological history some of them are probably crazy right because people lie and things have happened right the overall sustaining force of those two books is that this phenomenon is real and it's been going on a long time so what's what is the other shoe well for me it's really got to be context you cannot keep writing about these navy videos and not say well by the way while you guys are debating whether they're from china or russia or the united states let's recall that in 1940s we were seeing the same things with the same five observables made those thank you china or russia or the united states no it was not so this whole conversation has been asked and answered and you wrote the bible on both of those well thanks man i i will just say like over the last several years i've i've been saying this over and over and over again to anyone who's willing to listen which is like there is a historical reality that goes way back way back beyond the tic tac ufo encounter which is a great encounter i'm glad it's out there we need to know about it but tic tac like ufos have been seen since before actually the 1940s and with performance capabilities every bit as incredible as what you know commander david favors reported so yeah i don't think china made those by the way i'm just going out on a limb absolutely no way and not russia and you know then there's the whole argument low well this u.s black budget which to me is almost like saying it's magic because the people are saying it's a u.s black budget thing are not providing the slightest bit of science behind how this thing could do what it does like they they're just taking this wild guess saying oh black budget uh it's not really a good explanation either like and the fact is this goes back decade and decade um and so this is why like i actually assumed if there would be some kind of acknowledgement this is back to a.d our book yeah we assumed if there was going to be an open acknowledgement that these phenomena are real and that's what the new york times just said that yes just a month ago yes they said ufos is not a matter of belief anymore it's we know they're real it's like wow new york times so i i had always assumed i'm guessing you did too that once an acknowledgement like that was out people would put two and two together and they would think wait a minute it's real now had to be real in the 1940s so what about roswell what about all the other events that we've read about in history and that's what no one's asking about like it's that's the other shoe that's that's the avalanche that i've been expecting to happen but you know rich i think uh i i think what we're saying right here we're probably not the only people thinking this but we are giving voice to it right now and it is kind of a frustrating thing i mean you just have what what other subject would media just pair it back what they read someplace else and not try to do a little context okay right so context needs to be applied to this and and i'm not just talking about global context i'm talking about the fact that if you read what came out of the senate select committee and the words from marco rubio and all that this is all great stuff but every and and and the unidentified series frankly and everything lou elizondo and and uh and chris mellon have said great guys but what they keep phrasing i think that they have been saying to themselves look the public can only take so much and so the way to get this uh you know to get the horse poking into the barn here is to focus on these navy videos and and try to appear open-minded maybe they're china could be russia might have been us who knows okay that phase is wrapping up based on i guess their last episode that face is wrapping up and now we're in a new phase which is okay they weren't making these in the 1950s and yet people were seeing them i mean i've got a couple of kehoe's books i started reading a couple of weeks ago just the fun of it well my god i mean the same kind of stuff going on in 1950 yes i don't think i think at the end of world war ii the one thing we could say is if you had a piece of technology you freaking used it if you had the a-bomb you blew it up if you had a jet you would have used it if you whatever you had in world war ii you would use it so here we sit saying that somehow we had ufos coming out of flying saucers that could do all these things out of world war ii i don't buy it and i'm sure you don't either so no i i don't i agree with you completely um what's interesting about the uh the current discussion on this subject now is and hopefully we can circle back to our book because we have a lot of things that talk about true but yeah but with the new york times coverage i actually think it's helpful to to uh to focus on that for a minute so the last piece that leslie kane and rob blumenthal wrote um from i think july 23rd i think it was when they published that um that was an article that had a very big build up in the ufo community we all knew that it was coming out and i think it's fair to say when the article came out people who were following this closely were a little disappointed i think we were expecting a bit more nonetheless it was important that the

times published this they did have a kind this uh you know the statement that there's kind of sort of maybe been a little bit of crash retrievals we can't confirm it but they talk about dr eric davis briefing capitol hill and the pentagon on you know objects that are not from this earth oh that's really important but you can also see like there is the interview that leslie and ralph did with a really great fellow named jay over project unity and you can see that they were trying not to admit this but you could also see throughout the interview they were both stating there was a tremendous amount of control over them at the new york times oh yeah blumenthal used the phrase i think the infinitude of levels above us that the article had to go all the way up so really i think my take on all this is that like i look at the two of them as absolutely legit journalists who are really trying their best to do a good piece on this but they're they're working in the new york times and the new york times clearly they have this is my take on it they have a policy which is we're going to let this out a little bit but that's it only a little bit and we we're going to keep the brakes on this so there's still a very very strong reticence among the establishment if we can call them that to to really slow walk this this whole thing and i think uh it's not the journalists it's the upper levels which is clearly tied into national security new york times i don't think there's any question about it so they're deciding to slow walk this disclosure process and that's like the only thing that i i don't know how to predict is like is this part of a general disclosure policy or are they actually trying to just stop it in its tracks because i actually do see there's a possibility that this this disclosure train is going to hit its last stop for a while and may not move from beyond where we are for another couple of decades like i actually think that's possible there are other people who think nope the momentum is too great and we're just going to keep going um i read a book called disclosure where the authors contended that it was inevitable so i think i'm not sure that we can put this back you know you raise a couple of points yes uh i i you know people were a little disappointed in the last times article but so what um uh i i'm a trained journalist i mean that's what my degree is in and i've i've worked on i've reported for cnn for a while um so i i look at that and i read it and i felt like you know this has the earmarks earmarks of a lot of editors on it you know and as and and the the various levels that it would have had to go through and i think that's probably reasonable there are places where you it sort of peters out and then in the middle it started that crash wreckage thing which frankly is burying the lead if you have crash directly the lead is crash wreckage not oh by the way they're going to have a report from the senate in 18 months yeah yeah so i just felt like something's not quite right about that um but i do think there's one other thing that's kind of possibly going to happen which is you know kane and um and blumenthal for the time being own this story right they i mean as journalists there are other people reporting it um you know we've all i've written article you've written articles there's uh you know politicians involved and and other people are writing but in terms of breaking the news right now you'd have to say that the new york times with kane and blumenthal have the heat they are the woodward and bernstein of the moment but let's remember something historically and that by the way is one of the things that i thought we did well in after disclosure we took historical precedence and then applied them to the the ufo disclosure thing so historical precedent would be woodward and bernstein owned watergate but then what happened well they continued to set a high bar and have to break new stories but other newspapers got involved it wasn't just the washington post breaking watergate after a while and so what's happening right now is because it's such a crazy story for most journalists is they sort of have to hide behind the new york times right

because it's like i don't want to go out on that limb by myself and get chopped off but if i'm only regurgitating what they're saying maybe it won't be so dangerous to me as a professional but i guarantee you um that there are probably two or three newspapers or magazines or whatever whereas reporters and editors are huddled together right now saying okay can we break something big can we take this initiative away from the times and somebody's going to do that that actually would be a great thing to see um that would be the beginning of that avalanche effect that i've been waiting for yeah all this time and there is a little there's some signs here and there you know chris mellon brought to uh everyone's attention at least my attention that scientific american had done he did an interview on cnn he talked about scientific american and i was i thought oh my god and i read it it was a very good piece and there's other pieces popular mechanics of all places pretty decent ufo journalism uh and there's others like mainstreamish types of publications so i think your point is a good one there is this um at least potential for the story to get bigger and to go beyond the new york times and there are other private independent journalists that i know that are out there working various aspects of this so there there's definitely there's definitely room for forward motion um i just wonder i don't know this is really the best place to put this thesis out we can just let this hang but again i wonder if if all that we get moving forward is where we are at right now so in other words yes a recognition that some of these uap or ufos are real so we're kind of there but we're not at the recognition we're we're at a tacit recognition that there may have been crash retrievals we're not at a formal confirmation of that so that's kind of interesting that's a really interesting place to be and we're certainly not at the place where anyone's admitted that there's bodies in you know captivity anywhere live or dead there's no recognition or discussion of a cover-up so we're kind of at this recognition where the government was trying to be even back in the 1960s which is we don't really know what these things are and they're almost there now like we is it china is it russia maybe it's extraterrestrial and they're just kind of leaving it out there and it occurred to me that we could be at that place for another 10 years or more potentially if there are no further genuine inside leaks that come out so well you're right you're right it's not uh it's not crazy to say that but i again would take a look at since we're talking about a.d what we said about a.d was you know we have a mutual friend by the way who i won't invoke but who has predicted every year without fail that next year there'll be ufo disclosure so i'll always say about our friend that eventually he's going to be right right so but what we took was the longer view on ufos and disclosure and said you know because it was impossible that's the grit in the gears right now but right but the inevitability means that if you just go out over the horizon a little bit further you will have it so yeah is it it could it be put back in the box for a three year period three to five year period probably um is it going to happen i don't actually think so but but it could but the arc of history on this one is toward this openness what whatever whatever comes and and let's face it you just reeled off some names it's not just the new york times it's scientific american politico popular mechanics the drive there's a lot of great people that have written you know really good articles and you're doing fantastic work there's other you know there's just a lot going on a lot of ideas being discussed that that will still be advanced and i and and it's kind of strange because we live in a time where it used to be if the new york times said something we would all go oh my god it's in the new york times now we have at least 40 percent of the country that goes well don't believe anything in the new york times i'm one of them exactly so that's my point it's like it by itself doesn't mean what it used to mean

so i mean it doesn't mean every everything is a lie coming out of the new times obviously but everything there's a lot of spin there's a lot of collaboration with national security community um they did give us the weapons of mass destruction almost 20 years ago and they gave us a lot more that was totally fake and so when they started doing the whole ufo 180 turn around i mean it made my head spin just like everyone else's and i why do you think that they've done it why do you think that why why was the new york times decided after all these years to get in the ufo business i i will tell you why i think in fact my my first response back in december 2017 uh i'm back to my first response i came to it then i moved away from it now i'm back to it my first response was tsa was actually driving this this car not the new york times tsa had their press conference back in october of 2017. de long's up there on stage with people like put off and melon and elizondo and they're they it's really i mean they had some flubs on the press conference they had the picture of the mylar balloon and all of that stuff but but it's easy to forget how important that press conference was and there was a very credible group of individuals on stage with tom delong we were talking about the reality of this phenomenon that was kind that was a very big deal what we now know is behind the scenes people like chris mellon particularly were driving this to get to the mainstream and so they got they got the new york times to bite my take on the new york times was that the new york times upper management and this is only my speculation saw that this story was going to come out hell or high water it was going to come out yeah that they might as well take control of this and guide the narrative the way they wanted it to be guided and in fact if you read uh there were two articles that came out on december uh was it 17th i guess yeah 2017. um and then you know in in the one where they talked about atip they brought in these two skeptical statements like out of the blue that had no bearing on the story whatsoever except as i always felt psychological placeholders to to just slow this whole thing down to tell people don't get excited there's a lot of reasons for skepticism so what the new york times did is they they let some of this out but they did not go pedal to the metal and they did everything that they could in my opinion to maintain as much control over the narrative as possible now it's impossible once you get some momentum on this even the new york times which is the voice of the establishment really can't necessarily control everything and so but they've tried and in the last piece that leslie ralph wrote i thought there's a lot of evidence to show that they were really putting the brakes on as well so i think that's the whole my whole take on the new york times is that it's controlling and slowing this disclosure narrative as much as possible you know it's interesting though um in my other life as a television dramatist i've optioned you know certain projects over the time you know based on true stories and uh one of them in particular i won't bore you with the details of what it was about uh was not ufo related but it was a story about how the local community newspaper the scrappy little newspaper in in portland oregon ended up winning the pulitzer prize for investigative journalism by taking on powers and authorities that the established papers wouldn't take on right there are journalists out there some of them we already know their names and some of them we do not know their names yet right who are going to be important in breaking this and i wouldn't expect i would expect the new york times to get some credit when you know when you or me or together we write the history of this disclosure moment uh it the new york times will get there due but somebody who we're not even talking about right now is probably going to get their due it's not tom delong it's not the new york times it's somebody we don't even quite put there yet because that's how history unravels i just had one thing i wanted to throw out there

because there's a lot of coded messages that may be part of this thing here's just a weird one you mentioned you're kind enough to mention i've written these series of uh you know essays or articles i call it like a column i'm trying to write an old-fashioned column once a week and for people that want to know how to get there it's what if ufos.com will take you to a link where you can get to it but that's not what i'm telling you i wrote an article in the run-up to the new york times uh article about crash wreckage where everybody was zizzing like a men's strip waiting for this thing to you know uh come and happen and this article i wrote said roswell was the real deal okay and it was called yes we have crash ufo crash wreckage and it a hundred percent was about roswell being the real deal guess who not a retweet not a repost but somebody who put it at the top of their personal website was chris mellon yeah he left it there for 30 days it was unchallenged for 30 days as the top thing on the chris melon website now why would chris mellon do that i mean i listen it could just be that he thought it was a cleverly worded article in which case thank you chris i don't mean to read too much into it but on the other hand when you're playing in the security establishment as you well know you can't just hold a news conference about everything you're thinking you have to like do it with a little more cleverness so i just put out there you know when we say well what's the next shoe it could easily be roswell in fact you and i talked about it when we wrote a.d because we said if you had a problem where there were multiple scenarios going on maybe there's time travelers maybe there's aliens maybe there's interdimensional maybe there's more than one maybe there's five maybe there's 50 right if you've got something and maybe there's abductions if you've got something that is so crazy but you know the pressure is on you got to tell something it would sure be a lot easier to tell the truth about something from 1947 and say yeah that happened we're sorry we kept it under wraps but we don't have any more to say about it since then i'm looking at your article here right now and it really is a great piece um but i wonder how much they would be able to uh to deal with a subject like roswell i mean whether it's ttsa or anyone in the government are the records there are they able actually like they they probably know in fact i will guarantee you that everyone in ttsa because they've most of them have clearances of one sword or another um they definitely know that crash retrievals are real they i mean eric davis's statement he's not in ttsa but he's i consider him part of an honorary member i guess you could say like they all know that this is a real thing but can they prove it and are they able to prove something like roswell i couldn't say i mean may not be able to but if it really happened and it really represented and otherworldly or what you know if it ain't us if it was somebody else besides us um there are a lot of witnesses over the years it's kind of low-hanging fruit in in terms of writing the speculative article i'm not predicting it anymore than we were predicting it would be exactly as we laid it out in our book but it there are there is when you say what is the thing that will change it from this drip drip drip to what we talked about the avalanche we may not know but it could be something like that that's yeah to me that's the big question right now um we've been waiting i've been i've been waiting for the this inevitability and it hasn't happened but maybe it will now i want to ask you about something else relating to a book we've got wow just 20 minutes to go and i want to talk about the book well remember so one of the things that struck me about the book when we concluded it was how revolutionary uh the end of ufo secrecy would be i mean we looked at culture we looked at science we looked at academia we looked at uh politics we looked at geopolitics international politics we looked at um a lot of a lot of other things i'm not even remembering them all um the backlash of the end of

secrecy like angry people the pitchforks mob you know coming in you lied to us um all of these things were you know things that we put out there as as real possible repercussions of the end of ufo secrecy uh what strikes you as something that we wrote that that still seems pretty much on point are there like we're not at the post-disclosure world so it's fair for us to ask because we don't have to worry about being wrong yet what do you think is some of the more on point predictions that we might have made i'm very uh you know i gave it a a light read over i've read it several times over the years um i've always enjoyed it and i i have the same by the way response uh i'll read it and i'll go did i write that or did rich write me and i can't remember because we wrote on top of each other enough that i i don't have any memory but i think um to answer your question it feels like a lot of the things where we were we broke it down into government um uh we had um uh you know uh the economy energy uh religion uh sports politics we we were we did not suffer from a lack of humility you know from too much humility we just said we're going to go out there and try to say something on all of those i would say those hold up pretty damn well right now that is the part where you know we didn't have this as an example it's like one of the things that we said that i think is going to be borne out to be fairly true is that even in politics there our political system will realign itself to take in the whole disclosure thing so for example don't know which party but i would bet republicans right now would sort of fall into the reagan-esque trust but verify it's a it's a potential national security thing we got to be very careful here we got to move cautiously and you might have democrats or many of them taking more of uh well let's not overreact you know let's see let's see what we're really dealing with here and maybe maybe they're not maybe they're so interested in our nuclear power uh situation because they want to help us or they don't want us to kill each other right whereas other uh i think we got some of the big picture stuff very very right and i'm i'm still think it raised all the right questions uh as to who's who are the pla any of this stuff involved and i recall talking to you for hours on this just trying to say well what we really need to understand to be logical here is who are the players going to be you know who who what power players in these different areas are going to set step forward once it's okay and say like you said about the new york times we'd like to own this a little bit more so we're gonna have to be first in here and we're gonna have to take some risk but the the payback for us will be that we will own this area so i think we were right about that yeah i actually think like that probably will happen at some point and um by the way i think you i will agree that at some point like the inevitability part of this equation is probably going to prevail i just don't know how long that's how long are you prepared to wait i mean the problem i keep saying is i don't i'm not the young man i was clearly i'm 10 years older than the man i was when we were hanging out and writing this book i don't i don't want to be one of those ufo activist who went to his grave not knowing what was going on it's unfair it was wrong for stanton friedman a few years ago it was wrong for kehoe it's wrong for all of these people who have worked so hard to have this happen and i hope it doesn't happen to us well i i don't know i'm i'm actually not a younger man to me so you've got more years we'll see about that um one of the things that um i definitely wanted to get into is the kind of cultural divide that i like i think we talked about this that disclosure wasn't immediately or maybe even for a long time going to solve a lot of the uh issues that confronted our society so for example president makes an announcement that extraterrestrials actually are real and are here let's just so that comes out so do we think that the the current culture wars that we're seeing all across the western world are simply going to end doubt it do we think that we'll all be able to agree on the nature of these other beings will be settled once and for all seriously doubt that like i think one thing we predicted was once there's an announcement there would definitely be ideological lines within the society that would also divide off because without unless you make an announcement with a grey alien right there on the podium which could be quite unlikely um there's still going to be all of this unknown uh all these unknown factors that are going to play in that people will continue to argue about based on really ideological presuppositions and i think in other words disclosure could exacerbate at least for a certain period of time a lot of the arguments and debates that we're having and it may not solve we may not get that moment of satisfaction like oh now we know what it's all about like it can just open up a hole i don't think that's that i think we did we really did treat that you know what you you just captured there and and this was the thing that ultimately we ran up against in writing a book of this i mean i'm proud of us for biting off more than we could chew i mean i think that's the the mark of a of a important piece of work and i'm i'm glad we did it but the the prob the thing that we continually ran up against then that we are running up against now is when you talk about ufos you are trying to solve an equation with too many variables right and so the problem is we don't know that we can't solve this equation right now and if you can't solve the equation you can't predict the future so the equation has these variables who are we said it in our book yeah who are they right what do they want and what should we do next right well if we don't i mean what what should we do next is what you and i spent all our time trying to talk about but we can't really answer that until we know who are they and what do they want you know absolutely and that is the ultimate question like we we spent a fair amount of time in the book trying to flesh out um who these beings probably are what types of uh entities that people have encountered um and in terms of motivations you know i don't know we talked about abductions we talked about other types of confrontations we we actually talked about positive confrontations positive encounters i think we really try to to capture all of that but no it wasn't really possible for us at that time either to know for sure like what are what are we dealing with are they friend or foe and um without knowing that is true like it's really not possible to have a proper policy in place do we go to war with them do we do we make friends with them do we um you know do the national security crowd should they keep the cover-up going because they don't really know like we didn't really have those answers so um that's going to hamper any investigation one thing i do know that we did that i felt was important was talking about the need for this disclosure to be done properly that is yeah through formal proper legal government channels on the assumption that the government is a representative of the people and we both know that that doesn't really work out in practice but nonetheless to ensure that proper government authorities which are at least in theory responsible to the people like the president would take control of this and shine light on the black budget world that we both argued really had a lot of control over this yeah very tough to get into a lot of that stuff which is why probably if there's been 5 000 books written about ufos that there's only been one written about disclosure because everyone else would say that's just do too much i do think there is something at play here that i and i think the first time we this was ever verbalized i i've come to like it but i think we put it in our book which is if there you you can't know everything about what's going on but you can make certain guesses that that feel almost factual so here's one of the guesses that we made that i i think is hard to deny which is we that is humanity the managers of this cover-up or whatever we and the others whoever

they are that have visited us from wherever they came from agree on something we know that we agree on it we agree that it should be secret right exactly because we could have held the news conference in 1947 or any time since and said by the way that ufo stuff that's real well we never did that and they could have landed on the white house lawn or blown up the white house but they've never done that either everybody's been very indirect so everyone has sort of agreed that this secret should be a little loosey-goosey or it shouldn't it shouldn't be all in or all out and so that what the what the if we were revising after disclosure right now i'm sure that we would spend a few hours a few rounds on the rings trying to say okay but what is actually going on with somebody allowed these videos out these videos didn't have to come well they they came in my view i think we can really uh thank uh lou elizondo for that because he uh it seemed he was able to get that and i mean i don't know every detail other people know this better than i do but i think he had some friends within the proper offices who were able to help him they were kind of low-key on the whole ufo aspect of these objects and were able to get them out and you know it was only much more recently that the navy itself released those same videos but initially elizondo got them cleared for him and once he was able to do that he was legally allowed to then to to put those videos out it took a while before the navy authenticated those videos absolutely it's elizondo he did it no but uh when the history of this time is written those videos and how elizondo got them out because i've i'm sure you have the same situation i've always said that over the years i've had certain friends that treat me like the drunk uncle at the wedding you know there goes bryce talking about ufos again right and what has made me not the drunk uncle at the wedding anymore and instead has made me someone who people call up and send text messages going dude what what's going on here it's the videos those videos allowed people to to to join in and say i guess my friend who knows something about this isn't completely batshit crazy maybe he knows something and so that's allowed us to talk about it in a way and going back to where we started it has allowed the conversation to get in the barn door of by saying well it could be a national security threat from another earthly power that's how we got the discussion going but we all know where this ends right i mean you and i know where it ends it doesn't end in china and it doesn't end in moscow you know it ends someplace else absolutely totally great and um i just completely lost my train of thought and i had something that was relevant i have something very important to say do it your your your uh listeners may appreciate this your viewers i remember the first time we actually met i picked you up and drove you from the las vegas airport to a ufo event you were doing remember and all i remember and i i didn't think much of it at the time but you were sitting in the back seat because i think i was with we're with my wife and you you had a little plastic baggie with seven almonds in it and you ate your seven almonds for the day and i didn't think twice about that until a few years later i realized that obama does the same thing no kidding yes seriously seven almonds it's either seven or nine so you still do that do you still do that um i like almonds i don't i don't typically count them out but i'll usually take a small handful i and when i can you know i just so don't ever say you're stuck again because i'll start throwing stuff like that out in the interview and you never know where that will go well i remember i remembered what i wanted to say okay good see it worked which is uh and this might actually be a good place to kind of take this uh when i was we were talking earlier about the radical revolutionary nature of the ufo cover-up when we were doing after disclosure for me personally uh i i felt at the time and i think i still feel that the core of the cover-up centered around energy now i maybe i'm wrong but essentially i believed that once there was a genuine admission like a confirmation that these objects are real objects that could like a tic tac ufo instantly accelerate to multiple thousands of miles per hour without making a sound that it would be evident to any journalist or any scientist that that object wasn't wasn't using petroleum to go from here to there that was it was employing some radical method of propulsion and indeed energy generation and whatever that energy source was it was not petroleum and so that i'd always made this assumption that the end of ufo secrecy would implicitly mean the end of our petroleum-based era at least for for energy because if we recognize that these things are using something other than energy then how long would it be before a whole bunch of smart people got together and figured it out so that it would portend a dramatic transformation of human civilization from petroleum to post petroleum and i always felt that way and i thought that that might have been the number one reason for the secrecy to have maintained itself all these years like you know if you've got the oil men really owning the world rockefeller and their allies uh they would be like hey wait a minute you know 1950s uh hey the world is swimming in oil we have enough to last for centuries of course by 1950s level of consumption that would be true this is in 1950 but but b why rock the boat we're all happy we're all making money do you really want the world to have free energy do you really want everyone to have their own little flying saucer they could go anywhere they want like no and so energy it seemed to me energy and propulsion were the reasons some of the most important reasons for the cover-up and isn't the flip side of that though that you also don't want them to have it because they're going to fly flying saucers around to their and park him in their garage but that if the the same civilization that can make a nuclear bomb could make a hell of a weapon out of it yes absolutely like there's there are power reasons to keep that energy secret but there are legitimate reasons too like we might trust ourselves with such an awesome amount of power or awesome capabilities but do we trust every one of our neighbors do we trust everyone in our city everyone in the world and that is that's a problem so i just always felt that the energy paradigm the energy transformation was potentially the most radical of all of the transformations that would come in our society and i just felt for that reason alone uh there would not be an easy like that the secret keepers would have to be pushed to the wall before they would admit anything um i think i still feel the same way about the energy part of it no i think i think you're right although i wanted to just throw something in here because uh back when you and i were writing the book this was just an old war story that i told about my time at dark skies and i don't even think it made it in the book at the time because it's a story that my co-creator brent friedman told but he had a guy that he grew up next to um and i won't go this is the very short version but this guy took him he had brent drive his car across the country in 1981 uh because he had just taken a position in the reagan administration and so brent did that and then the guy had been drinking and he told brent how he'd been basically um briefed for eight weeks at an underground facility outside of dc you know kind of mind-blowing stuff and he basically said you know um there is other life in the universe and i've seen it that was a quote all right this guy uh it's not important i give his name right now um but he in the first term of the reagan administration was the undersecretary of the navy so there's the navy connection anyone's going to be able to do the research and figure that out okay it's john harrington yeah okay and when we did this his name isn't there and nora was brent's name so if you're you're fine with that and in the second term of the reagan administration john harrington under secretary of the navy who said he'd been briefed who said there's other life in the universe and i've seen it became department of energy cabinet member yeah and the d.o.e so there's a host of like most of the researchers who are looking at it do have a more secretive uh structure like a more impenetrable secrecy structure probably than the pentagon and probably than the cia do have is believed to have some of the truly core secrets on the ufo subject within there we don't know a whole lot about it but a lot of a lot of eyes are looking at the doe on this i just found that to be kind of something that's warmed up as a story since um since we were kicking things around so yeah i think i don't think you're wrong i think you're totally right um i think there are other reasons probably for the secrecy in addition to the you know if if you are making a ton of money and you have a knife nice life and everything and you're worried that admitting to people that we're not alone and that they're here is going to rock your boat and take your money away from you you're probably not going to want to do that yeah so that's how they did it i was planning for us to do like a little about an hour but uh i can't i can't let this stop you just drop a pretty big bomb there and uh harrington yeah he's out now i don't know if he i don't know if he was out before by you i don't know if you mentioned him before i have dipped my toe precariously in that water but now brent has not pulled me back so yeah john harrington fine i'm i'm actually really happy about that because when we wrote that that was one of we had a couple of insider stories that we put into that book so one was the jimmy carter hands in his uh on his head like you know weeping when he learned about disclosure i still i'm not comfortable revealing the name that was one that came to me and uh the name of the individual who gave me that story it's widely quoted by the way which is weird because it puts us in the position of having a source that is widely quoted and we're you know i mean it's just it's too bad enough but um you have to do it that's what it will it will come out at some point like i'm i'm gonna i will mention it but uh i just i just feel like i can't right now but uh the story with with brent and uh john harrington was really that was the other like there were those two big stories that we just put out that we've gotten personally yeah and that was a story that you'd contributed and it had always struck me as a very powerful story indeed it's how it works this is how these things leak out it's you have someone who is introduced to a story and they're told you must never talk about this but then they do and after one too many drinks with a trusted friend of the family one in the morning two in the morning whatever it was it comes out and interestingly enough brent said to him at the time why are you telling me this i'm 18 years old you know what and uh harrington said who's going to believe you nobody's gonna believe you right so he was he was sort of right although again what's gonna be interesting about a lot of these stories is once disclosure is fully underway then these kind of stories suddenly fall back in as part of the historical record and you know the carter story takes you know on a different meaning and so forth and um carter i'll just uh for anyone who doesn't know this offhand i mean it has been widely discussed actually but it was june 14th 1977 it was carter's first few months as president where uh a very well-placed individual told me this is years ago that carter was indeed briefed on ufos that day um that's interesting itself there's act there's a ufo document that has been disputed and it's an alleged briefing of the president from that date but i actually was told explicitly that carter was briefed on ufos that day this individual does not know the contents of the briefing he wasn't in the room but did learn from a direct connection who was very close to who was there who saw at the conclusion of the meeting jimmy carter was essentially either sobbing or nearly sobbing it was deeply upset by what he had been briefed on and we can only speculate on what that was but that's the jimmy carter story see and that's the the thing um i i don't want to get giddy about disclosure you know i'm glad we wrote the book and i feel that it's an important topic but i have to admit i don't have a fully formed opinion about who they are and what they want and so because of that i'm as nervous as the next guy yeah go ahead i've actually done my little journey on what i think is going on and it's constantly evolving but one thing um that don't know how much we got into this in our book actually you have to remind me human looking non-humans right and the reason i'm saying this is that when for for many years like i would i would push those stories aside psychologically like i did not want to consider them despite the fact that when you go back through all of the ufo occupant sightings that people have had probably the single largest group that people identify are operators of these craft that look human yeah and along and right behind them are are short little grays in in terms of the number of sightings but these human occupants so it's easy we try to forget them because we want to think extraterrestrial interplanetary they can't possibly look like us how is that possible and that was always my assumption yeah you know exo biologists and astronomers would always say i remember this they would say well we can't expect other life forms that from other planets to look anything like us why would they have two arms two legs two eyes and all of that they could look totally different however um i've been really turning this around in my mind for a while now and for a number of reasons i actually think that there are good reasons to argue that there are at least some of these other beings that look like us now it could be that 40 000 years ago if we were genetically tweaked which i have come to believe that we were that's a whole other thing that we we have not talked about right exactly but that some of us might have been taken back then and maybe adopted and there could be a whole human looking race of essentially alien and culture that might be interacting with us they could have been raised and adopted by extraterrestrials way back then we would have nothing in common with them that's one possibility another possibility is uh maybe there are parallel forms of evolution on other worlds that are earth-like that have you know they're in the sweet spot of their orbit of their sun and that i think i just read there's something like 6 billion earth-like planets estimated in the milky way galaxy right now that means they're rocky they're about the size of earth they've they're about distance from their you know all of that and maybe evolution of successful creatures does evolve in certain similar ways plant animal maybe that's the case uh maybe successful predators might be five six feet above the ground with with predator bi-folk you know by um focal eyes right um stereoscopic hearing you know that's for evolution um with two arms and two hands are really useful and bipedal like that could be a thing that is replicated elsewhere they might not look exactly like us but they might look enough like us that they would be humanoid so to me that doesn't any longer sound crazy but here's the last thing i'm just going to say here this is just me putting my own little theory out there i think that there are a number of other beings that don't look anything like us yeah and i think that there are a number of beings that do and the thing that we want to ask and i think we did discuss this is to what extent a they live among us yeah right now and then to what extent human beings are going utterly to freak out after closure with that very thought we did talk about that we called it the new mccarthyism where instead of saying my next-door neighbor is a goddamn communist instead you go my next-door neighbor is one of them i'm pretty sure of it um right by the way there is one there's one said by the way that kind of blows me away i'm really interested to hear that that's fascinating and one possibility i wondered if you considered it though is we know modern abductions sort of

happened started in the betty and barney time period which is why i did dark skies there and that there is some evidence right now that they're not as common as they were i don't know if you've run across i'm here to say that they don't i don't know how true that is i don't know yeah i don't either but let's just say that there was a plan right that that the plan is you show up you reckon oiter so and let's say that you know we live in a human time frame well for us that means for my kids that means like the next 50 minutes you know for you and i maybe we could make a five-year plan the government can't right so um maybe we live in a five-year time frame and maybe they live in a 500-year time frame right we we don't really know it may very well be that jacobs or others like him were correct that there was a dna component to create a human that could pass with among us and maybe that job is done is that possible sure i mean that would be possible um in his last book walking among us which now is about seven or eight years old i guess um he certainly gave me the impression in that book that the program was ongoing that it was still continuing at least from the people that he was regressing now look there's i mean i know david and i really respect his work a lot and uh i think he's he's more right than not uh with with his research but there's there's critiques that people make of him saying well you know if if you're not really leading the witness then you you're at least getting people who are predisposed to a certain belief set about these et's i don't really think i'd buy that yeah that is a critique that people have made what i actually think is where i made what i think is actually happening is one of the things that that jacobs talks about and another like another abduction researcher yvonne smith who i really respect and friends with she finds this the same thing with her people is a lot of these abductees are talking about a forthcoming great change right that they're expecting now david has interpreted that seems to me by meaning that there's going to be this uh takeover like a planetary takeover that these human hybrids are going to be doing um i actually no longer believe that that's the great change i think that we are actually are living through the great change right this minute and i think that we're moving to a new phase of human civilization and indeed maybe a new human form of organization uh and i think that's actually the great change that we are living through and that they probably foresaw and are either trying to ride that change to the best of their ability or at least be present for it i think that's what's happening yeah i think we're making a totally new phase if these big sweeping things are going on though then i see the the problem is how to reconcile all these disparate things that that fit in your head and you can't just go we'll all compartmentalize them because they're all happening potentially simultaneously but you know why are tic tacs following our carrier strike groups right i mean we've been doing it yeah what's what's that all about what what do they get out of it i mean what what's going on i'm going to speculate i think uh they're just very damned interested in our military tech and our capabilities think of it this way you know for thousands of years human beings lived almost in exactly the same way wherever you were on planet earth your life was basically dominated by muscle power and animals pulling wooden carts with very rudimentary wheels and plows and that was human civilization whether you were in returns europe medieval europe ancient china sub-saharan africa the the patterns of life varied here and there but they were basically the same you know if there was something that happened in the sky most cultures didn't have writing they didn't have the ability really to deal with it and we just kind of plotted along and frankly we weren't all that interesting weren't and i think there would have been no point for an active et influence in our society back then they might have had a moderate little monitoring here and there but like what would be the use for them to be like the ancient kings of like uh of the early very true early england like why would they have cared it's a very primitive you know type of life even if you're a king in a castle like it's not a big deal but once we started developing science really from like the 19th century onward science and industry then then we started becoming very interesting and very capable and actually very dangerous and by the 20th century we were like in the state of constant technological revolution where we had the ability now to detect them electronically with radar and other means and to see them where because we were in the air and suddenly we humans then we start developing nuclear weapons like all of this was like that so my feeling is they've been watching us kind of a low key for all these years and suddenly stanton friedman used to say it like the kids now have uh the kids now there's a gun lying around and they've got it so that's us and i think that's what triggered all of these types of sightings where you see them over nuclear uh weapons right uh and nuclear technology and over uh all kinds of military encounters as well i think that they were interested in whatever capabilities that we have and i think that explains the large number of ufo military encounters both above and below the water because they happen below the water so i think that they're interested in what we're up to i think they're watching us very closely wondering uh wanting to know where we're at and deciding what they're going to do about it beautifully stated my friend and i think it gives us kind of a fun you know a circular thing because we were wondering are there dynamics that are going to shift this you know or is it all stop planned and then we're just going to go back to the status quo and we were talking about it's inevitable here's why it's inevitable and you are the one that coined the phrase because it's in our that lovely 10 minute video we made to promote the book i just listened to and you you it's a beautiful statement but it you you concluded by saying we are preparing to leap into their world yeah that's a phrase that should be registered to richard dolan richard m dolan into their world and into a national security state good i just feel that it's a it's that's the game changer it doesn't even matter what the government right now the government can suppress and we have our own human political stuff that we got to get through and all that but the the long-term thing is this technology that built nuclear weapons and all these other things that you just mentioned i mean the litany is phenomenal you know i mean when my grandmother was born there were no airplanes or cars or anything right now look at us um i even do that to my kids now i go well you have it so easy because you know and so we have all that stuff we are leaping into their world and i know we're running short on time i wanted to throw one thing out there we talked there there's all the nuts and bolts stuff that we just discussed but there is the whole the phenomenon point of view of this thing where it's just weird and i don't think you remember this so i'm just gonna tell you this story because it happened on our watch while we were doing after disclosure we had had one of those late night conversations that that you had mentioned in it i had had the file open on google docs and i was taking a few notes and then i saved it right and um i thought it was a productive session you know always fun to talk to you about ufos for a couple hours it was great i went to bed i got up the next morning i opened that same file and in the middle of the file there were maybe 10 or 11 lines that just had the number three printed on it oh yeah and i just remember going okay that didn't exist when i closed this document because i printed it i'd already print i had seen the document and printed it so i i then knew what was on it but the next morning all these threes and i know threes are somehow sometimes important in the synchronicity you get woken up at 3 33 or whatever like that but it happened to us and i can't explain it it's just weird you didn't fall asleep with your head on the keyboard i'd i shut it down that would be that would be you know and then you know i'm sure there's you know 95 chance there's a pretty good reason for it but it was just strength just one of those moments where i go okay it's time to go to bed this is too tight um i wasn't molten with you so it wasn't me right very strange stuff crazy well this has actually been really great like there's so much in our book that we actually haven't unpacked but i think i think you know what was for me i look back on this and i think i really like the um the one thing that comes out again i said this before is the revolutionary nature of the of the change um across the board yeah and i think we're still we're still waiting for that revolutionary moment like it hasn't happened and so i think the real question is i don't know how we're going to answer this but what it will take now we're in 2020 moving forward for that avalanche that uncontrolled panicked movement by the the national security state the deep state whatever to control this or to deal with this in one way or another or will it go out of control like we're not there i keep waiting there there's one thing i i would like to add to here actually if you don't mind which i think in the last 10 years since we wrote this book there has been one thing that has happened way faster than i could have predicted which is a a kind of consolidation of the internet by major corporate powers so back in 2010 i don't know how this would be with you but with me i was still working very much on the assumption that social media was free essentially like free discussions uh youtube was not going to be censored the way that it really has become and that google uh would continue to be a semi-honest algorithm search algorithm which it absolutely is not anymore and so what we've seen in the last decade and especially really ramping up in the last five years is a a rapid almost a breathtakingly fast consolidation of power over control of this new media the old legacy media we all know about operation mockingbird and then how the new york times and the wapo and fox and cnn how they've worked with the establishment but with the internet establishment the internet news back in 2010 i think there were some farsighted people who saw that this would happen but it wasn't happening and and what's happened now it seems to me is with enough control over the internet narrative um whereas like you go to youtube and you type in ufo like i would encourage anyone to do this you're just going to get like news stories by cnn bbc fox cnn uh oh all corporate news it's all corporate and that's a dishonest algorithm like there's only one way to do that is by cheating by getting them that way so so i guess what i'm saying is we're at a point now where a disclosure can in theory come out with genuine control over the narrative by uh an elite group that i don't think i could have imagined 10 years like i i was thinking 10 years ago that there was a greater likelihood that this could go out of control and i look at it now and i think i don't know like i think it's it's actually possible um everything seems dumbed down to me is this just me getting old but like education bad entertainment bad news media pretty bad really awful uh food bad like health bad like are we really in a position where we have an engaged citizenry that's actually going to take this issue on and i just wonder like have we moved into an era where there's such a level of control that that this could be rolled out and then stopped and then for 10 20 30 years we live in this partial fiction world and then and then a little more comes out and then that's another hold for another 10 20 years and i mean eventually i think in the long run the truth will probably come out but i wonder like it could be a long time you know you talked about it in involved citizenry and you know when the dumbing down maybe this kind of for people listening in is kind of how we would do this it's like okay i hear that and then i'm saying but on the other hand it is possible that a dumbed down citizenry uh would be the ideal citizenry to reveal this to because they they might not take it so personally and they might not get the pitchforks right that they might just go you know i'm so distracted by you know everything else i got my i'm in quarantine and you know my car needs a new set of tires and and you know i've i'm beyond the capacity to shock so yeah they told yeah i i heard something about the ufos so that's real okay moving on and that's kind of happening like that's yeah right now that may be that this may be the right time to do it i i the very first of those articles i wrote was uh one called we can handle the truth because the question that you have to ask yourself in a time of politics as dysfunctional as ours are you know pandemic as dysfunctional as ours is and protests as dysfunctional as ours are you've got these three society-wrenching things going on and so the argument could be well whatever you do don't throw aliens into that but it may be counter-intuitive that that is the perfect time to throw aliens in funny you know my wife tracy was telling me this privately not long ago she said you know this actually could be the perfect time for it to come out because we're just so preoccupied with everything else and that too is not something that we really could have seen 10 years ago like i think it's fair to say that for generations and generations the assumption was if aliens were revealed that would be the greatest game changer that would that would dominate everything and it probably would and it probably still can but right now it's definitely a soft sell and people are still just barely just barely waking up to this outside bubble which we are in we're in the ufo bubble but people outside that they're like yeah oh yeah interesting gee like that's about it i go shop at aldi the people at aldi they all know me because it's like my favorite store in the world and they're all they they know about the ufo thing and they get excited right most of the places in the world uh i think people are just sort of going about with their lives just like you said i i think it's certainly true i mean in my little house bubble i've been you know uh getting excited about you know these articles and also what i'm reading and stuff on your site and and i'm basically saying to the people in my bubble don't you understand they've admitted they're real okay and and people are like yeah okay um you know i saw this tweet today about i don't know i mean i think people's capacity to take the information and not freak out may have been something you know maybe we over estimated the the freak out maybe there won't be as much freak out if there is anything that we may have slightly aired on but but then again i still go back even though i could make that argument i still go back to the questions who are they and what do they want because whether we freak out or not and i your theories are fascinating but they still don't tell you intent right so it's it's like so then you still get down to i will reserve my right to freak out based on who are they and what do they want if if they're here for good and decent purposes and it it doesn't influence the the you know the the potential end of my family uh and and of all life on earth then you know okay but if if they if they're if they got bad intentions we need to be careful about that seems to me yes to everything you've just said there um i think what we're experiencing now is proof that there's there's disclosure but disclosure really won't mean a thing without official confirmation in other words even the new york times really isn't it's not prominent enough to make this stick so it's got to be from and i know we talked about this like who is authorized to do the disclosure who where's it going to come from so i think our assumption was the president of the united states would be a very obvious choice um you could hypothesize leaders of a select few other nations china or russia uh might have the ability to make it to make it stick worldwide if they were to present that information if there was a desire yeah the pope the pope yeah another like right there's a few and the u.s president uh although you have to wonder like if trump were to do it like right now i don't think it would carry the weight half the country be like you're crazy anyway man like we don't believe you uh he would have to he would have to provide more than a 2 a.m tweet which is what it likes to imagine doing um which in theory like i presumably he would do that i mean any president would you'd have to go there and you'd have to be able to defend it to the world but it would have to take something like that like an official confirmation before people actually are going to change their lives about it and what it will take to get there is the real question i think on your on your blog uh you kind of hypothesized about that am i oh about the well i did write one that does trump it was called trump's october surprise yeah exactly just the theory that you know if if the guy thinks i'm losing and it's it's all over the what what is the number one thing you do in politics you try to distract you know you might you might very well throw it out in the final debate and see what sticks because it would at least reshuffle the deck uh although you know the election will probably be closer than that and they pre trump trump probably wouldn't do that and you know but but i think the the one thing way closer than the polls have said in my opinion yeah exactly yeah well that's what i'm saying so i think it's probably not going to be a hail mary required kind of situation it's going to be a nail biter until the the the last minute but what i was going to say is i i really don't want to get hate mail from pro or anti-trump people i'm just making a statement here that if there is a person who might do it off the cuff he's the guy yeah absolutely it wouldn't have ever been a barack obama barack obama could have done it but he would have done it because he would have studied it he would have thought about it he'd have gotten reports on it or people would have recommended it he was at ultimate team player yes and obama like george w before him these are these are guys who are basically working with wall street uh with the national security apparatus now it's not that trump doesn't but trump yeah we've got to remember trump had to take down the republican establishment which hated him every bit as much as the democrat establishment hates him and so trump really was genuinely and outside of that whole thing and this is a guy who um i i don't think that he is anywhere a free agent as president i think he's been completely uh or at least largely cornered by the neocons for example so that he basically has taken on a lot of hillary clinton's foreign policy although we don't have any new wars yet so i'm still like giving him some credit on that but i think you know the lot a lot of neocons are still very dominant in his administration uh where he's still different is on the whole issue of globalization at least to some extent he's hasn't really gone on board and that's i think actually why he's still hated by a lot of the establishment but he is a guy who you could you could foresee um doing something totally crazy like that but and again that would be the credibility of it but but you know um because what we what's so strange about the time we live in is that trump can be asked about ufos and go well i've heard about that as if he heard about it someplace other than in the oval office right he goes well people say things like what you're the president you know and yet we've seen other presidents before who either didn't get briefed right or if they were briefed like carter took it badly so you know trump seems to be moving along in a scenario where he hasn't really been deeply briefed he's probably been showing better versions of the videos that we've seen maybe talk about roswell with his son which is interesting um and there's been these little hints you know just here and there that really do make you think uh he's given it some thought yeah i don't know how how deep it goes with him either but um he's the last year he's become a little more interesting i mean that whole interview he did with lou dobbs which was just less than one month ago and lou dobbs who everyone knows is tight with the president new dobbs is buddies with donald trump he asks trump on tv i mean this might have been planned in advance for all we know for sure my friends are asking me about ufos and he like clearly dobbs is interested in this and trump actually i thought handled that uh actually pretty cleverly like he he uh like a real politician would do he kind of laughed it off and said well lou you're the expert i'll put you in charge yeah obviously and then half the media most of the media is like trump's so stupid he thinks lou dobbs is an expert trump was clearly making it as a joke like that was obvious but um i thought he handled that actually pretty well although it was the world's worst thing the lou dobbs smirked through the entire thing which i'm so tired of the ufo smirk didn't like that and well he calls himself a journalist and he did not ask a single follow-up question and he let the the interviewee just go see ya and off he went so while it was a step it was a baby baby step oh totally and the whole uh smirking laughing thing because i looked at that too i i interpreted that as a very kind of standard thing that a lot of serious professionals will do when they confront a subject like ufos because they don't know emotionally how to handle it and a lot of them will laugh yeah they're almost laughing at themselves like i can't believe i'm asking about ufos on national tv and that's how i interpreted that i don't like i actually thought that he was serious about it the only thing i'll just say here about trump is you've got his son don jr and you've got dobbs two people really close to him and tucker carlson and carlson who we know is three they are into ufos yeah and they all have trump's here so to me i don't know of any other president actually where we know that they have that many people close to them who are really into ufos that's kind of an interesting thing and trump's been very uh careful about expressing anything about this he's actually been he has not been shooting from the hip on this at all he's been actually very uh reserved i think so it's curious like will he do something about it or not and i mean it'd be kind of fun to think that he would i'm expecting no i've expected no all along but um hey the guy might surprise us that would be something i expect no too but but when you say he might surprise that is i think the lesson of the ad book what we were saying is we're going to try without a crystal ball to describe the power points and the levers that are at work in this societal thing that's going on and then we're gonna we're gonna drop ufo disclosure into the middle of it and we're gonna try to describe that for you that's all we set out and and the one thing where we really concluded that this might be a good place to end this is we recognize something that i think cannot be denied which is that the the true outing of the ufo secret um will change our world in so many critical ways that it will it will force a re-evaluation of not just so many of the institutions of power in this world but really of ourselves our own psychology our own conception of ourselves as a species as human beings and ourselves in the place in the universe like that's what it will do and it will for that reason it is so important to try to visualize what those changes will be because some of the things i'm sure that you and i wrote about will happen like given enough time that avalanche and that revolution in our psyche will i think that will happen it will and i think that we're hoping for is that what we call disclosure actually is a little more folksy that it answers some of these questions i would like a disclosure that answers at least who are they and what do they want i would like that that would be my basic disclosure if all we get from disclosure is by the way those things flying around that we got those videos of they're not chinese and they're not russian and they're not ours and that's all we really know right thank you and good night which is where we are right now yeah and i i i would like to see something in advance of that and i i think ultimately we we will see that and i i just uh i would just like to see it sooner than later although we by the way careful what you wish for let's just put that out there ufo disclosure may come and the reason we may then see quite well why it was held up all these years and it might be partly about energy and it might be partly about something we don't quite comprehend right now well i can ask you mentioned john harrington before and i'm sure he's loving the fact that he's just been outed on our on our oh god yes i'm sorry mr harrington please don't call your friends living a quiet life in southern california he um you know had indicated that this was very like deeply disturbing i think you know he mentioned i'm i'm upset because i have uh i have children to think about yeah i think he said i have two girls and uh this is the world they're going to grow up in yeah he said no he said he cried himself to sleep every night during this briefing and brent said my god why why and he said because i have two girls and this is the world they're gonna grow up in right and and that type of story is not unique like there's so there's this dark element to this whole reality that's lurking in the background and so that might have something to do with why this secret has been kept all along we may look back on 2010 or 2020 and go those were the days my friend those were the days right right yeah oh well we're moving into something very very different like i i think probably 50 years from now long after we're not around and there's new generations that are here they're going to be living in a very very different world organized on very different ways with new dominant types of technology very very strong advanced artificial intelligence probably some form of quantum computing or beyond total 5g or beyond 24 7 surveillance is like not going to be any privacy that's gone and a completely different type of a world with probably a very different kind of human psychology and in that i i just suspect that the fundamental concerns of people in the future that might be different they might there might be a lot of different things and and within that context the presence of advanced non-humans living among us or visiting us i want i just wonder like will future generations look back at this question and will they say that is so important or will they say meh not that big a deal who cares like i i gotta go with the former because it just seems so destabilizing i think that's why we felt that we felt like uh i wouldn't call it a moral obligation or whatever but we felt an obligation of some kind to write this book because we knew intuitively that it's a big deal right and it's a big deal now um what we thought was going to be the thing worth really looking into is how are we going to deal with this big deal that's the question and it was the question of 2010 and it's the question of 2020 because again as we've said we've only dipped our toe in the water here we're not in the pool yet and we'll find out when we jump into that pool is that water going to be cold or it's like a nice warm bath who knows we don't know all right well i think this is a pretty good point on which to conclude this part of the interview and um bryce i'm just so glad we got to do this like me too this was um a great chat about the really cool book that we wrote and it was i really like a lot of the um things that we were discussing just in the last 30 minutes as well that kind of opened this up so i hope i hope that listeners and viewers have enjoyed it as well so that's all we got for this and i guess i want to thank everyone who's tuned in or come into our station you know tune in anymore anyone who's been here with us i hope you've enjoyed it as well i certainly have enjoyed talking to my friend and colleague and co-author bryce zabel which by the way again bryce your blog site uh uh on the trail of the saucers it's on great it's a great pleasure thank you very much it's on medium what if ufos.com will get you there i want to say goodbye to everybody and let me just say to you rich wow what a great what a great thing to to sort of relive those moments because as i look back on my life there's

highs and lows of course like everybody's and i look at that one as a real high because i felt like not only was it fun as we stated but it was important fun and yeah it was original so thank you thank you my friend thank you and thank you for listening and remember while we learn and grow and search for the truth let's be good to each other later

TREY the Explainer

hello there guys and welcome back to another installment of tray the explainer and today I'll be discussing examining and breaking down a mysterious and obscure event in history for you guys The Curious Case of the it Sorrell duner or its Sura foon a or the hollow ship incident in 19th century Japan held up by many as strong evidence of the extraterrestrial visitation and are not so distant past

it's an odd and slightly creepy story and I'm guessing not a lot of you guys have even heard of this thing so without further ado the episode also get ready for probably a ton of mispronunciations sorry I tried my best

the image of the flying saucer thin gravity-defying metal frisbees appear extremely commonly and pop-culture particularly in America

ever since the 1930s for some reason we as a culture have come to accept that little green men aliens if they do exist ride around in these curious devices famously referred to by the United States Air Force in 1952 as unidentified flying objects or UFOs from everything to comic books and cartoons two major films these flying discs are staple and alien depictions in art while we have come to assume such a thing about extraterrestrials seemingly on little factual basis is perhaps something best saved for another day however this assumption has led some people to search for notable events in history involving disc shaped craft and re-examining them to suggest possible alien contact over the century

for instance mini Medieval and Renaissance paintings are claimed by ancient astronaut theorists to have UFOs and flying saucers hidden in the margins or in the clouds

art historians however have so far shown these assumptions to be false and misguided

for example this 13:50 fresco in a serbian monastery is an artistic depiction of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ ancient aliens claims the two objects in the sky to his right and to has left our alien spacecraft or UFOs but as it turns out they are merely a stylized representation of the Sun and Moon motif common in artwork of this scene the Moon and Sun are simply being personified as human beings in the same way we often give them human faces in artwork today similar results have been shown to be true about other claimed UFOs in old art and stories this recontextualizing of historic events and works mostly done by ancient aliens has led us to the descriptions of a strange craft recorded in three books written in the Tokugawa period of Japan

by around the mid-1800s a very bizarre story based on old tabloid Lake news stories began to circulate amongst Japanese folk tale writers and novelists all of them seeming to agree in telling of an event observed in a Japanese fishing village in the Hitachi province in the year

1803 the first of these appeared in one of the works of the famous Tokugawa novelist Kyakutei in his tales from the rabbit garden published in 1825 which was followed by similar variants of seemingly the same story from other authors one appearing in the diaries and stories of castaways written in 1835 by an unknown author and the dust of the apricot written by Naga Hashima Nadira in 1844 original text of all three books thankfully have survived the years in both public and private libraries Dawkins tale appears to be the oldest and most detailed record of the original news story described in his 1825 book as a story titled it sir a phone a know banjo or a foreign woman in the hollow boat as the story goes it was February 22nd in the spring of 1803 offshore from a beach under the territory of Ogi no Kuni coming a kind of boat was observed by local fishermen concerned the fishermen got in their small boats and retrieved and towed the craft to shore upon closer inspection it was a very very weird to say the least it was round and resembled a type of box used to burn incense in I'm guessing it looks something like this

as well as a wooden rice pit it was around three metres tall and almost six meters in diameter it was split into two separate sections a top and a bottom the upper part of the boat was made of red coated rosewood the bottom was reinforced by iron ore brazen metal plates set to protect the wooden hull from sharp rocks the upper section possessed several Shoji screened windows composed of some kind of glass or crystal and waterproof with Pinetree gum or resin these windows were transparent and allowed the fishermen to look inside the vessel which was hollow

the name inside they could see the boat contained bed sheets or carpet a cake like food needed meat and several liters of water in a bottle foreign symbols or characters and the language not recognised by the fishermen decorated the inner walls of the ship the author notes the characters resembled those seen on a British ship recently arrived in Japan however most importantly and shockingly the boat contained a lone passenger a young woman between the ages of eighteen and twenty she was said to have been 1.5 meters or just shy of five feet tall and very very beautiful and very outlandish her skin was a very pale pinkish white she had red hair and eyebrows and oddly added to her original red hair was long white hair either changed to white using a powder or as some kind of hair extension the style of which was not known to the Japanese people the author takes care to know Japanese explorers in Russia have noted similar looking hair in women of their culture

let us call her hollow boat Qian she wore very long and smooth clothes of unknown fabrics when she exited the vessel the fishermen attempted to speak to her but she spoke a language unknown to them and they were not able to communicate or determine where she had come from she was apparently friendly and peaceful but acted strange as she clutched a small square box which she held constantly prevented anyone from touching or opening according to the story

an old villager whose name is lost to us extrapolated that this woman may be a daughter of a king in a foreign country she loved another man after marriage and her lover was put to death she had been forced to be put in this boat and was left to the sea to be trusted to fate

her lover severed head is inside the square box and this is why she was not willing to let anyone hold it allegedly the old man claimed that this occurred in the past and similar boats with similar women inside drifted ashore on other Japanese beaches since there is a precedent for casting this kind of boat back out to sea

we had better put her inside the boat and send her away this treatment would be heard

stimmy a foreign woman in the hollow boat were then pushed back to the sea and never seen again the author then theorizes that the woman may have been a British Bengali or wait for it American princess though no one knows exactly he includes illustrations of the boat and the woman based on people at the time of the incident though he is somewhat disappointed because the illustrations and sentences are not consistent account ends with the author asking if anyone knows anything concerning this event please let me know the 1844 and 1835 versions of the tale are shorter but the details remain generally the same though one differs slightly from bakken's account instead setting the event in March 24th 1803 rather than in February

among other differences that will be addressed later analysis so what are we to make of this story of a strange woman under bowl-like craft was she as ancient astronaut theorists claim an alien visitor in a flying saucer coming to visit human beings well probably not first of all as strange as the story may seem we should dismiss the claim that this craft was a UFO and this woman an alien the hollow ship appears to have been just that a hollow seafaring boat the hollow ship never flies or levitates or even moves by itself in the ocean it merely drifts aimlessly

additionally the ship was mostly made of wood the only evidence of any other metallic beam the reinforced iron plates in the hull

a wooden low-tech spaceship sounds a little ridiculous numerous historians have since pointed out that the hollow ship in fact wasn't anything - out of the technological limits of the time circular shaped wooden boats were definitely nothing unique in Japan for thousands of years similar looking boats were abundant throughout history the only details about the vessel that are out of the ordinary were the western-style glass pane windows and metal plates incorporated into the more familiar Japanese boat design no it seems the UFO or flying saucer connection is mistaken with the mysterious woman ship only vaguely resembling the shape of the disk allegedly flown by aliens it seems unlikely and ridiculous

the woman was an alien in the extra-terrestrial science fiction since the word no it seems far more likely if this event occurred at all the woman was simply a foreigner a non-native Japanese visitor to the island nation possibly from Russia or America the original telling of the story in 1825 even favored this explanation

the characteristically white European appearance of the young woman ginger hair and Western looking clothing seems to support this the strange white hair extensions the woman possessed even matches the limited knowledge of outside world namely of Russians native Japanese had at the time

eyewitnesses agree that she was an alien but not that kind of alien she was a Western of white European appearance it is important to take note of the larger historical context of this alleged event the Tokugawa or Edo period was best characterized by the nation's extreme isolation during this time the rulers of Japan closed the country to the outside world and created a locked state no one in and no one out except for maybe the Dutch but they were only limited to this port the world beyond Japan to the average citizen became mysterious and elusive exotic and maybe even a little frightening

Westerners like the British Russians and America's with their black ships and odd physical features were held in equal parts fear and fascination a white person would have been a rare and scary sight indeed for rural fishermen probably along the lines of seeing an alien

today now that I think about it

due to the closed borders information of other countries was incredibly scant and often wrong hence the idea held by bakken that America had princesses and kings it would only be around 50 years after the hollow ship incident that this isolation would be forcefully broken by American Commodore Matthew Perry living in such a society one can see why the hollow ship incident might have caused such a stir it seems possible that simply some random female adventurer from Russia or America could be to blame for this supposed mysterious incident but even so the story has other problems the story is likely fake the hollow ship story has been examined in dissect

by numerous historians who have poked many holes in the stories credibility the exact location of the event is much contested the details in both the 1825 in 1844 versions are unmistakably contradictory nonetheless many have attempted to located the beach described as parrot owned aha ma or hora a Dory would have rested on the Pacific Ocean on the eastern border of the tachi state the 1825 telling says that this particular stretch of beach where the woman was brought to shore was owned by Ogasawara you know no commie while the 1844 claims the beach belonged to Okusawa Izumi relatives of the same family but unmistakably different individuals Tokugawa government records are quite reliable and detailed as most historians agree so we should be able to look for evidence to confirm this information and see which one is right

Cross confirming these names with historical government records of the period reveals something interesting as it turns out

Azumi had no territory in the Hitachi state in 1803 or any other period while his relative Ichi no no commie did have Holdings three territories in the Hitachi state in 1803 so it appears the 1844 telling is likely mistaken but it gets a little weirder the three territories he owned in 1803 are not on the Pacific Ocean

They're inland meaning they have no beaches for a woman to wash up on digging deeper reveals that no beach were placed by the names given appear on any geological map of the Hitachi state in the Tokugawa period or after it it is even absent in the famous and incredibly detailed Japanese geographical dictionary released in 1907 the lack of evidence to corroborate the story's location leads to the most likely conclusion being that the named beaches are imaginary a fictional location made up by someone

Most likely the authors furthermore the late Tokugawa government was by no means bad at recording legal breakings of its borders we find absolutely no contemporary mention of such a landing and government records which is odd as almost always such contacts with outsiders would be recorded for instance in 1824 just a mere 20 years after two British whaling ships arrived in Osoo Hama and

Hitachi state and this incident can be found in an official Tokugawa document that belonged to the Shogunate and survives for us to read this location of Motohama was an is a real location and can be easily found in geographical maps of the era it is ridiculous to believe that such details of such importance could have vanished entirely so quickly and rapidly Hitachi is also incredibly close to Edo the capital so hiding such a landing seems unlikely no it seems that the event was completely made up the authors of the three books appeared to have cleverly crafted locations and persons both real and imaginary together to lend credibility to the story making it difficult for investigators to outright disapprove or verify the stories a common tactic of April Fool's jokes other aspects of the books stinks of fabrication the old man recorded in Bakken story seems to be an obvious made-up character the theorizing intelligent nondescript old man does not appear in other counts and his huge tangent and extrapolation on the woman's origins seems like a self-insert Avakian himself as if we need any more proof the hollow ship story in fact bears a suspicious resemblance to many at the time pre-existing Japanese folklore and story for example there was a well-known folk story that presented the origins of the Kawano family in the IAO district in the story a long time ago a fisherman living on Gogo no island was working at sea when he saw a hollow boat on the sea and towed it home he found a girl whose age was 12 or 13 inside the boat she told him she was a daughter of a king in China but she was forced out of her homeland because of some scandal the fisherman brought her up as his own and she later became a princess of a king in IO and gave birth to the beginning of the cow Whannell family another store exists in a traditional song of Kyushu Island telling of a daughter of a nobleman who was sent out to sea in a hollow wooden boat with glass windows because of some scandal she ate a delicious cake in the boat but was eventually forced away all elements of the 1803 hollow ship story can be seen in these much older ones a princess escaping her homeland in a hollow wooden boat alien visitations must have been a

a dozen in Japan for thousands of years I guess conclusion the 1803 story of the utsuro bune a is likely a fake a remix or reboot of a well-known legend in Japan adapted for more modern audience

the princess was changed from Chinese to nondescript and largely an accurate portrayal of a quotable Western woman and instead of being accepted by the people of Japan

she is rejected and sent on her way the story serves as a cautionary tale for the pro isolationist xenophobic society of the Edo period do not fall into the lore of the world beyond Japan the borders must stay closed at all costs in a way of the stories about aliens just not the type ancient aliens believed in in with that thank you so much for watching and I will see you next time

magic waves my friend you love the girl with magic wings and it's true I might as well give with magic waves

this is a distinguished lecture series I don't know how distinguished I am but I'll tell you the more trips you make to that bar the better this is going to be you know I was talking with Alan and Karen and Brian as they were planning on putting together the area51 exhibit downstairs hope you've all seen it by now it's it's a lot of fun and as they were going through we were going through my boxes of old stuff and I'm telling him stories they're asking questions about how I got started down this path I would tell him what it was like back in those days and how I got hooked on the story and how I met bob lazar and they seemed fascinated with those behind-the-scenes stories of how those things went down back in those days why I would essentially put my career and my credibility at risk J something seemingly so crazy and ridiculous how I could still be looking at this subject so many years later and so I shared with him some of the backstory and the details on how I became interested what was going on behind the scenes the price that everyone associated with this has paid over the years and how my views on some of the larger issues involved have evolved over the years and they seem to think some of those stories were interesting so they asked me to share them with you tonight in some sort of a public forum and you know and I have spoken many times in public about area 51 and about Bob Lazar and some of the crazy stuff that's happened the general topic of UFOs at least some of these tales here tonight have not been told in any detail at all and I'm gonna reveal the existence of a witness who was whispering in my ear back then we call this in the news business burying the lede but somewhere along the line there tonight I'm gonna tell you the name of a guy who was who was interested in this topic and who helped me along the way and I think it could qualify maybe as a headline somewhere I will say at the outset that that although you know I will never be allowed to set foot on that base I'll never get any closer to it than the warning signs that say use of deadly force is authorized and I've been out there maybe a hundred times over the years you know dodging around in the desert and keep from from being intercepted by the camo dudes and and dodging dirt clods and dust devils and and all kinds of things like that and coyotes I'll never get any closer to it than the signs at which of course the signs are many miles from most of the interesting stuff that goes on out there still area 51 is to me is as much a part of my life as it is for the people who worked out there I mean it's been 24 years the people who worked out there people like my friend TD Barnes who's here in the audience tonight the road runners they toiled in obscurity couldn't even tell their spouses what they were doing for a living

they basically protected all of us Hey

and we didn't know about it

not even their own families could know about it they basically won the Cold War out there I mean they were really there so for them it's a real part of their life but I'm telling you it's as much a part of my life and it has been for 24 years now as it is for theirs I suspect that you know years from now when I die there'll be something about UFOs and area 51 on a tombstone assuming that I ever am buried somewhere they find the body area 51 I would say is as much linked to my name as is as if it's like tattooed on my butt for better or worse I guess you could say those stories we told long ago back in 1989 to begin with those stories have I think paved the way for the rest of the people who really did work out there and toiled and obscurity as I mentioned who did all that work to protect all of us who work for the CIA in the military for them to come forward and tell their story I'm back when we started talking about flying saucers you'll recall the government did not acknowledge that the base even existed there was a time back when they first set up the facility that the government put out a little little notice have sent to channel 8 and other media people says we're going to build this little facility out here in the desert as a place called water town don't worry it's a temporary thing it'll go away and don't pay any attention to it kind of a thing and that's what they acknowledged and then some years later you know you can look at a map of the Nevada Test Site and there's area 15 there's area 12 and there's this box over here outside the test site itself but it's called area 51 and it was on the maps and all of a sudden it disappeared it went away and in the years when I first started working out of the story the government would not acknowledge that it existed now I've got Russian satellite photos that I obtained I can see pictures of it

I had guy named John Lear who walked right up to the gate and years past who showed me close-up photos of it I talked to people who worked out there you could climb up a hill and look at the damn thing and yet our government would say it didn't exist well naturally that kind of a situation is going to get you curious about that or about a place like that back in those days though outside of Nevada other than people who had worked there or were in the military few people anywhere had heard of the place you didn't know the name area 51 it was spoken about in whispers you know and I think that you know the fact that the CIA guys who worked out there the fact that military people worked out there who have reasons to be proud of the work that they did have been allowed in the last couple of years to come forward and talk about it I

a lot of that has to do with these crazy flying saucers stories that we told because it sort of blew the lid off the idea that there really isn't a base out there acknowledge that there really is legitimate national security programs going on and sort of paved the way and made it acceptable for them to come forward and talk about the great work that they did as I said you know it's hard to believe that there was a time not that long ago when when the base really didn't exist and so few people knew about it or those who did know about it had to use a nickname or a code name for the place now however it is known in every corner of the world it's known everywhere in fact I'm going to show you a little clip here in a second and it wouldn't have happened without these stories that we did about Bob Lazar and area 51 I think you know I've been a journalist as Alan mentioned the introduction at channel 8 since 1981 and I've covered just about every kind of story you can imagine organized crime drug dealers Gun Runners corrupt officials scams ripoffs campaign hijack hijinks sex scandals political convention buried treasure polluters murders fires bikers stickups pot farmers crack peddlers scumbags boneheads and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid and yet

wherever I go whoever I talk to on the UFO report doesn't matter what those other stories some of them were pretty good stories some of them made a difference in the lives of the people who are here in this room doesn't matter about those other stories the thing that people want to talk to me about is UFOs I don't care if I'm in a grocery store or a restaurant having a meal and they come up and take up a seat in the men's room in front of the urinal

sitting in traffic people yelling out at the wind the car window to talk to me about UFOs and most of times it's to ask me hey what do you what do you think about UFOs you really believe that stuff the reality of it is they don't want to ask me what my opinion is they want to tell me their story because so many people have stories and I'll bet there are people in here most people here if you don't have a story of your own or a sighting or an incident you know somebody in your family who does because that's how ubiquitous this phenomena is and it certainly is ubiquitous in my life I mean I will be forever Brandon I mean now hardly a day goes by when I don't get a phone call or an email from Ecuador or Iceland or Australia or China or somewhere else that somebody has just seen one of my bootleg reports or something on the internet who want to talk to me about UFOs 1989 the year that we did the Lazar stories is the year that I officially went crazy though off my rocker out to lunch that's that's what we broke the story about Bob Lazar the ridiculous notion that there could be recovered alien craft out at area 51 I know how ridiculous it sounds now I know how ridiculous it sounded then but I'm here to tell you tonight about the circumstances of why we decided to pursue it as a story because as a result of that as I mentioned that's when the world beat a path to area 51's door and it has created a legend a legend was born a mythology and ever-evolving mythology one that has at times been co-opted by people for various reasons exploited for their own reasons by these hopelessly gullible Saucer nuts by people who think that the the milk carton children are all kidnapped and taken out there to be mixed up in a giant human alien vats to make body parts you name it people have assigned different stories to it there was a guy after I first did these stories about Lazar who would taking people on tours charging him 99 bucks a head and telling them that aliens from the planet Kron DAC were in charge of the base down there at like the 35 levels below the surface of the earth so story has changed it has evolved but there's no doubt that as a result of those tales it began with Bob Lazar it's known all over the world

it began with an interview with Bob Lazar that that was in silhouette you saw a piece of that that was in May of 1989 and then we sort of started working on it and it just took off from there and it drove my journalism colleagues crazy they hated it and and I've sort of paid the price for that I don't mind

I mean radio DJs back in those days whenever they would run out of belch barf and fart jokes in the morning would tee off on me I remember I'm writing a song about the boob on the tube to the tune of the fool on the hill it was pretty funny stuff my friends at the review journal my friends and colleagues over there I've really had fun at my expense over the years this is one of a couple of columns that John L Smith has written about the UFO reporter having a close encounter with skepticism and he ends it with besides I think I saw Elvis milling around in the lobby uh-huh because nobody ever is a co see any UFOs with Elvis or mp4 this is a column written by their media columnist Ken white who said get the Nets is the title of the article says Las Vegas are rushing home from work these days in sheer fits of excitement over George Knapp's series on UFOs not that they're excited over the reports themselves they want to be there if George does the big crack up on-screen Willie Goldman Willie go bull goose Looney right there in front of thousands as eyes suddenly gone buggy and rolling free in their sockets his tongue wagging side to side funny stuff this is an editorial cartoon I have it in at home by the way on my wall the original it's called the marshmallow head chronicles extraterrestrial hitmen who have come to earth looking for me and they're looking at a couple of gasoline pumps and the line says of course they are men that's obvious but which one is George Knapp maybe

and then this is one I did a series about allegations about alien abductions and the certain medical procedures than probes that happen according to the people who go through this and the r.j. wrote this they were kidnapped by aliens it gets better

they dubbed me a grande mola in the Church of stratospheric proctology but I thought it was a damn fine line it might be the best thing the rj has ever written i don't know you know it comes with the territory i have a public job I understand that I'm in a public position I do a story like that you're gonna catch some grief I understand that I have thick skin and I can deal with it

what sort of bothered me over all the years though is how few of these kind of reporters who live here and who could cover the story and go out there interview the witnesses go track it down never did it's easier to bang out some wisecracks do an Elvis joke maybe pull in Loch Ness monster and make fun of this stuff then to go talk to somebody like a TD Barnes or Bob Lazar or back in those days he was much more accessible or some of the other folks who worked at the base or to sit out there in the desert night after night as we did and see whatever it is that might be flying around but they didn't they prefer just to take potshots at it and that's easier to do I guess then to do the actual work and I think the assumption for people for a long time both regarding RA 51 and more importantly for the larger UFO story is that anybody who's seriously intro interested in this stuff is nuts is crazy is is bull goose loony and I'll have to tell you then in about 90% of the cases that that assumption is right because people who are in this field are crazy I would just share with you a couple of the experiences that I have had that caused me a great concern in the early days when I was chasing this stuff there was a woman who showed up at the TV station after the first series of reports she's wearing the skimpy halter top and holding a kid that I later learned soon learned was a

an alien hybrid she told me and within five minutes of me meeting her she had to tell me this story had to meet me had to talk to me she's telling me the story within five minutes of me meeting her I knew the most intimate details of her sex life because she said it was while performing a certain sex act outdoors on her porch that she heard a noise and looked up and saw her first UFO and then eventually and I'm not making up one word to this eventually these these beings beamed her up one board on their ship and they told her to in there up to put on a bathing suit and they told her in their opinion that she needed breast implants and I'm not making this up she's telling me all this stuff I go huh yeah I'm writing this stuff down really yeah and she says she got him and I'll tell you that's the one part of the story I could believe because because there was ample physical evidence staring me in the face

I received letters from this lady she was 75 years old at the time and she lived on a ranch outside Sacramento California and she would tell me that every time her husband would leave the ranch these aliens would come and have their way with her and she drew me pictures of alien genitalia and and with little diagrams pointing at little arrows pointing to it

it wasn't very impressive I'll just put it that way I have been pestered by a millionaire transsexual alien abductee a guy who says he's the twin brother of Jesus Christ and that aliens are coming back and to get him and boy they're really mad I had a guy fly to see me it was this is a sad story flew to see me from Australia used what he said we're his last dollars to come to see me because he said he was he wanted me to use my contacts at area 51 that's a laugh

twos to talk to the aliens to stop coming and getting him because they come every night to grab him he was he was trouble he was disturbed and I've had a heck of a lot of people like that who've come forward with those kinds of stories I've had people claiming to be aliens waiting for me outside the station who had followed me home

I've had people send me songs that aliens have written and poems I've had people who accused me of being alien of being a government agent and a government plant a government operative reluctantly you know I've appeared on a couple of TV shows that I wish I could take back the Jesse Ventura show to be one and and as a result of that I've met all kinds of people

I've been to a UFO conferences all over the place I remember meeting one of the 400 year old Venusian woman and because I guess the UFO topic is weird anything weird that's mine come and get it your PA possessed by Beelzebub call me up I can probably do an exorcism yeah you had an out-of-body experience camping it get back in

call Georgia he'll know what to do with it

so you have to ask yourself I mean why would I stick with this stuff how did it ever get this way and I'll tell you my connection to the area 51 story basically started the day I was hired at channel 8 back in 1981 the guy who hired me is the name Bob Stowe tall he's a good friend of mine he was the news director became a mentor to me and he had at the time been collecting little bits and pieces of at area 51 anything don't appear in an aviation magazine sometimes there would be a message a little story about Groom Lake in the newspaper and he had that file and he showed it to me I thought that's kind of interesting and then I didn't think about it for a couple of more years in 1984 the Air Force illegally seized 89 thousand acres around area 51 they just took it yes one day it's public land the next day you try to drive on that land and there's guys with guns there and you're turned back and they later two years later asked for permission to do it and I've got a little clip I'll show you in a minute a couple of minutes about them appearing to before Congress to talk about it in which they're asked well what authority did you do this under well I'll have to tell you in a closed-door briefing and so that caught my attention I did some stories about that back then but I didn't do anything again for a while however my friend Mr. Snow tall and his friend Ned Day who became a mentor to me were very busy with the story of their own they broke the story about the existence of the stealth fighter being tested and test flown out their air 51 that was a big story F-117a they broke it everybody else picked it up as a result of that story going public Ned Day was picked up by the FBI they picked him up off a street corner put him in a room was just like a scene out of a movie with a real hot light in his face saying how dare you endanger the lives of 220 million Americans by letting this story out don't you know the Russians can find this out and Ned was pretty scared for a while until he remembered a lesson from journalism school and he said look man I'm just her little reporter in Las Vegas if I can find this doubt don't you think that the Russians can find it out too and so they let him go that was a big story and the reason allowed them we were able to get it is because of a guy named John Lear and John Lear is a as a friend of mine I now I've met him in first in 87 I think he showed up at the TV station he had been the source to alert Ned and them to the existence of this playing out there at area 51 so he had a certain amount of credibility at channel 8 and he had also he had run for the state Senate his family of course is well known in Nevada the Learjet developed that John had been pilot for the CIA had flown just about every plane you can imagine very accomplished guy and a lot of ways distinguished and smart and in the view of a lot of people completely crazy because he became interested in UFOs and I mean when he became interested he went all the way so he shows up at the station one day not long after helping Ned to break that story about area 50 or the f-117 and he's got a great big stack of UFO documents and he drops him on Ned's desk and he says you got to read this stuff this is really interesting it's a biggest story in history and what do you think and Ned says I'm not having any part of this people will think I'm crazy I don't have time to deal with UFOs forget it well I'm eavesdropping at the time and so I as usual and so I said hey let me take a look at that stuff and I first met John Lear I took that stuff home and started reading it some of it was obviously manufactured by someone but a lot of it was legitimate documents obtained from our government secret studies conducted by military agencies and authorities about the UFO issue in which these matters were taken very seriously I thought that's that's pretty interesting

I had never at the time given any kind of thought to UFOs I had had some discussions within my own family about things that had happened long ago but as far as I know I had never seen one I had I had one UFO book that somebody had given me as a gift something I read and put aside no abiding interest at all it certainly was not a religion for me or any cause in my life but I looked at it I thought I'm gonna put John Lear on this little show

I have called on the record it was a one of those 30-minute talk shows political discussions you'd have a City Councilman on or something to talk about things that nobody cared about it aired at 6 o'clock in the morning on a Sunday and nobody watched it but I put Lear on he started doing this UFO manifesto aliens abductions all this stuff and I just kind of sat there with my jaw agog and and listened to it and then the phone that the program ended it aired and the phone started ringing and as people wanted to tell me stories about UFOs

this is pretty interesting it had obviously touched the pulse of the public in a way that I did not understand and did not appreciate

I had Lear on again and the response was even bigger and then that second appearance he hinted that he knew somebody who might be getting hired at area 51 that person turned out to be Bob Lazar and then I had him on a third time with another crazy guy named Bill Cooper who really went off the deep end and the response was even bigger and I realized you know what I'm gonna have to look into this stuff I'm gonna have to start taking this seriously and read on it read about it so I started sort of my own little learning curve and the learning curve as you probably know if you're into the topic is considerable then came the day the next significant event was in May of 1989 I was co-anchoring there five o'clock news we had a little interview segment we did every day

entertainers politicians whoever was interesting in town

he just wanted him to be a kind of a fun to interview and at the last minute our interview cancelled so I called up Lear and I said hey do you think yet UFO guy you were hinting about would he come on

I'll even black out of space if you have to and sure enough he did and we put Bob Lazar on and did it like a five-minute interview and in which he told this story this crazy story about working at a place called S4 Papoose Lake south of Groom Lake within the area 51 complex nine flying saucers out there in hangars built in to be disguised like the side of a mountain alien and origin they all look different as if we got the variety pack

holy cow what to believe about this but again the response from the audience was absolutely overwhelming so when it finished I went and talked to the news director we said well let's figure out what to do here because if this guy's telling the truth obviously this is a pretty damn big story and as crazy as it might sound let's do some work and find out if there's anything to it and we'll do some reporting on it so about a week later we went to Lear's house to meet with Bob Lear was playing games with us then and wouldn't even still wouldn't tell us it's Lazar's real name what he didn't know is that Lazar had signed the guestbook at the entrance to Bob to John's house so when I walked in I saw the name there and figured out what it was we talked to Bob Lazar we put him through paces stowed all and I asking him questions about his background and he seemed like a humble intelligent sincere guy we left the meeting and said you know what let's give this a go here we recognize there are risks to our credit professional credibility in standing we decided we would be careful maybe do a couple of parts a couple of minutes at night that instead of a couple of parts over a couple of nights it became 10 minutes a night over two weeks and it was the highest-rated series we ever aired but that didn't happen till November and then between May and November I did this intense crash course in UFOs and which I tried to learn everything I could not only about UFOs in general what the government might or might not know what about Lazar and as I said it was a it's a huge learning curve ninety ninety five percent of everything in the field I figure is complete nonsense it's made up its conspiracy stuff it's lunatic theories it's crap put out by people who either want an attention or they're nuts or they want to sell something but there's this kernel of truth in the middle of all that of proof and you have to wade through a lot of chaff to get to the wheat but it's there and I think that any reasonable person who does the work and Wade's through it all to find the kernel of truth inside would believe likewise that is unless as it is for some a religion just as you have people on one side who believe everything they hear everything in the sky is a flying saucer you have other people on the other side the skeptics they call themselves but really they're debunkers and it wouldn't matter if a saucer landed on the White House lawn they wouldn't believe it and you couldn't convince him because it would upset their worldview it's a religion for them as strongly as it's a religion for the people on the other side and no amount of evidence would change their minds that's at least what I came to believe and for me I guess I'll talk a little bit of in general about the concept of proof because what is proof it's it's what should be able to convince a reasonable person that something is true I happen to think that in the area of UFOs there's more than enough and what I learned in the course of those next few months and have learned in the 24 years since is that there's a heck of a lot of proof if people are willing to look at it the first one being in the area of eyewitness testimony now I know that eyewitness testimony can be inherently unreliable but you got people 3040 million Americans who will admit seeing UFOs probably as many who won't admit it but have seen them and it's true that 90% or more of all UFO sightings can be explained away as prosaic objects misidentifications and balloons and planes and things like that but it's also true that 9 out of 10

UFOs are not reported at all because there's no one will take the reports not except for civil civilian organizations you call McCarran or Nellis today and tell them you've seen a UFO they'll keep you on the phone or the police they'll keep on the phone long enough to find out if you're dangerous to somebody but they don't care about a UFO or at least they won't admit it

Oh our interest in that stuff stop so people like you and me somebody who see something strange in the sky there's nowhere to report it but millions of people have reported it millions of people all over the world have seen these things dating back thousands of years and every culture on every

in every civilization in human history have seen them they had different names for them and they have different descriptions but they've seen them that counts for something that that counts for something second type of proof is photographic evidence today with what is done online with with computer software it's hard to believe anything you see anymore

but in the years before we all had computers with this kind of power in our homes there are photos and videos that are reliable that have been tested even by the military that show anomalous objects allow novelist's solid objects solid craft that perform maneuvers that our best technology can't do not even the stuff at area 51 the Third Kind of proof is physical evidence now I get this all the time well well you know why don't we have a cigarette lighter from a UFO or something like that where's the Roswell crash stuff if I do I'd tell you but we don't have that however there is physical evidence scientists will say there's nothing to analyze with UFOs they're here one minute and they're gone the next

that is not true all over the world as witnesses have reported these things happening there are what we call landing site trace cases witnesses say this UFO land in my backyard

ah come on get out of here but if you go out in the backyard

and you look you find a number of physical types of evidence burned or baked soil impressions imprints on the ground trees that are affected by things that fly up and down animals have been affected people have been affected burned things of that sort it is physical evidence for anybody who has the guts to go ahead and look at it J Allen Hynek I remember him saying yeah arguing with some scientists there's no physical evidence he says you know what airplanes fly over the Australian outback every single day and don't crash and people look up and see them it doesn't mean that they don't exist that they the fact that they don't have the Aborigines down below don't have a piece of one the fourth type of proof that I want to talk about very briefly is government documents I hinted about this before

it's what got me hooked I told you that John Lear had helped me in the beginning with those great big stack of documents will he continue to give me piles of documents things that have been squeezed out of our government the most impressive evidence of all I think are these reports and studies written by our government by our military about UFOs long before the Freedom of Information Act existed

these were reports were written for military people only to see evaluations for the president for the CIA for the Joint Chiefs and we were never supposed to know about it now you asked about that kind of stuff before the FOIA existed and these agencies denied that they had anything in fact the the FBI was asked a bunch of times what do you got on UFOs we don't have anything nothing

four years passed in the mid-70s FBI was forced to release 2,000 pages of documents about UFOs same thing with the CIA I've written to him a bunch of times when I first started hey what do you got in UFOs

nothing we never studied it never had any interest well bull I mean there are documents that were squeezed out of them through FOIA in the in even in the 70s with that referred to the CIA's UFO experts CIA UFO panels CIA UFO studies that one study that they had in particular I want to mention is something called the Robertson panel this is in the 1950s they convened this panel it had a whole bunch of UFO sightings this great big flat what are we gonna do about this stuff well let's look at the evidence they gathered evidence from about eight or nine ten cases and looked at it for a grand total of six hours over two days they said you know what we don't think that UFOs are a threat to national security

but the reporting of UFOs is a potential threat to national security so we need to institute some changes we need to strip UFOs of their aura of mystery stripped them of their respectability make it lack less than respectable to report them so they instituted formerly a ridicule factor a laughter curtain a policy of making fun of people that see this stuff belittling the whole subject embarrassing scientists who take it seriously and it's worked it's worked

now those documents exist I'll show you some other ones I gave a pile of stuff to the museum here I'm not sure if it's on display or not this is a report compiled by the US Air for in the Office of Naval Intelligence in 1948 December 1948 and it was there was something called Project sign there was a secret study of UFOs and the guys came back there look at all these case they said this stuff is real we think it's entirely possible that these things are from other planets a Hoyt Vandenberg who is the head of that Air Force I think back then said I can't allow that to go forward forget it burn that copy and come up with something new so project sign became project grudge and they came up with a much different conclusion but later project Bluebook which was nothing more than a public relations exercise collected 19,000 or so cases and even though they tried to explain them away they couldn't now in this document

one copy continued to exist even though we're supposed to be destroyed it says it must be accepted that some type of flying objects have been observed their identification and origin are not discernible since the Air Force is responsible for control of the air and the defense of the US it's imperative that all agencies cooperate in confirming or denying the possibility that these objects have a domestic origin I'll tell you about something else it's not really a document this is a chapter from an Air Force physics textbook and our best and brightest pilots our future Joint Chiefs of Staff members go to the Air Force Academy for training and education and this chapter it's called a introductory space science department of physics US Air Force Academy was what they taught the cadets at the Air Force Academy

let me quote you from it conclusion from available information the UFO phenomenon appears to have been global in nature for almost 50,000 years the majority of known witnesses have been reliable people who've seen easily explained natural phenomena and there appears to be no overall positive correlation with population density psychological factors probably do not enter the data picture as noise it goes on to say that in the course of your career as a pilot you're probably going to encounter one of these things as far as we can tell there may be four different races visiting the planet

that's been going on for thousands of years this is what they're teaching their best and brightest pilots now after you up ho people got a hold of this chapter and put it it out hey you guys been lying to us they pulled it they yanked it which has sort of been the reaction all the way along and I don't really completely understand it but that's what they did so I think you know when you look at the trail the paper trail of government documents it's more than persuasive the kinds of stuff that is squeezed out of the our government a report after report incident after incident more than enough evidence to convince a reasonable person that something really weird has been flying around in these skies and I'll tell you it's not only documents from this country as a result of me being interested in this crazy subject I've been allowed to travel all over the world and one of the trips two of the trips took me to Russia we had a window of opportunity in the 1990s in which we went to Russia this company I work for I left channel 8 for a couple years

hired this Russian physicist we met him through congressman Bilbray who was a friend of ours and he was the physicist had worked at the highest levels of the Russian government he's a science national national security adviser to Boris Yeltsin also to the Russian parliament he had trained Soviet cosmonauts how to spot American nuclear submarines from space the guy was dialed in so I met him as he was getting ready to go back to Russia and I asked him you know anything about UFOs got any friends in the KGB ever heard anything about it not really not they could think about it we had another beer you know that you mentioned I do have a friend at the KGB who told me that he had heard about read some

UFO studies that they had documents over there and then he thought there's a guy I know at the Academy of Sciences who studied this stuff before we know it we got to cut a list of a couple of people who had never talked about UFOs publicly before I made a deal with the guy we sent him back to Russia sent him up in an office I said here's what I want you to do find people who were in a position to know about UFOs but have never tried to peddle this story anywhere and he did and for seven or so seven almost eight months he searched out people like that and then I went over to Russia to meet him and we had to pay a little money here and there but I brought back several thousand pages of what was then classified information from Russia mid their ministry defense conducted the largest UFO study in the history of the world and it lasted for ten years and the order basically went out that every unit in the vast Soviet military empire had to report and fully investigate any anomalous aircraft ball of light weird thing in the sky anything that we would classify as a UFO so all these reports thousands and thousands of reports over a ten year period rolled in and they all went to the desk of this Colonel Boris Sokolov that I met and we got the documents from him and some of these reports were incredibly dramatic

Sokolov admitted to me your government studies him we're studying him and for the same reasons we want to be able to do what the UFO craft do and beat you in stealth he said these craft do things that we can't do if we can master them and figure out how they do it we can match you in stealth capability so it was a very practical reason for the study and it went on for a long time he told me that they had had 45 incidents in which the Russian military planes encountered UFOs they had a standing order you see a UFO flying over Moscow go get it and in three of those encounters the planes were shot down and two of the pilots died this is not this is not funny stuff and he said after the two pilots died the order went out it was changed that if you see a UFO leave it alone and the second time I'm going back to Russia I interviewed a guy named Igor Maltsev who was there basically their secretary the Air Force he's the guy that issued that order and he said I did it because these UFOs whatever they are may have incredible capacities for retaliation I will tell you this how I smuggled some of these documents back what happens is in in Russia is there they're classified documents they stamp them on the top page and then the rest of it are not stamped classified at least the documents we got so you remove that top page just throw the rest of that stuff in your suitcases what we did it's carrying these top pages

got tricky well I got him out and if I hadn't I'd be in a gulag somewhere still I just divert to that story only to tell you that governments other governments around the world like our government has studied this stuff of course they would

there was an incident in Russia similar to something that happened here at which the UFOs appeared over a UN ICBM base a base where these nuclear tipped missiles are aimed at the United States and these things popped up over a four hour period now all the witnesses who made these reports are military officers and I got all and so they described different things these UFOs did they were there were two some that were huge that split apart into smaller craft and then fused back together some of them just sat there some of them zipped around they made incredible maneuvers and then right after of being there for about four hours the launch control panels that controls these ICBMs aimed at the United States lit up something entered the codes that enabled these missiles and they were ready to go and a countdown had begun and the Russians couldn't stop it and they were freaking and then the UFOs over the base go poof gone control panel goes back to normal

Russians are shaking their head and wiping their brow they called my friend the Ministry of Defense guy

Sokolov to send a team in to study it he took apart they were the equipment they couldn't find anything wrong they couldn't find anything wrong it had never happened before and it never happened since and they concluded that these UFOs were somehow sending a message this may be your most powerful technology and weapons but it doesn't really impress us all that much we had a similar set of incidents here at five nuclear bases along the u.s. Canadian border in the mid-1970s it was kept secret for a long time but after the FOIA was became law they forced these documents out UFOs visited these bases one right after another over a two-week period encountered our warplanes we tried chase them couldn't do it

they entered some codes they disabled some missiles scary stuff so when you tell me that UFOs are not in a turn F of national security you're full of crap and and that is the official version of our government and they are full of crap about this so anyway I think there's more than enough proof to consider that this subject should be taken seriously

back to the story of area 51 why don't we play this other tape here I'll just give you a little introduction to Bob Lazar the key for me was I'm never gonna prove that Bob Lazar worked at area 51 so I tried to settle on did he work at Los Alamos which he claimed where he worked there and classified projects and so we played a little game with Los Alamos National Lab for a couple of years and here's sort of how it goes

there are problems with Bob's story here and there and and I'll talk about a couple of them but as I mentioned for me he was did he did he work at los alamos in sensitive positions because if he had been there then it at least plausible he could get hired to work out out somewhere else in sensitive positions and I think he was there I mean I interviewed people that worked with him and I'll tell you this I haven't talked about this very often but I went to Los Alamos we trespassed into the National Lab on a Sunday and Bob took me in we went to he he still had a a contract with the lab to produce radiation probes that were placed outside the laboratory so he took me there on a Sunday we flew to Los Alamos and he met us at the gate and we got in a car and drove in and he took us through these buildings the place where he never worked like a rabbit going through an underground maze I mean we were going all through people are waving at us and they showed us where he had worked we talked to people he had worked with and yet everybody's telling us he wasn't there we went in and got video of this one of the world's biggest particle accelerators at the Mason facility where he worked and they still said he wasn't there eventually I got something out of Los Alamos lab in which they said all right we found the number for him he was here but he worked only for a subcontractor and they gave me the name of the subcontractor which was a headhunting company that had recruited him there so I began a process with them and I first contacted him look this guy Lazar says you recruited him you got him a job there at Los Alamos do you have any records yeah we've got records well can I get them sure

we'll send them to you a couple weeks ago buy records don't arrive I call back again yeah well can't really find those records so I start a series of writing letters I got a stack of letters this thick eventually they just stopped dealing with me at all they stopped responding period something changed you know and that was enough to really piqued my curiosity especially after talking to people who said that they work with him there and I know it's a leap to make that to area 51 I know it's a leap but some things that Bob had said on the that you saw that newspaper headline excuse me on the day that that story appeared in the Los Alamos monitor Edward Teller was at Los Alamos given a lecture and he was sitting outside reading that newspaper article about Bob and his jet interest in jet cars and Bob walked by and he struck up a conversation this is the story that Bob tells and that is how he later when he was here in Las Vegas looking for something else to do besides processing photos which he was doing for a period that he got he says he got an interview and EG&G that Edward Teller was the guy who arranged it

years later after my stories came out Edward Teller was asked about it on camera and he gets really weird about it yeah maybe I knew him and maybe I don't what about kind of a thing and you know you'll never be able to prove it people that I know and trust you say that they have checked the records that Lazar was never at area 51 I'll take their word for it

I certainly have trouble with Bob's claimed credentials at schools he had claimed to have degree sort of MIT and Caltech now I've talked to people who saw him at Caltech but there's no no records there I think it is entirely possible that he would exaggerate his educational background in order to get a great job he wouldn't be the first person to do that he wouldn't be the first person to jut to lie about his background in education in order to get a good job and you have to wonder well wouldn't the people who hired him know that and yeah they would they would have to they do a background check they'd have to know that but I think in was some way that Bob could have been the perfect person for that that position if you wanted to example test some theory run something up a flagpole see how the public would react about a story about flying saucers he might be the guy to do it he's technically proficient he's an amazing guy you walk in a room I don't care who's in the room he's the smartest guy there whether he has degrees from MIT or Caltech or not he just knows amazing stuff and can do anything with electronics or computers he's a really smart guy and I got to know him pretty well I got to know him through a guy named gene Huff who I hope was going to invite him here tonight gene was a real estate appraiser who worked with Bob and who also knew John Lear and that's how that coalesced a lot of people think it was Lear the Svengali who sucked Bob in and and got him to tell all these crazy stories and in order I don't know what in order to do what but that's not the way it went down those guys were friends Bob was out there for a period of a couple of months from late 1988 until about April 1989 he had some personal issues that were going on his phones were being tapped as part of the security background is a story that he told and the guys who were listening in on the phones and checking his background found that that his wife was having an affair and they told him and sort of things just kind of fell apart fertilizer after that he didn't like the work he was doing out there he said the security was ridiculous that they hadn't made much progress but he told some really interesting stories about seeing these flying saucers out there in the hangars I know a lot of people have trouble believing that but there's some other things that Bob knew that you have to ask yourself how did he know if he wasn't there

so we got a win another guy a former police officer who done polygraph exams in fact he did it for he still does it for a major casino corporation a corporation but by the way is represented here tonight and he's very credible guy he took his time he went through the all the material with Lazar talked to about flying saucers antimatter reactors which is what the power source was the element 115 which was the fuel all that stuff gave him the test four times and he passed and it's not he'd barely passed he passed funny questioned passed wasn't even close that polygraph examiner his name is Terry Tabb Burnett II he gave the results to his friend who's a another examiner who looked at it

who said yeah no question about it a third guy looked at the results and said he passed a fourth guy said well you know I'd like to see him ask some more questions but he thought he passed as well he passed it not no question about it I guess it's possible to do it but Bob had never taken a polygraph before before I asked him to do it as far as I know

still even with all that I'm not sure that I would have gone forward with the story except the fact that after we aired that silhouette interview people started calling me with more information people who said that they'd worked out there and I won't give you all of them but I'll tell you that there are more than two dozen of them who had claimed to have some kind of knowledge little bits and pieces of the story out there six of those people who called me and offered to give me information were visited after they called and told to keep their mouths shut this is a kind of thing it really ticks me off because somebody was listening to my phone it wasn't theirs it was mine there's a lady who works even now in the Clark County Court system in the court system she's been there a long time but before she was there she worked as a secretary for a defense contractor called Holmes annarbor which has worked at the test site for a number of years unclassified stuff and she says she sat in on meetings at which the Roswell wreckage was discussed

she took took notes on a typewriter the after it was done the meeting was done they took the ribbon out of this thing and destroyed it

she says they talked about the Roswell stuff coming to area 51

she told this to a cop who's a friend of mine he set up a meeting we talked about it on the phone we're gonna get together the next day she gets visited by these two guys who say you know you're still under your security oath is still in effect you can't talk about anything it happened back then we know that you and your daughter travel back and forth between Los Angeles there's a lot of desert out there we'd hate for something to happen to either one of you this lady was scared scared to death that's 20 years later I tried to get her to talk about it she still wouldn't I had a guy who worked at channel 8 as an electrical engineer who had been at air 851 for a while

says he saw what looked like a flying saucer under a tarp and was going to tell me about it he had moved to another city I called him up he's a living in Seattle and I called him up said hey would you tell me that story I'll black out your face he says sure just so long as you don't give my identity next morning there's two guys sitting in a car outside his house military haircuts sunglasses look like men and black or something talking into a radio making themselves very obvious they follow him to work

they're waiting when he comes out of work and follow him home of course he calls me and says the interview is off I'm not gonna do it

I had a guy named Roy Byram who does tax returns and he did tax returns for a lot of high-ranking guys at Nellis Air Force Base and after the Lazar interview called me up he said hey I got some information for you because these guys I got to know him really well and they told me some stories about these disks these alien disks that are out there swear to god he says that they told me the story I said great I'll come in to interview you next day very next day two guys from they said the Secret Service show up they said we hear you've been making threats against the life of the president and we're just telling you that's a prosecutable offense you could go to prison for this he wrote back to me said I think it's an attempt to to stifle tight for me from talking to you he was still wouldn't he go forward with it but I didn't know if it was a good idea six people right in a row that happened to that that makes a big impression on me back in those days and that would now and it made me really angry a lot of other people came forward with information that I met with people who had varying degrees of experience out there at 51 but is some of whom's background I could convince I could confirm some of them I could not there was a guy there was a story a guy named Michael hunt who surfaced in 1980 Wood said he had worked for the AEC at Groom Lake in the 60s claimed he saw an alien disc in flight had a lot of really detailed information that who came forward and told his story there was a Wackenhut security guard who had a queue clearance at the test site from 1984 to 88 said he was pulling a shift that the internal entrance area 51 they were buzzed by this glowing object at night there was a a Las Vegas attorney who served in the military in the 70s says he witnessed a disc-shaped craft land outside of area 51 seemed to have be in some kind of mechanical difficulty he was subjected to several days of tough questioning after seeing this thing and told that he didn't in fact see it there was a golf pro from Nellis Air Force Base who liked the tax guy had struck up conversations and friendships with these Nellis Air Force guys and went on these outer outer road trips he said they were out of town watching a TV space about Roswell and these guys farad tell him this story now maybe they were pulling his leg

but they seem very serious he thought they were serious and they told him that the wreckage some of that stuff and eventually made its way to Nevada and not necessarily just area 51 the stories I heard about it whether they had gone to a place called Indian Springs which existed as a base before area 51 was opened in 1955 and then it was a guy I'll tell you about two more one of them if you heard about this this book on area 51 by a lady named Annie Jacobson I know it's a really bestseller it popped up and and has made a bunch of I've got a lot of attention it's a really excellent history of the Roadrunners and the base and the really great stuff that went on and then it goes off the deep end at the end of this book it says that that based on the testimony of one EG&G senior engineer that yeah there were saucers out there at area 51 they came from Roswell but they weren't alien the Russians had built them they had taken these Nazi scientists and some spindly prisoners of war who'd been subjected to experiments by Josef Mengele they built this flying saucer based on Nazi designs but these prisoners of war in as the pilots flew it over to across the ocean to Roswell and crashed it to scare the hell out of the American public that we were being invaded by aliens that sounds pretty much ridiculous except that the person who told that story to Annie and it's been widely ridiculed and dismissed because of how ridiculous it is it is ridiculous except for the fact that the guy who told her that I know it is because twenty years ago I basically stalked him there were members of his family who hinted to me that he knew something about area 51 this is not a Bob Lazar this is not guy whose credentials can be questioned he really was in the places where he said he worked he really was in a position to know with high clearances I am NOT saying that the person identified as Annie

source is my source I'm just saying that that the same person by confirming that the name that's been made public in reference to her book is the right one does that that would be wrong because I made a promise for one thing I made a promise that I wouldn't talk about it

anyway this guy's family tells me he knows something about it so I start showing up in places where he is and I just ingratiate myself I'm stalking him basically until I got to know him and he invited me home to see his scrapbooks from the atomic energy program nuclear bomb photos and photos of the old days working for EG&G and I'm there one day and he he's looking at it and he's shown me stuff and he closes the book and he goes you're not here to ask me about that are you ice no not really this is not what you're interested at all I said no not really I know what you're interested in

yeah that's right and his wife walks in she goes oh don't tell him that stuff but he did eventually he did over the next two years he and I had a series of meetings at different places having coffee and it was like pulling teeth to get him to come out with this stuff but the story he told me is much different from the one that ended up in this book no Nazis no Joseph Stalin no prisoners of war it was straight-up alien stuff and and I would have to ask him questions to get this stuff out I would ask him well gosh weren't you scared this thing was gonna crash or something or it would it would get out he said we were more concerned about it getting out it and they told me they had a live alien out there now I know how ridiculous it

sounds we're sitting here it sounds ridiculous

but given who this guy was where he had worked

I took it pretty seriously eventually after a period of two years of him telling me this stuff and I wasn't allowed to take notes I wouldn't write it all down as much as I could remember after we had these meetings but he promised me he said that he'd been told to shut up that he was no longer supposed to talk to me now what happened was there was a congressional investigator with high security clearances who was sent out here to check this stuff out some members of Congress the Senate had an interest in these topics the stories had come out flying saucers Aurora secret program that weren't on the book get out there and find out what's going on since guy came and saw me I told him the story about the other guy

he got clearances to talk to him and to talk to his boss and once once the that word was out he stopped talking to me altogether but he did make a promise that he was gonna make a videotape that would be released to me after he's his death he's still alive but I the last time I saw him he said he did make the tape final witness I'll tell you is this that helped convince me that this was a legitimate topic and that I haven't said this before in public and it's senator Howard cannon who was a senator from Nevada before he was a US senator here he was a brigadier general he was a decorated war hero world war 2 he flew everything when Howard cannon was defeated in his last race he was such a good friend of the military had done so much to build Nellis had such a good relationship with the guys in charge of area 51 the guys from Lockheed that they allowed him to fly the sr-71 sort of a going-away present so he was dialed his best friend in the United States Senate was Senator Barry Goldwater Barry Goldwater even though he's a Republican they're good buddies they work together back then that could happen back in those days I know it seems alien now but Democrats the Republicans talk to each other had had drinks together anyway Barry Goldwater was his best friend and cannon would started telling stuff to me through his family members who I knew pretty well and I finally had a face-to-face meeting with him toward the end of his life and did probably what was the last interview I ever did and we touched on some of this stuff but I asked him about Barry Goldwater had tried it was this chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee and he had heard these stories about wright-patterson Air Force Base and and the Blue Room our pride that the hangar 18 and so he called up his friend general Curtis LeMay said I want to get in there I want to see it and the maid told him basically you know not only is the answer no but he'll know and don't you ever ask again and Goldwater is like whoa

you know I'm uh I'm decorated war hero myself he says he was a general I believe he is the Senate Intelligence Committee Chairman has all the security clearances he needs what do you mean no I mean no and don't ask again

so Goldwater late later wrote letters about it so I asked Howard cannon about this stuff and it was clear to me that he and Goldwater had talked about it not only about hangar 18 but about area 51 flying saucers he told me basically look what would have been the point I Heilmann he came close to saying I think I could have got into hangar 18 but he said what would have been the point of either of us getting in there or going area 51 to see this stuff we couldn't tell anybody about what we had seen and if we did tell him what we know is out there they think we're crazy Howard Cannon is is know Bob Lazar I like Bob and everything but there's no disputing his credentials

Howard Cannon's credentials he was there in positions of power he did have friends in the highest places in the government and in military and intelligence circles so when he intimates to me that the saucers were real that they were somewhere in Wright-Patterson or somewhere out in the desert I believed him

1992 things took a bad turn for me and Bob Lazar Bob comes to me I was out of channel 8 working on some private projects Bob comes to me and says hey by the way I'm I'm involved in this little brothel operation it's a legal brothel it's operating in a couple of apartment buildings I got to know the lady run to running and I'm trying to help her right put in some security cameras and computer codes and stuff like gotta go are you kidding me I know he says oh yeah by the way it's on the same street where you live my professional life flashes before my eyes I I don't know I don't know what to do I said I don't believe you show it to me and he took me to it and sure enough there it is I I told him look you you've got to shut this down people want you to crash and burn you're you're probably being followed come to find out he was being followed by a team from another TV station they hadn't got onto that yet but it was only a matter of time the hooker he was involved with had two vice cops who were boyfriend's of hers it was a matter of time I said you got to shut this down get out of this I'm gonna call the cops and tell him about it and and hopefully you got a past I was a bad decision was a bad decision on my part because we did tell it Bob did shut it down

did get out of it

we did tell the cops but they didn't let it pass they were afraid we were maybe tested him or something so they came and arrested him I mean you know what not a whole lot of people get arrested for pandering in Nevada and Bob was facing multiple felony counts and and this is kind of a key insight I think into his character is that parole and probation did this big background check on Bob and if you were a con man and they were mad at him they recommended he should do hard time because he's lying to us about his background if you were a con man telling a story that you made up about flying saucers and being recruited by the Navy and EG&G and all this stuff that was the time to come clean but he didn't he stuck to his guns in that story and he and he told the same story to them as he told to me in the course of that trial proceedings we got a letter from congressman Bilbray who had tried to help me get records on Lazar and he his office said you know it frankly we have never seen anything like it

we write to the FBI and say do you know something about this guy who wants to know is basically the response not they didn't tell him we don't have any information on the guy they said you have no right to know about it it's a congressman so you know you could say what you want about Bob and and the weakness isn't a story or what school he went to or what he really did or didn't do but in a lot of ways he might have been the perfect guy for a program like this if you wanted to run it up the flagpole and see how the public reacted and then pull the rug out from under it he was a perfect guy scientifically proficient very knowledgeable but if you needed his credit him you could I mean he flew up a pirate flag on us on his on his house he loved machine guns he loved hookers he liked jet cars he was a really interesting guy who'd had troubles in his personal life and if you wanted to discredit him you could and I think in that way he might have been the most qualified person for that job which is why I still believe it's possible that he could have really been there you know I don't know if there were flying saucers from other planets at area 51 I'm never gonna know but I do know that there is more than a few people who say that they saw something that looks very much like it out there and who have bits and pieces of the same story that bob has told me the pursuit of the UFO story as I mentioned taken me all over the world to it to Russia and China and South America and Europe and and and has taught me a lot of a lot of things but my views have certainly changed from those days when we started there's a guy named know Jacques Jacques Vallee dr. Jacques PLA if you've seen the movie Close Encounters Francois Truffaut plays the character based on Jacques Vallee and he told me some years ago I'm gonna be really disappointed if it turns out that the answer that the UFO mystery is merely aliens from other planets coming here because I don't think that's what it is and neither do I anymore one of these days I'll come back here and talk to you about skinwalker ranch but I think I think this this is not just visitors from other planets coming here than it is part of something much bigger much more wondrous much more mysterious and a lot harder for us to get our heads around but we need another two days to probably go into that thanks thank you very much question is have I met an abductee who had some credibility yeah and some of them right here in in Las Vegas couple in rural Nevada you put them through a hypnosis session which is not always reliable but they they come out of it separately describing the same kind of beings the same kind of experiences there is in some of those cases physical evidence

Sekai name Budd Hopkins who just died a couple of months ago who wrote missing time and a couple of other classic books in the field you know there are people who who claim to be abducted who want attention who have mental disorders

maybe it's epilepsy or some other kind of physical problem but there are other cases it can't be explained that way and if you you're looking for a blanket explanation as some people would like to do to explain that all away you've got to explain all of them there's some of those cases that have multiple witnesses multiple independent witnesses who've seen it from different angles and some physical evidence I met a lady named Betty Betty and Barney Betty Hill which is the first famous abduction case met her at a UFO conference one time that's a pretty good case and then I met a lady named Betty Ann Driessen as well that's a pretty good case I tend to think you need to be careful with those stories because there are people who confabulate things and make them up some of them are just not very easy to explain away though well I'll answer that in a couple of ways one is that in the 1960 the Brookings Institute was tasked with doing a study for our government said what would happen if suddenly was revealed extraterrestrials have been visiting us for all all time and they basically predicted that society would completely collapse that unless there was a conditioning program to get us ready for this that we would collapse it would be like a cargo cult where some primitive tribe we encounter in Borneo or in the Amazon we know how that ends up

it's the primitive tribe the more primitive tribe that disintegrates and we would definitely be the more primitive tribe in this in this scenario that was true then since that study in 1960 is there anybody who wasn't prepared for aliens I mean they're everywhere they're in everything every movie and TV show every book everywhere I think we would be ready for the general concept when I did this story back in 1989 I did a little survey of all these different religious faiths all of them said the same thing

it's testament to the greater glory of God that there are people out there other people coming here I think they saw us great good more souls to save more more alien ducats in the collection box or something so I don't think we would I don't think we would disintegrate with the general idea that aliens are coming here to visit us because they've been gumming a long time they haven't blown us up yet so what's the threat however what if the ultimate disclosure is not that simple what if they are describing something else entirely by the way yeah

the aliens are here they're not really from other planets they are actually interdimensional beings they live here among us all the time

separated by a thin psychic membrane of some sort they can see everything you do they can they know when you're in the shower

they know when you're cheating on your taxes they can read your mind they can interact with our lot our lives at any time come and go as they please

at will you can't see them you can't know it how do you like that you talk about people freaking out now that would I would have you freaking out and I think society would disintegrate

yeah well I just like I think I don't think there was going to come a day when disclosure happens but the effects would depend on what it is that they disclosed

well Phoenix lights case I think is pretty good case as thousands and thousands of people saw it

there's videotape of it it's nothing that our government has in its arsenal that we know of that was ten years ago or so they made a feeble attempt to explain it away as flares coming from parachutes no we had no military craft in the area they were that wasn't us we don't know what the heck it was you guys are imagining it oh oh that's right we had some planes there and we were dropping flares and parachutes and that must be what you saw it wasn't it wasn't planes and parachutes in fact it started here it was seen first over Henderson and then went to Phoenix

as for the historian it down no needles it's kind of complicated but some witnesses saw a giant glowing cylinder come flying out of the sky it landed just off the Colorado River nearly hit a guy in a in a in a houseboat within a couple of minutes a whole Armada of helicopters came including a sky crane out of the sky picked this thing up and flew it off toward Nevada and in the days that passed and I've talked to witnesses in various places who saw this this in different stages in the days after that these like men and black type guys start showing up in needles and in that area Bullhead City and and hasslein people who had talked about it on the radio and so we started going down there and found these people said you know you can't believe we've keep seeing these phalanxes of strange vehicles and military looking guys in sunglasses zipping through here and back and forth see them all the time so we kept going down week after week after week to try to catch him and sure enough we did we cut caught up to him this we saw this group we're heading back to town all these cars these strange vehicles just as described and tenon's stuff sticking out so we zipped around and chased after him and I had a little camera in the front we get up close to him guys with sunglasses military cuts I start shooting video they're talking to the radio pretty soon they pull over one pulls over we pull over behind it somebody pulls up behind us

guy jumps out civilian clothes

he's moving a shirt like this I can see he's packing a weapon underneath of it oh this is this looks bad he comes over you guys get off the side of the road get out of our way who are you who you with what are you doing and we're in an unmarked car we're not we don't have any channel 8 stuff we worked with channel 8 who are you guys know who are you show me your ID I said I'd like to see your ID he flashes a badge real quick I didn't get to see that and then he does it again and it this he says he's working with the Nevada Test Site I said great good I got lots of friends out there we do stuff all the time maybe we can ask her what you're doing because we're working on the story about this crazy thing and needles he says no I'm not gonna tell you what we're doing get off the side of the road stop hassling us or you gonna be taken into custody so we continue shooting video they take off and it turns out they work for an agency another agency I'd never heard of before the OST the office of secure transportation I get back to Las Vegas or somebody a friend of mine Collins had that was a bad move because these guys are badass their job is to transport nuclear weapons and they are trained somebody messes with them on the road to take them out and in fact we learn subsequently their vehicles are capable even if they were killed their vehicles could kill you by themselves so anyway I got the I got to know these guys that nope I've never heard of you let's do a story about it their national director came out they were doing some training at the

Nevada Test Site we got up there got to do an exclusive story got to know them there are amazing people that did an amazing job but they had nothing to do with the men in black who are messing around with the folks and needles it was just a coincidence that they're going through the area at the same time that stuff was going on but it was a very cool story to do

I would just say in closing this is a fun pursuit and it's a grand story and even if I never get the any answers that you can really point to definitively it's been a grand adventure and a worthwhile pursuit and I think it's something that you should be if you're interested in these topics and you have a curious nature it's nothing to be ashamed of than it is if it came to be true and could be proven it would be the biggest event in human history

the confirmation of some other kind of intelligence being among us or visiting us would be the biggest thing ever and it would change everything and that's why I think it is a noble pursuit that is worth your time and I thank you all for coming

hey what's up guys Tyler here with secured team well today it marks a very special day in history because it marks an occasion some would say the occasion the point in time where the public first really learned about this mysterious place called area 51 and the mere idea that we possibly had alien technology crashed flying saucers that were being reverse engineered by our government today marks a moment in history that forever transformed the landscape of our understanding about UFOs aliens and a government program to exploit a technology so powerful and dangerous that to this day the subject is classified higher than our most secret atomic weaponry on May 15 1989 a man reluctantly came forward with famed investigative reporter George Knapp to reveal his work at this place

area 51 no one had ever heard of it and that he was there working on a program to study and attempt to reverse-engineer an alien power and propulsion system for the US government flying saucers extraterrestrial spacecraft

from an advanced civilization that apparently had mastered space-time travel

utilizing the manipulation of gravity and they were visiting earth and that man who went on camera in shadow 30 years ago to the day was later identified as none other than Bob Lazar and so in light of this very special day where in which 30 years ago this man one man blew the lid off of this entire secret I would like you guys to check out this short film which provides you guys with never-before-seen interviews and footage providing a unique and intimate view into the events and the people surrounding this harrowing time thirty years ago

area 51 secret of spots on the planet is located on the northeast edge of the Nevada Test Site and is said to be where numerous top-secret weapon systems have been tested over the years according to some UFO researchers it's also where the government is test flying alien spacecraft that sounds pretty far out than some Las Vegas residents report having seen these flying saucers a local scientist who says he worked at Groom Lake and saw the saucers joins us in tonight's interview he has asked that his identity be shielded sir how do we know you are who you say you are and that you actually have knowledge about what's going on at Groom Lake well I guess there's no way you could really know there's really no way I could prove it without revealing my identity and getting myself into more trouble than I have already exactly what's going on up there well there's several actually nine flying saucers flying discs that are out there of extraterrestrial origin and they're being test flown and basically just analyzed you say there's nine saucers how are those tests going as far as what as far as whether they're successful and and that sort of thing oh well some of them are a hundred percent intact and operate perfectly the other ones are being taken apart I was involved mania in propulsion and the power source where did we get these saucers how did they come into the hands of the government I haven't the slightest idea and you have to understand the information is very compartmentalized and I was only allowed information that pertained particularly to what I was involved in but I mean couldn't couldn't our government have made them as opposed to getting them some alien beans totally impossible the propulsion system isn't a gravity propulsion system the power source is an antimatter reactor this technology does not exist at all in fact one of the reasons that I'm going forward with this information it's not only a crime against the American people is a crime against the scientific community which I've been part of for some time or actively trying to duplicate these systems yet they are in existence now and basically in the hands of the government

anything could happen I don't know it's uh I haven't the slightest idea well you said you were referred to getting into trouble have you had some repercussions already

yeah I've been threatened with being charged with espionage I've had my life threatened by them my wife's life threatened by them and I I mean I don't know where else you can go from there well we want to thank you for joining us pretty interesting stuff you've got to say thank you thank you sir

well more news in just a moment now of course we go to Dan Rather in Beijing for a look ahead at the CBS Evening News CBS Evening News

from China will have extensive got the ghibli guy over

the live interview with the shadowy dentist drew international attention portions were broadcast by radio and six European countries and in a nationally televised TV special in Japan despite numerous inquiries and feelers Denis has remained anonymous until now his real name is Robert Lazar he says he was hired to work at an area called s4 which is a few miles south of groom lake at s4 he says our flying saucers antimatter reactors and other working examples of technology that is seemingly beyond human capabilities work nap

it was like a Twilight Zone episode just kept getting stranger the fact that it was happening at all

was the weirdest part

look it's been 30 years and all of a sudden you raised it to this level you know this is a powerful technology fearsome technology and you just don't want everyone to have it they will become obvious how to make constructive as well as destructive devices from it it's my only guess as to why they have never released information it's kind of difficult once you release the technology to be analyzed and give it to everyone they can just run with it you really can't keep the weapon potential hidden you really can't look where the technology you can literally rule the world you're going to an investigative reporter and a news station and you are outing the most secret project rank higher than the h-bomb and you're essentially putting your face and voice on the news although you did a shadow interview first you put yourself out there that's because you were scared yeah

no no question it's easy to joke about or laugh or remember just the good times now almost 30 years later but at the time yeah I was petrified

this was no joking around I mean it was hard to sleep I had a people wait up at night and keep an eye out it was crazy it was crazy it absolutely destroyed my life I mean I wait like a hundred and nineteen pounds for something that I was stressed out all the time it's safe to say your employees were pissed is fucked

obviously they were pissed what was the beer from at that time I was really afraid of the people that worked at us for I had no idea how far they would go how angry they were with me was made really clear so there are so many things that happened I mean people breaking into my house searching my car even when I went gym to work out

I mean I had friends with me that saw things like this happening and even they were afraid so I yeah I left in constant fear at the time this is a hard part of the story for people understand it said they they they don't really get a sense of what it was like because literally you had to be there for some of this I lived through it I know what it was like what Bob was going through at that time they were breaking into his house and playing mind games you know they'd leave the doors open they'd leave drawers open nothing's taken I'd write things on his blackboard or erase things move things around he goes to the gym with us with his buddy and he's kind of scared so he's got an Uzi in his car he comes out an hour later after working out the doors to the car opened the windows are down the glovebox is open and the Uzi is laying there on the front seat I wasn't a burglary I was somebody messing with him that stuff really happened I can remember getting calls from bobbin in the night just that he had somebody in this house messing with him I go over to see him to calm him down and he's walking around with a zeusie peeking out the windows sounds paranoid but but as the old saying goes just because you're paranoid doesn't mean somebody isn't after you and in his case they were they were messing with him that was real it's both frightening and infuriating do you feel that you have been utilized in this mechanism of information release I think I'm doing something that somebody wants done I think I have been used in that regard I think somebody maybe not all of them but some of them wanted this stuff out they wanted to see how it would fly I think that's why Bob Lazar was hired out there I think on many levels it does not make sense that they would put him in that job

but the fact is they did he was out there and he was working on this stuff for a short period of time I think they probably selected him because they knew he wouldn't keep his mouth shut and that story would come out and then I did my part of it and telling it to the world I suspect that they figured I would quit and that I would give up and I wouldn't continue it for another 25 years and still be plugging away at it but in the in the larger context I think I was probably doing something that they wanted done let's get this story out there see if people freaked out and then we can always pull it back we can discredit the guy I do think that there have been attempts to discredit me that that they've tried to make a run at me with false information if Bob worked at Los Alamos in any kind of sensitive or classified position then it becomes reasonable to say he could have worked out at s4 all the stuff about his educational credentials aside if he was there I don't really care whether he went to MIT or not and I think we established beyond any question that he was there I mean I interviewed people that he worked with who said he was there we had him in the phone book we had him in the in the newspaper I had confirmation from the company that that recruited him

Kirk Meier that said that yeah we hired him and they were gonna give me the records and then they said no I know that the lab lied to me I know that they they ported my attempts to prove that he was there but he was there and one of the reasons I know he was there is cuz he took us in we went there on a weekend my photographer and I Brian Blackburn flew to Los Alamos and went to the lab and Bob took us in was like a a rabbit in his burrow I mean he was taking us through buildings obviously he knew his way around we were there he took us in I guess you know I guess there might be some other explanation for how he was able to have that access but I'd like to know what it is

this is a reluctant UFO Messiah the only reason he came out to talk to us again is cuz I bugged him about it relentlessly and he finally relented and came out but he wasn't happy about it nothing good comes from the UFO field for him it does nothing but cause him trouble if he had to do it over again I suspect he wouldn't do it because he changed his life and there was a part of him that would really like to still be working on that stuff I mean it was really amazing technology the most amazing technology he's ever seen the descriptions of the golf ball experiment we throw a golf ball at this force field and it bounces off or and this this demonstration where it freezes time it freezes a flame how the flame could still be burning without moving without consuming this this candle how does that work even if he has been led down a path and and me along with him that they have shown him glimpses of something for their own reasons run it up a flagpole let's see how how the public reacts and then

discredit him down the line he acknowledges that's possible and I and I've thought about it all the way along that were we were being played with but the idea that bob was a disinformation agent or part of a program to mislead the public is wrong he's not and I can say that for knowing the guy for a quarter of a century the story he told then is the story he tells now he didn't add to it he's not making it more elaborate he's not remembering new parts of it it's the same story it's consistent all the way through he's telling me something that really happened to him

the mounds appear to float on dry lakebeds like spaceships from another world they seem to ride on a viscous material channel through empty space by heat that rises and separates it verifies everything it contacts like a like a green glass honey the goddamn psychedelic liquid drowning the emptiness with imaginations imagination this desert is pocked and punctuated by a thousand gaping holes created in the thousand atomic blasts that define an era what are they building in the desert north of Las Vegas were they hiding where they hide fuck are they hiding

I knew the date of a specific test we rented a car took my wife a few friends and drove out to this this place and turn the lights out and snuck into a little area and we all watched it

what made you are showing your friends exactly where and when the test flights were gonna be why did you do that start showing people the flying saucer Oh at that time I was beginning to worry that I was gonna suddenly disappear or something like that so I finally broke down and told my close friends really what my job didn't tell what I was doing and I knew the test flight schedule so I knew when to go out what time to go out and brought them there at that time and on schedule the craft came up you know that incredible maneuvers and flew around and then then landed so I wanted them to witness an always so there'd be something backing up what I was saying

and certainly witnessing the craft actually being tested was you know what turned them on you the people that you worked with at us for what turned that administration of people against you when did it become dangerous for you why did you become a trustee I think that the start of it was the fact that they were monitored during my phone calls and at that time my wife was having an affair because she thought I was having an affair

by disappearing at night going to this job and they were monitoring that now one of the requirements for clearance at this level is having a stable family life you can't have some you know tumultuous situation going on so they want you know just a a happy calm normal person I was beginning to move out of that category when they saw that this you know affair was taking place felt this is going to be a problem so let's not have him come into work anymore until this resolves it so and that's when I started bringing some friends out going they're not asking me to come into work anymore and they're not just gonna let me go with all this knowledge that they gave me so that's when I decided to show the close group of friends what was going on just in case I did suddenly disappear or something I thought this is what I was doing the easy way out is to say is hawaii's making it up it's hard go ahead

accept the possibility that he's telling the truth

your life has been under a microscope every word you said for 30 years recorded has been under a microscope and that's that's affected you yeah of course it is it affect anybody how is it affected you in the way I talk and how much I do I'd rather not you know in a public forum I'd rather just not say anything why do you think people are so obsessed with every word that you say about your experiences you know we're just looking for a way to to look for an inaccuracy and and to be able to discount the whole thing when we sit this one time and send it slightly different this time

you know obviously he's making it up

no that's just the first word that entered my mind you know I don't put that much thought into it what I'm saying it like is as much as a lot of people hate it this stuff really happened I mean if it bothers you that's too bad I think that's just hard for people to accept I mean so yeah it would be no I fully understand I would feel the same way I'm not sure I would believe my story oh boy there's not enough evidence you know but I couldn't discount it either

you saw alien ships yeah you worked on a gravity wave amplification system trying to figure it out right a propulsion system and a power source that's completely unknown to mankind and there's no way human beings could evade it there is no way human beings could have made it under any circumstances in any country anywhere period and for 30 years you you are telling us the truth you bet

L&T simply isn't what it used to be things are not what they see everything around us is a mental construct

in reality breaking that down it's hard to do and once it's done

there ain't no coming back

but it's true it's true

what I have seen is true I don't know about the big story where they came from what they're like and and but certainly these crafts came from another not just another planet another solar system entirely extremely far away and they're here

my name is Jeremy Corbell I seek to weaponize your curiosity and if you're ready to suspend your own prejudice welcome to the world of extraordinary beliefs material that has been pulled out of a man's leg that should not exist this sample could not have been made on earth because the isotopic ratios I know there are alien craft here from another planet I was inside one who are we and where are we actually sitting within the architecture of our universe are we alone or is the answer simply stranger than we can think and think I know what I saw I definitely saw different footage during this 2004 event of a different object by far the object that I saw was a flying saucer shape not a tic-tac

and I've tried verifying this to other people and they just did not want to talk about it um you never forget that day the rest of my life that day changed my whole perspective didn't blow my mind

that's the voice of a man named Trevor Trevor was a radar operator and a direct witness to one of the most current and well-documented UFO encounters in modern history on December 21st 2017 there was a tectonic shift in secrecy the Department of Defense authorized two videos of fighter pilots engaging UFOs to be released to the public and the New York Times published a story about our government's involvement in studying the subject the 2004 Nimitz tick-tack UFO encounters became the tip of the spear in the public debate on UFOs commander David Flavor a fighter pilot with the Black Aces came forward with his experiences and testimony there were a number of individuals during the events who were aware of

was unfolding Trevor is one of them more and more witnesses are coming forward for those of you who remember the tic-tac UFO case is one that I reported on on coast to coast am with George Knapp both in May and October of 2017 this UFO case was on my radar for years prior and I took the time to build a small network of witnesses involved in this unique military UFO event series the story is now out and the pieces are being put together by the public and the news continues to explode and be understood around the world government footage from active UFO engagements Travers testimony is unique and as you will hear he was exposed to footage from the event series that sounds a bit different than what is now in the public realm I'm just reporting the news it's up to you to make sense of it all

what is your name what was your rank and what were you do these my first name is Trevor I will not disclose my last name I was an operation specialist I was a e4 my duties were pretty much tare Aaron surface radar I also worked on a system called gym battle I did a bunch of other stuff too than my division we're talking about the 2004 Nimitz tick-tack UFO events you were on board and part of that deployment can you tell me a little bit about that we're just doing like workups like JT FX going out to the operating area and playing or game testing out equipment doing all those sorts of things and training people I was actually on air radar site at that time specifically everything went down within however many days I was seeing things on the radar I just remember the one day where it was very obvious that something going on in the top left side of that box operating box because we all have our own specific boxes that we be circle them I just thought it was suspicious I mean with all the experience and the things that I've seen and so we're talking about 2004 on the image I would say in your on general scene is people on our radar as in charge of teen ager love is supply Pio

you were in charge of an aspect of radar operations on the Nimitz during that UFO event correct yes I was part of an airlock team yet

in 2004 between November 10th through November 14th when there was a whole series of events there was a crescendo commander David flavour and the flight group that went after him came back with footage of these events and came back on board but your experience was a little different you were in a secure radar room and started to notice something strange and you were the first to notice it yeah we weren't CDC what is that combat Direction center what they call it quote unquote the heart of the ship it's a normal day and all of a sudden what happens you just start saying things that topless there's a box thirteen things blip in and out you just see something chill in there for a little bit and then boom it's gone and then it's over here in a different area of that corner

it's like flashing it's solid it's gone that it moves to the left to the right so it keeps doing that like it's moving around it's you know there's activity going on bringing myself like what's going on I let my supervisors know what's going on and they said okay you know it's no big deal

you'd mark aircraft whatever they were you would mark them I couldn't do it because that object or whatever that was listening in and out I couldn't tag it so they basically ignored it my home watch at least that's what I that's what I know you know what I mean maybe they knew something I don't know if you got to remember we're just doing work ups we're in the Pacific Ocean you know you're only so far off the coast of Mexico south of California and west of West off the coast of Mexico you don't think anything crazy but when you're seeing just this an area with a little obviously something is over there so you're having a normal day you're watching your your radar scans you're supposed to be tagging aircraft and all of a sudden you're seeing these anomalous blips coming in and out off of your screen and you're thinking what's going on we're not in a war zone where we're in a you know us controlled area you at that point alert or notify your superiors and they kind of look at it and say okay keep going they don't make a big deal about it

right yeah mm-hmm

because you're training people to you know what is doing work UPS I mean we're not in a you know in a hot zone so if you were in a hot zone this would be fuzz all over it FA pans would have been over there in seeing these blips communion radar if you were in a war zone the the alerts would go off they'd shoot f-18s over there this would be a big deal and these objects that were coming in and out of your screen did they appear to be moving fast is that why they were yeah like it would be and it would be stationary as I'm boom it would move then it would just chill there whereas if it's aircraft it would be moving like a solid movement across the string whereas here it's like jumping around but that's the only way I could describe it jumping around that's what was funky I mean how could something move so fast like that I've never seen it under radar so not yet ee oh hell no nah

the way that these things were moving is unlike anything that you've ever seen with our technologies oh yeah definitely

I've never seen that before with that that's what gets your suspicion you know you're thinking what's going on why is there all this movement going on that all this activity yeah you're seeing these targets moving income extraordinary ways that would be considered a threat anywhere else if you were in a hostile territory and and you can't tag them you can't mark them you Lert whoever's in command above you and they look at it and they tell you keep just keep working yeah basically yeah yeah and you can't tell if it was multiple objects

how many anomalous targets did you see during that course of the beginning of observing this on your radar

I mean I'm on lot six to eight hours so the whole time I was on watch is this the day that the whole ship became alerted that evening the pilots gear and with footage the only thing I could tell you is that yes it is that day um never forget that day the rest of my life I gave my path down then it might watch I gave my path down and I passed down that activity that I've had found that activity one specific person and that one specific person is the one that called me to come up and look at the video you were relieved of your command in the afternoon between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. but it was that day November oh yeah

November 14 to 2004 when commander David flavor came back and and the flight after him with footage and that spread like wildfire across the ship that they had caught something the UFOs but something else happened so you are relieved of your command you go back to your birthing being relieved of your command you pass the information forward to somebody and in an unusual move you were called to view some footage because I guess they felt like they owed you that much for being the first to actually see and try to target these things so can you explain to me you're in your birthing what exactly happened I get a phone call you know I didn't think nothing of it so I get the phone he's like dude you've got to get up here right now and check this out he goes right I didn't run but I hauled ass up to CDC I got up there and sure enough they brought me over sat down watch the video I watch it with a few officers a couple that were you know pilots and you know few that weren't many of these people have had you know eons in the Navy so yeah we're just sitting there watching the video and slowing the video watching it several times blew my mind how long were you in your birthing before you got that call approximately I would say it was a long it was a nighttime yet you know I was still in my coveralls may may be a couple hours maybe this is the information I was trying to get from that specific person that called me and they wouldn't they wouldn't talk to me you've already said a couple times that you have tried to dig into this you've tried to get other people involved in that day to talk to you people seem hesitant or resistant to talk about this event why is that great question I don't know I know that one guy is you know he's a patriot you know I don't know if he feels like he's going against the government or his country I don't know I did talk to a female she was on the gonna watch that passed down and she remembers that pilot coming in the CDC engineering the video where do you walk to what does it look like and who's in there yes I walk in CDC excited to tell and I go past the chip news chain like a left that's the air radar with your FCS over there and I just go behind the I call it the command table go behind there and they're all encouraging me to sit down check this out and the rooms dark you know at CDC it's dark Lots activity going on I don't touch the computer on any of that stuff they're sitting there showing me what's going on and it's already downloaded I mean I don't know that's insanely fast I don't know how that works but it's downloaded the zipper net what do you mean by it was insanely fast and downloaded this kind of uh secured secret

I don't know how secret or top secret or whatever like internet so only a certain people have access to that Internet

so it's a highly secure net really is what it is and it was downloaded already to that net the video was downloaded to that net

yeah the one that I saw yeah when I came in there I didn't know any of that you know what I mean I had no clue until a month or so ago that that the pilot actually came in their home footage so I think I take the footage that I saw I'm guessing it it's got to be from underneath the nose of the f-18 what you saw is different than what's out there and that's what's so interesting they quickly uploaded this to sipper net and in the footage you saw you described it very differently than what is out there about the events what do you see on the screen you can see that the a team's are moving and you see this object mimic the f-18 this object had shot some biscuits in the ocean up you could see that that object made a couple different quick maneuvers so if the FAK made a lot led banked left it mocked the f-18 every time describing the object mirroring that the pilots are actually mirroring the movements like mocking the the minutes

it was outpacing our best fighter planes Oh easy yeah

the last part of the video that I remembered is that this object so if you're looking at the screen it went left and then it banked straight up I mean it just it was insane I couldn't even explain like it just went to the left really fast my boom went straight up and I know this was on on the super net because we slowed it down like face

it's down by surname by name like basically in slow-mo and you can see where this thing it doesn't even exist like it like it's time you know where it's that fast that you cannot see this object for a period of a couple frames and then it just boom it goes up and I remember the officers saying there's nothing on this planet that can do that it's not possible that the aircraft could be in pieces

how many G's is that to pull up like that just not possible we don't have anything like that that can move like down on this planet Earth and there's nothing that can take those type of G's that force that's what they're trying to point out to officers like when we slow mode the video you didn't see it for so many frames you wouldn't see the object for several frames and then you saw it and then boom it was gone when it made that maneuver it would it would basically disintegrate you know in Campinas so it was so fast and the g-forces would have been so spectacular your camera can pick it up exactly yep that's exactly it

what did the object look like it looks more tellingly to me and flat on the bottom but I don't everybody says pic Tech I don't remember that at all straight down like a flat bottom what you saw did not look like a tic-tac or an oblong level it looked just like just like a flying saucer just like we all know we've all seen reports of you know just a dome with a flat bottom exactly how I remember it just like that you could tell that you could tell in the video it's obvious you could totally tell that so it had a domed top a flat bottom were there any seams on it or did it just look like a round of time

McQueen smooth okay so your classic flying-saucer flat bottom dome top right did everybody in that room know that they were looking at a UFO yes sir did ever be in that room have the understanding that it was not ours meaning not human oh yeah yeah

they're shocked you know they can't believe what they're seeing but they can and that's true

some of you were pretty sure this was extraterrestrial for lack of a better term oh yeah

so this footage you saw is different than the footage that you see has been released by the Department of Defense mm-hmm

then watches several times and it's not the thing they definitely saw different footage during this 2004 event of a different object by far the object that I saw was a flying saucer shape not a tic-tac and it's not even as clear as I saw it the video footage you saw was much clearer than what the public is seeing now right yeah mm-hmm

this is a technology that none of us ever seen and no officers even in there seen it but when they're making comments about you know there's nothing on this planet back and you know exert those G's that dispels you Hampton you don't believe this saucer technology is ours definitely not maybe we aren't experimenting with stuff like that but yeah I mean I've never seen anything like it it's the common understanding of the people you talked with did this not human technology yeah mm-hmm the earth going in and out of the water out of the water correct well we do know from commander David flavors testimony that there was a USO unidentified submerged object under the water it's sounding more and more like the footage you saw is not the footage that was released by the Department of Defense oh yeah

we're talking about a flying saucer that was under the water and dozens of tic-tacs were dropping down from 80,000 feet to dock with it that you got to see clear as day on footage correct that footage is probably never gonna get out but you saw it

I don't think though every release it and I think footage that they do release and will release they're gonna make it fuzzy they're not gonna make it clear for you guys and they're gonna cut it up why they don't want people to know that that technology is out there especially when what I've seen where you know you see that objects get that time and just shoot straight up anticipate there's nothing that can do that

so they're showing us a whitewashed version

what you saw was so impressive if people saw that they might freak out oh yeah I think so it's a pretty clear video are you excited that some of these releases are coming out is this a good thing in your opinion I think it's an awful thing I think that the government needs to be a lot more honest with people tell them what's out there I love it because it doesn't scare me

it doesn't freak me out and I'm excited it's more information more video but if you had that video and you had the authority what would you tell the public

all right work come up to the video you know I mean I'd work them up in the video with you know past history of what's been going on and just work them up for the video only tone this is the newest footage the newest information we have and you know there's nothing to be afraid of you know these people earn these objects or whatever not a threat

they're just here to do their thing and get what they need and leave everybody's starting to call them anomalous aerial threats originally the intelligence community was using AAV anomalous aerial vehicle but the moment this story hit the news they turned the last V in a a V to a a t an omlette aerial threat if they were a threat and then why don't they shoot down that's a team

why didn't why don't they blow up the Nimitz the whole fleet they already have a plan in the works if they chant if they changed it they have to do it they have to change the mermen UFOs especially why would they change it is that knowing what they're doing right isn't it kind of obvious

I don't believe UFOs are threat and it tells me that there's greater technology beyond this earth that could destroy it

that hasn't destroyed us hundreds of thousands of years I think people are a lot more comfortable with it people do believe in it and this footage and all the other footage that there is of this event it's open of people's eyes and and its really made in some clarified as far as UFOs being real and being state I think it's a great thing

it makes people wonder make people think of their existence it's pretty it's pretty cool I think it's a good thing and I think the government scared and that they know that people are comfortable with it you know what I mean they people are people are very comfortable with people hosts and people are absorbing it you think they're having to respond with how comfortable people are becoming correct yes you have to remember the Internet is is the government sphere but everybody is getting all this information out able to communicate and talk resume that have been in that it was all newspapers propaganda where the internet you have access to anybody you want so the Internet has democracy's truth in a way and that is a great fear of our government

yes you know people see this stuff no question life you know no question everything that they know I mean that's my opinion I think people are ready for it and be like oh yeah we need that okay no big deal what else we got that day changed my whole perspective on life

they blew my mind I knew there was more in this world and universe than anything imaginable so that's you know it opened up my mind in it gave me some relief weaponize your curiosity and go to extraordinary beliefs calm to learn more

Jeremy Corbell

my name is Jeremy Korbelt I seek to weaponize your curiosity and if you're ready to suspend your own prejudice welcome to the world of extraordinary beliefs material that has been pulled out of a man's leg that should not exist this sample could not have been made on earth because the isotopic ratios I know there are alien craft here from another planet I was inside one who are we and where are we actually sitting within the architecture of our universe are we alone or is the answer simply stranger than we can think I was a guy in charge of over 300 people at twelve airplanes I do have first-hand account of something that I could not explain this thing's been over 100 broadcasts and over 300 plus publication you know I guess if a flying saucer landed in the middle of the mall in DC and the news people saw it where it became a reality like you see a movie then it would instantly go but because that hasn't happened and you know I'm I don't see it happening then it takes time I have talked to people in the government about this there are people trying to figure out what are these things can we advance ourselves from the technologies let's stop looking at these things like they're freakish and let's try and learn from them and then possibly reverse engineer or develop technology to gives us that capability sure you're not going to believe

again this is part 2 of my interview with commander David flavor if you haven't listened to part 1 go do that now you need to understand who commander flavor is and the nature and importance of his UFO encounter in this discussion we get into the details we talked about the different witness reports on the tic-tock UFO encounter and talked about the nature of observation and how it can be flawed this highlights the important role of a good investigator and how event witnesses can't be compared as apples to apples

commander favor even relates a couple stories that provide deeper meaning into the feelings he has on why intelligent observation and study in the UFO topic is important

Dave's quite candid in this interview his hope is that you understand the importance of serious UFO encounters being seriously investigated that there's so much to gain but also so much to lose if we don't openly investigate observe UFO technologies that he's hopeful due to renewed government interest

I wanted to continue the interview so it's on the record

I think some things should be cleared up what you have to say is important especially when it starts getting distorted so I want to ask you a few questions and I want to see if you can put these things to bed that pilot report that's touted out there as being legitimate they're quoting somebody that they're calling source and everybody else is called other knowledgeable one other knowledgeable - okay one okay - in that document

whoever source is which I've figured out who it is and it's obviously not you you're okay - in that document source is saying that the radio controller was a female and you clarified that for me on our last talk and the 13 page report that came out the controller's name is poison and that's a man name so I believe that to be correct in the 13 page report compared to the one on TTS a but you gotta remember that the one on TTS a you know what it's years after the fact

- the person is experiencing significant ly lower they were relatively new there's a lot that goes into that don't create everyone in the scenarios as apples and apples I mean there is anywhere from brand-new on the ship to someone like myself we've been out there for 16 years and it's my fifth deployment it's not apples to apples you are the commander of your squadron it's not just that I was just fortunate enough to never I never left the cockpit so I was either deployed or I was teaching so I didn't go do a short tour I wasn't in a jet for three years or whatever I was current from the day I started flight school until I retired which is really you can't even do it anymore you're not even allowed to put anymore

Aviation is a very perishable skill when I say that I mean recalls a perishable skill understanding you know when you're out over the water and you don't have visual references which northwood self what seas what's with and the ability to pull all that back

you don't just get it yet tomorrow you can't read a book and get it it's literally a repetitive practice constantly doing it that's very important when we start talking about this in the TTS a website dock

the pilot report source is the other person who's flying the plane

you both have WSO's but it's the other person flying the plane when there's two planes to go engage the tic-tac

so that person named source was the other pilot that day and that pilot you're saying didn't have as much experience as say yourself I'm not even close that person you know it was literally in opposite ends of the spectrum as far as experience the other pilot knows that they talk to them quite often the other thing that was in that document and it's something that you and I talked about before that document was released before the New York Times before anything and he told me a story and that story was that after you engaged the tic-tac you came back into the ready room the person were calling source started writing on printer paper and mailed a report to their aunt that said keep this because it's important stuff about some real x-files shit is that correct that is actually a true face the other part of that story that we had talked about it was sad that you made an electronic copy of the gun tape from your f-18 so when the other guys when they came back with the video I copied those tapes and I put them in the face where they ever ended up I do not I do not possess them they were they were actually in a safe or safekeeping

probably they obviously thank someone found them because they weren't marked on it just had a PCL paper on it it said for CEO so whatever happened to them after that I don't know is that normal protocol to create copies of the tapes I mean it's not uncommon to copy things and as the CEO I actually have that ability to go or copying this and we'll just keep it in the safe which is what happened it was all handled correctly but yeah hell yeah copy them the tapes are actually classified so you just can't pull video off which happened anyway which I mean obviously there's that's a whole other story that we're not going to get into

could you can copy stuff and then you can declassify it by getting rid of a lot of the marketing it but it's kind of a moot point just it's already out there just to make the story real clear because it's it's confusing in that report on the TTS a website that the guy source said that you began making an electronic copy immediately after getting back of a gun tape of the f18 so it makes it sound like the only footage on video is the footage from the plane that you see on YouTube we don't take the HUD camera unless we're doing certain dishes there's nothing on ours conveyor lock
